BARBERSHOP QUARTETS COMING TO WINCHESTER

Winchester is due for a real musical treat on Saturday evening, April 16, when Winchester Post 97, the American Legion is bringing a group of Barbershop Quartets to sing in the town hall.

Reading Chapter of the Association for the Preservation of Barbershop Singing will provide the talent and many well known quartets from near and far will be on hand, including the well known Aberjona Moaners, already well known to radio and TV audiences.

Featuring the concert will be the appearance of the Pittsburghers, who will fly here to sing. Tickets will go on sale soon and all planning to attend should pick up their pasteboards early.

DOUBLE SESSIONS TO CONTINUE

Following the regular meeting held Monday evening, January 3, the School Committee announced that it would be necessary to maintain the present "double session" program for the Junior and Senior High Schools for the remainder of the present school year.

In planning school schedules for next fall the School Committee will make every effort to have the number of pupils attending abbreviated afternoon sessions kept at a minimum.

FILM AT METHODIST CHURCH

The motion picture "John Wesley" will be shown this Sunday evening at 7:45 p. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

The film has three major sections: John's efforts to find a satisfying religious experience; his intensified efforts to "feel" God's presence and love, culminating in the Aldersgate experience; the results over the next fifty years as this new and dynamic faith sends him out as a tireless man of God.

The conflicts of Wesley with the outside world, the complacent church, the ruling class, and the mob presents a dramatic story.

The service is open to the public.

For the past 40 years Mr. Jackson had been a janitor and custodian of buildings. In addition to working for private individuals and firms as an independent contractor, Mr. Jackson had served as janitor for the Home for the Aged, First Church of Christ Scientist, First Baptist Church, Winchester Savings Bank, and the White and Lyceum Buildings. For years he cared for the fire at the Star Building, and was well known to the entire staff. He had held membership in the Knights of Pythias and a Masonic Lodge in Boston.

While serving as caretaker of the Studio Guild quarters he goodnaturedly served as a portrait model for members of this group on several occasions. In his more active years he had been a leader among the colored people of the town, and he numbered his friends among citizens of all walks in life.

For more than 35 years Mr. Jackson was janitor at the Home for Aged People. During the Christmas season of 1953, following his retirement, he was given a reception and television set by the Directors of the Home and the Staff.

SCHOOL BUS AND GARBAGE TRUCK COLLIDE

Three pupils and a teaching Sister were treated at the Winchester Hospital Wednesday afternoon, after the Marycliff Academy School Bus, in which they were riding, was in collision with a Town of Winchester garbage truck.

The collision took place at the intersection of Wedgemere avenue and Foxcroft road. Police say the garbage truck, driven by Thomas H. Quigley of 47 Russell road, was headed east on Foxcroft road, with the bus, owned by the Hudson Bus Lines of Medford and driven by David A. Scott of 52 Englehutt road, Medford, going north on Wedgemere avenue.

The truck was tipped over by the force of the collision and both the driver and his helper, Patrick J. Keady of 26 Farrow street, were shaken up. Town employees righted the truck with a snow pay-loader, and it was able to leave the scene under its own power. Firemen washed down the street to prevent fire.

Taken to the hospital by Chief Charles J. Harrold in the Chief's car were Regina Parks, 9, of 14 Gorham street, Medford, who sustained contusions to the forehead; Mary Harris, 11, of 141 Traincroft, N. W., Medford, contusions to nose and forehead; and Jane Staffiere, 6, of 35 Early avenue, Medford, abrasions to the back of her head. Also injured was Mother M. Torpy of Marycliff Academy, who was accompanying the girls to their homes after the regular school session. She complained of injuries to her legs, and was X-rayed at the hospital.

The 4 o'clock ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, assisted by Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church. J. Miss Johnson was given in marriage by her stepfather, Mr. Ellis W. Harlow. She wore a gown of ivory silk taffeta, re-embroidered with Alencon lace. Her veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of matching lace, and she carried a bridal Bible with a cascade of red roses.

Miss Joan Asher of Washington, D. C., and Olean, N. Y., was maid of honor, and Miss Alberta Hofman of Stoneham was bridesmaid. Miss Judith Gattenby of Wtaertown was junior bridesmaid.

Watson School of Physiatrics at the University of Pittsburgh in 1947, and passed the examinations for the national Physical Therapy Association to become a registered physical therapist. In 1952 she was awarded a master of arts degree in physical therapy by Leland Stanford University.

TEMPORARY CROSSING AT WEDGEMERE

When work begins on depressing Bacon street so as to have it go under the elevated tracks at Wedgemere Station, it will be necessary to detour east and westbound traffic that normally would pass over Bacon street and for years has crossed the old Bacon street bridge, soon to be a thing of the past.

Present plans call for the construction of an access way that will run from Ginn road over land adjoining the Palmer home and a house in process of construction and will cross the tracks about 200 feet north of the present bridge. Eastbound traffic will enter Ginn road from Bacon street and westbound traffic will use the entrance to Ginn Field running from Bacon street just to the west of the river.

After crossing the tracks the access road will join the paved road on the Westerly Side of Ginn Field and proceed southeasterly to Bacon street, rejoining that street at approximately the present entrance used to get onto Ginn Field from Bacon street. Crossing gates and a gate-tender's house will be erected to protect the traffic from trains.

CIVIL DEFENSE TO EXPLAIN SCHOOL EVACUATION PLANS

The evacuation of school children in the event of a bombing attack will be the subject of a joint meeting of junior and senior high school parents on January 19. Mr. Theodore J. Boecker, chief of Civil Defense for Winchester, will explain the plans which have been prepared for the mass evacuation of pupils from our schools under threat of mass bombing. A motion picture, "Operation Scat," will be shown, and a question period will follow.

Concerned at the apparent indifference or apathy of a large part of the public, Civil Defense officials are anxious to secure as large attendance as possible at this and subsequent meetings. Few people not associated with the Civil Defense program appreciate the tremendous problems involved in moving whole populations from danger areas to safe assembly points. This task will require the active cooperation of hundreds of Winchester men and women, and it must be understood by everyone.

If you are the parent of a junior or senior high school pupil, by all means set aside the evening of January 19 for this important affair. The meeting at the high school auditorium will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Frances Larcom Hayward, former Winchester Junior High School teacher, died on Sunday, January 2, at her home in South Easton, Mass. Since her retirement from teaching in 1951, Miss Hayward had made her home in South Easton with her sister, Mrs. Robert Birnie.

Miss Hayward was born December 19, 1881 in South Easton, Mass. Educated in the schools of that town, she later attended Bridgewater Normal School, graduating in 1903. Always a student, Miss Hayward devoted many of her vacations to further study, attending summer schools at Middlebury College, Harvard, University of Vermont, Columbia, and Boston University. In 1932 she received her B. S. degree from the Boston University School of Education.

After beginning her teaching career in the schools of Wareham, Miss Hayward moved to Whitman, where she taught for a number of years. When the junior high school building was completed, she joined the faculty of that school, remaining there until her retirement in June, 1951. She served the people of Winchester for 30 years.

Known affectionately to her fellow teachers as "Mr. Chips in skirts," Miss Hayward was a dedicated educator who gave the best of her great energy and intelligence to the instruction of her charges. Few teachers in Winchester have made a more indelible impression on their students.

ST. MARY'S ASSEMBLIES

On Tuesday and Wednesday, December 21 and 22, St. Mary's School held its Christmas assembly, the highlight of which was an act from each grade and the Kindergarten.

On Tuesday the school filed into St. Mary's Hall to the tune of "Put Christ Back Into Christmas." The Kindergarten opened the program by sining "Tap, Tap" while the boys of that class tapped with sticks and the girls rang bells. They then sang "Silent Night" and finished by reciting "The Advent Prayer" and "Christmas Story."

As the First grade assembled on the stage, the whole student body sang "The First Noel." The First grade sang "Hi Ho for Santa Claus" followed by all grades singing "Silent Night."

Grade Two sang "Santa Claus Comes." Grade Three sang "The Nights Before and After Christmas." Grade Four presented a Christmas play, entitled "The Best Gift of All." Grade Five also presented a play, theirs entitled "The Real Meaning of Christmas." The cast was as follows:

Mother	Mary Ann Brown
Angel	Jean Prue
Jimmy	James O'Connor
Janet	Janice Keyes
Blessed Virgin	Mary McCormack
Inn Keeper's Wife	Michele McCormack
St. Joseph	John Falla
Shepherd Boy	James Moran

Grade Six sang "Put Christ Back Into Christmas," "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer," "White Christmas," and "The Gentle Carpenter of Bethlehem."

On Wednesday, December 22nd, St. Mary's School again assembled in the Hall. The Superior opened by announcing the gift of a large package and a card to every Sister, by Officer Jordan of the Winchester Police Department, who directs traffic outside St. Mary's every day; also the presentation of a candy cane to every child in the school by the proprietor of "Romeo's Neighborhood Store" across the street from the school. This is the second year he has done so.

As Father Manion and Father McCall entered the Hall, the entire student body stood and said "Good Morning" and thanked Father Manion for the beautiful medal and chain which he gave each child as a Christmas gift.

Grade Seven then recited a poem entitled "Babouska" with Frances Weafer as Babouska and Peter Walsh, John Reagan and John DeCourcey as the Three Kings.

The St. Pius X Boys Choir was the next to perform. They sang "Sancte Joseph" and "Heart of Jesus, I Adore Thee."

The Eighth Grade then proceeded to spell bind the audience with their play, Dickens, "A Christmas Carol" with John Carroll as the narrator.

Robert Peluso as Scrooge
Walter Crotty as Cratchet
Francis Murphy as Scrooge's nephew
William Laidlaw as Tiny Tim
Marley's Ghost, David Tierney
Ghost of Christmas Past, Donald McGee
Ghost of Christmas Present, Paul McPartlin
Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come, Robert Lowe

They kept the audience in tears in the sad parts and made them roar with laughter during the to spellbind the audience with their performance, that they had to make two curtain calls, and the applause went on long after the curtain had closed for the second time.

Father Manion brought the assembly to an end by wishing everyone a Very Holy and Happy Christmas, and a Blessed New Year.

SPENT CHRISTMAS IN LONDON

Navy Lt. (jg) Peter W. Rooney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Rooney of 9 Lawrence street, spent Christmas in London, while stationed at headquarters of Admiral John H. Cassady, USN, Commander in Chief, U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Christmas in England is practically the same as in the U. S., a turkey adorns the center of the table, but sweet-potatoes and cranberry sauce are missing. Carol singers sing in the streets, and Christmas trees stand in the corner of most living rooms. The spirit is here and most servicemen stationed in England have the opportunity to spend Christmas in an English home.

In 1953, electric power companies in two states, Ohio and Tennessee, used coal to supply the energy for 99% of their power generation.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The annual Christmas green sale sponsored by the Winchester Home and Garden Club each year was a brightly successful affair. The sale was held in the recreation hall of the Baptist Church, and a delicious luncheon was served at 12:30.

A large group of talented members worked untiringly during the month of November, meeting each week at the home of the Club's president, Mrs. Edward McDevitt.

This fine group of workers gave much cheer in Winchester. A beautiful wreath was placed on the front door of the hospital, and the nurses home was made gay by colorful decorations.

The Home for the Aged was not forgotten. Gay and interesting individual table decorations were enjoyed by the members of the Home as were the beautiful door wreaths.

Many of the townspeople have enjoyed the stunning swag that has graced our library this Christmas season.

Many and varied decorations went to the Bedford Hospital to be enjoyed by the boys there.

Truly, it is more blessed to give than to receive.

ADULT DISCUSSION GROUPS

The Committee on Religious Education of the First Congregational Church announces two adult study groups, each to continue for a period of five sessions during January and February:

1. "Our Christian Beliefs." Leader, Dr. Dwight L. Cart. Time of meeting, Thursday evenings, 7:45 to 9:00 o'clock, in Ripley Chapel, beginning next Thursday evening, January 13th.

2. "The Bible Through The Centuries." Leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Keeney. Time of meeting, Sunday mornings, 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock, in the Ladies' Parlor, beginning Sunday morning January 16th.

All who are interested are invited to attend.

CHERUB CHOIR SANG AT HOME

On the afternoon of December 15th, the Cherub Choir of the Second Congregational Church paid a visit to the Home for the Aged. The children in their dark red robes with wide white collars and soft bows made a most pleasing picture grouped before the fireplace in the attractive living room of the Home. They sang a group of five Christmas songs for the ladies present, and then paid a special visit to Mrs. Tufts, where they sang "Away In a Manger." The choir consists of: Barbara Bund, Nancy Clark, James Cruwys, Stanley Cruwys, Susan Govoni, Barbara Hancock, Roy Johnson, Pamela MacCormick and Leslie Simpson.

Mrs. Warren Saunders is the director, and Mrs. William Cruwys is Choir Mother.

MOTORIST FINED

STRUCK FARRELL HOME DAY AFTER CHRISTMAS

Arthur L. Saro of 48 Spring street, Boston, was fined $50 on a drunken driving count in Woburn Court Monday morning, the charge growing out of an accident in which he was involved during the early afternoon of Sunday, December 26.

At that time police say he drove his automobile into the house of Traffic Officer James E. Farrell, while maneuvering his car in the Farrell driveway at 16 Lebanon street. Officer Farrell placed Saro under arrest, charging him with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

He appeared in court Monday, December 27, at which time he pleaded guilty of drunkenness and not guilty of driving while under the influence. On his second appearance he changed his plea to guilty and was fined $50 on the operating count, the drunkenness count being filed.

HARVARD CLUB

The mid-winter meeting of the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex will be held Thursday evening, January 20th at the Bear Hill Country Club.

The evening will be given up to football and the movies of the Harvard-Yale game will be shown by some member of Coach Lloyd Jordan's coaching staff.

As usual cocktails will be served at 6:30 and dinner at 7:15 p. m. The Club invites all Harvard College graduates and former students including those who attended graduate schools, to attend.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The curtain was rung down on the first half this week, the trials and tribulations, the worry and anguish are over. For those unfortunates who faltered can now start anew the second half; a clean sheet, a chance for the playoff utmost in their minds. I sincerely hoped you all could win, but fate figured otherwise.

Even though Holy Cross finished on top they were petrified as they were able to salvage only one point, this being the last string, by three pins and St. Mary's with all the opportunities in the world cast at their doorstep faltered and they were also able to take only one point. Bates and Georgetown finished in a tie for third, but Bates won this slot on pinfalls.

Final team standings in first half:

Holy Cross	37-19
St. Mary's	36-20
Bates	33-23
Georgetown	33-23
California	30-26
Yale	26-30
Boston College	25-31
Alabama	23-33
Notre Dame	19-37
Harvard	18-38
Hi Single
Jake Jacobellis	144
Hi Triple

Top Five Bowlers
Tony Saraco	101.5
Moose Bellino	101.5
Jake Jacobellis	98.9
Frank DiMambro	97.8
Tony Chefalo	97.2

As predicted, the battle for top honors in the average column tightens with every passing week. As the Moose slipped, the ever-waiting, wiry, all-around athlete, Tony Saraco, pounced upon the opportunity offered him and tied for top honors in this department and went on to wrest the 300 circle singularly by caressing the circle eight times. How do you think it will finish? Will age and experience crush out youth's desire for victory? Don't bet, Boys, for this is like one of those Winchester-Woburn football affairs which will long haunt the minds of many Winchesterites. Who hit 300 this week? Here they are! There were five married men and three bachelors. Married men first: "Quiet Spoken" Henry Subrizio a 347, "Spendthrift" Tony Chefalo a 339, "Creeper" Gene Rotundi a 327, "Hi Ya Pal" Chic Vespucci a 313, "Strangler Lewis" Frankie Penta a 306, "Corregidor" Fiori a 309 (who by the way is one of the nine million Fiores east of the Miss.), "God's Gift to Women" Tony Saraco a 319, and, last but not least, our new co-steward, ever-obliging and cooperative Tony Penta a 318.

A friendly bet between "Hi Ya Pal" Chic and "Snookems" Carl Bertolucci on this year's average is now getting very close, as Chic had almost a 200-pin deficit to make up. "Snookems" has slipped badly as of late. The answer is hard to find. Suggested remedies which are optional on his part are as follows: See an optometrist; have scratch removed from important lens; relax; don't overeat Thursdays; focus both eyes on pins before bowling; lower glasses to bottom half of nose and look over glasses or vice versa, raise glasses to forehead and look under them; better still, throw away glasses.

What happened to Al Tibaudo, mother-in-law trouble? Did you know that Johnny Mongano can pick up three bowling balls with one hand from the floor? See if you can pick up two. Again we want to thank the parakeets for their participation in the raffle which makes this a continued success. The winner this week was Beatrice Brady.

Northeastern University's Silver Masque, dramatic organization, will present "The Male Animal" as its annual winter production Friday and Saturday evenings, January 14 and 15, in the Alumni Auditorium of the University, 360 Huntington avenue, Boston. Prof. Eugene J. Blackman of the English Department is director of the cast. Included in the cast is Sona V. Norian, 8 Robinson circle, a graduate of Winchester High School.

BELMONT HERE TONIGHT

TOUGH FOE FOR FIRST HOME GAME

Belmont High, always one of the teams to beat in the Middlesex Basketball League, comes to Winchester tonight to meet the Winchester Indians, and the usual hard-fought game between these long time hoop rivals is expected.

The second team game will start at 7:30 and if you don't have reserved seats, you had better get around early as a capacity crowd is definitely in the making.

Tonight will be the first chance Winchester fans have had to see their team in action on the home court, and with the Indians unbeaten status there is bound to be a lot of interest in the game.

WINCHESTER EDGED CONCORD

Winchester, defending class B champions of Eastern Massachusetts, successfully opened their Middlesex League season, eking out a 66-63 decision over Concord at Concord on December 30.

The Sachems started off well as they held a first period edge of 8 points, 24-16, led by the sharpshooting of John Lynch. In the 2nd period Concord gained a point and the score at intermission stood 38-31.

As the 3rd period started John Lynch had 4 personal fouls and as a result had to be careful on defense. McLaughlin, center for Concord, scored 10 points this period and the score at the end of this stanza read 51-47 as Concord picked up 3 more points.

Then the tense 4th period began which saw Jim Wright and John Lynch foul out and Concord take a 63-60 lead with 1 minute to go. Bert Kneeland then made it 63-62 with a clutch toss under the basket.

Concord took over, intent on freezing the ball for the remaining 30 seconds, but lost the ball on a traveling violation. With 25 seconds to go Charlie Stevens hit a jump shot from the foul line which proved to be the winning basket.

Then McLaughlin, in a desperate effort to win for his team, charged Kneeland and Bert was awarded 2 foul shots which he carefully sank to end the contest 66-63.

Outstanding performers in this game were John Lynch with 20 points and 16 rebounds, Jim Wright with 13 rebounds, Joe Bellino with 10 assists, and, surely, Charlie Stevens and Bert Kneeland for their clutch baskets. McLaughlin was outstanding for Concord as he ended up high schorer for both teams with 23 points.

The Winchester seconds were in a tight scoring duel for 3 periods, but broke the game open in the 4th period to win 54-40. Mark Apsey and Mike Callahan turned in good performances against a scrapping Concord five with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

The next Middlesex League contest is at Reading, a team that always provides aggressive, tough competition against Winchester.

WINCHESTER BEAT READING

71-61 VICTORY FOR UNDEFEATED INDIANS

Shooting with tremendous accuracy from the floor Winchester beat Reading at Reading on Tuesday, January 4, 71-61. The Sachems sank 25 out of 54 shots for close to 50%, good shooting in any league. John Lynch kept up his terrific scoring pace as he hit for 22 points making his average for 5 games 16.6 points. Joe Bellino, Bert Kneeland, and Lou Farrell also hit double figures with 15, 11 and 11 points, respectively. John Lynch grabbed off 19 rebounds while Captain Jim Wright brought down 14. Assists were evenly divided as this proved to be a good team effort.

Winchester led by 11 points at the end of the 1st period and increased the lead to 14 at the half. The 3rd period was all even and this hardly looked like a typical tight Winchester-Reading game. However, in the 4th period, led by the deadliness of McGillicuddy, Reading threatened to upset the Indians, favorites in the Middlesex League this year, but ran out of gas and Winchester was in. Outstanding for the driving Reading quintet were McGillicuddy with 19 points and Runge with 16.

The Winchester J.V.'s, yet to be truly tested, routed the Reading seconds 72-35. High scoring honors went to Dave Bergquist with 14 points and Jim Fitzgerald with 11. Ken Livingston was high scorer for Reading with 16. The Indians have the toughest game of the season coming up with Belmont tonight at Winchester. Belmont lost to Lexington by one point and figure to be very good with three returning lettermen on the starting team.

SILVER STAR TO MYER

Editor of the Star:

It was with some emotion that the writer watched Lt. Myer being decorated on the afternoon of January 4th. One could not help mentally retracing the time between the message "missing in action" was received by his mother, Mrs. Vera Myer (then employed by Mary Spaulding), through the more hopeful days when he was listed as a POW and then to that happy day when he returned home.

Headquarters
3rd Infantry Division
General Orders 3 April 1953
No. 87

Section II

Award of the Silver Star—By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 9 July 1918 (WD Bul. 43, 1918), and pursuant to authority in AR 600-45, the Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to the following named officer:

Second Lieutenant Edward A. Myer, 02028729, Infantry, Company "K," 15th Infantry Regiment, 3rd Infantry Division, United States Army. In the early morning hours of 26 November 1952, a platoon of Company "K", of which Lieutenant Myer was platoon leader, was assigned the mission of defending friendly positions on "Jackson Heights," in the vicinity of Hak Tong-Ni, Korea. While defending the objective, the platoon was subjected to an intense attack by enemy forces. Lieutenant Myer exposed himself to these forces, directing the fire of his men and calling in accurate and effective artillery fire. When his platoon was ordered to return to friendly lines, he remained behind to care for and supervise the evacuation of the wounded. During this action, Lieutenant Myer carried one of the casualties down the hill and was last seen returning for another wounded man. As a result of Lieutenant Myer's action, his platoon was enabled to disengage with the enemy suffering a minimum of casualties and all the wounded were safely evacuated. Lieutenant Myer's outstanding gallantry, initiative and devotion to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the military service. Entered the Federal Service from Massachusetts.

By command of Major General Smythe
Official

Knowing Lt. Myer as I do, I am sure he was silently accepting the Silver Star for all our men who did not return from Korea.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. K. B. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

A TRIBUTE TO MISS MEAD

Editor of the Star:

On January 1, Miss Corinne Mead retired as Head Librarian of our Winchester Public Library, after fifteen years of efficient and valued service. As one who appreciates all that she has done through these years, to bring our Library from a small insignificant institution to a place of leadership among the libraries of Massachusetts, as well as to an important place in our town life, I wish to pay her tribute. We all take pride in our Public Library. The genuine help we derive from it is due directly to Miss Mead.

I am sure I speak for the many study groups of Winchester when I say that it has been a pleasure to go to Miss Mead with our problems. She has always received us with gracious understanding and constructive suggestions. From my own experience over many years with the College Club study groups, art groups, church groups, as well as my own personal interests, no matter what the subject, I can testify that Miss Mead has ever stood ready to assist, by suggesting books and procedures and by promptly ordering any new book which would help. She has always made our interest her interest and encouraged every group by featuring all available material on each subject—often on special shelves. In fact we have sometimes accused her of doing the hard work and the thinking for us! For no sooner would we discuss a subject with her than we would receive a list of selected, up-to-date material; and if newer books were not in the Library she would see that we had them by the time they were needed. No question or problem has been too trivial or too difficult to claim her interest.

As our Librarian, Miss Mead's qualities of leadership, as well as her forward-looking policies, have given us a Library of which Winchester is justly proud. She has made the citizens of this town "library conscious." For all of this we express our deep appreciation.

I am glad for her sake that Miss Mead is now able to enjoy the life of our community without the Library responsibilities, but still I regret her leaving. I am sure I speak for many when I say that we shall miss her gracious and friendly welcome when we stop at the Library. Our sincere appreciation and gratitude go to her for all she has meant to Winchester.

Elizabeth M. Lobingier

A SINCERE "THANK YOU"

Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Community Relief Committee wishes through the Star to express its heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in its efforts to provide cheer for the town's less fortunate residents during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Through the "Star" we were able to gladden many hearts with gifts of food, including canned goods and vegetables, clothing, toys and other necessary items.

The committee particularly appreciates the action of private persons who took the responsibility of caring for individual families, the assistance rendered by the town's churches, both at Thanksgiving and Christmas and the help extended by the:

MERRY CHRISTMAS

THANK YOU, WINCHESTER

As we start another year of our newly formed Lions Club, our first thoughts are of the people of this town. In our own silent way, we are always thanking you, but now we wish to do so publicly.

To those of you who contributed so generously to our biggest undertaking, our Light Bulb campaign, we are deeply grateful. As you know, many unfortunate people, in our own town will benefit from the proceeds.

A special thank you to those merchants who showed real understanding in giving refreshments and gifts to add to the success of our recent Christmas Party for retarded children.

We wish to thank Chief Harrold and his capable police force for assisting us in our safety campaign "Slow down and live," and to all others who willingly donated both time and money to help us in all of our work.

As we grow in size, so do we hope and plan to do bigger and better things for our community. We know that with your continued faith in our Lions Club we certainly will be able to make this a truly Happy New Year!

Winchester Lions Club

THANKS TO MISS MEAD

The History Group of the Winchester College Club will miss one of its very good friends this year. During the 20 years of the Group's existence, it has looked primarily to the library for reference and information. Rarely, if ever, has it failed to find what it was looking for. This has been due in great measure to the assistance of Miss Mead.

Her helpfulness and genuine interest in the Group's courses of study have benefitted each member in turn. Collectively they wish to acknowledge her contribution to their study and reading.

ASKS COOPERATION WITH CENSUS TAKERS

Massachusetts housewives and tenants have been urged to cooperate fully with census takers visiting their homes in an appeal made by Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin.

"The success of the 1955 decennial census will depend to a great extent upon the degree of cooperation given to enumerators by homemakers, innkeepers and others with permanent residents," Cronin said.

The huge task of canvassing the state's population begins January 1. By June, Cronin expects to have complete returns from the 351 cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

Cronin said he hoped all good citizens would welcome the census taker and assist him in filling out the "family card."

NOT EVEN SRO

There isn't even standing room only for the Winchester-Belmont basketball game tonight at the high school gym. No seats, no standing room, no admission, no nothing. Everything sold, and it is reported that Faculty Manager "Raymie" Hayward is very happy about it all! Nothing like a capacity house to make a faculty manager grin!

What "Confidential" means to us

In many cases we can serve a depositor or borrower effectively only if he confides to us certain information about his finances or business. We realize, however, that we cannot expect to continue serving him at all unless we respect and protect his right to have his private matters kept private. Hence it is a matter of firm policy – and of great pride – with our entire staff that confidential information received from those we serve shall not be allowed to find its way outside the walls of our bank.

To us, "confidential" means confidential; and to you that fact can mean a lot. We invite you to bank and borrow with us.

VAST COAL RESERVES

Fortunately United States coal reserves are vast. We have nearly 40% of the world's total, and at the present rate of use, that's good for another 2,000 years. Even if we use twice as much coal per year in the years ahead either as solid fuel or transformed into gas and oil, we will have enough to last for hundreds of years.

"SCHOOL OF CHRISTIAN LIVING"

Starting Sunday evening, January 23rd, the First Baptist Church will sponsor an interesting new series of three Sunday evening lectures covering the history of Christianity. Conducting the sessions will be Dr. John W. Brush, Professor of Church History at Andover Newton Theological School.

Dr. Brush, a popular and interesting speaker, is returning this month from an extensive stay in Europe and will draw upon his experiences there in preparing his material. Designed to be lively, interesting and enjoyable, as well as informative, the three-part course is planned to "better prepare us for Christian living today by giving us a clearer picture of how Christianity and the church have grown and developed through the years."

Mr. Rushton Harwood, chairman of the committee in charge of the lecture series says, "Any schoolchild is familiar with the colorful, dramatic history of our country. But few Christians really know the history of their own church and religion—a story that can be just as fascinating to Christians as American history is to Americans. The knowledge of our nation's development makes us more appreciative of our country and all that it means to us, and we are better citizens because of it. It's the same way with Christianity. A clearer understanding of Christian history is bound to help make us better Christians. Far from being dull and scholarly, this three-week series can be an enjoyable, stimulating and really rewarding experience for anyone."

The series is not limited to members of the First Baptist Church. Everyone is cordially invited to register for the "School." Registration must be made in advance, however, as no tickets will be sold at the door. The lectures will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Social Hall of the Church on consecutive Sunday evenings, January 23rd, 30th, and February 6th.

UNITARIAN ALLIANCE

Tuesday morning, January 11th, members and friends of the Unitarian Alliance will meet at 9:45 in small neighborhood groups to ask themselves and each other the question, "What are we here for—in this Alliance?" To see old friends and make new ones? Obviously. To raise money for the church? Of course. But what else? Non-members are cordially invited to attend any of these meetings on the purposes of the Alliance.

Mrs. Roderick S. Thomson, 25 Fells road, will be hostess for Precincts 1 and 2, with Mrs. Erwin Hutchins leading the discussion and Mrs. Olcott Hooper recording. Precinct 3 will divide into three groups: at the home of Mrs. Raymond Terhune, 22 Lawson road, assisted by Mrs. George B. Redding and Mrs. Earle Littleton, at the home of Mrs. Richard Hakanson, 321 Highland avenue, with Mrs. Ganson Taggart, at the home of Mrs. Russell Symmes, 233 Main street, with Mrs. William Spaulding and Mrs. Walter P. Keyes.

In Precinct 4 Mrs. Henry E. Worcester, 111 Church street, with Mrs. Theodore Browne and Miss Grace Wills, and Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth, 66 Oxford street, with Mrs. William W. Davies and Mrs. Hoyt Hottel, will be hostesses. Alliance members in Precinct 5 will meet at the home of Mrs. T. Price Wilson, with Mrs. Robert B. Williams leading the discussion and Mrs. Herbert Black recording.

Mrs. Ernest C. Barron of Winchester, announces the engagement of her daughter Marie B. Barron to Kenneth A. MacRae of Somerville.

Mr. MacRae is a graduate of Somerville High School and is a partner in the Harris-MacRae Ins. Company.

A Spring wedding is planned.

WINTON CLUB CABARET

More plans for the Winton Club Cabaret, to be held January 26 through 30, were unfolded at the January meeting of the Club held Monday at the home of Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr.

Mrs. Carrick Kennedy, chairman of the show, announced that tryouts would be held January 10 at the Mystic School at 7 p. m. Everyone is invited to come and display his talents, to discover hidden ones, or just to indulge those secret desires for show business.

Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux and Mrs. Harold N. Stevens are in charge of the tremendous job of preparing the program. A large group of solicitors have been busy many months gathering ads from our co-operative business men and friends of Winton Club. Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Jr., is program treasurer.

Wednesday, January 26, will be "Dress Rehearsal" in the Town Hall at 8 o'clock, and it is a wonderful opportunity for the children to see their mothers and fathers as "troupers." Thursday, January 27, is Theatre Night with all seats reserved. There will be a social half hour with coffee served at 8 and a completely finished show presented at 8:30. This has proved a very popular evening for those who wish to support the hospital, see a sparkling amateur show, but prefer informality.

Friday and Saturday nights are gala performances with the audience seated at tables, cabaret style. There will be dancing to the music of Harry Marshard's orchestra during the intermission and after the show.

Many people are responsible for the success of the Cabaret and it is the continued interest and support of these people that make it possible for Winton Club to furnish the linen supply for the Winchester Hospital.

MISS LYDON YW HOSTESS

Miss Beverly Lydon of 19 Grove street will help launch the YWCA on its second century of service in the world by serving as a hostess at a birthday party Wednesday evening, January 12. The party sponsored by the Intercollegiate Club will be held at the YW headquarters, 140 Clarendon street, Boston.

One hundred birthday parties to celebrate the YWCA's centennial is the goal of the Boston Association as members, friends and staff plan the local festivities for this national observance. The parties will be scattered throughout Greater Boston communities, centered at the YW headquarters, 140 Clarendon street, or at the new Berkeley Residence Club.

The YWCA, first started in England in 1855, was organized in Boston in 1866 and the Boston YW has the distinction of being the first to use the name "Young Women's Christian Association." The YWCA today numbers 3,000,000 women and girls in the United States, plus countless others in 65 countries around the world.

FORMER ART DEPARTMENT HEAD SPEAKS TO ART ASSOCIATION

An enthusiastic audience sparked Professor Robert Fulton Logan to answer many questions on drypoint, aqua-tint and mezzo-tint in his talk on "Etchings" given to the Winchester Art Association on Tuesday evening in the Gallery at the Public Library. Robert Fulton Logan, internationally known etcher, and former head of the Art Department at Connecticut College for Women, was guest speaker at the opening of his one-man show at the Library. In introducing the speaker Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood noted that not only are Mr. Logan's etchings in every collection of any importance in this country and abroad, but the Print Department of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts has chosen to have a copy of every one of his plates in their files. Mr. Logan, a scholarly, but warmly human speaker, gave a most interesting history of etching and their beginnings early in the sixteenth century. Assisted by slides shown by Dr. Kirkwood, he traced the growth of the art through such masters as Rembrandt, Goya, Rubens, and finally Whistler.

At the suggestion of interested members of the audience he demonstrated the actual inking of plates, showed favorite "biting" tools and in other ways made a clear picture of the processes necessary to pull off a good print in this captivating field of art.

Mr. Logan's show consisting of more than thirty etchings covering many fields is well worth the time for viewing and should be a must for anyone interested in prints.

Refreshments were under the capable direction of Mrs. Courtney Crandall and Mrs. Wendell D. Irving.

An announcement of the second series of Adult Classes in painting beginning Thursday, January 6, at 10:00 a. m. and another at 7:00 p. m. was made by Miss Hariette Smith who also said that Children's Art Classes would resume again in March. There are a few openings in the Adult Classes and anyone interested should telephone Miss Smith. Mr. King Coffin is the teacher.

Mr. William Mason, president, presided at the meeting.

FEAST OF LIGHTS AT EPIPHANY

One of the most beautiful services of the year will take place next Sunday night at 7 o'clock when the traditional Feast of Lights will be held at the Church of the Epiphany, a service always associated with the Epiphany season.

As the service starts, there is one candle on the altar symbolizing Christ, the light of the world. Silently the light is given to his twelve apostles, they in turn give it to the early saints of the church. Finally, the saints give it to his followers, the people in the pews. Each one gives a light to his neighbor so that soon the whole church is a blaze of light. Each person leaves the church carrying a lighted candle, carrying the light of Christ into a dark world.

Everyone is cordially invited to this impressive Epiphany service.

TO SPEAK AT CHURCH OF THE OPEN BIBLE

Robert Walter, former network radio station manager and now associated with the Word of Life Fellowship of New York City, will speak at the Church of the Open Bible, Montvale avenue, Woburn, Mass., on Thursday evening, January 13, at 7:45.

Known to many as "Brother Bob," Mr. Walter joined the staff of Word of Life in February, 1954, coming from Corning, New York. He had previously sought an answer to the problems of life by exploring the claims and results of various religious. Finally, about three years ago, through the influence of a personal friend he saw the logic and simplicity of the Gospel of Christ and became a Christian, and has since entered into full time Christian work of an interdenominational character. His challenging message will be given at 7:45 and everyone is cordially invited.

REV. HENRY R. RUST

THE SENIOR FORUM

Saturday and Sunday, January 8 and 9, will find all members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church enjoying to the full the big event for which they have been planning and working for many weeks past, Forum's Seventh International Week-end. A great deal of credit goes to the overall planning of Forum Chairmen Debbie Norris and Charlie Stevens who, with Adult Adviser Mrs. Thomas M. Hill and the Minister of Education, Rev. Almeda C. Vickery, have brought to completion a program that promises to be an enriching experience for all who will share in welcoming to their homes and their church the sixty-three students from twenty-four foreign countries who are studying in colleges in the Boston area.

Activity starts when the student guests are picked up at the International Student Center in Cambridge by Forum parents obtained by Transportation Chairman Ann Withrow. Families who have offered their services as drivers are Hazen H. Ayer, Charles E. Brush, Richard J. Clark, Stanley Day, Mrs. Daniel Dennett, Thomas M. Hill, Paul B. Eaton, John Holdam, Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., William Kimball, Charles C. Peter, Arthur W. Pratt, Robert G. Simpson, Harold N. Stevens and Raymond Thomas.

The guests are deposited at the homes of their week-end host and hostess where only a brief chance for getting acquainted is possible before Forum members will bring their guests to the church for the evenings' program. A friendly half-hour is planned for all to chat and partake of tomato juice and crackers provided by Cathy Ayer, Cynthia Ayer and Barbara Eaton, with the assistance of Mrs. Hazen Ayer. All will then enjoy a delicious home-cooked dinner, planned by Mrs. Richard L. Davenport and her committee consisting of Mrs. Wayne H. Cowles, Mrs. Erskine B. Kelley, Mrs. William Kimball, Mrs. Oscar M. Kazanjian, Mrs. Victor Lawson, Mrs. Lyle L. Longworth, Mrs. Harry Mueller, Mrs. Harold McKinley, Mrs. Fenton H. Norris, Mrs. Charles C. Peter, and Mrs. Otto E. Schaefer. Supervisors of the dining room are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Coon and Mrs. George Niles, while waiters and waitresses, obtained by Ann Peter and Marion Fish, will be Carol Ashenden, Ann Cunningham, Billy Emerson, Douglas Gowdy, Darla Hall, Erskine Kelley, Bert Kneeland, Bob Kugler, Jim Lindsey, Martha Lincoln, Bill Mock, Ann Monro, Sandra Nelson, Terel Newell, Brad Ross, Betty Rowlingson, Dick Thompson, Judy Walker, Bob Ware, Stephanie Yale, Norma Crockett, Natalie Bellows, Craig Davenport, Lin Morison, Sidney Bixler and Agnes Bixler.

Between courses group singing will be led by Brad Johnson. Immediately following the dinner the guests will be welcomed by Dr. Cart, Forum President Niles Nelson, and Forum Superintendent Mr. Allen O. Eaton, and each guest will be individually introduced by his host or hostess. After the tables are cleared away a program of entertainment will be presented, planned by Renny Johnston, Chairman, with selections by the Forum Glee Club; an accordian solo by Suzanne Dresser; renditions by the Forum quartet composed of Brad Johnson, Renny Johnston, Bill Ross and Charlie Stevens; a reading by Stephanie Yale; and an interpretation of "One World" by a Motion Choir consisting of Cathy Ayer, Cynthia Ayer, Penny Branning, Carol Kazanjian, Bunny Browne, Ann Monro, Mary Welden and Deanne Williams, with Judy Fowler accompanying. Student guests will also have a share in the entainment with a guitar solo by Mrs. Gert Hillert; a solo by Jae Chun Park; and a Brazilian record played by Moacyr Ferreira.

Mr. Dudley Briggs will call for square dancing in the evening.

Sunday morning will find Forum members escorting their guests to Ripley Chapel at 9:30 to give them an opportunity to share in a worship service planned and conducted by American Protestant young people. This International Week-end Worship Service was prepared by Debbie Norris, Dianne Curtis and Lane Emerson. The chaplain will be Niles Nelson, assisted by Richard Johnson; the deacons will be Bill Mock and John Day; and ushering will be Roger Gullotti and John McKinley. Rev. Henry Rust will be the speaker and has chosen for his topic, "On Being A Good Neighbor." Guests will be invited to attend the 10:45 church service with their Forum families when Dr. Cart will have a special message for the occasion.

The climax of this busy week-end will be the International Tea, on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in Chidley Hall, plans for which have been in charge of Betsy Lathrop, Chairman, Bunny Browne, Carol Ashenden, Sally Kimball and Betty Rowlingson, with Mrs. John Lathrop as adult adviser. Pourers at the tea will be Mrs. Dwight L. Cart and Mrs. Allen O. Eaton; boutonnieres will be presented each guest by Kirby Baker and Richard Niles; guest book will be circulated by Dianne Curtis and Sue Tallman.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Preparations for Winchester's part in a state-wide survey of industry, being made during January, will be completed at a briefing meeting at the home of Mrs. Richard Alt, 7 Pine street, Friday, January 7. During this survey conducted by the League of Women Voters, businessmen in towns as well as cities will be asked whether they import or export any of the products which they handle or manufacture, and what they feel government policy should be on highly competitive imports.

For the past several years policy governing imports and exports has been decided by the Congress annually, this year a more permanent solution is expected. Accurate information on the impact of foreign trade on industries in and near Winchester as well as in the broad, national picture, will help fulfill a League objective by creating informed public opinion.

Unit meeting, held by the League of Women Voters of Winchester on January 13 and 14 will consider the subject of international trade, giving special attention to possible solutions for industries adversely affected by import-export policies, such as stock-piling and subsidies.

C. Y. O. DANCE

St. Mary's new hall was the setting for a gala C.Y.O. dance Tuesday evening, December 28, with music by Herb Cleary and his Musical Caravan. One of the highlights of the evening was the vocal specialty of Nancy Samarco, who sang "Stormy Weather" and "Ain't Misbehavin" exceptionally well.

The smooth floor was a real pleasure for dancing. The novelty dances made a great hit with the C. Y. O. group and their friends. Everyone looks forward to the next dance.

The C. Y. O. members of the parish were assisted by the youth committee of the Holy Name Society. Heading the committee on arrangements and refreshments was Betty Bellino, assisted by Mary Murphy, Rita Amico, Nancy Pizzano, and Ann Legere.

Advertising was in the capable hands of Arthur Sullivan, Connie Snelling, and Mary Laird, with Judy Snelling, Dave Lindsey, Al Ducharme and Brenda Cunningham in charge of entertainment. On the ticket committee were Al Lynch, Noreen Johnson, John Sullivan, Kathy Doherty, Anthony Perritano, Cosmo Paonessa, John Ghirardini, Margy Finn, Anthony Juliano, Ronnie Roberts, Dave Govostes, Al Magliozzi, Marcia Goodrow, and Joe Keating.

RATINGS FOR NAVY RE-ENLISTEES

It was recently announced that former Regular Navy enlisted men who held certain ratings may now reenlist in the Regular Navy after three months but within one year of discharge and retain the rate held at time of discharge or release to inactive duty.

Since 1942 the only Regular Navy enlisted men who were permitted to reenlist with the rate held at discharge were those who reenlisted within three months following date of discharge.

This new program, the Navy said, will continue in effect until June 30, 1955. The program includes practically all rates and ratings.

With the removal by the Park Department of the condemned bleacher seats on the Main street side of Manchester Field it is learned that the school authorities are recommending the erection on that side of the field of semi-permanent steel frame seats on concrete piers. Above the seats will be placed accommodations for photographers and the press.

MRS. ANNIE L. PRESCOTT

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie L. Prescott, a former resident of Winchester, will be held this Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the Doonan Sons Funeral Home on the Fellsway in Malden.

Mrs. Prescott, who left Winchester five years ago, died Wednesday at a rest home in Malden. While in Winchester she lived on Highland avenue and later on Main street near the Cullen Block.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Elsie Rogers of Malden, with whom she made her home and two sons, Raymond and Eben Prescott.

ST. MARY'S HOLLY DANCE

What turned out to be one of the nicest sociable events held under the auspices of St. Mary's Parish was the Mr. and Mrs. Club "Holly" dance held on Wednesday evening, December 29, from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m.

This semi-formal affair was preceded by various dessert and coffee parties at the homes of many of the members, at which several couples gathered who then arrived at the newly built St. Mary's Hall, as a group at 9:00 p. m. for the festivities.

Gaily decorated individual tables for these groups lined both side walls of the spacious hall where light refreshments were placed.

Rev. John M. Manion, founder of the Club was present and visited each group, expressing his pleasure at the enjoyable time everyone seemed to be having.

The orchestra was under the leadership of Herbert J. Cleary, popular president of St. Mary's Holy Name Society and club member also who was at the piano, with Robert Fiore, drums; James Doherty, saxophone; Michael Pecora, trumpet and Ellsworth Reynolds, bass. Their music was most capably played and the dancers enjoyed the nearly continuous music that the orchestra provided.

Group dancing to get everyone better acquainted was very effective and a big hit, with even the Mexican Hat Dance going over big. The Hall resounded with waltzes, fox trots, rhumbas, mambos, polka, etc., and even the orchestra got into the swing of things with many fine vocal renditions, individually, and at times, as a group.

If the many expressions of satisfaction over the whole affair are any criterion, St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club is well launched on a forward movement, scheduled to bring much pleasure to its members over the coming years. Many nonmembers of the club who were present for this dance have indicated their desire to join up, having had so fine a time!

Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Manoli did yeoman service on refreshments by attending to the wants of the entire assemblage and unselfishly eliminating their own opportunities for much dancing in the interest of the Club. All of the other Committees functioned smoothly to insure the success of the Party.

Best of all there are many more couples in Winchester who are now better acquainted than ever before, and who are looking forward to meeting nights, the first Wednesday of each month. Joint Presidents of the Club are Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgerald; Vice Presidents, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Leary, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Forbes, Sec. Treas. Dance Chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmader.

LINCOLN SCHOOL CHILDREN ENTERTAINED PARENTS

The highlight of the Christmas season at the Lincoln School was the Christmas assembly for parents and children on the evening of December 22. All of the children in each of the grades through 6 took part in the program of songs appropriate to the season.

The Program

"Light Up the Christmas Tree" —Mrs. McGrath's Grade 3

"The Carolers Are Coming" — Miss Groton's Grade 4

" 'Twas the Night Before Christmas"—Miss Cullen's Grade 3

"Why Do Bells of Christmas Ring"—Miss Geddis' Grade 1

"Christmas Toys" — Mrs. Sullivan's Grades 1 and 2

"The First Christmas" — Miss Hutchinson's and Mrs. Walsh's Grade 5

Finale — Grade 6 Chorus — Mrs. Walsh's and Mrs. Jackson's rooms

As the final number of the program, the audience joined the children in singing "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Adding much to the enjoyment of the evening were the contributions in time, money and materials by members of the Mothers' Association and the Dads' Club. The attractive choir robes were a gift of the mothers, while the dads were responsible for the wooden stepriser and the canvas back-drop, not to mention the Christmas tree and the delicious refreshments.

A community sing, directed by Miss Jeanne Loudon, was the highlight of the closing day of school. All the much-loved carols were sung by the boys and girls of the school. Mr. Ted Janner and his string ensemble of students in Grades 4, 5, and 6 accompanied the singing.

FIRST BAPTIST COUPLES' CLUB PLANS "SURPRISE" PROGRAM

"Something special" is being planned by the Couples' Club of the First Baptist Church for Saturday evening, January 15. The group, made up of young married couples, will meet in the social hall of the church at 7:30 p.m., where they will sit down to enjoy a delicious chicken-on-biscuit supper prepared by the program's chairman, Mrs. Virginia Butterworth, assisted by Mrs. Mildred Allison.

Then, following supper, the husbands will take over and present a "surprise" program under the direction of Paul Butterworth and Richard Allison. The program, whatever it is, will be nothing short of "sensational," according to the men. Any young Winchester couple who would like to visit this somewhat mysterious affair and find out for themselves what the "surprise" turns out to be is cordially invited to get in touch with Mrs. Butterworth at WInchester 6-3144-J.

LESLIE J. SCOTT FETED

COMPLETED 25 YEARS WITH WINCHESTER NATIONAL BANK

Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, was pleasantly surprised last Friday evening when he was given a testimonial dinner and reception at the Winchester Conutry Club by the officers and directors of the bank upon completing 25 years service to the institution.

The affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Scott, who had difficulty in voicing his obvious appreciation when at the conclusion of the dinner Director Franklin J. Lane presented him with a handsome gold wrist watch and Director Ralph H. Bonnell presented him with a fine Chelsea wall clock, as gifts of the officers and directors of the bank. Most informally his banking associates reminisced about Mr. Scott since his arrival at Winchester National and praised the high quality of his service to the bank through the years.

Mr. Scott came to the bank January 2, 1930, from the National Shawmut Bank in Boston. A native of Somerville, he came to the bank as a teller, being promoted to assistant cashier in 1932, and succeeding Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr., as cashier two years later. He was made president of the bank in 1945, and since that time, in addition to steadily increasing its assets, the bank has completely remodelled both its banking quarters and the entire facade of the building that houses them.

Mr. Scott is a graduate of the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University, and taught an American Institute of Banking course for the Boston Chapter in 1952.

He has served the town as a member of the finance committee, as temporary treasurer and as treasurer of the Home for Aged People. A 32nd Degree Mason, he is past master of William Parkman Lodge, a member of Rotary and member and director of the Winchester Country Club. He has newly moved to 17 Wildwood street, is married and has three children, "Dick," "Doug" and Janet.

H. GARDNER BRADLEE

ELECTED DIRECTOR

H. Gardner Bradlee of 2 Goddu avenue, was elected a Director of the Cambridge Trust Co. Monday. Mr. Bradlee came to the Cambridge Trust Company in 1950 as Assistant Treasurer. He continues as Vice President and Secretary of the Bank.

In addition to continuing his varied community interests in Winchester, Mr. Bradlee has been working actively for both the Red Cross and Community Fund in Cambridge.

MISS GOODNOW ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Goodnow of Yale street announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Hastings, to Mr. Ross Carl McCollum of Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss Goodnow, who is a stewardess with American Air Lines, graduated from Gould Academy in Bethel, Maine, and from Colby Junior College. Mr. McCollum, son of Mrs. Elsie McCollum, is a graduate of University of California at Los Angeles and is associated with the Los Angeles advertising firm of Foster and Klieser.

The marriage will take place in the immediate future.

MRS. ADELAIDE S. HALL

Mrs. Adelaide S. Hall, who received a Presidential Citation for organizing and directing a Red Cross Chapter in St. George, Maine, during World War I, died Monday evening January 10, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert H. Sibley, 48 Lloyd street, after three years of failing health.

Mrs. Hall was the daughter of John B., and Mary (Bryden) Street. She was born April 29, 1881, in Medford, and grew up in that city, attending Miss Ryder's Private School there, and completing her education abroad in France and Germany.

After her marriage she lived in Mexico, in St. George, Me., and New York City, coming to Winchester with her daughter five years ago.

Besides her work with the Red Cross in Maine, Mrs. Hall was past president of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs, a member of the Garden Lovers Club of Greater Boston and the Thursday Fortnightly Club of Medford. In her active years she had been a writer for the Medford "Mercury" and a book reviewer for the old "Boston Transcript." She had written and directed many plays, both for the stage and radio.

She leaves, besides Mrs. Sibley, a daughter, Mrs. John A. Ricker, Jr., of Medford; a brother, John B. Street of West Medford; and six grandchildren, Jonathan L., Pamela L., Penelope J., and Jennifer W. Sibley, and Patricia and Peter Ricker.

Services were held Thursday afternoon at the Gaffey Memorial Home in Medford with the Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

MRS. PETER MORGAN BEALE

BEALE — FOX

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church, officiated at the church on Saturday afternoon, January 8, when a former church secretary, Miss Marilyn Moody Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyman Fox of Dartmouth street, became the bride of Peter Morgan Beale, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan Beale of Liverpool, England. The church was decorated with evergreens, holly, red poinsettias and white gladiolas, and the bridal music was played by Kenneth Moffatt, organist of the First Church, Unitarian, of Belmont. A reception was held after the ceremony at the Winchester Country Club.

Miss Fox was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin gown with yoke, sleeves and godets of brocade. The gown was embroidered with pearls and sequins, matching the coronet which held in place her fingertip-length veil of illusion and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of stephanotis, red sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley and holly, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Porter E. Littlefield of West Englewood, N. J., was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Ralph E. Hanson of Westwood, Miss Martha Ann McGowan of Arlington, Miss Dorothy Scott of Tenafly, N. J., and Mrs. Harvey D. Fox of Rochester, N. H. Miss Jill Jones of Allston was junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor wore a dress of rose and peacock changeable taffeta with accents of white velvet and a tiara of sequins and pearls. Instead of a bouquet she carried a white velvet muff with a spray of holly.

All the other bridal attendants wore red and peacock changeable taffeta dresses accented with white and headdresses like that of the honor attendant. They too, carried white velvet muffs with holly sprays.

Mrs. Fox, mother of the bride, wore a cocktail dress of red and black brocade, embroidered with sequins and a matching sequin hat.

Chester Lyman Fox, Jr., was Mr. Beale's best man, and the usher corps was comprised of Harvey D. Fox of Rochester, N. H., Ralph E. Hanson of Westwood, George Barbaro of Winchester and Richard Cook of Shrewsbury.

Mrs. Beale wore a grey tweed suit with squirrel trim as she and her husband left to spend their honeymoon in Canada. Upon their return they will live on Summer avenue, in Reading.

The bride attended Kent's Hill Preparatory School in Maine, Boston University and University Secretarial School in Cambridge. She is a graduate of the Vesper George School of Art.

Mr. Beale, formerly with the British Maritime Service, is now associated with Crane Service and Equipment Corporation of Somerville.

AMBROSE NEW TRUST COMPANY HEAD

Mr. Vincent C. Ambrose, Treasurer of the Winchester Trust Company, was elected President of the Bank at a meeting of the Directors held on January 11, 1955, and was also elected to serve as a member of the Board of Directors. He succeeds Mr. William L. Parsons who was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors at the same meeting.

Mr. Ambrose, the new President, became associated with the Trust Company in 1947 when he was elected Assistant Treasurer, the position which he held until his election as Treasurer in 1952. He is a life-long resident of Winchester and is generally well known in the community. After being graduated from the Winchester High School, he completed a course of business study at the Boston University School of Business Administration. VERDICT FOR BRYNE

George M. Bryne of Copley street, widely known Marine contractor, has won his appeal from a U. S. District Court order to pay $55,140.00 damages in connection with the sale of sulphur from the freighter, Arizona Sword, which Mr. Bryne raised from the bottom of the Cape Cod canal in 1952.

The United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, in an opinion written by Chief Judge Magruder, dated January 12, 1955, set aside the judgment of the District Court in the case of George M. Bryne vs the United States and remanded the case to the District Court for a new trial.

The District Court found for the government when the Office of Price Stabilization brought a treble-damage suit against Mr. Bryne for alleged ceiling-price violations in selling the salvaged sulphur at $60 a ton.

Last May Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, Jr., ruled the overcharge was $28 a ton, and assessed damages of $55,140.

Mr. Bryne contended steadily that the sulphur was not subject to price controls, and the Appeals court stated, "We think the District Court erred!"

Daniel Richardson Beggs, prominent leather manufacturer and president of Beggs & Cobb, Inc., tanners, died Monday, January 10, at his home, 2 Everett avenue.

Mr. Beggs was the son of William, and Mary Louise (Richardson) Beggs. He was born November 19, 1875, in Woburn and lived in that city for 40 years, attending the Woburn schools and Bryant and Stratton Commercial College.

He went from school into the Beggs and Cobb tannery, of which his father was one of the founders, and learned the business from the ground up, advancing through the various departments until he succeeded his father as president upon the latter's death in 1915. Under his leadership the business enlarged and prospered while his knowledge of the various tanning processes and understanding of the workman's point of view made him popular with the men who worked under him. Though he still retained the corporation presidency, he had been more or less inactive in the business for the three years preceding his death. He came to Winchester in 1915, building the house in which he lived on Everett avenue.

Mr. Beggs was a 32nd Degree Mason and one of the older members of Mt. Horeb Lodge of Woburn, which he joined in 1907.

He was a life member of this Lodge, of William Parkman Lodge of Winchester, and of Boston-Lafayette Lodge of Perfection, Giles F. Yates Council, Princes of Jerusalem; Mt. Olivet Chapter of Rose Croix, Massachusetts Consistory and of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

He was a member of Woburn Lodge of Elks, of the Winchester and Salem Country Clubs, of the Winchester Music Garden and of the former Calumet Club. He was a member of the Woburn City Council in 1902, representing Ward 2, and from 1909 to 1926 he was a director of the Woburn National Bank. He was a lover of music and played the violin as a young man in orchestras in and around Woburn, continuing to play the instrument as a hobby in later life.

Mr. Beggs was twice married. In 1896 he married Maude E. Merrill of Woburn, who died in 1936. In 1940 he married Rubie Gaskill, who survives, with a son, Daniel R., and a daughter, Mrs. Isabel Scott, both of Winchester; a brother, Sydney Beggs of Boston; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Born in Everett in 1870, the son of George H. and Etta A. (Dufur) Somes, he had been a resident of Winchester for 62 years.

After completing his preliminary education in the Everett schools, Mr. Somes was graduated from the old Chauncy Hall School of Boston in 1886, later entering commercial life in the wholesale grocery business with Saville, Somes & Co., of Boston, of which his father was a partner, and continuing with the firm until 1922 when the business was sold.

Following his marriage in 1891 to the former Laura E. Pew of Gloucester, he came to Winchester in 1892, making his home at 24 Cabot street. In 1921 he moved to 41 Glen road where he resided at the time of his death. Mrs. Somes died in 1941.

In 1948 he married the former Vena G. Robinson who survives him. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Mary D. Allen of Brookline; a daughter, Mrs. Fred C. Hersom, of Winchester; four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

A private funeral service was held on Wednesday at the Chapel in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett. The Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiated.

Burial was in the family lot at Woodlawn.

The Winchester Polio Drive is led this year by Arthur Johns, 38 Glen road, chairman, who has an exceptionally well-rounded, representative committee assisting him. Members of the committee include Kenneth Hall, Clifton McNeill, John Page, Richard Sheehy, William Lippman, Gordon Peckham, James Haley and Edward F. O'Rourke. Mr. O'Rourke is publicity director and Mr. Charles Butler of the Winchester Trust Co. the treasurer.

Along with other Gray Ladies, she serves coffee from the bedside carts which are wheeled from ward to ward and often does special personal services for patients. These include writing and mailing letters, performing shopping errands at their request, wrapping and mailing packages, and buying postal money orders for them.

Mrs. Conahay is one of more than 800 Gray Ladies now serving in U. S. military hospitals in Germany, Austria, Italy, France, England, and North Africa. Others are being trained by the Red Cross for volunteer service at every major U. S. hospital in the European area.

WYMAN SCHOOL SQUARE DANCE

Swing your partner! Do-C-Do and away you go! Promenade! Everybody swing! These familiar words rang out in Wyman School Assembly Hall last Friday evening, January 7, as fifth and sixth grade pupils, their parents, and their teachers held a square dancing party.

Under the capable supervision and guidance of the genial Mr. Alfred Meurling, each class took a turn demonstrating the various square dances to their parents. Then came the parents turn! The tempo just might have slowed down a bit as the fathers danced with their daughters, and mothers danced with their sons, but everyone enjoyed it.

This dance is getting to be a Wyman tradition, and each year both parents and children eagerly look forward ot this event.

Rounding out the evening of fun, punch and cookies were served by Mrs. J. Kenneth Colony, Social Chairman for the Wyman Mothers' Association, and her committee, Mrs. Arthur Johns and Mrs. Langdon Powers.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

Coming events of great importance to all parents of the Lincoln School were announced on Thursday evening, January 6, at the joint meeting of the Mothers' Association officers and the Dads' Club officers and steering committee.

Mrs. Hiram Smith, president of the ladies' organization, and Mr. Arthur Hewis, holder of the same title of the gentlemen's group, diplomatically swapped criticisms and verbal bouquets to the end that found everyone cordially gathered around the refreshment table partaking of the coffee and delicacies so generously prepared by the mothers and served by Mrs. Arthur Hewis and Mrs. James O'Brien.

Miss Martha Cunningham, principal, and Mrs. Margaret Withington, secretary of the Lincoln School, were guests of honor and offered timely and well-received comments.

The spotlight was shared by the presidents as they made known the activities which should command the support of everyone who has a child in the Lincoln School or who has an interest in the welfare of any of the school children in Winchester.

On Wednesday evening, January 19, for instance, the school committee will have a representative in the auditorium of the Lincoln School to discuss certain plans concerning the school building as well as proposals regarding some of the children's classes.

The afternoon of February 10 will find the Winchester Theatre jammed with youngsters to watch a show staged by an expert Philadelphia producer and sponsored by the Central Mothers' Association.

A lovely Valentine dance being arranged by the co-chairmen, Erwin Hutchings and Paul O'Neil of the program committee of the Dads' Club will be held on Saturday evening, February 12, in the school auditorium.

In April there will be a town-wide, house-to-house scholarship fund-raising drive, the details of which will be forthcoming from the Mothers' Associations.

The merry month will find all the boys and girls of the Lincoln School gathered around the traditional May poles for their annual May party, sponsored by the Mothers' Association of the school and ably assisted, as was true for the Hallowe'en Frolic, by the Dads' Club children's activities committee, Edward Nowell and Arcangelo Amico, co-chairmen.

The Dads' Club social finale of the school year will also take place on a May evening when the academic hall will be transformed into a cabaret and "Soft Lights and Sweet Music" will replace the loud thumping of a basketball and raucous howls for a point just missed.

When the sixth graders move on in June (with no hope of relieving overcrowding, 'tis rumored) they will take with them a long-to-be-remembered gift from the Dads' Club.

Now then, dig out your date books, everyone, and fill in January 19, February 10 and February 12, then make a mental note that April, May and June will also hold important dates for you.

SQUARE DANCE TONIGHT

Blue jeans, peasant skirts and blouses, and red kerchiefs will mingle with the strains of "Turkey in the Straw" and "Pop, Goes the Weasel" tonight when the boys and girls of the junior and senior high schools meet in the school gym for another square dance.

Square dancing among the younger residents of Winchester has become very popular during the past few years. This is largely due to the efforts of Mr. Alfred Meurling, local faculty member. Mr. Meurling begins teaching square dancing in the grade schools and by the time his pupils reach seventh grade, the boys and girls can swing their "pardner" with the best of them.

This dance is one of several being sponsored this year by the Junior High School Associates. Mrs. Merwyn Jackson of Westland avenue is in charge of the dance and is responsible for the chaperones. Mr. Meurling takes care of most of the details for the dance, and it is due to his tireless efforts that so many young people have such a good time.

TO ADDRESS ASSOCIATE ALLIANCE HERE

Thursday, January 20, members of the Unitarian Alliance will be hostesses to more than a hundred New England Associate Alliance members at an all-day meeting at the church, on the corner of Main street and the Mystic Valley parkway. Rev. Emerson S. Schwenk, minister of the Unitarian-Universalist Church in Haverhill, will speak to the morning assembly on the subject, "A Formula for Spiritual Strength." In the afternoon Mrs. Malcolm Priest, president of the General Alliance, will be the main speaker.

Rev. Schwenk is a graduate of Tufts College, both the School of Liberal Arts and the School of Religion. He has held pastorates in Bridgeport, Conn., and Saugus, Mass., and has had wide experience in inter-faith relations, having held positions of responsibility in the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and the American Friends Service Committee.

The program will begin with music by Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham, organist, followed by an invocation by Rev. Robert A. Storer; a devotional service led by Mrs. Frederick L. Churchill; greetings from the local president, Mrs. William W. Davies; an historical sketch by Mrs. George B. Redding, and an appeal by Mrs. Otis C. Nash. After Rev. Schwenk's address the meeting will adjourn for a box lunch, coffee being served by local Alliance members. A short business meeting and discussion of the coming Leadership Training Conference, led by Mrs. J. Robert Reynolds, Mrs. William W. Davies and Mrs. Edward P. Winchester, will precede Mrs. Priest's talk.

Also of interest to Alliance women throughout New England is the news that their work will be featured on a radio program January 17, at 11:30, when John Mounteer, on Station WVDA (1260), interviews Mrs. Nelson Burgess, the New England regional vice-president of the General Alliance, on his program "A Man Looks at Women."

BADMINTON

WINCHESTER OVER JAMAICA PLAIN

Rebounding from a lackluster performance against Tedesco in its opening match, the Winchester Badminton Club swept its men's doubles match against Jamaica Plain last Thursday night in the high school gym.

Led by Ed Williams and Whit Gray, who defeated Bilowich and E. Koenig by the identical score of 15-2, 15-2, Parker Symmes and Harry Bean won from Blue and Bilowich 15-12, 15-5; and Torben Meisling and Carl Jensen beat Rappaport and R. Koenig 15-3, 15-6; while Larry Palmer and Brad Hersey won from R. Koenig, Jr., and Blue 15-5, 15-4.

Club members are advised that the annual Club draw tournament will be held on January 25 and 27 and are urged to participate.

WINCHESTER TOPS BELMONT 63-53

Led by the sharpshooting of Captain Jim Wright and Charlie Stevens the Winchester basketball team remained undefeated as Belmont toppled before them 63-53 last Friday night, January 7. In their initial home start this season the Indians shot a nifty 46% from the floor. Four of the five starters hit double figures as this was a brilliant team effort against a Belmont five led by high scoring Ned Larkin. Individual scoring was evenly distributed as Jim Wright had 15, Charlie Stevens and John Lynch 12 and Joe Bellino 10. John Lynch and Jim Wright also rebounded strongly with 17 and 8, respectively. Three players, Jim Wright 5, Joe Bellino 6, Lou Farrell 5, shared assists honors as the Sachems drove in to score most of their baskets on easy lay-ups.

In the 1st period John Lynch had 5 points and the Sachems held a 5 point bulge. In the 2nd period Belmont gained a point and the score at halftime was 32-28. The Indians exploded in the 3rd period and led by the 8 points of Charlie Stevens ran up an 11 point lead at the beginning of the 4th quarter. Belmont could do little to overcome this deficit and thus they became the third straight Middlesex League victims of Winchester. Tuesday Winchester had another test in Lexington who also defeated Belmont, but by only 1 point.

The Winchester J. V.'s played a strong game and proved their caliber by defeating a good Belmont 2nd team 44-38. John Chapin and Mike Callahan shared high-scoring honors with 12 apice along with Mark Apsey who had 10 points.

INDIANS OUTCLASSED LEXINGTON

71-47 VICTORY LEAVES WINCHESTER UNDEFEATED

In winning their second crucial game in the last 5 days the Winchester basketball team proved it has the ability to go all the way. This time on January 11, Lexington, Middlesex League Champions last year, fell before the mighty Sachems 71-47 who continued their amazing floor shooting this time for 41%. As was the case last Friday night this proved to be a team victory with 4 men hitting double figures. Jim Wright and John Lynch had 14 points while Joe Bellino and Bert Kneeland had 12 apiece. Since rebounds are an essential part of the game Winchester's success thus far can be attributed to the strong rebounding of John Lynch and Jim Wright who gathered in 19 and 11, respectively against Lexington. The playmaker of the day was Lou Farrell who had 6 assists.

The initial period was close and Winchester held a narrow 16-13 edge at the end of the first quarter. In the 2nd period led by the prolific scoring of John Lynch with 8 points the Indians pulled away to 37-24 intermission lead. The Sachems continued to pour it on in the 3rd period and drew ten points further away as they led 56-33. The 4th period proved to be a seesaw affair with the outcome in sight well before the contest ended at 71-47.

The Winchester J. V.s romped to another easy victory over the Lexington J. V.s 71-40 and should provide plenty of material next year.

Tonight the Indians travel to Wakefield to play a Wakefield team regarded as not being very strong but expected to be tough on their home court.

HIGH SCHOOL FROSH WON OPENER

Winchester High Frosh opened their season last Saturday morning, defeating the Wakefield frosh by a score of 48 to 30. Coach Knowlton sent every player out to play expect Bill Morton who was sick.

Winchester led at half-time, 28 to 20, and went on to win the game with a fine offense and defense. Cosimo Paonessa was the high scorer with 13 points. They were led ironically enough by Captain Jim Wakefield.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

As the town hall clock tolled seven times the pins started to tumble, opening the second half of the S. O. I. bowling season. Undoubtedly it is one of our best bowling seasons, and most orderly, being a credit to our community and our organization.

Big Ben was tolling nine times as we descended the steps to go on our way and this is the picture this cool, crisp January night. Team standings:

California	4 - 0
St. Mary's	4 - 0
Georgetown	3 - 1
Harvard	3 - 1
Holy Cross	2 - 2
Notre Dame	2 - 2
Boston College	1 - 3
Yale	1 - 3
Alabama	0 - 4
Bates	0 - 4
High Single Jake Jacobellis	144
High Triple Moose Bellino	352

Top Five Bowlers

Moose Bellino	102.6
Tony Saraco	101.7
Jake Jacobellis	98.7
Frank DiMambro	97.7
Pete Provinzano	97.1

The limelight focuses each week primarily on the close contest between Tony Saraco and "Moose" Bellino in the average column.

"Moose," with a steady hand, grasped the lead again in the average column and also took the high triple crown from Tony Saraco, who has led in this department almost the entire first half.

Don't sell him short, "Moose," for he can bounce back with the best of them, and bounce back he will! May the sportsmanship between you two last forever and a day!

Although Tony Saraco has been beaten temporarily in two departments he consistently bowls over the 300 mark, leading this department with nine to his credit. In close pursuit is "Moose" with eight.

Among those who were able to stand up while bowling, for the alleys were very slippery this week, and who hit the charmed 300 circle this week were

Moose Bellino	352
Pete Provinzano	349
John Mangano	345
Gene Rotundi	319
Tony Saraco	315
John Buttafuoco	305
Dom Pantaleo	304
Danny Mistretta	304
Babe Tofuri	300

For those who fell in action a purple heart will be presented at the end of the bowling season! Next of kin being duly notified, their names have been released for publication!

Those loved ones who fell in action were "Yard Bird" Leroy Penta, who was embarrassed no end when his winter issue was exposed; "General Musky" Tofuri, whose dignity was hurt; one of our great statesmen, "Mingy" Frongillo, whose historical decisions are made at the T. D. A.; "Sergeant" Pete Lonigro, the man behind the Jeep; and most seriously injured, "Deadhorse" Chefalo, who had to be carried off the field of honor! I am happy to report that they are all recovering as we went to press.

There are many things that make me proud to be connected with this organization and one of the most important that stands utmost in my mind is the diligence of the old timers, who each year continue to bowl and whose dignity and sportsmanship prevail as a beacon to the young who will someday follow in their footsteps! Boys, a salute of gratitude to Joseph DiIorio, Dom Simonetta, Sr., Jake Jacobellis, Ricky Riga, Sr., Gene Rotundi, Hokie Procopio, Benny Gigliotti, and last but not least, "Hi Ya Pal" Chic Vespucci.

Another record raffle was conducted this week. We were sorry for those who were not able to procure a ticket, for we ran short. We hope to remedy the situation this coming week.

A vote of appreciation to the parakeets for their endeavor. Mike Saraco, who controls a reducing machine in the warm weather, was the happy winner this week.

CARR WINS AT CURLING

The first round-robin curling contest at the Winchester Country Club was won by Shorty Carr, skip, and his rink of Bob Lewis, Joe Abely, Jr., and Otis Leary. This was a popular victory, for Shorty has done a lot for Winchester curling, is one of the "original" old timers here, went on the curling trip to Scotland a couple of years ago (where he picked up a good bit of the strategy used in the final match) and altogether has been a big help.

First-round matches were Eaton 9 vs Stirling 4, Symmes 7 vs Scott 6, Butters 10 vs King 6, Carr 11 vs Morse 6. Eaton won from Symmes and Carr from Butters in the semi-finals, then Carr won from Eaton 9-7 in the finals.

The second round robin for the men started last week. Results were: Eaton 15 vs Davis 3, Fessenden 9 vs Joy 6, Carr 6 vs Waghorne 5, Bonnell 8 vs Butters 7, Dolben 9 vs Farnsworth 5, Lane 10 vs Scott 7, Willing 10 vs King 8, Symmes 9 vs Ferguson 7, Neill 7 vs Garrity 6, Eteson 7 vs Stirling 4, Neiley 6 vs Siders 5, K. Fulton 13 vs Morse 5.

Rinks are now being drawn by the committee for the eight senior skips for the Young Cup competition. This is the big match for the local curlers and will probably be held on Monday nights, starting January 17. Each skip will be assigned five men, from which he will choose his rink, and the others will be substitutes.

For the mixed curling, the final match of the "Shakedown" series was held Sunday afternoon. This has gone very well so far, so the women are arranging a definite schedule for competition, perhaps the first for the Coulson Trophy. This trophy is now being made and will soon be on display at the Club. The women are also getting well organized and are due to go to Nashua this week for their first bonspiel with the Nashua women.

Kevin L. Sullivan of 105 Cambridge street was among the Dartmouth Class Agents who attended the eighth annual clinic for class agents for the Dartmouth College Alumni Fund in Crosby Hall on the college campus in Hanover, N. H., this week. Mr. Sullivan is agent for the class of 1954.

W. H. S. HOCKEY TEAM EDGES SWAMPSCOTT 4-3

WHS won its sixth hockey game of the season by edging out Swampscott High 4-3 at Lynn Arena on January 5.

WHS scored first at 27 seconds of the first period when John Zirkel combined with Wayne Cowles and Leo Callahan to light the lamp. Less than a minute later Spauford scored for Swampscott to tie the game. Gneadinger then scored for Swampscott at 4:44 to put Swampscott in the lead. Leo Callahan broke away and scored unassisted to tie the game up at the end of the first period.

Wayne Cowles opened the second period by taking a pass from John Zirkel and Leo Callahan to score. Lottii tied up the score at 4:05. At 6:39 Wayne Cowles broke loose and scored the winning goal.

George Denton had 15 saves in the goal. Two of the goals of Denton were flukes. One bounced off of a skate and went in the goal and the other was a screen shot.

Jim Cusack, star guard on the Winchester High School football teams of 1952 and 1953, is a member of the varsity wrestling team at Bordentown Military Academy at Bordentown in New Jersey. Jim wrestles in the 175 pound class and the leg he broke in the Wakefield game last year must have come back nicely to permit his participation in a sport as strenuous as wrestling.

That is an important meeting the Civil Defense authorities are holding for parents of junior and senior high school puplis at the high school auditorium next Wednesday evening, January 19, commencing at 7:45. The meeting is being called to air the plans being made for the mass evacuation of school children under the threat of bombing, and the Civil Defense planners want very much to get parent reaction to these plans. If you have a child in school, you belong at this meeting. If you do not like what the authorities propose to do, the high school on next Wednesday evening is the place to say so, and perhaps assist in the formulation of new and better plans. Your Civil Defense group is working in your interests and frankly is greatly disturbed at the general public apathy displayed toward its efforts. Theodore Boecker, chief of Civil Defense for Winchester, urges all parents, especially of high school and junior high school pupils, to attend this important meeting. The mass evacuation of our school children is a gigantic task and one of tremendous importance. He wants all the help he can get in solving this problem to the satisfaction of as many parents as possible.

The Star last week-end had occasion to chat with two local merchants, both of whom are gravely concerned with the future of their businesses during the construction of the overhead through the center. Not only are they apprehensive about probable loss of business during the time the center is ripped up for the coming heavy construction. In addition to this understandable apprehension these successful businessmen are also wondering about a very real problem, which is what is to be done to provide new parking for that which will be lost during the coming heavy construction. You can't laugh off this parking problem as something that is only temporary and likely to take care of itself. The overhead isn't going to be completed in a year, probably not in two years, and even a year will be plenty long enough to shut the doors of many a small Winchester businessman if lack of parking causes an appreciable drop in his patronage. If local parking is going to be considerably worse than it has been, and this lack of space for cars is going to continue for a year, or two, or three, local business is going to suffer! Make no mistake about it! All you have to do is look from the Star front windows and see the lines of parked cars on Common street to realize that new parking is an integral part of the overhead construction project. The cars parked on Common street from the center to Winchester station will have to go elsewhere when the actual construction of the temporary tracks through that area is begun, and that goes for the cars that are daily jammed in behind the station itself. Whether these cars, or part of them, can go back after the tracks have been constructed and the trains are running through a part of the present Common street remains to be seen. At all events a lot of them will be unable to find room there, and the same goes for many of the cars now left in the parking lot below the station along the river. If this lot is to be pretty well filled up by Boston commuters, from Winchester and out-of-town, there is going to be that much less space for shoppers. Winchester's shopping center has been increasing in popularity yearly, and right now a goodly number of shoppers come from out-of-town to patronize our stores. They are not going to continue to come if they can not find a place to park their cars, and it looks like, unless new space is found for parking, they are not going to be able to find space much longer. The Star shares the apprehension of the two merchants with whom we talked last week-end. If in addition to the natural confusion and difficulties posed by the actual overhead construction job, we must also face sharply curtailed parking around the center, the result is not pleasant to contemplate. Conversation with the Selectmen and members of the Planning Board indicate that both these town bodies are alive to the dangers of the situation, and very probably have parking plans under discussion right now. If they haven't, they should, for unless something is done to provide parking facilities for those sure to be lost while the overhead goes up, we are going to lose enough business in the center to hurt us all!

WILL RUIN THE TOWN!

Editor of the Star:

Enclosed find my check for my 1955 subscription to the Star.

I have always dropped a line to my old friend, Price, the first part of the year but as he is no more, I am sending a few lines to you, hoping it finds the rest of you folks in good health.

I would like to see the old town when they ruin it with the railroad.

It is too bad they could not put the tracks under, and not over. It seems to me if they put a tunnel to East Boston, under the harbor, they could do it in this case. The town will not look the same when they get through!

I was shocked when I heard of the passing of Price Wilson, as we always had a nice visit when I dropped in on him.

We had a fine Christmas here, as my daughter and her husband, were here from Boston and her son a second lieutenant from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and her daughter, who is a dietitian here in the hospital. We also had my other grandson, who is a student at the University of Detroit, so we had all the family together for a good time!

We had plenty of snow just before Christmas, but it has been rain and more rain ever since!

Well, I guess this is all for now until I come your way when I will drop in.

A GOVERNMENT OF LAWS!

Editor of the Star:

Last Sunday afternoon, I went over to Winter Pond because my youngest daughter insisted she wanted to learn to skate. I understood that notice had been posted in Winchester center allowing skating. When I got there, a large crowd was enjoying the skating although the pond was not completely frozen. One portion of the pond was open water. A member of the police department was present to handle the traffic hazard caused by parking on both sides of Woodside road. To add to the danger, the place was overrun with hockey players. Youngsters were endangered by flying skates and flailing hockey sticks. I understand that several people got more than wet feet while skating at this pond.

It is regrettable that we do not have control over Mother Nature, (witness the unprecedented flow of water in Horn Pond Brook this year) so we could be assured of good healthy recreation for the young and old alike, throughout the winter months. Any money spent to insure the health and produce a youth sound in wind and body would be a good investment. What greater blessing can we have? In view of the above mentioned dangers would it not be wise to prohibit all skating until the ponds are completely frozen?

Ordinarily I would submit this letter to the proper department. In this case, I believe it would be the Park Department, but I have slowly but surely come to the conclusion that it would be a waste of time and effort.

On my way home from Winter Pond, I came over Ardley road and down the so-called bicycle and foot path, which runs down the hill to Sylvester avenue. This is the path which was substituted for an access road from the Pond street area to the Sylvester avenue area. This was done with the idea that we were saving money but before we get through, it may cost the town a pretty penny. A week or so ago, I reported to the Board of Selectmen that the sign at the Ardley road end of the path had been moved fifty feet out of position and that the colored guide stakes which are used to guide the man on the snow plow, so he can tell where the path is located, were all knocked down. Any man who attempts to plow this path after a heavy snowstorm, without these stakes to guide him, is risking life and limb. Inasmuch as the town built this thing, it is our responsibility to maintain it properly, and if any child or town employee is hurt (which God forbid) the town will be liable for damages. The Board said they would get a report on the matter from the Superintendent of Streets or Town Engineer and let me know. I have yet to hear from them.

Some time ago, I asked the Board of Selectmen why one of the State Auditors of the State Division of Accounts should tell me that the classification of payments book should be kept in minute detail in accordance with the statute of the Commonwealth and yet another State Auditor should tell my successor, that it is not the statute. Either one or the other has to be wrong.

We have been taught that ours is a government of laws and not of men by arbitrary methods. Somewhere along the line, it seems that someone might be derelict in their duty. All public officials should bear in mind that all civil authority comes directly from God and to disregard this is to invite a breakdown of law and order.

Sincerely,
James P. Cullen

CONCRETE SHELTER TO REPLACE STATION AT CROSS STREET

Elimination of a wooden frame passenger station at Cross street, Winchester, and substitution of a concrete shelter in its place is planned by the Boston and Maine Railroad.

The Railroad will seek approval of its plan by the Department of Public Utilities and has already advised the Selectmen of Winchester and the Mayor of Woburn of its proposal.

Although located in Winchester, the Cross street station is close to the Woburn town line and is patronized by residents of Woburn. Recently the Railroad was authorized by the Department of Public Utilities to substitute concrete shelters for three other stations on the Woburn Loop, at Woburn Highlands, Central Square, and North Woburn.

The Cross Street Station, now under consideration for removal, was built 62 years ago. The Boston and Maine proposes to dispose of it by sale, for use in its present location, for sale for removal, or to be demolished. Present platforms would be retained and adequately lighted. The three-sided concrete shelter it is planned to build would be located about twenty feet from the present building.

The Railroad said its proposal is made in the interests of economy as decreased patronage at the station does not require maintenance of a station and caretaker.

RANDLETT RED CROSS DRIVE HEAD

Royce H. Randlett of 5 Canterbury road, who has served in various capacities in seven previous Red Cross campaigns, has been selected as chairman of the 1955 Red Cross drive in Winchester, according to an announcement made today by the executive committee of the local Red Cross Chapter.

Mr. Randlett is a life-long resident of Winchester and has made his home here except while a student at Dartmouth, from which he graduated, and four years, from 1941-45, when he was serving in the United States Naval Reserve.

His family is well known. His father, now deceased, was Elmer P. Randlett, and his mother, now Mrs. Mary M. Nichols, lives in Manomet, Mass.

After graduation from Dartmouth, he entered the employ of the Penn Dixie Cement Corporation. Following his discharge from the Navy, he was associated with Wakefield Ready Mixed Concrete Company until 1952. He is now associated with the local office of Draper, Sears & Co.

He maried Miss Ann Emery of Old Greenwich, Connecticut, in 1942. They have three children.

The active campaign period will be in March of this year.

DOING BIG JOB IN JAPAN

Winchester friends of Bill and Mary Jim (Allen) Abbott, now Captain and Mrs. Abbott living in Nagoya, Japan, where the captain is attached to the 5th Air Force, will be interested to learn of the busy lives these former well-known Winchester young people are living in the Orient.

Mrs. Abbott is treasurer of the Officers Wives Club of the 5th Air Force and both she and her husband are very active socially in the official circles of Nagoya.

Mrs. Abbott recently participated as a model in the fur show put on by the Officers Wives Club for charity, and she and her husband as a husband-and-wife team spend a great deal of time helping the young American children on the post.

Captain Abbott is den master for the Cub Scouts and his wife is head den mother. They also find time to work with the Teen-Age Club, teaching them to dance. Their friendly interest in all young people of the area and their efforts in their behalf have won the Abbotts the appreciation and admiration, not only of the youngsters but of every one who knows what they are doing.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT?

. . . IMAGINATION HELPS FOOD

"This year" says the smart homemaker "imagination will be the key to good cooking in my kitchen." How right she is!

Quick and easy prepared foods from your local store, plenty of milk in your refrigerator each day, and a sure supply of meat, vegetables, and fruit mean you always have wonderful food on hand. A trip to the store is an inspiration today. Food looks good, tastes good, and you often save time when you are alert to good new ideas.

Lunch: Serve Apple Sauce Frenchie Sandwiches. Between two slices of hot golden French toast, spread hot apple sauce. Flavor the hot apple sauce with a dash of cinnamon, nutmeg, and a piece of butter. Garnish each sandwich with a shake of sugar-cinnamon topping.

Make ahead for lunch: When you pack cheese sandwiches for school lunches make an extra for your own lunch; butter it on the outside and store it in the refrigerator. At noon, grill it in your small frying pan.

Dessert, delicious and low-calorie: Make coffee gelatine dessert; top it with this cottage-dessert topping. Beat or sieve cottage cheese if you wish it smooth; perhaps you like to thin yours with just a little milk or cream. Spread on top of gelatine, and top very lightly with maple syrup.

Bake and cool two layers of cake from the package mix. Chill one empty baking pan and pack it with ice cream. Freeze it hard in the refrigerator. At serving time, turn the layer of ice cream onto the bottom layer of cake; top with the remaining cake. This cake is pleasing with a simple trimming of confectioner's sugar which you sprinkle through the pattern of a paper doily.

Breakfast to pamper an ailing grade schooler. Serve him a bowl of cereal flakes topped with milk or cream, having a heaping scoop of ice cream worked through the cereal. He is more apt to clean his dish if you break up the ice cream throughout the cereal.

Vegetable treat for a company dinner. Cook and drain a package of frozen lima beans as directed on the package. Then add a cup or two of very small white onions, piping hot and drained of liquid. Serve hot with herb butter sauce made by mixing melted butter with salt, paprika, celery salt, a little thyme, and minced parsley. Let your taste guide you in adding flavorings to melted butter; be careful.

IN SOMERVILLE COLLISION

Mrs. Vivian Haggerty of Middlesex street, wife of Patrolman William T. Haggerty of the police department, and her two young sons, Kevin and William, escaped serious injury Monday morning when the automobile Mrs. Haggerty was driving was in collision with another machine on the McGrath Highway in Somerville. Mrs. Haggerty was cut about the mouth and shaken up and was taken with the boys to the Central Hospital in Somerville. Her injuries were found to be superficial and Officer Haggerty brought her home Monday afternoon. The boys were not injured.

Charles Gibbons, Republican leader of the State House of Representatives, will be the speaker at the evening meeting of the Women's Republican Club at 7:30 p. m. Friday, January 14, at the Music Hall.

BIRDS LIKE OUR WINTERS, TOO

The 1954 Christmas Count, undertaken by the Massachusetts Audubon Society as part of a nationwide census, proved once again that birds like to spend the winter in New England. In a dawn to dusk check on the wild feathered population of Massachusetts, members of the Society and their friends recorded 83 pieces on Cape Ann, the highest number in 20 years of census taking. In Newburyport the number reached 81, on the South Shore 75, another record-breaker, while Cape Cod listed 118.

In a project where every bird counts, dedicated observers arose in temperature far below freezing, dressed by lamp-light in five or six layers of clothing, filled thermoses and sand buckets, lit hand-warmers, and plodded out into the snow. Across the country it was the same, whether in sleet or burning sunshine. Not a bird must go uncounted. And the records, when finally compiled, will be published in a thick booklet, so that those who are interested may delve further to discover just what was seen where, and how many, even by whom.

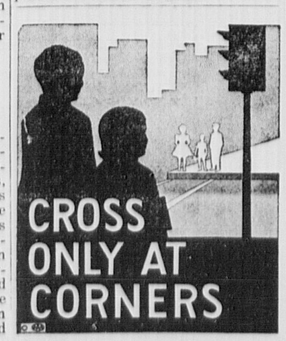

Because of a cold December the number of individuals (birds, that is) was lower than in the past few years. But due to the recent mild winters more species are over-wintering. Robins, catbirds, thrashers, and even orioles were fairly generally reported. On the other hand, bluebirds were missing from many communities for the first time. The winter finches were noted in unusually good numbers; Acadian chickadees (like our state bird, but with a brown head) added a new species to several counts; snowy owls drifted down from the Arctic circle, but Holboell's grebes stayed north, with 133 found near Cape Neddick, Maine.

A yellow-crowned night heron seen at Eastham gave Massachusetts its first winter record for this bird, hard to find even in summer. A blue goose was seen at Newburyport, 40 razor-billed auks in one group off Plum Island, 5 short-eared owls on the South Shore, a green-winged teal in Wellesley, a broad-winged hawk, rare in winter, in Ipswich, and an albino red-tail near Westport.

Totals of individual birds seen may be somewhat staggering to the uninitiated, 2718 starlings on Cape Ann, 28,860 herring gulls flying past Minot's Light, but to the Christmas counter it's all in the day's census.

As is only fitting in the state that produces the greatest tonnage of bituminous coal in the nation, West Virginia's steam-electric plants are 100% on coal.

DR. JOHN W. BRUSH

TO CONDUCT "SCHOOL OF CHRISTIAN LIVING"

Dr. John W. Brush, Professor of Church History at Andover Newton Theological School, will conduct a series of three Sunday evening lectures at the First Baptist Church, starting Sunday, January 23, at 7:30 p. m.

Under the general subject, "The Church as God's Building," Dr. Brush will trace Christian history in three parts: January 23rd, "Roman Temple and Christian Church;" January 30th, "The Monastery and the Cathedral;" February 6th, "The Temple of Bible and Faith."

The purpose of the course is to "help us get more out of Christian life today by studying the Christian life of yesterday." Anyone who has heard Dr. Brush knows that the series is certain to be interesting and stimulating as well as educational. A question and answer period and refreshments will follow each lecture.

The "school" is open to the public and those who would like to attend are invited to make advance registration through the church office.

Although coal accounted for but 61% of the total fuel burned in electric utility plants in the metropolitan New York City area in 1953, elsewhere in the state of New York consumption was 99% coal and 1% oil.

ROTARY NOTES

Mrs. Howard Aiken, representing the League of Women Voters, spoke before the members of the Rotary Club at the regular luncheon meeting in Masonic Apartments yesterday, telling of the purpose of the League in Winchester, explaining its activities and its effect upon the citizens of the town.

Last week's speaker, Robert F. Lybeck, gave a most interesting talk on "flying saucers," explaining the current theories concerning this controversial subject and telling something of the subject's past history. Mr. Lybeck admitted that there is no official explanation of flying saucers, but believes that eventually someone will come up with the answer to this intriguing question.

Next week's speaker will be School Superintendent Harry V. Gilson, who is a member of the Winchester Club.

The Club directors have voted to have as guests at each weekly luncheon meeting two servicemen from the anti-aircraft base in the Fells, the soldiers to replace the high school junior Rotarians, now unable to attend because of the two-session school day.

Scholarships totalling $75,000, travel opportunities and other educational prizes are being offered by General Mills, sponsor of the search for outstanding future homemakers. C., colonial Williamsburg, and Philadelphia. Her school will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Brittanica. The winner of the national contest will receive a $5,000 scholarship.

The examination, prepared by Science Research Associates of Chicago, consists of multiple choice and subjective questions testing the students' attitude and knowledge in such major areas of homemaking as family relationship, spiritual values, child care, health, safety, conservation of resources, money management, recreation, home beautification, community participation and continuing education.

WINCHESTER TRUST COMPANY

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester Trust Company was held on Tuesday, January 11, at the main office of the bank.

The president in his report to the stockholders reviewed the record for the year 1954, stating that the figures at the year's end presented an impressive series of all-time highs; that the total resources reached $8,400,000, a gain during the year of 18% total deposits, $7,648,000, a gain of 19%, and that the capital assets of the bank were now $569,000, a gain during the year of 14%.

Referring to the greater number of customers being served by the bank, the president called attention to the increase during the year in the volume of installment loans, and reported also that the bank now has more regular checking accounts and more savings depositors than ever before in its history. The president also stated that the increased rate in interest on savings deposits paid in December apparently is attracting new savings accounts.

Complimenting the staff of officers and employees on the excellence of the record for 1954, the president said, "We look forward in anticipation of another satisfactory year."

The following officers and directors were elected:

Officers
William L. Parsons, Chairman of Board
Vincent C. Ambrose, President-Treasurer
Harris S. Richardson, Vice-President
Curtis W. Nash, Vice-President

SCHOOL EVACUATION PROGRAM TO BE DISCUSSED

Civil Defense officials will discuss plans for the mass evacuation of pupils from all of the schools in Winchester in the event of an air raid at a special meeting for junior and senior high school parents on January 19. All interested persons are welcome to attend the meeting at the high school auditorium beginning at 7:45 p. m.

Talks by Mr. Theodore J. Boecker, chief of Civil Defense for Winchester, and other members of his staff, will be followed by a question period and the showing of the movie, "Operation Scat."

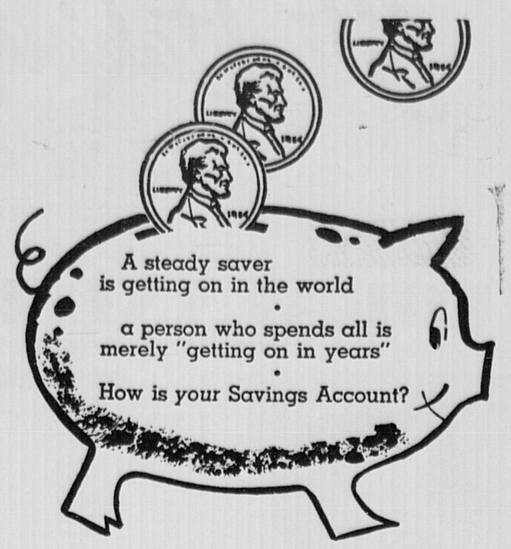

It is hoped that a full attendance may be secured in order that the problems involved in the plan may be thoroughly aired. If you are one of those who believe that the danger of mass bombing is remote as far as Winchester is concerned, or if you believe that no precautions are possible, you should plan to attend this meeting. Come prepared to ask questions. Defense officials will answer to the best of their ability.

JOAN MARIE GERARDI

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerardi of 17 Harvard street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Marie, to Mr. Frank DeAmato, son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeAmato of Boston.

Mr. DeAmato is presently serving with the United States Army.

STUDY GROUPS HEARD MRS. COMPTON

On Monday evening, January 10, the Evening Study Groups of the Winchester College Club began a new year with their traditional joint supper meeting at the Episcopal Church. Mrs. Langley Keyes and Mrs. Albert Swazey had decorated the hall and tables most attractively. The sale of tickets, in charge of Mrs. Charles Tozier, was just as heavy as usual, and the evening's guest of honor, Mrs. Karl T. Compton, proved a particularly outstanding speaker.

Following a catered dinner, Mrs. Albert Swazey opened the business meeting with a request for the financial report of the Groups' treasurer, Mrs. Daniel Dennett, Jr. Mr. Donald Kitchin, co-chairman of the Evening Study Groups, then introduced the guest speaker.

With great fluency and an enthusiasm that was immediately felt by her audience, Mrs. Compton painted a vivid word picture of modern Israel as she saw it last summer. The continuing transformation of Israel's barren deserts into lush and fertile plains is even more moving than its great spiritual heritage. Everywhere there is "a passionate urge to create."

Mrs. Compton's direct and complete answers to the questions of the audience proved that her appreciation of Israel is exceptionally profound and factual and thorough.

A brief meeting of the five separate Study Groups brought the evening to a close. These Groups, open to any interested person, will meet every other week for six weeks, their first meeting to be on Monday evening, January 24. The Groups are:

Contemporary Drama, led by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Abbott

Music, led by Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood

Books, led by Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilcox

Atomic Age, led by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berg

Travel, led by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Atwood

GIFT TO MOTHERS' MARCH

With the Mothers' March two weeks away, Mrs. Earle Littleton, chairman, has already received the first donation. A check for fifty dollars from the Jane Olivadoti fund has been contributed by Mrs. Fred Cause, who started the fund through letters to the Winchester Star.

Mrs. Cause feels that the need for research in polio is very great, and some of the money received should be given to help continue it. The gift gets the Mothers' March off to an excellent start.

W.D.N.A. ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association will be held on Wednesday, January 19, at 1 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, 12 Everett avenue. Mr. L. T. Reed, assistant executive director of Blue Shield, is to be the speaker.

Mr. Reed has been associated with Blue Cross and Blue Shield for more than seventeen years. Before coming to Massachusetts in 1940, he helped to organize and was employed as assistant director of the Rochester, New York, Blue Cross Plan.

Mr. Reed became keenly interested in the development of the Blue Shield Plan in Massachusetts, one of the first in the country to be organized for the prepayment of medical services. He has served both Blue Cross and Blue Shield in various executive capacities, and for the past six years he has served as assistant executive director of Blue Shield.

In addition to his duties in Massachusetts, Mr. Reed has been appointed by the Blue Shield commission to serve on several national committees, the purpose of which is to develop, coordinate and expand the Blue Shield programs throughout the United States and Canada.

Mr. Reed's background and experience in this field of non-profit prepayment programs for hospital and medical services give him an unusual knowledge of all matters pertaining to Blue Cross and Blue Shield. It is hoped that every member of the Association will make a special effort to attend the meeting and hear his message.

P. T. P. RECEPTION

A parent-teacher-pupil reception of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church School will be held January 23, Sunday, at 4:00 p. m. in the Crawford Room.

Refreshments will be served by the M.Y.F. group, with Miss Barbara Dyer in charge.

This reception is held for the purpose of getting to know each other better, more important each year as our church school grows and new teachers are added.

All parents of pupils, 4th grade and up, are invited to this friendly get-together. There will also be a film shown in the sanctuary.

We'd appreciate a call on your reservations, Ruth Pope, WInchester 6-1687, or the parsonage, WInchester 6-0139.

MATA AND HARI TO DANCE

Mata and Hari, famous comedy dancing team, and their supporting company, will appear at the Arlington Town Hall on Thursday evening, February 3, at 8:30 p. m. under the auspices of the Women's Aid Association of the Symmes Arlington Hospital for the benefit of that well known institution.

Mata and Hari are unusual dancers and have a large following. They performed to enthusiastic applause only recently on Ed Sullivan's TV Show, Toast of the Town and have appeared at such other well known entertainment spots as Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe, Carnegie Hall, and the Latin American Night Club. They were also one of the features of Sid Caesar's "Show of Shows."

TANDEM CLUB TO MEET FOR DINNER AND DRAMA

On Wednesday evening, January 19th, at 7:00 p. m. the Tandem Club of the Church of the Epiphany will meet for a catered supper of chicken pie and all that goes with it, followed by a one act play entitled "Demitasse," written by Robert McLaughlin and directed by Jay and Bob Sibley.

Mrs. Don Bates is handling reservations and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chane will be host and hostess for the evening. Between the dinner and the drama, the nimble fingers of the host will entertain at the piano. Then the opening curtain will bring to the stage such stars as Tallulah Benson, Marilyn Haley, Eartha Fitts, and others too humorous to mention.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowlege of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all new comers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3258 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

SECOND HOOVER REPORT READY

The Second Hoover Commission, now in the final stages of its study of the Federal Government, has just made a Progress Report to Congress. Dated December 31, 1954, this report, signed by former President Herbert Hoover, the Chairman, informed the Congress that within the next few weeks the Commission expects to submit to Congress its recommendations based on reports submitted by seven of its task forces. Other reports will follow as they are completed, studied and Commission action taken. It is the expectation of the Commission that its work will be completed by May 31, 1955, the date set for the termination of its activities.

Fourteen important areas of government have been the subject of inquiry by the Commission, whose objective was well described by Herbert Hoover when he said, "The major purpose of the Commission is to find ways of saving money for the taxpayers."

The task forces, committees and subcommittees set up by the Commission to carry on the investigative phases of its activities are as follows: Budget and Accounting, Intelligence Activities, Legal Services and Procedures, Lending Agencies, Medical Services, Overseas Economic Operations, Paperwork Management, Procurement, Real Property, Subsistence Services, Use and Disposal of Surplus Property, Water Resources and Power, Committeee on Business Organization of the Department of Defense, Subcommittee on Business Enterprises in the Department of Defense, Subcommittee on Research Activities in the Department of Defense, Subcommittee on Special Personnel Problems in the Department of Defense, Subcommittee on Transportation Activities in the Department of Defense, and Subcommittee on Depot Utilization.

Public support for the recommendations of the forthcoming Second Hoover Report is being organized from coast to coast by the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report. Encouraged by the unprecedented record of the First Hoover Report—over 70% of its recommendations adopted—voluntary bipartisan groups are being organized in each State, building up a grassroots demand for better government at a better price through the adoption of this latest Hoover blueprint for Federal reorganization.

New England activities in the campaign are headed by former Massachusetts Governor Joseph B. Ely. The New England Region office of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report at 73 Tremont street, Boston, is in charge of Edward A. Sherman who was director of the Massachusetts Committee for the Hoover Report in the 1949-1952 campaign in support of the First Hoover Report.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday, January 10, at two p. m. the regular meeting of the Fortnightly was held at the First Baptist Church with a large number of members and friends in attendance.

The business meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Moody, who expressed her best wishes for the New Year to all and read an appropriate poem. A stanza of "America the Beautiful" was sung, and after the pledge to the Flag, the invocation was read by Mrs. Arthur Haines.

After the secretary's report and the treasurer's statement were read, several chairmen of the various committees reported on their activities. Of special interest was the report of Mrs. S. B. Puffer, chairman of the Co-operation with War Veterans' Committee, who gave an account of the very successful efforts to add Christmas cheer to veterans in hospitals and the appreciation to the recipients.

It was reported that Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, a former president, who is in the Winchester Hospital is improving, and all will be happy when she is with us again.

After the short business meeting, Mrs. Moody introduced the speaker, Rev. John Nicholl Mark of Arlington and there followed an hour of entertainment and inspiration.

There followed a more serious and thought provoking talk with the emphasis on the idea that too much attention is given to What is Wrong with the United States instead of What is Right. Many of our novelists and writers stress the sordid and emphasize the negative instead of the positive. A reasonable optimism is needed, for life is a mixture and over-emphasis on the bad, tends to weaken! He quoted Emerson, "Power dwells with cheerfulness" and left his audience with a silent resolve to be more appreciative of the good things which are ours to enjoy.

A very attractive tea table was presided over by Mrs. Leonard V. Griffiths and Mrs. Ralph W. Hatch and a pleasant social hour was followed.

JR. MRS. GUILD

The Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening, January 18, at 7:45 p. m. in Chidley Hall. The guest speaker will be Serena, the well-known hair stylist of Winchester and Woburn. Serena will bring with her six models for whom she has created the latest coiffures, and she will also prepare styles for two people selected from the Guild.

The hour long show promises to be of great interest to all the women of the church, and with this in mind the Business and Professional Women's Guild have been invited as special guests for the evening. Mrs. Richard Davenport is chairman of the coffee hour which will follow the demonstrations. She will be assisted by Mrs. James Armstrong, Mrs. George Niles, Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Mrs. John Hoglund, Mrs. Wallace McDonald, Mrs. Theodore Checani, Mrs. John Monro, and Mrs. Arthur Anderson.

"LIVING ON THE LEVEL"

NEW BOOK BY ROYAL BARRY WILLS

Royal Barry Wills, internationally known architect, has recently moved to Winchester from Melrose. He makes his home at 5 Wood lane, has a summer home at "Deep Run" in Cohasset and a camp at East Wakefield, New Hampshire. He has two sons, Charles Barry, who has established a contracting business, and Richard who is associated with his father in the latter's Boston office. His six books on home building and architecture have sold well over half a million copies and have gone into many printings.

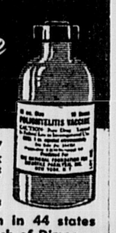

His latest—"Living on the Level" which Houghton Mifflin brought out this week in two editions is a book of plans, sketches and practical advice for anyone contemplating building a house. There is particular emphasis on the advantages of life in a one-story house. And one of the most attractive features are the author's very generous number of superb sketches for labor-saving and space-saving. There are dozens of them with inviting text.

Many awards have been bestowed on Mr. Wills during his career, among the more outstanding being a Gold Medal presented at the White House in Washington for the best small house of the year. His awards started with the First Regional Prize of the National Better Homes Competition, followed by medals from Better Homes in America Competitions; Grand Sweepstakes Prize and Fourth Prize in the National Homes Contest of Better Homes and Gardens; chosen one of eight leading architects of this country to design a house for "Life"; one of his houses was selected for construction at the Golden Gates Exposition; designed a Rural Development in a protected Community for the Architectural Forum; in addition to other distinctions too numerous to mention.

He has been featured in "Life" Magazine, was awarded a Certificate of Honor by the Massachusetts State Association of Architects, a coveted award since few have been bestowed. He is registered to practice in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and has been made a fellow by the Jury of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects.

Mr. Wills' hobbies are cartooning, tennis and attending auctions. And he likes to encourage budding architects as evidenced by his yearly scholarship to young students at the Boston Architectural Center.

VISITED STAR

Brownie Troop 20 of Winchester Girl Scouts visited the Star Monday afternoon, and were shown through the press-room, observing the various printing processes in operation at the time.

Brownies in the group were Janet Forsberg, Virginia Stearns, Pauline Cacciola, Barbara Peterson, Mary Louise Albiani, Judy Dionne, Corlet Jackson, Carol Stone, Geraldine Madeiros and Claudine Rogers.

TRAIN RESUMED

Apparently many local commuters who use the Wedgemere Station of the Boston and Maine have not realized that the train leaving Boston at 3:50 p. m. and arriving at Wedgemere at 4:04 has been resumed after being dropped in the October revision. Many outbound commuters have found this train convenient and were disturbed over its cancellation last fall.

THE TEEN SCENE

by Carol Ashenden

The past week seems to have been fairly quiet. Is everyone resting up after vacation?

Last Friday quite a number of lucky juniors and seniors received their driver's licenses. Congratulation to Doris Barbaro, Dick Bingham, Lorraine Caterino, Elaine Chabot, Frank Cullen, Sandra Curtis, Lois Erb, Janet Fisher, Ben Forester, Dick Garrett, Arthur Gorrasi, Mary Jane Grace, Sandra MacDonald, Jean March, Judy Nason, Debbie Norris, Joanne Pearce, Gail Perkins and Beverly Snell!

Captain Jim Wright was the high scorer Friday night in the season's first home game, as the Sachems went on to upset Belmont 63-58.

Marge McCreery had a number of the junior girls to her house for supper before the game, but what's happened to all of the open houses after Friday night basketball games that kids have had in past years? There hasn't been one yet, to my knowledge, so let's get on the ball!

Rona DiPietro's girl friends surprised her Friday evening when they showed up at her house prepared for the night. Mrs. DiPietro was expecting the girls even though Rona wasn't.

The week end was a busy one at the First Congregational Church. The annual "International Week End" was a big success. Foreign students from the Boston area were week-end guests in Winchester homes. After an excellent dinner at the church Saturday night, members of the Forum and several of the visitors provided about an hour of enjoyable entertainment. The evening was finished off with square dancing. The students returned to their respective schools Sunday afternoon after a tea at the churchc.

The ice hockey team is doing great this year. They've defeated Woburn 4-1 and Revere 7-1. It's nice to see Center Richie Johnson back on the ice again. It certainly didn't take his wrist long to recover; long enough for him, though, I bet!

Ohio's 51 electric utility plants were 99% on coal and 1% on natural gas in 1953, according to the National Coal Association.

CAST OF "CATHERINE" PLAYED ARMY HOSPITAL

The production of Shaw's "Great Catherine" and "Star Struck" which was done at the Boston Center of Adult Education before Christmas was repeated for patients and staff on Thursday, January 6 at the Murphy General Hospital .

Mrs. Robert Millican, as Empress Catherine was charming and amusing and her skill has won recognition of her hidden talent for a part in the next production of the Parish Players.

Al Samoiloff as the sergeant won applause for comedy and has a definite flare for acting.

Sona Norian came to the rescue and with one rehearsal gave a fresh and competent characterization in "Star Struck"—due to the absence of one member of the group at the Center Production.

MORNING COFFEE

The George Washington School Mothers' Association will hold a morning coffee at 9:45 a. m. on Tuesday, January 18th. Following the coffee Mrs. Gladys S. MR. AND MRS. CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's "Mr. and Mrs." Club was held on Wednesday, January 5, at St. Mary's Hall.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Father Manion, after which the minutes of the December meeting and a financial report were read by the Secretary-Treasurers Edwin and Genevieve Forbes.

The co-presidents, John and Elaine Fitzgerald expressed the thanks and congratulations of the club to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmaeder and to their committee, who were so successful in organizing the Christmas Holly Dance.

The appreciation of the club was expressed to the outgoing officers and appropriate gifts were presented to former Presidents John and Rosemary Dolan, Secretary-Treasurers Joseph and Mary Maloney and Vice-Presidents Albert and Gladys McDougall.

The brief business meeting was followed by a very interesting talk by Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Dignam, who spoke on "Four of the Lesser Known Saints," a subject which proved both interesting and informative.

Program chairmen for the evening, Louise and Dana Kelly, then introduced Mr. "Al" Meurling of the Winchester Public School system, who conducted folk and square dancing. The very successful meeting ended with refreshments served by Marion and Leo Manoli and the refreshment committee.

It was announced that all the married couples of the parish will be welcome Sunday, January 16, at 7:45 at St. Mary's Church. There will be an observance of the Feast of the marriage at Cana, with the rosary, a sermon on marriage by Father Manion, renewal of marriage vows and Benediction.

The next regular meeting will be Wendesday, February 2.

Mansfield, of 84 Walnut street, is playing a feature role in a production of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Pen, Paint, and Pretzels, honorary undergraduate dramatic society at Tufts College, at the Tufts Arena Theater in Medford, tonight and tomorrow night. There were previous performances January 6, 7, 8, and 13.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Mansfield, and a member of the producing organization, she is a senior at Jackson College, School of Liberal Arts for Women at Tufts.

COLLEGE CLUB ART STUDY GROUP

The next meeting of the College Club Art Study Group will be held at the headquarters of Design Research, 57 Brattle street, Cambridge, at ten o'clock Friday morning, January 21. This institution is the center of much that is lovely and modern in household furnishings; furniture, china, glass, wall treatment, rugs and even paintings. A visit to Design Research is exceedingly interesting and worthwhile. It is located across the street from "The Window Shop," a good place for luncheon!

The talk which is to be given to our group at Design Research will emphasize "Color in the Home" from the modern point of view, and will follow the preparation along this line which Mrs. Charles Underwood gave at the library meeting on January 7.

Mrs. Underwood introduced the subject of "Color in the Home" by discussing the symbolic as well as the psychological characteristics of each of the spectrum colors, and then related these to their uses in the decoration of the rooms in the home. She compared the use of color historically by different generations, and brought out the point that each person and each generation sees and feels color in a different way. Today the emphasis is upon bright, clear colors, in large areas. She explained color theory in simple terms, and demonstrated various harmonies through arrangements of beautiful fabrics. At the front of the room she had exhibits of cool, warm, contrasting and analogous harmonies, using curtain materials, tapestries, draperies, and many colored samples of broadloom rugs. These latter samples were lent through the kindness of Mr. Mouradian.

An interesting feature of this meeting was a paper written by Mrs. Frederick Churchill, explaining the modern theory of color held by Professor Kepes of M.I.T. Mr. Kepes' influence is seen in the application of color in the decoration of our newer school buildings here in Winchester, and in many buildings in the Boston area.

At the end of this meeting, Mrs. Underwood discussed problems of home decoration with the members of the group and invited all to come to the front of the room to examine the beautiful fabrics she had assembled.

WINTON CABARET THEME

Planning a trip—Europe, South America, Africa? Why not make a reservation on the "S.S. Winton" and get away for an evening of fun? The "S. S. Winton" is being outfitted for its departure on a world cruise at the Town Hall January 26-30. A large crew gathered at the Mystic School Monday night to meet the new cruise director, Mr. Eric Schepard of the Jerome H. Cargill Producing Organization of New York. Plans were discussed of ports to be visited and before the evening was over the cast had mastered fast-moving routines and been initiated into the intricacies of the Mambo. All signs indicate a sparkling, colorful show, familiar peppy music and gay costumes. Friday and Saturday nights are sold out except for balcony tickets, but there are still bookings for Wednesday and Thursday.

In addition to the coffee hour at 8 on Thursday there will be informal dancing until 11 to the music of Harry Marshard's orchestra. A beautifully dressed doll will be presented to the holder of the lucky number Thursday, which will entitle the winner to a $30 dress donated by the House of Fashion, 38 Church street, Winchester.

All performances are open to the public and, as usual, all proceeds from the Cabaret are used to supply the linen for the Winchester Hospital.

SPENT HOLIDAYS IN DENVER

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Hatch of Jefferson road are back in town after spending the holidays in Denver, Colorado, with their son, Capt. Frederick Tasker Hatch, USA, Medical Corps, his wife, Virginia, and their three children, Danny, 6; Daphne, 2; and Deborah, 9 months.

Captain Hatch is attached to the Medical Nutrition Laboratory of the Fitzsimmons Army Hospital in Denver. He has recently received a grant from the American Heart Association which will enable him to study for a Ph. D. in biochemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology when he leaves the Army next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch found Colorado a delightful place to visit, and a treat for summer picnickers with its absence of rain and mosquitoes. The temperature was 67 degrees early in Christmas week but the day after Christmas nine inches of snow fell and it remained cold enough so the snow did not melt for several days.

UNITARIAN JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

Last Saturday evening members of the Unitarian Junior High Fellowship and their friends enjoyed a roller-skating party at the Wal-lex skating pavilion. Fifty-six youngsters tried their skill on the floor with varying results. All, however, seemed to have a good time.

Girard Chandler, Mr. Joseph Masi, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell, Mr. Langdon Powers, Mr. George Neville, Mrs. Frank Moore, Mr. Lindsey Caldwell, Dr. and Mrs. John McLean, Mrs. Roderick Thomson and Mr. Gardner Handy. POLIO HITTING MORE ADULTS

Use of the term "infantile paralysis" to describe the disease of poliomyelitis has become a misnomer in recent years as increasing numbers of adults are felled by the disease. This is revealed in the report of a survey conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

And the sad fact is that adults are more likely to be stricken by the more serious forms of polio. Bulbar cases are fairly common among adult polio patients. They are more likely than children to require respiratory aids such as iron lungs, according to the survey.

One in Five Over 20

Today more than one out of five diagnosed polio cases occur among people 20 years of age or over. More than one out of every five deaths from polio occur in the same age group.

The tragedy of this is readily apparent. The family breadwinner or mother of small children may become a polio victim with disturbing consequences for the family group and the community as a whole.

March of Dimes aid, to minimize this shock and dislocation, is available for any and all polio patients who need it, regardless of age, the report said.

March of Dimes funds pay hospital and other bills, provide post-hospital treatment and help polio patients rebuild their lives to become productive, useful citizens.

$200,000,000 For Polio Care

The National Foundation for Infantile paralysis has spent more that $200,000,000 in March of Dimes funds on aiding polio patients since 1938.

Long-Term Polio Care Needed

Almost $30,000,000 in March of Dimes funds was needed during 1954 to provide help for polio patients. At the beginning of 1955, seventy thousand patients were still on active lists of National Foundation chapters. The March of Dimes needs your financial support to continue aid for patients.

PARKHURST MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the executive board of the Parkhurst Mothers' Association was held Tuesday morning, January 11, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Pexton at 8 Penn road.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

BISHOP PLEADS FOR FAMILY UNITY

On Sunday morning, January 9, at 8:00, St. Mary's Holy Name Society held their annual family communion breakfast after receiving Holy Communion in a body with their families at the 8 o'clock mass. A catered breakfast was served and both church and hall were taxed to capacity. The marshaling committee did an excellent job of ushering at the church.

Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, Holy Name director, celebrated the mass and called attention to the beautiful mass missal on the altar as being the gift of Mrs. J. J. Moynahan, whose late husband was a faithful member of the Holy Name. Mrs. Moynahan also has donated the curtains on the stage of the new hall.

Soloists at the mass were Mr. J. Edward McDevitt, who rendered "Sacred Heart in Accents Burning," and Mr. Vincent F. Erhard, who sang "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling," both singing "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" as a duet. The entire congregation sang the "Hymn to the Holy Name" and "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," directed by Mr. McDevitt and accompanied by Miss Kay Roache as organist.

The Holy Name had the honor of being the first organization to have a communion breakfast at the newly-built hall; and seated at the head table were Bishop Eric F. MacKenzie, Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, who welcomed everyone to the hall in the name of St. Mary's pastor, Fr. Manion, who was able o make only a brief appearance; Mr. William J. Croughwell, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Cleary, Mr. Joseph H. Foley, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Donohue and their son, James, Jr.; and Mr. Joseph J. Moran and his daughter, Mary Ann.

Mr. Cleary, Society president, after welcoming those present, told of the history of the the Holy Name Society, founded in 1271, and of its chief purpose. Mr. Cleary expressed the hope that members would make every effort to attend all future meetings of the Society, and had Mr. Arthur W. Hall, breakfast chairman, take a bow, praising his efforts and those of the entire committee.

William J. Croughwell, past president of St. Mary's H. N. S., who is president of the district embracing 18 parishes, was toastmaster. He prefaced his introductions with the statement that this was a day of "bringing together the family" and that this example of Catholic action was outstanding in every way.

Father Dolphin led the assemblage in the recitation of the Holy Name pledge and termed the affair a "fine annual tradition." He spoke of his particular appreciation of Bishop MacKenzie's coming, the latter having been formerly his pastor at Sacred Heart Church in Newton.

Mr. Croughwell recognized the Society organist, Miss Kay Roache, who was loudly applauded. Edmund Boucher, a Society member, rendered in his fine baritone voice, "Bless This House" and "Connemara Shore," accompanied by his son, John Boucher.

Guest speaker, Bishop Eric F. MacKenzie, had high praise for the beautiful new hall, complimenting Fr. Manion for his achievement. Fr. Dolphin came in for his share of praise from the bishop, who characterized him as a most loyal and hard-working assistant for him in Newton.

In his talk the bishop stressed the need today of having a sense of family unity and of being together, pointing out that men leave home for work, the children for school, and the women, for their various activities. He warned that the home tends today to be a place where we are not united as formerly. "For the family to stay together is most important," declared the speaker, and continued with the statement, "Sympathy, love, devotion and mutual interest are all essential to parents and children."

In conclusion he said that the greatest sense of security should be in the family and asked his audience to pattern their lives after the Holy Family of Nazareth, stating that then will result a good strong family life for the future of the country and our Church.

THE TEEN SCENE

by Carol Ashenden

Here it is 1955 already. Now that the Christmas vacation is over, mid-year exams are coming up too quickly for comfort!

There were two nice dances recently. The C. Y. O. sponsored a dance in their new hall. They are planning to have one every month now. The other dance was a formal at the Winchester Country Club. Last year's seniors had a big party on Tuesday night at Jane Lynch's.

About one-hundred and fifty junior and senior boys and girls went to a formal party at the Music Hall last Wednesday put on by Liz Hood and Barbie Eaton. The party was a big success and everyone enjoyed the refreshments and games as well as the dancing. Barbie couldn't even come to her own party though, since she was still in the hospital after her operation last week. A recording of the guests' voices and an autograph book will help her to remember what a good time everyone had though.

The Y.P.F. had their splash party at the University Club last week night, and from all reports that was also a success.

New Year's Eve was a busy night around town. Harlow Russell had a dinner party after which the group split up for the remainder of the evening. Some of the kids went in to the Ice Capades in Boston, and the others went over to the Christ Church in Cambridge to a dance there where they met another group from town.

After gathering at Nancy Switzer's, one group went in turn to Ken Cleaves's and Diane Curtis's to have the various courses of their dinner. The last stop of the evening was Judy and Allan Cairncross's where they saw movies and welcomed the new year.

Margie Thomas had a party Friday evening; many of last year's seniors spent the last few hours of '54 at John Butler's house. Cynthia Ayer had a slumber party for some of the junior girls. Both Margie Reynolds and Ben Forrester had mixed parties.

Seth Weston and Judy Swan seem to have been the only ones wide awake enough to have parties on New Year's night. Judy's was probably the last time for quite a while that the alumni will be together.

This seems to be a long list of nothing but parties, but I don't doubt that I've missed more than one. Not intentionally though.

So long until next week!

She was a member of the First Congregational Church and active in the Mission Union and the Women's Association of that church. She was a former member of the Women's Republican Club, the Fortnightly and the Florence Crittenton League.

ANNUAL MEETING OF NATIONAL BANK

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Winchester National Bank was held in its banking rooms on Tuesday, January 18, 1955. The present officers and directors were re-elected as follows:

Leslie J. Scott, President
Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, Vice President
Norman E. Beattie, Vice President
William D. Sullivan, Cashier
Arthur W. McPherson, Assistant Cashier

Directors
Ralph H. Bonnell
Ernest Dudley Chase
Frank E. Crawford
Edmund L. Dunn
William F. Hickey
Franklin J. Lane
Leslie J. Scott
Richard W. Sheehy
John A. Volpe
Erskine N. White
Joseph W. Worthen

Mr. Scott, who presided at the meeting, in his annual report of the president, pointed up some interesting facts regarding the continuation of the steady growth of the bank and its services. Total assets, now nearly $5,000,000, are the highest in the history of the bank. Deposits continued to increase along with loans and investments.

The president presented tables showing the growth of the shareholders investment in the bank since its inception and the spectacular increase in the activity of the various departments during the past eight years.

TRADE SURVEY

"Do you produce any products that are exported directly or are sold to companies which export?" "Are there imports which compete with your products?" "Do you feel that competitive imports have an adverse effect on your business?" "Do you think the United States should try to expand or contract its trade with other nations?"

These and similar questions will be asked of company Presidents of at least two Winchester industries and nine businesses in Woburn by members of the International Relations Committee of the League of Women Voters of Winchester. The "trade survey" currently being conducted by the Winchester League is an effort to gain information and facts about specific effects of imports and exports on local economies. By choosing representative businesses, with due regard to size and position in the import-export picture, it is hoped that light will be thrown on such trade problems as the extent of "injured industries" and how to handle them by gaining community support for wise legislative action.

The League feels that our Trade policies should have stability so that exporters and importers will know on what they can depend.

MRS. DWIGHT L. CART

MRS. CART TO SPEAK AT EPIPHANY

The members of the Church Service League of the Church of the Epiphany are looking forward to their meeting next Tuesday, January 25th, when Mrs. Dwight L. Cart, the wife of the minister of the First Congregational Church, will be the speaker. Her talk will be entitled "Taking a Good Look at Yourself." As everyone knows who has heard Mrs. Cart speak, there is no one more delightfully witty, amusing, or inspiring than she is. She is a speaker not to be missed.

Mrs. Milton Brown, the President of the Church Service League, has invited several members of each of the women's organizations of the other churches in Winchester to be her guests at the luncheon at half past twelve. Mrs. Cart's talk will be at quarter past one.

Everyone is cordially invited to the luncheon, or to come later for the talk. Mrs. Donald Bates is in charge of the luncheon, assisted by a large group headed by Mrs. Stephen Nichols and Mrs. George Marks. Mrs. Warren Haley will introduce Mrs. Cart.

Here is an opportunity to hear a most unsual speaker that no one will want to miss.

WINCHESTER POODLE TOP DOG

One of the most exciting dog events this year was the obedience trial of the Poodle Obedience Training Club of Greater New York, which drew a one-breed record of 109 entries to the Henry Hudson Hotel in New York on Saturday, January 8th.

Nicholas became the open B winner in the late afternoon with the score of 199½ points out of a perfect score of 200.

None in the other classes could surpass the Gange dog's score and he became the winner of the President's Cup for having the highest total of the show.

Mr. Gange purchased "Nick" when he was a pup of four months, and obedience training was started with an average of 15 minutes a day. When he was a year old "Nick" entered regular training club classes at the New England Dog Training Club, located in Boston.

Obedience training demonstrates the usefulness of a dog as a companion and guardian of man. Every single trained dog, irrespective of the kind of training given, whether for moving pictures, for the stage, Red Cross, for the blind, or for police work, starts off with obedience training.

The train, a diesel powered special equipped with dining car service, will leave Boston at 9:00 a. m. Sunday, January 30, stop at Winchester and Lowell, Mass.; White River Junction, Vermont; Whitefield, Bretton Woods and Bartlett, N. ROSS — McGOFF

At a nuptial mass in St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, January 8, Miss Margaret Mary McGoff, daughter of Mrs. Mary R. McGoff of Irving street, became the bride of Robert Louis Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ross of 12 Harlow Court, Woburn. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. John M. Manion, officiated at the 10 o'clock marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Christmas poinsettias and white gladiolas made an attractive setting for the service. Marie Ryan played the bridal music and the soloist was Miss Dorothy Hickey, soprano.

Miss McGoff was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Henry Roache of Dorchester. She wore a gown of white lace over satin fashioned with a white nylon and satin skirt extending into a train. Her fingertip veil of nylon was caught to a coronet of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis combined with red roses and centered with a single white lily.

Miss Katherine McGoff of Winchester was her sister's honor maid, and another sister, Miss Alice McGoff of Winchester, was one of the two bridesmaids, the other being Mrs. Margaret Gay of Woburn, sister of the bridegroom.

The honor maid wore a ballerina-length dress of aquamarine crystalline with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The bridesmaids wore similarly styled dresses of primrose crystalline with matching accessories and carried pink roses.

Frank Ross of Woburn was best man for his brother, and ushering were Thomas Roache of Dorchester, cousin of the bride, and John J. Minghella of Stoneham.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Reservoir Club in Cambridge. Assisting in receiving with the mother of the bride and parents of the bridegroom, was the bride's uncle, Mr. Frank Roache.

Mrs. McGoff, mother of the bride, wore a teal-blue street-length dress with a pink and white petal hat and a corsage of pink camellias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ross, wore pink roses with her dusty-pink dress and matching accessories.

After a wedding trip to New York Mr. and Mrs. Ross will make their home at 33r Irving street.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Ross graduated from Woburn High School and has recently returned from two years service in Korea.

"MOTHERS' MARCH!"

Once again Winchester has come through with needed volunteers, and everything is ready for the 27th of January. That is the night when doorbells will be rung all over town, to collect money for care and research in polio.

Mrs. Earle Littleton reports that there are about 375 mothers who, no matter what the weather, will be making the rounds that night. Leave your porch light on to signify your desire to donate to the fund. If your porch light is not working, how about a flashlight in the window? In any case, give as much as you can, in the hope that this year we will top the gifts of all previous years!

Remember! January 27, 7 to 8 p. m., porch light burning. Help to stop polio with research, and help those who have been stricken by it, with financial support.

The ringing of church and fire bells will signify the start of the march.

If no one calls for your contribution, please call WInchester 6-3304-J, the Mothers' March headquarters, where a group of fathers will be answering the phone.

JOHN M. MACAULEY

John M. Macauley, 36, of 131 Auburndale avenue, West Newton, vice president and general manager of the Winchester Lumber Company at 693 Main street, died very suddenly Tuesday evening, January 18, while attending the directors meeting of a lumber association at the Hotel Statler in Boston.

Mr. Macauley grew up in Medford. He had been associated with the Winchester Lumber Company for seven years, for the past year as vice president and general manager.

He leaves his wife, Betty; two daughters, Susan and Bonnie; a brother, Donald, of Medford; and a sister, Mrs. Marie Waite of West Acton.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning with high mass of requiem at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, at 9 o'clock.

BIRD — McNEILL

Miss Joan Frances McNeill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ward McNeill of 11 Lawrence street, and Mr. William Timken Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cobb Bird of Winchester Arms, 247 Washington street, were married Saturday afternoon, January 15, at the First Congregational Church. The minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, read the 4 o'clock service in a setting of southern smilax combined with white snapdragons, gladiolas and carnations. J. Albert Wilson, organist and choirmaster, played the bridal music.

Miss McNeill was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of moonglow satin with an empire-styled bodice, long sleeves and a decollette neckline. The full gathered skirt extended to form a cathedral-length train and she wore a fingertip-length veil of imported French illusion, caught to a crown of seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet was of stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids.

Miss Diane Read McNeill of Winchester was her sister's honor maid, and another sister, Miss Sheryle McNeill of Winchester, was one of the four bridesmaids, the others being Miss Carolyn Danforth Stone, Miss Barbara Ann Hammett and Miss Gloria Nancy Mucera, all of Winchester.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina-length dresses of Dior-blue velveteen with short sleeves and full gored skirts. The honor maid carried a cascade bouquet of violets and pale yellow roses and wore a headband of the same flowers. The bridesmaids' bouquets and headbands were of talisman roses and violets.

David F. Blackman of Belmont was Mr. Bird's best man, and ushering were F. Thayer Richardson of Waldoboro, Maine, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; William Knights and Robert L. Swanson, both of Winchester; and Lt. (j.g.) John H. Timken, USNR, of North Caldwell, N. J., cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Music Hall with the mothers of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the maid of honor and bridesmaids and the best man.

Mrs. McNeill, mother of the bride, was gowned in ashes of roses, embroidered with gold and wore a flowered hat and a corsage of camellias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Bird, wore roses with her blue lace over taffeta gown and sequin hat.

Mr. Bird and his bride went to Cambridge Beach in Bermuda for their wedding journey. Upon their return they will make their home in Binghampton, N. Y.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1953, and of Manter Hall School in Cambridge. Mr. Bird, who is associated with the Scott Paper Company, prepared at Cushing Academy and was graduated in 1952 from the University of Maine where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. WINCHESTER WOMAN CONTEST WINNER

MRS. ADAMS GETS TRAVELER-WHITING MILK AWARDS

Mrs. Norma Adams, wife of Frank O. "Bill" Adams of Stetson Hall, won the recently concluded "Match the Twins" contest of the Boston Traveler and the additional award of the Whiting Milk Company going to the highest ranked Whiting customer in the contest.

Her Boston Traveler win paid Mrs. Adams $5,000; the Whiting Milk award was $1,000. Any way you add them, (and Mrs. Adams' husband being an accountant they probably added them correctly), these figures total $6,000, and the Adamses were very happy to have such a windfall drop in, as who wouldn't!

Since she received notification of her win, Mrs. Adams has been going around in a bit of a daze, happily accepting the hearty congratulations of her many friends around the center and denying any intent to sink her winnings in wildcat oil or uranium stocks. The checks are safe in the bank and Norma is going to get away back to normal before making her next move.

She apparently did quite a job in winning the contest, spread-eagling the field and making only one mistake, a mistake incidentally that she would not have made had she stuck to her original guess.

The contest, briefly, was to match sets of twins, the pictures appearing separately at different times in the Traveler during the time the contest ran. Mrs. Adams really worked at the job, and went over her decisions so carefully she had to dash into town personally to get her entry in at the Traveler office only a few minutes before the contest closed.

She looked at the twins very carefully under a magnifying glass and did every thing she could think of to ensure as positive identification as possible. Her work and endless speculation paid off and after she was notified of her double victory she described herself as "the happiest woman in the world!"

Mrs. Adams is a southern girl, hailing from Albany, Georgia. She met her husband while working as secretary to Col. John B. Patrick, commanding officer at Turner Field Air Base. "Bill," a captain in the Air Force during World War II, met Norma when he checked in at Turner Field and they were married at the home of Col. Patrick, August 24, 1942, coming to Winchester after "Bill's" separation from the Air Force.

Mrs. Adams says she is a naturalized Yankee and loves it in Winchester! She has been actively identified with the Junior Florence Crittenton League and has many friends in town, all of whom have been rejoicing in her recent good fortune.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY HONORED

FRANCIS A. BARRETT

NEW TELEPHONE POST TO BARRETT

Long time residents of Winchester will learn with interest of the appointment of Francis A. Barrett, a former resident, to the post of Director of sales for the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Mr. Barrett's new appointment comes in connection with Telephone Company changes involving the company's sales and merchandising activities which have been expanded to meet the organization's service and financial requirements. As director of sales he will report to Erskine N. White, whose home is in Rangely and who is vice president of the Telephone Company in charge of operations.

Mr. Barrett comes to his new responsibility from Rhode Island, where he has been the company's general manager. He grew up in Winchester, his father, the late Thomas Barrett, having been widely known in town for many years as an insurance salesman and real estate broker.

His son graduated from Winchester High School and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology before joining the Telephone Company. He was living at 44 Yale street when he left Winchester and had been active in town civically, as director of the Community Fund Drive in 1941, and as head of the Mystic Area of the War Fund Drive during World War II. EXCHANGE STUDENTS NEED SPONSORS

The Star has been informed that the American Field Service is seeking sponsors for its exchange students. This organization annually brings 400 high school students from foriegn countries to the United States for a year's study and travel.

Aimed at promoting international understanding and good will, the program is endorsed by the State Department. Its success is attested by the fact that communities which have once become interested in the program have almost always stayed with it.

This year, for the first time, Winchester has been privileged to have an exchange student living in town and attending its schools. Ingrid Brendel, of Freiburg, Germany, is a student at the Winchester High School and is living in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Binswanger. Part of her expenses have been contributed by the Winchester Rotary Club.

According to the American Field Service, it would welcome applications from families interested in opening their homes for a year to a high school student from some foreign land. This can be a rewarding experience for all members of the sponsoring family, as shown by letters in the files of the Service.

The Service also needs the financial support of one or more individuals or organizations which will underwrite the necessary transportation costs of the student. It is estimated that the expenses on this account will be about $650.

Any interested persons or organizations are asked to contact Principal Wade L. Grindle at the Winchester High School for further details.

CLOTHING AND BOOKS NEEDED

The Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries yesterday issued an urgent appeal for clothing of all kinds.

"This is a double-barrelled appeal," said Henry E. Helms, superintendent. "Clothing coming to us at this time will help people keep warm and it will give employment to handicapped persons who mend and clean the material we receive."

"Many pitiful cases of need have come to the attention of social workers both at Morgan Memorial and at the 57 other social agencies which use our services." Helms said. Warm winter clothing, especially for children, is needed at once. In addition, underwear, suits, overcoats and men's clothing of all descriptions is in great demand.

Mr. Helms said that there was also a need for books because large numbers of students come to the Goodwill Book Department daily. "You will be helping students when you send us books," he said.

Other usable materials will also be acceptable at this time and will help to prevent a temporary layoff of some of the 300 handicapped people who work in the various Goodwill shops.

A postal card or a telephone call direct to Morgan Memorial, HAncock 6-9670, or to 85 Shawmut avenue, Boston, will bring a truck for pickup.

V. F. W. CHAMPION IN FIELD OF VETS CLAIMS

Commander Clement A. Landry, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3719, in a statement today appropriate to the local observance of National V. F. W. Week, January 23-29, cited the 56-year record of the organization in assisting veterans and their dependents in claims and other matters having to do with the federal government.

"The largest single unit of our organization is the national rehabilitation service, which has some 100 employees," he commented. This service represents our veterans who may request our aswell as the dependents of deceased veterands who may request our assistance in any claim or problem they may have with a government agency.

"As most of the claims filed are processed through the Veterans Administration, we maintain a corps of service officers at every level of the V. A. where such claims are adjudicated.

"Take our Washington office for instance. There we provide veterans, widows and dependent parents or children of this community and countless others with the advice and assistance of attorneys and physicians who are experts in veterans' laws and the regulations of the Veterans Administration. Many claimants from this area have been assisted by our national rehabilitation service staff when their claims were sent up to the board of veteran appeals, which is the "supreme court" of the Veterans Administration.

"Do not forget, either, that here in the state of Massachusetts we also have skilled V. F. W. service officers who are ready and willing to give expert help to veterans and veterans' dependents of this community who file claims with V. A. regional offices or hospitals.

"Post No. 3719 stands ready to help in these matters. No charge whatsoever is made by this post or by our far-flung national rehabilitation service for preparing or prosecuting claims based on Military service.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The wind whistled between the parked cars as I stepped briskly towards the alleys this cold and windy night. What of interest there would be to write about was racing through my mind. The surprises were numerous as you will read about further on, but first things first.

Team Standings:
California	7-1
St. Mary's	7-1
Georgetown	7-1
Harvard	4-4
Notre Dame	4-4
Alabama	4-4
Boston College	2-6
Holy Cross	2-6
Bates	2-6
Yale	1-7
Hi Single:
Jake Jacobellis	144
Hi Triple:
Tony Saraco	356
Top Five Bowlers:
Moose Bellino	103.5
Tony Saraco	102.8
Jake Jacobellis	99.
Pete Provinzano	97.2

You will note there exists a three way tie for first at present which leads me to believe that the second half will be a more closely fought battle for top honors. As predicted by your writer last week not to sell the little mite of steel Tony Saraco too short for bounce he did with a magnificent and artistic piece of bowling to again grasp the top honor of the hi triple crown with a superb 356 pinfall. This with a superb pinfall. This particular contest for supremacy sure is a good nights entertainment for anyone to come to see and enjoy between Tony Saraco and Moose Bellino. The terrific pace set by these masterful bowlers is by far the highest average to my knowledge ever set in history of the Sons of Italy Bowling League. Tony Saraco continues to hit that charmed 300 circle to maintain his lead in this department with 10 and Moose close behind with 9. It is gratifying to note that numerous players hit that 300 circle this week.

Tony Saraco	356
Moose Bellino	348
Mel Fiore	335
Jeff Gaudioso	315
Joe Marrone	314
Frank DiMambro	313
Max LaCrubba	312
Jake Jacobellis	309
Pete Lonigro	307
Gene Rotundi	306
John Buttafucco	304
Dom Provinzano	304

You all undoubtedly know that each team has six players, one being a spare and low man each week stays out so the low man of the previous week has his turn to bowl. Naturally they get no fanfare for they aren't superb bowlers but they try to the best of their ability to help their individual teams in their humble way. So in appreciation for those who don't get their names in the limelight too often I wish to mention those who were low this week. For those who I think may be embarrassed I will only mention their nicknames, Arca Amico, Phil Adagno, Mario Lentini, A. P. Amico, Rudy Rotundi, Fred LaTorella, Musky, Mike Colucci, Ricky Riga, Sr., and "Hi Ya Pal."

I am happy to announce that all casualties of the previous week are up and about. We had one severe casualty this week, Corp. Pete Provinzano who received painful lacerations of both knees under terrific fire.

The happy winner of this week's raffle is related to one of Boston's most prominent meat men known throughout the state for his specialty. The Hot Dog King of them all, Joe Nemo. Who is this winner? Max LaCrubba.

MELROSE HERE TONIGHT

Winchester High School's high-flying basketball team, riding the crest of a nine-game winning streak, plays host to Melrose High tonight in a Middlesex League game at the local gymnasium. Second teams square away at 7 o'clock, with the varsity game to follow.

Melrose is expected to extend the Indians and has one of the League's high scorers in Scott Palmer. Winchester, because of its success against Belmont and Lexington, is favored over Melrose but the Indians will have to play ball, and they figure to do just that.

Winchester plays two at home next week, meeting Concord Tuesday afternoon at 3, and Reading Friday evening at 7. The Indians had their troubles with Concord in their league opener and will be out to show they have improved since that game.

Reading is always an attraction in Winchester and a big crowd is expected for that one.

WINCHESTER 66, STONEHAM 50

In a game marked by hot and cold play the Winchester Indians pulled out their 6th straight league victory of the season at the expense of Stoneham, 66-50, Tuesday afternoon at the high school gym.

The first half was very close, the Indians being troubled by the Stoneham zone defense and having only a 27-26 advantage at intermission.

The 3rd period saw the Sachems gain 4 more points to lead 44-39 as the final period got under way. In the final stanza Winchester broke the game open and at one time led by as much as 20 points.

The three high scorers for the Indians were Joe Bellino with 22, John Lynch with 17, and Jim Wright with 14. As a whole the team shot 42 percent from the floor, led by John Lynch who hit eight out of 11. Lynch controlled the boards with 15 rebounds, 10 of them off the offensive board. The backcourt duo of Joe Bellino and Lou Farrell led in assists with 6 and 4 respectively. The Indians' error chart was not bad as they committed only 28 misplays.

In a complete rout the Winchester Seconds won 98-23 barely missing the century mark in the last 15 seconds. High scorers were Mark Apsey and Bob Smith each with 14 points and Mike Callahan and Dave Bergquist with 10. The summary:

LANE AND WAGHORNE WIN CURLING MATCHES

The first two matches of the Young Cup Curling Trophy were won by Frank Lane and Charley Waghorne at the Country Club on Monday evening. The scores were Bob Roundy, Charlie Siders, Stan Neill and Frank Lane skip 10 vs. Ray Holdsworth, Bill Croston, Keith Fulton and John Joy skip 9; Bill Ferguson, Courtney Gendron, George King and Charle Waghorne skip 11 vs. Bill Adams, Tom Righter, Harold Farnsworth and Geof Neiley skip 7. Both matches hard fought with fine curling. The skips were asked for statements for the press half way through the match and came up with the following; Geof Neiley "first give me justice." Charley Waghorne "Well, what the hell if it was a 'Wardwell,' its the counter, isn't it?" Frank Lane "it's going too well so far to talk." John Joy "first wait until he gives me a chance, he's too good so far."

Next Monday evening the Young Cup matches will be Eteson vs. Morse and Davis vs. Carr, then the semi finals on Monday, January 31, and the date of the finals to be announced, probably on a Saturday or Sunday.

Last Wednesday the women curlers had their first Bonspiel at Nashua, with two matches in the morning, then lunch and two more in the afternoon. They report a wonderful party and an even break in the matches, the latter showing how well they have progressed in the grand old game of curling. Rinks and scores were: Dyer, Roundy, Neill and Dolben skip 10 vs. Hambleton, Brewster, Tipping, and Barker skip 5.

The second matches of the second Round Robin for the men resulted: Joy 13 vs. Carr 7; Eaton 13 vs. Waghorne 3; Fessenden 11 vs. Davis 7; Farnsworth 10 vs. Scott 9; Lane 13 vs. Butters 8; Dolben 13 vs. Bonnell 3; Symmes 10 vs. Garrity 8; Neill 9 vs. King 7; Willing 12 vs. Ferguson 5; Neiley 11 vs. K. Fulton 9; Morse 11 vs. Stirling 5; Eteson 9 vs. Siders 5.

Shorty Carr and Howard Eteson went to Chicago over the week-end to help welcome the Scotch Curlers to the U. S. The Scotchmen are due to arrive in Boston on Thursday, February 10, and will stay here ever the 11th and 12th to finish up their U. S. Tour. Curlers from Winchester, Brookline and Nashua will entertain them with matches at our three New England rinks and banquets at Winchester and the Country Club. A good time is expected by all.

Bob Ingersoll, John Fulton, Larry Burke and Tom Stirling, skip went to the St. Andrews Bonspiel at Mt. Hope, N. Y., last week-end. We were represented in the Worcester Cup at the Country Club last week by Bill Adams, Bob Roundy, Charlie Eaton and George King, skip and Jack Page, Dave Shean, Joe Dolben and Stan Neill, skip. All of these matches were very close, though lost.

Next week-end Winchester will be represented at the Quebec Bonspiel, a full week of fine curling, by Bob Ingersoll, Doc Sheeran, Stan Neill and Tom Stirling, skip. Quebec will have about 100 rinks from all over Canada and the U. S. and assures each rink of from 8 to 12 matches. That Bonspiel is a real Curling education.

The Inter-Club matches are being held every Thursday evening either at Winchester, Brookline or Nashua and are affording lots of fun and good experience for the newer curlers.

This week-end a Winchester rink consisting of Bob Dyer, Keith Fulton, Shorty Carr and John Joy, skip are going to the Utica Bonspiel. This is the one that the Winchester rink of Howard Eteson, Dan Morse, Geoff Neiley and John Joy, skip, won the Country Club Cup in 1950. Here's to luck for our curlers this year.

All of the above, for just one week's news, shows that Curling is really humming around these parts since our new Winchester rink really got in operation.

W.H.S. TOPS DANVERS

The W. H. S. hockey team romped over Danvers High, 5-1, January 11 at Lynn Arena.

For the third time this season, Captain Wayne Cowles pulled the hat trick, and the Indians were also sparked by the return of Rich Johnson, who had three assists.

Leo Callahan also picked up three points with a goal and two assists. Dave Manning scored a goal on a pass from John Sullivan.

Besides having three goals, Cowles also picked up an assist. He is the leading schoolboy scorer in the state.

George Denton turned aside 11 shots in the goal.

The summary:

Winchester: g, Denton; rd, M. Murphy; ld, Sawyer; rw, Johnson; c, Callahan; lw, Cowles.

WINCHESTER TOPPED WAKEFIELD

Again the Indians went on the war-path and again they conquered! This time Wakefield succumbed to the fast-breaking Sachems, 84-51, in a game that was never a contest.

The Indians started off fast and were never headed, scoring at least 20 points every period in this, their 8th straight victory.

The 1st period saw them have an edge of 8 points which mounted to 19 as the half ended, 42-23.

In the 3rd period, led by the 10 point splurge of Captain Jim Wright, the Sachems pulled away to a comfortable 21 point lead allowing Coach Phillips to get some of the J. V.s into action in the final stanza.

High-scoring honors went to Jim Wright with 18, Joe Bellino with 16, and Bert Kneeland with 14. John Lynch and Jim Wright, as usual, were the top rebounders with 17 and 16, respectively. Joe Bellino was top assist man with 6, and the hottest hand belonged to John Lynch as he hit four out of seven of his floor shots.

In the J. V. game the scoring was divided, with John Chapin and Mike Callahan each getting 12 points as the seconds triumphed, 63-44.

WASHINGTON DADS' CLUB

On January 11, a meeting of the George Washington Dads' Club Board of Directors was held at the home of President George Hendricks.

This being the first meeting of the new year, a report was given by Treasurer Ernest Donagen on the expenditures of the Dads Club for the first half of the 1954-1955 year. This report was accepted and recorded by George Sjoholm, Secretary. A letter is being drafted to be sent to the members of the Club informing them of the Club participation in school affairs.

The second half of the year looks very interesting, due to the activities that are planned for all members. The first Get-Together of the season is a dance and entertainment—"Surprise Package"—planned for February 11.

Robert Foley, Charles Bund and Dana Peterson are on the Entertainment Committee and have 12 good helpers to assist them in planning the dance and entertainment.

The fellows have been noncommittal on their entertainment but we are looking forward to attending the dance to find out.

FASHION CLEANSERS
Happy And Gay With A Bias Cut . . .
Until A Shower Or Cleaning Brings Your Skirt Up!

Have you ever been caught in the rain and actually seen your crepe dress creep up and shrink right on you? It can happen!

Or has your favorite bias cut skirt or dress developed an uneven hemline in wear or cleaning?

If your garment shrinks, or if the hemline becomes uneven, your drycleaner may be able to stretch it back to shape.

His success will depend on the type of fabric, the garment design and construction. Consult him for information!

Consider these points in purchasing a bias cut garment!

- Bias cut fabrics stretch under their own weight until they reach the maximum point of stretching.
- Heavily creped yarns shrink when wet.
- Heavily sized crepe yarns relax and stretch once the sizing is partially or completely removed.
- Bias cut garments made from fabric that has not been preshrunk usually shrink in the warp or lengthwise direction. Since the other direction shrinks less, the hemline becomes uneven.
- In some skirts, the warp direction of the fabric may be at center front and center back. In others, it may be on the sides of the skirt.

Your cleaner is your clothes' best friend!

May some of us old timers be pardoned a pang of regret as we watch the fine old trees going down in preparation for the construction of the overhead. They have been a long time growing and what is done in the way of replacement isn't going to count for much for some time. Winchester's trees have provided much of the beauty of the town and what is going up where they came down isn't going to be, at least in the eyes of the tree lover, as nice to look at!

The Park Department has done well to set aside a skating area at Little Winter where there will be no hockey. Hockey is a grand sport and a lot of fun to play. It, however, and general skating, definitely do not belong on the same ice area unless there are provisions for containing the hockey players and keeping them in one restricted place. Injury to skaters is too likely to happen when fast skating hockey players are roaming at will about a pond.

Those are important hearings the Planning Board is holding next week Monday and Tuesday evenings, in the high school auditorium. The Monday meeting is concerned with possible changes in the town zoning map, involving changes from business or industrial to residential, and vice versa. There always has been a sharp difference of opinion on changes of this sort, and it behooves those especially interested to attend Monday's meeting and inform themselves of just what the Planning Board is proposing. Tuesday's hearing on public parking should be well attended and spirited. The Planning Board is reported to have definite proposals to provide new parking areas and there can well be some difference of opinion over their plans. These public hearings are the places to air such opinions, and all those who are vitally concerned with, or likely to be vitally affected by, the proposed plans should attend the hearings and make themselves heard. Town Meeting members could also well make it a special point to attend. The Planning Board is doing well to bring its proposals to the public in time to learn the temper of the town well in advance of town meeting.

G. I. EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS

Editor of the Star:

Answering your questions and scores of telephone calls upon the above subject the writer would like to report as follows:

1. The Korean Bill went into effect 27 June 1950 and included the phrase in regard to benefits, "to be terminated at a later date." That date came 1 January 1955 when the President declared all benefits would cease as of midnight 31 January 1955.

2. This left in doubt the benefits accruing to men who had enlisted prior to 31 January 1955 and, of special interest to the writer, the fact that the men who had enlisted with the distinct understanding that they would receive 11/2 days educational benefits for every day of service up to 36 months of schooling, were now to receive only such time as would accrue up to 31 January 1955. The writer then protested as follows:

Called the Armed Services Committee in Washington and asked for a clarification. Was told this was not a military matter but came under the Veterans Administration. A ruling from them said no benefits would accrue after the cut-off date.

Called the office of the Secretary of Defense and asked for a clarification on the men already enlisted and to whom, in the opinion of the writer, a moral commitment had been made. The military adviser to Mr. Wilson said he would have someone call me back with complete information.

Received a call from the military adviser to Mr. Burgess, Assistant Secretary for Manpower, who said the Administration would back House Bill 587 (Teague Bill) and Senate Bill 306 (Neuberger bill) and gave me permission to use this information. The writer has not yet had the opportunity to study these bills but understands they both call for the furnishing of educational benefits as hitherto promised. We would suggest that you let your Congressmen know how you feel about this matter.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. K. B. Toye, Chairman,
Military Manpower Committee

THE FACTS ARE THESE

Editor of the Star:

In last weeks' issue of the Star you published a letter signed by Mr. James P. Cullen which contained a criticism of the Board of Selectmen for not having taken action on his complaint relative to the identification sign and stakes on the Ardley road-Noonan School bicycle path.

The facts are these. Mr. Cullen telephoned to Mr. Wakefield, Superintendent of Streets, voicing a protest over the conditions existing in this area. On the evening of January 3, Mr. Cullen appeared before the Board and registered a formal complaint, namely, that the sign at the Ardley road end of the path had been moved out of position, and that some of the colored guide stakes had been broken.

We assured Mr. Cullen that his interest was appreciated, and that immediate attention would be given to the matter if the facts so warranted. On the following day the writer and one other member of the Board, Mr. William Cusack, visited the area and discovered that the sign and the guide posts had been replaced by a town maintenance crew as a result of an order issued by Mr. Wakefield.

The board does not wish any citizen to feel that his legitimate requests for investigation are ever ignored.

Yours very truly,
J. Joseph Tansey
Chairman, Board of Selectmen

NEWS OF THE FELMETS

The following excerpts from a letter received by Mrs. J. Vance Holdam, 10 Sheffield road from Fred Felmet, now teaching instrumental music in the schools of Bethesda, Chevy Chase, Md., will interest the many friends of the former Winchester band and orchestra instructor in town:

2702 Spencer road
Chevy Chase 15, Maryland
December 24, 1954

Dear Mrs. Holdam,

We like it down here pretty well. It does seem strange to have the temperature up to 50 on the day before Christmas and no sign of snow so far this year. But the little three-bedroom Colonial house we bought is easier to heat and easier to keep clean than that ark of a house we had in Winchester. And our little girl likes her teacher and the school very much.

I'm having to work pretty hard in my schools because music has been neglected, so that there are not very many students who play instruments. I think in about three to five years it will be possible to develop some good bands and orchestras. The physical facilities in the high school, however, are excellent, and the parents I have had an opportunity to talk with seem very much interested in helping develop the music program.

Sincerely yours,
Fred Felmet

January 13, 1955

Citizens of Winchester:

It has been my privilege to have had as a personal friend for the past year, A/1C David R. Snow, a native son of your city. For the past ten months our friendship grew as a typical military relationship does with both parties far from their parents and loved ones. However, as our acquaintance grew, I began to notice that Dave possessed an individual humanistic trait that is not a part of the ordinary serviceman. A trait of Dave's that was to gain for himself many personal friends, many of which could not speak or understand his tongue. Dave certainly proved that language is no barrier for deeds.

Last week our friendship was somewhat dissolved when Dave boarded the ship returning him to the states for his discharge. I know I will truly miss him. As I now look back on our past relationship I recall our last briefing prior to embarking for our overseas assignment. As the lecturing officer versed us on the importance of spreading American goodwill . . . I can sincerely say that the people of Winchester can now truly be proud of their representative there that day. Through this media of correspondence I hope to re-encourage you to produce more such missionaries and ambassadors of American goodwill. By such acts maybe some day populations the world over will have some idea of the democratic way of life which we cherish so dearly.

Very sincerely a friend,
William R. Sather, A/1C
AF 16410030, USAF

Ed. Note: The following clipping from the "Philippines Flyer" dated Friday, December 24, 1954, explains more fully what "Dave" Snow has done. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Snow of 68 Fletcher street.

A lot of people talk about the necessity of maintaining friendly relations with our neighbors, but few ever do anything about it. It is usually easier talking than doing, and so their ideals seldom move beyond the dream stage.

One man, A/1C David R. Snow, 6200th ABG, has proven how good ideals can pay off in practical results when you work at them.

Several months ago Snow was invited by a friend to the town fiesta of Magalang, Pampanga, a town located at the foothills of Mt. Arayat. Snow was very much impressed by the hospitality of the inhabitants. He was urged to share in their festivities, was invited into their homes, and was asked to return a few days later to witness the dedication of a new agricultural school building.

The school, the Pampanga National Agricultural School, is the pride and joy of the town. The old school building had at one time served as the headquarters for Huk activity in that area. Much time had passed, however, since dissidents had disturbed Magalang. The boys, who would have been recruits for the Huks, are now turning their efforts to learning the latest scientific agricultural methods. They are becoming farmers instead of fighters.

The school, which has been built with the assistance of the FOA (Foreign Operations Administration), was still in need of improvement. A sidewalk needed to be built; wall lockers and beds were needed for the use of the students living at the school. Realizing what the school lacked, Snow offered his help. And from that day until the present, he has been spending his weekends in Magalang laying the sidewalk, building an overpass and plowing the land with modern equipment for the planting of sugar cane.

At first the Magalangans were not a litle surprised to find an American pitching in with them, shirtless and in bare feet. Their formal politeness soon turned into engaging friendliness. They came to accept him as one like themselves, to the point where they often jokingly call him a Filipino.

Through Snow arrangements were made for the school officials to visit the Clark salvage yard. For use in the school, they were able to buy the much needed wall lockers and beds, plates, screening and silverware. They even bought canteens so that the students would have fresh drinking water along with them while they worked in the fields. Not only were the officials happy to be able to buy this equipment, but they were gratified to get it at a discount, and at a substantially lower price than they could have gotten eisewhere.

As part of his activities, Snow has been shooting 16mm movies of the school and its activities, and of some of the happenings in the town itself. To date he has given them approximately 500 feet of film, which he feels will serve someday to show them the progress they have made. Presently, whenever some special event occurs, all the people gather in the town plaza in the evening to watch these movies which are projected on a large white bed sheet. The projector itself is run off by a portable generator.

To show their appreciation to Snow and some of the other airmen, such as A/1C William Sather, 1961st AACS, whom he has introduced to the Magalangans, the people have extended invitations to all Clark personnel to visit their town, schools and other points of interest. Officials of the school have offered Americans the use of their swimming pool and the surrounding area as public grounds.

Snow himself as been shown around the model barrio improvement projects which are being sponsored by the 4-H Clubs; through them he has visited the seven model barrios in Magalang, Mabalacat and San Fernando, in addition to visiting some Tilapia farms.

Because he is now leaving for the States, Snow would like other men to replace him who would be interested in associating with the people of Magalang and the school in much the same way that he has in the past. Associating with these people, says Snow, is a rewarding experience in itself.

"They appreciate anything you can do for them," says Snow; and speaking for those that he has come in contact with, he says, "The important thing is that they now look upon Americans differently—with less awe, and more understanding."

MR. JAMES PRICE

SENIOR FORUM

Mr. James Price, who will come from California to speak to the Senior Forum this Sunday will have special interest for the young people as he represents the National Young People's Department of the Congregational Christian Churches. Each year the Congregational Christian Churches selects one young person of outstanding leadership ability to be a Youth Associate and to travel extensively throughout the country, meeting with groups of young people. After graduating from Stanford University in June, Mr. Price was selected for a year of service as Youth Associate, following which he will go into theological seminary to train for the ministry.

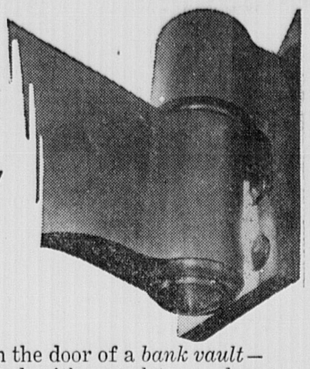

Mr. Price was active both locally and nationally in the Pilgrim Fellowship, having been President of the Northern California organization and Vice President of the National Pilgrim Fellowship. In the summer of 1953 Mr. Price went as a Pilgrim Fellowship delegate to the International Congregational Council in Scotland, and then on to the continent as a member of the Council for Social Action study tour of Europe. That same year he was appointed as one of six United States members on the World Council of Churches Youth Committee, attended the Second Assembly of the World Council in Evanston, Ill., and was Vice Chairman of the United Christian Youth Movement.

The Forum chaplain at this 9:30 service in Ripley Chapel will be Richard Thompson, assisted by Sidney Bixler. The ushers will be Allan Osborne and Erskine Kelley; and the deacons will be Brad Ross and Peter Gowing.

The nation's only 100% coal-burning railroad system, the Norfolk & Western, has given up producing coal for its own use, and is now buying coal from commercial producers along its lines.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowlege of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all new comers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3258 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

FELLOWSHIP HOUR

On this next Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. the Second Congregational Church will have its Fellowship Hour.

For our entertaining program, we are privileged in having a presentation of colorful slides taken by Mr. W. O. Whiting when he, his wife and daughter traveled through Europe last summer. Mr. Whiting will show interesting scenes taken in Scotland, Ireland, England, France, Holland, Denmark, and Sweden.

To restate the plan of the Fellowship Hour, we begin with an informal sing, followed by a brief worship period and meditation directed by Mr. Skeirik, pastor. After the benediction, the people are invited downstairs to the social hall for entertainment and refreshments.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

On five treeless, fog-bound islands in Bering Sea, the Pribilofs, the largest assemblage of wild animals to be seen anywhere on earth gathers each year. Approximately a million and a half fur seals jam the lonely dots of land in breeding season, the National Geographic Society says. More than 100,000 come ashore on a single mile of beach.

Two pyramids in North America occupy a larger ground area than the largest pyramids of ancient Egypt, but they are not as high. One, covering three and a half times the area of the Pyramid of Cheops at El Giza, stands at Cholula in Mexico's State of Puebla. The other, Cahokia Mound, rises in the suburbs of East St. Louis, Illinois.

Korean printers cast bronze type in sand and printed books at least four decades before John Gutenberg independently invented separate type characters of metal in Germany in the 1430's, the National Geographic Society says.

Reptiles of the desert's scorched wasteland instinctively hunt shade for a midday siesta. Experiments prove that the rays of the southern California sun can kill a sidewinder rattler in nine minutes, says the National Geographic Society. Thus desert snakes seek their prey during the cooler hours between dusk and dawn.

A TRIP TO MEXICO AT WYMAN SCHOOL

The morning of January 13 was cold, and the air outdoors was filled with gentle snow flurries, but inside one classroom of the Wyman School the scene was 2,000 miles away, south of the Rio Grande. The boys and girls of Miss Betty Batcheldeer's Grade IV were taking their parents and friends on a fascinating trip to gay Mexico.

Included in the varied program were interesting reports prepared by the pupils during their study of a unit on Mexico. Other features were the Mexican songs and the dance, "The Mexican Waltz." Best of all was the exciting fun of actually breaking a "pinata" and enjoying its contents of goodies.

At the conclusion of the program each parent was given a booklet containing all the reports that his child had written. It had all happened in Winchester on a cold winter's day, but in imagination the audience had enjoyed a real visit to this sourthernmost neighbor in our North American continent.

SCOUTS TO VISIT B & M

A "guest list" of 400 cub scouts expected to visit the Boston and Maine Railroad for their observance of "Transportation Month" has mushroomed into more than 2500 reservations, a railroad spokesman said today.

Every Saturday from January 1 to March 12 inclusive, has been completely booked for tours of the railroad's largest engine terminal, located in Charlestown. In addition many reservations have been made for school vacation week of February 22nd, and numerous scout units are obtaining release from school in order to visit the railroad on regular school days.

A railroad public relations official said that requests for scout tours during this year's observance of "Transportation Month" have almost overwhelmed the railroad's facilities for conducting guided tours.

Because of the unusual interest displayed by the scouts this year the Boston and Maine arranged to provide Budd car "shuttle service" between the North Station and its Charlestown terminal whenever possible to handle large groups arriving by train in the North Station with no means of transportation available to get them to and from the engine terminal, a mile away.

About 1600 scouts are included in reservations made for tours of the Charlestown engine house and North Station, and over 900 others are scheduled at such outlying points as Salem, Lawrence, East Deerfield and Springfield, Mass.; Dover and Concord, N. H.; Mechanicville, New York; White River Junction, Vermont; and South Portland, Maine.

"BEAT THE CLOCK"

Last Saturday evening, January 15, forty members of the First Baptist's Couples' Club sat down to a delicious chicken-on-biscuit supper in the church social hall, served by chairman Virginia Butterworth assisted by Florence Chase and Mildred Allison. During the business meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Josephson were elected to serve the club as co-presidents for the coming year.

Then to the delighted chagrin of everyone, the members found themselves watching, and participating in, a special presentation of "Beat the Clock," famous TV stunt program, with Bud (Butterworth) Collyer as M. C.

Hit of the show was the program's charming hostess, "Roxanne," who some skeptics claimed was really Mr. Howard Chase, well padded.

Outstanding contestants included Mrs. Vivian England and Mrs. Joseph Dunn who are now experts at walking with balloons between their knees; Marge Sorenson and Bill Wickwire who failed to beat the clock and were awarded a genuine Sylvania flashbulb, used only once; Lewis Foster who proved his head is just right for balancing paper cups on, and Mr. and Mrs. David Thoms who won the Giant Jackpot prize, a genuine 60-watt you-know-what light bulb.

Any Winchester young married couple who would like to visit the next meeting of this over-energetic group on Saturday, February 19, are cordially invited to contact the co-presidents at WInchester 6-1693.

ICE FOLLIES TO AID MISSIONS

Very Rev. Msgr. Edward F. Sweeney, diocesan director of the Father Jim Hennessey Mission Club and the Sen Fu Club, announces that the producers of the famous Ice Follies in cooperation with the Boston Garden Arena Corporation have donated the proceeds of the opening-night performance of the Follies to the missions of the Catholic Church.

W. D. N. A.

The final meeting of the present W. D. N. A. Board was held on Friday, January 14th, in the General Committee Room of the Town Hall. The President, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, presided and 22 officers and members were present.

After hearing the report of the Secretary, Mrs. George B. Redding, the Treasurer's report was read by Miss Helen Munroe and the Staff report given by Mrs. Wiklund. Mrs. Browne called upon the chairmen of committees. The past month proved to have been a busy one for all.

Mrs. James Willing, chairman of the Education Committee, suggested several magazine articles and books now in the library, which she felt would be very much worth while to read. She then introduced Mrs. Robert Richardson, a staff member, who has been taking a course at Boston University since September. The subject which Mrs. Richardson chose to talk about was, "Psychosomatic Aspects of Illness." The paper which she had prepared proved to be both interesting and informative, evoking many questions and some discussion. The meeting adjourned at 11:15.

At 12:30 twenty-eight members of the Board and Staff gathered at the home of Mrs. Russell Symmes, 233 Main street, to pay tribute to Mrs. Browne, who is retiring from the Board after serving three years as president.

Each member had contributed to the delicious buffet luncheon planned by Mrs. Guy Livingstone and Miss Helen Munroe. Mrs. Walter Keyes and Mrs. Alvan Smith assisted with the serving and Mrs. James Russell, an honorary member of the W. D. N. A. poured.

At the close of the luncheon, Mrs. Livingstone presented Mrs. Browne with a beautiful black calf handbag, a gift from the Board, at the same time expressing the appreciation of all those who have served with her for her fine and able leadership. She has done a great deal for Winchester's District Nursing Association.

Others who helped to make the affair so delightful were: Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, Mrs. Allan Buros, Mrs. Roland Carter, Mrs. Ernest Clark, Mrs. George Connor, Mrs. Arthur Hertig, Mrs. Clarence Luitwieler, Mrs. Daniel McLaughlin, Jr., Mrs. Miller E. Miller, Mrs. Sanford Moses, Mrs. Harry Mueller, Mrs. Rowland Patrick, Miss Alice Petersen, Mrs. Milton Quinn, Mrs. George B. Redding, Mrs. Robert Richardson, Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, Mrs. Thomas Walsh, Mrs. Walfred Wiklund, Mrs. James Willing, Mrs. Donald Wright and Mrs. Ronald Wyman.

ANTONIO J. TAMBONE

WINCHESTER MAN'S STORY INSPIRING

Oldsters who read the story of Antonio J. Tambone of 68 Wedgemere avenue, successful contractor and realtor, will find the achievement of this immigrant son of Italy reminiscent of the old Horatio Alger heroes who rose from rags to riches through intelligence and hard work.

Mr. Tambone's story is as thrilling and inspirational as any conceived by Mr. Alger. Born February 10, 1921, in Mineo, in the Province of Catania, Italy, he came with his parents to this country at the age of three months, settling in New York.

There at the age of six he started to learn the trade of his father, a plasterer, working with his father as a water boy. After a few years in New York he and his family moved to Chelsea, where Mr. Tambone went to grade school and at the age of 12 became apprenticed to a barber, working after school and Saturdays at the munificent wage of 25c per week.

Later he worked in a grocery store part time and still later, at the age of 14, as a milkman's helper and assistant to a fruit and vegetable peddler.

When he was 16 he returned to his father's trade and gradually got small jobs to do on his own, saving his money and accumulating several hundred dollars during his high school days.

While in Chelsea High School Mr. Tambone became interested in building construction, and following his graduation in 1939, he took a course of evening study in architecture and construction at Northeastern University. At the age of 17, while working as a plasterer for his father, he drew his first plans for a house, which so impressed a builder that he actually constructed a house at Beverly Farms based on this first "Tambone House Plan."

Encouraged by this initial success, Mr. Tambone continued his studies at Northeastern and in 1941, at the age of 20, while still at college, he bought his first piece of ground and erected his first house in Medford.

World War II interrupted his plans for the future and sent him into the famous See Bees, where he added to his engineering and contracting experience by constructing a rifle range in Virginia and air fields and shelters in the Aleutians.

After his discharge from the Navy and two years employment with Boston engineering firms, Mr. Tambone re-entered the construction field on a full-time basis. It is of local interest that the second home he built, the first after his return to home construction, was in Winchester.

In 1947 Mr. Tambone married Alma V. Soracco of Dorchester, and with his wife moved to Winchester, living then on Alden Lane. They now have three sons and a daughter; Anthony, 6; Robert, 4; Richard, 2; and Mary Virginia, 4 months.

Mr. Tambone's first planned community of houses was erected in Winchester in the Alden Lane section of the town. It was at this time, 1947-48, that Mr. Tambone's younger brother, Salvatore, joined the firm, now known as the Massachusetts Builders, Inc., to take charge of field operations. Mr. Tambone, the founder of the business, served as president and general manager.

The tragic death of Salvatore Tambone removed him from the firm in 1952 and his loss was deeply felt. In 1948-49 the company commenced in Peabody operations that resulted in the construction of hundreds of homes in the North Shore area. Others were built in Woburn, Reading and Burlington. The firm prospered and expanded and a suite of offices was opened in Malden Square.

In 1952 the A. J. Tambone, Inc., Realtors, was founded to handle the brokerage and appraisal work of the Massachusetts Builders, Inc. Today it also handles sales of other developments for other builders, assisting them in financing, supervision and appraisals.

In the early part of 1954, the firm, having outgrown its former quarters, established a new business home at 88 Main street in Reading, comprising a beautiful strictly modern office building with a separate area at the rear for storage, equipment and repairs.

Mr. Tambone is a member of the State Association of Massachusetts Architects, and the Home Builders of Greater Boston, as well as a member of the board of directors, and of the Massachusetts Real Estate Association. He belongs to the Elks and St. Mary's Holy Name Society, and in 1945 he was service vice commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Medford. He is also a member of the Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors, a member of the American Legion in Medford and the National Association of Home Builders.

Patrolman and Mrs. James E. Farrell have been spending a week in and around Littleton, N. H., but postcards received from "Dukes" make no reference to any skiing activity on the part of either him or his wife while they have been in the winter sports country.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

As we have been hearing and reading so much lately, this is a vital year for polio, a year to find out just how much can be done to prevent this dread disease. In the meantime, the thousands already afflicted need your help.

As always, the Lions Club of Winchester is ready to do its part at this time. With the cooperation of Mr. Jay Finn, the manager of the Winchester Theatre, the club will present a special kiddies' show to aid the polio fund.

The program, arranged by Mr. Finn, will be a two and one-half hour show, consisting of ten cartoons and the pre-release film, "The Adventures of Robin Hood."

This event will take place Saturday morning, January 29th, at 10:00 a. m. So come on, Kids, gather your dimes together for the "March of Dimes." Help some other boys and girls learn to walk to the theatre, just as you and your friends love to do.

CUB PACK 3

The regular pack meeting was held Monday evening, January 17 at the First Congregational Church Hall with candle-light service and the giving of awards.

Recipients of those awards were: Robert Gowdy, Thomas Bateman, Ned Harrington, David Taylor, Kenneth Forte, John Giger, Robert Newton, James Reid, Billy Herron, Rudy Giger, Christopher St. Jean, Thomas Salter, Barry Johnson, Ed Merriam, and Peter Buros.

The concluding attraction was a splendid performance by a young magician.

At the meeting it was announced that through the generosity of Mr. Brown, general manager of the Boston Garden, and also that of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Logan, the members of Cub Pack 3, their parents, brothers and sisters have been invited as guests of the Boston Garden to attend the basketball game between the Boston Celtics and Philadelphia on Sunday, January 23, game starting at 2:30 p. m. All cub scouts should wear their uniforms. For further details as to starting time, transportation, etc., cubs scouts should consult their den mothers .

ADVERTISE IN THE STAR

PINK, BLUE OR GRAY!

These are the colors a mother usually chooses for her baby's clothes.

But in homes and hospitals across our land, there are babies "clad" in gray. They are in iron lungs—mere infants whose limbs can neither kick or crawl. They are the small unfortunates who haye been stricken with respiratory paralysis.

Because polio strikes oftenest at the young, mothers throughout America join hands once a year to fight this terrible disease through the Mothers' March on Polio.

Thursday night, January 27, beginning at 7:00 some volunteers will visit the homes of their neighbors for contributions to the March of Dimes. They will stop at those houses whose occupants indicate, by a porchlight or lamp or candle in the front window, that they wish to give.

This newspaper urges its readers to "turn on your lights" Thursday night and support the Mothers' March on Polio.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON FASHION SHOW

Spring will make an early appearance in Winchester this year when on Wednesday, February 16, Mr. Paul Alexander Ross of Ross Modes, Newton Centre, will present a preview of spring fashions by noted fashion designers.

The affair, which has become an eagerly anticipated event in Winchester, is sponsored by the Senior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League, and is this year in the able hands of Miss Helen Niedringhaus, ways and means chairman.

She and her committee are busy calling members to ask for the luscious desserts, from which guests may choose at the coffee hour which begins at 1:15 and precedes the fashion show.

The ticket committee expects to have the tickets available soon, and posters for "Fashions of 1955" will soon be seen about town reminding all to save the date of Wednesday, February 16, for a most enjoyable afternoon of food, fun and fashions.

"THE COLONIAL DRUMMER BOY"

"The Colonial Drummer Boy" comes to Winchester for entertainment of the younger set on Thursday, February 10, 3:30 p. m., at the Winchester Theatre.

This three-act play, produced by the Salome Gaynor Theatre for Children, portrays an incident which could have happened in the Colonists' brave struggle for freedom. A happy combination of make believe and might have been, with an authentic but little-known bit of history, makes this unusual play an exciting experience for children.

Enacted by a New York cast of experienced adult actors, the production offers "live" entertainment which is good theatre.

"The Colonial Drummer Boy" is sponsored here by the Winchester Mothers' Association. Announcements brought home by your children will tell you the days tickets will be available in your grade schools. Ticket price is 50c and because seating capacity at the Winchester Theatre is limited, purchase your tickets as soon as possible. If you fail to get your tickets at the schools, contact Mrs. Roland Hanson, 27 Prince avenue, telephone WInchester 6-0603-M.

MORNING COFFEE AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

On Tuesday, January 18th, at 9:45 a. m. the George Washington School Mothers' Association held a morning coffee and following this presented Mrs. Gladys Romeyn who gave an inspiring talk about "The Fruits of your Rooftree."

"Under the spreading rooftree each woman of us stands" was her paraphrase of the famous poem. She discussed the three different kinds of fruit our rooftrees should yield if we tend them: work, play, and service. Work she likened to barrels of elbow grease and said the secret to it is love, play she compared to bonbons, and service to nuts to crack.

IMPORTANT MYSTIC MEETING

The Mystic School Mothers' Association has called a special meeting of parents at Mystic School to hear Civilian Defense officials explain plans for the evacuation of children. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 25, at 8:00 p. m. in the Mystic School auditorium.

Because of the complexity of this problem, it is urged that as many parents as possible, both mothers and fathers, plan to attend, so that they may learn at first hand of present plans for their children's safety in the event of attack.

WITH 3rd INFANTRY

Private Anthony C. Barbaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony C. Barbaro of Lebanon street and grandson of James V. Barbaro of Salem street, has recently joined the 3rd Infantry Regiment with headquarters at Fort Myer, Virginia.

Members of the 3rd Infantry are carefully selected by screening thousands of soldiers and choosing those who possess outstanding mental, moral and physical qualifications. Private Barbaro has been chosen to participate as an honor guard.

The Junior Red Cross Program, operating in schools throughout the country plays an important role in preparing youth for the responsibilities it must one day assume. The organization is actually an expansion of the adult body to include a junior membership. It develops its programs of service to others under the direction of teachers in the schools. This past year the American Junior Red Cross sent gifts of reconstruction and relief supplies to the children of Korea. Among them were a thousand school hits containing tools, books, pads, and pencils, first aid and health items, and classroom equipment. This is one of the ways Junior Red Cross members recognize the problems and needs of the youth of other lands.

In Winchester each school carries on a program of Junior Red Cross work with a high percentage of students becoming members. This year, as has been true for the past several years, the Winchester High School reports 100% membership. Anne Marks is president of the high school's chapter of the Junior Red Cross. Dell Mitchell is vice president; Jill Sibley is secretary; and Bill Mason is treasurer. This group plans a special project for each month of the year. The Veterans' Hospital at Bedford is the recipient of many of their services. Before Christmas they sent records and Christmas cards to the veterans. This month they have contributed fifty dollars to the United Childrens' Fund, which helps children in disaster and trouble stricken areas all over the world. All local school children contribute to this fund through their Red Cross membership. Elementary school children in Winchester also assume responsibility for supplying nut cups and favors for the holidays for the various hospitals and the Home for the Aged.

It is with great pride that we report this work of our young people in the service for others.

THE TEEN SCENE

by Carol Ashenden

Have you seen Roger Hauck's pink bucks? He wouldn't be trying to steal the spotlight away from Eunice Maietta's multi-colored Keds would he? What are they going to think up next? Plaid loafers?

Winchester defeated Lexington here last Tuesday afternoon 71-47. The score for the JV game was 71-40. The team went over to Wakefield on Friday evening and came away still undefeated. Wakefield was the loser by a score of 84-54 for the varsity and 63-44 for the JV's.

Quite a few of the high school girls participated in the March of Dimes tag day last Saturday.

Girls' basketball got under way last Thursday. The varsity didn't do so well and lost the opener, 18-15, against the girls from Lexington. The JV team came through great though, with Alice Fitzgerald leading the scoring for a 40-18 victory! The double session has crowded the girls out of the gym after school, forcing them to hold their practices in the Town Hall.

I received a letter from Judy Moller who moved to Jacksonville, Florida, just after Thanskgiving. She inclosed the following note to "the girls."

Dear Girls:

Many thanks for the wonderful party you gave me and especially for the beautiful piece of luggage. It will be a cherished thought always.

Love to all,
Judy Moller

Judy may be nice and warm down there in Florida, but I wouldn't miss the terrific skating we've been enjoying around here for the past few weeks! Would you?

The hockey team defeated Daners 5-4 and Swampscott 4-3, although on Monday they dropped the long postponed game with Middlesex 4-1.

Is there anyone in town who doesn't have a cold?

Those mid-year exams are really getting too close for comfort!

JUNIOR HIGH ART WORK ON EXHIBITION

Currently on view in the office of the superintendent of schools are several water-color paintings from the art classes of the junior high school. Covering a wide range of subjects, the exhibition shows that the youngsters are growing in their ability to handle brush and water color and to express their reactions to the world about them.

Marcia Smith contributes a painting of a spirited horse taking a high jump. From Charles Simpson ond Richard Elliot come colorful views of forest fires. Joan Dignam's "Wednesday After Labor Day" shows children returning to school. Jean Rae chose to depict trees bending before the hurricane.

PATENT TO NILES

George E. Niles of 11 Madison avenue West was the recipient on December 28, 1954, of U. S. Patent No. 2,698,264, entitled "Treatment of Textile Materials."

It has been a common practice to treat yarns and fabrics with starch solutions in order to impart a relatively stiff finish to them. However, these starched materials do not retain their stiffened character after mild washings and may even lose it after a single washing. Thus it is the object of Mr. Niles' invention to overcome this limitation.

In other words, he has discovered that a substantially permanent stiffened finish, which cannot be appreciably removed by ordinary washing operations, may be obtained by first dipping the fabric in, or spraying it with, certain "styrenemaleic anhydride" compositions and then treating it with a dilute solution of a metal salt. This process is applicable to fabrics made of cotton, rayon, nylon, glass, linen, flax, hemp, wool and silk, and also to those containing mixtures or blends of these materials. It is advantageous for the treatment of yarns, for it improves their tensile strength and increases their resistance to abrasion, with the result that the weaving operation is facilitated. It may be applied advantageously to fibers at any stage of their processing prior to spinning; and yarns prepared from them may readily be woven. In addition, it may be employed to treat fibers that are to be used in the manufacture, for example, of non woven fabrics or cotton batting.

In his patent specifications, Mr. Niles describes in detail the method of preparing his textile stiffening compositions, listing the ingredients that may be employed and the percentages thereof that may be used to obtain satisfactory results. He also cites a number of examples of the practice of his invention wherein the treated fabrics had a stiff finish and were resistant to washing or laundering.

This patent has been assigned to Monsanto Chemical Company.

His work at the present will be largely concerned with the 450-bed addition which is under construction at the Memphis Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Roop is a graduate of the local high school and of Bucknell University. He has done graduate study at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He served as plant engineer of the New England Medical Center from 1952 until July of last year.

"RUG OF CIVILIZATION"

RUG OF CIVILIZATION

At the show-rooms of Koko Boodakian and Sons, dealers in Oriental and other fine rugs, at 14 Lochwan street in the North End, there is now on display the great "Rug of Civilization" made 75 years ago in anticipation of the coming of a youthful Sultan of Persia, Ahmed Kajar, and hailed by experts everywhere as even the peer of the million dollar "Holy Carpet of Ardible."

Harry P. Burroughs, Boston connoisseur, acquired the rug at an auction in New York and brought it to Boston in the early spring of 1927. Mr. Boodakian got the rug from the Burroughs family in 1954, and showed it recently at a meeting of Winchester Rotary.

The story of the rug is an interesting one. Before the birth of the Persian Shah, Ahmed Kajar, a fanatical and intensely religious people had prayed for years for the coming of a hero.

Some unknown genius of the time conceived the idea of weaving a rug to represent the progress of civilization in the world, which would have been but a prologue to the splendid rule of the long hoped for sultan.

Without doubt twelve or more men worked continuously for more than 10 years to complete this rug masterpiece. Into it are woven 165 world famous characters, representing the dominent figures of civilization; founders of religions and cities, warriors, teachers, philosophers and historians, including Christ, Moses, Confucius, Socrates, Mohammed; and representing the western hemisphere, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Napoleon, and Christopher Columbus.

Woven in Arabic about the rug are the fine words, "Long Live the Names of the Great and Magnanimous of the World."

Since the work of all these paladins of history was to be merely a setting for the wonders to be accomplished by the youthful Shah, the artist who conceived the rug and his workmen made the likeness of the young ruler the largest and finest portrait of all those shown, enclosing it in its own frame, around which were woven the words, "The blessed likeness of the youthful Shah, the high and noble sovereign, his holy majesty, Sultan Ahmed Kajar, may his life be forever prolonged."

There are in the Rug of Civilization 36,288 knots and 2,000 stitches to the square inch. The inner circle in the center of the rug depicts the Christian World, with the outer circle, the barbarian world. Most remarkable are the likenesses of the various characters depicted.

The rug was completed in time to present to the youthful Shah at his coronation, but the high hopes it expressed were never realized, for the young monarch, reared in a western culture in Paris, cared more for the pleasures of his life there than for heading a nation, and in the end was repudiated by his people, returning to Paris with his "Rug of Civilization" and the Mogul diamond.

After wasting his fortune he sacrified the rug, which finally came into the possession of the late Topakyan, former imperial Persian consul-general, who added to what was then known as the greatest collection of rugs in America. Upon Topakyan's death Harry E. Burroughs acquired the rug.

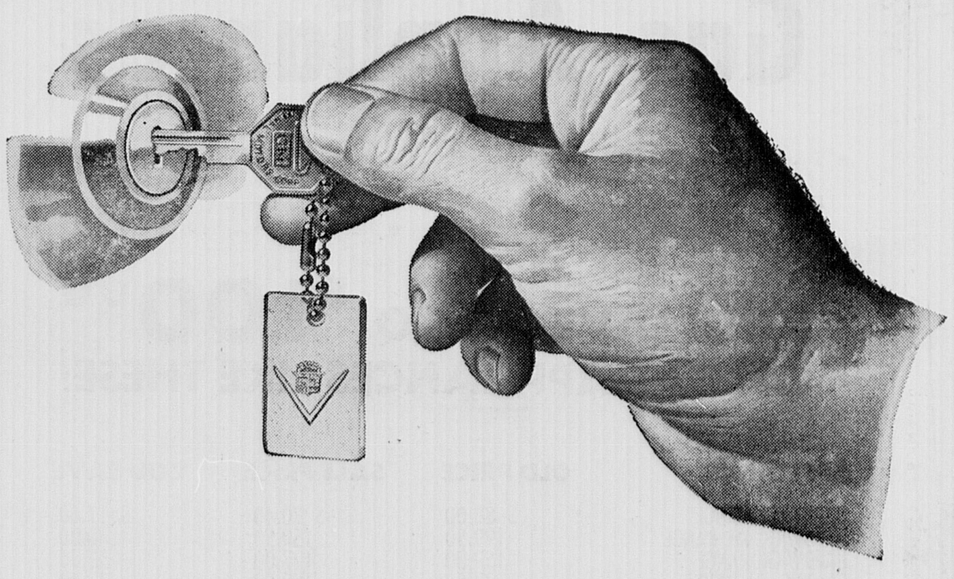

Dickran P. Chutjian, an Armenian rug expert, once said of the rug, "There is no other rug in existence to compare with the Masterpiece rug," as the Rug of Civilization is often called. Mr. Chutjian also said "A greater artist made this than made the famous Gobelin tapestries."

Only a great genius could have conceived a design so intricate, and executed it so skillfully. The texture is beautifully soft and fine, the stitch unique.

The beauty of the "Rug of Civilization" appeals not only to connoisseurs, but to the rank and file of men. The rug must be very carefully handled for the peculiar stitch used in the weaving is now a lost art and the rug can not be repaired if it is damaged.

Mr. Boodakian and his sons are receiving many invitations to show the rug to organizations, and wish through the Star to invite any interested to see this great weaving masterpiece at their showrooms.

Cadillac

A Great Discovery Is About to Be Made!

The hand you see here is about to turn the ignition key in a new 1955 Cadillac.

It is the hand of a man who has never driven a Cadillac before—but who finally decided to see for himself if all the wonderful things he's heard about the car are true.

Well, he's about to make an important discovery! He's about to learn that, in 1955, Cadillac actually surpasses its own great reputation!

He'll sense it the instant he turns the key—and hears the eager answer of that 250-horsepower Cadillac engine.

He'll sense it again when he touches his foot to the accelerator—and brings that dynamic engine into action. It will set him instantly in motion—and will carry him forward with a surge of power that is a revelation all in itself.

And then—out on the open road—the full proof of Cadillac's greatness will begin to unfold itself!

He'll discover its incredible ease of steering and handling—so marvelous that the car seems almost to read his mind.

He'll discover its amazing levelness of ride—so great that even the road's roughest spots are difficult to perceive.

He'll discover its marvelous balance on the curves and corners—its incredible quietness of operation—its extraordinary agility in the traffic lanes—and the reassuring action of its big, powerful brakes.

And so it will go—mile after mile—and revelation after revelation—until the discovery is complete... and the drive is ended.

And even then, one final, confirming fact will await him. For he will find that his travel has scarcely moved the needle on the fuel indicator!

Yes, the evidence will be abundant—and the verdict without question: This is the greatest motor car performance of all time!

If you haven't as yet taken a drive in a 1955 Cadillac, you ought to do so soon.

It's an education in all the things a motor car should be and do—and you owe it to yourself to get the report firsthand.

Stop in soon, won't you? We'll be most happy to give you the keys—any time!

MECHANICAL "BRAINS" SIFT POLIO FACTS AND FIGURES

Some time this spring a man in Michigan will enter the first of a long series of small cards, punched full of cryptic little holes, into a big gray machine. When all the cards have been processed, he will be the first to know whether children everywhere may be free from the threat of polio.

This man, world-famous epidemiologist Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., is now directing an exhaustive analysis of the data being collected at the University of Michigan from 217 trial areas in 44 states where the famous polio vaccine trials of 1954 were held.

The Francis Report, when it comes, will be a distillation of some 144 million facts about those tests. It may tell us that the new vaccine is successful — that poliomyelitis may soon become, like cholera or the bubonic plague, a dark thing of the past. Or it may say more research is needed before we are rid of paralytic polio.

The mechanical gadget he'll use is called a punch-card tabulator. Its role in these tests is a dramatic one. But others like it, operating in universities all over the country and at headquarters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, have helped in an equally vital if undramatic way to boost this machine into the limelight in the continuing war on polio.

Complex Fact-Finding

The men and machines assigned to this painstaking task are part of a complex fact-finding organization financed by the March of Dimes. Without them, we might still be stumbling around in the dark—tilting at windmills, desperately seeking highly elusive answers to questions about the who, what, where, why of polio prevention and treatment. For facts are weapons; without them no war is won.

The task set for these men and machines is a formidable one. The job of fact-gathering is itself enormous. Part of the job—and only a part—is to keep tabs on every polio patient, everywhere in the country: his age, sex, diagnosis, progress, when he got polio, how long he's had it—everything about him with the possible exception of how he likes his eggs.

From these facts, vital patterns emerge—patterns that can provide the answers science must have to fight the war.

74,000 Patients Forecast

They show, for instance, that over the years there has been a constant build-up of the number of Americans now suffering from the effects of polio. They warn that the National Foundation, at the present rate, may expect requests for financial assistance from some 74,000 polio patients in 1955—of whom perhaps 24,000 will be new cases. This latter represents six out of every 10 persons stricken during a year.

They help forecast—as much as it can be forecast—the pattern of polio incidence: where it may strike, and when, and whom. For example, recent figures indicate that polio is increasing among adults who are 20 and over. These facts help to decide where aid is needed most—where regional respiratory centers should be set up in relation to existing polio facilities; where equipment depots must be established to speed iron lungs, rocking beds and other polio-fighting weapons to new fronts. Thus they show the way to better patient care.

By keeping in close-touch with hospitals, these fact-finders can estimate what the current polio situation is, at any moment. Through a careful system of 30 day checks on each patient, they know that polio patients stay in hospitals longer; that more people are being treated with better results than ever before.

Keep Track of Funds

And they help show, too, how much all this will cost. For—of equally vital import to the public—they keep meticulous track of the funds contributed to the polio fight through the annual January fund raising campaign.

They help the National Foundation police these funds with militancy; keep detailed hospital records, make comparative studies of hospital rates, record and examine all expenditures. They guide the National Foundation in its financial planning and preparation for each new polio offensive, by suggesting how these funds may best be used.

The big gray machines keep track of all this—and more—by punching little holes in cards. It takes great skill to read and use these little cards effectively—but the National Foundation and its fact-finders have that skill.

ELECTED TO DARTMOUTH FRAT

ASKS STUDY OF COMMUTER PROBLEM

Taking sharp issue with critics who have disparaged the road's managerial efforts of the last twenty years, President Timothy G. Sughrue of the Boston and Maine Railroad yesterday offered "complete access to our records, statistics or anything else which will aid them in their study of New England's transportation problems," to the Governors of the six states and to the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sughrue said the B. & M.'s offer of "complete candor with any authorized investigating committee of city or state" includes the Transportation Study Committee to be appointed by the six governors, and also the Special Committee of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce. He added that our B. & M. people are experienced in modern methods of transportation and any of our personnel will be available to spend as much time as is necessary to aid either Committee in completing their important tasks."

In an interview with newsmen, the Boston and Maine president said, "it is our hope, in addition to a thorough search into the questions of what is best for Boston transportation - wise, particularly the activities of the port, that the Chamber Committee will also include in its study and its report, a what-to-do about the serious problem of commuter transportation which besets the future prosperity of the entire Greater Boston area."

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly will be held on Monday, January 24, at 2 p. m. in the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church.

The very popular speaker and book reviewer, Mrs. Marion T. Rudkin, will speak on "Books in Brief," and her many friends will welcome the opportunity to hear her again.

The tickets of Federated Clubs will not be honored but the meeting will be open to guests and the public. See details in Coming Events.

Please remember to bring gifts for the women patients at Bedford.

WINS SALES HONOR

Richard L. Emerson of 75 Pond street, Winchester, representative of Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, has been awarded first place honors in the company's field force of over 650 agents across the nation. Honors are based on 1954 sales and services to policyholders. A member of the Boston Agency, Mr. Emerson will be one of the twelve leading agents attending a two day Executive Field Underwriters conference on January 17 and 18 at the Phoenix Mutual's home office in Hartford, Connecticut.

Out of approximately 14,000 bills introduced in the 83rd Congress, 461 affected the coal industry, but only 3 became law.

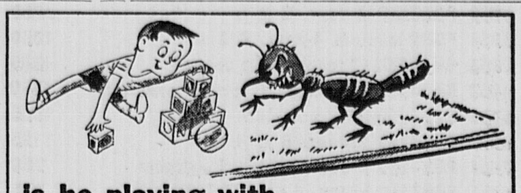

Generation of electricity by coal in Illinois steam plants rose 8 per cent in 1953 over 1952. The 45 plants consumed 81% coal last year, 73% in 1952.

WINCHESTER CHOSEN FOR "CAESAR" SHOWING

This town has been selected by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures as one of the first localities of its size to see the famous production of "Julius Caesar," according to announcement today by Manager Jay Finn of the Winchester Theatre. This much-honored picture, which is having such tremendous success in the larger cities, will open a special 4-day engagement, on January 19-22.

"Julius Caesar" is creating a sensation in show business because it is the first Shakespearean movie that has become a popular, mass-appeal box-office hit. Being a rip-roaring story of mob violence, assassination, intrigue and the overthrow of a dictator, this Shakespearean film has exciting entertainment qualities. This, together with the notable cast, Marlon Brando, James Mason, John Gielgud, Deborah Kerr, Greer Garson, Louis Calhern and Edmund O'Brien, has lifted "Julius Caesar" out of the classical category into a popular movie.

The Winchester Theatre is arranging a special discount coupon for use of high school and college students. Enquire about this at the box office.

"Julius Caesar" already has become "Hollywood's most honored picture." It was awarded "best picture of the year" honors by the National Board of Review, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the N. J. Association of Teachers of English and many other groups. The British Film Academy awarded its "Oscars" to Brando (Mark Antony) and to Gielgud (Cassius) for their wonderful performances.

ROTARY NOTES

Mrs. Howard Aiken, president of the Winchester League of Women Voters, spoke to the club at its regular luncheon meeting in Masonic Apartments last Thursday, explaining the aims of the League and how it functions, especially with reference to the study of political issues by the League. The League does not officially back party issues or political candidates.

Rotarians were especially interested in Mrs. Aiken's announcement that the Winchester League has undertaken a study of our own town government, soon to appear in booklet form under the title, "This Is Winchester."

Dr. Harry E. Gilson, superintendent of schools and a Winchester Rotarian, talked to his fellow club members yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting, taking as his subject the 1955-56 school budget.

TOWNLEY-TILSON NOW WITH C. H. SYMMES & CO.

Chandler W. Symmes takes pleasure in announcing that W. H. D. Townley-Tilson is now associated with him in business under the name of C. H. Symmes & Co.

This concern was founded by Charles H. Symmes in 1896 and at first was located in the Boston & Maine Freight Station situated on what is now Manchester Field. In 1905 the present property was acquired and the main part of the present building built. Mr. Symmes sold hay, grain, ice, and allied products and had the pleasure of supplying many of Winchester's old families.

Shortly before and during the first World War, Mr. Symmes associated with his brother, Irving L. Symmes, dealt heavily in Maine potatoes, supplying retail stores all over this area.

In 1923, his son, Chandler W. Symmes became associated with the concern. In the past 30 years many changes have been made. As the demand for grain and hay diminished the demand for other supplies increased. At present the concern handles a wide assortment of pet, garden supplies and paints in addition to feeds and farm supplies.

Three years ago an agreement was reached with the Wm. G. Scarlett & Co. of Baltimore to warehouse their complete line of lawn, field, wild bird and caged bird seed. All of their New England business is now handled from the C. H. Symmes & Co. warehouse on Main street.

On September 1, 1954, Mr. Townley-Tilson, who has been a resident of Winchester for more than thirty years, became associated with the concern.

A program of modernization was planned and is now complete. New merchandise is being added daily and an effort is being made to give to Winchester an attractive and unique store where items that are not available elsewhere can be had.

FIRE AT LLOYD STREET HOME

The alarm from Box 231 at 3:46 last Friday afternoon, was for a fire in the cellar of the home of Mr. Robert H. Sibley, Jr., 48 Lloyd street. The fire was confined to the cellar, but did some little damage there, charring part of the cellar timbers and damaging wiring. Heavy smoke went pretty much through the dwelling and it was necessary to use smoke ejectors so the firefighters could work. Fire authorities blamed children playing with matches for the fire.

Besides this fire there was a grass fire at 17 Brantwood road at 11:05 last Friday forenoon.

The Fire Department had two runs Saturday, both in the forenoon. At 7:32 a. m. there was a grass fire near 16 Madison avenue, and at 11:55 some old auto tires were set on fire on town land off Ridgeway. Incidentally the smell from this blaze was no attar of roses.

Sunday afternoon there were grass fires on Wendell street, and Glen road, and a brush fire on Bonad road. At 7:25 in the evening a short circuit in the wiring caused a fire in a dishwashing machine at the home of Mr. Charles Kees, 19 Franklin road.

Box 35 at 11:16 on Monday forenoon called the men to a 6½ hour fight with a fire at the town disposal area. Box 313 at 12:30 p. m. was for a grass fire on Tufts road, and later there were brush fires on Chardon road and Tufts road.

WINCHESTER BABE RUTH LEAGUE

On occasions during the past months many have read articles about providing wholesome amateur competition for boys in the teen age group. As reported in the Star last October, a meeting had been held at the home of T. L. Freeman and attended by several of our interested citizens with decision made to establish a Babe Ruth League. At another meeting last month at the Winchester Country Club officers were elected for the 1955 season, namely, Carl A. Morton, President; Theodore L. Freeman, Vice-President; Roderick S. Thomson, Treasurer and Robert W. Gray, Secretary; with John F. Gibbons, Chairman; Evander French and M. G. Moffett, Co-Chairmen of the financial committee. It was voted to apply for membership which has been granted by the Babe Ruth League Inc., Trenton, N. J.

In sponsoring this idea, we hope a great many will join with us and give whole-hearted support to a program that has no other motive except to do something for the much talked about teen age boys. What the Little League has done for the younger boys from the ages of 8 through 12, the Babe Ruth League will do for their older brothers, starting in to fill a void for the boys 13 through 15, who are not quite ready for American Legion or High School baseball. The program is not run in opposition to High School sports and wherever overlapping is permitted, boys play both in Babe Ruth League and for their Schools. The tremendous success, after only three years of operation speaks for itself. By next August some 800 registered leagues from 40 states and Canada will be competing for a berth in the Babe Ruth League annual "World Series" underwritten by The Coca-Cola Company as a public service who assumes all expenses. Last year's playoffs were held at Griffith Stadium, Washington, D. C.

The Winchester Babe Ruth League will have four uniformed teams. (15 boys to a team), consisting of 5 boys each in the 13, 14 and 15 year age group. Under proper leadership and close supervision this program seeks to teach a boy good sportsmanship, fair play, self respect and discipline, not forgetting what all teen age boys want most, through these important years, the right to belong. We need a lot of help to do the right job, including the sponsorship of teams, managers, umpires. We are hopeful all fathers and mothers of teen age boys will join with us. Call anyone of the names mentioned for further information.

If boys that are interested will mail a two cent postal card to Carl A. Morton, Box 126 Winchester giving just their name, address and date of birth (month, day, and year) they will receive additional information during the next two months.

VOL. LXXIV NO. 23 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1955 PRICE TEN CENTS

LeSAFFRE — LAETSCH

The Immaculate Conception Church was decorated with carnations and snapdragons on Saturday morning, January 22, for the marriage of Patricia Ann Laetsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Franklin Fuller of Sylvester avenue, to Robert Donald LeSaffre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. LeSaffre of Melrose. The pastor, Rev. Fr. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony and also was the celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Mrs. William McGann, organist, played the bridal music.

Given in marriage by Mr. Fuller, the bride wore a princess style dress of white unpolished satin, fashioned with an empire waist and a full train. Irish lace trimmed her gown at the neck and bodice, and she wore a fingertip-length veil held in place with a white satin cap trimmed with matching mink. Instead of a bouquet, she carried a white missal with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Sheila McGowan of Winchester was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Dolores LeSaffre and Miss Ann LeSaffre of Melrose, sisters of the bridegroom.

Miss McGowan wore a dress of emerald green, a princess style with a boat neckline and short sleeves. Her matching satin cap was trimmed with mink and she wore white gloves. Her flowers were pale pink roses arranged in a cascade bouquet and combined with deep pink carnations.

The bridesmaids wore pale green dresses with matching hats and carried cascade bouquets combining pale pink carnations with deep pink roses.

David McQuinn of Melrose was best man and ushering were Donald Boland of Melrose and John Hession of Winchester.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Town Line. Mrs. Fuller, mother of the bride, wore a Dior blue velvet dress with matching hat and shoes and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. LeSaffre, wore aqua organza and lace with a pink hat and pink camellia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. LeSaffre went to Sarasota, Fla., for their wedding journey.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of the Boston College School of Nursing. Mr. LeSaffre, a graduate of Melrose High School and Boston College, class of 1954, is now studying for his Master's degree at Boston College.

WINCHESTER BOY'S CARTOONS ON DISPLAY

"Gerry" Cirignano of 361 Washington street, whose football cartoons in the Winchester Star were so much enjoyed several years ago, and who more recently has been drawing for the Boston Globe and the Boston Pilot, Catholic Archdiocese newspaper, has had an exhibition this week of original sports cartoons at the gallery of the Vesper George School of Art, 44 St. Botolph street, Boston.

Many of the cartoons have been published in Boston and other newspapers, including the Winchester Star, Boston Globe, Boston Pilot, Stoneham Press, Hockey News and on sports program covers.

"Gerry," widely known and universally popular in his home town, became interested in art when he won a blue ribbon first prize in a school contest sponsored by the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

At Winchester High School he was a cartoonist for the school paper, the "Red and Black," and he continued his art work and interest in cartooning throughout his college career. He drew football cartoons for the Star as well as working part time for the Globe and Pilot, one of his popular Globe features being a series of "Schoolboy Stars," depicting top schoolboy athletes.

"Gerry's" cartoons are well drawn and his likenesses, excellent. While working at the Globe he got some invaluable assistance from the late Gene Mack of that paper, as fine a sports cartoonist as ever put pen on paper.

"Gerry" is still trying to improve his work and presently is attending advanced classes in the evening division of the Vesper George School of Art.

MRS. FRANCES SULLIVAN

Mrs. Frances Sullivan, widow of J. Chris Sullivan and a former long-time resident of Winchester, died Tuesday, January 25, at the Holy Ghost Hospital in Cambridge following a long illness at the age of 80.

Mrs. Sullivan was the daughter of Maurice, and Mary (English) Dempsey. She was born December 17, 1874, in Stoneham, but for 40 years made her home in Winchester at 41 Vine street. She was well known during her residence, especially in Elks and Emblem Club circles, having been a charter member of and especially active in the Winchester Emblem Club.

Mrs. Sullivan's late husband was for many years a barber, he and his brother, Robert H. Sullivan, conducting a barber shop for many years on what was then Railroad avenue, now Shore road. Mr. Sullivan died in 1923.

Mrs. Sullivan leaves a son, George W. Sullivan of Winchester.

The funeral was held yesterday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in the Sullivan lot in Calvary Cemetery.

BURGLAR CAPTURED

MAN FOUND IN GAS STATION HAD LONG RECORD

Veteran Patrolman Archie O'Connell and one of the younger officers, Patrolman Roland Roy surprised and captured a burglar shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Tydol Gas Station of Earl Rice at 955 Main street in the North End.

Officers O'Connell and Roy were trying doors in that neighborhood and while Officer Roy was at the Parker Lane Winn Fuel Company's plant, nearby, Officer O'Connell tried the door of the Rice station and found it ajar.

Pushing open the door, Officer O'Connell entered the dark station and as he did so saw something move behind the counter. Throwing his bullseye on the spot he found a colored man seated in a chair behind the counter, his head down between his knees in an effort to avoid being seen Officer O'Connell ordered him out with his hands up, and his order brought Officer Roy to the scene. Together they took the man to Headquarters where he was questioned by Lt. Edward W. O'Connell.

The man gave his name as Robert C. Grant, 22, of 16 Mt. Pleasant street, Woburn. Police say his real home is in Brockton, and also that he had been released from the Norfolk County House of Correction where he had been serving three years and 8½ months for a series of crimes committed in the Brockton area. Included are carrying dangerous weapons, assault, forgery and uttering, and numerous house and store breaks.

According to the police Grant admitted breaking into the Tydol Station to steal. Access was gained by ripping a screen from a rear window and breaking a pane of glass 24x24 in. Apparently the police got him before he had a chance to burglarize the station for only a small amount of money was found on his person, and he was unarmed.

Grant was questioned about breaks at the Aberjona Pharmacy and a nearby barber shop, but denied complicity. He was arraigned before Justice William Henchey in the District Court at Woburn Tuesday morning, charged with breaking and entering in the night time with intent to commit a felony. He was held in $5,000 double surety for appearance before the Grand Jury and in lieu of bail was remanded to jail.

WALKER — GRISWOLD

Miss Carol Ann Griswold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Griswold of 785 Main street, had her sister, Miss Ruth M. Griswold, as her honor attendant at her marriage to Mr. Harley Arthur Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walker of 30 Fountain avenue, Somerville, at the First Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, January 22. The pastor, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, read the 4 o'clock service in an attractive setting of cut flowers.

Miss Griswold was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white taffeta and lace with a nine foot train and a shoulder-length veil caught to a crown of seed pearls. Her flowers were white roses and carnations arranged in an old fashioned bride's bouquet.

Bridal attendants, in addition to the honor maid were Miss Lynda Carroll of Winchester, flower girl; Miss Kathleen Burgess of Somerville and Mrs. Muriel Dorrety, sister of the bridegroom.

The honor maid wore a full-length dress of blossom pink satin and tulle with a matching headpiece and a wrist corsage of American Beauty and pink roses tied with pink satin streamers.

The bridesmaids wore full length taffeta dresses with bustle backs and puff sleeves. One wore talisman and the other pale blue and each wore a headband of rose buds to match her dress. Both wore wrist corsages of pale blue and pink roses.

Mrs. Griswold, mother of the bride, was gowned in purple satin and gold and wore a gold net hat trimmed with orchid colored flowers and a corsage of yellow roses tied with purple ribbon. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Walker, wore a royal blue dress and matching hat with a corsage of yellow roses tied with light blue ribbon.

Arthur Walker, Jr., of Somerville was best man for his brother, and ushering were Kenneth Griswold, brother of the bride, and Joseph Horn. John Mortimer of Cambridge was ring-bearer.

After a wedding journey to an unannounced destination Mr. Walker and his bride will make their home at 6 Conn street in Woburn. The bridegroom is associated with the International Cooperage of this town.

MRS. VIOLET KRONQUIST

Mrs. Violet Kronquist, wife of Robert E. Kronquist of Charlestown, and a former Winchester girl, died January 19, at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital after a month's illness.

Mrs. Kronquist, the former Violet Foster, was born 49 years ago in Burlington, the daughter of Robert H., and Mary Ann Foster. As a child she lived in Woburn before coming to Winchester where she attended school and was well known among the young swimmers of the town. She had lived in Charlestown for the past seven years. She was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church in Woburn.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Kronquist leaves her father, two brothers, Robert H. Jr., of Winchester, and James Foster of New York City; also a sister, Mrs. Charles Sullivan of Woburn.

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at the Arthur P. Graham Funeral Home in Woburn with the Rev. Howard E. Lewis, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

HELD ZONING HEARING

The Planning Board held a public hearing on contemplated changes in the town Zoning Map Monday evening in the high school auditorium with Planning Board Chairman Ralph H. Bonnell emphasizing that the hearing was not a legal hearing, but rather of a preliminary nature called to enable the Board to get opinions on zoning changes which they may propose to the town for acceptance at the meeting in March. In response to questions Mr. Bonnell stated that in the event the Planning Board places articles in the warrant calling for any or all of the changes discussed Monday night a formal legal hearing would have to be called, and those directly affected by the changes would be notified in accordance with the law.

The attendance was disappointingly small, especially for so important a hearing, but those present showed a tendency to discuss the changes outlined, though aside from occasional indications, they got no statement from the Planning Board as to what its actual recommendations are to be.

Generally the discussion had to do with changes in presently established business, industrial and residence zones, changing one from the other in some instances, and clarifying or restricting certain zones in others.

In all there were fourteen proposed changes in the zoning map under discussion. Allan Benjamin, zoning authority and consultant to the Planning Board, was present to answer questions and give technical advice.

On Swanton street it was proposed to change from business to residence an area on the north side of the street to the east of the railroad tracks, the Planning Board feeling that in the foreseeable future there will be no need for any further business there and that the change will protect any homes that may be built in the newly designated area.

The change, if adopted, will take 1500 feet from a present business area of 2400 feet, and Mr. Bonnell explained that it is considered good planning to concentrate business in certain areas rather than permit it to spread along an entire street.

Business in that area is now largely concentrated at the corners of Florence and Swanton streets, and it is the Planning Board's feeling that it should remain there.

There was little expressed objection to this change, nor to another on the other side of the tracks on Swanton street, in this instance changing from industrial to business zoning.

A considerable portion of the hearing was devoted to discussing the proposal to change from industrial to general residence a strip of land east of the Boston & Maine tracks commencing at a point 200 feet north of Swanton street and extending to the Aberjona River.

The only owner of any of this property present at the meeting, Mr. Fitzgerald, proposed that his land, a parcel extending northerly 420 feet from the point 200 feet north of Swanton street and 300 feet wide be kept in the industrial zone and that the map be altered so that the 300 ft. width can be included.

Mr. Greer then proposed that the 300 foot strip be extended beyond the Fitzgerald property as far north as the river with an access way, excluding a part of the town-owned former Stone property at the rear of Tufts and Nathaniel roads.

Mr. Raphael, representing a group of Tufts and Nathaniel road residents, at first favored keeping the strip at 150 feet, but later seemed agreeable to the 300 foot strip provided a buffer be left between the industrial property and the houses on Tufts and Nathaniel roads.

JOHN MEAD

John Mead of 29 Hemingway street, for many years associated with the Winchester Laundry Division of the New England Laundries, died Friday, January 21, at his home after a long illness.

Mr. Mead was born in Halifax, N. S., October 22, 1873. He was educated in Halifax, coming to the United States as a young man and soon after settling in Winchester where he made his home for 50 years. During virtually all of that time he had been associated with the Winchester Laundry, entering its employ when it was an independent laundry and continuing when it became a part of the New England Laundries chain. He was a member of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and a former member of Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mr. Mead leaves his wife, Alice; a son, Franklin Mead of Woburn, a clerk at the Winchester Post-Office; a daughter, Mrs. Mabelle Golden of this town; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

PARKING HEARING HELD

About 75 persons, including a number of out-of-town residents who conduct businesses in Winchester, attended Tuesday evening's hearing on parking, called by the Planning Board and held at the high school auditorium.

Ralph H. Bonnell, chairman of the Planning Board, conducted the hearing, and in generalizing before considering the actual parking proposals, told those present that in approaching the parking problem the town needs first of all to decide whether a parking problem actually exists, and if so, how best to solve the problem, within the framework of accepted thinking by experts in the parking field, for the benefit of the entire town.

In consideration of the parking problem he asked his audience to consider the merchant's need for something like adequate parking within the distances that carefully conducted studies have indicated motorists will walk from a parking lot to shop. It is necessary, he said, for the town to decide whether it wants to help its merchants, who are asking for parking relief.

He also told of the ideal balance among residences, business and industry in any community and gave it as the opinion of quite a few interested in the problem that Winchester's lack of interest in business had upset to a certain degree the balance between business and residences to the detriment of business.

He asked the hearing to consider whether the towns wants a healthy business center, and if so, whether the merchant's need for adequate parking is not one of the important factors in contributing to such a condition. It is the Planning Board's thinking that Winchester has lagged behind other comparable communities in the matter of municipal parking and told of the attention the Board has been giving to the parking problem for several years.

He stressed the fact that it is not the Planning Board's province to sell the town parking. If the community's policy is to let parking take care of itself, then of course nothing should be done to provide parking relief.

If, however, it is the town's feeling that something approaching adequate parking is necessary for a healthy business center, and that a healthy business center is an asset in preserving the desirable balance between residences and business to provide tax relief, then his Board asked the hearing to consider certain proposals to increase parking at several spots in or near the center.

Mr. Bonnell stated that the construction of the overhead will cost the town 42 parking spaces permanently, and 277 spaces at one time or another during the construction period.

The first proposal discussed was the taking of all the property at the rear of the Fire Station, including the vacant Wilson lot and back to Park land on Shore road, also including the Central Hardware Building on Mt. Vernon street.

Mr. Bonnell said the property to be taken has an assessed valuation of $55,850.00 and that construction costs would add some $30,000; the new lot to provide accommodations for 232 additional cars at a cost of about $390 a car space. He told the hearing that acceptable walking distances for parkers ranged from 300 ft. for one hour parking to 750 feet for all day parking.

There seemed to be quite a bit of objection voiced to the taking of the land at the rear of the fire and police stations, especially that portion of it now occupied by homes and businesses.

Mr. Garvey questioned the advisability of access way leading from the proposed lot into busy Mt. Vernon street right beside the fire station and Mr. Mitchell felt that the big barn across from the police station should be taken before the town takes his home.

Mr. Hewis opposed the plan, stating it will add $2 to the tax rate of all property owners, at the estimated figures, which he considered far too low. The parking lot would bring no revenue into the town to replace that being lost by the takings involved, and the speaker felt that the merchants are making much of their own parking problem by utilizing themselves desirable parking space which should be left open for use of their prospective customers.

Both Mr. Hewis and Mr. Fish felt strongly the merchants should provide their own parking spaces, but Mr. Fish felt that they naturally would not do so as long as the taxpayers are willing to provide it for them.

The ladies are having a big time at the Nashua Women's Bonspiel. Three of our rinks are attending: Righter, Coulson, Reeves and Worthen, skip; Belcher, Stone, Saunders and Fessenden, skip; Farnsworth, Ingersoll, Weiant and Sheeran, skip. Two women's rinks are going to the Westchester Bonspiel at St. Andrews next week.

A schedule is now being made up for the Coulson Trophy, a handsome new trophy the exact duplicate of a Winchester Curling stone and to be contested for amongst the mixed curlers. Unless some absentees appear, the rinks will be as made up now for the "Second Competition." There are now 22 established mixed curling rinks. It will be the "Coulson Mixed Curling Bonspiel" and a play-down for the special pins that go with the trophy. Rinks that "don't show" or can't get substitutes will naturally have to forfeit in such a match. Tentative plans are to have this start Saturday, February 12th, though not to conflict with the men's district medal matches to be played at Winchester that week. Proper notices will be sent out to all skips, who will be responsible for their rinks.

Third-round matches of the men's round robin resulted as follows: Waghorne 11 vs Fessenden 4; Joy 11 vs Davis 5; Eaton 13 vs Carr 5; Lane 8 vs Dolben 5; Farnsworth 12 vs Bonnell 11; Scott 10 vs Butters 7; Ferguson 9 vs Neill 8; Garrity 12 vs King 11; Willing 9 vs Symmes 7; Siders 9 vs Morse 7; Eteson 10 vs Neiley 7; Stirling 9 vs K. Fulton 5.

Tuesday afternoon we had the pleasure of playing three rinks of the "Flying Prince Edward Island Curlers." They won two out of the three matches, though Winchester had the larger total score.

Final plans and the make-up of rinks to play the visiting Scotchmen on February 11 and 12, as well as the banquet at Winchester Friday evening, are about complete. A lot of our curlers will curl against them, as no Winchester man will curl more than once during the several matches we will play them.

One, or perhaps two, Winchester rinks will be at the Nashua Granite State Bonspiel on February 3, 4, 5 and 6. Rink No. 1 will be Righter, Scott, Morse and Lane, skip. The second rink is not sure yet, either for an invitation from Nashua or the personnel.

This week end Charley Waghorne, Geoff Neiley, Shorty Carr and John Joy, skip, will be at Hastings-on-Hudson (St. Andrews) for the New York Caledonian Centennial Bonspiel.

Built 61 years ago, and believed to be the first divided highway in Massachusetts, Savery's avenue, Carver, was built by wealthy William Savery as a project to relieve local unemployment. He gave the road to the town of Carver.

P. A. L. BASKETBALL

Paced by Fowler's 16 points, the Eagles beat the Pistons, 51-32, in the Police League basketball series at the Washington School, January 17.

The Capitals beat the Celtics, 42-33, in another game, with the Indians topping the Blackhawks, 44-39.

Bixler of the Blackhawks was the top scorer of the evening with 23 points, on 11 field goals and a foul basket.

AMICO ARMY GRADUATE

Army 2nd Lt. Paul F. Amico, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Amico, 334 Cross street, recently was graduated from the Infantry School's basic infantry officers course at Fort Benning, Ga.

Designed for officers who have not served with troops, the course gave him instruction in the tasks and problems of an infantry unit commander.

Lieutenant Amico is a 1954 graduate of the University of New Hampshire and a member of Theta Kappa Phi fraternity. At Winchester High he was captain of the football team and was one of the best fullbacks hereabouts, making the schoolboy all-star team that played a post-season game in Florida. He was also a member of the varsity eleven at New Hampshire until a severe shoulder injury forced him out of football.

W. H. S. BOYS' RIFLE TEAM

The Winchester High School Boys' Rifle Team had its first rifle match, Wednesday, January 19. The opponent was strong Watertown whose experience was too much for the locals who lost this first contest.

With only a few regulars on the team from last year, Mr. Aversa is quite pleased with the boys and has high hopes for future matches.

WINCHESTER 78, MELROSE 59

Shooting with tremendous accuracy from all over the floor the Winchester Indians downed a tall Melrose quintet 78-59 last Friday night at the high school gym.

The Sachems displayed an ability for good outside shooting as they hit for 49 percent of their floor shots. The five starters hit double figures as Jim Wright had 20, Lou Farrell 16, Charlie Stevens and Joe Bellino, 14, and John Lynch 10.

In the first period, led by Wright's 8 and Farrell's 6 points, the Indians held a 22-10 lead. Lou Farrell continued his sharpshooting in the second period and the Sachems were out in front 42-26 at the intermission.

The third period saw Melrose gain 2 points, but a five point loss in the last period gave Winchester a 19 point advantage at the final gun. During the last five games Jim Wright has been getting his eye on the basket and this game he really hit his stride.

Wright and John Lynch had 11 and 9 rebounds, respectively. Lou Farrell, along with turning in a fine performance in his shooting also led the team in assists with 6.

The Winchester Seconds triumphed again 63-39. High scorer was Mike Callahan with 14 points.

ADVERTISE IN THE STAR

S. O. I. BOWLING

On this frosty, wintery night, precisely at 7:00 p. m. the Candlepins were being splintered to reveal what was to be recorded and placed in our archives.

Surprises were plentiful as you will note as more records were broken this evening. At present let us see how they stand as the night ended.

Team Standings:

St. Mary's	10-2
California	8-4
Georgetown	8-4
Alabama	7-5
Boston College	5-7
Holy Cross	5-7
Notre Dame	5-7
Harvard	5-7
Yale	4-8
Bates	3-9
Hi Single: Jake Jacobellis	144
Hi Triple: Moose Bellino	367
Top Five Bowlers:
Moose Bellino	104.7
Tony Saraco	103.1
Jake Jacobellis	99.
Tony Chefalo	97.5

As the teams were adjusting their positions and changing individuals in their line-ups to their team's best advantage to gain a better standing, the jockeying was completely overshadowed by the tremendous struggle for supremacy between those stalwart gladiators, "Moose" Bellino and Tony Saraco. Youth again could not be denied, for with a "Molotov Cocktail," as only the "Moose" could serve he rose high on the average ladder and shattered the high triple with a 367 pinfall.

So again this average changes hands and so it will right down to the wire. It has been the greatest attraction ever offered by the S.O.I. bowlers in all their years of bowling.

Though defeated temporarily in certain departments, Tony still sets the pace in the 300 circle with 11. The boys who conquered the circle this week are:

Moose Bellino, 367; Tony Chefalo, 313; Hokie Procopio, 345; Babe Tofuri, 312; Tony Saraco, 325; Don Gattenieri, 306; and A. P. Tofuri, 303.

As bowling is utmost in our minds this time of the year, I read an article of interest in regards to bowling which I would like to pass along. This article appeared in a Boston newspaper a few weeks ago. It was as follows:

"A thirty-five year candlepin record for three years was broken by the Wind Team of the City Candlepin League in Brockton last night. The five-member team which has bowled duckpins for eight years switched to the small ball only this year to set the new mark of 1828 pins.

The previous record was 1814. It is believed to be a world record. The team members and their scores: George Klim, 399; Wally Lewis, 387; Al Pick, 371; John Kerr, 353; and Roscoe, 318." Isn't that something to write home about?

As I was ambling from one alley to another, I was attracted to a spectator in our midst. Momentarily I mistook him for a movie actor of "Moulin Rouge," famed Jose Ferrer, but on closer observation it was one of our well known cab drivers Skee Falzano.

We generally do not do any advertising but the president of the Star Lumber Co., who has recently gone into specialities in wood, and whose recent ingenious invention is the toothpick with a secret compartment for storing food particles, is in search of experienced salesmen in this particular field, to add to his well organized staff. His name needs no fanfare as he is world-renowned, Mr. Leroy Penta.

I don't ordinarily write about happenings at our club house, but anything pertaining to sports comes under this column.

The much publicized battle to the finish with four ounce gloves between Sammy "Tony Gallento" Bellino and Hokie "Father Time" Procopio scheduled for 3:00 p. m. Saturday, January 21st, terminated when Hokie couldn't lift his hands up from the weight of the gloves. A new contestant will be found for "Tony Gallento."

The raffle which has been so successful this year, continues to prosper, and with the help of the parakeets, was won by that name again, known throughout our land, Fiore! Which one? One of the parakeets endowed with great pulchritude, Gertrude Fiore.

HILLTOP NEWS

Next Monday evening, January 31, Wakefield comes to Winchester for an inter-lodge tournament at the Elks Home.

Winchester will observe its annual Past Exalted Rulers' Night on Tuesday, February 1, with an impressive list of former exalted rulers exemplifying the initiatory degree for a group of candidates.

Plans are nearly complete for the Valentine Dance the Lodge is sponsoring for Saturday evening, February 12. No pains are being spared to make this a real red letter occasion for Elks and their ladies.

Elks are reminded to save the date, Saturday, February 26, for the big Inter-Lodge Ladies' Night being held in Everett under the auspices of Everett Lodge.

RUTGERS-N. J. C. DINNER

Dr. Mason W. Gross, provost and professor of philosophy of Rutgers University, was the speaker at the combined Rutgers Alumni Club of New England and New Jersey College for Women Alumnae Club of Boston Dinner held on Monday, January 24, at the Wellesley Country Club.

Those who attended from Winchester were Mr. Charles P. Whitlock, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dane and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pratt. About sixty members and guests were present.

Douglass College will be the official name of New Jersey College for Women from April 16, 1955.

WINCHESTER OUTCLASSED CONCORD

Revenge was sweet as Winchester defeated Concord last Tuesday at the high school gym 71-51. This was hardly the game these same teams played last December 30. Winchester, led by the 18 point sharpshooting of Captain Jim Wright and Charlie Stevens, proved that it has improved greatly.

The Sachems led 18-11 at the end of the initial period and increased this to 40-23 at halftime. In the 3rd period the Indians cooled off a little and held at 48-35 lead at the three-quarter mark. However, in the 4th period they turned in their best quarter of the game, scoring 23 points, for their 8th straight league victory.

Besides Wright and Stevens, the only other player to hit double figures was Joe Bellino with 12. Big John Lynch had an off day as he only hit 2 field goals.

Off the boards, however, John gathered in 14 rebounds with Stevens next with 10 and Wright with 9. As usual, Joe Bellino and Lou Farrell were the top playmakers with 8 and 6 assists, respectively.

Working more on their slow break than the fast break the Indians committeed only 15 errors. The shooting percentage for the whole team from the floor was 44.9%.

Despite a close first half marked by poor Winchester shooting the J. V.s came back to win 67-44. High scorers were John Chapin with 14 and Mark Apsey with 10.

Tonight the Indians are at home to entertain the Reading quintet which provided some tough competition on their home court. But the Sachems have improved as shown by the 2nd Concord game and they should continue their victory streak in this tilt.

WHAT IS BENGALINE?

It's a closely woven fabric with a medium width rib running crosswise. The lengthwise yarns are very fine filaments made of:
- Rayon
- Acetate
- Nylon
- Silk

The crosswise yarns are heavier and made of separate fibers twisted together. One or more of these fibers may be used:
- Rayon
- Acetate
- Nylon
- Silk
- Cotton
- Wool

Shine develops on bengaline during wear in those areas subjected to rubbing, such as the seat or elbows. In many cases, we are able to improve the appearance of your garment with special handling.

Do bengaline garments clean well?
Many bengaline garments clean beautifully; but some shrink, perhaps not on the first cleaning, but on the second, third, or even fourth cleaning.

Why do some bengaline fabrics shrink?
If bengaline fabrics are not relaxed or stabilized when made in the textile mill, they will relax or shrink in cleaning. This shrinkage is less in drycleaning than in wetcleaning or home laundering.

It is impossible to predict the degree of shrinkage in this type of fabric before cleaning.

Appearance may sometimes be improved!
Your dark colored garments may take on a dulled or greyed appearance in wear and cleaning. In most cases, we can improve the appearance by special processing methods.

Remember . . . your cleaner is your clothes' best friend!

At Tuesday evening's parking hearing two of those present, one a town officer and native of the town, advocated using the Common, or a part of it, to help solve the growing parking problem in the center. The absence of any general demand to boil either, or both proponents in oil could mean that the feeling with regard to the use of the Common for parking has changed with the increasing urgency of finding a place for shoppers cars and the deterioration in appearance of the Common itself. The Planning Board said at the hearing in connection with taking homes and businesses in Winchester place and on Shore road that little can be done without hurting some one. The use of the Common for parking would undoubtedly cause real regret to many of the older residents who remember the Common as a beauty spot with a fountain and gold fish in the pool. As opposed to taking people's homes for parking, it would seem to be better to cause this regret. It is the Star's opinion right now at least that the town should use what land it has for parking as Mr. Elliott suggested. Committing ourselves too far in advance of the completion of the overhead and by-pass construction does not seem prudent. It seems to us parking on the Skillings property along the highway to be built there, and on the Common, is better than turning people out of their homes and business establishments. And of course the meeting Tuesday seemed agreed that the ideal solution is bridging the river south of Waterfield road. Cost is the factor there, but perhaps in the long run it may be better to assume the extra cost. At least the Planning Board should, and doubtless will, give serious consideration to this solution. Parking meters might of course help to defray this extra cost.

Being a town meeting member carries with it obligations beyond attendance at town meeting and voting on the various articles submitted to the precinct members in the annual and special town meeting warrants. Not all town meeting members fulfill even this much of their duty to the important office they hold, and very few, unfortunately, go at all beyond attendance at meetings. Town meeting members as such are not individuals. They represent their friends and neighbors who elect them to the limited town meeting sessions. Consequently they should not simply vote by snap judgment as they happen to feel about issues that arise. They owe it to their constituents, if not to themselves, to inform themselves on questions to be brought before the town meeting. To that end there is no better way to inform themselves than attendance at public hearings, called to discuss questions on which they will in all probability be called upon to vote. As a consequence it was little short of deplorable to see how few of our town meeting members were present at the two important hearings called by the Planning Board this week to discuss zoning changes and public parking, two really vital questions. Zoning is the life blood of any community, and parking facilities are little short of life blood for business these days. It would seem that a great many more town meeting members should have attended the sessions at the high school Monday and Tuesday. There will, of course, be addtional hearings on both zoning and parking and it is greatly to be hoped that town meeting members will watch for the dates of these hearing and attend. They owe it to themselves to be informed on these important issues but more than that, they owe it to those many persons in their respective precincts whom they are supposed to represent.

SERVICEMEN THANK HOMEFRONTERS

Editor of the Star:

These are a few of the many nice appreciation notes and greetings arriving from the boys in service to the "Homefronters," in response to the Christmas boxes mailed from S. S. Pierce to the 303 boys and girls in service.

I believe those on the Homefront in Winchester will be interested to read them and at the same time I want to take this opportunity to wish all the young people in service the very best in the New Year.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Cusack

Dear Homefronters:

It is a policy over here for all the men in our tent to share our Christmas packages with each other. So you see your package was very much appreciated. I hope when I get out next October, I'll be able to contribute to your worthy cause as it really means a lot to the men who aren't able to get home for the Christmas holidays.

Sincerely,
Cpl. W. P. Burtnett

Many thanks for the fine Christmas package. I enjoyed it very much, as well as many other boys in the Unit.

John F. Hogan

Thanks for the wonderful package and many best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to everyone connected with your wonderful organization.

Herbert J. Cleary, Jr.

It is little things such as the box which let us service men know we are not forgotten when away from home, as often the case with many towns and cities.

Thanking you again.

Sincerely,
Norman N. Dahl

I want to thank you very much for the gift box I received the other day from the Homefronters. All during the year, I'll think of Winchester as I use the calendar and will look forward to September when I'll be discharged. Thanks again for the gift.

Sincerely,
John D. Moore

Just a brief note to express my appreciation for your thoughtful Christmas remembrance. The candy, nuts, and potato sticks were greatly enjoyed by the occupants of my barracks!

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE

Editor of the Star:

The revolt of desperate criminals in the Charlestown State Prison has ended. The insurrection was admirably managed by officials of long experience in ministering to minds diseased. They made no promises or threats. Firmness, prolonged patience and a convincing exhibition of a determination not to yield to fear, extortion or weapons of offense, won for the prison officials a salutary victory.

The State is to blame for the revolt which resulted from its long neglect and failure to correct the unspeakable conditions that have existed in the prison for years. If the efforts of the Hon. Lewis Parkhurst to have the State clean up the inexcusable conditions in the prison had been heeded, there would have been no revolt. Many years ago Mr. Parkhurst revealed by voice and in print the shameful conditions existing at Charlestown, "the rat hole," including the "buckets parade" and pleaded for reform; all to no avail.

After years of inexcusable inaction the State finally condemned the hundred and fifty year old prison as unfit even for criminals and is now building at Norfolk one to take its place; but it is not ready for occupancy in the present emergency. When it is completed in the spring, the prisoners in the old jail will be transferred to it. The new penitentiary could have been built at the time Mr. Parkhurst first urged it for much less than its cost at the present time.

Winchester has honored Mr. Parkhurst for his multiple praiseworthy benefactions and philanthropies, by naming the new school on the western hill, the Parkhurst School, thus showing appreciation and esteem for a loyal and beloved citizen.

CAN'T SAY ENOUGH!

Editor of the Star:

Recently I spent some time as a patient at the Winchester Hospital. I wonder just how many people appreciate how fortunate we are in having such a well-equipped, efficient hospital as ours? Personally, I cannot say enough good things about it from every standpoint — staff, food, accommodations as well as the wonderful work of the Grey Ladies and Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Austin E. Nanry

We hope the same spirit will continue throughout the month, in particular during the Mothers' March, January 27th.

OFFICER MURRAY RETIRES

The Selectmen, at a recent meeting, accepted the resignation of Desk Officer John J. Murray from the Police Department to become effective February 5.

Officer Murray, who is presently on vacation, was born in Winchester in 1906. He attended St. Mary's School and Winchester High School, and before joining the Police Department was a chauffeur for Contractor George M. Bryne.

Officer Murray was appointed to the Police Department November 4, 1928. For the past nine years he has served as desk officer, before that being in a patrol car, and at one time serving as motorcycle Officer of the Department.

While on duty as a patrolman he captured a youthful auto thief at gun point being forced to shoot the youth when the latter pulled a gun on him. Always courteous and obliging, Officer Murray made many friends, who will learn of his departure from the force with regret.

"BAREFOOT CONTESSA" TO BE SHOWN HERE

(Short Advance)

Joseph L. Mankiewicz' latest film, "The Barefoot Contessa," is slated to open February 2, 3, 4, and 5 at the Winchester Theater. The picture, filmed in Technicolor, on locations in Italy, tells of the dramatic rise from obscurity to world-famed stardom of a dancer discovered in a Madrid night club. The picture stars Humphrey Bogart with his co-star, Ava Gardner in the title role. Others heading the impressive cast include Edmond O'Brien, Marius Goring, Elizabeth Sellars, Valentina Cortesa, Rossano Brazzi, Mari Aldon and Warren Stevens.

In addition to producing and directing the picture, Joseph L. Mankiewicz, four time Academy Award winner, also wrote the original screenplay.

Scotland Yard, probably the world's most famous police headquarters got its name because it stood until 1890 in a short and ancient street, where, in medieval times, the kings of Scotland stayed when they came to pay homage to the English crown. Their mansion later became part of the yard of Whitehall Palace—hence Scotland Yard, says the National Geographic Society.

Mr. Hewis pointed out the danger of permitting heavy trucks going to and from an industrial zone using the existing relatively narrow streets of the district, and felt a broad access highway should be a part of the new plan. He also felt that higher valuation on the land across the tracks from the proposed enlarged industrial zone might force its development, and added the thought that the old sand pit on East street could make desirable industrial property.

There was little discussion of the proposal to change from residence to industrial a small area on Cross street near the Calidyne plant, to the north of the plant and extending to the river. There was also little discussion of the proposal to cut down the existing business area on Cross street beyond the existing group of stores at the intersection of Forest street.

Still another proposed change would place in the residence zone an area north of the railroad tracks extending to Baldwin street, it being felt that this land is not practical for industrial use.

Another proposed change was the area at Russell road and Main street from business to industrial.

There was more discussion and some little opposition voiced to changing from business to residence the land along the westerly side of Main street from Sheridan Circle South to within one lot of Water street. Reason for this proposed change was the desirability of concentrating business in smaller areas and not permitting it to extend at will along an entire street.

It was also proposed to place in the industrial zone an area at the rear of the C. H. Symmes grain mill extending to Blind Bridge street.

There was some little discussion occasioned by the proposal to place all the land between the access highway through the Skillings estate and the center in the business district, including the land now occupied by the Central Harware Company and that to the rear of the Police and Fire Stations extending straight through to Shore road. This land is now in the residence zone and there are several homes on Winchester place and along Shore road.

In this connection Mr. Greer asked on behalf of the Christian Science Church about the parking plans for the Skillings Property, stating that the Church might not care to remain in its present location under certain parking conditions.

Mr. Bonnell refused to be drawn into a discussion of parking at that location or in connection with the proposal to change from residence to business an area of some 18,900 sq. ft. at the southeasterly corner Rangely. This is the area the Planning Board sought unsuccessfully to take for a parking lot two years ago, and though there was relatively little discussion of the proposed zoning change, Mr. Bixler said he felt it important to have a statement for the record that the residents of Rangely will oppose with every means at their disposal any attempt to change any part of Rangely from a residence to a business zone.

Mr. Garvey felt that much of the parking problem has been caused by out-of-town motorists who come to Winchester to shop at Filene's, this being particularly apparent at Christmas and on the nights when Filene's is open. He said that if Filene left town and was replaced by smaller businesses, the parking problem would be largely solved.

Mr. Hewis painted an extremely grim picture of the center during the construction of the overhead, and felt that the merchants would not need to worry about parking during the construction because few are going to brave conditions in the square to shop there. He felt strongly that no money should be expended to provide additional parking until the overhead and bypass are completed and we can see what conditions are going to be.

Mrs. Titilah asked Mr. Bonnell what is to become of the people who will lose their homes and businesses through the proposed construction of the parking lot, and also if due cognizance has been given to the loss in tax revenue that will result from this project. Mr. Bonnell replied that he knew the proposal would work a hardship on some, but should be considered in the light of providing the greatest good to the greatest number.

Mr. Elliott, in response to a question, did not feel that the assessors could raise a merchant's tax because of increased parking facilities and agreed with Mr. Hewis that it would be a good idea to wait and see what conditions will be after the construction of the overhead. He advocated utilizing space around the center that the town owns, such as the common, and also felt that parking meters would correct some of the problem.

Mr. Mouradian also had a good word to say for meters, finding that he can always get parking space in places where they are in use.

Mr. Bonnell asked the meeting to consider whether business can "take it" without relief of some kind until the construction in and around the square is completed. Mr. Parker felt the parking problem has been created by the overhead project and that nothing should be done to correct it until the overhead is completed, stating that any costs of providing parking in town have to be added to the town's expense for the overhead.

Mr. Johnson asked if consideration had been given to covering the river south of Waterfield road, and Mr. Bonnell stated the Planning Board had considered this area, admitting it is the ideal solution to parking around the center, since much of the parking problem exists in the Main street, Thompson street, Waterfield road area. He explained that the permission of the MDC and State Department of Public Works as well as the Department of Public Utilities would have to be secured, and though there would be no cost for the land, the construction cost had been estimated by two engineers as about $240,000, or about $1,000 a car space.

Mr. Ford stated that the town stands to lose about 200 unlimited parking spaces during the overhead construction and that something should be done to provide relief from a bad condition that will be considerably worse with 200 less spaces to park. He felt that some relief could be obtained by limiting parking on the town side of the parking lot below Winchester Station to keep out out-of-town railroad commuters, whose cars are there from early morning until late at night, and favored using the common or a part of it if necessary.

Mr. Ford was much more optimistic about business in the center than Mr. Hewis, but did feel that the town had done nothing for parking in 25 years, and should make a start now.

With time moving rapidly along Mr. Bonnell asked the meeting to take up consideration of proposed parking areas in Rangely and on the Skillings estate south of the access highway.

The Rangely lot, which includes a piece of property now zoned for residence will cost about $37,000 and provide space for 110 cars. Mr. Mouradian questioned having access from the lot onto Church street as extremely hazardous, and Mr. Moffett felt that the portion of the proposed area now in the residence zone should not be taken as it is not actually needed.

Objection to using the Skillings Property for parking was chiefly that it is too far from the center. Mr. Hewis felt that area for parking would be detrimental to the Christian Science Church and also to the beauty of the area. He also questioned people using the area since they would not use one on Shore road he had succeeded in getting the town to take for parking two years ago.

Mr. Smith raised the question of whether it is increased business we need in town to preserve a good operating balance, or light industry of a desirable type; seeming to feel that the expansion of business with its parking problems is less desirable than the introduction of new light industry.

Mr. Murphy, shortly before the meeting adjourned, felt that it is risky to rezone residence districts into business districts before we know whether the town will vote the money for the parking lots, since if the money is not forthcoming the land is then open for a business use that could be undesirable.

"Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."
Among the passages to be read from the Bible is the following from Psalms (103.2-4): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies."

The Invocation was delivered by Rev. Robert E. Crawford, Pastor of the North Congregational Church of Woburn.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Flatfish—flounder, sole, halibut and dab—hatch with eyes on each side of the head and swim freely about, back upright, near the sea's surface. As the small fish grow, says the National Geographic Society, one eye begins to shift, gradually moving across the head until it reaches a position near the eye of the opposite side. From then on the fish usually rest flat on the sea bottom with both eyes in a position to watch the approach of food.

When carefree elephants are feeding in the forest the noise of breaking branches and trees crashing to the ground is ear-splitting. But let danger threaten, says the National Geographic Society, and the whole heard of massive beasts can slip quietly from the area with hardly a twig snapped.

The elaborate iron grillwork seen on many homes in Savannah, Ga., is about a century old, says the National Geographic Society. The decorations were introduced by French royalists who fled to this southern city when revolution flared on the island of Hispaniola in the West Indies.

Pioneers on the Atlantic islands of Bermuda were delighted to find enormous flocks of the plump, edible cahow, a member of the petrel family. These "silly wilde birds," as the hunters called them, "would fall downe . . . offering themselves to be caught faster than they could be killed." Large numbers were destroyed, and for a time the bird was believed to be extinct. The cahow, however, has become wiser. Survivors now avoid man.

Sandefjord, Norway, is the world's chief whaling port, says the National Geographic Society. Whale-oil plants rim its harbor. Sandefjord skippers cruise for months in Antarctic waters to catch the world's largest mammal. Some round trips cover 25,000 miles. A native of the city designed the first floating whale factory. Now these strange craft range to 25,000 tons.

Holland has 200 miles of ramparts which never yield to the sea, says the National Geographic Society. Huge sand dunes, they serve not only as dikes but as reservoirs to catch rain. Fresh water collects in pools beneath the dunes and is piped to towns. Near-by beaches are popular vacation spots.

The writings of Marco Polo disclosed that 13th-century China had a highly developed postal system, the National Geographic Society says. "Horse posthouses" were maintained at 25-mile intervals on highways radiating from Peking to various provinces, and 400 horses were kept at major stations. The system had parcel-post and special-delivery features.

ON INACTIVE DUTY

Robert G. Murphy, LTJG, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Murphy of 67 Church street, Winchester, and grandson of Mrs. Michael Murphy of 57 Clark street, Winchester has been recently released to inactive duty at the U. S. Naval Receiving Station, Norfolk, Virginia.

LTJG Murphy, who is a graduate of the Maine Maritime Academy and Boston College, entered the Navy in January 1953 and was assigned to the Naval Amphibious Base at Little Creek, Virginia. In February 1953 he was transferred to the Ingolls Shipbuilding Corporation, Pascagoula, Mississippi as a member of the pre-commissioning crew of the LST-1161.

Following the vessel's commissioning and assignment to the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force in May 1953, LTJG Murphy served as Chief Engineer for 19 months until his release to inactive duty.

To be added to the Massachusetts highway system during the present year will be 60 Rest Areas along State Highways to meet the needs of motorists in the State and for out-of-state visitors.

giving our community the PREFERENCE . . .

No community builds a wall about itself. But we do make a definite gain when we can patronize home merchants. They form the backbone of the community's commercial life.

Let's remember this, and constantly give these friends and neighbors of ours the bulk of our patronage. Money is best spent here at home.

WASHINGTON DADS' CLUB

In a letter sent to all members of the George Washington School Dads' Club, President George Hendricks explained the purpose of the club.

For the benefit of new members it was pointed out that the club was formed to supplement the work of the Mothers' Club and to aid the children in extra-curricular activities. The club sponsors Cub Pack 9 and Scout Troop 9 and gives assistance to the Girl Scouts and Brownies.

It was further pointed out that throughout the year various functions are held to raise funds. There have been dances, chowder parties and last year an auction was held.

The next affair planned is a dance and "surprise entertainment" for Saturday, February 12. Joe Cussen, George Rowe, Bob Low, George O'Brien and Frank Marinelli are working with Charles Bund and Dana Peterson on the entertainment. The above-named men or any George Washington School Dads' Club member will furnish tickets. Couples from the other schools in town are invited.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

Tonight, January 28, at 7:30, the junior high group of the First Congregational Church will be the hosts to all the other Winchester Protestant junior high groups at a square dance in Chidley Hall. Mr. Meurling will have charge of the dancing and will be assisted by Social Chairman John Curtis in planning the program. Refreshments will be furnished by David Bates, David Bentley, Binkie Clark, Stephen Cochran, Donald Crede, Sandra Eriksen, David Leafe, Janet Monro, Madelyn Mouradian, Judy Murray, Ann Neville, Philip Nichols, Marion Pratt, Betsy Schaefer, and Marcia Scott. Chaperones for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Kelley, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mulford.

This is the first of a series of social events sponsored by the combined Protestant churches of Winchester for the junior high young people.

Correct your own mistakes by avoiding those of others.

EN KA MEETING

The January meeting of the En Ka Society was held at the home of Mrs. George Blackwood on Wedgemere avenue Tuesday, January 25.

After a delicious luncheon served by Mrs. Albert Swazey and her committee, the president, Mrs. Donald Connors, welcomed the members and called upon the various committee chairmen for their reports.

In the absence of Mrs. Francis Chase, Welfare Chairman Mrs. Frank Creelman reported that the committee had packed and delivered eight complete Thanksgiving baskets. Seven Christmas baskets, including food, clothing and toys, were also delivered to families in Winchester.

Mrs. Lyndon Burnham, finance chairman, reported that En Ka had paid for the mailing of Christmas boxes sent out to the boys and girls in the Services by the Homefronters at a cost of $159.29.

Through the finance committee En Ka will give an electric water pump to be used at the Boy Scout cabin. The Winchester Hospital will be given five complete pediatric units.

The Winchester Library will be presented with a ceiling projector to be used for shut-ins and at the hospital when necessary. These gifts will come to approximately $1900.

Mrs. Virginia Dickey, Street Fair chairman, told of the many activities already started for En Ka's major money-raising project, the annual "Street Fair." The theme this year will be "Fiesta."

Bakery sales will be held Saturday, February 26, and Saturday, March 26, from nine a. m. to one p. m. at Moody's Auto Sales showroom. Here home-cooked food, candy and gifts made by the members may be purchased.

With the prospect of the Street Fair in view and the many plans for its success this was a most interesting and stimulating meeting.

METCALF UNION

Members of Metcalf Union, the high school fellowship at the Unitarian Church, will conduct the entire eleven o'clock service at the church this Sunday.

The sermon is entitled "Youth Looks at Youth." It will be divided into two parts, with David McLean speaking first on the topic, "Is Modern Youth a Problem?" David Moore will then preach on the subject, "How Can Youth Guide Itself?"

Mary Burton, president of Metcalf Union, will give the invocation, and will collaborate with Dale Townley-Tilson in the responsive reading. Ellen Glowacki will give the pastoral prayer. Ushers will be Richard Clark, Joseph Gray, David Eldridge, Theodore Freeman, John Trump and Roger Symmes.

In keeping with the tradition of Youth Sunday, the service will conclude with the A. U. Y. Hymn. The participants have gone to a great deal of effort to make Youth Sunday an outstanding event of the church year.

The regular Sunday evening meeting of Metcalf Union will be omitted because of the church service activities. February 6 the group will attend a meeting in Wellesley of the Southern Middlesex County Federation of Liberal Religious Youth.

DR. SAMUEL B. KIRKWOOD TO SPEAK

Dr. Kirkwood will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Women's League of the First Baptist Church, to be held on Thursday, February 3.

There will be sewing for the Winchester Hospital at ten o'clock and luncheon at twelve o'clock with Mrs. John W. Dawson as Chairman of the Luncheon Committee.

At one o'clock, Dr. Kirkwood, who is Commissioner of Public Health for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will give an illustrated talk on "International Health in Pakistan." The rest of the afternoon program will include a short business meeting, followed by a Devotional period led by Mrs. Ida H. Tufts.

The League invites all the women of the Church and their friends to share this interesting day with them.

UNITARIANS TO HEAR DR. THURMAN

After their joint dinner meeting, to be held Thursday evening, February 10th, members and friends of the Unitarian Alliance and Men's Club will be privileged to hear Dr. Howard Thurman, the well-known Negro preacher who recently came from the Church for the Fellowship of All Peoples in San Francisco to be Dean of Marsh Chapel at Boston University.

In a nation-wide poll conducted in 1953 by Life Magazine, Dr. Thurman was counted among the twelve outstanding preachers in the United States. Even with his new duties in Boston he is still minister-at-large of Fellowship Church, an interracial, intercultural and non-sectarian venture which he developed in nine years from a struggling group of 30 into a San Francisco membership of 300 and a larger fellowship of more than 1,000 members-at-large. He is the author of a number of religious books, the recipient of four honorary degrees, and lecturer at a great many colleges and universities, including Harvard, Ohio Wesleyan and Columbia.

In his present position as Dean of the Chapel and Professor of Spiritual Resources and Disciplines, Dr. Thurman is implementing Boston University's new religious program which is (according to the Atlantic Monthly for October, 1953,) "to create an interracial, interdenominational religious center not only for the campus but for the community as well."

Supper reservations may be made by calling the Unitarian Church office. The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Thurman, who will speak at 8 o'clock.

COLLEGE CLUB ART GROUP

The subject of "Art in the Home" continues to be absorbing to the members of the College Club Art Group as it was well demonstrated last Friday when forty braved the bitter cold to meet at Design Research, Inc., 57 Brattle Street, in Cambridge. There were assembled in interesting and appropriate settings examples of the best in modern design; furniture by Swedish, Danish and Finnish craftsmen; silver, glass, china, metals, fabrics and basketry from all parts of the world. We were privileged to wander about at will and ask all kinds of questions.

The next meeting will be in the library on Friday, February 4, at 10 a. m. when Mrs. Murray Moore and her committee will talk on the development of the textile industry and will show examples of many beautiful and interesting fabrics, from the ancient to the most modern.

BAPTIST MEN TO HEAR JUDGE ZOTTOLI

Judge Joseph Zottoli, recently retired after serving as Boston Municipal Court judge for 28 years, will address the Men's Brotherhood class at the First Baptist Church this Sunday, January 30th.

Judge Zottoli has served as chairman of the Committee to study Alcoholism, associate commissioner of Public Welfare, and general counsel for the National Commission for Prevention of Alcoholism.

First Baptist's Men's Brotherhood extends a cordial invitation to Winchester men to attend this and other interesting Brotherhood meetings, which are held every Sunday morning at 10 a. m.

PARENT FACULTY ASSOCIATION PLANS CARD PARTY

Plans for the annual card party of the High-School Parent-Faculty Association, to be presented at the high school gym on February 9, were discussed at a recent meeting of the executive committee at the home of President Marion H. Ross.

This year's party is in the capable hands of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Koch, and it will follow the pattern of its successful predecessors. Mrs. C. N. Sweetser, chairman of the homeroom mothers, is in charge of the ticket committee, and Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini is planning the decorations.

Proceeds from the party will be used by the Association to provide "extras" for the enjoyment and use of pupils and faculty in the new high school. If you are the parent of a high schooler, or just a friend who likes to play bridge, canasta, or hearts, reserve the evening of Wednesday, February 9.

MARINES SEEK AIR RECRUITS

An intensive recruiting campaign, emphasizing the theme "Protect Your Freedom," was launched this week by the Marine Air Reserve at the Naval Air Station, South Weymouth, Mass.

Lt. Col. John B. Maas, Jr., USMC, Commanding Officer of the Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment, said effort would be made to fill the vacancies remaining in the units organization prior to April 1st, in order to give the new men adequate training in the aviation fields before the summer maneuvers.

"It is vitally important that our country has strong reserve forces," Lt. Col. Maas, pointed out. "In these troubled times, it is obvious that strength is about the only thing aggressor countries fear.

He pointed out that the Marine Air Reserve meets on one weekend a month at the Naval Air Station, South Weymouth, and members of the Organized Marine Corps Reserve receive extra pay, credit points toward retirement, regular promotions, and many other benefits.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday, January 24, at 2:00 p. m. the Fortnightly held its open meeting in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Moody, president, presided and after the Pledge to the Flag and the invocation by Rev. Walter L. Bailey, a short business session followed.

Mrs. Moody greeted the guests and friends of the members and presented Mrs. Marion T. Rudkin who needed no introduction as she has long been a favorite with Winchester audiences.

Mrs. Rudkin's topic was "Books in Brief," but as always her keen insight, her appreciation of human values, her sense of humor gave her audience not only information but also pleasure and inspiration as she reviewed the following books.

"The Measure of the Years," story of pioneer days in Stockbridge by Alice Ross Colver.

"Gallant Warrior," life of Hannah Dustin by Helen Mann.

"Pray for a Brave Heart," novel of intrigue by Helen MacInnes.

"The Golden Argosy," collection of outstanding American short stories.

"Good Morning, Miss Dove," a story of a school teacher who thought strict discipline good for children by Frances Gray Patton.

"Home Again," experience of a Japanese family in a relocation camp after Pearl Harbor, by James Edmiston.

"Many a Good Crusade," autobiography of Dean Gildersleeve, telling of her varied experiences in national and international affairs.

"My Several Worlds," autobiography of Pearl Buck, her many years in China and her present family life in Pennsylvania.

"The White Gate," story of Mary Ellen Chase's childhood days in Blue Hill, Maine.

"There is no Asia," of great interest to men, by Dwight Cook.

"The Guideposts' Anthology," by Norman Vincent Peale .

"Life is Worth Living," by Bishop Fulton Sheen.

"Encyclopedia of Modern American Humor," by Bennett Cerf.

"In Darkest Childhood," Richard Hubber's amusing story of his experiences in bringing up his motherless children.

Three interesting books to appear in February are by Sandy Wilson, Louise Dickenson Rich and Dr. Frank Slaughter.

Art Committee Trip

On Friday, February 4th, the Art Committee has arranged a visit to the Massachusetts School of Art at 364 Brookline avenue, Boston. There will be a brief talk about the school, by the President, Mr. Gordon L. Reynolds, followed by a tour of the building and visits to several of the classes. A cordial welcome is assured to all Fortnightly members who wish to go. The appointment is for 1:00 p. m.

Preceding the visit to the Art School, arrangements have been made for luncheon at the Smith House on Memorial Drive, Cambridge, in one of their private dining rooms. In order to arrive promptly at the Massachusetts School of Art, it will be necessary to eat luncheon at 11:30, and all are urged to be at the Smith House a little before that time. Any who do not wish to join in the luncheon party can meet the group at the school at 1.

Transportation can be arranged with any member of the Art Committee, but club members are urged as far as possible to make up their own groups. However, it is very important that the committee should know, as soon as possible, how many will be at the luncheon, so as to reserve enough places. It would help, too, if we knew how many expect to meet us afterwards. Please notify the Chairman, Mrs. Paul H. Howard, WInchester 6-2589, or any member of the Committee.

With final completion of the Mid-Cape Highway, relocated Route 3, the Southeast Expressway, Central Artery and Northeast Expressway, there will probably be no traffic lights for vehicles making this more than 150 mile run to reach northerly points in Maine and New Hampshire.

DOCTORS FEARED POLIO POSTER GIRL MIGHT NEVER WALK; SHE LEARNED WITH LONG LEG BRACES

Little Mary Kosloski of Collierville, Tenn., suddenly has been transformed into the most traveled, most photographed—and busiest—member of the five-year-old set in America. And all without benefit of glass slipper or coach-and-four.

MayMay—as all her friends call her—is the curly haired blue-eyed, bright-as-a-new-dime Poster Girl for the 1955 March of Dimes.

She represents all the many thousands of children who have been helped by past appeals of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—and thousands more who, through this year's campaign, may be freed forever from the crippling threat of polio.

She's Tenth March of Dimes Poster Child

On January 3, when Mary helped launch 1955's redoubled effort to raise more polio-fighting dollars than ever before, she embarked on an adventure that has come to only nine other children in history.

Mary's going just about everywhere and doing just about everything there is. She's appearing at fashions shows (Mary loves fashions—especially blue ones.) She's hobnobbing with hatfuls of celebrities; riding on trains, visiting elephants, mayors and movie stars. She's even appearing in a newsreel herself—a special feature that's being shown in movie theaters all over America.

Mary knows about polio. She has never taken a step without her long leg braces, her steel corset, her crutches. She was stricken on August 28, 1949—when she was five months old.

$2,000 in 'Dimes' Spent For Her Care

Mary knows about the March of Dimes, too. And so do her father—ex-Navy (now Reserve) Lieutenant Peter Paul Kosloski, who now has a general store and insurance business in Collierville—and her mother, Dorothy Hinton Kosloski. They found out about it almost at the instant Mary's disease was diagnosed as polio.

Sine then more than $2,000 has been spent by the March of Dimes to help Mary recover, and to walk. So far she has made 17 trips to Georgia Warm Springs Foundation for treatment. She was only seven months old, still on formula, when she made her first trip—the youngest patient ever admitted there.

At first doctors thought Mary never would walk. Her involvement was severe—both arms, both legs, neck muscles, trunk. Now, thanks to intensive medical treatment, loving home care—and the March of Dimes—Mary gets around very well indeed. Someday she may abandon one of her leg braces entirely.

Looks Forward to Visits to Warm Springs

It was pretty bad, at first. Mary used to cry bitterly when she had to go to the hospital, even though her mother always went too. But now she goes happily; even looks forward to her visits to Warm Springs.

Quick-minded, creative, an accomplished mimic, she likes to make up little plays for her cut-out dolls. She acts all the parts herself. She recites poetry with a flourish, meets people with great aplomb, little shyness.

Nobody "babies" Mary at home—least of all herself. Her two sisters (Sally, 10, and Kit, eight) and her three-year-old brother Paul regard her matter-of-factly—though Kit loves to fuss with MayMay's handsome light brown hair.

Mary is intensely proud of the fact that Kit was eligible to participate in the polio vaccine trials conducted last spring by the National Foundation. Shelby County was one of 217 areas that took part in this nationwide test to find out whether the new vaccine may banish for all time the crippling effects of polio.

Parents Praise Help from Chapter

Mr. and Mrs. Kosloski are especially proud of their Memphis-Shelby County Chapter of the National Foundation. They wish everyone could know how they feel about the prompt help that came to them from this local arm of the March of Dimes organization.

They are proud, too, that Mary is doing her part in person as well as on the posters and coin canisters of the 1955 March of Dimes.

PLANNING MIDDLESEX COUNTY MOTHERS' MARCH ON POLIO

INSURANCE AWARDS TO MOORE

At the annual agency celebration meeting that was held at the Frank T. Bobst Agency of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Boston last week, Frederick A. Moore of 16 Eaton street was awarded the two top awards of one of that company's leading agencies. He had produced the largest amount of "Ordinary Business" during 1954, and for that year was declared to be the winner of the Senior All-Around Achievement Award.

Mr. Moore is a graduate of Phillips Andover Academy and Bowdoin College. He is director and assistant treasurer of the Bowdoin Alumni Association of Boston, and is a member of the New England Alumni Association of Phillips Andover Academy, Delta Upsilon Fraternity, William Parkman Lodge A.F.&A.M., Winchester Tennis Association and the Boston Life Underwriter's Association.

Mr. Moore recently returned from his company's National Leaders Convention at White Sulphur Springs, W. Virginia. For the third consecutive year he has won the National Quality Award, which is a national recognition to all the leading life underwriters.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The winter meeting of the Bay State Historical League, composed of 125 historical societies in Massachusetts, of which the Winchester Historical Society is a member, was held last Saturday afternoon as guests of the Old South Association at the Old South Meeting House in Boston, with the president of the League, Dr. A. Warren Stearns, presiding.

In welcoming the members of the League, Dr. Robert E. Moody, vice president of the Old South Association, gave a short history of this fine old meeting house, used and abused by the British during the occupation of Boston at the time of the Revolution. This was followed by a half-hour musical program presented by the committee on noon-day concerts.

Two projects for approval by the League were then presented: first, the raising of funds to restore the First Church in Roxbury, damaged by the hurricane and deteriorated with time. This church, built in 1804 on the site of several churches preceding it, is the oldest frame meeting house in Boston, and one of the finest examples of federal architecture in existence, and is well worth preserving. Second, a representative of the Beacon Hill Association asked the support of the League in the passage of a bill in the Legislature designed to preserve and protect the architectural features of Beacon Hill, which still retains 75% of its original homes and buildings after 150 years. This preservation seeks only to regulate future construction, repairs and alterations to the exterior of the buildings according to the best judgment of an architectural commission of five members. This bill is to come before the Lesiglature next Monday.

The address of the day was given by Dr. Lee M. Friedman, whose subject was "Three Hundred Years of Jewish History in Massachusetts." Dr. Friedman, an authority on this subject, who delivered an address relating to it as far back as 1910, has made a life-long study of the Jewish race in America. He gave a most instructive and illuminating talk on the life of the Jewish race in America and Boston during the past 300 years.

This worthwhile meeting was largely attended, about 200 members of the league being present

"INDOOR" BIRD WATCHING

"The family kitchen can provide a double 'incentive' to start the interesting hobby of winter bird feeding—and watching," says Ned Pearce of Boston's new Museum of Science. Here are some tips:

Put food out within sight of a window, so you won't miss any of your "guests."

Try dangling some food from tree branches, for those birds that won't eat off the ground.

A doughnut hung by a string will attract nuthatches and chickadees.

Empty walnut shells make fine dinnerpails for the smaller birds. Fill them with peanut butter and fasten to a branch.

Put a long string in a cupcake paper, then pour in some melted suet. When it hardens, tie by the string to a branch.

Crumbled left-over muffins please some birds' palates.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Puccini's "Manon Lescaut" will be the feature of the next recorded music program at the library. On Wednesday, February 2, at 3:00 p. m. and again at 7:30 p. m., in the Downs Room, the complete four-act opera will be played.

The fact that the Manon story had been used previously by Massenet and Auber for operas and by Halevy for a ballet did not deter Puccini, who found in Manon Lescaut "the first of the faulty, simple, but appealing young girls" who became the heroines of his most successful operas. Puccini was enthusiastic not only with the story but with the music he had written for it. It was a success from the first performance. It was the opera which extended his reputation outside of Italy.

"Manon Lescaut" was presented for the first time in Turin in 1893. The recorded performance to be heard at the library was made several years ago, before the very latest recording techniques; but, because of the outstanding quality of the performance and the keen interest in it of music lovers, it has been issued by request. Maria Zamboni, soprano, and Francesco Merli, tenor, sing the leading roles of Manon Lescaut and Des Grieux. The Milan Symphony Orchestra is conducted by Lorenzo Molajoli.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club's January meeting was held on Thursday, January 20, at the charming home of Mrs. William C. Ross at 11 Madison avenue. Serving with Mrs. Ross as co-hostess was Mrs. Percy Bugbee.

After a delicious dessert, coffee was poured by Mrs. Ella Robinson. The president, Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini, called the meeting to order, and the program for the afternoon included informal talks by members. Mrs. Carl Wood read an inspiring essay called "American Workshop." Mrs. Herbert Maynard gave a wonderful illustrated talk on ocean oddities, displaying many of her own collection of shells and marine life. Miss Mary Alice Fitch told a delightful impromptu sea horse tale, and Miss Mildred Stone gave the members a lot to think about in her highly informative commentary on tulips.

Mrs. Ross' description on how to make a terrarium was very interesting, and Mrs. Bugbee concluded the meeting with an entertaining discussion of sea weeds and their many practical uses. Mrs. Bugbee also had samples of various species of sea weed, and produced a wonderful Blanc Mange made with Irish moss for the members to sample.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Winchester Nursing Association was held on Wednesday, January 19, 1955, at the home of Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, 12 Everett avenue. The coffee hour began at 1:00 p. m. and the business meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Theodore Browne, at 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. Browne welcomed the many guests and extended the thanks of the Association to Mrs. Shanklin and to the Hospitality Committee. The Secretary, Mrs. George B. Redding, gave a summary of the year's activities and from her extremely interesting presentation no one could fail to appreciate the scope of the work nor the generosity of the many friends who had helped to make it possible.

The Treasurer, Miss Helen M. Monroe, presented her annual report as well as the Auditor's report which carried with it the Treasurer's report and also the Auditor's report carrying with it the financial report of the Trustees. These reports were followed by that of the Executive Director, Mrs. Doris Wiklund, which is always one of the highlights of any Association meeting.

She told of the number of patients visited, the different types of care given, plus the many extra-curricular duties performed by the staff, ending her report with a case history which showed what courage and hope and determination could do.

Mrs. James B. Willing, Chairman of the Education Committee, told about an interesting meeting she and others had attended, at which they had an opportunity to hear Mrs. Mary Breckenridge who is the head of the Frontier Nursing Service and to see a film called "Forgotten Frontiers" which depicted the difficulties and problems which had to be met. Mrs. Willing also gave a brief though interesting review of Mrs. Breckenridge's book, "Wide Neighborhoods."

Mrs. Willing's report was followed by the President's report. Mrs. Browne is ending a three-year term of service and in that time many changes and advances have occurred. All those present rose in tribute to her. Mrs. Roland Patrick, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented the following slate for 1955 for which the Secretary cast one ballot:

The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. L .T. Reed, Assistant Executive Director of Blue Shield in Massachusetts. He spoke on the "Prolonged Illness Certificate Plan" as it is set up in Massachusetts, and his talk was filled with interesting facts from beginning to end.

The new Blue Shield plan to care for prolonged illness is designed to take up where the old Blue Shield plans and the Blue Cross leave off.

This plan has been supported by the Massachusetts Medical Society and the visiting nurse associations have been of great assistance in giving information about case loads, types of illnesses treated, plus statistical information. Mr. Reed stressed that both Blue Cross and Blue Shield are charitable, non-profit organizations.

"WINTERIZING" OF ANIMALS URGED

Timely advice on the care of animals during the winter months was issued yesterday by Dr. Gerry B. Schnelle, Chief of Staff of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston.

Said Dr. Schnelle, "Animals, like human beings, suffer as a result of extreme cold weather, and should be "winterized," just as we winterize our homes, our automobiles and our gardens. For instance, following a heavy snowstorm, it is dangerous to allow dogs to run run free, since they are likely to stay within the confines of plowed thoroughfares, and thus risk being struck by cars. The animals should therefore receive out-door exercise, by being walked on a leash, if necessary, to allow opportunity for natural function."

"Special attention should also be given the feet of dogs when they contact salted sidewalks or streets. It is well to wipe the feet thoroughly, especially the tender webbing between the toes, after the animal returns from exercise where defrosting agents have been used."

A list of cold weather "Don't's" was suggested by the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital for all animal owners:

DON'T allow dogs to chase automobiles.

DON'T tie dogs out-doors without providing kennel or suitable shelter.

DON'T permit dogs or cats to remain out-doors overnight.

DON'T overload work horses.

DON'T fail to blanket horses when standing longer than ten minutes in below-freezing temperature.

DON'T blanket horses while in motion.

DON'T give horses too cold water.

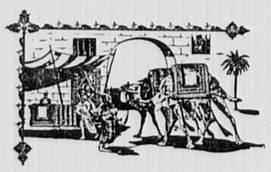

DON'T race horses on slippery pavements.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon, January 19th, the Winchester Home and Garden Club held its monthly meeting at the library.

Mr. Harris W. Reynolds, well-known artist photographer, was the speaker.

He showed many unusual pictures of historic homes and gardens of Virginia, describing the individual beauty and historical aspect of each.

He pointed out the fact that during the last week of April the gardens are at their peak of beauty. At this time garden tours are arranged for people who are interested in seeing Virginia at its best.

The money received from these tours goes toward the restoration of many of the historic homes.

The true loveliness of Virginia was vividly portrayed, and the afternoon was one of beauty and color.

MIDDLESEX EAST MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Middlesex East Medical Society met at the Bear Hill Golf Club on Wednesday evening, January 19, with members of the Women's Auxiliary as their guests. After a delicious roast beef dinner, the president, Dr. Robert Dutton of Wakefield, called the meeting to order and introduced the special guests of the evening. Among these were Dr. Curtis Tripp, President of the Massachusetts Medical Society, and Mrs. Tripp of New Bedford; Mrs. Alexander Campbell, State President of the Auxiliary, and Dr. Campbell of Brighton; Mrs. John C. Angley, president-elect of the State Auxiliary, and Dr. Angley of Bryantville (Pembroke); and Mrs. Sanford H. Moses, president of the Middlesex East District Women's Auxiliary, and Dr. Moses of Winchester.

The president conducted a short business meeting before adjourning for the entertainment. Dr. Sidney A. Levine of Melrose introduced the speaker, Dr. Joseph Ward, also of Melrose, who presented slides taken last summer on a trip through Europe, which included attendance at a medical convention in Geneva. His beautiful pictures and varied comments were of interest to all. It was particularly appreciated that Dr. Ward was able to fill in on short notice for the scheduled speaker, Arthur L. Gaskill, Movietone News reporter, who was assigned to the State Prison outbreak at the last minute.

The next meetings of the Medical Society and the Women's Auxiliary will be held in March.

Did you know that the Mid-Cape Highway, from the tip of Cape Cod in Providence, will connect at the Cape Cod Canal with the relocated Route 3 now under construction?

The Social Service Guild of the First Congregational Church will meet on Tuesday, February 1, at two o'clock. Mrs. Annie Russell will conduct the worship service, and the speaker will be Miss Charlotte Nelson, Director of the Protestant Guild for the Blind.

Tea will be served following the meeting. All the women of the church are cordially invited to attend and to hear of the impressive work for the blind which Miss Nelson's organization does.

RAYTHEON OFFICIAL LEAGUE SPEAKER

Mr. Ray C. Ellis, Vice-President of the Foreign Division of Raytheon Manufacturing Company, will be the guest speaker at the General Meeting of the League of Women Voters of Winchester, Wednesday, February 2, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. John I. Donovan will be hostess to the League members and friends of the League for this meeting being held at her home, 5 Lakeview road.

Mr. Ellis' position in a highly diversified industry enables him to discuss the position of New England Industries in World Trade, the effect of competition from overseas, and how the proposed tariff regulations will reflect upon European industry as well as our own. Industrial conditions in Russia and a comparison between Russian and U. S. industry will be treated from first-hand knowledge since Mr. Ellis has travelled extensively in Russia and Siberia, and has had the opportunity to observe the complexities of governmental subsidizing of Eastern European industry. The competition which the Eastern European countries offer private businesses in the U. S. in relation to the South American markets will be a feature of Mr. Ellis' talk.

A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. Ray C. Ellis served on the War Production Board in the Radio and Radar Division during World War II and joined the Raytheon Manufacturing Co., in 1945. Since that time he has served on several U. S. Governmental Committees.

CONFIDENT APPEAL WILL BE MET

Mr. J. Howard Macauley, chairman of the Winchester Committee of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, hopes that residents of the area will remember to send in their donations to further this vital work. Mr. Macauley states, "I know that so much still needs to be done, and I hope that our civic-minded neighbors will respond to the appeal so that our goal may be attained."

"Just recently, after a year and a half of experimentation, the Medical and Scientific Committee of the Foundation has developed an effective plan for the home care of arthritics. Without the help which only your contributions can give, this program of home therapy under medical supervision will necessarily be denied to many patients.

"According to the New England medical director of the Arthritis Foundation, six thousand persons in Massachusetts are so badly crippled by arthritis that they are unable to travel from their homes. Where these home care services are established, they have meant the difference between hope and despair, dependence and independence. Treatment and rehabilitation are expensive, and not yet available to those outside our larger cities; the needs of smaller areas must be met."

If you have not already done so, will you please mail your gift to Mr. Vincent C. Ambrose, Treasurer, Winchester Trust Co., Winchester.

Mr. Macauley reminds donors that a note included with contributions may request 3 free booklets for arthritics available from the Foundation:

"What You Should Know About Arthritis."

"Home Care of Rheumatoid Arthritis."

"What Choice Do You Have?"

These booklets may also be obtained without charge by addressing a post card to the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, 89 Franklin street, Boston 10, Mass.

ROTARY NOTES

Yesterday's regular luncheon meeting was an open meeting, due to the fact that mid-year exams prevented a group of high school vocalists from singing for the club. Needless to state the Rotarians regretted the cancellation.

Last week's speaker was club member Harry Gilson, Winchester's superintendent of schools, whose subject was the school budget and its relation to the general budget of the town. Thirty-nine cents of every Winchester tax dollar is eaten up by the costs of running our schools, and Dr. Gilson went into at some length the reasons for the school expenses skyrocketing as they have. His fellow Rotarians found his remarks of great interest.

Next week's speaker will be another club member, Police Chief Charlie Harrold, whose subject will be juvenile delinquency. The chief has some definite ideas on this most vital of all subjects, and though he doesn't necessarily guarantee their popular appeal he will agree to hold his listeners' interest.

PROTESTANT YOUTH RALLY

February 13th is set aside as Interdenominational Sunday. The Youth Council of Winchester have planned a Rally, with the theme, "One Fellowship In Christ." This will be held at the Church of the Epiphany from 7 o'clock until 9.

Each church is responsible for a certain part of the program. Fellowship, Worship and Communion will be an inspiration to all the Senior High Young People of Winchester.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

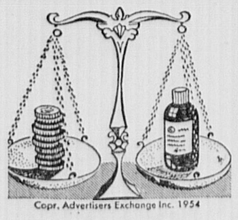

On Friday, February 25, Winchester Church Women will participate in the services for the World Day of Prayer at the Church of the Epiphany at 2:00 p. m.

The Reverend Howard Dunbar from Trinity Church, Newton Center will be the speaker. Mrs. Stephen Nichols heads the committee which is made up of representatives from local churches.

SPAGHETTI LUNCHEON

A spaghetti luncheon and bridge will be held at Marycliff Academy on Tuesday, February 1, at 12:30. This will be the February meeting of the Guild and Mrs. Joseph Burgatti of Winchester heads the committee in charge.

Economy begins at home when it should begin at the club.

PARISH PLAYERS

"Dear Brutus," the classic comedy by James M. Barrie, will be presented by the Parish Players on February 10, 11 and 12 in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. Mr. Harlan F. Grant of the Drama Department, Boston Conservatory of Music, is directing, with Miss Marjorie McGaw as production chairman.

"Dear Brutus" is a tender, whimsical, timeless story of ten people who are dissatisfied with their lives, and who wish secretly for a "second chance" in life. On a magic midsummer night's eve, in a magic wood, they are given that "second chance." Barrie, who can tell a good story and who has the gift of mood and characterization, called this his favorite play. In selecting it for their winter production, the Parish Players feel that they have a program of keen enjoyment for their audiences. Mrs. J. Waldo Bond at WInchester 6-0856 is in charge of tickets for the three performances.

Darla Hall plays the early Helen Hayes role of Margaret, and in the cast will be Grant Burtnett, Mr. and Mrs. William Symes, Mrs. Kenneth Harvey, Mrs. Robert Millican, Mrs. Ormond M. Hessler, Earle F. Spencer, Jr., Finn O. Bockmann, Mrs. Donald Puffer, and Thomas Morse, who plays the immortal "Mr. Lob." The intricate two-set staging is by Charles A. Brown and his committee, with Kendall H. Spencer arranging the special lighting.

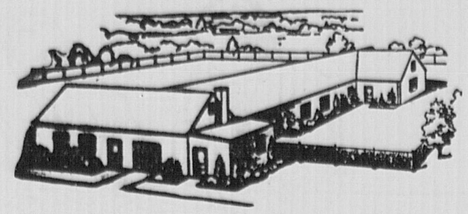

THE SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will this Sunday attend church at 10:45. The young people participating in this "Forum Sunday in Church" will be: Chaplain, Dana Sawyer, Jr.; Deacons, Bob Becker, John Day, David Gowing, Brad Johnson, Richard Johnson and Dick Schaefer; and ushers, Sid Bixler, Bill Johansen, Steve Marshall, Bill Mock, Bill Ross and Charlie Stevens.

At 5:30 all will meet in Chidley Hall for a half hour of fun and work on a special service project planned by the Service Committee Chairmen Joyce Nelson and Joan Morrison. At 6:00 all will be ready for the supper planned by Mrs. James F. Denton and her committee consisting of Mrs. Howard W. Bates, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Donaghey, Mrs. Walter P. Roberts, Mrs. Lester Snow, Mrs. Otto E. Schaefer, and Mrs. John Williams.

The young people are all looking forward to having with them again this year Mr. Henry N. Lamar, assistant football coach at Harvard and state boxing commissioner for Massachusetts. Mr. Lamar has been one of Forum's most popular speakers and all await with interest his ideas on "The Place of Athletics in Education."

The closing worship service will be conducted by the members of the Forum worship committee, Lane Emerson, Betsy Lathrop, Charlie Stevens and Sue Woodruff.

DEFENSE OFFICIALS EXPLAINED SCHOOL EVACUATION PROGRAM

Civilian Defense officials explained plans for the evacuation of schools in the event of mass bombing to parents of junior and senior high school pupils at a meeting in the high school auditorium last Wednesday night. About 150 people attended the meeting at which Mr. Theodore Boecker, Winchester's Civil Defense chief, and his assistants, Mr. John Blanchard and Mr. Sherman Russell, were the principal speakers.

The highlight of the meeting for many was the showing of a moving picture of the first hydrogen bomb test at Eniwetok in 1952. The frightful power of this bomb, less than one tenth as powerful as present hydrogen weapons, was graphically shown by the scenes which preceded and followed the explosion. Mr. Blanchard noted that, if a modern H-bomb were exploded over Boston, Winchester would be within the area of total destruction.

Staggering as the problem may seem, Mr. Boecker expressed the belief that, given a reasonable warning period, adequate planning would enable most of Boston's two million people to get out of the danger zone. Winchester's great advantage, he said, is that it lies near the perimeter of the attack area. Therefore, we would have a few minutes head start on towns and cities closer to the center of Boston.

Mr. Russell answered a question which has occurred to many persons: "Why so much attention to the school hours of the day in making the evacuation plans?" Military experts believe, he said, that the hours of attack would be between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., Monday through Friday. These are the hours when there is the greatest concentration of people in the business area of our metropolitan cities.

Emphasizing the point that "Civilian Defense is self defense," Mr. Russell said that no plan will work without the consent and cooperation of the public. It is expected that sometime in the near future evacuation committees will be set up in each of the school districts. These committees will seek the help of Winchester residents in setting up car pools that will be available for use in the event that they are needed.

Edward Feeney, who died suddenly Monday in Woburn, after collapsing in front of St. Charles Rectory on Main street in that city, is a former resident of Winchester. He was 64 years old and a native of Galway County, Ireland.

The Star is pleased to pass along the commendation of a long-time Winchester resident who spoke in terms of highest praise of the quick thinking and courage of one of our police officers in the square Tuesday afternoon. At that time a small boy darted from the sidewalk in front of Woolworth's into the street directly into the path of a 10-ton truck approaching the center. The driver stopped the truck short, but a tragedy might have occurred had it not been for the unidentified police officer, who disregarding his personal safety, leaped after the little boy and pulled him from harm's way in the very nick of time.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowlege of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all new comers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3258 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

A big part in any man's religion consists in getting along with other people.

FRANK'S 88th

FORMER LETTER CARRIER OBSERVES BIRTHDAY SATURDAY

Every old timer in Winchester remembers Frank Vallely, retired letter carrier, and joins the Star in heartiest congratulations to him as he observes his 88th birthday anniversary tomorrow, February 5.

Frank makes his home these days with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Grant (Kay Vallely), at 2 Parker street in Arlington. A small family birthday party will be held there tomorrow with the Grants and Mr. Vallely being joined by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Vallely of Malden and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank H. Vallely, Jr., of Forest street.

Mr. Vallely was born in Winchester February 5, 1867, and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools. He was one of the original altar boys at St. Mary's Church and as a young man sang in the church choir. For many years until his retirement 25 years ago he carried mail on the West Side of town, being widely known and popular, not only on his route but throughout the town.

Frank was quite a bowler in his younger days, but his real hobby was baseball, and he was associated with Winchester baseball for many years as a member of the old baseball association, of which George LeDuc was manager and George Davidson, president, down through the years to the days when Jack Hanlon managed a team of star players headed by "Al" Davidson, one of the best pitchers outside the big league ranks.

Frank's son, the late Frank Vallely, Jr., played left field for this team, and Frank Sr., was responsible for collecting a lot of the money that made the team possible. His great popularity always enabled him to collect where others found the going rough.

So, good luck, Frank! Have another good year to add to the 88 you have put behind you. Baseball may be on the way back in Winchester, with the Little League and Junior Legion teams going well. We know of no one who will be happier to see local baseball back where it used to be in the "good old days" than yourself!

MRS. ANNIE T. DONOVAN

Mrs. Annie T. Donovan of 77 Woodside road, widow of Michael Donovan and a resident of Winchester for 60 years, died suddenly at her home Sunday, January 30. She had been ill for two weeks, but her death was wholly unexpected and came as a severe shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Donovan was born in County Cork, Ireland, the daughter of Richard, and Mary (Cashman) Terry. For many years she was active in the Ladies Sodality of St. Mary's Parish.

Mrs. Donovan's husband died in July of last year. She leaves two sons, Daniel, Jr., of Winchester, and John F. Donovan of Malden; two daughters, Miss Mary E. Donovan of Winchester and Mrs. Thomas Burke of Woburn; also eight grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

REV. TARR LEAVES BATTLE CREEK

FORMER FIRST CONGREGATIONAL ASSISTANT MILWAUKEE PASTOR

Rev. Donald B. Tarr, former assistant at the First Congregational Church, has resigned as one of the three ministers of the First Congregational Church in Battle Creek, Mich., to become pastor of the Grand Avenue Congregational Church in Milwaukee, Wis. He will report for duty in Milwaukee Monday, February 7, and preach the first sermon from his new pulpit February 13.

Rev. Mr. Tarr came to Winchester in 1948 from the Geddes Congregational Church in Syracuse, N. Y., where he worked extensively with the students of Syracuse University. While in Winchester, in addition to his duties as assistant pastor, he and his wife worked ardently in support of the First Congregational Church School and the young people of the parish. The membership of both the church school and senior forum increased greatly during the Tarrs' time here, and Mr. Tarr was prominent in religious education circles outside Winchester, being elected vice president of the Association of Professional Religious Educators in 1950 and president in 1951. He attended the World Convention of Religious Educators in Toronto in the summer of 1950.

Mr. Tarr left Winchester in '51 to become one of the three ministers of the First Congregational church in Battle Creek. A native of Gloucester, he graduated from Gloucester High, Boston University School of Religious Education and from the Boston School of Theology.

In Battle Creek his resignation was received with regret, "The Congregationalist," official publication of the First Congregational Church there making the following comment:

"Mr. Tarr's services to our church have been excellent, and we particularly value his and Mrs. Tarr's contributions to our Youth Work. They will be greatly missed."

Mr. Tarr's new address is 652 N. 68th street, Wauwatosa 13, Wisconsin. His church address is Grand Avenue Congregational Church, 2133 West Wisconsin avenue, Milwaukee 3, Wisconsin.

PROTESTANT YOUTH RALLY

The Winchester Youth Council have planned a Youth Rally to be held on Sunday, February 13, at the Church of the Epiphany. The theme, which is suggested by the United Christian Youth Movement, "All One Fellowship," is being used. The program will begin at 7:00 o'clock with a period of fellowship. Interest groups discussing the beliefs and practices of each denomination under the leadership of the ministers of each church, will be a most informing part of our program. The singing of some of the great hymns will be an inspiration to all. Refreshments will be served by two of the church youth groups.

The highlight of the program will be the worship and communion service bringing the denominations together with "One Fellowship in Christ."

Mr. Moore was the son of William J., and Euphemia (Rhodes) Moore. He was born in Port Republic, N. J., but went to Philadelphia at the age of 15, concluding his education in the Philadelphia schools and at the University of Pennsylvania.

Following his graduation from the university in 1925 he entered the department store field and held various positions with retail stores in many parts of the country, including Philadelphia, New York City, Rochester, N. Y., and Cincinnati, Ohio.

Six years ago he joined the R. H. White Company in Boston as comptroller, coming to make his home in Winchester at this time.

On May 10, 1930, Mr. Moore married Julia L. Mount of Philadelphia, who survives, with a son, William N. Moore of Winchester, a senior at Columbia University; three brothers, Paul W., of Wilmington, Del., Carl H., of Philadelphia, Pa., and Claude R. HEART SUNDAY FEBRUARY 20

With emphasis on the dramatic advances made during the past few years toward the prevention and control of heart disease, the Heart Fund began its 1955 campaign this week. Sponsored by the Massachusetts Heart Association, an affiliate of the American Heart Association, the campaign will reach its climax on Sunday, February 20, which will be known as Heart Sunday, Mrs. Sophie E. Bowman, Winchester chairman, announced this week.

"The Heart Sunday collection will take place between the hours of 1:00 and 5:00 p. m. when volunteers will visit neighbors' homes to collect contributions for the continuing fight against heart disease," Mrs. Bowman said.

"The solution to three key problems is being sought by heart researchers, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever. These three conditions cause more than 90% of all heart disease.

"$253,701.00 was invested in heart research last year by the Massachusetts Heart Association as a result of contributions received during the Heart Fund Campaign. Simultaneously, an accelerated program of education and rehabilitation was carried on throughout the state, and Massachusetts now has one of the most active year-'round heart programs in the United States.

BENJAMIN F. THOMPSON

Benjamin F. Thompson, 87, formerly of Winchester, died suddenly on January 24 at the home of his daughter, Sally R. Thompson, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Thompson, son of the late Sarah and Stephen Thompson, was born in Woburn on December 4, 1867. The family moved shortly thereafter to Winchester, where he lived until 1937. Since that time he had made his home in Cleveland.

Mr. Thompson was a graduate of Tufts College, where he received his degree in electrical engineering.

In addition to his daughter, Sally R. Thompson, he is survived by one son, Stephen, and one grandson, Peter Robert, both of Fairfield, Conn.

WINTON CLUB SHOW GAYEST YET

The "S. S. Winton" docked at the Winchester Town Hall this past week end, January 26, 27, 28 and 29, and brought pleasure to the hundreds who mounted her musical decks, and well-earned profit to the Winton Club who launched her!

This was the Club's thirty-fourth cabaret. Perhaps every year people say, "This is the best show"—and then next year, the Club goes itself one better. But this year it did seem as though the show got off to a peppy, vivacious opening, with lively music and some most attractive numbers. And the staid old hall was most festive in its blue lights and nautical flags, clever lighting tricks, and the interesting stage backdrop of the S. S. Winton! The costumes seemed so fresh and full of sparkle—(or was it the attractive wearers?)

One could not help but be impressed with the excellent well-drilled choruses, for whom the opening number, "High Time," through the fabulous "Mambo" with its gorgeous fruit setting and terrific downbeat, to the gorgeous and gauzey pajamas of "Egyptian Jive," and finally, to the exquisite waltz number, "Wonderful Copenhagen," this was a chorus well-matched for beauty, talent, and rhythm. Mr. Eric Schepard, the director, had accomplished much in the brief rehearsal period. The music by Harry Marshard's orchestra was at all times a joy to hear, and it was pleasing to know that the leader of the band, Tommy Gerard, is an old Winchester boy, remembered by his many friends here as Tommy Gillote.

It was, of course, a good show, as anyone who went will agree. But in Bill and Gene Symes, the S. S. Winton cabaret had something not often seen on an amateur stage—genuine talent, lovely blending voices, plus great charm and sweetness. They sang the Ethel Merman hit, "You're Just In Love," and then an encore, "No Two People"—and their act was frosting on the good cabaret cake! One watched them with sheer delight and some nostalgia, wishing the songs would go on longer.

CHRISTIANITY IN TERMS OF TODAY

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, interprets Christianity in the terms of today in a series of sermons leading up to Easter.

Our world is now divided in two vast camps, the camp of those controlled by the Communist power and the camp of the still-free nations. The number of those who pass under the Communist domination is known to be about one hundred million a year, a terrifying figure. As Dr. Karlis Leyasmeyer has pointed out, "twenty-five million Communists are taking the world and six hundred million Christians are letting it go." In this world situation, America finds itself with the leadership of the free world on its doorstep.

Our first line of defense in a free republic is the character and faith of our people. Without these we are defenseless against the black and evil religion of Communism, and character is built largely through our churches.

The following sermons seek to interpret the duty and privilege of the Church in this hour:

February 6—"For Those Ready to Quit"
February 13—"This Is My Task"
February 20 — "Standing Your Ground"
February 27 — "The Things of Others"
March 6—"Today I Talked With God"
March 13—"Rejoice in the Lord"
March 20—"What's the Use?"
March 27 — "Over Nature and Under God"
April 3 — "The Strong are the Humble"
April 10—"Death is not Victor"

First Baptist Church extends a cordial invitation to all in the community to share these sermons.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

Through the courtesy of Associated Industries of Massachusetts with headquarters at 2206 John Hancock Building, Boston, the Star received a reprint from the January issue of "Industry" magazine entitled "Industry Expansion in Massachusetts Trends to Suburban Areas."

Under the heading "New Plants and Additions Reported in AIM Survey" are listed new factories and additions to existing plants as reported by 351 Massachusetts cities and towns, to whom questionnaires were sent by the organization.

Winchester's listing was:

Erskine Movers, New Storage Warehouse	$10,000
Berke-Moore Construction Co., New Temporary storage sheds (2) for the B & M Overpass	$2,000
Whitten Bros., New Storage, office, garage	$6,000
Charles E. Mason, Addition to Mfg. bldg.	$7,500

Woburn is not among the communities listed, but the Star was interested to note that in Wilmington new industrial construction and additions totalled $208,000; Stoneham, $82,000, for one addition; Melrose, $68,000; Lexington, $124,000; Belmont, $117,000; and Watertown, $764,800.

QUINTON — CLINE

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at St. Charles Church in Woburn on Sunday afternoon, January 16, when Miss Elizabeth Mary Cline, daughter of Mrs. John Cline of 20 Franklin street, Woburn, and the late Mr. Cline, formerly of this town, became the bride of Howard Wayne Quinton, son of Mrs. Bessie Quinton of Grants Pass, Oregon. The Rev. James J. Cullinan officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Hunt Room of the Town Line in Woburn.

Miss Cline was given in marriage by her uncle, Wilbur Connors, and had for her only attendant Mrs. Elizabeth Kimball of Woburn.

The bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace with a nylon net skirt over satin. Her fingertip-length veil was caught to a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a white missal topped with a white orchid and stephanotis and having streamers of white snapdragons.

Mrs. Kimball wore a dress of aquamarine lace and nylon net over taffeta with a matching headpiece of velvet flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Cline, mother of the bride, was gowned in orchid crystalette and wore pink accessories and a matching orchid. Mrs. Quinton, mother of the groom, also wore an orchid with her flight-blue dress and navy accessories.

Dominic Taurasi of Arlington was best man for Mr. Quinton, and ushering were two cousins of the bride, John Connors and John Peterson, both of Winchester.

After a wedding trip to New York and Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Quinton will go west to make their home at 1012 N. W. 6th street, Grants Pass, Oregon.

FIRST NATIONAL LEAVING

First National Stores is closing its supermarket on upper Main street, February 19, and leaving town as soon after that as they can vacate the premises.

This move is being made because the market management has learned that instead of losing 20 feet of space because of the overhead railroad construction, as originally believed, the market will now lose 40 feet. The management feels that the market can not be run at a profit with this larger loss in floor space and is accordingly leaving town with regret.

First National has liked Winchester and its business had prospered here. It had hoped to stay on and operate under the 20 foot loss of space, but felt the 40 foot reduction would prove too great a handicap. It definitely hopes to return to town.

Also vacating its premises adjacent to the First National and in the same building is the Embassy Laundry, which hopes to locate across the street on Park street.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Khachadoorian of Crystal Lake, Averill Park, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Mr. Michael Boodakian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Krikor Boodakian of Lochwan street.

Miss Khachadoorian graduated from St. Agnes School, Loudonville, N. Y., and from Green Mountain Junior College. Mr. Boodakian, who is associated with Koko Boodakian and Sons, oriental rug importers, graduated from Winchester High School and attended Boston University.

Stevenson, 99 Hemingway street, William Sipp, 247 Washington street, and Robert Apsey, Jr., 22 Prince avenue, Army; also John P. Bushell, 56 Salisbury street, Air Force. The Army registrants are training at Fort Dix, N. J., and Bushell is at Sampson Air Force Base, New York.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

Without any doubt it can be said that the children's show held by the Winchester Lions Club at the Winchester Theater last Saturday morning was a "howling" success. The theater was filled to capacity with what was probably the largest gathering ever of noisy, happy and excited children under one roof in Winchester. The regular theater staff, under Lion Jay Finn, was supplemented by practically all the members of the Lions Club, who assisted wherever they could.

The program for the children consisted of twelve cartoons in addition to a feature-length movie, "The Adventures of Robin Hood." For many of the youngsters the most enjoyable part of the morning was when the candy and gum were distributed by the Lions as they left the theater.

Mr. Arthur Johns, chairman of the Winchester March of Dimes committee, was among those present at the theater as proceeds of this successful Lions Club project are being donated to the polio drive.

We wish to thank all those who contributed so generously to make the show a success, the merchants who purchased and distributed tickets, the theater staff, and most of all, the parents of the children, without whose suport we never could have been able to put on such a show.

LOUIS GEORGE RONDINA

Louis George Rondina of 121 Highland avenue, retired Boston fruit merchant, died Thursday, January 27, at his home following a long illness.

Mr. Rondina was the son of Joseph and Aurora (Dalli) Rondina. He was born July 30, 1871, in Lucca, Italy, coming to this country as a boy of five years and growing up in Cambridge, where he attended school.

As a young man he went to work in the Faneuil Hall Market in Boston, where he spent his entire business life in the wholesale fruit business. He was for 30 years a partner in the G. Angelo Fruit Company at 425 Market street, Boston, until his retirement in 1928. During that time he was an active member of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange. He came to Winchester from Somerville in 1915. Kindly and tolerant, devoted to his family and friends, he was held in esteem by all who knew him.

On July 11, 1895, Mr. Rondina married Amelia Guida of Cambridge, who survives, with three sons, Arthur L., of Winchester, Edmund P., of North Clarendon, Vt., and Louis H. Rondina of Jaffrey, N. H.; also a daughter, Miss Aurora Rondina of Winchester; and a brother, John, in Santa Anna, Calif.

The funeral was held Monday with services at St. Anthony's Church in Somerville. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Withington, Winchester's director of music.

Two weeks ago, the orchestra of 75 musicians presented its program before an enthusiastic audience in Arlington. Varied sufficiently to meet the tastes of all but the devotees of progressive jazz or the "rock and roll" enthusiasts, the program was equally well received in Winchester.

ARRESTED AFTER CRASH

Officer Frank Tranchita arrested Thomas Sarjeant of Peach Orchard road, Burlington, shortly after 9:30 Saturday night following an accident in which his Mercury convertible coupe figured on the Swanton street bridge. Police say Sarjeant was driving west on the bridge when his car struck the steel brace inside the sidewalk on the bridge. Straddling the brace the car crossed the sidewalk and crashed into a steel upright of the bridge, this preventing the machine from plunging through the wooden outside fence and down onto the railroad tracks below.

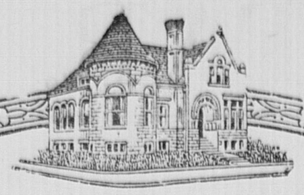

The bridge was damaged and the car so badly wrecked it had to be towed away. Officer Tanchita placed Sarjeant under arrest on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

In Court Monday morning Sarjeant pleaded guilty and was fined $50 on the drunken driving count. The drunkenness count was filed.

An outstanding orator, McDonough is certain to have a most interested audience on the occasion of his visit to Winchester Post.

DR. HOWARD THURMAN

UNITARIANS TO HEAR THURMAN

Dr. Howard Thurman, the Negro preacher who has won national acclaim for his mystical teachings and practical ways of making brotherhood work, will be the guest speaker at the joint dinner meeting of the Women's Alliance and the Men's Club of the Unitarian Church, Thursday evening, February 10th. The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Thurman, who is Dean of Marsh Chapel of Boston University as well as minister-at-large of the Church for the Fellowship of All Peoples in San Francisco.

When Dr. Thurman came to Boston in October 1953 the story of his life and work was featured in the Atlantic Monthly. In her Atlantic Portrait Jean Burden says of him, "Howard Thurman is pioneer, mystic, scholar, poet—all the titles are his. Many people, thinking of his ideal—the erasing of all barriers between God and man, have added another: prophet. His humor is as famous as his eloquence, the unself-conscious grin, the rollicking laughter, particularly at himself, the mischief that always seems to lurk behind his eyes."

Dr. Thurman will speak at 8 o'clock at the Unitarian Church, on the corner of Main street and Mystic Valley Parkway. Supper will be served at 6:30. Reservations may be made through the church office.

TO ADDRESS GUILD

Margaret Boynton Southworth will address the members of the Guild of the Infant Saviour and their guests in Masonic Hall on Tuesday, February 8 at two o'clock. Her lecture theme will be "Color in Your Home."

A graduate of Vassar, she has had fifteen years of lecture experience in the field of interior decorating, as also with silver and china. Her points of interest will concentrate on living room, dining room and bedroom ensembles, for which she will illustrate six different color harmony schemes by use of wall paper, drapery and slip cover materials.

Her associations with very reputable business houses have given Miss Southworth an excellent background and a wealth of material from which to draw, hence her ideas and suggestions should prove most inspirational.

Following the lecture, tea will be served.

RING BELLS FOR RED CROSS

Sometime between February 26 and March 6 your doorbell will ring and you will find a volunteer worker for the 1955 Red Cross Fund Campaign in Winchester calling for your contribution. With your donation contributed toward the local quota of $19,541.00 you may well wonder where your personal financial aid will be used.

It is needed in so many ways that it is difficult to select only a few. However, if your money is used right here in Winchester it can go into any one of a score of activities. A few of these are reviewed briefly.

Hurricanes Carol and Edna accounted for $634.00 in aiding local families in necessary repairs. This is the type of expenditure that must be met immediately, as is any disaster cost.

Like disaster expenditures, when the need for blood arises, it is immediate, not something that can be put off until another day. The Winchester Chapter's portion of local and state expenses for the blood program in 1954 was $700.00 You wonder how many lives that blood saved. 486 pints were collected during the four local Bloodmobile visits, which were staffed by 48 Winchester volunteers each visit. Blood was furnished to Winchester people in St. Elizabeth, Deaconess, Palmer Memorial, Baker, Middlesex County and N. E. Baptist Hospitals.

Another local expenditure that is a real life saver is the Water Safety project. Of the 286 children who enrolled for the eight-weeks swimming program at Leonard Pool and Palmer Beach, 77 completed the course. Cost to the Chapter, $919.00. Value to the children—priceless.

In a later edition of the Star additional activities of a local nature, supported by your contribution, will be listed.

W. S. C. S.

Guest night will be observed by the women of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church at their meeting Thursday, February 10, at 8 p. m.

The Norwegian Glee Club of Boston, a chorus of over twenty male voices, will present a varied program of music. Refreshments will be served by the Wesleyan group with Mrs. Joseph Horvath, Jr., as chairman.

Husbands and other guests are cordially welcome.

The part of the body some people talk with is generally too big for the part they think with.

AMONG SALES LEADERS

Mr. Frank W. Thorp of 28 Pierrepont road was among the sales leaders of International Business Machines Corporation who were honored at a two-day regional convention of the IBM Hundred Percent Club, the company's sales honor organization.

The convention was held at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington on Monday and Tuesday, and was attended by company officials, management representatives and 300 salesmen from IBM offices in nine states.

Similar regional conventions were held last week in San Francisco and Houston. Others will get under way at the Shoreham on February 3 and in Chicago next week.

The program, which included business sessions and sales conferences, featured demonstrations of new products and previews of the company's two new color sound motion pictures.

PARISH PLAYERS IN "DEAR BRUTUS"

The delightful fantasy, and comedy, of four couples who get a "second chance" in life, "Dear Brutus," by James M. Barrie, will be presented by the Parish Players on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 10, 11 and 12, in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. In their 29 years of plays, the Players have never given a Barrie comedy and felt that this year a little whimsy and "Barrie-ism" was in order!

The cast includes several veteran Players, as well as newcomers to the Players, with Thomas A. Morse of the Winchester High School staff playing the delightful role of "Mr. Lob." Miss Darla Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hall, a member of Curtain and Cue at the high school, plays "Margaret," the charming but unreal little daughter of Mr. Purdie (played by William F. Symes). Others in leading roles include Dorothy Clarke Harvey, Marie H. Millican, Constance B. Hessler, Gene Dickson Symes, Shirley B. Puffer, Finn O. Bockmann, Earle F. Spencer, Jr., Arthur Grant Burtnett, Jr. Mr. Harlan F. Grant is the director and Miss Marjorie L. McGaw is chairman of production.

The crew building scenery and staging include Charles A. Brown, chairman, George Croft, John A. Ricker, Jr., Robert Millican, George S. Hebb, Jr., Edwin Eccles, Robert H. Dickson, Charles Brush, and Raymond J. Carter; lighting is by Kendall H. Spencer; stage setting, Mrs. John B. Wills, Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, Mrs. Arthur Hirons; hand properties, Miss Frances Pierce, chairman, Mrs. Margaret Hodgson, Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Joanne Eklund, Constance Gowdy; costumes, Mrs. Robert H. Dickson, Mrs. Robert P. Blake; program and publicity, Mrs. George F. Connor; make-up, Mrs. Florence Grant; tickets, Mrs. J. Waldo Bond.

In charge of coffee during intermission will be Mr. and Mrs. George H. Gowdy on Thursday evening; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, Friday; Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Brown, Saturday. Forum boys who will assist the Players with tickets and at the door include Tim Hill, Brad Ross, Bud Kelley, Bill and Peter Schmink, John McKinley, Philip Pollard, Gordon Fay, and Craig Davenport.

S. O. I. BOWLING

As day turns to night another Thursday is upon us and again we gather at "Strike Lanes" to relax for an evening of enjoyment among our fraternal friends.

It has been a most enjoyable season to date and it has all the earmarks of being a banner year. Without further ado here is the picture at closing time this evening.

Team Standings:

Georgetown	12-4
California	12-4
St. Mary's	12-4
Holy Cross	9-7
Harvard	8-8
Notre Dame	7-9
Alabama	7-9
Boston College	6-10
Yale	4-12
Bates	3-13

Hi Single: Jake Jacobellis 144

Hi Triple: Moose Bellino 367

Top Six Bowlers:

Moose Bellino	103.8
Tony Saraco	103.2
Jake Jacobellis	99.1
Frank DiMambro	97.6
Tony Chefalo	97.
Pete Provinzano	97.

The teams are really ganging up for top honors this second half. There exists as you notice at the present time, a three way tie for top position which tends to make it very interesting to see what the ultimate outcome will be.

The next four teams are also bunched close together on the heels of the leaders. The captains of each team are doing a superb job to maintain a consistant driving spirit in their individual bowlers.

Being the watch dog for violations and infringements of the rules set down by the sports committee, it is most gratifying that it has been a pleasure this season so far. The sportsmanship this year has been more than one could possibly ask for.

The average column tightened this week as "Moose" Bellino faltered with an assist going to "Boss" Dattilo, a bowler on the opposing team, who rattled "Moose" no end.

As this was going on, Tony Saraco picked up 51 pins and thereby now stands with only a fraction of a point separating them at the present in the average column.

Tony Saraco continues to bowl consistently over 300 and has done this for the last 12 weeks out of the last 14 which is a superb piece of bowling in anyone's book. He is still the leader in this department with 12. Those fortunate enough to grace the 300 circle this week are M. J. Saraco, 327; Tony Saraco, 318; "Mingy" Frongillo, 310; "Jeff" Gaudioso, 308; "Pete" Provinzano, 307; "Jake" Jacobellis, 302; William Fiore, 302.

With the consistent help of the parakeets our raffle continues to be a success.

An unusual thing happened this week. The winner of this week's raffle picked his own number out of the box. A long time member of our organization and one who helped build the foundation to support the pillars that followed, your friend and mine, "Musky" Tofuri.

WINCHESTER 54, READING 47

For the ninth straight time a Middlesex League team fell victim to Winchester. At the high school gym last Friday night Reading was the latest victim by the close margin of 54-47. This was indeed an off night for the Sachems for they never seemed to get rolling. The floor shooting, however, was 40% but only because the Indians did not take their usual amount of shots. High scorers were Jim Wright with 13 and John Lynch with 12. Jim Wright was the inspiration in this close game as he shot an amazing 6-9 from the floor. Off the boards John Lynch took in 18 and Jim Wright 14. Wright, Bellino, and Kneeland all had 3 assists while Lou Farrell was tops with 4.

In the first period every one of the five starters scored at least once as the Sachems held a 13-10 lead. In the second period of this low scoring contest the Indians gained three more points to hold a 27-21 advantage at halftime. Reading stumbled in the third period scoring only 7 points to fall behind 40-28 at the beginning of the last quarter. However, the Reading five finished fast scoring 19 points in the fourth period but it wasn't enough as the game ended at 54-47.

The Winchester J. V.s again played a strong game as they routed the Reading Seconds 86-37. Four men hit double figures with scoring honors going to Mark Apsey and Dave Bergquist with 13, and John Chapin and Jim Fitzgerald with 12. Tuesday the Sachems have a tough game with traditional rival Belmont who if they lose one more game are out of the Tech Tourney and as a result will do anything to keep from losing this one.

INDIANS WON THRILLER

TAKE SECOND FROM BELMONT, 62-56

In the most exciting game of the year Winchester defeated Belmont for the second straight time this season, thus eliminating Belmont from the Tech Tourney. It was a carefully played contest which saw the lead change several times, with Winchester ending up on the long end of a 62-56 score. At the end of every period the hometowners led with the score 18-11 at the end of the first period, 31-27 at halftime, and 44-42 at the three quarter mark.

The outstanding contributions to this hard-earned triumph were turned in by John Lynch, with 16 points, and Jim Wright, with 14. John covered the boards well as he grabbed off 22 rebounds. Having a hand in 8 other baskets besides the four he made was Joe Bellino, who contributed 8 assists. Outstanding on defense was Lou Farrell as he held Ned Larkin to 14 points in this crucial game.

As a team the Sachems played well with four men hitting double figures and committing only 23 errors. However, the floor shooting suffered as the Indians hit 23-62 or 37 percent which is below their performances of late.

Led by the prolific scoring of John Chapin and Mark Apsey with 16 and 15 points, respectively, the J. V.s were victorious 68-54. The Seconds showed they have improved considerably as they controlled the game most of the way, by comparison with their narrow 44-38 victory over this same team January 7.

Tonight the basketball team travels to Lexington High School to meet the Minutemen who once again should fall victim to the Indians. The summary:

FIVE GOALS FOR McLAUGHLIN

Charles H. "Sonny" McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McLaughlin of 1 Robinson Park and graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1952, contributed five of the six goals piled up by Norwich University when they defeated Williams College last week.

"Sonny" has been playing varsity hockey at Norwich since his freshman year, and appears to have become the same mainstay he was in his senior year at Winchester High School when leading the baseball and hockey teams.

His military, social and scholastic endeavors have been equally gratifying and his ability and leadership recognized and rewarded. He has been elected junior class vice president, secretary of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, class representative to the Honor Society, and he has been promoted to cadet staff sergeant.

Boy Scout Week marks the completion of the first year of the National Conservation Good Turn the organization has undertaken at the request of President Eisenhower. Units which have qualified will receive National Conservation Good Turn Certificates of Merit awarded jointly by the Secretaries of Agriculture and the Interior, Ezra Taft Benson and Douglas McKay, respectively.

P. A. L. BASKETBALL

In spite of Bixler's 21 points, the Celtics beat the Blackhawks in Monday evening's P. A. L. basketball series at the Washington School, 45-41. Fitzgerald, Stevens and Juliano all hit double figures for the Celts.

The Capitals outclassed the Pistons, 59-32 in another game with Ekstrom scoring 23 and Hooper, 20 points for the winner. Pollard's 12 was high for the losers. The Indians beat the Eagles, 42-36, in the third game, with the scoring well divided on both teams. The summaries:

FASHION DICTATES PLEATS

The satisfaction you get from your pleated garments depends on:
the fiber content of the fabric
the construction of the fabric
the method of pleating used the conditions of pleating—such as temperature, time, cooling, placing the fabric in the form garment design
Pleated garments lose their pleat sharpness and smooth appearance in wear and cleaning.
The pleat lines are not removed in drycleaning, but they do need to be reset for sharpness . . . to give you that well-groomed appearance.
Consult your cleaner regarding the cleaning and re-pleating of your fine garments.
When you buy a pleated garment remember:
● Pleats the same width at the top and bottom, made on the straight of the material, are re-set quite easily.
● Pleats narrow at the top and wider at the bottom are more difficult to re-set.
● Pleats made on the bias of the fabric tend to sag with wear and cleaning.
● Comparatively speaking, pleated garments made of a woven fabric have better pleat retention than garments made of a knit fabric.
● A pleated garment made of a closely-knit fabric has better pleat retention than one made of a loosely-knit fabric.
● Petti-pleated or corrugated pleated garments must be taken apart and sent back to the pleating firm for re-pleating.
REMEMBER: the term "permanent" is relative when used to describe a pleated garment!

Realities of the overhead construction are commencing to multiply. Already the Shell Filling Station has closed its doors and this week the rumor that the First National supermarket was to leave town became a fact. Other rumors concerning the departure of another big business establishment in town haven't been substantiated as yet, but they keep recurring in a way to make one wonder. One thing is for sure, nothing has disrupted the town as the construction of the overhead is likely to do. It is to be hoped that the finished job will be worth the price.

Attention is called to the letter of Mr. Titilah on this page, suggesting a new solution of the town's parking problem, which has been attracting so much attention these days. There seems to be merit in the Titilah plan, and there is no doubt that the moving of Winchester Station north of the center, where there is plenty of adjacent land to care for commuters cars, would release a lot of parking space for shoppers' cars nearer the shopping center. What the objections to the plan are, and there seem to be objections to any parking plan advanced, we wouldn't know, but it seems well worth careful consideration, and doubtless those striving for a solution of the parking problem will give it that, at least. The Selectmen have been conducting parking surveys, assisted by the police and in cooperation with some of the business interests. They have already come up with some interesting parking data, which they will make public soon. Meanwhile we should all be giving this problem thought, for it and zoning are sure to be among the important questions to come before the town meeting in March.

A PARKING SOLUTION!

Editor of the Star:

Regarding the news item in the January 28th Star about the parking problem, it was presented as being extremely critical at this instant, and a solution submitted which was presumed to be a sure cure. I must take exception to some of the statements made, and present one alternate solution.

It was said that, because of the over-pass, forty parking spaces would be lost permanently, and that at one time or another, 275 spaces would be lost. This is not altogether true as far as parking in the Center is concerned, because the figure includes spaces to be lost at Wedgemere and elsewhere, which are not a business area problem.

It is the studied opinion of many thinking citizens that large areas for parking will be available when the construction work is completed, such as both sides of the elevated tracks, plus thousands of square feet in the Skillings Hill and Skillings Path area.

The statement was made that new business is needed. As a matter of fact, light industry is a better source of revenue, and the Town has seemed quite cool to good light industries, i. e. Borden Co., Atomic Energy, General Motors, and others which have located just over the line, in Woburn.

The business men and interests in the Center cry for the need of parking. Along Shore road there is now, and has been for some time, unlimited parking. This area, until lately, has been unused, and it now being used by the people working for the Construction Company.

How can the business men expect customers to use these parking facilities, when the business men themselves will not? And what magic is going to make the same area appealing to potential shoppers? They won't use it now—why should they in the future?

The railroad station and the commuters cause a considerable problem, due to the fact that many people from out of town commute from Winchester and leave their cars all day. As a long-range and permanent solution, I would suggest that the Depot be moved to the triangle that will be formed by the B. & M. main line, the Woburn loop, and the new by-pass road.

Plans are already in effect for moving the station building anyway, and raising it, and to provide ramps and walkways. It does not seem that the cost of relocating it to an area only 300 yards north of the present site would be anywhere near as expensive as acquiring parking areas as suggested by the Planning Board.

The land there is of little or no value at present. South of the by-pass, in the apex of the triangle, will provide ample room for the station, ramps and some parking. Across the new by-pass road would be a vast area for unlimited parking. Hence, all who wish to commute could park for an indefinite time, without interfering with the business in the south of the Center.

This triangular section will be extremely accessible, made possible by the new by-pass, Shore road, and Main street, and seems like an ideal spot when the future of Winchester is considered.

The flow of the brook from Wedge, and the Aberjona from the north will not interfere, as plans are already made to divert these streams. Since the entire space of this project would lie south of Beggs & Cobb, in that area which is now swamp and filled land, this plan would seem to offer nothing objectionable to the residents of the Swanton and Main street sections of the Town.

The time to make this change is NOW. After such a change is completed, the business men would have ample parking provided by the spaces now being used by the commuters, and the space being occupied by the Depot, and the platforms. Further, it would provide the B. & M. R. R. with a more desirable location for its Station; and would obviate the necessity of covering the Aberjona, or changing the Center of the Town materially.

Such a plan would have a good effect on Rangely, in taking away the worry of ever having to be zoned as a business area. The High School facilities would be improved, and there would be no more noisy and distracting stopping and starting of trains in this part of the Town.

Summary—The foregoing would accomplish the following:

The parking problem for merchants on Church and Thompson streets would be solved permanently, at reasonable, if any at all, cost to the Town.

There would be no necessity to bridge the Aberjona, or to take any land in or near Rangely, or to do any rezoning near Rangely.

A new part of the Town would be opened for development, which would require no rezoning, as it is already zoned for business and industry.

Out-of-town commuters would have ample space to park, without interfering with Winchester business, and in fact, might be more inclined to shop here.

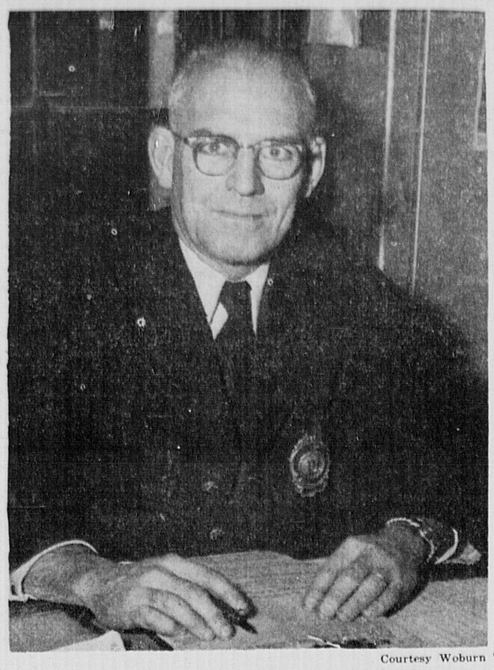

It would equalize the spacing of the railroad stations in Winchester. Wedgemere would still perform its normal function, and the new location of the central Depot would benefit the remainder of the Town.

Now is the time to make the change, for many obvious reasons, because such a change would be impossible once the construction of the overpass is completed.

This plan would require little or no land-taking, and would be the least costly of the several plans submitted so far.

To anyone who, on reading this plan over quickly, is inclined to consider the idea revolutionary, may I suggest that he go to the Town Engineer's office, study the plans of the pending by-pass and over-pass, then go up and walk around the triangular area in question. I am sure that then he will agree that this plan, of relocating the railroad station to that point, has merit.

"DO YOU HAVE YOUR LICENSE WITH YOU!"

Many a tagged motorist has heard these words from the lips of Retired Officer John Murray, desk officer at Winchester Police Headquarters for many years and a member of the department since November 4, 1928. Officer Murray's retirement actually becomes effective Feburary 5, but he has been on vacation and absent from the station for the past two weeks. Prior to being assigned to desk duty, Officer Murray served as a patrolman and as a motorcycle officer in the days when the local department made use of such locomotion. After special training by the state police he established departments of both fingerprinting and photography in the Winchester department, many of his pictures appearing in the local and metropolitan press, while he has fingerprinted literally hundreds, including civil defense personnel during World War II. A native of Winchester, Officer Murray was educated at St. Mary's and Winchester High School. He is a member of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus; of the Massachusetts Police Association; Winchester Police Relief Association; and St. Mary's Holy Name Society. Courteous, efficient and loyal to his job, Officer Murray will be missed at headquarters, both by his associates and by the public as a whole.

GRIM REMINDER FROM A NON-CONFORMIST!

If you'll note the fate of the Skillings Estate,
And the path to the Wedgemere Station,
Then you'll sense with dread what lies ahead
For two years' daily ration.
The stately trees go down in rows,
And what comes next—nobody knows!

TWENTY-PLUS CLUB

The Twenty-Plus Club will hold its monthly meeting Sunday, February 6, in St. Mary's new hall at 8:00 p. m. Fr. Dolphin will present a timely topic of interest to everyone. This will be followed by a social hour and refreshments will be served.

All interested in attending are cordially invited.

THANKS TO ALL!

Editor of the Star:

The mothers, as well as fathers and youngsters, who "marched" last week against polio braved the bitter cold to be rewarded with the best results ever. The fact of three cases of poilo in Winchester and the hope of putting an end to this disease were strong motivators; but the conscienciousness of volunteers and the eager cooperation of our police department, fire department, and church organizations were as strong. To Mrs. Erwin Hutchings, who prepared all of the fine "Mothers' March" publicity, and to the Star for generous acceptance of it, goes deep appreciation.

Very sincerely,
Josephine T. Littleton
Chairman, "Mothers' March"

PARENT FACULTY CARD PARTY

The annual card party of the Parent-Faculty Association will be held in the high school gymnasium next Wednesday evening, February 9. Parents and friends are invited to share in the fun and good fellowship, while aiding the Association. As in the past, the Association aims to contribute various items to be used by the students and faculty in the new high school.

Bridge players, pinochle experts, even cribbage sharks, are welcome, with the advice that they bring their own cards or cribbage boards. Refreshments will be available during the evening. The decorations committee, headed by Mrs. Angelo W. Ghirardini, is planning some colorful decorations, guaranteed to provide an atmosphere of relaxation.

Not without interest is the challege hurled by one Charles Koch, self-styled cribbage champion of Church street, that he will be glad to meet any and all comers. In particular, he addresses Mr. James Coon.

Game time will be at 8 o'clock.

If you have not been solicited by your homeroom mother, you may secure tickets by addressing Mrs. Charles N. Sweetser, chairman of the ticket committee.

Delayed ignition in an oil burner at the home of Diego Fiorenza, 30 Pickering street, caused an explosion in the heater, an alarm from Box 45 calling the local department and Engine I of Woburn to the scene. There was little damage done.

A CLASSIFIED AD IN THE STAR BRINGS RESULTS

MORSE AND WAGHORNE IN CURLING FINALS

The semi-final matches for the Winchester Country Club Young Cup were held Monday evening with victories by Charlie Waghorne and Dan Morse, ably supported by fine Curling of their rinks. Both matches were close and not decided until the 12th end. Rinks and scores were Charlie Eaton, Jake Van Vloten, Russ Symmes and Dan Morse, skip 14 vs. Vince Caputo, Walter Wilcox, Dave Shean and Shorty Carr, skip 9; Bill Ferguson, Tom Righter, George King and Charlie Waghorne, skip 11 vs. Doc Saunders, Bob Roundy, Charlie Siders and Frank Lane 7. The finals will be held next Thursday evening February 10th, at 7:30 p. m. at the Country Club rink. The finals will be 14 ends, a long and hard match.

The Coulson Trophy Competition for the Mixed Curlers is much in everyone's mind now as it is planned to start these matches Saturday and Sunday, February 12th and 13th. These will be sandwiched in with the District Medal matches on Sunday, to get as many matches as possible completed so the rest can be held the following Saturday and Sunday. If that still is not enough time, the semi-finals and finals will be held on Washington's Birthday, Tuesday, February 22. Interest is so keen that 24 rinks may be entered. This will just take time to complete and of course the committee wants everyone in it.

Eaton 8 vs. Joy 6; Fessenden 9 vs. Carr 4; Butters 9 vs. Farnsworth 8; Scott 12 vs. Dolben 6; Bonnell 17 vs. Lane 2; King 10 vs. Symmes 7; Garrity 10 vs. Ferguson 2; Neill 10 vs. Willing 6; Siders 11 vs. K. Fulton 8; Eteson 9 vs. Morse 6.

Plans for curling with the Scots next week are just about complete. On Friday, at Winchester, the rinks are lined up as follows: in the morning, Hills, Garrity, K. Fulton and King, skip; Croston, Siders, Sherran and Lane, skip; Holdsworth, Scott, Bonnell and Stirling, skip. In the afternoon: Fessenden, Roundy, Farnsworth and Neiley, skip; Dyer, Davis, Ingersoll and Morse, skip; Lewis, Burke, Shean and Neill, skip. Saturday morning: Eteson, Waghorne, Carr and Joy, skip, will represent Winchester in the Harris Maxwell match at the Country Club. Saturday afternoon, also at the Country Club, Greiner, Willing, Eaton and Dolben, skip, will curl against the Scots. Friday evening there will be a cocktail party and banquet for the Scots at Winchester and Saturday evening the same at the Country Club. The Nashua curlers will entertain the Scots on Thursday. There are also a number of Winchester curlers listed as spares for last-minute substitutions.

Report from our Quebec rink, just received by "direct wire" from Stan Neill, Bob Ingersoll, Doc Sherran and Tom Stirling is to the effect that they lost their first match to the Baie-Comeau Curing Club 7 to 5 and won from Halifax 12-5. Further report was that it was 24 below zero there Monday and 16 below Tuesday.

Two rinks will be at the Nashua Bonspiel this week-end, consisting of Righter, Scott, Morse and Lane, skip, and Farnsworth, Burke, Carr and Joy, skip.

On Wednesday of this week the women entertained 24 Nashua women curlers here, as a return match for the fine hospitality enjoyed at Nashua a couple of weeks ago.

The next few weeks are chuck full of matches, Bonspiels, Banquets and enjoyment. Otherwise there isn't much doing in the curling line at Winchester.

Pickpockets often drop rifled wallets in mailboxes to avoid being caught with the evidence. An average of 80 such wallets a day reach New York City post offices, says the National Geographic Society. When identification papers are available, they are returned to their rightful owners.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

A cold, frosty night with six inches of snow cut down the size of the audience at the Tuesday night opening of the Sculpture Show, the February exhibit of the Winchester Art Association. On the walls of the gallery in the public library are hung a varied group of prints by the Boston artist, Michael Tulysewski. The sculpture in marble, terra cotta, and rare woods is the work of George Aarons, also of Boston. Several of the pieces are rarely beautiful, modern in concept and yet with great appeal to the lover of a classic or traditional style.

Three educational movies shown in connection with the opening were most informative and answered many questions as to how an art work in three dimensions is achieved. "From Tree Trunk to Head" was, as its name indicates, a step-by-step showing of the sculptor's craft from his first work on the tree trunk with chisel and mallet, until the final polishing and rubbing down with steel wool and wax of the completed head. The sculptor whose busy hands created the miracle was Chaim Gross. The sequence of steps and the human interest element in this movie made it vivid as well as educational.

"Gallery of Modern Sculptors" and "Uncommon Clay" each dealt with visits to famous artists' studios, from Radin and his distinguished pupils to six American sculptors, Paul Manship, Cecil Howard, Wheeler Williams, Donald de Lieuw and James Hurle Fraser.

Everyone present was made aware of the great creative urge and hard muscular labor that goes into the making of an art work in this medium of marble.

Serving refreshments after the meeting were Mrs. John Ellison and Mrs. Shane, assisted by Mrs. Henry Edenborg and Mrs. Frederick Aseltine.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

On Wednesday, January 26, the George Washington School Mothers' Association held its third grade tea at the home of Mrs. Walter Overacker on Wilson street. With pine cones and boughs forming an attractive setting, Mrs. Joseph W. Bogue and Mrs. Joseph McDonough poured, while tasty sandwiches and cakes were served by the tea committee, headed by the room mothers, Mrs. William Branley and Mrs. Walter Overacker, and consisting of Mrs. Leon Arbiene, Mrs. Ernest B. Dade, Mrs. Herman Fischer, Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, Mrs. Robert T. Holland, Mrs. Richard Keppler, Mrs. Edwin Marshall, and Mrs. B. Thomas Preston. Miss Leonor Rich, school principal, discussed the approach to reading with regard to the grade school, while pertinent comments were made by Third-Grade Teachers Mrs. Arthur Graham and Mrs. Gerald Houghton. Miss Rich illustrated her remarks by reading excerpts from an article appearing in a current educational magazine.

WINCHESTER GRANGE No. 343

The regular meeting of Winchester Grange No. 343 was called to order at 8:15 p. m. in Masonic Hall, Tuesday evening, February 1, by Worthy Master Jane Cudmore. Sister Beatrice Parlin, W. M. of Stoneham Grange, was escorted to a seat at the right of the Master. Thank you notes were received from Sisters Mary Manzie and Marguerite Hanlon for remembrances while they were ill. Corporal Joseph Mullen, P.M., wrote a nice thank you for our Christmas remembrance.

Regional meetings are now being held over the state. The nearest one to us will be at Somerville on March 12th.

Janet E. Manzie was elected to the office of steward for the remainder of the year to fill a vacancy.

Worthy Flora reported that Sister May Roberts was in the hospital. The Worthy Lecturer announced that our next meeting, February 15, will be our 41st anniversary and that the Worthy State Master E. Gerry Mansfield will be our special guest.

W. M. Cudmore recognized the following: Sister Naomi Butler, president of the M. E. Past Masters' Association; Sister Helene Mayhew, president of M. E. Lecturers' Circle; and Sister Beatrice Parlin, Master of Stoneham Grange, who invited all to visit with Stoneham at any time.

Neighboring Grangers were present from Stoneham, Reading, Bedford, Wakefield, and Woburn.

Following the meeting the Lecturer, Eleanor Hardy, presented Mrs. Mary F. Russo of Newtonville. Mrs. Russo gave a most interesting talk on the history of textile printing and then demonstrated her method of linoleum block printing. She told us the best type of linoleum to use and the tools used for carving. She explained in detail how different prints could be made from one design by cutting away either inside or outside the pattern. Mrs. Russo then prepared a brown linen handkerchief for printing with a white design. She printed the design twice and then called for members to try it. With the aid of these members and her ingenuity she ended up with a lovely handkerchief decorated with flowers and butterflies. Mrs. Elsie Mobbs was the lucky winner of this handkerchief. Mrs. Russo has exhibited at fairs and appeared on TV. She displayed many attractive articles: pinafores, bibs, napkins, aprons, etc., which she had on sale. After Mrs. Russo's talk the refreshment committee served gingerbread with whipped cream and hot coffee.

EPIPHANY GROUP TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

A large group of parishioners of the Church of the Epiphany is planning to attend two week-end conferences this week end and next at the church conference center at Whitinsville. A different group will go each week end, arriving in time for diner on Friday night and leaving after dinner on Sunday afternoon. They will study the basic purpose of a parish, the deepest needs of men and women, and how a parish can meet those needs.

These Parish Life Conferences are being held all over the country under the auspices of the National Council of the Episcopal Church.

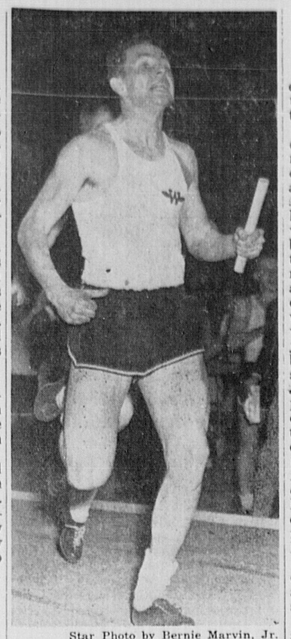

Last week end the rector of the Church of the Epiphany, the Rev. John W. Ellison, led the first one in the Diocese of Rhode Island. So important do the educational leaders of the church feel these conferences are, that no one may teach the new Episcopal material in the church school unless he or she has attended one.

The conference this week end will be led by the Rev. Frederick Phinney of the Church of Our Saviour, Brookline. Those who will attend it are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. William Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Page, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. William Holdich, Mrs. Merton Grush, Mrs. Christopher Billman, Mrs. Harold Blanchard, Miss Hilda Hope, and Miss Ethel Davis.

The conference next week end will be led by the Rev. Donald Allen, rector of Grace Church, Salem, and those who will attend it are Mr. and Mrs. John K. Colony, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brown, Dr. and Mrs. William Wilson, Mr. George Billman, Miss Katherine Philbrick, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Little, Mr. and Mrs. William Towner, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hultgren, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Randlett, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Masi, Mrs. Donald Withers, Mrs. Charles Gorder, and Mrs. Richard Frye.

BREAKING THE TAPE! CHARLIE GOVOSTES KICKS WINCHESTER RELAY TEAM HOME A WINNER OVER WELLESLEY

WINCHESTER SCORED IN SCHOOLBOY GAMES

A small group of Winchester High School track and field men, handled by Cross Country Coach Tommy Morse, made a surprisingly good showing in the B. A. A. Schoolboy Games at the Boston Garden last Saturday, placing fifth in the Class D competition, only a point off the scores of Concord and Jamaica Plain who tied for third with 16. Milton won Class D with 22 points. Needham was second with 16½.

Winchester wasn't too well prepared for the meet, having no facilities for indoor track. The boys had two informal meets with Malden, and worked a bit on starts in the gym, also jogging about on Manchester Field to strengthen legs and wind.

Even with such a handicap the Indians made a fine showing, and had they had a bit better luck in spots, could easily have finished second, and perhaps won the Division.

Big Tim Hennessey and Rich Rimbach were the Indians' first place winners, Tim getting the 12 pound indoor shot out 45 ft. 2½ in. on his winning effort and Rich taking the high jump at 5 ft 9½ in. Hennessey's put, while good, is still a foot short of Johnny West's record put of 46 ft. 9¼ in. made in 1946, but Rimbach's leap eclipsed the best previously recorded Winchester effort, 5 ft. 8½ in. by Fred Lindberg in 1943. Since indoor efforts do not go into the record books, Rimbach's jump is simply recorded as a noteworthy performance, but Rich is serving notice early that Lindberg's mark is going to be in danger this spring. Incidentally the bar was actually cleared by Rimbach at 5 ft. 10 in. but Coach Morse took his measurement at a slight sag in the stick.

Paul Franson won his heat in the mile with a 4m 48.6s clocking. With places awarded on times this was good for a fourth place, but Paul was unfortunate in drawing a slow heat, and with little opportunity to sharpen his judgment of pace the Winchester boy, running to win, failed to go as fast as he could. Coach Morse figures he had enough running in him to have finished second had he been pushed.

George Bodman finished fourth in the 50 yard dash, after tying the State meet record of 5.7s in the semi-finals. Dave Lindsey qualified for the final of the 300 yard dash, but due to inexperience, ran out of his lane in the final and was disqualified after being edged out for premier honors by John Wilcox of Milton. Finishing second in such competition is real good going for a sophomore.

Charlie Govostes, Winchester's strongest 300 yard runner, got boxed in his heat of the 300 and couldn't place. Much more experienced boys than Charlie have met a similar fate in these 300 yard scrambles.

Govostes did a great job for Winchester in the relay, starting the final leg 12 yards behind the Wellesley anchor runner and winning by a long stride 'Charlie" cut the Wellesley lead to five yards on the back stretch of the final lap, and banged off the last bank with a great kick to pass the Wellesley boy and hold his short lead to the tape.

The Winchester-Wellesley race was the best of the afternoon, but the time was not as good as some of the others, giving the Indians only a fifth in the final standing. Dave Lindsey, Rowe Ghirardini and Herb Gardner ran before Govostes in that order.

Herb Gardner reached the semi-finals of the 50 yard dash, placing third in that heat in which only two qualified. Ghirardini, running the hurdles, drew the fastest heat of the afternoon and failed to qualify by the proverbial whisker.

Dick Borggaard was entered in the 1,000 yard run, and expected to pick up a point or two there. However in the confusion at the starting line Dick didn't hear his name called, if it was called, and failed to report. No one heard his name called and it could be it didn't get to the clerk of course, or he overlooked it.

At all events Dick didn't get to run, and another good distance man, "Ozzie" Osborne, was prevented from running by illness. "Ozzie", in Coach Morse's opinion, would have been a good bet to place one-two in the 1,000 as he is a great competitor.

THE TEEN SCENE

by Carol Ashenden

Isn't it a great feeling to have exams behind us again, even though report cards came out again today?

Freshmen made up a large part of the crowd in the gym Saturday night at the annual mid-winter dance sponsored by the athletic association. Bob Donahue's band supplied the music for the "Penthouse Serenade." The decorations were highlighted by a huge yellow balloon hanging from the center of the ceiling which represented the moon over the city. The card tables along the walls were something different, and the entertainment was better than ever. To begin with, the three "Snelling Sisters" joined their voices for several numbers. The freshmen entered the spotlight a few minutes later, when Jean Elliot and Paul Sullivan surprised everyone with their terrific dance act. Dressed in the gay costumes of the '20's, they really did quite a job on the Charleston! (How did you like that long fringe?) "Two Plus One," a trio composed of Gretchen Luitweiler, Herb Gardener and Bill Eriksen closed the intermission with several renditions in their swinging, Dixieland style.

Judy Molier was back in town during the past week. It seems that she doesn't like Florida, although she looks as if it agreed with her!

Rich Rimbach and Tim Hennessey both won state championships in the track meet at the Boston Garden last Saturday. Rich won the championship for the high jump, and Tim won the shot put. Congratulations, boys!

Two weeks ago Debbie Norris and Judy Dellicker had parties.

Rehearsals for the junior-senior play have been going on for quite a while. They are going to present "Pride and Prejudice" on Saturday, February 19.

Some fo the senior girls have gotten together their own basketball team. They play on Saturday mornings against the Forum girls.

Jean Elliot had an open house for the freshmen last Thursday night. Most of the freshmen were lucky enough to have finished their exams by then.

After the game Friday night, which we won over Reading 54-47, Janet Fisher had an open house for the seniors. Nearly everyone else came to my house.

Congratulations to Captain Wayne Cowles! Wayne is the highest-scoring high school hockey player in the state. By Monday of this week he already had 34 points to his credit this season and probably several more by this time.

The half of the world able to make ends meet is unable to understand why the other half is always short.

DR. JOHN A. REULING

MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church will hold its next luncheon meeting on Tuesday, February 8. We look forward with special interest to this meeting, for our speaker will be Dr. John A. Reuling, Secretary for Africa, American Foreign Missions. He will speak on "Problems of Present-day Africa," and no one is better equipped to discuss these momentous questions with us, for he has spent most of his life there and has recently returned from a five months visit to South Africa, Rhodesia, and Angola.

Dr. Reuling has made three comprehensive visits to Africa since 1946 when he became Secretary for Africa. Prior to that time he had been a teacher among the Bantus in Adams, South Africa, for fourteen years. For a period between service in the field in Africa and his present position, he was president of Northland College, Wisconsin.

Nebraska-born, Dr. Reuling spent his early life in Wisconsin and was educated at Michigan State College and Cornell University. Both in America and in Africa he was active in the Boy Scout movement and founded several troops among the Bantu boys.

The importance and timeliness of Dr. Reuling's message next Tuesday should bring every member of Mission Union to his meeting. One of the most valuable aspects will be the opportunity to ask questions and discuss the vital and throbbing problems of Africa today. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all women in the church and also to others in the community who may be interested.

Mrs. Norman J. Padelford will lead the worship service. The luncheon is at one o'clock with Mrs. Carl Richmond as chairman. Dr. Reuling will speak at two o'clock.

DR. HILDA L. IVES

THE SENIOR FORUM

Rev. Hilda L. Ives will come from Portland, Maine, this Sunday to speak at the Forum chapel service at 9:30. In accord with the over-all theme for February of "Knowing God Through Our World Neighbors," Mrs. Ives has selected as her subject, "No Strangers Among Christians."

Mrs. Ives, a mother of five children and a grandmother, has had an interesting and rewarding career of service in the work of the church. Following the death of her husband, she studied for the ministry and after her ordination served as pastor and organizer of parishes through the needy rural districts of Maine. Recognition of her ability resulted in her appointment as head of the New England Town and Country Church Commission, as professor at Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, and as a member of the National Council of Churches of America. In the international field she served as delegate to the Madras Conference in India and on the Friends Service Committee in the French Zone of Germany after the War. Her fine message, delivered with a rare sense of humor and enthusiasm, has made Mrs. Ives one of Forum's best-loved speakers.

The chaplain for this service will be Sandra Chapman, assisted by Joan Morrison. The deacons will be Douglas Gowdy and Peter Gowing; and ushers will be Brad Ross and Tom Sawyer.

Mr. Lewis Foster of Lloyd street is a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the testimonial dinner and reception to be given Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, newly elected general secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention by a large group of State Baptists and denominational leaders. Under the auspices of the board of directors of the Convention, the affair will be held at the Tremont Temple Baptist Church in Boston, Tuesday, February 15.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NEWS

Many Winchester people will be interested in an article recently published by a former resident of the town. Richard S. Leghorn, an executive of the Eastman Kodak Company and Colonel, United States Air Force Reserve, has written a long discussion of nuclear warfare, "No need to bomb cities to win war." This feature article appears in the January 28th issue of the U. S. News and World Report.

Colonel Leghorn, a graduate in physics from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, served in World War II, participated in the Bikini atomic tests and was on active duty in the Office of Development Planning in the United States Air Force until 1953. He presents a new counter-strategy for air warfare, using nuclear weapons against solely military targets and leaving industrial and population centers free. Retaliation in kind would be inflicted on an aggressor. Colonel Leghorn discusses civil defense and its part in the new strategy, and he calls for a revision of the Army, Navy and Air Force organizations.

Anyone interested in this timely subject will find the "U. S. News and World Report," January 28th, at the Library.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Wyman School's chapter of the Junior Red Cross held its monthly meeting on January 21. After the reading of the secretary's and treasurer's reports by Thomas Bateman and Deborah Nichols, Vice-President David Moncy outlined the service project for the month, which is the filling of Red Cross gift boxes.

Following these reports, President Betsey Cedarholm spoke to the group on the subject of courtesy, reminding us that good manners can be fun. We are judged by the manners we use, she said, and courtesy at school, in the home, and in the community, should become a habit.

Several thank you letters for our Christmas work were read by the class representatives from grades 3, 4, 5, and 6.

Indian Harvest Assembly

The third graders in Mrs. Myrtle Dodge's room entertained their parents and friends at an Indian Assembly recently. The large tepee which occupied the center of the stage, the colorful costumes, and the realistic tom-toms, all were made by the youngsters themselves, with only a "little help" from teacher and parents.

Janice Wolff led the audience in the opening exercises, and the cast for the rest of the program was as follows:

Two Braves	Carl Fontneau, Richard Kirkpatrick
Chief	Richard Russo
Medicine Man	Barry Johnson
Visitors: Marcia Bird, Jeffrey Russell, Joan Wolff, Diane Kittredge,	Pamela Rozett, Wheeler, Janice Maureen Gill

NEW SQUAM LAKE CHART

This chart of New Hampshire's Squam Lake makes this seven-mile-long body of water one of the world's best-mapped small lakes.

Completely redrafted and edited by Bradford Washburn, Director of the Museum of Science in Boston and a noted Alaskan explorer and mapmaker, the chart is certain to be a boon to pilots and fishermen who frequent the popular resort lake. All shoals more than 100 feet offshore have been located precisely, and all obstructions less than five feet deep are indicated. More than 2,000 soundings were taken during the two-year project, more than half of them in the wintertime through ice.

While Squam is only six and three-quarter miles at its longest, accurately mapping it is a major undertaking because of its numerous islands, narrow twisting channels and 78-mile shoreline. It has a total of 70 islands, and at no spot can you get more than one-half mile from land.

The new map, like the previous two editions, is based on a series of 97 vertical aerial photographs—the first ever taken of the lake—made in August, 1935 at an altitude of 10,000 feet by Mr. Washburn and Sidney Bonnick, who made historic aerial photos of Labrador for Dr. Alexander Forbes. From a mosaic of these pictures, made by Edward S. Wood, Jr., of the Sewall Company, Old Town, Maine, a detailed map of the lake was prepared by Mr. Washburn and Edward A. Schmitz, at the Harvard University Institute of Geographical Exploration, in the spring of 1936. It was first printed by the Squam Lake Improvement Association that summer.

A joint publication of the Museum of Science and the Squam Lake Association, the new chart is the product of cooperative effort by many interested individuals and groups. Hundreds of hours of volunteer field work, drafting and interpretation of photographs were contributed by Mr. Washburn. Assisting him in making extensive studies of the lake and in investigation of its shoals and reefs, as well as with the detailed soundings, was Ronald E. Towne of Bristol, N. H. His services were partly on a volunteer basis and partly made possible through the cooperation of the State of New Hampshire, for which he has been working on a lengthy study of the fish of Squam Lake.

CLASS PLAY IN REHEARSAL

Preparations for the annual Junior-Senior Class Play, to be presented on February 19, are well underway at the high school. This year's play, a dramatization of Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice," represents one of the more ambitious productions of recent years. Once again the cast is under the direction of Mr. Thomas A. Morse, speech instructor and dramatic coach.

With an older generation of readers, Jane Austen's gentle satire on the manners and mores of the English country gentry at the beginning of the 19th century was a perennial favorite. Retaining all its dry humor, and without departing widely from the text, Jane Kendall has rewritten the story as a romantic comedy in three acts.

The cast of sixteen juniors and seniors includes veterans of previous school plays as well as several capable newcomers. Seth Weston, who will be remembered for his roles in "The Fortune Teller" and "Follow the Dream," plays the part of Mr. Bennet, the long-suffering husband and father. His light-headed, match-making wife is played by Nancy Corey.

Cast in the roles of the young ladies in search of husbands are Leanne Beukelman, Cathy deRivera, Janet Fisher, Elizabeth Hood, and Gretchen Long. Brad Johnson, Don Folkers, and Paul Donlon are the eligible young bachelors.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY

On Monday evening, February 7, over fifty candidates are expected to be received into the St. Mary's Blessed Virgin Sodality. The Solemn ceremony will take place in the lower church at 7:45. Guest speaker for the event will be Rev. John J. Grant, Associate Editor of the Pilot, more recently known as one of the "Committee of Seven" who conferred with the convicts and officials in the recent prison revolt which finally ended in peaceful surrender. The Service will close with the recitation of the Rosary and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

A reception will follow at St. Mary's new hall. The following committees have been busy for the past few weeks to make this a happy occasion for all members of the Sodality both new ones and old.

Reception Committee: Mrs. Henry Barry, Mrs. Maurice Connor, Mrs. Margaret Murray, Mrs. Frank Hurley, Miss Abbie Callahan, Miss Mary Martin, Mrs. James Marchant, Mrs. Joseph Foley, Mrs. John Gibbons, Mrs. Manlino Moffett.

Another delightful person was Phyllis O'Neil of the exquisite throaty voice and cajoling glance, whose tempting "Can Can" number was exciting to see. Equally appreciated was her "Mambo" and "A Good Man Is Hard To Find." She has such an alive personality that she makes her songs sparkle and glow—which is wonderful for a cabaret show.

Nancy Simons, in her dowdy travelling costume, singing "I Met Him In Boston" brought many chuckles, for everyone loves a little fun about Harvard, the bean, the cod, the Public Gardens. But even in burlesque, Miss Simons did not disguise her really nice full voice.

Carrick Kennedy, very handsome in evening clothes, sang "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby"—and presto, on the last note of his fine tenor voice, came six "beautiful babies"—Marni Agnew, Betsy Callaham, Trudi Irving, Jackie Blanchard, Joan Walton, and Anne Wild—in striking French gowns. They danced into the audience, found six unwilling gentlemen and got them onto the stage—whereupon they decked those same gentlemen in bibs, bonnets, bottles and rattle— and left them there! It was, needless to add, a terrific hit!

Bob Dickson and Bettina Harrison presented an amusing and clever pantomime of a prop man carrying parts of a window store dummy—and getting the dummy's legs confused with Mrs. Harrison's. Another clever acting bit was provided at intervals during the cabaret by Mrs. Harrison with Paulett Taggart, who were the "chatty sightseers."

Another number which this review thought very inspiring was the "S. S. Wintonettes," with 16 pretty Winton members in a drill, wearing trim yellow work aprons and caps, and doing very well in the precision motions of the drill. One enjoyed watching them (and one couldn't help thinking "these ladies not only look good, they also do a great deal of work for the Winchester Hospital, bless 'em!)

There are a good many bouquets one might hand out seeing this 1955 cabaret—to the men in the ballet, who were such good sports and who provided such hilarity about their ballet costumes—to the choruses, to the Johnson sisters of the wonderful acrobatic dances—to the scenery and costume people—to Dr. Crosby Kelley for good sound equipment, to Mrs. Carrick Kennedy who was chairman of the cabaret.

We also have one or two suggestions, too. We enjoyed Irene Lambert singing the burlesque of "Tell Me That You Love Me Tonight," but one wishes, at the end, she would have sung the lovely song straight—to leave a nice sound in the ears. It would have been pleasant to have heard Gene and Bill Symes once more, in the second act perhaps—and perhaps just one more solo number, or a good dance team. But this is only a small suggestion, because the "S. S. Winton" was well done, and it was indeed a fine evening's entertainment.

Ed Sterling, Star linotyper came in from his lunch hour Tuesday, wearing a broad smile and carrying a good sized carton, bearing a German label. It seems the box contained "lebkuchen" for his wife, Maria, from Mrs. Sterling's mother, Mrs. Elise Hertlein in Nurnburg, Germany. Every so often a similar box arrives at the Sterling home, to be greeted with great glee by all the family, for Mrs. Hertlein is an excellent cook and Nurnburg is headquarters for lebkuchen and other goodies. "Ed" didn't exactly mount guard on his box from Germany, but he kept a weather eye peeled, though Larry Penta assured him he'd rather have a submarine sandwich than anything in the carton!

FLORENCE CRITTENTON FASHION SHOW

The Florence Crittenton League of Winchester is presenting a spring fashion show and dessert Wednesday, February 16, at 1:15 p. m. at the First Congregational Church.

Mrs. James M. Beale and Mrs. E. Ober Pride are in charge of tickets, reservations and all financial matters connected with the fashion show. Decorations for the hall are in the able hands of Mrs. Don Greer, and for the tea tables Mrs. John I. Lynch has assumed responsibility.

Mrs. Walter D. Abbott and her tea committee will be in charge of the dessert and coffee, and have specified the desserts desired, but it will still probably be hard to make a decision when confronted with a choice of so many tempting pastries. Mrs. Henry Delliker has selected several High School girls whose pleasant duty it will be to assist in the serving of these delectable desserts and the coffee.

Working behind the scenes and helping coordinate the actual fashion show itself will be Mrs. Robert Reynolds. Mr. Paul Alexander Ross will be the commentator, and is bringing all his own models with him this year. Mrs. Blanchard will be at the piano to set the musical mood, and provide just the proper background music to suit each change of fashion scene.

Posters about town are the work of Mrs. Wendell Irving, assisted by Cynthia Dunn daughter of the Circle's President, Mrs. Paul Dunn.

The background work for all this activity was laid many weeks ago when Miss Helen Neidringhaus, ways and means chairman, entertained her committee members at a morning sherry, and outlined plans and assigned responsibilities. Working with her for the success of this venture are others not previously specifically mentioned. Among them are: Mrs. Paul Atwood, Mrs. McHenry Brown, Mrs. Frank Herrick, Mrs. Frank Knight, Mrs. Clifton Linnell, Mrs. Henry Marcionette, Mrs. J. Howard Macauley, and Mrs. William I. Palmer. Mrs. Albert Fisher and Mrs. Rowland Patrick are responsible for publicity.

The Chairman, Miss Neidringhaus is having a final committee meeting today that all aspects of the afternoon's production may be syncronized, so that all may have the most enjoyable afternoon possible. See you there.

DeCOURCY HOME BADLY BURNED

A two-alarm fire early Tuesday morning badly burned the old Stone house at 136 Washington street, long a Winchester landmark and now the home of Mr. Harold F. DeCourcy. Winchester firefighters had a stiff five-hour battle with flames and smoke before the blaze was finally extinguished.

It is a bit ironical that the DeCourcy home should be so badly burned. Mr. DeCourcy is himself chief of the fire department at the Bedford airport and son of Retired Fire Chief David H. DeCourcy, who headed the Winchester department for many years. The present chief, James E. Callahan, feels it very fortunate that the DeCourcys escaped unharmed from their burning home.

The fire was discovered about 4:45 when "Jackie," second of the DeCourcy sons, awoke and smelled smoke. Brought up in a fire-conscious family, he immediately awakened his father, and Chief DeCourcy's trained senses took in at once the seriousness of the situation.

Evacuating his wife and sons, David, 17; Jackie, 11; and Paul, 7; by way of the front of the house, comparatively clear of smoke at that time, Chief DeCourcy immediately phoned fire headquarters, where Box 36 was sounded at 4:47 a. m. A second alarm was sounded at 4:55, as soon as Fire Chief Callahan noted the serious nature of the fire.

REV. JOHN SNOOK, JR.

PASTOR BEGINS EIGHTH YEAR

This coming Sunday marks the beginning of the eighth year of the pastorate of Rev. John Snook, Jr., of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Peculiarly enough, Rev. Mr. Snook was absent on the first Sunday of his appointment. Many will remember the snow storms of the winter of 1947 and 1948. Conditions were so bad that it was decided to wait a week and Dr. Ralph Decker substituted the first Sunday.

The pastor wishes to express the sincere thanks of his family and himself for the gracious way the people of the parish and community have received the family. It has been a joy through the years to serve in a community where so many people understand the task of the minister as a servant of the people.

All Protestant Youth will want to be present and share in this Rally, which has been planned by the Winchester Youth Council.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Voters of Winchester:

I am a candidate for School Committeeman at the coming town election, and am making this announcement in plenty of time for all those who like to know about a candidate's qualifications to measure mine against the difficulties inherent in the job I seek.

Service on the School Committee has been difficult, especially so in recent years, and it isn't likely to be any easier in the years that are right ahead.

I know all this, and still would like to offer myself and such abilities as I possess to the town as a member of the School Committee, to work on the problems that are sure to present themselves and try to find solutions satisfactory to the town as a whole.

My residence in town is only 15 years, but I married a Winchester girl and through active participation in Scouting, Little League, Church and the Lincoln School Dads' Club I feel that I have sufficient background to approach school questions from the community standpoint.

I have a boy now in the Winchester schools and two pre-school daughters, which will give me a vital interest in our schools for some time. I surely want to give my youngsters, as well as all the boys and girls of Winchester, the best possible schools within the ability of the town to pay.

Please call if you have any question about me, my qualifications or my feeling on school questions in which you may have an interest. Future issues of the Star will list more fully my qualifications for the office I seek. I am hoping you will weigh them and my desire to serve the town as School Committeeman. If they appeal to you, I will be glad of any support you may care to give my candidacy.

The railroad announced that present service of No. 3320 from Lowell to Boston will be substantially covered beginning Monday, March 7, by routing train No. 310 from Concord, N. H., which leaves Lowell at 10:20 a. m. and will make additional stops at Wilmington at 10:33, at Woburn at 10:45, and Winchester at 10:49, arriving in Boston at 11:05 a. m.

In addition, the railroad announced that train No. 5, leaving Boston at 9:00 a. m. enroute to Concord, N. H., and White River Jct., Vt., will include a stop at Winchester at 9:12 a. m. beginning Monday, March 7.

Collectors' kits will be given out and any questions which the volunteers may wish to ask will be answered at that time.

TRACTOR DUNKED IN BIG WINTER

An unusual accident occurred at Big Winter Pond last Friday when a tractor being used by the park department to scrape the ice surface broke through into about four feet of water near shore at the Marvin home off Chesterford road.

The tractor broke through the ice at about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, while being run by Tom Walsh, park department employee. Immediate efforts to get the machine back onto firm ice failed and Park Superintendent Stanley "Babe" Mullen appealed to the tree department for assistance.

Under Superintendent "Ed" McKenzie, the tree department took up a position with a winch-equipped truck on Woodside road, and from the winch nearly 600 feet of heavy line was played out across the pond to the tractor in the water.

On the other side of the pond at the shore line near the tractor a block and fall was rigged on some trees, and as the winch pulled, the block and fall lifted, finally getting the truck out of the water and onto firm ice again.

It wasn't anywhere near as easy to accomplish this as it may seem, due to the thickness of the ice surrounding the tractor. Before it was possible to get the machine out it was necessary to break the ice in front of the wheels with heavy crowbars and insert planks as runways.

Once on the ice, the tractor was turned around and pulled across the pond by the park department winch. From the pond it was pulled up onto Chesterford road by the park department men, using Bonnell Motors' wrecker. At exactly 7 o'clock the tractor was towed into Bonnell's Garage, one of its back tires blown, and its crank-case and hydraulic system full of water.

Whether Superintendent Mullen could have gotten the tractor out sooner had he listened to the gratuitous advice of the many shoreside experts attracted by the mishap is, of course, a question!

AUXILIARY POLICE NOTES

Many of the newer residents of Winchester may not be aware of the well-trained, volunteer group who serve the town as auxiliary police. Instituted before the outbreak of World War II, they have been in continuous existence since that time. Many of the original members are still actively engaged in its work.

This division of our Civil Defense organization has always answered the call for any emergency in the town. Typical examples were during the two hurricanes last fall, when men of this department were of great assistance to the regular force.

To further the scope of its activities outside official work, members have formed the Winchester Auxiliary Police Association. Business meetings are held the first Thursday of each month, and target practice and special programs come on the remaining Thursdays.

Last Thursday the meeting was held at the guard room of the police station, where Bob Johnston (not to be confused with our well-known auxiliary police chief) presented a talk on apprehending car thefts, and showed a police training film on the subject. This meeting was aranged through the program chairman, Carl Dane. Members of the Woburn Auxiliary Police were invited as guests.

Plan to be down at the range next Thursday, as we have been challenged to several matches, and practice is still needed.

He is also a member of the International Association of Industrial Commissioners, chairman of the Subcommittee on Industrial Relations of the American College of Surgeons, and medical director of the Liberty Mutual Rehabilitation Center.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

A Valentine dessert will open the meeting of The Fortnightly on Monday, February 14, at one o'clock, at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Myron Holmes, Eighth District director, will be the guest of the day.

After a business meeting at 2 p. m., at which Mrs. Moody, the president, will preside, a very interesting program will be presented by Faith Kurt Tibero, "Gardens from Naples to the Alps," illustrated by colored slides.

Gifts for the women of the Veterans' Hospital are still greatly needed. Please bring a contribution Monday.

Art Committee Trip

On Friday, February 4, the art committee, Mrs. Paul H. Howard, chairman, sponsored a trip to the Massachusetts School of Art. Fifteen members of The Fortnightly enjoyed a luncheon at the Smith House. They then drove to the school, where the president, Mrs. Gordon L. Reynolds, gave an informal talk on the aims of the school and how they sought to carry them out. Afterwards, members visited classrooms for demonstration and exhibition of the various types of art work, such as fabric and costume design, sketching, painting, modelling, ceramics. The guests were shown the equipment used by the students, including material for theatre arts. It was a very informative and enjoyable afternoon.

Literature Committee

Continuing the survey of American literature in several of its branches, the literature committee gave its attention on Monday afternoon (in the public library) to the growth of story-telling from colonial days to the present: "Varied Crops in the Field of Fiction" was most thoroughly presented by Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard, chairman. The breaking away from English traditions, the influence of the migration westward, the drastic changes from romance to realism, the clinical approach, today's commercialism to the exclusion of literary art, all were noted in the output of historical, family, mystery, and psychological novels.

Fiction "holds a mirror up to life" and records a country's economic as well as social development. The quality of today's fiction does not compare favorably with its past. Many writers scorn even the word "culture" and the art of writing good prose. Fiction has been outdistanced by biography and reportorial stories of personal experiences. If America has "come of age" its literature should reflect more fo the positive values and enduring spiritual currents that made our country great.

Ticket sales for the junior-senior play, "Pride and Prejudice," are already well under way. The seniors are frantically pushing sales in order to fill their class treasury.

Winchester completed a successful ice hockey season on Monday, as they tied their last scheduled game 1 - 1 against New Prep at the Boston Skating Club. A 4-2 victory over Milton Academy on Friday, and their victory of 5-3 at Exeter Academy on Saturday, brought the season's record to fourteen wins, one tie and two losses. It's too bad that more of you kids didn't get out to watch the team play this winter.

Becky Fish is also taking a vacation from school; she's recovering from an appendectomy that so sadly interrupted her exams!

Joannie Sweetser was brave enough to open her home to the basketball fans Friday night after the game in Lexington's new gym. I can hardly wait until our new gym is finished!

The freshmen had dancing school again on Saturday. Carol Fisher had a dinner party beforehand and Joe Donavan had a party after the dance. Noel Gove had a get-together for the freshmen girls on Sunday afternoon.

Last Thursday afternoon the freshmen girls went over to Sally Kimball's for one last party before report cards came out.

A busload of seniors went up to Mount Pero in Plymouth, N. H., for a week end of skiing and skating. Their bus broke down just as they reached Plymouth and they had to return by train late Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Wright went along as chaperones.

Half a dozen junior couples spent an enjoyable evening at Barbara Eaton's last Saturday, dancing and playing ping-pong.

Mr. Dellicker was lucky enough to sell his old car to Joe Rotundi at a surprise party that Judy had for Phyllis Schiraga last week end.

The assembly last Friday morning was an excellent concert put on by the combined orchestras of Winchester and Arlington. Mr. L. Hassler Einzig of Arlington, and Mr. Theodore Janner and Mr. Wendell Withington from the high school conducted the program.

INDIANS ROUT WAKEFIELD

In a game which never was a contest the Winchester team ran its winning skein to 15 straight games this season by routing Wakefield Tuesday afternoon in the high school gym, 85-36.

Six men hit double figures as the Sachems ran up their highest total so far this season. John Lynch and Joe Bellino of the starters each had 14 points with Bob Smith of the J. V.s doing a good job with 13 points.

Fourteen players saw action in this game as the Indians shot 42 percent from the floor with Lou Farrell hitting 6-10. Off the boards John Lynch made 22 grabs. Joe Bellino, with seven assists, set up many baskets with his fine passing.

The Winchester J. V.s remained undefeated as they won 78-50. Renny Johnston played a strong game as he hit for 16 points followed by John Chapin with 13.

Tonight the Sachems take on Stoneham again and for the second time at home due to the fact that Stoneham's gym is not available. The Indians should continue their winning ways as they look ahead to the Tech Tourney for which they have qualified by winning 65% of their games this season.

FROM THE LONE STAR STATE

The Star received this week its annual note from "Charlie" Dolan, charter member of the old "Tourists Club," now far afield in Dallas, Texas, where he is associated with the Taylor Publishing Company, lithographers and bookbinders.

"Charlie," a former high school three sport athlete, has been following this year's basketball team with interest and great pleasure. He sends along his congratulations to former Coach Ted Bartlett for a great job of grounding the boys and to the present coach, Jim Phillips, for handling the fine material he inherited intelligently.

Dolan also sends regards to "The Deac," "Gegan" Flaherty, "Robbie," Mobbs, Lynch and any others of the old "Tourists" surviving hereabouts.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Winchester High School girls' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams opened their season at Lexington on January 13. The "Sachemettes" lost their opener 18 to 15, after a close and exciting battle to the finish. Co-Captain Mickie Coon was high scorer and Betty Bellino excelled in guarding. With 18 points, Alice Fitzgerald led the J.V.'s to a 40 to 18 victory.

In a well-played game on January 21, the girls' varsity triumphed over Arlington, for the first time in three years, by a score of 39 to 23. Co-Captains Sheila Lannigan was high scorer, while Dotty Pratt did an exceptional job of guarding. The junior varsity continued in their victory streak by winning 35 to 17, led by Mary Dowling, who scored 25 points.

The third game of the season was played at Concord on January 31. The varsity lost by the score of 41 to 18. Concord led throughout the game, but during the second period, Winchester was trailing by onl ythree points. The turning point only three points. The turning point when Winchester remained scoreless and Concord romped to victory. The J.V.'s remained undefeated. Mary Dowling, who scored 14 points, led them to a 29 to 24 victory.

WINCHESTER TOPPED LEXINGTON

WIN CLINCHED MIDDLESEX CROWN

Winchester's unbeaten basketball team clinched the Middlesex League Championship last Friday night at Lexington by trouncing the Minuntemen, 73-46. Thus the Indians' victory streak now stands at 14 straight this campaign. Scoring honors were shared by Jim Wright and Joe Bellino with 18 points apiece. The game was never close as the Sachems maintained substantial leads throughout the game to allow some of the J. V.s to play.

From the floor the Sachems continued their excellent shooting, this time for 47 percent. Jim Wright shot 8-11 from the floor. John Lynch grabbed off 11 rebounds. In the playmaking department Lou Farrell had 5 assists. Thus with this comparatively easy win the Indians won their second Middlesex League Title in the last 3 years.

In the J. V. game the Seconds proved invincible again as they were victorious 60-30. High point man was Mike Callahan with 16 points. This week end the team makes their annual visit to North Conway, N. H., to play Kennett.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Ten weeks are left in our bowling season, boys, and at the rate the weeks are flying by, the end seems right around the corner. This week sure was mightly cold and the bowling at least helped circulate our blood before it froze solid.

Georgetown faltered this week to break a three way tie as California and St. Mary's hung on for top honors.

Mighty Holy Cross winner of the first half has now pulled in to a third place tie. They're really on fire and are again out to top the ladder.

Team Standings:
California	15-5
St. Mary's	15-5
Holy Cross	13-7
Georgetown	13-7
Alabama	10-10
Boston College	9-11
Harvard	9-11
Notre Dame	8-12
Bates	4-16
Yale	4-16
Hi Single: Jake Jacobellis	144
Hi Triple: Moose Bellino	367
Top Six Bowlers:
Moose Bellino	103.6
Tony Saraco	103.3
Jake Jacobellis	98.7
Frank DiMambro	97.6
Tony Chefalo	97.5
Pete Provinzano	97.1

Tony Saraco and "Moose" Bellino are now practically tied for top honors in the average department. Don't be surprised to find a change in ownership next week as the mighty mite Tony Saraco is slowly gaining on the "Moose."

Tony Saraco again bowled over the 300 mark to take a commanding lead in the 300 circle with thirteen. Those fortunate enough to bowl 300 or over were: Max LaCrubba, 348; Tony Chefalo, 317; Mario Lentine, 314; Tony Saraco, 312; Al Tibaudo, 308; Nickie Molea, 307; and Moose Bellino, 303.

The boys of California, here's who they are and what I think of them from where I stand getting a birds eye view. Max LaCrubba, a very consistant bowler even though he persists to advertise Joe Nemo's hot dogs, to whom he is related. Don't misinterpret what I wrote, he is not related to the hot dogs! Jake Jacobellis, one of the old time greats, who holds the high single and also is assistant custodian of the W.T.D.A. To those not familiar with these governmental letters, its translation, Winchester Town Disposal Area! Fred LaTorella, also a good bowler, whose greatest triumph in life is his twins! Jimmy Gangi trying all the time, always a smile on his face! John Ciarcia, one of the new young vibrant bowlers, full of energy and fire! Dom Suppa, who sleeps with his bowling shoes and ball, "God's gift to the young at heart, so he'll grow" in the words of Sid Ceasar!

"Soooo, there you are, and here I am, and here's the show! Michael D. Saraco bowled a four box; Mario Lentine bowled over 300, believe it or not; Ralph Tauro got a spare, "Kangaroo Hop" Jeff Gaudioso had his son rooting for him this evening.

"Hi Ya Pal," Chic, not to be outdone had his son, his brother "Curly Jack," and his brother-in-law, Mike Picopolos. They left in disgust! Nick Molea, let's pay more attention to our bowling! "Deadhorse" Chefalo, please leave Leroy Penta alone! Mike Saraco, are you an authority on teen-agers? And A. Fiore bowled a 72 string.

I often think we should have a league doctor to tend to the boys for their injuries and their ailments. With misty eyes he'd be among us To cure our wounds and guide us For he would know what ails us For he's the Doc that brung us, That grand ole man Dr. Sheehy!

He's the only one who would know them all.

Who won the raffle? Dee Dee. Who is Dee Dee? Dee Dee is a parakeet from alleys 1 thru 4. Dot Dougherty.

Both the girls and the boys rifle teams had matches last week.

For the girls it was their first match of the year, which was against Malden. From the first shot to the last it looked pretty even but when the scores were finally added the locals lost by five points. The boys were also beaten by Malden.

DARTMOUTH ALUMNI TO DINE

It is expected that more than 600 local Dartmouth alumni, and parents of Dartmouth undergraduates, will attend the annual banquet of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston, Wednesday, February 16, at the Imperial Ballroom of the Hotel Statler. After a reception the college president, Dr. John S. Dickey, will give the principal address.

New England alumni will get their first look at the Indians's new football coach, Robert L. "Bob" Blackman, former Denver grid mentor, who will attend the banquet with Robert L. "Red" Rolfe, Dartmouth athletic director, and former New York Yankees baseball star.

An interesting speakers' list has been arranged to include Leo McKenna of Concord, football captain-elect and Christopher G. Buxton, an Englishman attending Tuck School, who will speak on his impressions of Dartmouth and America.

Haskell Cohn of Brookline, president of the Boston Alumni Association, will preside, and taking a prominent part in the banquet arrangements are to Winchester men, George B. Redding of Cranston, road, a vice president of the Association, and Fred F. Stockwell of Cabot street, a member of the executive committee.

FASHION CLEANSERS
FASHION DICTATES PLEATS
Accordion—Sunburst—Mushroom
Crystal—Knife—Corrugated—Rolled

The satisfaction you get from your pleated garments depends on:
the fiber content of the fabric
the construction of the fabric
the method of pleating used
the conditions of pleating—such as temperature, time, cooling, placing the fabric in the form
garment design

Pleated garments lose their pleat sharpness and smooth appearance in wear and cleaning.
The pleat lines are not removed in drycleaning, but they do need to be reset for sharpness . . . to give you that well-groomed appearance.
Consult your cleaner regarding the cleaning and re-pleating of your fine garments.
When you buy a pleated garment remember:
● Pleats the same width at the top and bottom, made on the straight of the material, are re-set quite easily.
● Pleats narrow at the top and wider at the bottom are more difficult to re-set.
● Pleats made on the bias of the fabric tend to sag with wear and cleaning.
● Comparatively speaking, pleated garments made of a woven fabric have better pleat retention than garments made of a knit fabric.
● A pleated garment made of a closely-knit fabric has better pleat retention than one made of a loosely-knit fabric.
● Petti-pleated or corrugated pleated garments must be taken apart and sent back to the pleating firm for re-pleating.
REMEMBER: the term "permanent" is relative when used to describe a pleated garment!
Remember . . . your cleaner is your clothes' best friend!

EDITORIALS

An old timer in Winchester and one not unacquainted with the problem involved suggested to the Star yesterday that to provide additional parking at Wedgemere Station the portion of filled land adjacent to the outbound tracks opposite the station be put in shape for this purpose. With Bacon street being lowered under the railroad tracks there would seem to be no serious problem involved, and the extra space would be very handy for east side commuters, who would otherwise have to go through a ramp under the tracks to reach their machines in the lot west of the station. How about it!

Every so often we have to restate the Star's policy with respect to letters sent to the paper for publication. We will not print letters that come to us unsigned, though we do not insist that the signature of the writer be published, if there is some good reason why it should not be. Anonymous letters, in our opinion, carry little weight, most persons having scant interest in opinions which a writer does not care to back with his signature. We write this because we received this week an unsigned letter on the grade crossing which we would have liked to print. The Star will not necessarily print all letters that are signed, but it will not print any that are not. We want your letters, but we want to know who is writing them. We won't use your name if there is good reason not to.

The Star heard quite a bit of favorable comment about Mr. Titilah's plan for creating more parking for shoppers' cars by moving the Winchester Station north of the center where there is plently of parking space available. There can be no question that taking all-day commuters' cars out of our present crowded parking places will go a long way toward solving our critical parking problem, at least with such additional areas as the town can secure without major land taking and considerable expense. Those with whom we talked about the plan for the most part felt as we do that the proposal is worth careful study, and that any objections raised in its connection should be weighed against those existing in practically any other plan proposed. The Star believes we need more parking space for shoppers' cars. We do not agree that nothing should be done until the overhead is completed, though we do feel that some of the more drastic proposals might well wait until we see what we are going to have after the great wall is completed. Mr. Titilah's plan seems to fit into present construction plans, tying in with the diversionary highway through the Skillings Estate. It could be also that moving the station to a spot near facilities for unlimited parking would benefit the B & M as well as the town, attracting additional railroad patrons to Winchester who are now loath to risk police action when they are forced to leave their cars in limited parking areas.

REFRESHING NEW THOUGHT!

Editor of the Star:

To relocate the railroad station in Winchester center at a point some 300 yards to the north in the apex of the angle between the main railroad line and the Woburn branch, as proposed in last week's Star by Mr. Andrew Titilah, Jr., is a refreshing new thought. That it would, if feasible of accomplishment, benefit so many to the discomfiture of so few makes it an intriguing idea. It should be explored.

There are, of course, many details to be examined before practicablitity can be determined. Mr. Titilah very understandably did not expound on these for to have done so in a first presentation might well have detracted attention from his main proposition. It is not clear whether the plan would anticipate access to the station only by way of the new by-pass road, or whether by this and also by way of underpasses beneath both rail lines at points nearer the center. The tracks at this point will probably be sufficiently elevated to make such underpasses possible.

During the period of development of plans for the overpasses several different ideas of moving the railroad station were considered and all rejected. Was this particular plan ever suggested before? Was any plan at all to move the station to the north of the center considered? Was any plan ever reviewed for the location of the station in proximity to the new by-pass? It would be most helpful and timely to hear now from some of those thoughtful and conscientious citizens who gave so much of their time and effort to the development of the present plans.

Application blanks for licenses for tag day can be secured from the Board of Selectmen, and must be completely filled out by the applicant.

Any organization having been granted a permit for a tag day, and fails to observe the rules and regulations under which the permit was granted, will not be granted a permit for another tag day.

(Ed. Note:) Above is a short summary of rules and regulations governing tag days in Winchester. The Selectmen have received complaints about the conduct of tag days in town and are planning to enforce these regulations rigidly in the future.

COLLEGE CLUB ART GROUP

"Art in the Home" is a large subject with many sub-topics, of which one of the most interesting is "Textiles." Mrs. Murray S. Moore was chairman of the committee which discussed this topic at the Study Group meeting in the library Friday, February 4, and proved how fascinating it can be.

Mrs. Moore gave a brief history of the progress of the textile industry from the earliest use of wool by the primitive man through the development of silk, linen, cotton and other materials to the last word in modern synthetics. She illustrated her talk with interesting and beautiful examples of fabrics from all over the world, prints from India, silk from China and Italy, brocade from France, linen from Holland. Miss Alice Main exhibited some gorgeous silks which she brought back from Japan.

Mrs. Charles A. Underwood gave a well-informed resume of the earliest American manufacture of textiles from the crude, laborious methods of the early settlers to the introduction of the power loom and present-day quantity production. She displayed a remarkable collection of early American handwork and Mrs. Langley Keyes showed some blankets and linens which were woven and made by her great-grandmother more than a hundred years ago and are still in use.

Mrs. Ray E. Brown concluded the program with a comprehensive survey of modern textiles, rayon, nylon, fiberglass and many others which are useful in the home as rugs, curtains, upholstery, sheets, towels, etc., giving the advantages and limitations of each. Design Research, Inc., of Cambridge co-operated by furnishing many samples of fabrics, and other household articles were loaned by Filene's. Altogether it was a most interesting and rewarding morning for all the members who were fortunate enough to attend.

On Friday, February 18, at 11 a. m. the next meeting of the College Club Art Study Group will be at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Miss Randall, head of the education department, will carry on the subject of "Textiles" and will demonstrate from the collection of fabrics in the Museum.

DR. KANTILAL P. BHAGAT

THE SENIOR FORUM

Dr. Kantilal P. Bhagat, of Ahmednagar, India, will be with the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church when they meet this Sunday at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel. He will represent India in the February series of talks on "Knowing God Through Our World Neighbors."

Dr. Bhagat was born in India, a third generation Christian and son of a former college president. He was educated in the schools there, receiving his M.A. in political science and history at Bombay University. Coming to America Dr. Bhagat attended Boston University from which he secured his Masters' and Ph.D degrees in history. He also secured a B.D. degree from Andover-Newton Theological Seminary and was ordained a Congregational minister in Wrentham, in 1953.

Dr. Bhagat has been active in many Christian movements in India, Pakistan and Ceylon, and after being in this country during 1953-54, he returned to India and travelled 11,000 miles in those countries, talking with Christian young men and university teachers, and with Christian leaders of various denominations. He had an active part in planning the program for the Triennial Conference of the Student Christian Movement of India, Pakistan and Ceylon, held from December 24, 1954, to January 2, 1955. He is in America now as a visiting research scholar at Harvard University for the academic year 1954-55. DeCOURCY HOME BADLY BURNED

While the DeCourcy family sought shelter at the nearby home of the Henry McCormacks, the firefighters got 2½ and 1½ lines on the house in an effort to confine the fire to the rear of the dwelling.

Apparently the trouble started behind the oil-burning kitchen range, and from this point of origin the fire shot upward and across the kitchen ceiling to an old unused chimney hole, through which the flames went up into the second floor of the house and on into the attic.

JACKIE DeCOURCY

Warned parents and brothers of fire danger.

Two closets at the rear of the house were completely burned out and the fire fanned out toward the front of the dwelling, though the actual fire damage there was not as heavy as it was at the rear.

The flames actually ate their way through the roof at one point and all of the roof rafters were badly charred. All the floors at the rear of the house were burned out and the areas adjacent were badly gutted. The firefighters covered what furniture they could in an effort to guard against smoke and water damage, but later in the morning Chief Callahan said that little of the house furniture and furnishing were usable.

So badly was the back of the house burned and so extensive was the smoke and water damage elsewhere that most of the firefighters were doubtful whether the dwelling could be restored to livable condition.

The men used 1200 feet of 1½ in. hose, 1050 feet of 2½ in. hose and 350 feet of booster hose, with 139 feet of ladders. The generator in the rescue car provided working light. Chief Callahan complained of injuries to his shoulder after the fire and went to the hospital for X-rays. His injury was diagnosed as pulled ligaments and was not believed to be serious.

BOY SCOUTS

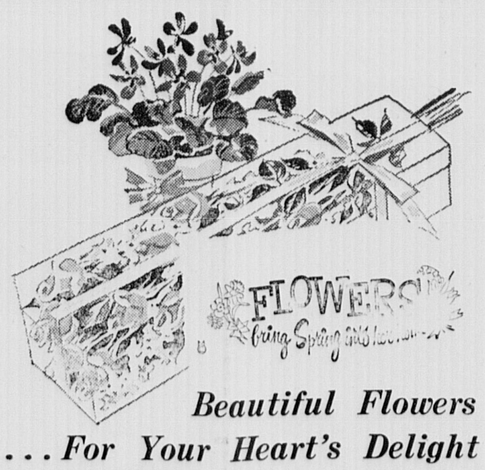

TROOP 12 AND POST 2

The above units began Scout Anniversary Week last Sunday, when six boys received the Ad Altare Dei medals, which are the highest Catholic awards to Scouts. These medals were bestowed by His Excellency, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, D.D., upon Stephen Enright of Post 3; and James Butler, Walter Crotty, Bernard Stevens, Bert Stevens and Peter Walsh, all of Troop 12.

The boys went by special bus to the cathedral in Boston, where they were delighted to receive their honors from Archbishop Cushing personally.

Healing through spiritual means as practiced by Christ Jesus will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled "Soul" a word which, when capitalized, is used in Christian Science as one of the synonyms for God. The Bible selections include: "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them (Matthew 15:30).

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and Salvation."

OVERPOPULATING ELK PLAGUE U. S. PARKS

Twenty-eight thousand elk in northwestern Wyoming are giving the Federal Government one of its sharpest wildlife management headaches.

Elk are breeding too fast in the Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks area, creating an overpopulation problem more acute than anywhere else in the national parks. Oversized herds spell under-nourished animals, depletion of vegetation, particularly aspen and fir trees, and even more serious, land erosion through overgrazing.

The government has tried shooting the elk, only to run into a return volley of criticism. It has tried a helicopter to frighten the elk out of Yellowstone Park into Montana where they were mowed down by waiting hunters. But an expenditure of $1,000 shooed out only 100 exhausted animals. The government opened Grand Teton National Park to deputized hunters, but in a month and a half during the recent September-October season only 12 elk had been killed.

Two Largest Herds

Now national, Wyoming, and Montana authorities are wrestling with this problem to which there seems no easy answer as yet, says the National Geographic Society.

The Nation's two largest elk herds summer in the high country of Yellowstone Park. One, the north Yellowstone herd of approximately 12,000 head, hoofs northward in the fall and winter when a heavy canopy of snow restricts foraging in the semi-wooded uplands.

Winter drives the other, called the southern or Jackson Hole herd and numbering about 16,000 head, southward into Jackson Hole, a hospitable valley lying east of the Teton Mountains.

Many of the north Yellowstone elk remain in the park where hunting is forbidden, even in the worst winter weather. Park rangers have live-trapped some and removed them from Federal lands. But there have been few bids for live elk in recent years since the West is already overstocked.

Not all park officials are enthusiastic about using helicopters as "sheep dogs." For one thing, elk are extraordinarily obstinate creatures that refuse to be driven downhill from the Yellowstone heights. They persist in veering uphill. For another, it was distasteful to drive the animals into the muzzles of ambushed guns.

Outright Killing Tried

Some officials think the most practical method of reducing the herd is one tried in Yellowstone experimentally a number of years ago: outright killing by rangers. Carcasses were cleaned on the spot and the meat given to charitable institutions.

According to some authorities, this method tended to increase the hunter kill outside the park in Montana. Many hunters figured that if the elk were to be killed they might as well do the killing. In the winter of 1942-43 nearly 700 head were shot in the park by rangers and almost 6,000 were killed by hunters north of the park in Montana where the kill runs sometimes as low as 425.

As practical as outright killing by park rangers may be, it has the formidable disadvantage of stirring public wrath. The government thus is wary of restoring to this method.

The southern elk herd also presents tough problems. About this time of year it migrates across Jackson Hole, through Grand Teton National Park in places.

Some 7,000 head, at times as many as 10,000, make their way to the elk refuge near the town of Jackson where the government and the Wyoming game and fish department feed them alfalfa, hay and native grasses.

An act of Congress permits hunting in the park each season. In 1952 Wyoming and Federal officials planned a kill of 600 there and 1,200 "openings" for deputy park rangers were established. Only 455 applied for park permits. They killed a mere 27 elk. In addition, approximately 3,000 were shot elsewhere in the Jackson Hole area. This total kill left the herd too large, in the opinion of the government authorities.

Problems in Other Areas

Elk (Cervus canadensis), the large hoofed "deer" that sheds its antlers each year, presents a population problem on many other Federal and State lands, for example Wind Cave National Park in southwest South Dakota. The government estimates the herd of 1,000 at twice its ideal size. Elk are multiplying fast also in Montana's Glazier National Park and in Colorado's Rocky Mountain National Park area.

Two out of three of the world's radio hams are Americans, the National Geographic Society says. Only about one in 50 is a woman.

LYNN PAL ON TOP

Winchester's team in the P.A.L. Basketball League played its first league game Monday evening at the Washington School, losing to a good Lynn P.A.L. team by two baskets, 77-73, in a well played game. O'Brien, visiting pivot, led both teams with 24 points. Wyman edged Ekstrom for Winchester scoring honors, 16-14. The summary:

VALENTINE DANCE

The George Washington School Dads' Club is having its Valentine Day Dance Saturday night, February 12, in the school auditorium.

The entertainment committee had their last rehearsal Thursday night. Frank Fair has the lead in two of the numbers, and without giving any previews of the entertainment it looks as if wedding bells will be ringing on Valentine Day.

The Dads' Club has done a good job on lining up an enjoyable night for all, and from ticket sales it looks as if there will be a large attendance.

HILLTOP NEWS

Don't forget the regular lobster party at the Home tonight. These Friday night eat-fests are proving very popular, and will continue as long as there is a demand.

Everything is in readiness for the big Valentine Dance Saturday evening, and all who attend are promised a good time. There will be favors and a collation as well as fine music.

The initiatory degree will be worked on a class of candidates at the regular lodge meeting Tuesday evening. All Elks should make an effort to attend.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Natives of African Uganda regard milk as a truly royal beverage, the National Geographic Society says. Milkmaids chosen at an early age tend cows owned by the king. Europeans seldom are permitted to see the milkings, and the milk must always be borne to the royal house with great ceremony.

The emigration of Scottish men and women to Canada, the United States and Australia from the Hebrides seems to be on the ebb today, says the National Geographic Society. The Hebridean is beginning to realize that life at home is not so hard as it might be in newer lands.

During spring, summer and fall, at least 36 species of fish enter New York harbor from the sea, says the National Geographic Society. These include most of the common eastern seaboard fishes, as well as occasional tuna and colorful tropical strays such as butterfly fish and trigger-fish. Harbor fishermen net menhaden in huge numbers. These fish are ground into meat for animals and oil for manufacturing soap, paint and printing ink. The annual Hudson River shad catch totals 2,000,000 pounds valued at $350,000.

Winchester High freshmen lost their basketball game to the Stoneham freshmen last Saturday morning at the high school gym, 43-42, after leading right up to the last five seconds. Failure to hang on to the ball in the closing seconds gave Bond of the visitors the chance to chuck in the winning basket, after Stoneham intercepted a Winchester pass from out of bounds.

SCOTCH CURLERS HERE

WINCHESTER WINS AT NASHUA

Big doings this week, when the Winchester Country Club curlers play host today, Friday, to the twenty-five Scots finishing up their U. S. tour. There will be three matches at the Club rink in the morning and three more at 3:30 in the afternoon; then a cocktail party and banquet. All of this is to try to show our visitors that the American curlers, in total, appreciate the wonderful time the Scots gave and the hospitality they showed our 25 curlers, including our own Shorty Carr and Howard Eteson, two winters ago in Scotland. The Winchester rinks, with perhaps a few changes, were announced in this column last week and a full report will be given next week.

There is so much doing, in fact, that even the girls have curling coming out of their ears; so much, in fact, that the Coulson Mixed Bonspiel has to be postponed until March 12-13, 19-20, and the semi-finals and finals on March 27. You will be hearing plenty more about this big finale and just one look at the beautiful new John Coulson Trophy will make everyone who can get a gal or a man as a partner want to enter. Twenty-four rinks are planned, and it will take three week-ends to run off.

We said the gals were busy, and they are. Last week they had twenty-four Nashua women curlers as guests and won four out of the six matches! This week two rinks are at the Westchester Bonspiel for women and next week Winchester is invited to enter six rinks in the National Women's Curling Championship, to be held here and at the Country Club.

The play-offs for the second round robin is now going on between the rinks of Eaton vs Neiley, Bonnell vs Willing, Symmes vs Eteson and Lane vs Waghorne. At this writing, Neiley has won over Eaton, Eteson over Symmes, Waghorne (Croston) over Lane, and Bonnell over Willing. This leaves the semi-finals between Neiley vs Bonell and Eteson vs Waghorne (Croston skipping). The finals will be on Thursday evening at the same time Morse and Waghorne fight it out for the Young Cup.

At Nashua last week Frank Lane's rink won the first match and was put out in the second. Shorty Carr took over John Joy's rink and with Harold Farnsworth, Larry Burke and Bill Davis went on to the finals of the Patterson Cup, winning by 14-10.

The Quebec rink won four of their nine matches, with nine of the one hundred and twenty-one rinks there. They had a wonderful time and reported not one moment was the thermometer over zero.

The semi-finals and finals of the District Medal will be played Sunday morning and afternoon at the local rink.

Next week is the Schenectady Bonspiel and the following week end the Stockton and Clyde Park at Brookline. Our own bonspiel is on March 4, 5 and 6.

"FRIEND OR FOE?"

Gilbert E. Merrill, the assistant director of education for the Museum of Science in Boston, with some of his animal friends which he will bring to the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church on February 15th.

FORUM TO BE MEN'S CLUB GUESTS

The Forum of the First Congregational Church of Winchester has been invited to attend as guests at the Men's Club supper meeting of February 15th.

This is the second year the men have had the Forum members as their guests at one of their monthly supper meetings. This meeting promises not only to be particularly interesting but to have the largest attendance of several years.

The main feature of the evening will be the Assistant Director of Education of the Museum of Science in Boston, Mr. Gilbert E. Merrill who will speak on "Woodland Fears —Real or Imaginary?"

In the lecture, Mr. Merrill will discuss all those creatures in New England with which the average person has at one time or another in his life, associated foolish and unfounded fears. In order to make the lecture more exciting and to help prove the points he wishes to make, Mr. Merrill will bring living examples of most of the creatures that he will discuss. The facts associated with animals are really more fascinating than the myths one hears concerning them.

Rather than list the animals that Mr. Merrill will have with him, we will leave that as a surprise. We promise that you will not have any of the animals sitting beside you at dinner.

To lend a little harmony to the evening, Miss Anifantis, Choral Director at the Winchester High School, will bring us the Girl's Octette.

The meeting will start at 6:30 p. m. with a catered dinner.

The Men's Club has set up a new system for making reservations which they will inaugurate for this meeting. Instead of a return post card a network of neighborhood callers will telephone each of the members to take their reservations. Since this will be the first time this has been tried here any member who by chance is not called by Saturday, February 12th, should call Will Skerry at WInchester 6-2709-R.

FIRST BAPTIST COUPLES CLUB "COOK-IN"

Always ready to try something different, the young married couples of First Baptist's Couples Club are planning an unusual "cook-in" for their next meeting, Saturday, February 19, at 7:30 p. m. And the group couldn't have picked a better place to bring the outdoors indoors, the fascinating, utlra-modern home of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Brink, 33 Samoset road. Thanks to the cleverly-designed glass walls, you can enjoy all the pleasures of an outdoor terrace while you cuddle comfortably around the living-room fireplace.

Following the cook-in, a special Valentine party is being planned which the committee, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brink, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wickwire and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunn, promise will be something extra special. In addition, uncensored pictures of the couples participating in last month's "Beat the Clock" program will be displayed and later presented to the winning participants.

All club members who have sufficiently recovered from last month's caper are cordially invited to attend, as well as any other Winchester couples who are brave enough to cast their lot with this group whose motto is, "we may be crazy but we have fun." For reservations, just screw up your courage and call WInchester 6-4233.

Dogs throughout New England will be featured at the store for the remainder of the week in connection with the Eastern Dog Club Show to be held at Mechanics Building, February 22 and 23.

Often a man and his New Year's resolutions go broke together.

MEETING AT GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

At 10:00 a. m. on Friday, February 4, a meeting was held at the George Washington School for the purpose of explaining to the mothers of pre-school children plans for a two-session kindergarten to begin next fall.

Mrs. Herbert Thompson, president of the George Washington School Mothers' Association, introduced Miss Rich, the principal, and Mr. Earle Littleton, chairman of the school committee, who explained that lack of space and a need for expansion of other types of services in the school program make the change necessary. Mr. Littleton pointed out that almost all of the other towns in this area have a two-session kindergarten and that they find it works very well.

LEAGUE UNIT MEETINGS

The economic policies committee of the League of Women Voters of Winchester, with Mrs. Oscar W. Surtees as chairman, has prepared the resource material to be used in the unit meetings which will take place Thursday, February 17, and Friday, February 18.

An important part of the "Know Your Town" survey currently being compiled by the Winchester League, the subject, "Town Finances," will be discussed from the standpoint of basic structure: expense and revenue. The tax rate and how it is determined will be explained, as well as the debt picture.

Thursday, February 17, the two morning meeting meetings will be held at the homes of Mrs. Frank Hawkins, 282 Highland avenue, with Mrs. Howard Aiken as leader, and Mrs. Fred J. Walsh, 15 Yale street, with Mrs. Rodney W. Long as leader. Mrs. William Spaulding will lead the unit Thursday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Herman Meissner as hostess at her home, 28 Samoset road. Friday, February 18, at 9:30 a. m., Mrs. R. A. Drake will be hostess at her home, 6 Lagrange street, to the unit led by Mrs. Malcolm Nichols.

BAPTIST FAMILY BREAKFAST THIS SUNDAY

This Sunday, February 13, at 9:15 a. m., the First Baptist Men's Brotherhood will sponsor another popular all-family breakfast in the church social hall. Providing an enjoyable chance for conversation and fellowship before the church study and worship services begin, First Baptist's unique Sunday morning breakfasts are gaining fast in popularity.

Over 100 people attended the last breakfast, and an even larger crowd is expected to enjoy the delicious morning meal this Sunday. This time the affair will be a "Valentine" breakfast and the entire families of church members and their friends, including the children, are invited to attend. Following the breakfast, the wives are invited to join their husbands at the regular 10 a. m. meeting of the Men's Brotherhood and enjoy the special program and feature speaker.

TOO MANY LUXURIES

The greastest trouble with this modern living is to keep our ambitions pinned down to our salaries.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON FASHION SHOW

Mrs. James M. Beal and Mrs. E. Ober Pride report a satisfactory response to the sale of tickets for the Spring Fashion Show and Dessert being sponsored by the Senior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League of Winchester.

The affair, which is to be held next Wednesday beginning at 1:15 with a coffee hour in the First Congregational Church's Chidley Hall, is being eagerly awaited by fashion-conscious women in Winchester and surrounding communities.

All arrangements are in the final stage awaiting the co-operation of the weather and anticipating a capacity audience to justify all the effort that Miss Helen Neidringhaus and her very active committee members have put into the afternoon, planning weeks and months in advance so that all may have a happy and long-remembered experience. Tickets may be purchased at the door on the 16th, and it is open to the general public, whose patronage it welcomes.

SINGERS TO SPARE IN "CARMEN" FILM

Though singers are cast in the leads of the CinemaScope musicdrama "Carmen Jones," opening Sunday, February 13, at the Winchester Theater, not all of them do their own singing in the picture. It's not just a Hollywood peculiarity behind the move, either, but reasoned expediency.

"Carmen Jones," which Otto Preminger has brought to the screen in color by De Luxe for Twentieth Century-Fox from Oscar Hammerstein's long-run Broadway smash of a decade ago, calls for young, romantic leads with operatic voices. The two don't often go hand-in-hand.

LIVE AND LET LIVE

Consideration for the rights of others is the strongest link in the chain of human friendship.

TO ATTEND SMITH ALUMNAE COUNCIL

Three members of the Winchester Smith College Club will be in Northampton, Mass., attending the Alumnae Council of Smith College from February 15 to 17.

Mrs. Austin Broadhurst will represent the Winchester Smith College Club; Mrs. Henry K. Spencer will attend in her capacity as clerk of the Alumnae Association; and Mrs. Harrison Lyman, who is planning her 50th reunion, will represent her class at the Council.

The Alumnae Council is composed of approximately 200 members, consisting of the Board, the alumnae trustees, the class and club representatives, and the committee chairman. It fulfills a very vital role for Smith College, serving to strengthen the relations between the college and the alumnae, and acting as an advisory body to the board of directors of the Alumnae Association.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday afternoon, February 16, at 2:00 p. m. the Winchester Home and Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Joseph J. Vaccaro.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Clifford D. Corliss, who will talk on "Gardens."

Mr. Corliss is president and manager of Corliss Bros., landscape contractors of Gloucester and Ipswich.

With his years of experience in the field of planting, a most informative afternoon is anticipated. Tea will be served.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Residents will be interested to learn that two publications which recently received lengthy reports in the Star are available at the library. "Living on the Level," by Royal Barry Wills, has become a much sought after item, and the library is keeping several copies circulating for its borowers.

In the library's vertical file there is a copy of the "Progress Report to the Congress, by the (Second Hoover) Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government. December 31, 1954." This fifty-seven-page report is available for circulation to patrons through the reference department of the library.

Interested persons are reminded of the special Abraham Lincoln programs at the library on Friday and Saturday, February 11 and 12. A film on Lincoln's life will be featured at the regular "Family Night at the Library" on Friday evening at 7:30. On Saturday morning at 10:15, children will also see a Lincoln film. At 2:30 Saturday afternoon the Winchester Historical Society will hold an open meeting for the adult public, at which time a Lincoln film will be shown.

NEW CARS FOR B & M

Winchester commuters on the Boston and Maine will, commencing next week, start to be served by new air-conditioned "Budd car" trains, it was announced Wednesday when T. G. Sughrue, the road's president, made public the details of how 64 new commuter cars to be progressively put into service between now and September 1, will be used.

The first train of the new cars will start serving commuters in Winchester next Monday. Others due to arrive from the manufacturers at the rate of two or three a week will go into service on arrival. "By September 1," Sughrue said, all are expected to be in service. With the interim arrival of 10 new diesel locomotives," he said, "all steam locomotives on the Boston and Maine should be out of service by next summer and all commuters will then be hauled by diesel power."

In the new trains a Boston and Maine commuter will ride to and from work in just about the maximum of comfort. Thermostatically controlled heat will keep car temperatures comfortable in winter; air conditioning, cool in summer. An individual bull's-eye light over each seat will provide easy newspaper reading, augmenting the fluorescent lighting in the ceiling. Each car will have separate smoking and non-smoking compartments; leather upholstery in the smokers, and blue fabric in non-smoking sections. There is even an electric water cooler. Rubber tiled floors and sturdy baggage racks are other comfort features.

The new cars will run in trains of one to six. Through an ingenious plan devised by the road's officials, the cars will be kept moving practically all the time so as to serve the largest possible maximum of commuter trains.

Winchester, Cross street and Stoneham will be served by the first new train commencing next Monday. It will run to Winchester, leaving Boston at 10:20 a. m. and 6:20 and 11:59 p. m. Inbound to Boston, the train will leave Winchester at 5:57 and 9:00 a. m. and 12:30 and 7:35 p. m.

S. A. LEADERS INSTALLED

NEW SALVATION ARMY LEADERS IN SIX NEW ENGLAND STATES

With more than 500 Salvationists and friends cheering them to the echo, Colonel and Mrs. Ralph T. Miller were installed Friday, February 4, as Provincial Leaders of The Salvation Army in charge of all forces and activities of the famed organization in New England.

For Colonel and Mrs. Miller the occasion marked a real New England Homecoming since the new Provincial Commander was born in Plymouth, Mass., while Mrs. Miller (the former Hulda Carlson) is a native of Worcester, the daughter of officer parents who were Corps Officers in Worcester, Providence, Hartford and Boston. Colonel Miller has still deeper roots in New England because his first divisional assignment in The Salvation Army was as Divisional Commander for Southern New England with headquarters in Hartford.

HAVE FEATURE TUFTS ROLES

Miss Elizabeth Hoxie, 12 Robin Hood road, and George E. Connor, 403 Main street, will play feature roles in the Tufts Community Players' production of "Picnic," William Inge's Pulitzer Prize play. Performances will be staged in the Tufts College Arena Theater, Medford, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings, February 17, 18, and 19, and again February 24, 25, and 26, at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Hoxie will make her debut with the Tufts Players in the important role of Helen Potts in this play which concerns itself with the impact made on a group of commonplace people in a small Kansas town by a husky and colorful vagabond.

She has appeared with the Arlington Friends of the Drama in "Harvey," "The Circle," and "Distaff Side." More recently she was seen here in Winchester in the Parish Players' production of "I Killed The Count."

Mr. Connor has appeared in a number of the Tufts Players' shows and last spring was a member of the cast of "Two Dozen Red Roses" which the Players staged at the Winchester High School auditorium for the Tuesday Group of the Church of the Epiphany. He has also been active in the Parish Players group here.

MAWN FILM CHAIRMAN

Grand Knight James Mawn of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus was named Sectional Chairman for the Catholic Film Distribution Program of the Knights of Columbus, at the Executive Board Meeting held Sunday, February 6, at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Boston.

In Freedom's Cause

Abraham Lincoln devoted his life to the task of making his country truly free. In equal sense, other great emancipators are dedicating their lives in a great crusade to free mankind from the shackles of pain and disease. They are the men of Medicine and Pharmacy who labor in Freedom's Cause. Great victories have already been won—more will come. For our part, we keep our knowledge abreast of the latest developments, and make new drugs immediately available to your doctor.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

On Sunday, February 13, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will attend the 8 o'clock Mass and receive Holy Communion in a body. Afterward breakfast will be served in St. Mary's Hall, followed by a business meeting and guest speaker.

The Society's policy is to have a priest as guest speaker one month and a lay speaker the next. Sunday, the Society is fortunate to have as speaker Mr. Daniel I. Cronin of the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name Societies Speakers' Bureau.

Mr. Cronin, a resident of West Medford and father of six children, is a graduate of Boston College and Boston College Law School. He is deputy welfare agent of the the City of Boston and formerly director of operations for the Massachusetts Department of Public Welfare. He is a member of the Bar and a former classmate of Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, St. Mary's Holy Name director, and Rev. Charles A. Anadore, also of St. Mary's.

His topic will be: "Let's Talk About the Welfare State," and no doubt will treat on welfare assistance in these parts, the problems of administering aid to needy families and our comparison with the other cities in the country, in regard to such matters.

The marshal's Refreshment Committee have made arrangements to have catered coffee and do-nuts, baked fresh early Sunday morning.

President Herbert J. Cleary will outline the program for the rest of the year which gives promise of being most interesting. Among other reports, Bowling Chairman Joseph Cussen will report on the two Holy Name teams in the Town League, one of which is in third place in the 8 team league.

BOWDOIN GRADUATE

Scott Sargent, son of Mrs. Isbelle S. Sargent of 6 Francis circuit, was one of 33 Bowdoin College students voted Bachelor of Arts degrees by the Governing Boards of the College, meeting in their regular midwinter session.

Sargent prepared at Portsmouth High School and majored in economics. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, and in addition to his academic degree, he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army Reserve, having completed four years in the ROTC program at Bowdoin.

MR. AND MRS. CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Parish Mr. and Mrs. Club was held on Wednesday, February 2, at St. Mary's Hall.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Fr. Manion, after which the co-presidents, John and Elaine Fitzgerald, conducted a short business meeting.

John and Patricia Harrington presented the Catholic Action program and the members were most interested in Mr. Harrington's short history of the growth of a movement throughout the country similar to the Mr. and Mrs. Club. This movement stresses the thought that the American family should have outside interests in common and function as a team. Mrs. Harrington spoke briefly on the ceremony of churching and the Feast of the Presentation.

The entertainment committee under the direction of Jeanne and Gil McEwan provided an exciting game appropriately called Valentingo. There were many prizes and all joined in the spirit of the game.

Particular thanks should go to Mary and Sam Reid and all members of their committee who arranged such attractive and delicious refreshments, using a Valentine motif.

In place of the regular monthly meeting on March 2, the members voted to attend evening mass and adjourn to St. Mary's Hall for a communion supper.

EIGHTH DISTRICT PRESIDENTS' CLUB

The mid-winter meeting of the Eighth District Presidents' Club was held at Corinthian Hall, Franklin street, Melrose Highlands. Luncheon was served at 12 noon, by the Highlands Women's Club, 75 in attendance. Head table guests were Mrs. Myron G. Holmes, 8th District Director, Mrs. Norman P. State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Harry Sparhs of the Kos Mos Club of Wakefield, gave the Invocation.

Doing Things The Yankee Way!

(Paying our bills — Reducing our debt — Improving our property — AND — Progressing)

So there may be available a public record of facts — for any uninformed critic to study and learn — the 11,000 New Englanders who are the Boston and Maine Railroad recount a few of the progressive accomplishments of management and employees of the road during the past 15 years.

The record is presented at this time because of recent public criticism of management, and publicly-made suggestions that present top management, including a sizable segment of the Boston and Maine's Board of Directors, should abdicate. Neither top management, nor directors — all but two of whom are New England men — have any intention of so doing. On the contrary, at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston and Maine scheduled for April 13 next, it is planned to present for election by the stockholders a slate of directors substantially the same as the present board.

The factual record of accomplishments of the Boston and Maine Railroad, particularly in the past 15 years, would seem to speak for itself. It is a record of actual accomplishments — not dreams of the future. We believe the facts show a conduct of the road's affairs in a manner which reflects continuing progress; good business methods; sound financing and reduction of debt; and steady improvement of the property. All this has been done on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This is Doing Things the Yankee Way!

In the last 15 years, the Boston and Maine has spent about $93 million for new equipment — locomotives — freight and passenger cars — modern signal systems — modern machines for shops and all the various other new things which comprise its presently modern plant. In its purchases of modern locomotives, cars, machines for its shops, etc., the Boston and Maine has selected trains and things which tests have proven practical — not something still in experimental or planning board stages.

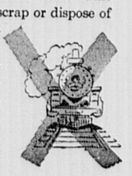

Back in 1935, the Boston and Maine was the first railroad in the east to put in service a lightweight streamlined train. This train — having already travelled over 2½ million miles — or 101 times around the world — is still in service today. Since it was purchased, however, a newer and better type of modern passenger equipment has been developed, which experience has proven is more practical and efficient for modern-day railroading.

Before next September 1, the Boston and Maine will have in service the largest fleet of modern Budd cars on any railroad — ANYWHERE!

55 of these modern cars — long since past the experimental stage — will next week start to move from manufacturer to us. Before September 1, all $9 million worth of them will be running on Boston and Maine lines serving 113 stations and providing the equipment for 128 commuter trains. When all the Budd cars are here, a total of 170 trains will be operating with these self-propelled, stainless steel, air-conditioned cars. This will permit the Boston and Maine to scrap or dispose of approximately 235 older type commuter coaches and 75 steam locomotives. It will mark the end of the use of steam power anywhere on the Boston and Maine Railroad. The Boston and Maine Railroad is the first railroad to attack its commuter problem in this completely modern manner.

The progressive record of the road in the last 15 years has been marked not only by a continued improvement in tools to work with but a steady and extensive bettering of the road's financial position. At the start of 1940, the total debt of the Boston and Maine Railroad was $130 million. On January 1, 1955, the road owed about $88 million. Thus between 1940 and 1955, the Boston and Maine paid off $42 million of debt.

This is Doing Things the Yankee Way!

In addition, the road paid approximately another $8 million to bring into the Boston and Maine, leased lines being used as a part of the Boston and Maine but on which the road was paying "rent", and income taxes.

Practically all of the new equipment we have bought on "the installment plan" has been set up on a 7-year payment basis. We have bought, since 1940, new equipment at a total cost of $42,245,000. At the present time we owe less than $12,500,000 for it.

All the while these new things were being purchased and paid for, during the last 15 years, the road's property and equipment were being kept in the best physical condition in all its history. Steady maintenance of equipment, roadbed and structures in order to keep them at all times in safe condition resulted in increasingly large amounts being spent each year for maintenance. For instance in 1940 the road spent $12,881,260 for maintenance of equipment, roadbed and structures. This total has progressively mounted until in 1954 it was $27,040,148.

This is Doing Things the Yankee Way!

In modern signalling the Boston and Maine leads all other New England railroads, and ranks near the top with any other railroad in the country. First railroad in the east to install modern, multiple-aspect speed signaling, by which the speed of trains is controlled by the color of signal lights, the Boston and Maine now has 1230 miles of track (83% of all its signaled lines) protected by color light signals. 203 miles of track are equipped with automatic cab indicator signals.

All the accomplishments during the Stewardship of the present management are too numerous to list here. The following are only a few of the highlights:

• The B&M was the first railroad to progressively provide a complete transportation system. It established the first railroad-owned highway bus line (1924); the first railroad-owned auxiliary truck line (1925); and the first railroad-owned airline (1931). The airline is now Northeast Airlines, sold when the CAA refused to allow railroad ownership to continue.

• The B&M was the first road east of the Mississippi to use diesel locomotives in heavy freight service. The road now has 252 diesel locomotives, first of which went into service in 1934. All through passenger and freight trains have been hauled by modern diesel locomotives since 1946.

• Since 1940 the B&M has put in service 2008 new freight cars of various types — box, gondola, etc. 12 stainless steel coaches and restaurant-lounge cars are in service (starting in 1947) on crack through trains. 241 all-steel coaches purchased from other railroads provided a stop-gap improvement in years when it was not expedient to spend sufficient of the road's funds for new cars to be used only 4 to 5 hours a day, in commuter rush hours. 4 new stainless steel sleeping cars, each costing $187 thousand, embodying all modern conveniences for night-time travel, have just been put in service.

• Two-way radio and electronic installations (commenced in 1947) now provide instant communication between yard offices and switching locomotives. Augmented by walkie-talkie and loud speaker installations, these modern systems provide employees with immediate conversational facilities even when they are a mile or more apart, thus speeding the assembly and departure of passenger and freight trains.

• The B&M pioneered in the use of Centralized Traffic Control and has replaced old fashioned interlocking towers with 44 modern installations where tower operators, by twist of two fingers, control all switches and signals for varying distances up to 44 miles from the control point. 401 miles of B&M track (far more than any other New England railroad) are now protected in this fool-proof manner. Installations were made progressively at such places as Lowell Jct. (Mass) 1928; Johnsonville (NY) 1929; Winchester, Wakefield Jct., Lynn, Waltham (Mass) and Dover (NH) all in 1930; Boston — Tower A, Greenfield, Gardner, Fitchburg, and East Deerfield (Mass) all in 1931; Boston — Tower C 1934; Nashua and Concord (NH) 1942; Manchester (NH) 1944; Lawrence, Ayer and North Adams (Mass) 1946; Lowell (Mass) 1948; Salem (Mass) 1950 and Mechanicville (NY) 1953.

• Through its subsidiary — the Mystic Terminal Company — the Boston and Maine has played an important role in the development of the Port of Boston. The B&M now operates a battery of Boston's newest and most modern pier facilities — the Hoosac and Mystic Piers in Charlestown (leased fom the Commonwealth of Massachusetts). The Boston and Maine serves New England ports only, and is constantly striving to increase business through its marine gateways. Steamships at its Boston piers give world coverage, including the Far East, Persian Gulf, Red Sea, Australia and New Zealand, Africa, South America, as well as Hawaiian, Gulf of Mexico, Mediterranean, British Isles, Scandinavian and Continental English Channel ports.

HISTORY ASSEMBLY AT WYMAN SCHOOL

The life of early American pioneers was the subject of an inspiring assembly presented by the Sixth Grade pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Hammond's class on January 28. An outgrowth of class work in American History, the assembly also employed skills gained by the pupils in their classes in art, music, and language arts.

Cast in two parts, the program included an original play, entitled "This Was Your Life, Daniel Boone," and a musical play, "Over Mountain, River, and Plain." Of special interest to the parents and schoolmates who filled the school auditorium were the excellent stage settings and props prepared by the children. Also much enjoyed were the solo numbers and the dances in the musical play.

MYSTIC SCHOOL CLASS VISITED DAIRY

First graders in Mrs. Barbara Eason's class visited the Cherry Hill Dairy in Beverly recently. Arranged as part of class study of a unit on milk, the trip enabled the youngsters to see the operation of one of New England's finest dairies.

On their arrival at Cherry Hill, the class was conducted on a tour of the various barns and milk processing buildings of the dairy. An exciting highlight of the visit was the unscheduled arrival of a baby calf. It is reported that mother and child are doing well!

Following their trip, the children composed an original playlet and presented it at an assembly for their parents and other children in the lower grades. Illustrations were made of the bottle washing machine, the bottling machine, the pasteurizer, and the milking machines. As a class project, the group painted a large mural showing the work of the farmer, the dairyman, and the milkman, the men who serve us by producing, processing, and delivering the supplies of milk to our homes. Each member of the class shared in explaining to the audience what had been learned through this study.

Pam Wardwell	Bonnie Lord
Peggy Fooler	Susan Beane
David Farnum	Drew Phillips
Pam Cox	Ann Abbott
Marjorie Lynch	Christopher Atkinson
Jeanne Smethurst	Barbara Offutt
Nancy Perkins	Gordon Davidson
John Larkin	Larry Keller
Mandy Burr	Stephen Carleton

We wish to thank the kind friends who have recently given cloth to be used at the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital in Boston. Their ambulance collects it when in this vicinity. The need is continuous. If anyone has pieces of woolen or cotton that they could spare, please call WInchester 6-2226-M and it can be called for any time at your home or you can leave it at 3 Dix terrace corner of Dix street. Do help this good work!

Attention is called to Bill No. 515 that is to come before the legislature soon to prohibit the killing of fawns in Massachusetts. This bill has been introduced or filed by the Mass. S. P. C. A. because so many fawns were killed during the previous hunting seasons.

SAFETY ASSEMBLY AT MYSTIC SCHOOL

"Think before you act" was the theme of a thought-provoking assembly on Safety, presented by the pupils of Grade IV under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Geary on January 28. In a series of four skits, the class described some of the accidents which occur when people are careless.

Each of the skits was introduced by Father Time (Ronald Keane), who warned the New Year (Sandra Brown) of the problems she faced. His main concern was the number of careles accidents which had taken place during the past year. By warning the New Year of these dangers, he hoped to make 1955 a happier, safer year.

In the first skit, the class described and injury, caused by snowball throwing. Next, the audience learned of a little girl who broke her arm while "riding" someone else on the handle bars of her bicycle. Skit three showed a group of children playing kickball on a playground, when suddenly one of them ran into the street for the ball and was struck by a car. The last skit showed what can happen when pupils push and shove each other on the stairs at school.

The class was glad of the opportunity to share its knowledge about safety with other children in the school. It is also grateful to the mothers who were such a help, making the costumes and providing the make-up.

Members of the cast:

Father Time—Ronald Keane
New Year—Sandra Brown
Teacher—Susan Bryant

Albert Campagna, Diane Kelly, Marie Scalesse, Stephen Wardwell, Susan Early, Donna Colclough, Jane Farnum, Kenneth Walcott, Gordon Peckham, Janice Proffitt, Gary Poor, Linda Nelson, Floyd Lever, Richard Clarke, Neal Baker, John Brotherston, James Menucci, Bruce Carpenter, Russell Hart, Pamela Raymond, Jonathan Sibley, Margot Hall, Edward Bennett, Jeffrey Grant, Robert Emmons, Kati Robinson, Ruth Beckley, Kearin Richmond.

Jonathan Sibley and Stephen Walcott were the curtain pullers; Paul Flaherty and Gail Somerby, the announcers; Ruth Beckley and Gail Somerby, the pianists. Margot Hall and her helpers were responsible for the scenery.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting of the Noonan School Mothers' Association was held at the school hall on the evening of February 2.

Dr. Gilson, superintendent of schools, spoke of the proposed change from a single session kindergarten, to one in which a teacher would have one group of children in the morning and a different group in the afternoon. He pointed out that this system has been used in many other similar towns for a number of years, and was found to be economical and yet satisfactory.

Mr. Littleton of the school committee answered questions covering the double session program.

Members of the Mothers' Association brought out some of the disadvantages of the plan.

After the business meeting a very gracious lady from the Avon Products Company gave a talk on the A.B.C.'s of good grooming and demonstrated cosmetics designed to make milady beautiful.

The usual delicious refreshments were enjoyed and many a stimulating conversation was carried on over the coffee cups.

STUDENT ART EXHIBITS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Another in the series of exhibits of the art work produced by high school pupils under the direction of Miss Pauline F. Goodrich is on display in the high school office. Hundreds of people, teachers, pupils, and parents, come to the high school office each week, and, whatever the purpose of their visits, all of them are attracted by these pictures.

The happy custom of bringing the pictures down from the art studio in order to share them with the rest of the school began several years ago. Besides giving pleasure to the viewer, each month's new exhibit serves to call attention to the fine work done by the students in the art classes.

The February exhibit has created the greatest amount of favorable comment, as it depicts work done in the difficult medium of pen and ink. The majority of the sketches are done in this medium alone and are skillfully executed in a great variety of techniques and textures. One mount shows the practice and experimental work of several first-year students who are just beginning to gain facility in pen and ink.

All the work hung in the office is deserving of merit, but of particular merit among the first-year art group are those produced by Kathleen Doherty, Roberta Rich, Claudia Brush, and Mary Harrington.

A RUGGED GROUP!

Senior Troop I is fast becoming a rugged group, a week-end trip this time, when they slept two nights in sleeping bags in temperatures that froze their hand lotion. All their cooking, too, done over an open fire, was an adventure, especially when the shortcake, baked in the reflector oven, proved so delicious.

Skiing, due to lack of snow, was substituted by sliding on sleds, snobobs, toboggans and flying discs and by exploring on skates the Great Meadows, where they found a beaver house and dam, polliwogs frozen in the ice, fish swimming below the ice and, believe it or not, they were sure, a beaver up a tree!

Those participating were Betsy and Helen Bolster, Carlie Clark, Joyce Conell, Becky Cotton, Judith Dallin, Angela d'Elseaux, Stephanie Hersey, Sandra Lawson and Roberta Rich.

Drivers were Mr. and Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey, leader; and assistant leader of the troop.

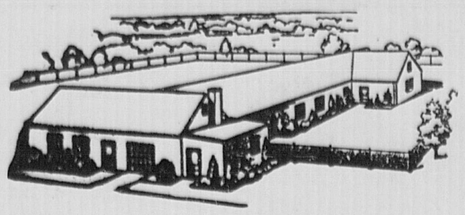

IMPORTANT PARKHURST MEETING

A Civil Defense meeting will be held Tuesday, February 15, at 8:15 p. m. at the Parkhurst School to plan for the evacuation of schools in the event of hydrogen bomb attack.

In the light of recent developments a radical change has taken place in the defense program. Instead of "duck and cover" it would be necessary to leave Winchester immediately, following an attack warning, and go to a destination previously determined by the state.

Civil Defense Directors Theodore Boecker, Sherman Russell and John Blanchard will speak at the school, giving details of the plan. A motion picture of the bombing of Hiroshima will be shown and following the discussion a question period will be held.

It is strongly recommended that not only parents but all citizens in the Parkhurst area attend the meeting.

STUDENT COMMITTEES BUSY WITH CLASS PLAY

Student committees at the high school responsible for the production of the junior-senior class play, "Pride and Prejudice," are busy with the many details of play production. With little more than a week before the deadline, much remains to be done, but all will be completed by curtain time on the evening of February 19.

In charge of production under the supervision of Director Thomas A. Morse are Mary Burton and Mary Jean Lutes. Since the time of "Pride and Prejudice" is the early 1800's, the scenery and costumes should be of special interest. It is reported that the feminine members of the cast are making their own dresses.

As the chairmen of the properties committee, Ray Jenkins and Harlow Russell can be seen most any afternoon scouting around town, poking into every garret and garage in search of period pieces suitable for the play.

Chairman of the publicity committee is Dick Spaulding. Class presidents Warren Goodnow and Frank Dattilo are joint chairmen of the ticket committee, and already an enthusiastic corps of salesmen is beseiging the homerooms. Since the proceeds from the play are used to help defray expenses for the JuniorSenior Prom and Class Night, members of those classes have a special interest in the success of the show.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

The Dartmouth Women's Club of Boston will meet, February 16, at 1:15 p. m. at the Women's City Club, Boston, with Mrs. Mildred Auer, President, presiding.

Mr. Edward Tufts, Secretary of the Massachusetts Bankers, guest speaker, has selected "Flannel Beard Talk" as his subject.

Hostess for the day will be Mrs. Allan B. Shepard, and she will be assisted at the coffee table by Mrs. Benjamin Adams and Mrs. John Knight.

HOLDUP IN WINCHESTER

MARKET RECEIPTS TAKEN AT GUN POINT FROM OWNER'S HOME

Anthony Marchesi, 47, of 86 Irving street, was held up and robbed at gun-point in his own home last Saturday evening by three armed men, who escaped with $2,200 in money and checks which Mr. Marchesi had brought home from his provision store, "Neno's Market," a well known establishment at 32 Swanton street.

Mr. Marchesi locked up his store at 6:45, and at 8:15 was sitting in the living room of his home with his wife, Gladys, 41, and his three daughters, Joan Marie, 13, Barbara, 11, and Carolyn, 7, when there was a knock at his door and a voice called "Neno."

Mr. Marchesi went to the door and opened it. As he did so three men, with revolvers, rushed into the house. Two were masked and the other wore dark glasses and had his face daubed with what appeared to be paint. The leader pointed his gun at Mr. Marchesi and ordered him to keep quiet and produce the money he had just brought home from his market.

Handing the bandit $25 in money and $600 in checks, which he had on his person, Mr. Marchesi told the robbers that was all he had. He was then ordered to lie face downward on the floor while his hands and feet were secured with black friction tape. His wife's hands were also made fast and she and the children were ordered upstairs where they were locked in the bathroom.

While this was going on one of the bandits ripped the family telephone from the wall and he and his mates commenced a thorough search of the premises, rifling everything in the house until they found the wanted bag containing the store receipts of $2,200 in cash and checks in a cabinet in the kitchen.

At once the bandits left the house by the front door. They had been in the house between 15 and 20 minutes.

Mr. Marchesi managed to free himself and ran to the nearby home of Joseph Riga where he telephoned the police. Sgt. Irving Reardon and Officers Henry Dempsey and Frank Tranchita made a quick run to the Marchesi residence, and commenced an immediate investigation.

While searching for the moneybag the bandits found and took with them a diamond ring valued at $500 and two ladies' wrist-watches, one valued at $100 and one at $75. It is believed that the holdup men came and went in an automobile.

HERBERT K. MILLER

Herbert K. Miller, 50, of 23 Fair View avenue, Reading, a native of Winchester and prominent in De Molay circles, died suddenly Sunday, February 13. His death, attributed to a heart attack, was wholly unexpected.

Mr. Miller was the son of William Emerton, and Georgiana Pearl (Taylor) Miller. He was born June 30, 1904, in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School. He completed his education at Todd Seminary in Illinois and for a time worked for the Winchester Trust Company, later being in the brokerage business in Boston.

Actively identified with the Winchester Unitarian Church as a young man, Mr. Miller served as superintendent of the church school for several years. Later he served as director of Religious Education for the Second Church, Unitarian, of Boston.

For a time he served as field secretary for the Middlesex Farm Bureau, afterwards becoming field secretary for the Massachusetts State Farm Bureau. For several years he was associated with the Stoneham Independent, old line Stoneham newspaper, and in recent years he had been associated with the Reading Branch of the Middlesex County National Bank.

Mr. Miller lived as a boy on Mystic avenue. He last made his home on Governor's avenue before moving to Reading 20 years ago. In Reading he was prominent civically, serving the town for several terms as selectman and being actively identified with the Reading Unitarian Church.

For more than 30 years, since its inception in 1923, Mr. Miller worked indefatigably for DeMolay, organizing many chapters and holding the order's two highest awards, the Legion of Honor and the Cross of Honor. While in Winchester and Reading he was a member, and for many years chairman of the DeMolay Advisory Council for the district. He served as district deputy of this district several years ago and recently had been deputy-at-large of the DeMolay Supreme Grand Council. DeMolay members of this district were planning to honor him at the reunion dinner to be held April 23 in Reading.

Mr. Miller was a Mason, a member of Good Samaritan Lodge of Reading, of the Scottish Rite Bodies of Boston and of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

On September 19, 1931, Mr. Miller married Elizabeth Ballard of Lexington, who survives, with two sons, Herbert K., Jr., stationed at Connolly Air Base, Texas, and John B. Miller of Reading; a daughter, Barbara L., of Reading; a sister, Mrs. Pauline Hamlin of Cambridge, and a brother, William E. Miller of Melrose.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Reading Unitarian Church. Rev. Joseph Giunta of the Follen Community Church in Lexington, formerly of Reading, assisted in conducting the services by Rev. Dana McLean Greeley of Arlington Street Church of Boston and the minister of the Reading Church, Rev. Brandoch Lovely. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

"PRIDE AND PREJUDICE"

The annual Junior Senior Class Play will be presented at the Winchester High School auditorium tomorrow night beginning at 8:15 p.m. This year's production, a dramatization of Jane Austen's novel, "Pride and Prejudice," is a successful effort to convert a leisurely satire on English folkways into a lively romantic comedy.

Most of the humor of the play is derived from the efforts of a socially ambitious mother to marry her five daughters to "single men of large fortune." Her partial success, which comes in spite of her efforts rather than because of them, writes finis to a delightful evening of theatrical fare.

Playing the part of the flighty Mrs. Bennet is Nancy Corey, while Seth Weston is cast in the role of her husband. Gretchen Long, Elizabeth Hood, Leanne Beukelman, Cathy deRivera, and Janet Fisher are the Bennet daughters. Other members of the cast include Paul Donlon, Donald Folkers, Judy Snelling, Brad Johnson, Ellen Glowacki, Jane Robertson, Chandra Carlson, Bob Becker, and Cecil Pride.

MISS PARKER ENGAGED

At a tea at their home last Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Parker of 8 Wilson street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Betty Ann, to Mr. Edwin P. McGill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Perry McGill of Newtonville and Mattapoisett.

Miss Parker was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1950. She attended Mount Holyoke College and was graduated from Simmons College with the class of 1954. Mr. McGill prepared at Kimball Union Academy for Newton Junior College and the University of New Hampshire, before serving with the Army in Korea.

A Fall wedding is planned.

MISS ALEXANDER, MR. JOY ENGAGED

Mrs. Harry Alexander of Canton announces the engagement of her daughter, Evelyn May, to Mr. Thomas Waterman Joy, son of Mr. John H. Joy of Yale street, and the late Lucy Waterman Joy.

Miss Alexander graduated from Canton High School and attended I. B. M. School. She is now employed at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Mr. Joy, who is now studying at M.I.T., graduated from Winchester High School and Bowdoin College, where he was a member of Phi Delta Pi.

PROF. NEWELL C. PAGE

Prof. Newell Caldwell Page, emeritus professor of electricity in the Department of Physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a teacher there for 43 years until his retirement in 1945, died at his home, 28 Maxwell road, Tuesday afternoon, February 15, following a brief illness.

Prof. Page was the son of Charles W., and Sarah (Knight) Page. He was born July 3, 1880, in Newburyport and grew up there, graduating from Newburyport High School in 1898 as valedictorian of his class.

After his graduation from M.I.T. in 1902, he returned to the Institute as instructor in the department of physics, and during his years of teaching advanced to full professor through the posts of assistant professor and associated professor. He was for 15 years until his retirement professor of electricity. His long service to the Institute stressed teaching rather than research.

Prof. Page married Harriett Atkinson of Newburyport, September 10, 1907, coming to Winchester with his bride at the time of their marriage. During their 47 years in town they lived at their Lloyd street address, spending their summers for many years at Cape Porpoise, Maine, until their cottage there was destroyed in the forest fires of 1947.

Aside from his teaching skill, Professor Page's accomplishments were many and varied. He played the piano and flute well, and was an excellent amateur photographer. He had a wide knowledge of birds and plants, and in his more active years grew beautiful flowers.

Perhaps the hobby he enjoyed most was working with his hands, and evidence of his skill in wood and metal working was everywhere in his home, while there were few times after his retirement when he was not successfully coaxing several antique clocks back to regular timekeeping.

Many a neighbor in trouble had cause to bless his knowledge of tools and their use, and he was never too busy to lend a hand when needed. Among the unusual examples of his ingenuity and skill as a craftsman is an exact replica of an old Newburyport electric car, complete with controls, electric lights and tip-over seats, a real museum piece.

As his health failed and his eyesight grew dim he devoted himself to his huge cat, "Snooky," who was never far from his master's side, day or night. Held in esteem by all who knew him, Professor Page was genuinely beloved by those privileged to know him intimately. The last of his family, his wife is his only survivor.

Private funeral services were conducted this Friday by Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church.

CLARK — BARNES

A marriage of interest to Winchester residents took place New Year's Eve in Sacramento, California, when Alice Marie Barnes of San Francisco became the bride of Neal Clark, formerly of Winchester.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Paul F. Green of Sacramento, in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Paul F. Green, and her sister was her only attendant. Robert S. Clark, Jr., brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Clark graduated from the University of California in 1954.

Mr. Neal Clark is the son of the late Esther and Rufus Clark, and grandson of Mrs. Rufus L. Clark of Bacon street. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Clark will live at 500 36th avenue, San Francisco, California.

W. D. N. A.

The board of the W. D. N. A. met on February 11th, in the Town Hall with the new president Mrs. Clarence S. Luitwieler presiding. The Chairmen of the committees gave their annual reports for the year of 1954. These reports showed that it had been an active year. Mrs. Wiklund's report for January mentioned that our nurses had made 274 visits to patients during this month.

To show the varied extent of the District Nurses' activities it might be of interest to note that these visits were made to patients with diabetes, cancer, arthritis, multiple sclerosis, and cerebral vascular disease. Also there were calls on expectant mothers and visits for the purpose of health guidance and post operative cases.

There will be an Orientation Meeting for new Association members on March 9th. This is held in the District Nurse office and is to familiarize new members with the office and the routine of the nurses.

WINCHESTER CHAPTER DeMOLAY

At the regular meeting of Winchester Chapter, Order of DeMolay, held Wednesday evening, February 9, Mr. George H. Gowdy, Worshipful Master of William Parkman Lodge, A.F.&.A.M., was made an honorary advisor of Winchester Chapter.

The announcement of this was made by "Dad" Roland F. Davis, chairman of Winchester Chapter's Advisory Council and District Deputy of the First Northern Jurisdiction District (DeMolay) of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Mr. Gowdy's son, George D. Gowdy, who had just taken his initiatory degree in the Order of DeMolay, presented his father with an advisor's medallion after "Dad" Davis' announcement.

Mr. Gowdy resides at 4 Lantern Lane.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER TO BE OBSERVED

The World Day of Prayer is to be observed in Winchester by a service at 2:00 p. m. on Friday, February 25, 1955, at the Church of the Epiphany, to be followed by a tea in the Parish Hall. Everyone is welcome.

Church women from Winchester churches will lead the service, and the subject of the talk by the Reverend Howard Dunbar of Trinity Church in Newton Center will be "Prayer." Winchester ministers have been invited to attend.

In 1954 the day was observed in more than 19,000 communities in the United States, and in 119 countries around the world. Each year the National World Day of Prayer Committee asks a woman or group of women from one of the countries observing the Day to write the service.

This year it has been written by Miss Jorgelina Lozada of Buenos Aires, Argentina, one of the few ordained women pastors in her country. Her interest in children led her to open a kindergarten, and through the years she has continued in children's work in addition to her regular pastoral duties.

The purpose of the Day is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer, and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad. Those activities include work among the American Indians, aid to low-income rural communities, and to agricultural migrants; and those abroad include aid to the education of Christian women leaders in interdenominational Christian colleges in the Orient and Africa, Christian literature for women and children around the world and service by the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students to approximately 30,000 students in the United States.

Mrs. Stephen Nichols, is chairman of the Day, assisted by Mrs. Milton Brown, Mrs. Ellsworth Snow, Miss Dorothy Hall and Mrs. Edith Fletcher, all from Epiphany; Mrs. Murray Moore, First Congregational; Mrs. Ronald Richberg, Second Congregational; Mrs. Stanley Cameron, Baptist; Mrs. Mary C. Terrell and Mrs. Octavis Heburn, New Hope Baptist; Mrs. Gerald Smithson, Methodist; Mrs. Herbert L. Darling and Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, Unitarian.

DYNAMIC DISCUSSION

The lecture presented last Thursday by Dr. Howard Thurman to the Unitarian Alliance and the First Congregational Men's Club was an unusually scholarly and dynamic discussion of the importance of freedom in our individual lives.

First in chronology, Dr. Thurman said, is the freedom of innocence, that freedom from responsibility which we know as childrem. The continuous search for a return to this freedom motivates much that we strive for in working out the tensions of our adult social life.

The second aspect of freedom, Dr. Thurman described as the freedom of alternatives. This sense of choice allows us to rise as high as we can in the moral, social and religious development of our lives. The limitation of this freedom has always been tyranny.

The third, and most highly developed sense of freedom, Dr. Thurman presented as the awareness that each individual's freedom is involved in the freedom of others. The development of this thought brought the most powerful message of Dr. Thurman's words.

NOONAN SCHOOL CLASS PRESENTS MEXICAN ASSEMBLY

Fourth graders in Miss Sarah McGowan's class at the Noonan School have been studying a unit on Mexico, and last week they shared their newly acquired knowledge with their schoolmates in an assembly. Original stories, special reports, and clever illustrations made up a program that was both instructive and entertaining. Several songs and piano solos also added to the success of the assembly.

For the first part of the program there was a series of talks on the history and geography of Mexico, with the following pupils participating: David Bird, John MacDonald, Albert Walker, Claire Hebert, Carol Vigliotti, Paul Howard, Kevin Rielly, Thomas Bolivar, Allen Storms, and Donald McClellan. John MacLellan was master of ceremonies.

Mexican clothing and homes were described by Virginia Wier, Karen Lynch, Richard Crowley, David Thomas, Francis Manzie, and David Mullen. William Graham, Alan Hodge, and Kathleen Drotter reported on the schools of Mexico.

Interesting stories about Mexican foods were given by Dolly Paquette and Diane Crawford, while Gary Callahan talked on Spanish words and expressions. Pottery, coins, and Mexican burros were the subjects discussed by Kenneth Roketenetz, Jack MacLellan, Helen MacLeod, and Mary Ann Harris.

Piano solos by Claire Hebert, David Bird, and Carol Vigliotti were well received, as were the songs and dances by the class.

Members of the class are grateful to the generous people who loaned articles, pictures, books, and cards for the exhibit table on Mexico. They included Miss Marion B. Arrell, Mrs. John MacLellan, Mrs. Gordon Bird, Mrs. Joseph Roketenetz, Mrs. Edward Lynch, Mrs. Francis McClellan, Mrs. Arnold Hebert, and Miss Mary McAuley.

WINCHESTER SCHOOLS IN TEACHER TRAINING PROGRAM

The Winchester School Department is joining three other Massachusetts school systems and ten Massachusetts colleges in a new three-way bid to get able liberal-arts graduates into public school teaching, in both elementary and secondary schools.

With the Harvard Graduate School of Education, they will offer, starting this summer, three routes to a teaching career:

1. College plus an intensive summer's teaching experience under the guidance of master teachers.
2. Intensive summer training followed by half a year of actual, paid work as a teacher while completing a year of graduate study.
3. A year of graduate study, with practice teaching, the present pattern at Harvard.

This program is supported, in part, by a three-year grant of $150,000 from the Fund for the Advancement of Education. Besides Winchester, the cooperating school systems are Concord, Weston, and Winchester. It is hoped that Belmont and Brookline will join the program. The colleges are: Amherst, Harvard, Holy Cross, M. I. T., Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Wellesley, Wheaton, and Williams.

Core of the new approach to teacher-training will be a unique summer school in Newton, at the Weeks Junior High School. There 20 master teachers, recruited from all over the United States, will guide 100 student-teachers and student-observers in the teaching of 300 boys and girls this summer.

After the summer's training, a few carefully-selected college graduates will be hired to teach, under guidance of master teachers, while completing their advanced studies at Harvard. Their own teaching experiences will become the subject of class analysis in their Harvard studies.

As its part in the program, Winchester will fill four positions with teacher trainees, two in the elementary grades, one each in the junior and senior high school. Since the term for each will be one half year, a total of eight persons will be employed during the school year. The teachers-in-training will be under the close supervision of experienced staff members of the Winchester schools in cooperation with the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

In commenting on the new program, President Charles W. Cole of Amherst said: "This threefold approach represents a significant endeavor both to bring added numbers of able liberal arts graduates into school teaching on the one hand, and to relate graduate training in education with the school systems and with the realities of education work."

The Very Rev. William A. Donaghy, S.J., President of Holy Cross, added: "We in the colleges shall be the ultimate beneficiaries since this plan will produce not only better teachers among our graduates but better students among our potential collegians. In addition, I think that it does bring to a sharp point the practical contribution of the Colleges to the Republic and to the production of responsible citizens."

Dean Francis Keppel of the Harvard Graduate School of Education summarized the program this way: "This is just one more effort to contribute toward meeting the truly gigantic need for teachers in America. In three years we would hope to help in preparing 500 or more teachers. The special value of this approach rests on close cooperation between college professors and school officials. We hope it may provide a pattern of interest to other parts of the country.

IN MALDEN INVITATION MEET

A special honor was given to three members of the high school indoor track team when invitations were received by George Bodman, Rich Rimbach and Paul Franson to compete in the Malden High School Invitational Track Meet to be held February 26th at 1:00 p. m.

This meet, known as the "Battle of Champions," selects the outstanding track men in the State and extends invitations to them to compete against each other regardless of the class their school may be assigned.

Rich Rimbach will compete in the high jump in a field of 14; Paul Franson will run the mile in a field of 12; and George Bodman will enter the dash in a field of 20. Tim Hennessey would have qualified for the shot put but this event has been omitted because of the spectator hazard.

Special praise should be given these boys in light of the lack of training facilities for indoor track. By hard work and two days of competition against Malden on their indoor track they have been able to be classed among the best in the state.

JOHN MORSE MADE AIR FORCE MAJOR

John H. I. Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Morse, Jr., of 3 Sanborn place, has been promoted to major in the U. S. Air Force.

John attended the Winchester Schools, going to Phillips Andover Academy in his senior High School year, then to Cornell University. He joined the U. S. Air Force in 1942 as a student pilot and was a B-17 Bomber pilot, doing 35 bomber missions over Germany in 1944. Returning to the States in 1945, he was assigned as a Bomber Test Pilot at Wright-Patterson Field at Dayton, Ohio for a year and a half.

After three and a half years at Cornell in the electrical engineering course, he was recalled to Wright-Patterson Field during the Korean crisis and has stayed in the service since then. He is now on temporary duty in Alaska testing one of the new jet bombers.

John is married to Alice Winslow of St. Joseph, Mich., and they have three children, Cynthia, Patricia and Charles. His family recently spent a month in Winchester with his parents during which time the two girls attended Mystic School.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

There are but eight weeks of bowling left as we go to press. There were no appreciable changes except that California and St. Mary's met head on this week and when the smoke had cleared California had sole possession of first place.

Team Standings:
California	18-6
Georgetown	16-8
St. Mary's	16-8
Holy Cross	14-10
Boston College	13-11
Harvard	13-11
Alabama	10-14
Notre Dame	9-15
Yale	7-17
Bates	4-20
Hi Single:
Jake Jacobellis	144
Hi Triple:
Moose Bellino	367
Top Six Bowlers:
Moose Bellino	103.8
Tony Saraco	103.1
Jake Jacobellis	99.4
Frank DiMambro	97.8
Tony Chefalo	97.3
Pete Provinzano	97.

The battle between Tony Saraco and "Moose" Bellino showed a slight change as Tony Saraco after many consistent weeks of bowling over 300 was stopped just short of that figure by bowling 298 this week. Meantime "Moose" bowled a 319 to gain a slight edge in the average column. This battle is far from being over as I predicted many weeks ago.

The leadership in the 300 circle is still held by Tony with 13 and runner-up is "Moose" with 12.

Those fortunate to hit the 300 circle this week were Jake Jacobellis, 335; Moose Bellino, 319; Frankie Penta, 315; Max La Crubba, 310; Frank DiMambro, 304; Mingy Frongillo, 304; Jeff Gaudioso, 302; "Creeper" Gene Rotundi, 300.

A few words about St. Mary's team, which consists of Musky Tofuri, a past great individual bowler and team man whose age has slowed him down; Frank DiMambro, a southpaw and backbone of the team; Pete Lonigro, a consistent and conscientious bowler, always doing his utmost; Joe Ciarcia, a newcomer this year who has proved his worth; Joe Marrone, whose soft spoken manner is the envy of all; and Costy Cruella, the boy wonder from Woburn who has all the answers.

This was a quiet night at the alleys as our friends, the parakeets were not present. I must confess that their presence was missed especially by our wandering boys.

To keep in the good graces of the wives I have been requested to make public the names of those who were low man this week and will not bowl next week, Tony Penta, Phil Adagno, Pete Fiore, R. DiTeso, Fred La Torrella, Costy Cruella, "Shiny" Amico, F. Riga, Sr., Mario Lentini and guest who? "Hi ya pal" Chic Vespucci.

The raffle was run as usual and again we missed the parakeets in this phase of our night's endeavor. It was won by smiling Jimmy Gangi, a likeable chap.

CURLERS' COLUMN

There are so many deserving headlines this week that we had to compromise on the above.

Taking things in order, the Young Cup, symbolic of the Championship in Winchester Curling, was won by Joe Abely, Jr., Charlie Eaton, and Russ Symmes, only incidentally skipped by Dan Morse. Dan's rink curled so beautifully that only a few proper guards were needed by him. The score was 12-6 against Bill Ferguson, Tom Righter, George King and Charley Waghorne, skip. Joe "ably" substituted in the final match for Jake Van-Vloten, who did noble work for Dan in the first three matches, so mention of Jake should not be omitted.

Also last week, Howard Eteson, supported by Tom Righter, Tom Downes and John MacDonald won the second Round-Robin from Ralph Bonnell's rink of Bob Ingersoll, Otis Leary and Bill Daly. The third Round-Robin is now in progress, with new rinks for the same skips.

The White Cup competition will be run off soon. This is the "junior championship," in which the senior skips, who were skipping in the Young Cup, are barred. These White Cup skips will be chosen by the committee, mainly on a seniority basis, as is the custom in curling.

The semi-finals and finals in the District Medal were held on Sunday morning and afternoon. For the first time in the memory of the oldest curlers, the Country Club did not make them. Two Nashua and two Winchester rinks had close matches. Waghorne, with Bill Davis, Charlie Siders and Frank Lane won 10-9 over Gagnon's rink, in 13 ends. Howard Eteson, with Keith Fulton, Arthur Butters and Larry Fessenden lost a hard match 10-8 to Dr. Haynes's rink of Nashua. In the afternoon the match was just as hard and close, but Charley Waghorne's rink managed a 10-6 win. Nashua had the last stone in this match and could have tied it up for an extra end if the Nashua skip's stone had not carromed off Charlie's counter the wrong way.

The two women's rinks which went to Westchester this past week reported a wonderful time, though hard competition. They did finely, for the amount of curling they have under their belts, and the prospects of future women's curling at Winchester are bright. We have many gals who only need more time and experience. Their competition this week will give this experience in the women's grand national championship, to be held at both Winchester and the Country Club.

The Scots' visit was a grand success. It is reported last, not because of shame, but of humility. They showed us how curling should be done. Between ourselves, we sometimes think we are good curlers, some of us having curled for twenty to twenty-five years. If our sons and grandsons keep the curling virus in their veins, perhaps we New Englanders will get as good as the Scots are. The exhibitions they put on during the six matches at Winchester were enough to make us humble. The accuracy — "on the broom" — the weight—how hard they curled the stones—and their strategy was superb. We have no alibis only admiration for their technique, for they put their stones where their skip told them to, and when the skip performed, he simply took out any annoying stones of ours. Results of the matches were duly reported in the Boston papers of last Saturday and Sunday and do not need to be repeated here. They were all wonderful guests and we hope we can repeat our Host performance.

Your reporter cannot resist commenting on the "how" and "why" the Scots were so good. Granted that they were "on the broom" and threw their stones with uniform "weight," without other help it seemed humanly impossible to be so accurate. Being one, amongst others, who got badly beaten, it was an opportunity to "think" the game of curling, as well as acting it. The conclusion, for the uncanny accuracy, would seem to be their brooms, which are not the ordinary house brooms we use, but a "pusher" about eight inches in width. Their sweeping, and ability to "bring" the stones the desired distance, seemed to be much more effective than our sweeping. We tried one of these "pushers" Sunday afternoon, that Ray Holdsworth had somehow "liberated" from one of the Scots before they left, and it seemed much more effective than our brooms when another few feet or inches was needed. Ability of the sweepers, as well as the skip, to judge sliding distance is of course essential, but we hereby start agitation for the Scotch "pushers."

Self-confidence is a good trait, but be sure you are in a position to back it up.

SCHOLARSHIP AVAILABLE

Once again the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society wishes to announce that one nursing scholarship, with the possibility of a second, is available to students in public and parochial schools within this district. The district includes Melrose, Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester, and Woburn.

Eight scholarships have been awarded during the five years that the fund has been in existence. Two of the young women have already graduated from the schools of their choice, while others are in various stages of their training.

Complete information may be obtained from the High School Principal's Office, or from Mrs. George A. Marks, 32 Foxcroft road, Winchester, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee.

CAR IN DOWN-HILL PLUNGE

Last Friday afternoon an automobile, owned by Rev. Joseph W. Sullivan of 40 York street, Cambridge, while parked on Highland avenue opposite the home of Mr. Frank Fontaine, 408 Highland avenue, started to roll along the street.

Veering to the right the car plunged down a steep grade on the Forrest L. Knapp property, 419 Highland avenue, cutting up the lawn, knocking down a tree and smashing some shrubbery before crashing to a stop against a tree at the rear of the lot.

The car was extensively damaged about the front end and had eventually to be towed away by a wrecker. No one was injured.

MRS. AMERICA CONTEST

February 14th was the kick-off day for the fabulous "Mrs. America" contest, which will send some unknown American homemaker zooming to fame and fortune.

Predicting a big response to the local contest, the Mystic Valley Gas Company, headquarters for the contest in this area, will start distributing application blanks on that date.

The contest is open to married women 21 years of age or over, and "Mrs. America" will be selected principally for abilities as a homemaker and meal planner, with some consideration to personal appearance.

The winning "Mrs. America" will receive a stack of exciting prizes such as every woman dreams of. Total awards come to $15,000, and include a complete New Freedom Gas Kitchen and Laundry for the winner's own home.

Each state finalist will receive an all-expense-paid trip for herself and her husband to and from Ellinor Village, Fla., where the grand finals of the 17th annual "Mrs. America" contest will be staged.

Fifty of the homes in this family-style resort have been set aside to finalists in the "Mrs. America" contest. The street the homes are located on has been named "Mrs. America Drive." All the contest homes, plus the deluxe villa set aside for the two-week vacation of "Mrs. America" after her selection, are completely equipped with the most modern automatic gas appliances.

The Mystic Valley Gas Company will distribute application blanks and stage the local contest. Application blanks appear in the January and February issues of Better Living magazine, on sale at independent supermarkets. The gas company was named local headquarters of the contest by American Gas Association, New York City, the national sponsor.

Following local eliminations here to select area candidates, a state contest will be held in Boston during the week of April 18th to choose the state finalist to be sent to Florida to vie for the title of "Mrs. America."

The police were notified last Sunday evening that the front of a house on Harrison street was coated with ice and it was feared a pipe had burst in the dwelling. The occupants being away, Sgt. Reardon and Officer Devlin went to investigate and found water seeping from an upstairs window at the northwest corner of the house. The police were unable to get in but a neighbor contacted a relative of the family who got a plumber on the job at once.

"DEAR BRUTUS"

A play by James M. Barrie
Presented by the Parish Players, First Congregational Church.
February 10, 11 and 12, 1955.
Directed by Harlan F. Grant.

The Cast

Mrs. Coade	Dorothy Clarke Harvey
Mrs. Purdie	Marie H. Millican
Mrs. Dearth	Constance B. Hessler
Lady Caroline Laney	Shirley B. Puffer
Joanna Trout	Gene Dickson Symes
Matey	Finn O. Bockmann
Lob	Thomas A. Morse
Mr. Coade	Earle F. Spencer, Jr.
Mr. Purdie	William F. Symes
Mr. Dearth	Arthur Grant Burtnett, Jr.
Margaret	Darla Hall

"The fault, Dear Brutus, is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings." In this play, Barrie undertakes to prove Shakespeare's contention in an exquisite blending of humor and fantasy.

Mr. Lob, a sort of modern Puck, has invited a group of people for his week-end guests. Strangely heterogeneous, they have but one thing in common—the desire for a second chance. In quest of this, Lob entices them into a magic wood which is won't to appear only on Midsummer's Eve. Here they realize their yearning. Mr. Purdie, unhappy with his wife and in the throes of a flirtation with Mabel, finds himself married to her, and flirting with his wife. Matey, the dishonest butler, is a dishonest captain of finance, and the snobbish Lady Caroline is—of all things!—his wife. Mr. Dearth, the artist, is happiest in his second chance, for there he finds the dream-daughter for whom he has always yearned. As the spell wears off, the guests return to the house, each one chastened to discover him or herself less fine than they had thought themselves to be. But we are left with the feeling that they have not found the adventure an unprofitable one; and the Dearths, who have profited most, start out on a painting expedition together.

The play, reputed to have been Barrie's favorite, is unlike anything else he has written. More than most, it calls for professional handling, and only the most ambitious amateur groups attempt it. The casting, it seems to me, calls for actors of more maturity, as some of the players involved were (I hope!) in process of enjoying their first, and not their second, chance.

Darla Hall, as Margaret, fell heir to the part with which Helen Hayes, at the threshold of her career, enchanted both audience and critics, making the play her own, despite the presence in the cast (as Mr. Dearth) of the illustrious William Gillette. Darla's Margaret was impulsive, girlish, and appealing, and she captured more than a trace of the dreamy, gossamer-like quality the part demands. For a girl still in high school, truly a fine performance.

Without its inscrutable Lob, "Dear Brutus" would lose its charm. Here is a part to test the mettle of the most accomplished actor. Kudos, then, to Tom Morse for his droll, and, may I add, agile handling of an exacting part; also for taking time off from an already full schedule to fill this important niche in the current production.

The married couples were well contrasted. As Mr. and Mrs Dearth, Arthur Burtnett, Jr., and Constance Hessler sounded with skill the undertones of an unhappy marriage. Later, in the scene with his daughter in the wood, Arthur caught much of the whimsicality and wistfulness of the part. Constance brought to the role of the wife the charm of her pleasing personality, and artfully limned a different, but appealing, figure in the wood.

As the inconstant Mr. Purdie and his inamorata, Joanna Bill, and Gene Symes managed a difficult scene with warmth and naturalness. This seems the place to tell the tale of the lady who commended the acting of a certain leading man in a romantic part. "Yes," agreed her friend, "and the lady playing opposite him is his wife." "His wife!" exclaimed she, "My God, What An Actor!" Marie Millican made of Mrs. Purdie a woman of refinement and lady-like restraint in the face of great aggravation, and all three made the most of the comic highlights in their reverse-situation scene in the wood.

Dorothy Harvey made of Mrs. Coade someone you would be glad to know, and her surprise and scarcely-concealed delight at his second proposal was humorous and touching. Earl Spencer, Jr., played the bearded Mr. Coade with due dignity, and his woodland antics, by contrast, were delightfully droll.

As Lady Laney, Shirley Puffer lent just the right touch of acerbity in the first act, and achieved an amusing contrast as the adoring wife of a bumptious Matey in the second.

In the part of Matey, Finn Bockmann amusingly combined inbred servility with a suppressed desire to be important, which burst into full bloom in the wood.

As usual, the skillful guiding hand of Harlan Grant was much in evidence throughout; and the loyal and hardworking scenic designers sure let themselves go in that atmospheric wood! The Players may compliment themselves on having made a distinguished addition to their repertoire, and successfully surmounted the difficulties of an unusual and challenging play.

EDITORIALS

Apparently our correspondents do not read our editorials, or do not believe we mean it when we say we will not print unsigned letters. We got another one this week, from a "paid subscriber," who writes about the fallacy of having two railroad stations in Winchester and insists on one promise, that the communication be published "without my name." Since neither the communication nor envelope bore a name, there was no danger of the name being used, and again we regret being unable to publish the letter. Sign them, or do not bother to send them! As we said last week, your name does not necessarily have to be published.

MOST PRACTICAL PLAN

Editor of the Star:

Regarding the Titilah solution to the parking problem in Winchester square, as outlined in Mr. Titilah's letter appearing in the February fourth issue of your paper.

I believe it is the most practical plan that has been presented to date. This plan would eliminate commuter parking in the present areas. The taxi area opposite the station adjacent to the out bound track would also be done away with. These areas would then be available for shoppers.

The new station would help to equalize the distances between the several Winchester stations. This change would make the new station more accessible to the town as a whole.

From the railroad point of view it would eliminate a double stop in many cases. Often an inbound train on the Woburn loop has to wait for an inbound main line train to clear and then make a second stop to pick up passengers at the station. With the new location only one stop at the station would be necessary.

Yours truly,
Chauncey L. Mitchell,
45 High street

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Editor of the Star:

We wish to express, through the columns of your paper, our heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness we received following the serious fire at our house.

We are indeed grateful to the Winchester Fire and Police Departments; the Auxiliary Fire Department; the Clergy and parishioners of St. Mary's Church; and our many neighbors, all of whom came so quickly and so generously to our assistance.

Again, may we say many thanks.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly on Monday, February 14, was held as usual in the First Baptist Church, and was preceded by a Valentine dessert, served by Mrs. Harold E. Bergquist and her committee. Mrs. William E. Priest and Mrs. Walter W. Winship poured at the very attractively decorated table.

At two o'clock the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hiram Moody. After the singing of a stanza of America and the salute to the Flag, the invocation was given by Mrs. Robert H. Perkins.

The secretary's report and treasurer's statement were read and then Mrs. Moody presented Mrs. Myron G. Holmes, Eighth District Director, who very graciously greeted the club members and their guests and expressed her appreciation of the Club's activities.

It was voted that the president appoint three delegates to attend the midwinter meeting of the State Federation on February 17th. Interesting reports and notices were read by the chairmen of several committees and two dates of special importance were noted. The first is February 28th, when all members are requested to contribute generously to the food sale which the Ways and Means Committee is sponsoring for the benefit of the Philanthropy Fund. On Thursday, March 17th, the Art Committee is planning an all-day trip to Rhode Island School of Design in Providence and one of the best in the country. This promises to be a most interesting visit and it is hoped that a large number will reserve the date and plan to go. More details will apear in the Star at a later date.

At 2:30 p. m. the business session ended and Mrs. William C. Cusack introduced Mrs. Faith Kurt Tibero, a most charming young lady who introduced us to many of the lovely gardens of Italy by showing her pictures and calling our attention to the emphasis which is put on the careful planning of areas of light and shade, the use of pools and waterfalls, statuary and extensive use of trees and hedges, thus making blue, white and green the predominating colors. Comparatively few flowers of bright colors are found as the hot climate makes their use difficult. After listening to Mrs. Tibero, we all felt that we had had a delightful visit in the lovely gardens of Italy.

Preservation of Antiques

The Committee for the Preservation of Antiques, Mrs. Earle E. Andrews chairman, held a very successful meeting Thursday, February 10, at the home of Mrs. William C. Cusack. The speaker was Mrs. Edwin Tarbox of Arlington, and her subject was "British Royalty."

Mrs. Tarbox spoke mostly about the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, and had on display a large number of objects having to do with this historic event. These included five beautifully dressed dolls belonging to Mrs Lester Hayden of Arlington, made to the likeness of the queen, the so-called Chelsea doll bearing the closest resemblance of any.

As the Coronation was a money-making event as well as an historical one practically everything made at that time had the royal symbols on them, even the paper wrappings of the bread and cakes. Among other objects displaying these symbols were buttons, postcards, books, stamps, paper-dolls, playing cards dish towels, sandwich plates, Wedgewood china, and handkerchiefs, all of which Mrs. Tarbox showed samples.

Besides these souvenirs of the Coronation there were also on display many objects of Queen Victoria's reign.

Following this talk a very beautiful Valentine tea was served with Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard, and Mrs. Harold H. Given pouring. About 40 members and guests attended this meeting.

Robert L. Johnson, 42 Jefferson road was recently initiated into the Michigan State College chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity.

WINCHESTER WON UP NORTH

KENNETT DEFEATED IN INTERSECTIONAL GAME, 70-56

On their annual trip to Conway, N. H., to play Kennett High School the Winchester Basketball team continued its undefeated streak to 17.

The first half was a tight contest with the Sachems holding a 36-30 halftime edge. However, Winchester broke the game open in the last half to win 70-56.

High scorer was Captain Jim Wright with 22 points as 4 of the starters hit for double figures. Joe Bellino was the playmaker as he accounted for 16 baskets, five he made himself and eleven assists. John Lynch and Jim Wright made 11 and 10 grabs, respectively off the boards.

When the team arrived at Conway they were treated to a delicious steak dinner at the Conway Cafe.

That afternoon all journeyed to Jackson to take the chair lift up Thorn Mt. which proved to be very cold. After this they went back again to Conway to have a 5:00 o'clock supper. The game was played at 7:30 and the boys stayed for the juke-box dance until 10:30. It was agreed by all who went on the trip that a better time could not have been possible.

BERLIN'S TUNES DEFY TIME

Irving Berlin's "There's No Business Like Show Business," the Twentieth Century-Fox spectacular musical in CinemaScope and De-Luxe color which opens on Wednesday, February 23, at the Winchester Theater, proves that the popular composer's music can stand the test of time. In looking for special songs for Marilyn Monroe to do, Berlin dug down in his trunk and came up with "Heat Wave," "Lazy" and "After You Get What You Want, You Don't Want It." The latter song was written 34 years ago. The lyrics needed not a single change, nor the music a single revision. The song is as apt, as modern today as that of any lyricist-composer, including Berlin, himself.

Of the 24 songs in the picture, three are new: "If You Believe," sung by Johnnie Ray; "A Man Chases A Girl Until She Catches Him," sung and danced by Donald O'Connor, and "A Sailor's Not A Sailor Till A Sailor's Been Tattooed," written especially for Ethel Merman and Mitzi Gaynor. Miss Merman and Dan Dailey also sing the title song, "There's No Business Like Show Business,, and "When That Midnight Choo Choo Leaves for Alabam," among others.

ROTARY NOTES

Winchester Rotary observed a Ladies Night and celebrated the golden anniversary of Rotary last night at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield.

Last week's speaker was Alan Tucker, deputy regional staff director of the Boy Scouts who was in charge of the swimming program for 45,000 Boy Scouts at the International Jamboree in California last summer.

Rotary's Annual Auction, always one of the Red Letter events of the early spring season is scheduled for April 30. Already plans are well under way to make this year's event bigger, better and busier.

John McIntyre, Vin Ambrose and Nick Fitzgerald have been named a nominating committee to bring in next year's slate of officers.

Rotarians are urged to save March 10, for an evening gathering of Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs.

WINCHESTER OVER STONEHAM

Once again the Winchester basketball team had first period jitters, but recovered swiftly to rout Stoneham last Friday in a Middlesex League basketball game at the high school gym, 70-38.

In the initial stanza the Indians scored only 10 points, but more than doubled it the 2nd period to hold a 35-17 halftime advantage.

From here on in the game was all Winchester with some of the J. V.s seeing service in the final quarter.

High scorers were Joe Bellino and Bob Smith each with 13. This was the 2nd straight game that Bob Smith has scored 13 points, which shows his vast improvement over the last two weeks as an understudy for John Lynch.

The big men were very fruitful off the boards with Smith and Lynch grabbing off 14 and 12 rebounds, respectively. Joe Bellino and Bert Kneeland each had six assists.

Thus, with another Middlesex League Championship under their belts, the Indians head for the Tech Tourney beginning March 9, and it is this reporter's opinion that with Bellino, Lynch, Smith, and Kneeland all coming back next year history will definitely repeat.

In the J. V. game the Seconds remained undefeated winning 81-39. High scorers were Jim Fitzgerald with 16 and John Russo and Dave Bergquist with 12 apiece.

IS SOMETHING BEING DONE!

Is something being done to prevent and control juvenile delinquency in Massachusetts? Those attending the Legislative Luncheon of the Winchester League of Women Voters hope to hear some of the answers to this question of vital concern when Mr. John D. Coughlan speaks before that group on March 4.

Mr. Coughlan is in a position to present the latest developments in this field in our own state as he is the Director of the Division of Youth Service and Chairman of the Youth Service Board, Massachusetts Department of Education. He has worked with youth continuously since receiving his Master of Education Administration degree from Harvard: first as a teacher and supervisor in Everett, later as superintendent of schools in Canton and in Marlborough, and now in his present position. While in Everett, he was one of the organizers of the Youth Committee, and a prime mover in the development of an adequate recreational program and youth canteen. These programs were designed with a special emphasis on the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

The Youth Service Board, a group of three persons appointed by the governor, was created in 1948 to develop constructive programs to reduce and prevent juvenile delinquency. The Board functions on both a local and a statewide level to cooperate with existing agencies and encourage the establishment of new agencies having as their object the control of delinquency and crime. A bill to extend detention facilities for juveniles has been filed at the request of the Board. The Massachusetts League of Women Voters is supporting this bill, which is currently before the Massachusetts Senate.

The Legislative Luncheon is one of the most popular annual events of the Winchester League. Those who make reservations for themselves and their guests by March 1 will enjoy a delightful luncheon prepared and served by the Ladies of the Methodist Guild at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

MYSTIC SCHOOL FATHERS' NIGHT

On Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. February 15, the Mystic School Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association held its Fathers' Night, an annual event always much anticipated for sociability, entertainment and instruction. Tuesday's meeting was a shining example of all three.

Parents gathered for a social period at 7:30 and were served dessert and coffee by the tea committee headed by Mrs. Norman Stafford.

The meeting was then called to order and the president, Mrs. Lynwood Bryant, reviewed the year's activities of the chapter and the work of special committees to show the fathers how the chapter endeavors to work with the school for the welfare of the children.

At the request of Mrs. Nicholas Grant, the vice-president and program chairman, Mr. John Lyman had arranged a short program of songs sung by five members of the Mystic Glee Club: Mr. John Gilbert, Mr. Edward Lord, Mr. Frederick Rozelle, Mr. George Stothoff and Mr. Thomas Worthen. The singing was excellent and delighted the audience.

Following the musical program, the speaker for the evening was introduced, the distinguished Dr. William C. Kvaraceus, professor of Education at Boston University, whose subject was "Using Tests to Help Children and Parents." His talk was most timely in view of the testing program, for which he was the consultant, recently started in the Winchester schools. He presented his subject simply yet thoroughly, and with humor and dynamic delivery.

Dr. Kvaraceus' qualifications are impressive. He has a wide range of experience in classroom teaching, supervision, guidance and research work in public and private schools. He is internationally known for studies on prevention and control of child delinquency and has published several articles and books in this field. He has served as consultant to the U. S. Children's Bureau and to the U. S. Office of Education. In 1952-1953 at the request of the Turkish government he spent a sabbatical leave in an advisory and teaching capacity to the Ministry of Education.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT COUPLES' CLUB

In keeping with the spirit of the Lenten season, the Wednesday Night Couples' Club of the First Congregational Church will temporarily slacken the tempo of its monthly social activities.

All members are urged to attend the Ash Wednesday devotional service, February 23rd at the Church of the Epiphany in the evening at 7:45. Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church will be the speaker of the evening.

As in the past, an hour of fellowship will follow in Chidley Hall where Wednesday Night Couples' Club members are invited for light refreshments.

PARENT-FACULTY CARD PARTY

Another successful card party was sponsored by the high school's Parent-Faculty Association last Wesdnesday night. The good time enjoyed by those who filled more than 30 tables at the high school gymnasium proved that Winchester folk enjoy an evening of cards, especially when it is in a good cause. Not to be forgotten either are the goodly number who were unable to attend but who purchased tickets anyway.

Well advertised in advance, Charlie Koch's "cribbage corner" was busy all evening. It is reported that beginner's luck was with John Stevens, of the high school faculty, as he trounced veteran Jim Coon. Jim says he not only got licked, but he had to do the counting for John.

At about 10:30, co-chairman Charles Koch asked Principal Wade L. Grindle to draw the lucky numbers for the prizes. Holders of the winning tickets were the following: Mr. Alton B. Fowler, Mrs. Albert M. Thompson, Mrs. Ernest Parker, Mrs. Alton B. Fowler, Mrs. Clair Swonger, Mrs. Herman Fischer, Mrs. George Gowdy and Mrs. F. E. Lever.

Much credit for the success of the affair go to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Koch, the co-chairmen, and the other members of the committee. Mrs. A. W. Ghirardini, chairman of the decorations committee, and her assistant, Mrs. Clarence S. Donaghey, were responsible for the attractive decorations, including the display of skirts from Peru and the colorful travel posters.

Mrs. Charles Sweetser and her ticket committee assured the financial success of the undertaking by their energetic work in contacting parents of high schoolers. Mr. John Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton McNeil, and Mrs. Herbert F. Ross were also a big help. Assisting with the chairs and tables were Rowe and "Digger" Ghirardini and Dale Townley-Tilson. To them and all the others who lent a hand go the thanks of the Association.

LINCOLN ASSEMBLY AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

Lincoln's birthday was appropriately observed at the Noonan School on February 11, when a special assembly honoring our sixteenth president was presented. "Lincoln—From Poor Boy to President" was the title of an original play written and produced by members of Dr. Marie B. Fagerland's 6th grade class.

Written in five scenes, the play described several episodes from Lincoln's life or events related to it. The play began with the boy Lincoln at home in a rude cabin, surrounded by his family. A second episode showed Abe as a storekeeper; later on he appeared at Gettysburg. Other scenes depicted life on a southern plantation and a reunion of soldiers.

Members of the cast were:

James Flaherty	Catherine Lizotte
Thomas Russo	Marcia Ayer
Gerald Lucey	Carmen Collela
Donald Nadeau	Terence Collins
Richard Franson	Stewart Poole
Mary Donovan	Daniel Graham
Judith Crowley	Karen McHugh
Carolyn Doherty	Thomas Treacy
Gail Frotten	Kenneth Forte
Richard Saurman	Lawrence Donlin
Marie Gregory	Jean Lonigro
Victor Cotrone	Judith Crowley

Jean Bolivar was the announcer and Edith Gailitis was stage manager. Authors of the play were Jean Lonigro, Gail Frotten, Carolyn Doherty, Mary Donovan, Karen McHugh, Marie Gregory, Victor Cotrone, Terence Collins, Lawrence, and James Flaherty. Scene painters included Jean Bolivar, Edith Gailitis, Daniel Graham, and Gerald Lucey.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

This Sunday afternoon, from 4:30 to 6:00, the Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will share their meeting with the Junior High Fellowships of the Second Congregational Church of Winchester, under the direction of Rev. A. John Skeirik, and of the Woburn North Church under the leadership of Rev. Robert Crawford. A worship service will be conducted by Susan Wallace and Roberta Watson, following which the group will enjoy a talk by Rev. Robert A. Knowles, National Secretary of Junior High Work for the Congregational Christian Churches. A period of entertainment has been planned by John Curtis, and refreshments will be supplied by Achsa Clark, Paula Colclough, John Johnian, Donald Lewis, Gail Lever, Mariana Ross, and Betty Ann Swisher. Adults who are assisting Miss Vickery with the program are Mrs. James G. Baker and Mrs. John B. Lathrop.

Mr. Knowles attended the public schools of Springfield, Mass., and began work at Springfield College but was interrupted by service in the U.S. Navy during World War II. After the war he resumed his studies and received his B.S. degree, and after further study at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley, Calif., he received his B.D. Degree and was ordained to the Congregational Christian ministry.

Mr. Knowles has had considerable valuable experience in work with young people. During high school and college days he spent summer vacations working as a councilor and staff member of the Springfield Boys' Club Camp. He also did Student Summer Service work in California, and while acting as Associate Minister of the Oakland First Congregational Church, was a member of the faculty of junior and senior high Pilgrim Fellowship camps and conferences. It will be a real privilege for the young people to hear Knowles speak on "Circle of Friendship."

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Considerable interest was evidenced in last week's special Abraham Lincoln programs at the Library. The three film showings, on Friday and Saturday, were well attended, and the Winchester Historical Society held its meeting Saturday afternoon with a substantial membership present. During Saturday, Lincoln's birthday, the Edgar J. Rich Room was open to the public, and a number of people went in to look over the many books and pamphlets on Lincoln and the Civil War, slavery pamphlets, campaign maps and mementos of the era.

Attention Businessmen

The Library has just received for the Business and Technical Alcove the 1955 edition of the Municipal Manual published by Moody's Investors Service. This is the biggest and most comprehensive municipal manual Moody's has yet published. Municipal financing has been heavy for the past several years, and the publishers have expanded the manual to cover a greater number of municipalities and taxing units.

There are a number of interesting features in addition to the increased coverage. One of the most interesting sections is the Directory of Public Utilities in which are listed the utility companies which serve a particular city.

The Municipal Manual should provide adequate information, for it provides fine, accurate coverage for both municipalities and governments.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Leaders Attention! It is necessary to get your lists for the Father-Daughter Banquet in on February 18. Bring them to the Music Hall for our Association Meeting, or, failing that, get them to the office between 2-3:30 p. m. this Friday. There will be no troop meetings next week, following our local policy of "No school, no Scouts." The office will be closed on Tuesday, Washington's Birthday, but open the rest of the week. Troop leaders who have ordered badges or other equipment should pick them up at the office, as all orders taken before February 14th have been filled.

SKATING IN ICE FOLLIES

Barbara "Buttons" Burbank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bouldin G. Burbank of 12 Walcott road is currently appearing at the Boston Garden with the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1955. Barbara, a graduate of Winchester High School and Bouve Boston School of Physical Education at Tufts College has been with the Ice Follies since June, 1953. She joined the Follies after she had taught physical education for a year at the Shipley School, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

"Buttons" learned to skate on the various Winchester ponds and took her advanced lessons at the Boston Skating Club. She says she always had a desire to enter show business and especially after participating in the High School vaudeville and Winton Club shows. In the Ice Follies of 1955 "Buttons" appears in six numbers but she says she likes best the finale in which she performs as one of the Ice Folliettes, called the world's greatest skating ensemble.

In addition to appearing in the show, "Buttons" has recently been put in charge of the recreational activities of the Ice Follies Company.

Last Monday night Barbara's parents entertained informally for their daughter and three of her friends from the Ice Follies cast. Barbara's friends were Miss Shirley Matteson of St. Paul, Minnesota, Miss Patricia Fish of Media, Penn., and Don Robinson of Brantford, Ontario, Canada.

Among the Winchester guests present were Mrs. George L. Witham, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge, Jr., William von Rosenvinge, Robert Horne, George Fortune, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, Martha Daschbach, Sally Holmes and Mr. Richard P. Goddard.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

At the last regular meeting of the Winchester Lions Club we were privileged to have as our guest Mr. Arthur Johns, chairman of the Winchester March of Dimes Committee. Following a very enlightening talk by Mr. Johns, Lion Jay Finn presented Mr. Johns with a check for $147.20, proceeds of our recent kiddie show at the Winchester Theater.

Our meeting this week will feature a program arranged by the Winchester Office of Civil Defense. Lion Theodore Boecker, who is Director of Civil Defense of Winchester, and some members of his staff will show a movie entitled "Operation Ivy" and authorized government release of a hydrogen bomb explosion in the South Pacific, Lion Boecker will explain how service clubs can be an effective instrument in a well planned evacuation program. This should prove to be an extremely interesting and informative evening.

At our meeting Lion Jay Finn was elected to the Board of Directors to fill an existing vacancy on the board.

The men on whom a business leans

There are men on whom a business leans as a child leans on its parents. Other men in the business say: "Ask John about this—or about that." They know John will find the answer. Then suddenly John is gone.

When that happens the replacement takes time. The business suffers and costs run up.

John Hancock Business Security Plans were developed to meet these conditions. Why not ask about them? Your inquiry will be welcomed and given immediate attention.

RED CROSS WORKERS BRIEFED

Volunteer workers for the 1955 Red Cross fund campaign in Winchester will soon set forth on their annual drive, with a new understanding of where the money collected is needed, and how much of it will be used locally, out of the $19,541.00 goal. These facts and other informative points of Red Cross activity were stressed at the meeting held for volunteer workers on Thursday evening at Masonic Hall.

Two weeks ago a brief resume was given in this paper of some local activities toward which funds are allocated. This week will add to that list, and also show some of the personal acticities of the 856 Winchester people who have given their time and services to the local Chapter during 1954.

At Bedford Veterans Hospital, Bedford, six outings, picnics and parties were given for the patients. Two groups of Gray Ladies gave weekly service to the hospital, and 230,000 surgical dressings were made by two other groups. Sewing groups made new draperies to brighten the hospital windows. At Winchester Hospital, the Gray Ladies and Nurses Aids gave weekly service and helped with the Children's Hour. The Motor Corps made 49 trips to the Bloodcenter (in Boston) for 138 pints of blood, and eight walking donors provided blood at the local hospital when requested.

A total of 56 local servicemen and their families were helped during the year. Twenty-five men who were on the high seas at Christmas received gift boxes, and Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets were sent to several families. Help was given to Co. C in the Fells in furnishing a PX, both directly and through interesting other Winchester organizations.

In the work of the volunteer Motor Corps 22 Winchester men and women drove 9,390 miles, and gave 857 hours for 303 calls to take patients to Boston hospitals and on other errands of mercy. One patient was driven daily for several weeks to Massachusetts General Hospital.

The younger generation has been equally active. The Junior Red Cross sent 152 boxes of gifts to children in foreign lands. Elementary school children made 1,200 nut cups and favors to be sent to the Home for the Aged and the Little Wanderers Home. High School students sent 497 records and 3,028 Christmas cards. From January to June, two classes were held weekly in Home Nursing for high school girls.

During 1954 seven First Aid classes were held and 117 certificates awarded. One hundred and seventeen more people trained to know what to do in an emergency is a real asset to the community.

There is little doubt that the Red Cross plays a considerable part in the community life of our town. Let's give them the help they need.

"OUR EMANCIPATOR" AT ST. MARY'S

One more year has rolled around and the Great Emancipator—our own Abe Lincoln—has just had another birthday. This day was celebrated in many ways. St. Mary's School had its own program in honor of our sixteenth President.

I bet not all of you could recite the Gettysburg Address as well as six pupils from Grade VII did to start off the program. They were John Harrington, Peter Sullivan, Peter Walsh, Barbara Bowler, Rosemary Callahan, and Camille Perritano.

Paul Valcour of the fifth grade read a short summary on the "Life of Lincoln," taken from the Junior Catholic Messenger.

Winifred Hughes of Grade VIII wrote a Book Report on "The Perfect Tribute," which she read as her part on the program.

Vivian Keliher from Grade VI related some very interesting facts about Lincoln when she told the story of "Tad Stole the Show."

A letter which President Lincoln had written to Lieutenant-General Grand was read by Francis Larusso of the eighth grade.

The whole school sang the National Anthem led by four girls from Grade VIII, Kathleen McCarthy, Janice Fernald, Carol Perritano, and Ruth DeLay.

For the finale, Joseph McCormack, also of the eighth grade, recited a famous quotation of Lincoln's.

Earlier in the day, the whole school recognized the observance of National Catholic Bible Week from February 6-13. As part of our program, we traced the translation of the Bible from the Aramaic to the present day Douai or Douai-Rheims version.

DIRECTED SCHOOL RENOVATION

How an abandoned Boston school building was converted to a modern industrial plant was shown to business and civic leaders yesterday during ceremonies attending open house of the Boston Filter Company, at Harvard Square, Charlestown.

The Dexter School on Harvard Hill, site of the early home of John Harvard, has been entirely rebuilt and renovated throughout its four-story classic structure, under the direction of Mrs. Elisha George Pierce, Jr., president of the 63-year-old Boston Filter Company, Inc.

The open house, which included inspection of the premises and the equipment which is used to build and repair all types of air-conditioning equipment and water-cooling units, was attended by Donald Perry, of Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery; John Richardson, of Ropes Gray, and a director of Boston Filter Co.; John C. Garland, Vice President of The First National Bank; Col. Raymond Wilkinson, representing Governor Herter; Mary K. Fitzgerald, Chairlady of the Boston School Committee; William F. Carr and Louis Musco, of the Boston School Committee; and Henry Trask, manager of the Charlestown branch of the National Shawmut Bank.

Classrooms in the 100-year-old school, overlooking the quiet Harvard Mall, have been turned into modern offices and shops. Air conditioning, modern lighting and up-to-date equipment has replaced the blackboards and desks throughout the plant.

However, one room retains its school-like atmosphere. In this room the students of today are old enough to have been yesterday's pupils at the school, for they are the dealers, distributors and maintenance men who attend regular classes to keep them up to the minute in latest developments in the air-conditioning filter and cooling fields.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

St. Mary's Holy Name Society received Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Church and then adjourned to St. Mary's Hall for breakfast. Soloists at the mass were James F. Henry followed by a trio composed of Edward J. McDevitt, Vincent F. Erhard and Sam Vangel. The Communion intention this month was for St. Mary's Pastor, Rev. John M. Manion.

Particular commendation was paid by Society Director, Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, to eight Holy Name Members whose tenure of membership totaled fifty years.

Following breakfast, the monthly meeting was opened by President Herbert J. Cleary with Vice President Joseph H. Foley leading the men in the recitation of the Holy Name Pledge, after which reports of officers and committees were given. Pres. Cleary announced forthcoming events such as the Holy Thursday all night vigil, a sports night to be held on Sunday, March 20th, with Ted O'Rourke as Chairman, and the Easter Monday Dance and Entertainment Festival.

Harry Bennett reported that three brothers were ill and pointed out the necessity for a telephone relay system among members in the event of deaths of members. Albert T. McDougall reported on the forthcoming C.Y.O. Dance. Joseph Cussen reported on the Bowling teams in the Town League. Top Bowlers in the Holy Name are Joe Sampson, Joe Cussen and Eric Johnson. A team is being formed to compete in the Archdiocesan Holy Name Bowling Tournament in the near future.

Edward Quill, Chairman of the Decent Literature Committee was praised by President Cleary as having done a fine job on his most important division of Holy Name activities.

Arthur Hall Chairman of last month's breakfast reported the success of this affair, paying special commendation to the Officers, Committee and Bill Croughwell, John Lane, Ed Boucher, among others.

President Cleary presented plaques commemorating the 50 years of service in the Holy Name to Joseph Donahue, Frank Rogers, Luke Glendon, Patrick McHale, Richard Pettipas, James Donahue, Patrick Morris and Thomas McCormack who occupied positions of honor on the stage of the Hall. The Marshaling Committee was commended for its efficient ushering.

Mr. Daniel I. Cronin, Deputy Welfare Agent of the City of Boston, was guest speaker, his topic being "The Welfare State."

In his remarks the speaker pointed out the change of concept which has taken place in taking care of people and how this differs from years ago. He dwelt at some length on Social Security and its provisions of insurance and assistance pointing out the liberal benefits offered today.

Comparisons with other localities were noted particularly with Canada where a flat pension is in effect for the aged and with Louisiana where 77 out of 100 elderly persons are receiving old age assistance. In contrast in Delaware only about 4 out of 100 persons receive the same aid, due to pinch-penny management.

In the entire Country about 2½ million receive old age assistance. Mr. Cronin emphasized that this assistance is not to be construed as charity but as something that has been earned by the individual. The same holds true to unemployment benefits. There is still need for the Red Feather Agencies and the Catholic Charities institutions for the aged, the ill and the homeless, but Social Security, due to its coordinating coverage, has taken much of the burden from communities, giving the individual self earned benefits instead.

Mr. Cronin's remarks gave one the feeling that this country has assuredly through both major parties made tremendous strides in taking care of its people.

Did you know that the heating apparatus incorporated into 14 ramps of the Boston Central Artery is the largest such installation in the world?

The first twelve new Budd commuter trains are in weekday service starting today. Soon enough there'll be 170 Budd trains every working day. Up to six of these speedy self-propelled Budds will be used for a train.

During the peak rush hours when many trains are heavily patronized, regular coaches will be used. When all the new diesel locomotives we have ordered arrive, every commuter train will be diesel-powered.

BELLINOS IN ACCIDENT

Sammy Bellino, former Winchester High School football great, and his mother, Mrs. Michele Bellino of Swanton street, had a narrow escape from possible serious injury while returning to Winchester from Berlin, N. H., by automobile last Sunday evening.

For Sam the trip to Berlin had a double purpose. He drove his mother to the home of relatives there on Saturday, and then drove down to Conway to see the Winchester-Kennett basketball game there in the evening.

After the game he returned to Berlin and he and his mother were driving back home Sunday when Sam's car was in collision with a beachwagon at an intersection of streets in Lawrence.

According to reports of the accident, the Bellino car was struck in the rear and knocked into two parked cars. Sammy was shaken up and his mother was taken to the hospital for examination and treatment.

Her injuries were apparently not serious, for she and Sam returned home on Monday. The car was badly wrecked.

DADS' CLUB VALENTINE DANCE

The George Washington School Dads' Club had their Valentine Day Dance Saturday night, February 12, at the school auditorium. There was an attendance of over 200 people who enjoyed the dance and entertainment that was put on under the direction of Charles Bund, Bob Foley and Dana Peterson.

Frank Thayer opened the show with readings and dialogues of various dialects; this was followed by a "Wedding Ceremony" with the following fathers participating:
Father of the Bride — Larry Lunt
Bride — Bob Watson
Bridegroom — Warren Osborne
Prencher — Bob Lowe
Bridemaids: Frank Amico, George Rowe, Joe Cussen, George O'Brien
Doctor — Frank Johnson

Ruth and Arthur Graham were in charge of the make up for the skit and did an excellent job on the cast.

President George Hendricks and the Board of Directors of the Dads' Club wish to thank all who attended and the many fathers who donated their time, talents and energy to make the dance a success.

Standing: Mr. Carl G. Richmond, fund treasurer; Mr. H. Corey Wynn, chairman precinct 1; Mr. William P. Coady, chairman precinct 2; Mr. Oscar E. Merrow, chairman precinct 5; Mr. Scott Parrot, chairman precinct 4.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

Key workers and over six hundred volunteers for the 1955 Red Cross fund campaign in Winchester are swinging into high gear under the direction of fund chairman, Royce H. Randlett. Although D (for Drive) Day is not until March 6th, house to house campaigning will be carried on actively from February 26th through March 6th, to put Winchester over the top on the $19,541.00 quota which has been set for this year, an increase of $541.00 over the 1954 quota. One reason for the increased sums expended locally was to help in repairing the ravages of hurricanes Carol and Edna.

Col. Carl G. Richmond (AUS. Ret.) of 4 Grove street, Winchester has been appointed Fund Treasurer. He has served as one of the Red Cross Directors during the past three years. Again this year Thomas J. Gilgun, assisted by William A. Wilde, Jr., will carry out the fund soliciting in the business section.

Winchester has always been willing to lend a helping hand to a neighbor, and it is hoped that this year we may again be among the first in the State to make our quota.

PROGRAM OF VIOLA MUSIC

Theodore Janner will give a fifteen-minute program of viola music at the Winchester Unitarian Church on Sunday, February 27, immediately preceding the regular 11 o'clock service. He will play the Sonata in G minor by Vivaldi, the Adagio from Bach's Sonata No. 3, and the Adagio from Schubert's Sonata in A Minor—"Arpeggione."

Mr. Janner has been with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra and is presently with the Boston "Pops" and Esplanade Orchestras. He is instructor of stringed instruments in the Winchester schools.

FALES — LAIRD

At St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, February 19, Miss Barbara Jean Laird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Guy Laird of 16 Symmes road, became the bride of Richard Libby Fales, son of Mrs. Raymond D. Fales of 119 Peterboro street, Boston, and the late Lt. Col. Fales. The Rev. Charles E. Anadore officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Laird had for her honor attendant her sister, Mrs. Edward F. O'Rourke (Anne Laird) of Winchester. Another sister, Miss Mary Laird, Miss Joan T. McFarlane and Miss Phyllis O'Neil, all of Winchester, were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of ivory taffeta with a basque bodice trimmed with crystal pleating at the waist and portrait neckline, and having a bouffant skirt extending to form a cathedral train. Her fingertip-length veil of silk illusion was caught to a sequin-trimmed cap outlined in pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white and talisman roses combined with tulips and stephanotis.

All the bridal attendants wore peacock-green taffeta dresses with fitted, tucked bodices and headbands of curled white feathers. They carried cascade bouquets of white tulips and carnations.

Edward F. O'Rourke of Winchester was best man for Mr. Fales, and ushering were Martin Hamilton of Needham, Howard Fales of Dorchester, cousin of the bridegroom; and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Robert Derby of Boston.

A reception was held at the Music Hall with the parents of the bride and mother of the bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridegroom's brother, Robert Fales, the best man and members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Laird, mother of the bride, wore a street-length dress of copper satin trimmed with soutache and gunmetal rhinestones. Her straw hat matched her dress and she wore a yellow orchid corsage. Mrs. Fales, mother of the bridegroom, also wore an orchid with her street-length blue and grey crystalet dress. Her hat and gloves were pink.

After a wedding journey to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Fales will make their home on the Old Cambridge Turnpike in Lincoln.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Westbrook Junior College in the class of 1953. Mr. Fales is a graduate of Needham High School and of American International College, with Army service from 1952 to 1954.

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

HERBERT S. EDMANDS

To The Voters of Winchester:

I respectfully request your vote for School Committee Member in the coming election on March 7th. In previous issues of the Star I have stated my general qualifications. Now I wish to present for your consideration my business background which I believe will be of definite help in solving the financial problems that will face the School Committee in the next three years.

For over twenty years I have worked in the field of finance, studying costs, statistics, labor and public relations, payrolls, taxes and allied subjects. My work requires discernment in budgetary matters involving a wide range of planning and the correlation of proposals by differing factions.

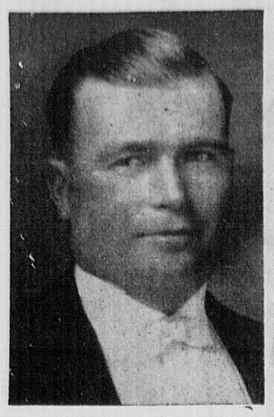

The Winchester School Budget for 1955-56 is perilously close to one million dollars. This represents nearly fifty cents out of each tax dollar. We, as fellow townsmen, wish to offer our children a continuing improved educational program, we wish to reward adequately our competent and well liked teachers, we wish as parents and taxpayers to see this large sum wisely budgeted both from a short range and a long range planned program with a sound basic policy.

It is my conviction that major decisions, including major financial decisions, will have to be made by the School Committee in the near future. I hope that you will vote on March 7th, and if what I have to offer appeals to you, I will be glad to have you vote for me.

ELECT EXPERIENCE

THOMAS F. FALLON

Voters of Winchester:

In submitting for your consideration the candidacy of Thomas F. Fallon for the office of Selectman at the March election we wish to remind you that he is well acquainted with the town and the various departments of its town government, he having served two terms as Selectman and 18 years as Town Meeting Member. If elected, he will give the problems that arise in connection with the transaction of town business his whole-hearted consideration, keeping always in mind in the solution of these problems the best interests of the entire town.

Mr. Fallon has lived most of his life in Winchester, and, for 28 years until his retirement, he was a member of the large local milk concern which still bears his name and is now successfully conducted by his two brothers. He has worked for the civic and social improvement of the community as a member of many fraternal and charitable organizations.

As a home-owner and a tax-payer Mr. Fallon will do all in his power to hold down the tax rate and current town expenses. If elected, he will ask for cooperation and economy from all town departments with the view of keeping within the debt limit in the future.

Because of his training and experience the undersigned heartily endorse Thomas F. Fallon for Selectman and urge your support of his candidacy at the election March 7.

COMPLETED TRAINING

Miss Elaine Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Hersey of 34 Jefferson road, was one of 21 students of the Melrose Hospital School of Nursing who have completed their six months pre-clinical training and were capped last night at a candle-light service in the First Methodist Church, Melrose.

The satisfactory completion of this pre-clinical period earns for these girls the Melrose Hospital Nurses' cap, which represents fulfillment of their first major step toward the exacting profession they hope to serve. Two and one-half years of study and application of theory lie ahead. Their goal is to be graduates of the class of 1957.

ROBERT MORGAN KEENEY

Robert Morgan Keeney, head of the English Department at Winchester High School and a widely known resident of the town, died suddenly of a heart attack early Saturday morning, February 19, at his home, 3 Chesterford road. He had been troubled with a heart condition but had apparently been in his usual health recently and his sudden passing came as a severe shock to the entire community.

Mr. Keeney was the son of Nelson, and Annie (Bragaw) Keeney. He was born April 20, 1898, in New London, Conn., and prepared for college at the Bulkeley School there, graduating from Amherst College with the class of 1920. While in college he was captain of the track team and was the winner of the Latin and Greek Prize at his commencement. He did graduate work in education at Harvard, Yale, and Columbia, and received his Master's Degree from Columbia in 1933.

Mr. Keeney's first teaching position was at Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., after which he returned to teach at his own preparatory School, the Bulkeley School. He taught English at Newton High School from 1923 to 1930, coming to Winchester to head the high school English Department in that year. He was one of the school's faculty sponsors for the National Honor Society, had been faculty advisor to the staff of the Red and Black, student paper; and for many years prepared the student speakers for the annual graduation exercises.

Few teachers have had a stronger grip upon their students than Mr. Keeney. Known familiarly as "Bob" or "Tex," he was genuinely beloved by those who came within the broad scope of his influence. His sense of humor, though quiet and very subtle, was famous in the school. He seldom called his pupils by their names. The boys were usually "Julius" or "Frank" and the girls, "Clara," yet none took advantage of his class-room fun, and few on the entire faculty were more deeply respected, alike by pupils and associates.

On August 19, 1929, Mr. Keeney married Vesta Richmond, then teaching in Newton, and they came to Winchester with his appointment to the high school faculty the next year. He had been a town meeting member from Precinct 5, was a member of the New England Association of English Teachers and of the First Congregational Church. He had completed at the First Congregational Church on the Sunday before his death an adult religious education course which he had given with his wife on "The Bible Through the Centuries," a course which many had asked him to repeat later in the year.

Mr. Keeney leaves his wife; a son, Lt. Richmond M. Keeney, USAF, Amherst '52, stationed at the Dover Air Force Base in Delaware; a daughter, Ann M. Keeney, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, 1953, now studying at Harvard Graduate School of Education; and a sister, Mrs. Edward Wagener of Lawrenceville, Ga.

Many faculty and members of the student body of Winchester High School attended the funeral services held Monday afternoon at the First Congregational Church. The minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, and Dr. John L. Lobingier, secretary emeritus of Christian Education for the Massachusetts Congregational Conference, officiated. J. Albert Wilson, organist and choirmaster, played favorite hymns. The ultimate interment will be in Cedar Grove Cemetery, New London, Conn.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald M. Galligan of Long Island City, New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Geraldine Marie, to First Lieutenant Allen M. Carlisle, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Carlisle, Jr., of Winchester, Massachusetts and Georgetown, Maine.

Miss Galligan was graduated from Long Island City High School, Long Island City, New York. She attended Hunter College for Women and is currently employed as a stewardess for Eastern Airlines.

Lt. Carlisle graduated from Winchester High School, and attended the United States Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, New York. He entered the Army in April 1951 and was commissioned at Fort Benning, Georgia in July 1952. Lt. Carlisle served in Korea with the 3rd Infantry Division and since returning to the United States has been stationed at Gary Air Force Base, San Marcos, Texas, where he is undergoing Army Flight Training.

FOR SELECTMAN

LESLIE J. SCOTT

Voters of Winchester,

I am seeking election to the Board of Selectmen at the town election on March 7.

Service on the Finance Committee and as temporary Town Treasurer has interested me in municipal affairs and acquainted me with the conduct of town business. This experience will be helpful in approaching the problems which come to the Board of Selectmen.

Twenty-five years residence and association with many civic and service organizations in Winchester have given me a knowledge of the community that is town wide and at every level. This background, too, is valuable to a candidate for Selectman because it is my conviction that municipal problems should be considered in the light of what is best for the entire town.

My business is in Winchester, which makes me perhaps a little closer to the local picture, and surely more quickly available in the event of an emergency.

I will welcome your support of my candidacy and your vote if you feel I can be of service to the town.

JAMES METCALF JOSLIN

James Metcalf Joslin, a native and widely known resident of Winchester, died suddenly at 4 o'clock Monday morning, February 21, while he and his wife and son "Tommy" were on a visit to Mrs. Joslin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smedley of Ardmore, Pa. The Joslins had gone to Ardmore for a long week-end, and soon after their arrival on Saturday, Mr. Joslin complained of being ill. He became worse on Sunday with all medical effort to save him proving of no avail. News of his death added to the shock the community experienced at the death of Robert M. Keeney two days previous.

Mr. Joslin came of a well known Winchester family. He was born in this town at 12 Wildwood street July 11, 1905, the son of Ralph E. and Fannie M. (Davis) Joslin. He attended the Winchester grade schools and then had a year at Browne and Nichols School before graduating from Lawrence Academy in Groton in 1925. He received his A.B. from Bowdoin in 1929 and after a year at Harvard Law School was graduated from Boston University Law School with the degree of LL B in 1933.

While at Bowdoin, Mr. Joslin played freshman football and was on the staff of the "Orient," student yearbook; and the "Bugle," student newspaper. He was also a member of the Glee Club and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

He was prominent in Bowdoin alumni activities, heading a recent scholarship drive for the Boston Bowdoin Club and at commencement last June presenting the twenty-five year reunion class of 1929's gift to the college.

Mr. Joslin first practiced law with his father in the firm of Joslin and Joslin in Boston. In recent years he was a junior partner in the firm of Caiger and Gramkow on Cornhill in Boston. He was a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Republican Town Committee and a member of the Mystic Glee Club.

Actively identified with the Unitarian Church, he served the church as a member of the Standing Committee and clerk of the committee from 1938 to 1941. In recent years he had been a regular member of the church choir.

He was for many years a town meeting member from Precinct 5 and had served on town committees. Prominent in Scouting, he was vice present and member of the Executive Board of Fellsland Council, chairman of Winchester District Committee and on the Cub Scout Committee for Pack 3.

Mr. Joslin leaves his wife, the former Caroline Smedley; a son, Thomas Smedley, a pupil in the Wyman School; a brother, Ralph D. Joslin of Winchester and a sister, Mrs. Elmer Hancock Thorpe of Maplewood, N. J.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in Ardmore, Pa., where the interment was made. A memorial service will be held Saturday, March 5, at 3 o'clock at the Unitarian Church. The minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, will officiate and the Mystic Glee Club will sing.

UNITARIAN CHOIR

The Winchester Unitarian Choir will be heard in a fifteen-minute program of choral music from the great works of musical literature immediately preceding the Lenten Service on Wednesday, March 2, at the Unitarian Church. The Quartet will be featured, as in the quarter-hour programs which the Choir customarily offers before the regular services on Sundays.

PALLADINO PROMOTED

WINCHESTER MAN NOW MAJOR GENERAL

Brigadier General Ralph A. Palladino, U.S.A.R., Commanding General 94th Infantry Division, Massachusetts' only reserve division, was promoted to the rank of major general at ceremonies held at the Boston Army Base on Thursday evening, February 17.

The second star was pinned on by the chief of the Massachusetts Military District, Colonel Edwin M. Van Bibber, who was acting for the commanding general of the United States First Army. The staff of the 94th Infantry Division, as well as several units of the division, provided the background for the impressive ceremonies.

The general began his active military service December 1940, when he reported for duty as a major. (He was initially commissioned in 1926 as a second lieutenant, Infantry Reserve, and assigned to the 302nd Infantry of the division which he now commands.) Sailing with the "Yankee Division" for Europe in August 1944, General Palladino became regimental commander of the 104th Infantry Regiment in November 1944, soon after the unit began offensive operations, and led it through combat until the war ended. After an occupation tour in Austria, he brought his regiment back to the United States in December 1945.

He was named commander of the 94th Infantry Division in 1946, and in April 1948 was promoted to general officer grade.

The general's decorations include the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star with cluster, and several high-ranking medals from other nations.

MRS. JENNIE M. KING

Mrs. Jennie M. King, wife of Arthur E. A. King of 891 Main street, died Sunday night, February 20, at her home, following several weeks of failing health. She underwent an operation before Christmas, and had not been in good health since that time.

Mrs. King was the daughter of Alexander, and Margaret (MacDonald) MacIsaac. She was born July 3, 1893, in Woburn, but had lived most of her life in this town, coming to Winchester as a girl and attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School. She and Mr. King were married at St. Mary's Church, November 4, 1915.

For a year after their marriage she and her husband lived at Medford Hillside. They then returned to Winchester, and for the past 32 years had lived at their Main street address.

Mrs. King was a member and past grand regent of Court Santa Maria, Catholic Daughters of America; a member of the Sodality of the Immaculate Conception Church and the Women's Auxiliary of the Postal Transportation Association.

She leaves, besides her husband, two daughters, Margaret, and "Mary Jack" King, both of Winchester; a son, Arthur A. King of Woburn; a grandson, also a sister, Mrs. Richard O'Brien of Watertown and a brother, George L. MacIsaac of Woburn.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS GALLELLO ENGAGED

September has been chosen by Miss Carol T. Gallello as the month for her marriage to Charles J. Puzzanghera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Puzzanghera of Dorchester. Miss Gallello is the daughter of Mrs. Dominick Gallello of Summer street.

FRANCIS X. ATKINSON

Francis X. Atkinson of 165 Cambridge street, Boston attorney and veteran of World War I, died suddenly Saturday night, February 19, at the Winchester Hospital at the age of 62.

Mr. Atkinson was the son of Thomas, and Maria (Melia) Atkinson. He was born in Central Falls, R. I., and had lived in Winchester for 27 years. He was graduated from Holy Cross College and Harvard Law School, practicing law in Boston with offices at 294 Washington street. While serving with the American Expeditionary Force in France during World War I he attended the University of Rheims in France. Flags on the Common and town buildings were displayed at half staff in his honor.

Mr. Atkinson was unmarried. He leaves three brothers, Edward, of Arlington; Charles, of Roslindale; and Thomas Atkinson, Jr., of Van Nuys, Calif.; also six sisters, Mrs. Leonard Gillespie, Mrs. Arthur Sullivan and Mrs. James Wilson, all of Winchester; Mrs. Elizabeth Haley of Belmont, Mrs. Edward O'Brien and Mrs. Harold McClutchy, both of Waltham. His stepmother, Mrs. Eliza Atkinson of Winchester, also survives.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Fr. Martin Dolphin was celebrant, Rev. Fr. S. O. S. BOWLING LEAGUE

Another week gone by and only seven more to go! The quietness of last week was soon forgotten as our friends the parakeets, returned with all their shrieking.

There were no appreciable changes this week as all the teams seemed to hold their stride.

Team Standings:

California	20-8
St. Mary's	19-9
Georgetown	18-10
Boston College	15-13
Holy Cross	15-13
Notre Dame	13-15
Alabama	13-15
Harvard	13-15
Yale	8-20
Bates	6-22

Hi Single:
Jake Jacobellis 144

Hi Triple:
Moose Bellino 367

Top six bowlers:

Moose Bellino	103.5
Tony Saraco	103.1
Jake Jacobellis	99.3
Frank Di Mambro	97.8
Tony Chefalo	97.2
Pete Provinzano	97.

This was a reverse of last week as "Moose" slipped with 293 and Tony bowled 311 to separate these two individuals with a fraction of a percentage point in the average column.

The 300 bowlers this week are John Buttafuco, 321; Joe Marrone, 315; Max La Crubba, 314; Tony Saraco, 311; Dom Provinzano, 302. Once again Tony Saraco pulled ahead to a 2 point lead over his nearest rival "Moose" who has 12 in the charmed 300 circle.

A few words about Harvard, on which are Johnny Magano, who could do much if he concentrated mainly on his bowling; Jeff Gaudioso, the fireball of the team; Frankie Penta, a good bowler if let alone; Eddie Forgione, always trying to do his best; Phil Adagno, 100 percent team man; and "Boss" Dattilo, well let me keep quiet!

Many unusual things happen at the alleys but as space is limited, let me give you the highlights. A new world record was established this week for a three string pinfall as "Boss" Dattilo bowled 210.

The scratches on Nicky Molea's face were from his baby's long, long, long fingernails! We do believe him, don't we! The beamhouse boss from B. C. was here watching his boys bowl. Red Callahan. Michael D. got a strike, and a spare on the strike, and tragedy struck!

An immediate call for a seamstress went out over the loud speaker. No luck, but a horse blanket pin was located to help temporarily. It would have been better if they located a horse blanket!

What's with Mingy and his new pipe? Are the balls getting too heavy for Carl Bertolucci to hold? What has happened to mighty Holy Cross this half?

Let me drift to the clubhouse for a few lines. The president of the Star Lumber Co., Leroy Penta, an ardent bowler donated the lumber for our new rear steps, which were ably repaired by "Skitchy" Penta. For those invited guests who visited our club, please don't be alarmed at our new French stewart, Pierre, in his gallant white vest and apron carrying the traditional towel over his left arm. He makes your slightest wish his command! It is said he has served in all the royal families of France. His full name is Pierre Antoine "Hokie" Procopio.

Success again as our raffle was conducted with the parakeets participating for a sellout. The winner, and a lucky catch for any maiden, Dom Provinzano!

W. H. S. HOCKEY TEAM PLAYS AT WORCESTER

Winchester High School's hockey team has accepted an invitation to play the All-Star Team of the Central Massachusetts Hockey League. Coach Frank Finigan will take his boys to Worcester tomorrow, Saturday night for the game at the Worcester Arena. Game time is at 8:00 p. m.

Being invited to meet a team composed of the best players in the Central Massachusetts league is a big feather in the cap of the Winchester team, and it is hoped that a good crowd of Winchester rooters will be on hand to back up Captain Wayne Cowles and his boys.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Women's League of First Baptist Church will hold their March meeting on Thursday, the 3rd, in the social hall at the church. There will be sewing for the Winchester Hospital at 10 o'clock, followed by luncheon at noon, with Mrs. Frederick C. MacDonald and Mrs. Paul L. Eaton co-chairmen.

The business meeting begins at 1:15 p. m., after which a play entitled "One Fold and One Shepherd" will be given under the able direction of Mrs. James A. Newman. The following will make up the cast: Mrs. Stanley B. Cameron, Mrs. John W. Dawson, Mrs. Otis W. Leary, Mrs. Lawrence R. England, Mrs. Sargis Matson, Mrs. Frank W. BRAINTREE 19th VICTIM

Winchester's powerhouse basketball team extended its winning streak to 19 straight Tuesday night, outclassing Braintree at Braintree, 76-47.

The Sachems were in control all the way and were never in trouble as they shot an amazing 47 percent from the floor with John Lynch hitting 7 out of 15. Leading at half-time by 23 points, the outcome was never in doubt and as a result several of the J.V.s saw action. Top playmakers of the night were Joe Bellino and Mike Callahan with 5 and 4 assists, respectively. The Indians didn't have their usual share of rebounds as Lynch and Wright had only 22 between them.

Mark Apsey and Joe Rotundi each had 11 points as the J. V.s won again handily beating the Braintree J. V.s 88-43.

THE TEEN SCENE

by Carol Ashenden

It looks as if everyone has spent the week recovering from either the "plague" or the play. "Pride and Prejudice" came off on schedule Saturday night in spite of a battle against the virus. The whole cast did a great job; especially Liz Hood. Liz rose from her bed only long enough to be in the performance.

Seth Weston had an open-house after the show; Judy Walker had a slumber party (or should I say "slumberless" party?) for a group of the junior girls.

Lydia Wyman had another junior slumber party two weeks ago.

The freshmen boys have found a way to get back at the freshmen girls who have been going out with upper-classmen. Now the frosh are starting to take out upper-classmen themselves!

The open-house that Judy and Janice Krysto had after the Stoneham game was a big success.

Any of us who have had occasion to work with him or who have had him for a teacher were deeply sorry to hear of the sudden death of Mr. Robert Keeney. The large number of students who attended the funeral Monday is only proof of "Tex" Keeney's popularity among his students.

The C.Y.O. record hop Monday night was a success. "The Voice of the Turtle" from WCOP was the disc jockey.

FASHION CLEANSERS

LOOK BEAUTIFUL
BUT
don't pare beauty costs and forget your Clothing Budget !

Cold wave solutions damage or change the color of many dyestuffs.

Cold wave solutions consist of two materials:

1. The waving solution that contains a salt of thioglycollic acid. It is a reducing agent. It softens the hair so it can be curled.

2. The neutralizing solution that is an oxidizing agent. It is used to counteract the reducing agent of the first solution.

One or both of these solutions may cause color loss under certain conditions of wear, cleaning and storage.

Research studies have proven these facts:

- All cold wave solutions may not show the same effect on the same fabric.
- With some solutions, the color loss may develop after finishing. This could occur while pressing a dress in the home.
- Some solutions do not cause an immediate loss of color. In some cases, it may be several weeks or several months after cleaning.
- Some solutions cause a stain on the fabric rather than a color change.

When you have a permanent,
don't forget to protect your dress from cold wave staining!

Remember . . . your cleaner is your clothes' best friend!

WINCHESTER WON THRILLER

64-51 DEFEAT OF MELROSE CLOSER THAN SCORE

Sparked by Captain Jim Wright's 19 point contribution the undefeated Winchester hoop team won an exciting game at Melrose last Friday night by the score of 64-51.

This turned out to be one of the most thrilling games of the season as the Sachems were down at halftime 24-22. They came back to tie it up 41-41 at the 3 quarter mark. With 3 minutes left in the final stanza the score was tied 47-47.

Here Melrose made a desperate bid to gain the lead by fouling but it proved to be of no avail as Charlie Stevens, Jim Wright, and Mike Callahan sank a large percentage of their foul tries. With Melrose going all over the court after the ball its zone defense fell apart, and as a result John Lynch took his first 3 shots and hit all of them.

Joe Bellino, held scoreless from the floor himself, nevertheless, accounted for nine baskets with nine assists. Off the boards John Lynch made 14 grabs. The Indians shot 41 percent from the floor with 16 for 39.

Charlie Stevens also played a great game scoring 16 points with 5 out of 8 from the floor, all on long set shots. Melrose's high scorer was 6 foot 5 inch Scott Palmer who hooped 22 points.

The J.V.s once again romped, this time beating the Melrose Seconds 77-50.

CURLERS' COLUMN

The White Cup matches are on, the women have had a glorious lot of curling at their championship matches, two rinks have been to Schenectady, the Stockton Cup and Clyde Park Cup are being played at Brookline this week-end, our own Bonspiel is next week-end and the winners of the White Cup, plus another rink are due to go to Schenectady next week-end for the Dykes and Brookline Trophies.

Then comes our own Coulson Trophy for mixed curlers starting on March 12 and 13, and a chance to go to Montreal March 10-12 for the Royal Caledonian and Gordon International medal competitions. Several men's rinks may go to the latter.

The White Cup skips, now battling it out are George King, Arthur Butters, Joe Dolben, Keith Fulton, Jay Willing, Stan Neill, Russ Symmes and Charlie Eaton.

Irving Jennings, Ed Garrity, Arthur Butters and Charley Waghorne, skip and Jim and Walter Wilcox, Bob Dyer and Keith Fulton, skip are the ones first back from Schenectady.

One of perhaps two Winchester rinks to be in the Stockton at Brookline this week-end are Larry Burke, George King, Joe Dolben and Shorty Carr, skip.

Four Winchester rinks did themselves proud at the Seventh Annual Bonspiel of the U.S. Women's Curling Association, held at Winchester and Brookline last week. Our rinks were Sheeran, Hood, Ingersoll and Worthen, skip; Roundey, Stone, Neill and Dolben, skip; Belcher, Shean, Fulton and Werant, skip; Watson, Fisher, Downs and MacArthur, skip. Our gals won four matches, which is an excellent record for women having curled only a few months.

There is no regular mixed curling scheduled for this or the next week-end, but if you want to arrange a friendly match this week-end, call the club and reserve a sheet of ice. Next week-end will be all tied up with our own big Bonspiel. The winning Young Cup rink, Eaton, Van Vloten, Symmes and Morse are scheduled to be one of the two Winchester rinks next week-end. The second will be Howard Eteson, skip, with Keith Fulton, Stan Neill and one other, to be selected. Charley Waghorne will be Bonspiel chairman.

Late news on the White Cup matches, by "direct" wire from the curling rink to the Star Office says that in the preliminaries Russ Symmes won from Arthur Butters 14-13, Dolben 16 vs. King 6, Neill 11 vs. Willing 10, Eaton 13 vs. K. Fulton 5. The semi-finals were Caputo, J. Fulton, Fessenden and Symmes, skip 13 vs. Daley, Garrity, Greiner and Dolben, skip 9; J. Wilcox, Sawyer, Burke and Neill, skip 12 vs. Stone, Knowlton, Guild and Eaton, skip 8. The finals, Symmes vs. Neill, are due to be played off this Sunday afternoon.

Arrangements are being made for the Chairman's Competition. This will be started after our Bonspiel and will end up the season's competitions, along with the third Round-Robin.

PASTOR'S CLASSES

During the Lenten season the Junior High Department of the First Congregational Church each year are given special training in preparation for church membership. Dr. Cart will hold the first class of instruction this Sunday, February 27, from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. in the Ladies' Parlor, and the classes will continue each Sunday at this time during Lent.

Dr. Cart will also hold two classes for the high school age group who have not yet become church members. These will be on March 13 and April 3, from 6:00 to 7:15 p. m. at his home. He will welcome any of the high school group who are interested in receiving this special instruction.

DOES WINCHESTER REALIZE!

Editor of the Star:

Are the citizens of Winchester aware of what has happened to the 1953 Handbook of the American Girl Scouts,—the handbook each scout uses as a text book for Scouting? Is it realized that the Handbook has become the pawn of an anti-United Nations pressure group?

The following letter appearing recently in the Boston Herald should arouse every one to an awareness.

"I read that already they have corrected 100,000 handbooks; that orders have gone out to change portions of the 100,000 original uncorrected copies sold earlier. I read that of about 60 changes, more than 40 have to do with the objections raised by an isolationist, anti-United Nations pressure group, largely influenced by one person.

Because of this pressure group's attacks on the handbook, the Girl Scouts have seen fit to remove such phrases as "service is your way of making this a better world." They have removed the phrase "citizen of the world."

In the book of "corrections" instructions for page 103 say: "Change name of badge in Line 8 from "one World" to "My World."

They removed mention of the League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization. They have changed the biography of the founder of the American Girl Scout movement by removing the fact that she was "one of the first true internationalists." The book of corrections has instructions to "cross out everything" on pages 228 and 229. These two pages dealt with the United Nations Organization."

What can citizens do about it? We suggest that when opportunity comes, as we understand it will in the next National Convention of the American Girl Scouts, to be held in the autumn of 1955, delegates from this area bring to it strong objections to the revision of the handbook—as it relates to the United Nations, One world, and the Brotherhood of Man.

A FINE PROPOSAL!

Editor of the Star:

Robert Keeney, prior to his passing on February 19th, had been a member of the staff of the Winchester High School—teacher, and head of the English Department, for twenty-five years. During that time, Mr. Keeney's warm personal interest in the students extended beyond the class room work, and, with his encouragement, many young people have continued their studies after High School.

As parents grateful for this fine influence on the young people of Winchester, Mr. Jope and I would like to suggest that parents, students, former students, and townspeople join in sending memorial gifts to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation as a tribute to Mr. Keeney. These gifts, be they large or small, designated for the Robert M. Keeney Memorial Scholarship would become part of a special fund which could be contributed to at any time, and which would be administered by the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

In thus helping to make it possible for more Winchester boys and girls to continue their education in various fields beyond High School, each contributor would have a share in strengthening the high ideals and objectives which Mr. Keeney exemplified in himself and encouraged in others.

Leslie J. Scott, Treasurer of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, would be happy to receive any such memorial gifts for the Robert M. Keeney Memorial Scholarship sent to him at the Winchester National Bank.

Sincerely,
Florence C. Jope
(Mrs. Ralph T. Jope)
37 Dix street

(Sincere thanks to the Winchester Star for printing this message to the townspeople of Winchester.)

IN AID OF YOUTH!

Editor of the Star:

This year a group of citizens interested in the youth of Winchester and the problems of juvenile delinquency have been working toward a baseball league which would take care of the graduates of the "Little League," in their transition period from "Little League" to "Junior Legion" baseball.

These citizens, after considerable research and debate, have decided that the "Babe Ruth League" is the best answer to the Winchester problem. The Babe Ruth league plays on a regular diamond, which eliminates the need of further diamonds in Winchester, and includes thirteen, fourteen and fifteen year old boys. The "Pony League" which was the other league considered requires a special diamond and only takes care of thirteen and fourteen year old boys.

This decision having been made, "The Babe Ruth League of Winchester" has been formed with necessary officers, etc.; a four team league of 15 men each is guaranteed; permission from the Park Department to use their facilities for a proper schedule has been granted; four managers are already available; and a franchise has been received from the National Babe Ruth League headquarters.

As you can see the above takes care of everything but the most important item—financing. It is the considered opinion of the Finance Committee that $2,000.00 is necessary to properly uniform and equip this League and we surely have eight merchants or individuals in town who will co-sponsor one of the teams for the sum of $250.00.

The value of this investment as an advertisement should not be overlooked, as it is quite evident from our own Little League experience in this town that such leagues give to the sponsors for a single investment a continued year to year publicity both in newspapers and on the playing field.

It is our pleasure to report the first volunteer, Jack Chitel, the amiable head of Kiwanis and Chitel's Men's Shop as our first co-sponsor.

Other towns have had to turn away sponsors and Winchester cannot be an exception. We will keep you advised, Mr. Editor.

Next? Call WInchester 6-1161.

MARCH OF DIMES ACCOUNTING

Editor of the Star:

The March of Dimes Drive has concluded for another year and an accounting is in order. There was realized in Winchester approximately $7,325, a great bulk of which was collected during the Mothers' March, January 27th.

May I express my thanks to you and to all who contributed in one form or another in the success of the Fund and my appreciation in particular to Mrs. Earle Littleton and her Mothers' March workers, Miss Loretta Carleton in charge of the Tag Day, and all members of the committee who sent out letters or distributed coin collectors. Each played his or her part in the overall picture.

I would further like to single out the Winchester Lions Club for a special bouquet. This young organization barely six months old organized a performance at the Winchester Theater which delighted more than thirteen hundred children with color cartoons and Robin Hood. Free candy was distributed to all. Approximately $150 was thereby raised for the Drive and donated to it.

We are grateful to all.

Yours sincerely,
Arthur L. Johns
Winchester Chairman

Captain Mike Murphy of this year's football team and Tim Hennessey, veteran lineman, will be used in demonstrations by "Rip" Engle, Penn State grid coach, at the football clinic of the Massachusetts High School Football Coaches Association at Tufts College Saturday, February 26.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBERT MORGAN KEENEY

When a good man dies too early his friends are deeply troubled. Beyond the quick sympathy for his family and the ache of the personal loss comes need of such mental and spiritual reassurance as each in his own wisdom and creed may find. Like John Donne's peasant in the field listening in troubled wonder to the distant bell we raise our heads in anxious query at the inscrutable decision and pause to count the loss. We are not long in perceiving that it reaches throughout our town; that Winchester, too, died a little last week.

Robert Keeney was a great teacher. He was also that most precious of jewels which can adorn the educational resources of any community, a scholar. He brought to the teaching of English in our High School abilities and standards of the highest order and labored without stint to inculcate in our children that precious sensitivity to good literature and pure language that is the hallmark of culture. He strove to place in their hands his own polished tools of correct spelling, precise phrasing and meticulous usage but, more than that, he showed them the exquisite patterns woven by the masters and taught those who could and would follow him to perceive the music in cadenced structure and the dignity of simple, flowing English with the right words in the right places.

Our children who sat at his feet know better than we the legacy from him they now enjoy in abiding satisfaction. It goes rather farther than English, for as Mr. Keeney once remarked to a roomful on Parents Night "We try to teach your boys and girls more than how to spell, read and write; we teach them also, we hope, to be throughtful, quietly aware and intellectually honest."

No word on Robert Keeney would be complete without mention of the kindly, quizzical, almost elfin humor that lived within him. It was not on public parade but those who knew him well or have been students in his classes will long cherish the recollection of it. The rapier of his wit was quick to puncture bombast and hypocrisy, but it was used more often with safely buttoned point in gentle repartee.

It is not by accident that a secondary school comes to enjoy among the leading universities of our land the reputation for good scholarship of its graduates and we in Winchester have long counted Robert Keeney as one of the several main pillars of the Winchester scholastic tradition. We would be sad indeed in assessing our loss if we were not aware of other able men and women in our High School faculty closing ranks to support the load.

To you, Bob Keeney, hail and farewell! We will miss you sorely, Vayase con Dios.

HI-FIDELITY AT THE LIBRARY

A new Hi-Fidelity system for listening to recorded music has been installed in the Downs Room of the Winchester Public Library. With this new equipment, the listener has a feeling of being in the studio or hall with the orchestra or musical group when it is actually performing. The wide range of a Hi-Fidelity system is what "produces brilliant realism, proper balance and the sense of presence."

With the Jere A. Downs Library Trust Fund, the Library has purchased a system made up of various components, which are among the finest in the field of reproduction. These include a Scott 23 watt amplifier with a built-in noise suppresser, a Garrard record changer, and a Stromberg-Carlson speaker with a Jensen enclosure.

Beginning with the recorded music program on Wednesday afternoon, March 2nd, and for all subsequent programs, the Library will use its new Hi-Fidelity Phonograph.

An opera has been selected for the first presentation on the new set. Die Meistersinger by Richard Wagner, will be heard in two parts: Acts I and II will be played in the afternoon beginning at 2:00 p. m.; Act III at the evening program, beginning at 7:00 p. m. This excellent recording is well chosen to show the beauties and capacities of Hi-Fidelity, "the second most realistic way to listen to sound." The new phonograph, which will bring you "all of the sound at both the treble and base extremities—with brightness, clarity, balance and realism," will almost certainly transport you right to the Opera House.

The vital need for proofs rather than mere professions of Christian power will be stressed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read at Christian Science services on Sunday.
Selections from the Bible include the following passage from the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:16): "Let your Light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (233:1-5): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them."
The Golden Text is from I John (4:9): "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the World, that we might live through him."

Lord's Day: 10:45 a. m. 7:00 p. m.

Rev. C. Helgerson

Giving up something? Why? Have we misunderstood Jesus? Are we merely to deny things TO self? He said, "Deny thy self." See the difference? For self is at the root of every social ill. Self-will ignores God's will and makes us rebels in God's economy. The Bible says: "We have turned every one to his OWN way." The attitude of our self-will condemns us before the High Court of Divine Justice and no works of merit can atone for our guilt. Christ had to go all the way to Calvary to suffer and die to redeem a self-willed race. Let's give up trusting in self and start trusting in Christ. Religion may advocate denying things TO self but the Bible insists that the will of man may be surrendered to God's Son. Ours is a positive faith.

Mr. Helgerson is Pastor of The Church of the Open Bible, Woburn

FLORENCE CRITTENTON FASHION SHOW

The social Hall of the First Congregational Church was a pleasant lace to be Wednesday, February 16, when Winchester Circle, Florence Crittenton League held its annual dessert and fashion show. Mrs. Charles Weimer, Mrs. Vincent Clarke, Mrs. Walter Winship, and Mrs. William C. Cusack presided at the tea tables.

Several High School Girls, chosen by Mrs. Henry Dellicker assisted with the serving and with the selling of chances. The girls, very attractive in their white blouses and colorful skirts and aprons with Valentine bouquets in their hair, were Margy McCreery, Judy Dellicker, Cynthia Dunn, Page Piatt, Cathy Tonon, Mary Laird, Lynda Witham, and Bunny Brown.

Another much enjoyed innovation was a short program by the High School Octette, Miss Eleanor Anifantis director, and Judith Fowler accompanist. Singing were Barbara Eaton, Connie Snelling, Dorothy Smith, Virginia Wadsworth, Ann Munroe, Nancy Samarco, Ann Titilah, and Nancy Donahey.

Mrs. Harold Blanchard, at the piano, provided the background music which added so much to the afternoon's enjoyment. Mrs. Paul Dunn, Circle President, and Miss Helen Neidringhaus, ways and means chairman, gave a few words of welcome, and of appreciation to those who had contributed so generously of their time and talent, Mrs. James Beale, and Mrs. Ober Pride, printing, sending out, and selling tickets; Mrs. Don Greer, and Mrs. John I. Lynch, decorating the hall, stage, and tea tables; Mrs. Robert Reynolds, behind the scenes coordinating; Mr. Whittaker of the Winchester Conservatories for the loan of the plants, the donation of the corsages to be carried by the models, and for making it possible for members to buy and take home the lovely tulip plants; Mrs. Walter K. Hutchinson, for the donation of the coffee; to all those who furnished the luscious dessert, and to Mrs. Walter D. Abbott and her tea committee, Mrs. Paul Atwood, Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, Mrs. Philip Boone, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Lester G. Gustin, Jr., Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. M. E. Miller, Mrs. Charles O. Nichols, Mrs. Carl G. Richmond, Mrs. Everett A. Tisdale, and Mrs. Curtis J. Ware, also Mrs. Henry Dellicker, Mrs. Frank H. Knight, Mrs. Henry Brown, Mrs. Clifton Linnell, Mrs. Henry Marcionette, Mrs. John I. Lynch, Mrs. Rowland Patrick, and Mrs. Frank Herrick.

Mr. Ross, of Ross - Modes, of Newton Center and Falmouth, was the commentator and the curtains parted to disclose eight lovely models, and the promise of being transformed magically into Spring, came true. In the next hour the 8 models presented 89 different costumes—the whole enlivened by the fashion commentary of Mr. Ross, who interspersed his fashion commentary with information about the lovely models, several of whom were revealed as members of the Newton Florence Crittenton League, and active in their circle there.

Fashion highlights that would appear to identify the 1955 Spring season are the H look, the long-waisted look as exemplified in the drop-waist, long-torso blouses and jackets, and the middy-chemise top. Most frequently seen and apparently tops in fashion was the ensemble, either a two piece suit, or a two piece dress, or a sheath dress, all with a top coat most frequently lined with the same material. Another type of ensemble seen consisted of a dress, and matching cashmere sweater. Vests were news. Pleated skirts were in evidence, but really full skirts appeared only in cocktail and evening fashions. Dior has well named it "The straight and narrow look" for 1955. His skirt length was particularly interesting being longer than had been anticipated—at least mid-calf.

Practically all of the hats worn were either definitely large or definitely small of the off-the-face and cloche type. The predominating color in hats was white, usually with bands of color which matched the costume. The jewelry was unusual, the chandelier ear-rings probably emerging as the one outstanding jewelry fashion.

Mr. Ross was warmly applauded by his large and attentive audience, as the eight models made their final appearance.

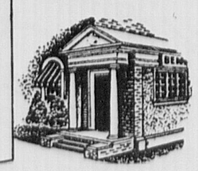

At the drawing which concluded the afternoon's festivities, Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick and Mrs. Charles E. Ungerman were the winners of the lovely table bouquets. A clear picture of the fashions for 1955 should have been in the mind of each woman as she left the hall with memories of a most pleasant afternoon.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER D. A. R.

Mrs. Harold F. Myer most graciously opened her beautiful home on February 21 for the meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter.

During the business session Mrs. Harry D. Locke, Librarian, announced that Mrs. Edward Nowell (through the courtsey of Mr. Leon Hurd of Groton) had given seven rare books to the D.A.R., some to the Washington and the rest to the State Library.

Mrs. Robert MacArthur announced that the Spring Dance will be held on April 23 at the Town Hall. All proceeds are for the Hillside school for Boys.

The following Delegates and Alternates were elected for the Annual State Conference in Boston, March 17-18: Regent Mrs. Charles Vanner, Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. Paul Stoneman, and Mrs. Harry D. Locke. Alternates: Miss Gertrude Howard, Mrs. Frederick Wier, Mrs. Howard H. P. Wright, Mrs. Chandler Symmes, Mrs. George Perry, Miss Clara Russell, Mrs. George Bryne, and Mrs. Charles Nichols.

Mrs. Wier read Governor Herter's Proclamation designating February 1955 as American History Month and honoring the D.A.R. for their efforts in promoting interest in American History through the years.

Mrs. Richard Harlow presented Miss Constance Snelling as the Good Citizen Pilgrim to represent the Chapter on March 17. She accepted gracefully, saying that it was the highest honor given a girl in the Senior Class at Winchester High.

Mrs. Thomas Cahill, of Watertown, a member of the Boston Tea Party Chapter D.A.R., gave a short and interesting history of dolls, and exhibited a few of the choicest of her collection.

Dolls date back 4,000 years. The oldest doll known was carved from ivory, has real hair, inlaid eyes, movable arms and legs, and wears bronze ear rings.

Terra cotta dolls date back 2,300 years and came first from Greece. One of the loveliest Roman dolls of antiquity was made of oak, beautifully carved and jointed at the elbows, shoulders, hips and knees, and was about the third century A.D. and is in a museum in Rome.

Mrs. Cahill spoke of the bisque, wax, parian Meissen, and wooden dolls which she exhibited and told interesting experiences she had during her European trip when obtaining some of her dolls.

A delicious tea was served by the committee headed by Mrs. Paul Stoneman.

YOUTH LENTEN SERVICES

The Protestant Interchurch Youth Council of Winchester is this year sponsoring a series of Lenten devotional services for the high school young people. They will be held each Wednesday morning during Lent, in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church, from 7:15 to 7:40. One of the Forum officers will serve each week as chaplain, assisted by a member of each of the other church youth groups in turn, and the ministers will bring the message.

At the second service, on this Wednesday morning, Rev. Walter L. Bailey of the First Baptist Church will speak. Sue Clark, recording secretary of Forum, will be the chaplain, and assistant chaplain will be Emily Allen of the Baptist Church youth group.

The schedule for the Youth Lenten Services is as follows:

March 2—Rev. Walter L. Bailey, "Positive vs. Negative Living"
March 9—Rev. John Snook, Jr., "What are You Worth?"
March 16—Rev. A. John Skeirik, "A Place in the Sun"
March 23—Rev. John W. Ellison
March 30—Rev. Robert A. Storer, "Offering of Oneself to the Service of God."

COLLEGE CLUB ART STUDY GROUP

Much of the success of the course on "Art in the Home" which is being conducted this season by the College Club Art Study Group is due to the generous co-operation given by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. On Friday, February 18, Miss Randall of the Education Department of the Boston Museum gave an interesting and instructive talk to the group on the subject of "Textiles" in an appropriate setting, the gallery where beautiful antique gowns are on display, and she illustrated her talk with samples of rare old fabrics. Miss Randall also conducted a tour through the Museum to point out examples of cloth created by the artisans of the weavers craft in Egypt, Italy, Japan and other countries.

The next topic to be studied by the group is "How to Frame a Picture." For this purpose four Art Galleries which make a specialty of framing and restoring pictures will be visited on Friday, March 4th. The total membership will be divided into four smaller groups and each assigned to visit one gallery to observe individual methods and techniques. It is hoped that a stimulating and valuable combined report can be given at the following Library meeting.

FAREWELL PARTY

On February 19, a farewell surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Walter Binns of 97 Grove street, who are leaving in the middle of March to make their home in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Binns are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Edward Dale Johnson of Cambridge, Mrs. Joseph Griffin of Florida and Virginia Binns, who gave the party. Virginia's pinning a beautiful yellow corsage on her mother gave her the first inkling that there was to be a party.

Many beautiful gifts were received from the Binns' many friends and well wishers. A large beautifully decorated cake inscribed "Best Wishes and Good Luck, Mom and Dad," surrounded with cut flowers and combined with the other colorful table decorations made a most attractive setting for an especially pleasant party, which was attended by about 60 relatives and friends.

MAIN LINE TRAINS TO DETOUR WINCHESTER

Main line trains of the Boston and Maine Railroad's New Hampshire Division will be detoured for about two miles and for a period of two years through Winchester, Mass., while existing grade crossings at Winchester Square are being eliminated, the railroad announced today.

Construction of the temporary double tracks is now under way and it is expected that train traffic will shift to the detour from the present tracks by next July. Before that time, probably in April, the railroad will relocate its stations at Winchester and Wedgemere so that the detour may be constructed over the sites now occupied by these stations.

The relocated stations and the detour will be about 60 feet west of the present main line tracks. The temporary tracks wlil start about 2,000 feet south of Wedgemere Station and run parallel to the present tracks for 9,700 feet to a point over a mile north of Winchester Station. In addition to this main line diversion, about 1,600 feet of the Woburn Loop, starting north of Winchester Square, will be included in the detour.

During the two years the railroad will be moving its trains over the temporary tracks, its permanent tracks will be raised from their present grades about 18½ feet to make an overhead crossing of the highways at Main and Church streets in Winchester Square. The permanent track work also calls for the construction of new stations at Winchester and Wedgemere and several new bridges.

The new permanent station at Winchester will be at present driveway level, with ramps and platforms and awnings on both northbound and southbound tracks. There will be an underpass for pedestrians going east and west from the station. At Wedgemere there will be an elevated station with stairs leading to the grade of the top of the rail, with platforms and awnings on both inbound and outbound sides of the tracks. There will be a pedestrian underpass for patrons going east or west from the station.

During use of the temporary tracks, the railroad will maintain a temporary signal interlocking plant for crossovers and connections from the main line to the Woburn Loop, and will have crossing tender protection at Church and Main streets.

The railroad's share of the grade crossing project at Winchester is the largest detour project it has been called upon to make in connection with state highway construction. The state, through contractors, is handling overall construction of the highway changes at Winchester, and the Boston and Maine Railroad's Engineering Department is doing the work involved in track detours and restoration to permanent trackage.

The Navy's surface-to-surface guided missile Regulus has been successfully tested for use by ships and facilities ashore.

Brilliant New Styling-Blazing New Power at everybody's price*

The all-new 1955 Pontiac offers indisputable evidence that price is no longer a factor to be considered when making that important step to fine-car luxury and performance.

Every beautiful, new Pontiac you see emphasizes the fact that here is, without question, the most distinctively styled car of them all.

But Pontiac's brilliant new styling is only a clue to all that's new and modern about this great General Motors masterpiece. The clinching evidence comes to light in your first few minutes behind the wheel.

At a touch of your toe, Pontiac's mighty Strato-Streak V-8 goes into action with instant response, whether you're deep in city traffic or silently cruising the open road. Yet power alone is only part of Pontiac's spectacular performance. With Pontiac's new, bigger brakes and recirculating ball steering, handling is almost effortless.

Pontiac's new wide-stance rear springs, roomy, luxurious Body by Fisher and shock-proof chassis complete the fine-car picture.

Normally, all this would add up to high price—but Pontiac has changed the pattern with prices so close to the lowest that if you can afford any new car you can afford Pontiac's fine-car pride and distinction. Why not come in at your first opportunity and get the facts? Once you do, you'll wish you'd made the move sooner.

Go Modern... Go Pontiac
WITH THE SENSATIONAL STRATO-STREAK V-8

Three Great Lines—
All with Strato-Streak V-8 Power
THE 860 . . THE 870 . . THE STAR CHIEF
There's a big difference in engines—and the best proof is in Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8. Advances by the score have been incorporated in this completely new engine . . . exclusive features designed to enhance Pontiac's reputation for economy and dependability. No car at any price is more modern in its power.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR YOU CAN'T BEAT A PONTIAC

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The regular meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club was held in the charming home of Mrs. Joseph J. Vaccaro of Wedgemere avenue, Wednesday afternoon, February 16.

Many members took advantage of the pleasant, mild weather after the long cold snap and were rewarded when the speaker of the afternoon gave a most interesting and profitable talk on "Gardens." Mr. Clifford D. Corliss who is president and manager of Corliss Bros., landscape contractors of Gloucester and Ipswich, told of the proper use of fertilizers for the healthy growth of trees, shrubs, lawns and flowers, and gladly answered questions asked by interested members.

WINCHESTER GRANGE No. 343

Winchester Grange No. 343 was called to order by Master Jane Cudmore at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday evening, February 15, in Masonic Hall.

The Worthy Master of the Massachusetts State Grange E. Gerry Mansfield of West Peabody Grange, was escorted to a seat at the right of W. M. Cudmore.

The membership application of Irene Mullen was received and referred to an investigating committee who will report back at the next meeting.

Communications were received from the following:

Thank you notes from Lt. j.g. Joanne Meskell, USN Nurses Corps and the Winchester Homefronters.

An invitation to neighbor with Wilmington Grange on March 9th was received and accepted.

Sister Janet E. Manzie was installed as Steward for the remainder of the year by W. State Master Mansfield.

This meeting was the 41st Anniversary of Winchester Grange and previous to the meeting the Lecturer presented corsages to Helen Dewar and Ethel Roberts, Charter Members and sent an African Violet to Marguerite Hanlon who was unable to be present.

During the meeting W. M. Cudmore recognized Sisters Roberts and Dewar and a count of Past Masters and Past Lecturers of Winchester Grange was made. There were 7 Past Masters and 9 Past Lecturers in attendance.

W. M. Cudmore called on W. State Master Mansfield who was the speaker of the evening. He told of his trip to the National Grange Convention in Spokane, Washington and how impressed he was with the wonderful influence for good that the Grange had all across the country. He mentioned parks, playgrounds, and Co-operative Associations among many other things that were Grange sponsored.

Bro. Mansfield is no stranger to Winchester Grange as he has performed the installation ceremony and been our guest Agricultural speaker on many occasions in the past.

Sister Janet Manzie was presented with the Silver Star Certificate of the National Grange in recognition of 25 years continuous membership with Bro. Mansfield again doing the honors. There were 12 Silver Star holders present 9 of whom are members of Winchester Grange.

The Worthy Lecturer reported that Stoneham Juvenile Grange was unable to come to provide the entertainment as 7 of their group were ill with virus infections. Eleanor Hardy, Lecturer is to be complimented on her programs this yas as a little thing such as knowing at 5 o'clock in the afternoon that the planned program cannot go on she hustles around and brings us something equally as good. She ntroduced Mr. John F. McGrath of Melrose who showed some beautiful slides of the Lake Sunapee region and told us of their many recreational facilities and all that goes to make a good vacation. These slides are sponsored by the Lake Sunapee Board of Trade in an effort to acquaint New England with this beautiful area.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mary Robinson, Ethel Troop and their committee. The highlight of the refreshment hour was the cutting of a beautifully decorated cake which the Worthy Lecturer had made in honor of the 41st Anniversary.

Guests were present from West Peabody, Bedford, Stoneham, Melrose, Burlington and Stowe.

No dead-end streets are created in the area through which the Boston Central Artery passes. Some re-routing of surface streets has been done to keep traffic moving.

ST. MARY'S HONORS "THE FATHER OF OUR COUNTRY"

In commemorating the birthday of our first president, George Washington, St. Mary's School had a special holiday program last Friday.

Eight members of the first grade recited a poem entitled "Washington's Birthday." They were Richard Ambrose, Walter Appleton, Rosemary Harrington, Stephen McEwan, Susan McDonald, Ann McDonough, Martin O'Donnell, and Charlene Penta.

Joan Rooney of Grade II presented a poem telling how we can start being like Washington, and a small group of boys and girls from Grade III sang a lively song entitled "Little Month of February."

John Juliano of Grade III entertained with a poem named "George Washington," and a group of Grade IV girls and boys recited a lengthy poem about Washington's Birthday. Still another member of this class, Peter Legere, related an interesting biography of George Washington.

From Grade V Madelyn Hickey read a story about Washington named, "Father of Our Country," which was taken from the Junior Catholic Messenger.

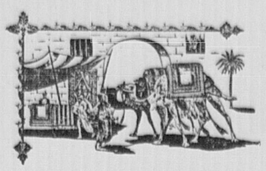

Alan McDougall of Grade VI surprised the student body with his narration of an unusually long story he had memorized, entitled "Washington and a Brave Little Girl."

Six members of Grade VII recited the poem "Twenty-Second of February," written by William Cullen Bryant. They were Joseph Capone, William Dower, Janet Kearne, Marjorie Logan, William Rogers, and Bernard Stevens.

Five seventh graders entertained with a humorous poem entitled "George Washington." They were Bert Stevens, Kathleen Benenato, Thomas Daschbach, Suzanne Murphy, and Frances Weafer. Kevin Kelley of Grade VIII related a stirring story entitled "Price of Freedom."

For the finale the whole school sang the National Anthem led by six grade VIII girls, Janice Fernald, Winifred Hughes, Mary Doherty, Kathleen Gallagher, Kathleen McCarthy and Bernice Dunbury.

The man who makes the best use of his time has most to spare.

Cadillac

The Story that Silence Tells!

You'll probably never hear a 1955 Cadillac! It is so wonderfully quiet in operation that you can detect only the soft whisper of the wind . . . and, occasionally, the pleasant song of the tires on the pavement.

Insofar as the car itself is concerned, there is only—silence!

But listen to the remarkable story this silence tells about the "car of cars!"

"Here," it says, "is a mechanism so flawlessly designed and engineered that every component performs with perfection.

"Here is truly scientific styling—so basically good and sound that there is no noticeable resistance from wind or road.

"And here is craftsmanship so superb that not a trace of vibration can be heard."

And how eloquently it speaks of the satisfactions of Cadillac ownership!

It testifies to the rest and relaxation to be found at the wheel. It promises peace of mind . . . and greater driving safety. And it pledges dependability—and endurance—and economy of operation.

Clearly, no one can tell the Cadillac story as convincingly as the car itself!

And if you haven't as yet "heard" this remarkable story, we hope that you will accept our invitation to come in and spend an hour at the wheel.

You'll agree, we're certain, that the 1955 Cadillac is its own best spokesman!

Andrew Heath pianist, a young cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hatch of Jefferson road, gave a little concert for the Home Church Guild of the First Congregational Church, sometime ago when he first entered Harvard and many people still inquire for him.

He graduated from Harvard in 1950, studied summers in France with Robert Casadesus and Nadia Boulanger, also with Madame Ondricek in Boston won the Frank Huntington Beebe Fellowship and spent a year in Vienna where he made his debut with conductor Jonathan Sternberg.

During his army service he was chosen to conduct the seventh Army Symphony and led it on a tour of West Germany. In June he will receive his master's degree from the Yale School of Music.

On Tuesday evening, March 1st, at 8:30, Andrew Heath will give a recital in Jordan Hall. His family will gather from Concord and Manchester, N. H., and some of them will stay in Winchester with the Hatches.

An after the concert party by the family will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton Logan of 24 Pinckney street, Boston. Mr. Logan was the speaker and exhibitor for January for the Winchester Art Association.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

MARSH WINDS

A peerless and charming Colonial

This 200-year-old treasure was dismantled and restored on a breathtaking new site in the Argilla area of HISTORICAL IPSWICH, rebuilt with a great steel-beamed concrete foundation for the huge center chimney.

Retaining the rich mellowness of more than two centuries, it is ready now for new centuries of gracious living with modern plumbing, heating and wiring.

This Colonial residence has eight beautifully proportioned and gracious rooms, powder room, separate laundry room, two full baths and attached two-car garage.

There are six fine old fireplaces. The living room, with nine-and-a-half-foot ceiling, box-beamed, and wide-board flooring is dominated by a six-foot original-brick fireplace with open ovens, the entire wall wood panelled and lighted with unusual antique-silver candelabra.

The whole interior of this truly lovely house has been decorated in soft tones of spice and bayberry to enhance Colonial pieces.

With a two-acre setting, looking out over hundreds of acres of colorful (protected) salt-marsh and evergreen knolls, this property, complete with electric stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, clothes washer and dryer (all new equipment), and with golden eagle over the fan-light front door is offered at $42,500. Immediate occupancy.

GEORGE A. SALTMARSH

FOR SELECTMAN

Voters of Winchester:

Let me give you a few reasons why I am seeking election to the Board of Selectmen at the Town Election March 7.

I have been a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 2 for many years. For the past three years I have served on the Town Finance Committee, and have been the Chairman of the Committee for the past year.

Since 1900 I have lived in Winchester most of the time. I went to school here and graduated from the High School in 1914. In the Fall of that year I entered Dartmouth College, and in 1917, my Junior year, I enlisted in the U.S. Navy, and was on active duty for about two years during World War I. I was one of the early members of Winchester Post, 97, of the American Legion.

For the past twenty years I have been associated with J. H. Goddard & Co., Inc., of Boston, Investment Security Dealers and Counselors, acting in the capacity of Salesman and Counselor.

I am well acquainted with Winchester and its present problems, and feel that my experience and knowledge of Town affairs and finances, will be valuable in making decisions in the years ahead.

If elected I will endeavor to serve the Town and the people to the best of my ability, and would welcome your support.

I attended public schools in Hamilton and Cincinnati, Ohio, and graduated from Mount Holyoke College. Other background qualifications for this position are listed in my reply to the League of Women Voters' questionnaire, printed elsewhere in this paper.

During my three years as a member of the School Committee, I have visited classrooms in all the Elementary schools and the Junior High School in order to become better acquainted with the teaching staff and the school curriculum.

I am a member of the Lewis Parkhurst Addition Building Committee, the Massachuetts Council of Public Schools and the State-wide Committee for State Aid to Education. I have attended numerous local meetings concerning school affairs and both a state and a national convention of School Board members.

As a member of the School Committee, I have conscientiously tried to give thorough and equitable consideration to all problems that have come before it.

I hope that I may have your support in the election, March 7th.

MISS EMILY L. LYONS

Miss Emily L. Lyons, a lifelong resident of Winchester and member of one of the town's well known families, died Tuesday evening, March 1, at the Winchester Hospital where she had been since last April when she sustained a broken hip. Her home was at 5 Everett avenue, where she lived with her sister, Miss Mary A. Lyons, for many years a school teacher in Winchester, until the latter's death in 1939.

Miss Lyons was the daughter of Michael E., and Mary (Keane) Lyons. She was born in Winchester, was educated in the Winchester schools and Winchester High School, and at business college in Boston. For many years until her retirement she was a private secretary for a jewelry firm in that city.

She was a member of Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour; and of St. Mary's Sodality. During World War I she was one of a group of Winchester women who made bandages and surgical dressings at the Winchester Hospital for the Red Cross.

Miss Lyons leaves a sister, Mrs. William Bowen of Lynn; and a brother, Dr. George A. Lyons of Lynn and Swampscott, eye, ear and nose specialist. Two other brothers of the Catholic Priesthood, Rev. William F. Lyons of West Roxbury and Rev. Henry K. Lyons of Haverhill, are deceased.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

SCALISI — VOZZELLA

Miss Josephine Angela Vozzella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Celestine Vozzella of Winter street, was married to Ignatius Francis Scalisi, son of Mrs. Lena Scalisi of Greene street, Boston, at St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, February 27. Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of the Church, read the 3 o'clock service in an attractive setting of white snapdragons, and a reception followed at Cabot Farms on Broadway in Somerville.

Miss Vozzella was given in marriage by her father, and had her sister, Miss Rose Marie Vozzella of Winchester as her honor maid. Two more sisters, Miss Edith Vozzella and Miss Matilda Vozzella, both of Winchester, were bridesmaids, and there were two small flower girls, Miss Maxine Vozzella of Woburn, niece of the bride, and Miss Antonette Silvestro of Medford, niece of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown fashioned with a bodice of imported lace over satin with a boat neckline trimmed with rhinestones and long fitted iridescent sleeves. Her bouffant skirt was of lace and nylon tulle having a separate nine foot train of lace over satin, and her hand-rolled imported veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of rhinestones and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, centered with an orchid and tied with streamers of stephanotis.

The honor maid wore a dress of red-pink crystallete styled with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her crown of flowers matched her dress and she carried pink roses and pink carnations with a shower of matching ribbons.

The bridesmaids carried the same bouquets and wore identical dresses of clear green crystallette styled like that of the honor maid. They too wore flower crowns to match their gowns.

The flower girls wore mint green crystalette frocks, styled like those of the other attendants excepting that their skirts were adorned with big bows to form bustle backs. They wore mint green crowns of flowers and carried cascade bouquets of rosebuds and carnations.

Mrs. Vozzella, mother of the bride, was gowned in blue lace and wore a matching hat and a corsage of pale pink camellias with pink ribbon. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Scalisi, wore a pink lace gown with matching hat and her corsage of pink camellias was trimmed with blue ribbon.

Joseph J. Lecce of Watertown was best man, and the ushers were Charles Brock of Boston and Anthony Pusateri of East Boston.

After a wedding journey to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Scalisi will live in Malden.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1949. Mr. Scalisi, who is an accountant, graduated from the High School of Commerce in Boston and from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance.

H.N.S. TO HOLD SPORT NIGHT

On Sunday evening, March 20, at St. Mary's Hall, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold a father-son sport night.

Ted O'Rourke is chairman and is busy lining up an interesting program.

Present plans are in the formative stage, but Ted reports that among the movies to be shown will be the exciting Notre Dame-Oklahoma football game. There will be various sports figures who will address the gathering with the usual question and answer period following their talks. Suitable entertainment for the occasion will be climaxed by refreshments, and a fine evening's enjoyment looms for Holy Name dads and sons.

The committee includes Honorary Chairman Herbert J. Cleary, General Chairman Ted O'Rourke, assisted by Bob Plunkett, Bill Carey, John Cronin, Art Johns, Bill Lippman, Dave Barry, Bob Scholl; and Vin Erhard, publicity.

MRS. PATIENCE C. HINDES

Mrs. Patience Chase Hindes, wife of Dr. J. Churchill Hindes of Stetson Hall, died Monday night, February 28, after several days illness that followed a long period of failing health. A resident of Winchester for more than half a century, she was in her active years prominent in the social and cultural life of the town.

Mrs. Hindes was the daughter of James H., and Augusta (Lamprey) Chase. She was born in Concord, N. H., was educated at the Delancey School in Geneva, N. Y., and at private schools in Boston, coming to Winchester as a young woman in 1904.

Three years later she and Dr. Hindes were married on June 3, 1907, by Dr. John W. Suter, being among the first to be married in the present Church of the Epiphany on Church street. They first made their home at 6 Sheffield road, later living on Cliff street and Crescent road before moving to Stetson Hall in 1942.

Mrs. Hindes was a great music lover and a thorough musician. She studied piano in Boston with Junius Hill and in Winchester with Joshua Phippen, becoming an accomplished pianist with outstanding ability as an accompanist. Always generous with her talent, she played for countless vocalists and instrumentalists, and for many musical shows, including the old Calumet Club shows in the early nineteen hundreds. For many years, until her health forbade, she filled the trying post of rehearsal accompanist for the Winton Club Cabarets.

Mrs. Hindes' membership in the Church of the Epiphany went back to days when the parish occupied the church on Mt. Vernon street, now the home of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Winchester. She was a past regent of Committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R., and a former member of the Fortnightly Women's Club, Winton Club and Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League. Her great personal charm and cheerfulness in the face of great physical misfortune won her the admiration of all who knew her.

Besides her husband she leaves a son, Captain James G. Hindes, USAF, now stationed in Germany, and four grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Burial will be in Prospect Cemetery, Vergennes, Vt.

ELECT EXPERIENCE

THOMAS F. FALLON

Voters of Winchester:

In submitting for your consideration the candidacy of Thomas F. Fallon for the office of Selectman at the March election we wish to remind you that he is well acquainted with the town and the various departments of its town government, he having served two terms as Selectman and 18 years as Town Meeting Member. If elected, he will give the problems that arise in connection with the transaction of town business his whole-hearted consideration, keeping always in mind in the solution of these problems the best interest of the entire town.

FOR SELECTMAN FREDERICK LaTORELLA

Voters of Winchester:

I am seeking election to the Board of Selectmen at the town election on March 7.

I have served as town meeting member for eight years. With this experience, if elected to the Board of Selectmen, I should be helpful for any future problems.

A lifelong resident of this town, I have been active in civic and social affairs. I am at present a member of the Board of Directors of the Aberjona Civic Association.

I am a builder and most of my work is local, which, in the event I am elected, I would be available immediately in case of an emergency.

I would serve you in time of peace as I served you honorably in time of war!

EARLE F. LITTLETON

FOR RE-ELECTION TO SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Voters of Winchester:

As a candidate for re-election for School Committee I should like to state briefly the qualifications I feel have given me the necessary background to serve the Town constructively.

I was graduated from the Tufts College Engineering School, received a second degree in engineering from Harvard University, and have completed courses of study in the field of education at Tufts College.

Prior to moving to Winchester I served on a school survey committee in the Town of Dedham. A few years ago I was given a leave of absence from teaching at Tufts College in order to represent the Engineering School on a committee of three to visit secondary schools throughout New England and the Eastern Central States. I served on the Mystic School Addition Building Committee and last year was chairman of the Building Survey Committee.

This varied experience with secondary school education, plus twenty-three years of teaching and administrative duties at Tufts College, sixteen years of coaching at Tufts College and Andover Academy, and three years as a member of the School Committee, this past year as chairman, have given me, I believe, the background necessary to work efficiently as a member of the School Committee.

I have become a candidate for re-election because I feel a keen interest in education, have four children who have many years ahead in the Winchester schools, and desire to continue to serve the Town and to give assistance in the Committee's educational and building program.

My program at Tufts College makes it possible for me to devote time during the day to school business and activities. During the past five months I have devoted at least one day each week to school committee affairs.

I solicit your support of my candidacy on election day, March 7.

Mr. Withington, son of the late Rev. Frederic B. Withington and grandson of the late Rev. S. Winchester Adriance, attended Punahou School in Hawaii and Phillips Exeter Academy. He received his A.B. from Harvard and an M.A. in Geography from Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois. At present he is a publications writer for the Federal Government in a resource survey of New England and New York.

SUPPORT

HERBERT S. EDMANDS

FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Voters of Winchester:

When you cast your ballot in the School Committee contest on March 7, I hope you will weigh my qualifications against those of the other candidates. My background includes: Staff member of The Boston Transcript; twenty years of business experience in the field of finance; Winchester resident for fifteen years; husband of Winchester girl; father of one school child and two pre-school children; active officially in Cub Scouts, Dad's Club, Church School, and Little League.

Of those now serving on the School Committee or seeking election, I am the only person with substantial experience in business and finance. I know that this type of experience will be of real benefit to the School Committee and to the citizens of Winchester since many of the problems facing the Committee involve financial planning. For example, the proposed School Department budget for 1955 is $982,270.94 and additional suggested expenditures in various Articles of the Warrant bring the total to well over $1,000,000.00

I should like to stress also that if I am elected I will make a special effort to keep you informed of problems pending before the Committee.

It is my thought that policies and proposals that create serious problems should be placed before competent fellow townsmen for invaluable advice, and that major decisions of the School Committee should be made a matter of prompt public record.

I respectfully ask for your vote on March 7.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

At the annual meeting of the Winchester Girl Scout Association, held Friday, February 18, at the Music Hall, Mrs. Ernest Ulm, leader of Mystic Brownie Troop No. 50, won the delicious cake, and Mrs. Lester Armstrong won the beautiful flower arrangement by Foley the Florist, both given as door prizes. More than 50 leaders and staff members participated in games conducted by Miss Blanche McGowan, a Red Feather Service worker, and all enjoyed a delicious lunch provided by the members of the board. Mrs. Edmund Wright, vice-president in charge, wishes to sincerely thank all who brought food, and helped in any way to make such a delightful meeting. Mrs. Robert Dixon spoke on the Museum of Science, emphasizing the many things to attract adults and, particularly, girls of scouting ages, showing how the museum plans its exhibits, work, and information facilities to meet the needs of all age levels, and to answer questions of individuals and groups throughout the six New England states.

A short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Roswell Harding, president. The names of two newcomers were added to the board: Mrs. Francis Parsons, cabin maintenance chairman, and Mrs. John Snook, chairman of the membership nominating committee. Mrs. Herbert F. Ross will continue as public relations committee chairman.

Annual reports for the seven functional committees (camping, cabin maintenance, finance, program, public relations, staff and office, and training) brought out the following facts: Winchester has 360 Brownies, 268 Intermediates, and 53 Senior Scouts, a total of 681 girls. There are 291 adults working with these girls, as leaders, assistants, committee members, etc., filling many very necessary jobs, big and small. Our cabin was very busy, in use 45 times, in addition to our day camp, which gave campers four days each week, for four weeks in June and July. Our town-wide activities included Christmas Carol singing at Filene's, an ice-skating party for Intermediates, a roller-skating party for Brownies, and a father-daughter banquet scheduled for March 22. Under Community Service, the girls worked to make gifts for service men as part of "Christmas on the High Seas," as well as collecting gifts for children whose names were secured through the public welfare office. The girls also helped with the Easter Seal Campaign. A highlight of our training committee's activity was the state meeting at Cedar Hill, attended by ten of our members, and most ably conducted by Mrs. Dwight Cart, keeping us in close touch with state Scout activities.

Our finance committee, composed of Mr. Dwight Bellows and Mrs. Walter Roberts, co-chairmen; our treasurer, Mrs. William Beal; and Mr. James Willing, Mr. Edmund Wright, and Mr. Richard Johnson has done an outstanding job, ably assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Shinnick, our executive director. Winchester Girl Scouts are on a fine financial footing. The United Community Services allotted us $5,000.00 in 1954, and $2,400.00 was raised by the Cookie Drive. As our estimated budget for 1955 will total $8,160.00 and we are requesting only $4,600.-00 from the U. C. S., it can easily be seen how much we depend on our Cookie Sale for a successful year to come. We hope to exceed last year's excellent record, so join in with us in March, and all have many really good cookies!

All committees have worked faithfully and well, and we are proud of our year, and of reaching more girls to provide them with the inspirational and practical guidance and programs which the national, state, and local Girl Scout organizations create and prepare for our fine young people. It is a very satisfying experience to be part of such a movement, "a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout."

SIMMONS ALUMNAE

GREATER BOSTON MEETING

A large group of Winchester Simmons College alumnae are planning to drive to Alumnae Hall on the Simmons Campus Tuesday evening, March 8, to hear the noted architect, Eleanor Manning O'Connor, speak about "Homes: Traditional versus Modern."

Mrs. O'Connor, who has been a special lecturer at Simmons since 1918, was an architect on the project of restoration of old New England houses. She designed the Concord Art Center, and was awarded a prize for her Cape Cod cottage.

Miss Mildred Gallagher of Arlington is chairman of the meeting, which will be preceded by dessert and coffee at 7:30 p.m. Her committee includes Misses Janet Gardiner and Ellen McLaughlin, Arlington; Ann Torosian and Viola Engler, Boston; and Mrs. Anne Rotenburg, Chestnut Hill. Pourers will be Mrs. Frank Adams, Boston, an instructor at Simmons; and Miss Helen Deacon, executive secretary of the Simmons Alumnae Association. Mrs. Richard P. Bonney, West Roxbury, club president, will preside.

Residents of Winchester who are members of the Boston Simmons Club include Mrs. B. M. Anderson, Mrs. William H. Burns, Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves, Mrs. Donald J. Fritch, a director of the club, Miss Elizabeth Russell, Mrs. William L. Glowacki, and Mrs. Robert A. Nyere.

CIVIL DEFENSE

C. D. OFFICE HOURS

Mon., Wed., Fri.—9 to 12, 1 to 4
Tues. and Thurs.—9 to 1, 2 to 4
SAT. NOT OPEN
Tel. WInchester 6-3257

One hour to live or die; Not a choice but a fact. You can live only if you and your Civil Defense staff work together and not in opposite directions.

What does Civil Defense mean to Winchester? It means in one simple word evacuation, in an orderly and pre-planned manner. It means we will all be alive after an H-Bomb attack if we realize our problem in time.

Val Peterson, National Civilian Defense Administrator, said that to stay is to die. Evacuation is a necessary and entirely feasible plan for a town the size of Winchester. Therefore, we as the citizens of Winchester must realize this fact and do everything possible to protect the lives of our loved ones. Civil Defense workers are not recruited but are taken from the ranks of the volunteers.

What are we, the Civil Defense staff, doing about it? Everything in our power is being done as quickly and efficiently as the plans of evacuation and protection, in the event of an H-Bomb attack, are realized.

Winchester is fortunate in having such a qualified group of men to head the Civilian Defense activities of the town. At the head of the staff is the director. Theodore J. Boecker. Serving with him are John T. Blanchard, deputy director; Robert B. Richmond, director of communications; Jack H. Ivers, deputy director of communications; Kendall H. Spencer, assistant evacuation officer; Stephen E. Root, warden officer; Lester C. Gustin, staff advisory officer; Sherman B. Russell, assistant director of administration; Victor S. Phaneuf, deputy warden officer; Everett P. Stone, plant protection; R. Douglas Ramsdell, publicity; James A. Wakefield, Jr., engineering; Charles J. Harrold, police chief; James E. Callahan, fire chief; William P. Supple, civil war aid; James P. Halwartz, utilities; Ruth E. Hilton, registration; Frances N. Atkinson, Civilian Defense secretary.

These men and women along with their workers are taking the necessary steps to provide for the safety of the townspeople in the event of an attack.

Next week we will discuss in this column the importance of an able director—Mr. Theodore J. Boecker.

NEW A & P SUPER MARKET NOW OPEN ON ROUTE 28

Hundreds of shoppers attended the recent grand opening of the new A&P Super Market on Route 28 at Route 128, on the Reading-Wakefield—Stoneham line.

The new A&P incorporates all of the latest self-service shopping conveniences. The departmental arrangement of foodstuffs includes separate section for meats, poultry, fish, frozen foods, bakery products, dairy items, groceries, fresh produce, coffee and candy.

The self-service system is in operation throughout the entire store including the meat and produce departments.

The attractive interior has been designed to provide customers with the maximum of shopping comfort. Fluorescent lighting, streamlined grocery shelving and handy, refrigerated self-service cases have been installed.

A battery of eight speed-type checkouts, a parcel pickup station and a huge parking area eliminate congestion and expedite shopping.

The parcel pickup, the latest super market feature, does away with the need of carrying heavy orders from the store to cars in the parking area. Instead, bundles are conveyed from the checkouts to the pickup area outside the store. Shoppers drive to the pickup station where their orders are placed directly in the cars by clerks.

From now through Saturday, 100 $5 gift certificates will be awarded to lucky store visitors. No purchase obligations will be imposed, and winners need not be present when their names are called.

The new A&P will be open Thursday and Friday evenings until 9 o'clock.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

So we roll on to another week with spring around the corner and only six weeks left to go.

California slipped badly by losing four points to tumble to third place. In the meantime St. Mary's and Georgetown took four points to climb into first and second positions in the standings. The first five teams are still closely bunched and a bad week at this stage would be tragic for any one of them.

Team Standings

St. Mary's	23	9
Georgetown	22	10
California	20	12
Boston College	19	13

Top Five Bowlers

Moose Bellino	103.9
Tony Saraco	103.0
Jake Jacobellis	99.0
Frank DiMambro	97.2
Pete Provinzano	97.0

Back and forth between Tony and Moose, and youth excelled this week as Moose Bowled 338 and Tony 301.

Let me say a few words on the remarkable recovery by Tony when the chips were down going into the last two boxes.

At this point he had a 265 pinfall and with careful, cat-like precision he got two spares and eight on each spare to push him over the 300 mark. Remarkable bowling! Tony still maintains a 2-point lead in the 300 circle with 15 and Moose with 13.

Who bowled over 300 this week? Here they are: Moose Bellino, 338; A. P. Tofuri, 333; Mal Fiore, 309; "Hi Ya Pal" Anthony Vespucci, 305; Tony Saraco, 301; Jeff Gaudioso, 300.

Now about Holy Cross, first-half winner and still in contention this half. Pete Provinzano, their able and capable anchor man; M. J. Saraco, their publicity man with the booming voice; "Corregidor" Fiore, whose hop, skip and jump will long be remembered; Al Tibaudo, trying with every ball; Mario Lentine, a real team man; and "Pibby" Tofuri, the man behind the whip! A well-consolidated group.

Being late this evening, for I attended a meeting where the guest speaker was our capable Chief Charles Harrold, and having missed most of the evening's bowling, I would like to make a few comments about one of our outstanding members. One is generally proud when a member of his organization has excelled in his life's endeavor. This member, whose latest success has made his name the topic of the day His many degrees are too long and too numerous to list, so to cut it short, he is an archeologist, anthropologist and geologist whose excavations have revealed untold wealth in our town which has been undisturbed through the centuries. He has single handed moved more soil and sand than many men in his field. His safari consists of one outstanding person, Jake Jacobellis. This scientist, now world-renowned, is our blood brother, Professor "Mingy" Frongillo.

Questions that need an answer: What well-known millionaire member has ulcers? Who is it that never needs his fingernails cut? Who is it that never gets to the clubhouse before 9:30 p.m.? Who is the champion bridge player? Who thinks he's the best head to head the three-seven player?

Even if the underground forces tried to upset our raffle, and our capable supervisor, Carl Bertolucci, was down with the virus, it was still conducted with the parakeet's help to make it a success. The winner this week was the brother to the most eligible bachelor, Pete Provinzano.

All told there are more than 225 warships in the destroyer category now on active service in the U. S. Navy.

YOUTH COUNCIL TO SPONSOR CYO TALENT SHOW

At all Sunday Masses at the Immaculate Conception Church, Winchester, the Rev. Stephen E. Burke, Deanery CYO Director, announced plans for the great "Teen-Age Talent Show" to be held after Easter. This show is expected to draw talent from all 24 parishes within the Woburn Deanery. All Catholic Youths between the ages of 13-20 are eligible to compete in the show through their parish CYO unit. Each individual parish will conduct its own talent audition, and select the best act which will then be submitted for competition in the Deanry Show. The absolute deadline for parish entries will be Sunday, March 20th. Numerous cash awards will be made to the winners of the various divisions. Vocalists, musicians, dancers, impersonators, acrobats, comedy and specialty acts, etc., are all welcome to participate.

This Talent Show is the first of its kind conducted by the CYO on such a wide scale. Its purpose is to provide talented young people with the opportunity to being their abilities to the attention of the public. Sponsored by the Deanery Council of Catholic Youth, whose ideal is "to help youth help themselves" the show is generating enthusiastic interest in this area.

Heading the large committee in charge of the affair are: Rev. Stephen E. Burke, Deanery Director; Miss Catherine Burke, Woburn, and Mr. Albert Wilde, Burlington, Adult Avdisors, DCCY; Robert Black, Wakefield; Noreen Johnson, Winchester; Mary McDonough, Arlington; Paul Andrews, Woburn; Betty Nagle, W. Concord; Joseph Curry, Pinehurst; Francis Neelon, Greenwood; and Carole Murphy, Arlington. For additional information contact your parish CYO Director or Fr. Burke, WInchester 6-1858.

PIERCE ELECTED

Elisha George Pierce, son of Mrs. E. George Pierce of 319 Main street, has recently been elected Vice President of Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Williams College.

Graduated from Belmont Hill School in 1952, Pierce is a member of the varsity lacrosse team, and has been a member of the staff of the "Gul," the college yearbook, for three years. Pierce is also a member of the Yacht Club.

ANN NEVILLE WINS MASS. SWIM TITLE

Ann Neville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Neville, of 70 Forest street, won the 100 yard Butterfly Championship for girls 13-14, on Saturday, February 26, at Curtis Hall Pool, Jamaica Plain. Time: 1 minute 34.8s.

Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston played host for the Massachusetts open age group swimming championships. A total of 532 swimmers competed in the first annual event conducted by the Boston Park Recreation Department, Red Cross and the N.E.A.A.U. Swimmers representing clubs from the whole State of Massachusetts competed. Ann swam under the colors of the Winchester Swimming Club, and reflects great credit to her home town, especially since most of the other winners come from places where indoor pools are available for their training.

Ann also holds the New England record for girls 12 and under in the 100 yard free-style, set just a year ago at Leominster, Mass.

Another of her achievements was retiring the McGowan Memorial Trophy, having won it three times.

Betty Bixler of 7 Rangeley road, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bixler, placed second in the 25 yard freestyle for girls ten and under, also receiving a trophy.

CAMP NOKOMIS CHATTER

The annual winter reunion and banquet for Camp Nokomis campers was held at the Hotel Bellevue, Boston, on Saturday, February 12.

The theme of the reunion was water skiing, and after watching thrilling movies of champion water skiing and slides of camp activities the girls wished the summer would hurry along.

Deborah French and Mrs. G. D. Curtis, staff members, also attended.

CURLING BONSPIEL THIS WEEK END

SYMMES WINS WHITE CUP

The big news this week is the first bonspiel in the new Winchester Country Club curling rink. Six Canadian rinks and fourteen from Brookline, Nashua, Utica, Schenectady, St. Andrews, etc., will compete. All three sheets of ice will be in constant use from early Friday until the finals at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, with time out Friday evening for the Banquet—with a big "B." The "Joe Barton" Warm Room is now fixed up in fine style for the comfort of spectators and Joe Barton is due to be there in person.

Winchester rinks competing will be Charley Eaton, John Fulton, Geoff Neiley and Dan Morse, skip; and Ed Garrity, Keith Fulton, Stan Neill and Howard Eteson, skip.

The finals, Monday night, of the White Cup resulted in a win for Russ Symmes, ably supported by Vince Caputo, John Fulton, and Larry Fessenden. After a very close and exciting 8-7 match, they finally overcame Stan Neill with Jim Wilcox, Dana Sawyer and Larry Burke. The match was tied 6-6 at the tenth end. Russ' rink managed to keep in two stones in the eleventh and Stan's one stone for the twelfth end was just not good enough. There was some very fine curling for the "Junior Championship."

Shorty Carr's rink at the Stockton in Brookline last week came along like a house afire after their first loss and got to the semi-finals of the Clyde Cup. The last and deciding end was so close that two stones had to be measured but Winchester lost by a matter of an eighth of an inch.

The Coulson Mixed Bonspiel is now all arranged for the week ends of March 12-13, 19-20 and 26-27. Twenty-one rinks have been organized from those who have been in the mixed curling all winter, plus others who have expressed a desire to enter this "Maurice Brown" of curling. Some of the "regulars" are going to be away sometime over those week ends and unfortunately could not be included. The rinks have been selected very carefully by four of the senior men's skips, with the thought of equalizing, as far as possible, the experience and proficiency of the different people as far as could be observed this past winter. A letter to all curlers is probably by this time in the mail, giving the personnel of the rinks with a chart showing the time of each first match and how the playdown is arranged. In a competition of this sort, over three week ends and with 84 curlers competing, substitutions are bound to be needed and will be treated with all consideration. It would therefore be appreciated if any curlers not listed, but who could play March 12-13 or 19-20, would offer their names as possible substitutes to either Nina Dolben or Dan Morse. Both men and women substitutes are sure to be needed. The semi-finals and finals on March 26-27 will be more strict as to substitutions, so a warning is given to all skips to keep their rinks in training. A consolation is also arranged. No rink will have to curl more than one match a day, until the finals. All matches will be 8-ends, except the semi-finals and finals for 10-ends. The Coulson Medals have arrived and will be a joy to anyone winning them. The beautiful Coulson Trophy is on display in the trophy case at the club.

Results of the first round of the third round robin are: Eaton 8 vs Davis 6, Fessenden 13 vs Neiley 10, Waghorne 12 vs Carr 8, Bonnell 10 vs Butters 8, Dyer 11 vs Sheeran 9, Lane 9 vs Scott 8, King 11 vs Willing 8, Symmes 12 vs McMinn 6, Garrity 11 vs Neill 8, Eteson 11 vs Stirling 8, Dolben 15 vs Siders 5, K. Fulton 16 vs Morse 7.

Second-round results; K. Fulton 9 vs Siders 1, Morse 10 vs Stirling 7, Eteston 12 vs Dolben 10, Garrity 9 vs Symmes 8, Neill 9 vs King 4, McMinn 9 vs Willing 8, Bonnell 14 vs Dyer 12, Lane 8 vs Butters 7, Scott 9 vs Sheran 7.

CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM AT BELMONT HILL

Five Winchester boys were letter winners for Belmont Hill School's championship varsity hockey team this year. Jack Page of 7 Lagrange st., Greg MacArthur of 42 Cabot st., Greg Downes of 53 Emerson road, Jim Dwinell of Fernway, and Laury Hawkins of 11 Stratford road were all instrumental in establishing the team's 6-1 league record.

Page, in the goal, and Downes and MacArthur at defense combined to form a rugged defensive unit which allowed only eight goals in seven league contests. Skating on the second line for the Belmont team were Hawkins at center and Dwinell at wing.

The Belmont Hill team tied Middlesex for the Private School League title, marking the fifth consecutive year the Belmont school has either won or tied for the lead. Largely a young team, the Belmont Hill varsity will lose only two men, including MacArthur. Page has another year, while Downes, Dwinell, and Hawkins have two more to go.

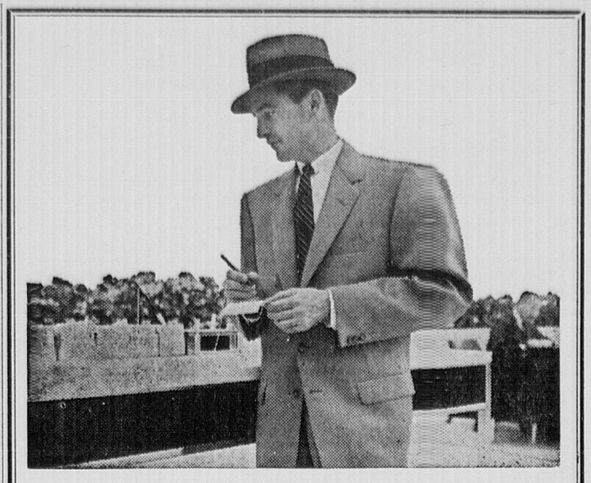

The future of Belmont Hill hockey looks bright from still another viewpoint; the junior team (eighth and ninth grades) has lost only one game in 25 over a two-year period. Ronny Burke of 51 Emerson road, and Jimmy Downes of 53 Emerson road play for this team.

PLEDGE BY KIWANIS

The Pledge of Rededication reaffirms Kiwanis' determination to serve the individual, the community, and the nation. It was made at the time of Kiwanis' 40th anniversary. In Winchester Kiwanis' service to the community includes its milk fund for underprivileged children, Fish Derby, hospital beds for private use and contributions to the Kiwanis Scholarship Fund.

The Pledge which Mr. Engdahl gave to President Eisenhower is similar to that which most Kiwanis presidents are making to the mayors of their communities this year.

Engdahl and a Kiwanis group were in Washington to attend the Fourth Biennial Kiwanis Congressional Dinner, which was held in honor of the nearly 100 Congressmen and Senators who are members of Kiwanis International.

W. H. S. MUSICIANS IN ALL-STATE CONCERT

Last week was vacation time for most Winchester High School students, but not for those who participated in the All-State Concert at Symphony Hall, Boston. These youngsters joined more than 500 of Massachusetts' best young musicians for an intensive, three-day course of training prior to the concert on the evening of February 25.

The audience which filled Symphony Hall thrilled to the performances of the All-State band, symphony orchestra, and chorus. Playing with the All-State Band were William Eriksen, Herbert Gardner, Thomas Severino, and Stephen Root.

Winchester members of the All-State Orchestra included Mary Burton, Harlow Russell, Gretchen Luitwieler, Robert Becker, and Richard Rimbach. Harlow Russell received a special honor when he was chosen to be the concert master of the cello section.

Largest of the musical groups in the concert was the 350-voice chorus, representing 89 Massachusetts high schools. Those selected from Winchester High School were: Martha Hall, Ann Titilah, Paul Donlon, Paul Franson, William Gurrisi, Roland Gaiditis, and Seth Weston.

Of special interest to Winchester is the fact that its music supervisor, Wendell F. Withington, was chairman of the Concert Committee. To him goes much of the credit for the splendid manner in which the concert and all the events leading up to it were handled.

Members of the Friends of the Winchester High School Band and Orchestra contributed materially to the success of the party and dance held for the various musical groups at Brown Hall, New England Conservatory of Music, on Thursday evening. The group took over the job of handling all the arrangements for the party and their efforts were much appreciated. Among the helpers were the following Winchester parents: Mr. and Mrs. Fenton Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rimbach, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Burton, Mrs. Addison Becker, Mrs. Clarence Luitwieler, Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Root, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gardner.

P. A. L. DATES

Police Athletic League basketball games scheduled for Monday evening at the Washington School include Black Hawks vs Eagles, 6:30; Celtics vs Pistons, 7:30; Indians vs Capitals, 8:30.

FASHION CLEANSERS

YOUR WINTER COTTONS
DESERVE THE FINEST CARE!

Your high-styled winter cottons cannot be routed to the wash basin in the bath room, or even to the basement laundry. Certain factors take these garments out of the home-washable class:

Garment design
Shoulder pads
Padding
Decorative buttons
Leather, velvet, sequin and fur trim

To preserve the fashion and style built into your winter cottons, entrust them to your cleaner for professional care!

DRYCLEANING CLEANS COTTONS THOROUGHLY!

Cotton fabrics respond beautifully to drycleaning. Modern equipment, and scientifically tested methods of cleaning, result in bright, clear, clean cottons.

PROFESSIONAL FINISHING

But even more important is the professional finishing of your winter cottons. Pleats, puffs, and puzzles require the skill of a professional finisher that you just cannot duplicate at home.

Remember . . . your cleaner is your clothes' best friend!

EDITORIALS

Winchester goes to the polls for another town election Monday, March 7, and with the scarcity of contests on the ballot, only three, it is not likely that the vote will be representative. This is unfortunate, not only because with a light vote a good candidate may be beaten, but because those who are elected by a few voters may feel they need concern themselves only with the wishes of those who supported them at the polls. In the last four town elections Winchester cast respectively 46.5, 46.2, 48.4, and 25.7 percent of the registered vote. There is nothing in these figures about which to be proud or to substantiate the oft-made statement that Winchester is "different." We get pretty much what we demand in the way of town government and it is easy for a don't-care vote to beget a don't-care government. We should all go to the polls Monday and vote. Where we think a candidate running for office has done a good job we can give him a vote, whether or not he has opposition. Perhaps those who do not get this vote endorsement may try harder to merit it next time. And we must not forget! Our Board of Selectmen and School Committee have real exacting work ahead. We have an opportunity to express our preference in the contests for these offices. Let us not fail to do so!

FINE PUBLIC SERVANT LOST

Editor of the Star:

In the passing of Robert Morgan Keeney on February 19, 1955, Winchester has lost one of its finest public servants. As head of the English Department at the Winchester High School for a quarter of a century, Mr. Keeney was instrumental in establishing and maintaining the standards of English instruction which have given our school a high place among the secondary schools of New England.

The influence of a fine teacher extends far beyond the bounds of his own lifetime or his particular community. Hundreds of Robert Keeney's former pupils enjoy richer and more purposeful lives and have achieved greater success in their business or professional careers because of the spendid training which he gave to them.

Most often, students remember their teachers not for the knowledge or skills which they imparted, but for their traits of humor or originality. Mr. Keeney's dry wit and his keen sense of the ridiculous eased the path of learning for many of his pupils.

A sound scholar and a meticulous workman at his chosen craft, Robert Keeney was above all a gentleman in the best meaning of that word. His intellectual honesty and innate good taste were an inspiration to all who came to know him, whether they were students or colleagues.

On behalf of the Town of Winchester, the School Committee has the high honor and privilege of expressing its gratitude for the years of devoted service which Mr. Keeney gave to our people. To the members of his family goes our deepest sympathy.

"THANK YOU"

Editor of the Star:

This is indeed a generous world. We of the Heart Fund Committee realized it to the full on-that-day of the drive a week ago Sunday. Now that everyone has recovered from the stress of the day, as chairman of the committee I say "Thank You."

To all the friendly loyal workers who made it possible not only to go over the top, but to substantially exceed the record of a year ago. To all who contributed "Thank You." In so doing they put their weight behind the efforts to make this a safe world through research in the realm of heart disease.

A special "Thank You" goes to Mr. James Ward, "Sunday Heart Chairman," who gave most generously of his time and knowledge to the drive. Also a "Thank You" to the Sunday Heart Captains:

Mr. Robert Griffith, 81 Middlesex street; Mr. William Sullivan, (Treasurer of Winchester National Bank); Mr. George O'Brien, 15 Bonad road; Mr. Dean Carleton, 15 North Gateway; Mr. Ronald Davis, 94 Arlington street; Mr. George Billman, (Treasurer of Winchester Co-operative Bank).

A good job, well done!

WON TOURNAMENT OPENER

WINCHESTER UPSET WALTHAM, 4-2, AT ARENA

Winchester, Arlington and Charlestown High Schools won their first round games in the annual State Schoolboy Hockey Tournament Tuesday evening at the Boston Arena, defeating respectively Waltham, Hudson and Natick.

Winchester beat Waltham, 4-2, eliminating the Bay State representative in impressive fashion. Only non-league team of the 20 in the tournament competition, the Indians showed how they compiled their outstanding season's record of 15 wins, two losses and a tie.

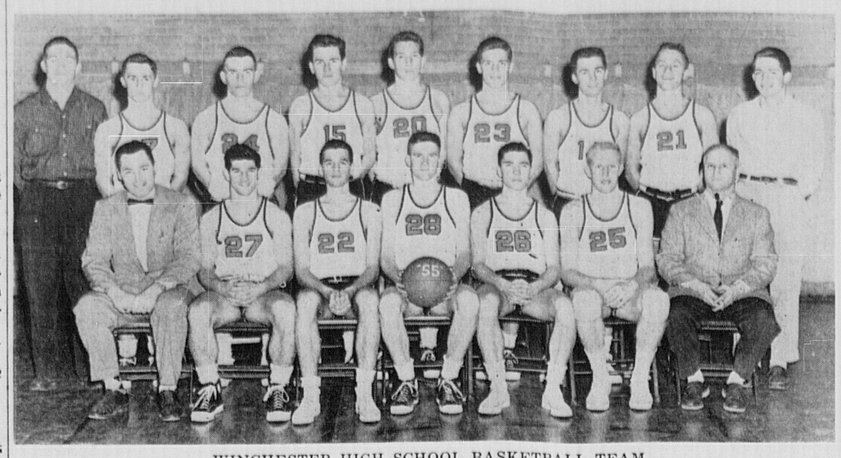

Tuesday's tournament game boosted the wins to 16, the fifteenth win coming last Saturday night at Worcester when the high-flying Indians beat the Worcester All Stars, 10-0.

Winchester had the best of the schoolboy goalers, Ralph Wheelden, to beat Tuesday, and the Indians' Captain Wayne Cowles, leading schoolboy scorer in the state, showed the way, scoring two goals in the first few minutes of play. Cowles entered the game with 38 goals and ten assists, adding two to his goal total.

Cowles' ice-breaking goal was followed by another by Leo Callahan, Cowles' second goal landing in the net within three minutes of the opening whistle. Johnson scored the final Winchester goal in the second period. O'Reilly scored both Waltham goals in the first period.

There are more Navy personnel serving in destroyer-type vessels than in any other category.

ART ASSOCIATION MEETING

One of the most interesting art exhibitions of the year opened on Tuesday evening, March 1st at the Gallery of the Winchester Public Library. It is the sixth presentation of the season of the Winchester Art Association. There was a sizable and enthusiastic group at the opening of the show, brought to Winchester through the courtesy of the Margaret Fitzhugh Browne Gallery of Boston, and the efforts of Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood.

The paintings by Donald Outerbridge, young artist of Cambridge, Massachusetts, show the influence in color and design texture of his native Bermuda. Interest was shown by association members in the great variety of talent shown in the works of Mr. Outerbridge. It was difficult to believe that "Aviary" a handsome geometric abstraction in a bold palette of rose, magenta, orange and blue, "Young Bacchus" a striking portrait of a youth painted in a more traditional style, and the familiar scenes of Harvard yard and the Charles River had been executed by the same person.

The exhibition is well worth a second visit for a careful study of the technique of Mr. Outerbridge reveals the fact that his three "styles" are actually bound together by the same underlying idea, that of a vibrant shimmering color used in strong clear patterns.

Mr. Outerbridge was surrounded during the refreshment hour by eager questioners asking about the relative value of "hypalon" and "mastic" as a base for the oils.

The niches were charmingly decorated by Carol Nickerson, one shows the black pottery of the Pueblo Indians against a woven rug and the other contains modern California and Japanese pottery with appropriate background material.

The hospitality committee headed by Mrs Dawn Gunderson provided delicious punch and cakes for the social hour. Assisting her were Mrs. Ethel Siedhoff, Mrs. Cairncross, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Underwood.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. William Mason, president.

Also shown were two movies "Taliesin East" a color showing of the Frank Lloyd Wright summer school and residence in Arizona, and "The Evolution of the Skyscraper." This latter film was particularly valuable as an educational feature, and gave the interested audience a thumb-nail sketch of the revolutionary change in building methods necessitated by the skyscraper.

This promises to be one of our most interesting meetings and we will be happy to have you invite guests. After the talk, Mr. Boodakian will answer any questions concerning these fine rugs and with his knowledge and experience we should all be well informed at the close of the meeting.

DOUBLE-SESSION KINDERGARTEN

The school committee has announced a change in the kindergarten program of the Winchester schools to become effective September 1955. The one-session schedule under which these classes have been maintained is to be replaced by a two-session program similar to that maintained in a majority of the school systems of the country. Under the new program, the younger kindergarten children will attend school from 8:45 to 11:45 each morning and the older children of kindergarten age will attend each afternoon from 1 o'clock until 3 for the first half of the school year. At the mid-year these schedules will be reversed so as to provide an equal amount of school time for all kindergarten children.

In making this announcement the school committee called attention to several factors which made this change advisable. It was pointed out that the kindergarten program was begun in Winchester at a time when enrollments in each of the schools were sufficiently small to be accommodated in one class, thus explaining the origin of the one-session kindergarten in our school system. Recently, however, enrollments have increased to a point here it will be necessary to maintain two kindergarten classes in each of the elementary schools. Meanwhile, increased enrollments in the grades require additional classrooms which can be made available by having the two kindergartens in one classroom on a double-session plan. The adoption of the two-session kindergarten, incidentally, will permit the release of several teachers for service in other grades where heavy enrollments would otherwise require employment of additional teachers.

Children attending kindergarten next year will be registered in May, at which time the parent will be advised as to whether the child is to attend the morning or afternoon session next fall.

ALLIANCE MEETING

Tuesday afternoon, March 8, at two o'clock, members of the Winchester Unitarian Alliance will meet at the church to hear Rev. Edward P. Daniels of Concord speak on "The Hymns We Sing." Babysitting service will be available and tea will be served after the meeting.

A food sale will be held prior to the meeting, and members are urged to donate food of any and all kinds, as the proceeds will benefit the Joslin Camp for Diabetic Boys. This camp not only gives young patients good food and fresh air, but also teaches them how to live with their handicap. Even five-year-olds learn to weigh their own food and give themselves insulin.

Rev. Daniels, the afternoon speaker, is minister of the First Parish Unitarian Church in Concord and is an authority on church music. He was a co-editor of "Hymns of the Spirit," the Unitarian hymnal, and past president of the Religious Arts Guild, a part of the American Unitarian Association. He is a musician himself, and will acquaint his listeners with some of the very fine but little-known hymns.

DR. ARA G. BESSE

Dr. Ara G. Besse of 540 Washington street, optometrist and optician, long associated with the firm of Spencer & Besse at 120 Tremont street, Boston, died suddenly early Thursday morning, March 3, at the Winchester Hospital. He entered the hospital only the afternoon before his death and had been actively at business up to within a day or so of that time.

Dr. Besse was the son of Francis E. Besse, Lynn shoe manufacturer, and Mary A. (Philbrick) Besse. He was born June 19, 1875, in Lynn and attended the Lynn public schools through one year of high school. He then attended Mt. Herman School for two years before going to work for the man, with whom he later formed the partnership of Spencer & Besse, optometrists and opticians. He had been an optometrist and optician since 1895 and had fitted artificial human eyes since 1912. Following the death of his partner he had conducted the firm's business.

Dr. Besse served five years in Co. I, 8th Infantry, MVM. He was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons and of the First Congregational Church. In 1914 he married Laura Clark Brooks of Peabody, who died in 1945. He had lived in Winchester since 1917, coming here from Wollaston.

Dr. Besse leaves a daughter, Mrs. Richard W. Janney of Needham, and two grandchildren, Richard B., and Steven H. Janney.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

MRS. ELIZABETH L. METCALF

Mrs. Elizabeth L. Metcalf, widow of Rev. Joel H. Metcalf, D.D., former minister of the Unitarian Church, died Tuesday, March 1, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elbridge Stoneham, in Exeter, N. H.

Memorial services will be held Sunday, March 6, at 3 p. m. at the First Parish Church, Portland, Me., a church her late husband formerly served as minister.

Mrs. Metcalf lived in Winchester from 1914 to 1920, during her husband's ministry here. Rev. Mr. Metcalf was widely known as an astrologer and discovered several comets. Besides her daughter, with whom she made her home, Mrs. Metcalf leaves a son, Prof. Herbert E. Metcalf, and a sister.

"RED CROSS SUNDAY"

"Business as usual" will be the slogan at the Winchester Trust Company's main branch this Sunday, but the busy tellers and the depositors will all be volunteer workers for the Red Cross 1955 Fund Campaign, and all "deposits" will be toward the work of that organization. Every year this bank donates its facilities as a clearing house for the campaign donations, and a busy place it is, with eagerness mounting as the total comes closer and closer to its mark—this year $19,541.00.

Sometime during this week your bell will ring, and you will be able to become a link in the chain that binds neighborliness to need. Ask the firemen, drinking coffee on a bitter cold night, with the hose water freezing on their helmets. Ask the men who worked nightlong shifts clearing the roads after the hurricanes, and hastily devouring the sandwiches and coffee made by the local Red Cross canteen volunteers. They know the value of the Red Cross to our community, and they know its essential core is people helping people.

Precinct captains who have volunteered their services for the drive include:

Rev. C. Helgerson

It was Landy's idea to move the heavy grand piano. We needed one more man to get it up on the platform in the hall for the Spring Fair. Landy was a good man—and strong, but we did not get his help. He was occupied with moving the piano bench! Many worthy projects do not achieve the set goal because some good man who could have helped found it more convenient to be busy with a lesser task. Making Christ known is a big job, worthy of our best effort. Everyone who knows Christ as his personal Saviour is needed in our day to tell the broken-hearted, the sinful and the weary that Jesus Christ saves, keeps and satisfies. Not religion but Christ is the answer to every human problem. Are you occupied with Him?

MISSION UNION GUILD

The meeting of the Mission Union, First Congregational Church, on next Tuesday, March 8, is of special significance. On this occasion, we dedicate our Second Mile Gift under the direction of Mrs. Edgar Hinton and the Second Mile chairman, Miss Margaret Copland. Everyone will have the opportunity to participate in this service, for we are reminded to bring our "Second Mile Gift Boxes" which we have been filling with coins during the past year. Anyone who does not have a box may bring her offering and put it into a box at the meeting.

This special Second Mile offering is given by the women of our denomination each year as a thank offering, over and above the regular benevolence giving. In Massachusetts this gift goes to three causes: to help the work in West Central Africa; to support a nurses' training school at the Ryder Memorial Hospital in Puerto Rico; and to help our Massachusetts work among Negroes, specifically the work at St. Mark Social Center in Roxbury, and to Second Church in Pittsfield and the Lincoln Church in Brockton.

The speaker for this meeting is Mr. Raymond W. Jarvis, Director of St. Mark Social Center. St. Mark is a church-related Community Center, and is not unfamiliar to many of our Mission Union members. Located at 216 Townsend street, Roxbury, the Center has given thirty years of service to the community. This is a densely populated area, predominently Negro, with 12,000 children and young people under 20 years of age. Mr. Jarvis not only supervises the work among them but also directs programs of constructive recreation for older people. The services of the Center include St. Mark Nursery School and the school for Tiny Tots, which is interracial, counselling, vocational guidance, tutoring services, job placement, a literary, and a summer day camp.

Activities offered to boys and girls include arts and crafts, storytelling, folk dancing, Cub Scouts and Brownies, and Daily Vacation School. For older children there are ceramics, drama, music, dancing, and scouts with first-aid and swimming for boys.

Last October several of the much needed buildings burned down, including the Nursery, so St. Mark is especially in need of any help we can give through our Second Mile offering this year.

The Mission Union is indeed fortunate to be able to hear Mr. Jarvis give a first-hand account of this important institution, and it will be a satisfaction to know that each one of us will have a share in helping to promote this greatly needed work. When we fill our Second Mile Boxes, let us remember that St. Mark Social Center is one of the best preventives of juvenile delinquency.

The regular Mission Union luncheon comes as usual at one o'clock; the dedication and speaking follow at two.

Be sure to bring your Second Mile Gift to this meeting, next Tuesday.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High Fellowship of the Second Congregational Church will meet this Sunday at 3:30 in the church social room for the first meeting of the month. The business meeting will be followed by devotions led by Richard Crockford.

The program includes a feature-length film entitled "A Wonderful Life" made in Hollywood especially for Congregational Churches and portraying a Christian family which lives by its stewardship.

The Fellowship has been selling dish cloths as a project to swell their Summer Camp Fund. Over one hundred cloths have been sold to date and we hope another hundred will be ordered.

New officers elected for the next quarter are as follows: president, Mary Baker; vice president, Richard Crockford; secretary, Linda Baker; and treasurer, Gail Hendricks.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The February meeting of the Winchester Garden Club was held on Friday, February 25, in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Library.

Members and guests were privileged to hear a very delightful short talk on pearl farming by Mrs. John Allison. Mrs. Allison is the wife of the United States ambassador to Japan, and has been the house guest of Mrs. Gretchen West and Mrs. Ella Robinson.

Following Mrs. Allison's comments, a splendid sound and colored film entitled "Honduras" was shown to the group.

After the very interesting movie, Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini entertained the members and their guests at a lovely tea in her very attractive home on Chesterford road.

MATIGNON GUILD TO HEAR FR. McCALL

The Rev. Joseph P. McCall of St. Mary's Church will be the guest speaker at the Lenten meeting of Matignon Guild, to be held in the high school auditorium, North Cambridge, on Thursday, March 10, at 2:30 p. m..

"Madonna Mary" will be an illustrated lecture with kodachrome slides of masterpieces of the Virgin and Child, from the early Byzantine artists through the works of Cimabue, Giotto, Botticelli, Raphael and others to those of the present-day convert artist, Luke Chen. The lecture is given with legends and incidents of the artists' lives and is both entertaining and instructive.

Mothers of Matignon students are cordially invited to attend and bring a guest. Mrs. Stanley Towle, the president, will preside at the business meeting, and Mrs. Daniel S. Fortiere of Mt. Vernon street is chairman of the afternoon's program.

WINS MARINE COMMISSION

Paul David Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker of Hillcrest Parkway, was graduated from the Marine Corps Officers Candidate School at Quantico, Va., on February 19. The Tuckers went on to attend the graduation and see their son commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the Marine Corps. While in the South they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reisner (Barbara Watters) at their home in Fairfax, Va.

Lt. Tucker entered service last November 15 and trained at Quantico. He prepared for college at Belmont Hill School and graduated from Brown in the class of 1954.

THE SENIOR FORUM

Speaking at the Senior Forum this Sunday, March 6, at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel, will be Dr. Edith Lawton of Darien, Conn. Dr. Lawton, a native of North Easton, Mass., has received her Bachelor of Divinity Degree and is an ordained minister. However, her interest has been chiefly in working with young people, and as guidance director of the Darien High School she is particularly familiar with the teen agers and their problems. She is in very popular demand with all high school groups as a speaker, and is on the staff of the high school summer conferences.

Forum is indeed fortunate that Dr. Lawton will be able to come from Connecticut to speak to them on "Where Your Treasure Is." The chaplain for this service will be Ann Mills, assisted by Joyce Nelson. The deacons will be Sid Bixler and John McKinley, and ushering will be Dick Gaffney and Richard Johnson.

CYO IN ST. PATRICK'S ENTERTAINMENT

Members of the Immaculate Conception CYO, Winchester-Woburn, will provide the entertainment at a Sodality-sponsored St. Patrick's Party, March 17th. The entertainment will take the form of a Talent Show for the teen-agers of the parish who wish to compete for Deanery Honors in the Talent Show to be held after Easter. Special judges will be in attendance at the March 17th party who will select the best performer or the best act which will then move into Deanery competition. Various cash awards will provide an enticing stimulus for the talented teens.

All youths in the parish who are eligible (ages 13-20) may register for the competition by contacting Fr. Burke, CYO Director.

FOREIGN VISITORS AT LIBRARY

Last Saturday morning, February 26, the Winchester Public Library was honored by a visit from thirteen foreign librarians. Their visit was in conjunction with an intensive five-month library and cultural training program here in the United States, sponsored by the United States Department of State and directed for it by the American Library Association. All of the visitors are practicing librarians, many of them heading their national libraries, and come from Argentina, Brazil, Ceylon, Egypt, Finland, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, The Netherlands, Nicaragua, Panama and Uruguay.

The four young men and nine young women who made the visit to the Winchester Public Library are spending the three weeks of Feb-14-March 4th at Simmons College School of Library Science. There they attend lectures on library theory, practice and service and also a series of lectures on United States civilization and culture given by both the regular teaching staff and by guest speakers, outstanding men and women in their fields. Discussion periods follow most of the lectures, thereby enabling the foreign visitors to develop as complete a picture as possible of American librarianship.

Practical library training and the opportunity to work with American methods will follow the Simmons College Institute, for the foreign librarians will each participate in a three-month internship in a leading United States public library. At the conclusion of their practical work, they will attend a three-day publishing program in New York City and end their stay in Philadelphia in July at the meeting of the American Library Association.

In addition to attending the lectures and panels, the group is doing a great deal of touring: libraries, social agencies, historic sites. The Winchester Public Library feels greatly honored to have been asked to share in this important program and to have been one of the libraries considered outstanding in its services to its town and therefore a distinguished library to visit.

"MORE AND BETTER TELEPHONE SERVICE"

With an $84-million construction program, the second largest in its history, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company in 1954 expanded and modernized service and introduced new technical developments, Company President J. E. Harrell brings out in his annual report.

"During the year," he said, "the people of New England had more and better telephone service than ever before . . . More business firms and families were provided with service as 86,000 new telephones were added . . . A new peak of almost 2.6 million telephones has now been reached, and from these telephones there originated last year the greatest volume of telephone calls ever recorded in this area."

In the further spread of dial-operated local service throughout the five states the company serves, Harrell reported 56 more communities changed from manual to dial operation. Principal among them were Bath and Brunswick, Maine; Natick, Randolph and West Roxbury, Massachusetts; Warwick and Hillsgrove, Rhode Island; Concord and Nashua, New Hampshire; Rutland and Brattleboro, Vermont. At the end of 1954, 68 per cent of the company's telephones were dial operated, with 75 per cent expected by the end of 1955.

Harrell termed a "significant advance" the direct distance dialing inaugurated in the West Roxbury exchange last December. It was the first area in the company where customers can dial their own calls to points as distant as New York and Philadelphia. "As time goes on," he said, "the range of this direct distance dialing will be gradually increased and the method made available to more communities in our area."

The report states that revenues continued to increase in 1954. Per share, 1954's earnings were $7.84 as against 1953's $7.50. In both years the dividend per share paid was $8.

"Earnings figures (in 1954) were adversely affected by the unusually heavy expense associated with the two hurricanes that struck New England last fall," Harrell stated. "This expense amounted to $5.3 million, with about an equal amount involved in the new construction made necessary by this restoration job."

He called the service restoration job following the hurricanes the greatest in the company's history. "The resources of the company were tested to the fullest," he said. "But despite the tremendous damage, the job of restoring disrupted service established new records for speed and efficiency."

The world's largest underground mine locomotive—a 50-ton, 600 HP giant capable of hauling 110 loaded coal mine cars, each of nearly 15 tons capacity—is in use in the Mathies Mine in Pennsylvania.

"PRIDE AND PREJUDICE"

Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice" came to life on the stage of the high school auditorium for two hours last Saturday night, much to the delight of a large and enthusiastic audience. The confidence of the Selection Committee in choosing such an ambitious work was thoroughly justified by the splendid performance given by the student cast.

In many ways, "Pride and Prejudice" is an excellent vehicle for a high school cast. Jane Austen's satire on the manners and mores of the English country gentry is amusing yet full of solid values; the parts demand much of the young actors but are not beyond their experience; and the time and place permit the cast, especially the ladies, to wear stunning costumes.

Briefly, the play concerns the efforts of Mrs. Bennet to marry off her five daughters. Her anxiety to find them rich husbands is explained by the fact that, upon Mr. Bennet's death, Longbourn, the Bennet estate will revert, by entail, to another branch of the family. The entire action of the play is centered in the living room of the Bennet home in Hertfordshire, sometime in the early 19th century.

As the frivolous but warm-hearted mother, Nancy Corey handled her long part beautifully throughout. In the role of her long-suffering husband, Seth Weston was perfectly convincing. His wryly humorous replies to the outbursts of Mrs. Bennet added much to the humor of the performance.

Mr. Morse and his assistants should be commended for their excellent selection of the girls to play the five Bennet sisters. As Jane, the beautiful eldest daughter, Gretchen Long was splendid. Elizabeth Hood won the hearts of the audience with her part of the loyal, plain spoken Elizabeth—her performance all the more noteworthy considering that she was fighting a bad case of the virus.

Mary was the brightest of the Bennet girls, everyone was agreed on that, but she was also a bore, with her mouth ever full of pious platitudes. Leanne Beukelman was the graceless Mary to a T.

Dizzy flappers, mad about anything in a uniform, were not unknown in Jane Austen's genteel England. As Catherine and Lydia, the youngest of the daughters, Catherine deRivera and Janet Fisher kept the household in a gay turmoil. Even in 1800, people must have been saying "What is the younger generation coming to?"

"Pride and Prejudice" contains several other rich feminine roles. As the elegant Miss Bingley, Judy Snelling's manner was properly condescending and her regal carriage most impressive. The role of Lady Lucas, like Mrs. Bennet also in search of a husband for her daughter, called for a ladylike display of claws. Jane Robertson was fully adequate to this unappealing part. Her daughter Charlotte, winner of a consolation prize in the person of Mr. Collins was well played by Chandra Carlson.

Probably the most impressive entrance of the evening was made by Ellen Glowacki as Lady Catherine de Bourgh. Her ultimatum to Elizabeth and the latter's spirited reply composed the play's dramatic highlight.

If "Pride and Prejudice" is essentially a women's play, it nevertheless contains some good male parts. As the rich and eligible Mr. Bingley, Donald Folkers was a shy but determined lover. In the role of the prideful Mr. Darcey, who fights a losing battle against his love for Elizabeth, Brad Johnson showed just the right mixture of superciliousness and true-blue honesty to satisfy everyone that he was worthy of her.

The play's closest approximation to a villian is the irresponsible Officer Wickham. Bob Becker looked very handsome in his British regimentals. Paul Donlon's characterization of the Reverend Collins was a high spot of the evening. His clumsy efforts to woo Elizabeth, as well as his exaggerated obsequiousness brought roars of appreciation from the audience.

So many plays have the butler cast in the role of the part-time comedian, father confessor, or evil genius that it is pleasing to report that Hill was just a butler, always correct, almost wordless and unobtrusive. Cecil Pride was well chosen for this part.

Great credit for the success of the play goes to director Thomas Morse, speech instructor at the high school. Producing a play under the present two session day is difficult enough, but the seige of virus and measles increased his problems.

Adding much to the enjoyment of the evening was the program of songs presented by the Octette during the entr'actes. Beautifully gowned and in fine voice, the girls paid tribute to Sigmund Romberg by singing a group of his loveliest melodies. Members of the Ocette were: Barbara Eaton, Dorothy Smith, Connie Snelling, Betsey Sargent, Virginia Wadsworth, Nancy Samarco, Ann Titilah, and Nancy Donaghey. To them and to their director Miss Eleanor Anifantis go the thanks of the play committee.

Special acknowledgements should go also: to the members of the art department under the direction of Miss Pauline Goodrich; to the members of Mr. Joseph Aversa's printing class; and to other faculty members who headed the various committees. The generosity of many others who aided the production by the loan of properties should also be noted.

WHITE SPOT STAYS!

The White Spot at the Four Corners in Woburn, does not have plans to discontinue its operation or to sell to a chain store despite many rumors that have been circulated. Mr. and Mrs. Chase own 21 acres of land at the Four Corners, part of which is leased to a golf driving range, and the rest occupied by the White Spot.

The White Spot began as a small hot dog and fried clam roadstand in 1928 and during the years additions were made to the building until it became a large and popular dining spot. On October 11, 1953, a Sunday afternoon, fire started in the basement of the building and it was completely demolished. A new and ultra-modern building was erected and opened to the public again on April 17, 1954.

During the previous years the White Spot closed for the months of January and February, reopening about February 22nd. This year a new policy of a year-around, seven-day-week operation has been inaugurated. It was found to be very successful as thousands of patrons from nearby towns have visited the establishment for their favorite dishes.

The White Spot has been under the supervision of "Nick" Chase since its opening in 1928. Now his son Eugene, a recent graduate of the Hotel Administration School of the University of New Hampshire, has joined his father and will assist in the administration of the popular restaurant.

LIBRARY NEWS

During each year, the Library receives a number of educational directories and study courses. These range from college and university catalogs to adult education courses of various kinds. One of the latest such directories to arrive is the "Home Study Blue Book and Directory of Approved Private Home Study Schools and Courses." It is the eighteenth edition of this book, published by the National Home Study Council in Washington, D. C.

This blue book is more than just a directory, for it discusses the whole idea and use of modern home study—what it means, what it does, who can profit most and other topics. There is also a section on other special uses of home study courses such as in public high schools, Y.M.C.A.'s, rehabilitation, etc. In addition, there is a section devoted to the National Home Study Council, the publisher, in which its aims and services are discussed. Anyone interested in this information will find the directory in the Reference Department.

Music will be furnished by Charlie McLaughlin's orchestra, who did such a fine piece of work last year, and there will be the usual refreshments.

Assisting Chairman Dailey are Past Grand Knights "Chet" Thibeault and Charles Haggerty as Vice chairmen, Grand Knight Mawn as honorary chairman, Deputy Grand Knight "Vin" Erhard as publicity chairman, their fellow officers and several brother knights of the Council.

Members and their friends are urged to contact the chairmen or any on the committee to express whether they are going so that some idea of the attendance can be ascertained. There will be entertainment as usual with an Irish flavor.

Decorations will be in the capable hands of Mary Dailey and Nancy Lane, who did such a splendid job last year.

Dress is optional and the ladies may come in all their finery if they so choose; and the men may suit themselves as far as their apparel is concerned. Those planning the party want it to be a happy occasion for everyone.

A good reputation always proves to be a good business capital.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON MEETING

Due to the fact that the by-laws of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League call for a meeting on the fourth Friday of February, the meeting was held as scheduled, but a revision of the by-laws is contemplated so that in the future conflicts with important events such as the World Day of Prayer, which also fell this year on the fourth Friday in February, may be avoided. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William L. Davis, 3 Central Green, and featured a color movie, "Autumn in New England," courtesy of the Boston and Maine Railroad. Nature in all its beauty of leaf and flower as well as of animal life in its natural habitat made for a realization of all the beauties of the coming seasons, of which it is good to be reminded at this season when things seem drab and dull.

Miss Helen Neidringhaus reported that as chairman of the ways and means committee which sponsored the recent fashion show, she was happy to say that their hoped-for goal of $400 had been realized, and thanked all those who had made it possible.

The nominating committee for next year as chosen by the executive board, and the vote of the members, consists of Mrs. Vera McKenzie, chairman, Mrs. Philip Boone, Mrs. Charles Nichols, Mrs. Everett Tisdale, and Mrs. Gilman Wallace.

Mrs. Paul Dunn, president, presided, and the hospitality committee made its usual fine contribution to the pleasant sociability of the afternoon.

FELLOWSHIP TO MIRAK

Robert Mirak, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mirak of 131 Cambridge street, is one of six Williams College seniors who have been awarded graduate fellowships by the college faculty committee on prizes and graduate fellowships. Amounts of the fellowships have not been decided yet, but usually they range from $500 to $3,000 a year.

Mirak has been awarded the Carroll A. Wilson Scholarship, which is from a fund of $20,000, established in 1949 by the will of Carroll A. Wilson, Williams, '07, in memory of his son, who was killed in World War II crossing the Rhine. The income is devoted to a scholarship for members of the senior class at Williams for attendance after graduation at the University of Oxford, England. Recipients are chosen after the manner of Rhodes Scholarships, with special attention to leadership, scholastic attainment and physical vigor.

The income tax division of our government should be mighty glad the taxpayers have what it takes.

TRAINING AT DIX

Two Winchester boys, Donald E. Goss and Arthur J. McGonagle, Jr., have arrived at Fort Dix, N. J., and have been assigned to E Company, 365th Infantry Regiment of the 6th Infantry Division for eight weeks of basic training.

Pvt. Goss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Goss of 41 Allen road, graduated from Winchester High School and from Tufts College. Before entering service he was in the employ of the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co. He is married, his wife, the former Helen Joy Nelson, is living at 1026 Stephenson avenue, Escana, Mich.

Pvt. McGonagle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. McGonagle of 76 North Border road. He graduated from Winchester High School and attended Northeastern University before receiving his B.A. degree from Boston University.

DADS' CLUB CHOWDER PARTY

The Dads' Club of the George Washington School is having their annual chowder party Friday night at the school auditorium. The fathers may bring their sons or a guest to the dinner and to see the entertainment afterward.

A program of movies has been arranged to be held in the old auditorium while a business meeting is being held following the dinner. After the business meeting the U. S. Marine drill team will give a judo demonstration. The demonstration will consist of various judo holds, the disarming of a person with a gun, the disarming of an attacker with a bayonet. For the more rugged individuals there will be audience participation for anyone who wishes to engage in judo with the Marines.

JUNIOR HIGH SQUARE DANCE

The high school gym will be the scene of another of the very popular junior high school square dances tonight at 7:30. These dances are sponsored by the Junior High Associates with Mrs. Merwyn Jackson in charge.

Mr. Alfred Meurling calls the dances and is in a large part responsible for the success of these parties. He begins teaching square dancing in the elementary schools, and by the time the young people reach junior high school, they can dance with the best.

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Howard Ulfelder are in charge of the chaperones for the dance. They are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weir, Mr. and Mrs. John Munro, Dr. and Mrs. C. Miller Fisher, and Dr. and Mrs. Merwyn Jackson.

The chaperones for the last dance on January 14 were Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Archibald, Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, and Dr. and Mrs. Merwyn Jackson.

RECEIVED NURSE'S CAP

At impressive ceremonies in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross on Sunday afternoon, February 27, in which over a hundred students of the Catherine Laboure School of Nursing participated, Miss Mary Lou Nowell received her nurse's cap. Mary Lou is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nowell of 68 Nelson street.

The Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing presided, and the students received their caps from Sister Winifred, director of the school. Following the lighting of the Florence Nightingale lamp, the students recited the Pledge of Fidelity to Duty.

Miss Nowell was also class president of the pre-clinical group.

CANDIDATES' QUESTIONNAIRES

In accordance with its usual custom the Winchester League of Women Voters has sent questionnaires to those candidates for town office where contests occur on the ballot.

Each candidate is asked, "What, in your opinion, has qualified you for the town office you seek, by way of business or professional experience, education or previous civic service?"

Their answers are made public by the League as a public service to the voters of the town.

Constable

Joseph T. Callahan
5 Russell road

I am available at any time that I may be called upon as my employment is here in Winchester. I am a lifelong resident and taxpayer of our town. Active Town Meeting member, member of Town Manager Committee; former Finance Committee appointee. Captain in the Auxiliary Police; Special Police Officer since 1941. Constable for the town since 1951. Active in youth programs for our junior citizens. A desire to continue serving the townspeople of Winchester.

John Thompson Horn
26 Hemingway street

Maintenance Foreman—Highway Department, Town of Winchester. A life-long resident, home owner, veteran of World War II. Held position as patrolman at the Boston Port of Embarkation. Attended public schools of Winchester and North Bennett St. Industrial School of Boston. I am interested in civic activities and serving the Town as a public official.

Hector Palladino
371 Main street

Fourteen years as Constable in Somerville and Boston qualify me most generously for the office I seek in Winchester. If the voters of this fine community choose me I pledge that I shall never fail to serve them to the very best of my ability. Am employed as United States Mail Shipper, Boston & Maine Railroad, North Station, Boston. Have been in continuous service there since May 1944. Father—one married son, two married daughters.

NOTICE OF LOST PASS BOOK

Gleason W. Ryerson

I feel that I am qualified for the office of Constable because of my experience in this field. I have discharged the duties of Constable for the past nineteen years at a high level expected of me by the voters who endorse me each year. I will appreciate the endorsement of the voters to continue serving the Town of Winchester in the coming year. Thank you.

School Committee

Emidio DiLoreto
36 Winthrop street

I feel qualified to serve as a member of the School Committee of Winchester. Being an attorney, I encounter countless problems that face both parents and children. I recognize the fact that the schools next to the parents play the most important role of molding the lives of our citizens of tomorrow. Being both parent and taxpayer, I am vitally interested in serving our town to work for the best educational system that Winchester can afford.

Herbert S. Edmands
13 Winthrop street

That I have children and am active in many youth organizations is not my primary qualification for School Committeeman. With the school budget approaching $1,000,000, Winchester faces the problem of extending present high standards of education to increasingly larger numbers of children. I feel that my business experience in financial planning will enable me to make a vital contribution to the joint efforts of the School Committee members in solving this problem.

Louise A. Kugler
26 Winslow road

Resident of Winchester twenty-five years. Four children attended Winchester schools—youngest son now high school sophomore. Graduate of Mount Holyoke College, worked professionally as Y.W.C.A. Secretary and Executive Secretary of Women's City Club of Cincinnati. In Winchester, have been member of the boards of Junior High Associates; High School Parent-Faculty Association; Girl Scout Council; President of District Nursing Association; President of Community Chest; member of School Committee for the past three years.

Earle F. Littleton
14 Cranston road

As a candidate of re-election I wish to continue to serve the Town and give assistance in the Committee's educational and building program. My qualifications are twenty-three years of teaching, Tufts College; sixteen years of coaching, Tufts and Andover Academy; fifteen years of service with young people's activities; membership, Mystic School Addition Building Committee; three years of experience on School Committee. I am a property owner and have four children in Winchester Schools.

Selectman

Thomas F. Fallon
41 Vine street

After completing my education I became a member of one of our local milk concerns which still bears my name. Resigned as a partner of said concern in 1947; am presently employed as a chauffeur. I lived at 14 Highland avenue for thirty-one years. Was elected two terms as Selectman. Served six three-year terms as a Town Meeting Member in Precinct One. By training and experience well qualified to vote intelligently on any Board business.

Leslie J. Scott
17 Wildwood street

HOWARD AUGUSTINE NEWTON

(Ed. Note: The following from an Amherst College publication will interest old residents who remember Mr. Newton as a boy in Winchester and his father as a long-time minister of the First Congational Church.)

On November 7, 1954, after an illness extending over several months, Howard Augustine Newton died at his home, 294 Ridgewood avenue, Hamden, Conn. The funeral was held at the Church of the Redeemer, New Haven, Conn., on Tuesday, November 10.

Mr. Newton was born January 2, 1886, in Stoneham, Mass., the son of Rev. Darius A. Newton. He prepared for college at Winchester High School and entered Amherst in the autumn of 1902. In college he was interested in track athletics and was a member of the track team during junior and senior years. He joined Chi Phi and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in his graduation year, 1906.

He taught in Abington and Holden until 1915, when he became teacher of physics at Hillhouse High School, New Haven, continuing there until his retirement in 1951. In the early twenties his eyesight began to fail and he soon became totally blind. Through the wonderful cooperation of his wife, Jane Eaton Newton, whom he married in 1910, he carried on his classes enthusiastically and effectively, a most remarkable example of teamwork.

An accomplished pianist, Mr. Newton kept up his music by memorizing scores. He also engaged in an unusual hobby for a sightless person, philately, and accumulated a valuable and comprehensive collection of early United States issues.

He is survived by his widow, Jane; two brothers, Francis C. Newton, M.D., and Harlan F. Newton; also a sister, Mrs. Otis Means.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service for James M. Joslin of Dartmouth street, who died suddenly February 21 while visiting in Ardmore, Pa., was held Saturday afternoon at the Unitarian Church, where Mr. Joslin had been especially active as a member and clerk of the standing committee and as a member of the choir.

The minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, conducted the service and spoke of Mr. Joslin's usefulness as a citizen, his concern for people and especial interest in young people as exemplified in his work for local Scouting. He had a great desire to be of service, said Mr. Storer, and his end came as he was "cheerfully doing his work with all his might."

The Mystic Glee Club, of which Mr. Joslin had been a member, sang two anthems, and George Fortune, baritone soloist of the church choir, sang Malotte's arrangement of "The Lord's Prayer." Mary Ranton Witham, church organist and director of music, played.

Interment will be in the Joslin family lot in Forestdale Cemetery in Hudson. It was erroneously stated in the originally-published notice of Mr. Joslin's death that the interment was in Ardmore, Pa.

THEODORE J. BOECKER

HEADS CIVIL DEFENSE

An able director, like a general in the army, must be efficient, intelligent, flexible and have that certain unknown quality of leadership.

Winchester is fortunate in having such a man as Mr. Theodore J. Boecker to direct its Civil Defense activities.

Mr. Boecker was born in 1896 in Cologne, Germany, and entered the United States with his parents in 1905. He has lived in virtually every state east of the Mississippi. He moved to Winchester in 1943 and has made his home at 49 Wildwood street.

After finishing High School he entered Akron University in 1915 on the cooperative plan. After three years in the Engineering School he entered the Engineering Corp of the Army as a 2nd Lieutenant. After World War I he married, and went to work for an Industrial Engineering firm in their planning, routing, and scheduling department. This work carried him all over the country. From there he became a plant superintendent of a large machine manufacturing company in St. Louis. Then in the middle of the depression he returned to New England as an engineer in the planning department of a Providence Machine Tool concern. In 1948 he entered into business on his own, manufacturing women's shoe trimmings, which he and his partner have expanded into a thriving business.

While living in Melrose, Mr. Boecker, was elected Commander of the American Legion and volunteered his services for the Civil Defense activities of World War II as planning officer of operations procedure.

When Civil Defense was organized in Winchester, Mr. Boecker was asked to be our Planning Director under James Blackham. Under Lester Gustin he was appointed Deputy Director. In September of 1953 Mr. Boecker became Director —a post which he has ably filled.

"Our primary aim is to formulate evacuation plans for our schools and population; and our secondary aim is to serve the public by informing them of latest developments of our plans." Adding to this Mr. Boecker said, "There is no solution to the problem of an enemy H-Bomb attack except evacuation."

"None of these plans can be successfully carried out unless we have the cooperation of all of Winchester. The spirit of cooperation of all the Civil Defense staff and workers, coupled with that of the Mothers' Associations of the schools, is moving us closer to the day when Winchester will be fully prepared."

Next week we will discuss in this column "What you—the citizen can do to aid Civil Defense."—and save your lives.

RED CROSS SUNDAY TOTALLED $14,000

Rain, slush, ice and fog all in one wet dose failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the 704 volunteer workers who brought a total of nearly $14,000.00 to the Winchester Trust Company on Sunday in response to the 1955 Red Cross Fund Campaign in Winchester. March is Red Cross month, and the soliciting will continue during this week, to meet the total of $19,541.00 which has been set as the goal for this town. Local Red Cross officials feel no doubt that the full quota will be met, as many kits are still to come in to the Precinct Chairmen.

Sincere thanks go to the volunteer workers in every branch of the campaign work, and to the Winchester Star for generous contribution of space, to the merchants who donated the use of their windows for display purposes and to the Winchester Trust Company.

Working under the supervision of Fund Chairman Royce H. Randlett, Residential Chairman Stanley W. Osgood and Fund Treasurer Carl G. Richmond the following volunteers kept the bank in a whirl of activity:

REV. BATTEN ORDAINED

On last Saturday morning, March 5, the Church of the Epiphany was the scene of an impressive service at which the Reverend Charles Edward Batten was ordained to the Diaconate of the Protestant Episcopal Church by the Right Reverend Norman Burdett Nash, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese of Massachusetts.

Mr. Batten, who is Director of Christian Education for the Parish of the Epiphany, received the laying on of hands for the Diaconate before a large congregation of friends, neighbors and parishioners. Following the ancient form for the Ordering of a Deacon, Bishop Nash conducted the service assisted by the Reverend Dwight W. Hadley, Rector Emeritus; the Reverend John W. Ellison, Rector of the Parish, who presented Mr. Batten to the Bishop; the Very Reverend Charles H. Buck, Jr., Dean of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Boston, who preached the sermon; the Reverend George O. Ekwall, Rector of Christ Church, Waltham and Chairman of the Diocesan Board of Examining Chaplains, who read the Litany; the Reverend Joseph P. Matthews, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Bantam, Conn., who read the Epistle; and the Reverend John Gordon Shoemaker of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.

Immediately following the service a reception and buffet luncheon was held in the Parish House at which Mr. and Mrs. Batten were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Ellison and Mr. and Mrs. Hadley. Pourers at the luncheon table were Mrs. Allan K. Adams, Mrs. Milton L. Brown, Mrs. Theodore Hultgren, Mrs. R. Alan Page and Miss Katherine Philbrick. TOWN'S VOTE LIGHT

SCOTT AND SALTMARSH SELECTMEN, LITTLETON AND MRS. KUGLER RE-ELECTED TO SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Only 2,885 of the town's electorate, 29.5 percent of the 9,788 registered voters, went to the polls for the annual town election on Monday. Poor as this vote was, it was still a bit better than last year's when only 26 percent of the voters took the trouble to cast ballots.

LESLIE J. SCOTT

Led in Contest for Selectman

There were only three contests for town officers, and many of the politically informed did not consider even these real contests. As things turned out they were right, for in no case did the outsiders have a real chance of election.

GEORGE A. SALTMARSH

Selectman

Chief interest in the entire election, the precinct votes apart, was the candidacy of the veteran Thomas F. Fallon for Selectman. Mr. Fallon is a former Selectman, and was of all the candidates the only one this year to wage any sort of vigorous campaign. Some thought with a light vote he might win one of the two vacancies on the Board.

LOUISE A. KUGLER

High Vote for School Committee

Mr. Fallon was beaten by George A. Saltmarsh, present chairman of the Finance Committee by nearly 800 votes. Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, led the candidates for Selectmen with 2,022 votes, despite the fact that his name was last on the list in the Selectmen's bracket. Frederick LaTorella, the fourth candidate, polled 415 votes, so that had Mr. Fallon gotten all these votes, he still would have failed of election.

WANLESS — KENERSON

There is Winchester interest in the candlelight ceremony at the Unitarian Church in Wellesley Hills last Saturday afternoon, when Miss Marie Louise Kenerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kenerson (Frances Comins) of Wellesley Hills, formerly of Winchester, was married to Pilot Officer Brian Granville Wanless, Royal Air Force, of Chorltoncum - Hardy, Manchester, England. The Rev. William B. Rice officiated at the 3:30 ceremony and a reception followed at the Wellesley country club. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles U. Wanless, were unable to come from Manchester, England, for the wedding.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin and Alencon lace gown with her finger-tip veil, which was caught to a matching lace cap. She carried a crescent bouquet of white cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

As maid of honor, Miss Natalie Sharron of Wellesley Hills wore a ballerina-length gown of shiffle embroidered Dior blue silk organza, fashioned with a draped neckline of plain blue silk organza terminating in a large bow in the back. She carried pale coral gerbera with matching sweetheart roses and pussywillows.

In identical dresses, but carrying paler shades of flowers with their pussywillows, were the bridesmaids, Miss Sylvia Shaw and Miss Lee Comins of Concord; Miss Carol Haynes of Wellesley Hills; and Mrs. William Gelotte of Lexington. They all wore matching velvet headbands with face veils of a paler shade of blue.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kenerson wore a navy blue lace sheath dress over pale pink silk.

Mr. Danforth W. Comins, Jr., of Concord was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Daniel F. Ryder, Jr., of Bedford; Mr. Stephen Parkhurst of Winchester; and Mr. Edward H. Kenerson, 2d, and Mr. Robert F. Kenerson, both of Wellesley Hills.

The bride is a graduate of Skidmore College, class of 1953, and taught at schools in Schenectady, N. Y., and at the Beaufort School for Girls in Camberly, Surrey, England. The bridegroom holds a Queen's commission in the Royal Air Force and is a Canadian trained NATO pilot. His national service of two years was served in the Royal Navy. The couple will make their home in Watton, Norfolk, England.

TEMPORARY TRACKS IN PLACE

Temporary trestle about 900 feet long erected on steel piles will support the Boston & Maine Railroad tracks in temporary location during permanent work of eliminating the grade crossing in Winchester being done by the State Department of Public Works to correct a long-standing traffic hazard problem.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION TOWN-WIDE CANVASS

There will be a town-wide house to house canvass this year to raise the necessary funds for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

Mrs. James H. Coon, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, of the Central Board of the Mothers' Association, made this announcement at a meeting of Precinct Chairmen at her home on Norwood street on Wednesday, February 23rd.

Ninety-six scholarships totalling $32,590. have been given since its beginning in 1945. Heretofore, the money was raised by the Mothers' Association in each school, plus organizations gifts. Sustaining members, special gifts, and the special project of the Central Board Ways and Means each year. With the increase in school enrollments, there is need for a town-wide drive to raise this money, so that everyone may have an opportunity to help some deserving boy or girl.

When scholarships are awarded for high scholastic standing and citizenships need is the prime consideration. Other scholarships are awarded at graduation, but they are honor awards—without stipend. Harry Chefalo's Special Gifts Committee will get underway immediately. He is ably assisted by Mrs. Everett Stone, Mrs. Paul Leverette, and Fred McCormack.

The residential drive by Precinct Chairmen will start April 11th and wind up April 17th, when the Winchester National Bank will be open from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. to receive collections. Leslie J. Scott is Treasurer of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

Precinct Chairmen are as follows:

Precinct 1, Thomas Morison
Precinct 2, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cullen

GOLDEN WEDDING

On March 1, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Doolittle of Winchester, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary, having been married on March 1, 1905, in Springfield, Mass.

About 60 guests attended a cocktail party in honor of the occasion at 69 Westland avenue, where the Doolittles make their home with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. VanVloten.

The couple was well-remembered with many gifts and flowers by their friends and relatives.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Doolittle were from the Springfield area where Mrs. Doolittle's maiden name was Alice Thompson, and both are now 72 years of age.

Mr. Doolittle is a member of Hampden Lodge, A.F. and A.M., in Springfield. For many years he was a production engineer and served with such concerns as Holtzer-Cabot Co., of Boston and Emmons Loom Harness Co., of Lawrence, Mass.

Mrs. William B. Weeks, a former resident of Winchester, died suddenly March 1, at Lake Worth, Fla., in her 87th year.

While in Winchester Mrs. Weeks made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Marion L. Naramore, now of Lebanon, N. H. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and one of the founders of the British War Relief Service in Winchester during the early days of World War II.

Besides her daughter, she leaves among her grandchildren two former residents of Winchester, Mrs. David J. Stevenson of Springfield, Pa., and Donald D. Waugh of Howe Place, Long Island, N. Y.; also a son, Walter A. Weeks of New Rochelle, N. Y.

A memorial service will be held at the convenience of the family in New Rochelle, N. Y.

BRAHMS REQUIEM

The Brahms Requiem, which will be sung on April 6th by the Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, is a challenging assignment for any choral group. But it provides at the same time a superb showcase for genuine talent. This is especially true for the soloists, of whom the Winchester Unitarian Choir has a remarkably accomplished foursome. Consider, for example, Dolores Baldyga, soprano.

Miss Baldyga is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, where she received her M.A. degree in 1952 . She has been soloist with the Conservatory Orchestra, most recently just last week when she sang the soprano solo in an enthusiastically acclaimed performance of Verdi's Requiem. Twice runner-up for the Eleanor Steber Award, she has sung at Tanglewood and many times at the Gardner Museum. She is a member of a trio which tours this section of the country—New England, New York State and Pennsylvania —as "The Musical Portraits," presenting excerpts from opera and also musical skits. She did the voice part for the recording "Evolution" recently put out by Boston Records.

In February she was soloist with the Reading Symphony, she is the regular soloist at Temple Ohabei Shalom, and on March 20th, she is to be soloist in "The Seven Last Words" at Nashua, N. H. A complete list of her performances over a representative month would probably take a full column.

FRANCIS HENRY McMILLAN

Son of George Henry and Mary H. McMillan, Francis came to Winchester in 1908, having been born in Boston July 22, 1904. He went through the Winchester schools, followed by one year at Mount Hermon in Northfield, Mass.

It was a time of healthful outdoor activity and many of his schoolfellows will remember little escapades and "adventures." Perhaps the one most outstanding was during the spring freshet of 1925 when Ginn's field was deep under water, and he and his group "toured" right up to the Centre and were "refreshed."

The wind-up was not so good, because back at Wedgemere the Abercrombie was almost level with the boulders of the old bridge, and in climbing up the stonework Francis lost his grip and was swept under the bridge with the smashed canoe.

Fortunately the selectmen and contractor George Brine were at the bridge going through condemnation proceedings and Mr. Bryne was able to help Francis to shore.

He had previously attended for two seasons the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Devens, but had not been accepted for active service with the regular army.

He died peaceably at his home, 11 Cottage avenue, on the evening of Friday, March 4, after a long illness. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel by Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

FREDERICTON AND WINCHESTER WIN CURLING MATCHES

Everyone agreed it was a wonderful first bonspiel. Even the spectators crowded in the spacious Winchester Curling Rink as if it were a baseball world series.

The Fredericton No. 1 rink, from New Brunswick, won the Winchester Bowl, presented by Ted Neill, by literally the skin of their teeth. Howard Eteson's Winchester rink, with Shorty Carr, George Fulton and Keith Fulton, started out in the finals with a big lead in the first few ends. The Fredericton rink, Lindair, Corbin, Pickard and Limerick, skip, kept plugging away and came up with a 10-10 tie at the 13th end. When it came to Howard's last stone, Fredericton had two counters, well guarded, and only attainable by a miracle shot. Howard got out one stone, but the other meant a win for our very agreeable guests.

In the semi-finals, the Eteson Winchester rink had won from Kingston, Ontario, Shamess, skip, who had previously eliminated Dan Morse's Winchester rink, with Charlie Eaton, John Fulton and Geoff Neiley.

Stan Neill's Winchester rink, with Ed Garrity, Dave Shean and Charley Waghorne, had lost their first match and thus went into the Mystic Cup competition, presented by John Joy. Fine curling brought them to the finals to play the Country Club No. 2 rink, skipped by McNeil. Stan won rather handily by 16-8.

The Canadian rinks competing were two from Fredericton, Kingston, Sherbrooke (on which Al Howard's son Don curled), and Toronto. The U. S. rinks were from Ardsley, Braeburn, Highland, N.Y., Caledonia, St. Andrews, Schenectady, two each from the Country Club, Nashua and Utica, and three from Winchester. Our guests were warm in their praise of the new rink, the ice and the way the bonspiel was run. A capacity crowd of curlers attended the banquet Friday evening.

The next big event is the start, on this Sunday afternoon of the John Coulson Mixed Bonspiel. This will continue next Saturday and Sunday afternoons, with semi-finals and finals of both the top flight and consolation on Sunday, March 27. All curling members now have the rink line-ups, schedules and few modest rules to cover the games. A slight printing error was made in specifying the first five matches to be played on Sunday, the 12th. This should have been the 13th, according to the calendar. Just be there when it is your turn to play, start and end on time, and everyone will have a fine time. A number of substitutes have offered their services, if needed. Nina Dolben and Dan Morse much appreciate this and hope that still more will volunteer, both men and women. They may be needed, even with the easy substitution rules.

The Chairman's Competition will start next Saturday and Sunday mornings. Someone had what looks like a happy brainstorm in thinking of a rather novel contest. Any of the men curlers, except the Young and White Cup skips, can arrange a rink of their own, to include whom they want. Eleven rinks have already been organized and "registered" on the bulletin board, each rink "appropriately" named. So far, these include "The Baldies," "On the Rocks," "The Pars," "The Heelers," "The Wringers," "The Goofs," "The Growlers," "The Coolers," "The Jumbos," "The Noisy Four" and one rink too modest, or with not enough imagination to think of a name. There are still almost a hundred curlers who can get into this with just a bit of organizing. Better start quickly.

THE TEEN SCENE

by Carol Ashenden

Finally we're having some excitement around here; almost too much. Having both the hockey and basketball play-offs during the same week have kept the sports fans rushing madly between the Arena and the Garden, not to mention the inevitable home work!

I hope that none of you missed Noreen Johnson's terrific acrobatic act on the Community Auditions last Sunday.

Bobbi Venardi had a pizza party for the seniors after the Woburn basketball game; the cheer leaders enjoyed a spaghetti dinner at Rita Amico's before last Saturday's hockey game.

Congratulations to Chris Fentross and Janice Hashey, who won first and second prizes in the art contest sponsored by The Fortnightly. Their paintings will take part in a state contest, and if either wins the state contest, they will go on to the national contest put on by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Hallmark Cards, Inc.

The next issue of the Red and Black, which comes out next Thursday, ought to be a good issue. Since the senior class has taken over an entire page to be dedicated to Mr. Keeney, the staff has increased the paper to six pages. Because of the increase in expense, due to the larger size and the number of pictures, the issue is to be sold for a dime instead of the usual nickel.

Let's hope that the weather this week end is better than last. One encouraging thought is that it couldn't get much worse!

The frosh had dancing school Saturday night, but judging by the number of frosh at the hockey game, it didn't look as if the dance was exactly crowded. Mickie Doherty had a dinner party beforehand, and Jean Freeman held open house afterwards.

Jean's sister Ruth brought the hockey crowd home with her to continue the party.

A group of junior and senior girls have started an art course sponsored by the Boston Museum School. The course runs for seven weeks and consists of lectures and instruction on various mediums of art.

The Student Council conducted a record poll last week, the results of which will be announced at a record hop in the gym on the 26th. Bob Clayton of WHDH will be the disc jockey.

The Highway Clean-Up Program of the State Department of Public Works showed an improvement of 55% in cleanliness in 1954.

LIBRARY STAFF ENTERTAINED

A very thoughtful invitation was extended to the staff of the Winchester Public Library by Mrs. George E. Connor to visit her home at 403 Main street on Wednesday, March 2nd.

An evening of conversation and looking at antiques was followed by refreshments: a most enjoyable and delightful time.

WINCHESTER UPSET NEEDHAM

COWLES' SUDDEN DEATH GOAL DECIDED TOURNAMENT THRILLER

Winchester High School's surprising hockey team continued to confound the experts Tuesday night when they edged defending champion, Needham High, 4-3, in the quarter-final round of the State interscholastic hockey tournament at the Boston arena.

The Indians really had to fight for this one, for it wasn't until 1.32 of the second overtime sudden-death period that Captain Wayne Cowles' third goal of the game decided the tight-locked, hat-hoisting thriller.

Cowles, leading schoolboy scorer in the State, was Winchester's star, sparking the Indians' third period drive after Needham had amassed an early-game 2-0 lead.

Tocci scored the opener for Needham in the first period, and Anderson, the second in the second.

Forty-one seconds of the final period had elapsed when Cowles got Winchester back in the game on a break-away with a lead pass by "Tom" Sawyer. Lambert of Needham scored immediately after Cowles and the 3-1 advantage really looked bad. At 6:26, however, Cowles set up Leo Callahan for an 18 footer from the right circle and the Indians again trailed by only one.

With the stands in an uproar Cowles got the first of his two real clutch goals, taking a pass from Richie Johnson out front and beating Goaler Williamson to make it a new ballgame.

Neither team was able to score before the final buzzer and neither could break through during the first overtime.

After a ten minute rest the clubs returned to the ice with Cowles providing the epic goal that sent the Indians home happy, despite the loss of their wallets and other valuables taken when their lockers were rifled while they were on the ice.

The summary:

Winchester High (4)—Goal, Denton; defense, Sawyer, M. Murphy; forwards, Johnson, Cowles, Callahan, Urmson, Cussen, Zirkel.

Needham High (3)—goal, Williamson; defense, Duvall, Pelletier; forwards, Murdoch, Lambert, Anderson, Lowden, Hunt, Dodge, Tocci.

LADIES' AUXILIARY OF THE LITTLE LEAGUE

The first meeting of the 1955 season of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Winchester Little League was held on Tuesday, March 1, at the home of Mrs. Robert Colclough, president of the 1954 season.

The following slate of officers for the 1955 season presented by Mrs. C. J. Keane and the nominating committee were unanimously voted: President, Mrs. Richard Davenport Vice Pres., Mrs. L. Capodilupo Secretary, Mrs. Robert D. Lowry Treasurer, Mrs. Howard Nichols Reports read by Mrs. Dana Keely, treasurer and Mrs. Salvatore Scalese, secretary of the 1954 season showed 1954 to be a most successful one.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. For those who could not be present at this first meeting, we hope you can make the next one. Watch for your notice in the mail. Let's make 1955 as successful as 1954!

Three Winchester boys, Stanley Binding of 12 Prospect street, Guy La Marca of 103 Church street, and Sam F. Orth, Jr., of 30 Calumet road, all members of the Medford Junior Aquarium Society, are displaying materials and tropical fish from their own aquariums at the 84th annual New England Spring Flower Show opening Sunday, March 13, at Mechanics Building in Boston. The boys will be in attendance to explain their displays to those interested.

SUPERINTENDENT GILSON TO LEAD CONFERENCE MEETING

Superintendent of Schools Harry V. Gilson will preside at one of the meetings of the Second Annual Educational Business Conference, sponsored by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company on March 16. At this conference leaders in the educational and business world are meeting together to consider some of their mutual problems.

It has long been recognized that many young people make the adjustment from the role of student to that of employee with more difficulty than is necessary or desirable. As chairman of the meeting on "The Transition from School to Job," Dr. Gilson will lead the discussion of this problem.

Other members of the panel will include Sister Francis Xavier, Head of the Archbishop Cushing Central High School; Edwin B. Dexter, Employment Manager, National Shawmut Bank; Alice F. Casey, Vocational Counselor, Boston Public Schools; and Milton O. Corey, Assistant Personnel Director, John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

DRIVER TRAINING GRADUATES SECURED LICENSES

Two more groups of student drivers have completed their courses and received licenses during recent weeks, according to a report by Director of Driving Training William F. Branley.

The open weather enjoyed by Winchester during most of the winter has been a boon to the driver trainees at the high school. Nearly every afternoon the two Driver Training cars have been seen rolling sedately along local streets as the pupils take their practice at the wheel under the watchful eye of the instructor. Assisting Mr. Branley are Messrs. Joseph Aversa and Frank Weafer.

The first group of new licensed drivers includes the following: Warren Goodnow, Frances Noel, David Loftus, John Trump, Clifford Bowers, Susan Tallman, Kathleen Flynn, Jean Randlett, Betsy Lathrop, Joseph Keating, Jeanne McKenzie, Allan Osborne, and Robert Hauck.

In the second group were: Ira Silverleib, Bruce Mandeville, Robert McMahon, Marcia Elliott, Ann Titilah, Richard Garrett, Arlys Harrington, Patricia Dade, Nancy Samarco, Gail Collins, Judy Cairncross, Lynda Nanry.

CAPPED AT MELROSE

Miss Anita Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Watson of 14 Webster street, was among the students of the Melrose Hospital School of Nursing who have completed their six-months pre-clinical training and were capped February 24, at a candle-light service in the First Methodist Church, Melrose.

The satisfactory completion of this pre-clinical period earns for these students the Melrose Hospital Nurses cap, which represents fulfillment of their first major step toward the exacting profession they hope to serve.

Two and one-half years of study and application of theory lie ahead of their goal, which is graduation with the class of 1957.

It's time wasted to whitewash a character that couldn't be saved even with a heavy coat of enamel.

K. of C. ANNUAL COMMUNION BREAKFAST

On Passion Sunday, March 27, Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus will hold their Annual Communion Breakfast, parading from the Council Rooms in the center to St. Mary's Church, where mass will be celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Stephen Burke, Council Chaplain. St. Mary's Pastor, Rev. John M. Manion, has granted the Knights the upper Church.

Right Rev. Monsignor Robert J. Sennott, Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Boston will be the speaker which will follow the breakfast at St. Mary's Hall. Msgr. Sennott is the brother of the late Rev. Thomas F. Sennott, former Naval Chaplain who served at St. Mary's Church following his return from the South Pacific after World War II.

The speaker before being appointed Chancellor served as Procurator at the North American College in Rome and his duties took him into close contact with the Holy Father and affairs of the Vatican. His topic, "Pope Pius XII" will cover the historical background and the development of the Pope's life and career.

In view of world condtions today his message will be most timely and it is interesting to note that only recently President Eisenhower, in calling upon all Americans to join in wishing the Pope many happy returns of his birthday, praised the Pontiff's unbroken record of opposition to all forms of Fascism and Communism. The Communion Breakfast Committee includes:

Honorary Chairman, James F. Mawn, Grand Knight; General Chairman, Vincent F. Erhard, Deputy Grand Knight; Ticket Chairman, Henry Murphy; Vice Chairmen, William O'Leary, John Mulrennan; L. C. WINCHESTER UPSET MELROSE

SCORED UPSET 3-1 WIN IN STATE HOCKEY

Winchester High's non-league hockey team surprised the experts for the second time, and this time greatly, by winning its second round game from Melrose High, 3-1, in the annual State Schoolboy Hockey Tournament at the Boston Arena last Saturday evening.

The Indians won their opening round game from Waltham, 4-2, earlier in the week and looked like the best team on the ice on the day they did it. In facing Melrose, however, Winchester was meeting a team rich in hockey tradition and with vastly more experience on the ice through the years than the local boys can boast. Few of the knowing ones figured them to upset the Red Raiders, long a power in the strong G.B.I. League.

Coach Finigan's charges, however, showed scant awe of their vaunted opponents and went right to work on the "Big Red." The Indians were out in front at 6m. 13s. of the first period when Leo Callahan took a long pass from defenseman "Tom" Sawyer and neatly flipped the puck past Tryder in the Melrose nets.

The second period wasn't far along when Captain Wayne Cowles, leading schoolboy scorer in the State, blasted a whistling backhander into the net from 30 feet out for his 40th goal of the season.

Melrose was far from licked and got back into the game shortly after the two minute mark in the second period, Don McInnis beating Goaler George Denton with a long screen shot to make it only 2-1, Winchester.

Still in the second period, sophomore Johnny Zirkel gave Winchester a nice insurance tally when he poked home a loose rebound at the 6m. 18s. mark.

That was it! Neither team could capitalize on several scoring opportunities in the third period and the game ended, 3-1, Winchester, with the local rooters raising the roof.

Cowles, though handicapped with bad legs, sparked Winchester to victory, and mention should be made of the fine relief work of the second line. Murphy was rugged on defense and Denton's goal tending was a bit of all right! The summary:

Winchester—g, Denton; ld, Sawyer; rd, Murphy; rw, Callahan; c, Johnson; lw, Cowles.
Spares: Cuesen, Zirkel, Urmson.
Melrose—g, Tryder; rd, Maher; ld, Dave MacInnis; rw, Jangro; c, King; lw, Kelley.
Spares: Smith, Don MacInnis, Scarpa.

WINCHESTER IN TOURNEY WIN

BELLINO PACED 82-61 DEFEAT OF SWAMPSCOTT

Tossing in 22 points Joe Bellino led the Indians to an 82-61 win over Swampscott in the State Interscholastic Basketball tourney at the Boston Garden Tuesday night.

Winchester now moves into the semi-finals, which will be played Friday night at the Garden. Opposing the Indians in a 6:30 game will be Roslindale High School.

The Sachems took an early lead and were never headed. They moved out to a 16-10 first period advantage and increased the margin to 37-23 at halftime. The fine floor play of Bert Kneeland and Joe Bellino, combined with John Lynch's consistent rebounding, was a major factor in the Indan's supremacy.

In the second half the entire team saw action and play was far from polished as Winchester stretched their lead to 21 points at the finish.

Captain Jim Wright played his usual steady game as well as scoring fifteen points. Kneeland threw in twelve and Lynch had ten. While the Indians' rebounding was not up to par, the back court play of Bellino and Farrell was brilliant and rendered a Swampscott full court press completely impotent.

The Sculpins, led by "Win" Shaw with twenty-three points, were not expected to give the tourney favorites much trouble, but they did hold their own off the boards. The win for Winchester, while an easy one, was not one of their better played games.

Moving into the semi-finals along with the Indians was Matignon, the only team considered to be a threat to Winchester's retaining the title, and Roslindale and South Boston.

PRESENTED CLIPPER MODEL TO MUSEUM

Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman of Stowell road has presented to the Boston Museum of Science, of which she is an enthusiastic supporter, a fine five-foot scale model of the crack clipper ship, "Flying Cloud," as a memorial to her brother, the late Alfred Easton Welling of East Boston, an ardent sailor who had at his home an exceptional collection of prints, charts and data of the clipper ship days.

Mrs. Lyman unveiled the model Monday at the Museum and invited to the preview many friends and admirers of her late brother.

Frederick Wellington Lyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., of Lawson road, and Harrison Lyman Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Moore, her grandsons, who were given life-memberships in the Museum of Science by their great uncle, were also present.

Others from Winchester at the pre-view included Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. Nash of Lawson road, and a former Winchesterite, Stanley G. H. Fitch, was also among the guests.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS COST $292 PER PUPIL-YEAR

It costs Winchester $292.84 a year to educate a child in the public school system, the U.S. Office of Education reports.

This compares with an average cost of $229.20 a year for all public school students in 131 U.S. cities of 10,000 to 25,000 population.

The figures are published by the Office of Education so that all cities may know how their operating costs compare with the national averages. The official figures, the latest available, were compiled from a nation-wide cost survey for the school year 1952-53.

The school year in Winchester is 180 days, which is also the average school year for all 131 cities.

Annual cost figures cover both elementary and high-school expenditures combined, but where colleges or junior colleges are operated by the city, these costs are eliminated from the comparative figures.

Construction Excluded

The federal survey covers only current costs in the public school system, and does not include either new capital outlays for construction, or interest on school debts. Neither does the survey cover any costs for adult education, or other community programs not connected directly with the daily education of the youngsters.

The tabulation below lists the six major items of operating cost for the public schools in Winchester, compared with the averages for each item in all 131 cities in the same population group, 10,000 to 25,000:

Average Expenditures
Per Pupil-Year
(all grades)

Item	Winchester	Average for 131 cities
Administration	$ 7.26	$ 7.80
Instruction	234.59	170.41
Plant Operation	28.82	25.07
Plant maintenance	15.06	10.48
Auxiliary services	4.25	8.51
Pensions, fixed charges	2.86	6.93
Totals	$292.84	$229.20

Daily Costs Compared

On the basis of daily averages, Winchester operates her schools for $1.63 per pupil-day, as compared with an average of $1.27 per day for all 131 cities.

As a rule, the report finds, it costs more to educate a child in a larger city than in a smaller community, because the larger cities generally offer more auxiliary services, such as better school libraries, more vocational courses, better cafeterias, special training for exceptional students, and broader programs in physical education, the arts, and handcrafts. In round figures, these extra courses, usually more available in the larger cities, add about $45 a year to the average cost per pupil, giving the larger cities a median cost of roughly $275 per pupil-year, against about $230 a year for the smaller cities.

There is also a marked difference in annual pupil cost in the various regions, the Northeast being generally highest with an average annual cost of $264 per pupil, compared to $242 for the West, $237 for the North-central States, and $160 for the South.

The government study does not publish total enrollment for each city, but merely average daily and yearly costs per pupil, based on the reported average daily attendance.

APPEALS FOR SICK ANIMALS

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, yesterday appealed to all animal lovers for discarded blankets and cotton cloth, to be used in the cages of its Angell Memorial Animal Hospital.

Society officials made the following statement: "It has been called to our attention that the present supply of blankets and cloth is nearly exhausted, and we find it necessary to replenish our needs if we are to provide maximum care and comfort for the many animals that are brought to us daily for hospitalization. This is particularly true in the Macomber Ward, where distemper cases are treated and where bedding must be constantly refreshed.

"We feel confident, therefore, that all pet owners, as well as lovers of animals generally, will be happy to respond to this urgent appeal, by sending their gifts of blankets or cloth to the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, where they will be most gratefully received and promptly acknowledged."

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The regular meeting of The Fortnightly was held on Monday, February 28, with the president, Mrs. Hiram Moody, presiding, Mrs. William C. Cusack, the first vice president, reported for Mrs. Paul Atwood on the Massachusetts State Federation meeting at the Hotel Statler on February 17.

The program of the afternoon was in charge of the education committee; Mrs. F. B. McCullough, the chairman, presented the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Max Robert Ulin of the State Federation, whose subject was "Europe as I Saw It." Mrs. Ulin described in detail a very interesting trip through England, France, Switzerland, Italy and Germany. She strongly recommended travelling second class, because "it is so much more fun" and one can learn more about the people themselves in the various countries. She was particularly interested in talking with the ordinary citizen in each country she visited and getting their views on the world situation as it appeared to them today.

Mrs. Ulin says that all through Europe the people everywhere were hoping for a better life, hated with a terrible bitterness war of all kinds and looked to America for help.

It is for the men and women of this country who control Congress to be informed on world affairs and have a sympathetic public attitude toward other countries. Do not try to remake the rest of the world in our image; remember that other cultures are different from our own. If here in America we act wisely and understand people of the other countries better, we can make this the "golden age" when poverty is no longer necessary and the first time in history when it is possible to trust all others.

Painting Display

There was a very excellent display of about twenty paintings from the Winchester High School seniors and juniors, competing for the prizes offered by the art committee of The Fortnightly. The winners were as follows:

Senior First Prize — Christine Fentross

Senior Second Prize — Janice Hashey

Junior Honorable Mention—Judy Krysto, Mary Lou Cox, Carol Hubert

Two of these paintings have been taken to Boston for the State Federation competition and the club members were very much impressed and quite proud of the work being done in the art courses of the high school.

Trip To Providence

About 25 people have already signed up for the trip to the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence on March 17. If there are any other Fortnightly members who would like to go, please contact any member of the art committee.

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

The members of the Winchester Smith College Club spent a very interesting evening on Monday, February 28, as they listened to Mrs. Austin Broadhurst's report of her recent visit to Smith. Mrs. Broadhurst had been in Northampton attending the annual council of the Smith College Alumnae Association.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Parsons of 73 Bacon street. After dinner coffee was served before the council report with Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth Jr., and Mrs. Charles Tozier pouring.

JR. MRS. GUILD

The meeting of the Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church, scheduled for Tuesday evening, March 15, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Beckley, has been cancelled.

The armament of the first U. S. Navy destroyers included three rapid fire, breech loading rifles and two or three Gatling guns.

POSTMEN URGED TO USE PSYCHOLOGY ON DOGS

Ed. Note—Arthur Edson, writing in a Jacksonville, Fla., newspaper under a Washington February 14 date line, has the following to say about the new approach to the postman-dog problem. In a town like Winchester this would be of interest.)

"All over the nation today postmen are using psychology on dogs.

"They are not petting dogs, nor are they running from them. And when a dog stands snarling between them and the mail box, they wait patiently for the beast to approach and sniff them.

"They are doing all this, that is, if they're following official suggestions.

"For Post Office Department officials figure a majority of their carriers have been dog-bitten at least once. So they have consulted 'experts trained in the actions, psychology and temperament of dogs' to see what can be done about it.

"Edward Landry, Post Office safety director, said results of this study were sent to regional directors to pass on to carriers in whatever form they chose. Victor H. Anderson, safety director of Kansas City, Kan., summed them up neatly for carriers on a single typewritten page, a copy of which has been sent to us by a McAlester, Okla., dog hater.

"Anderson headed the page with a drawing of a bulldog taking a bead on a carrier, who fortunately is wearing armor and is armed with a mace. 'Dog days are every day for postal carriers,' the caption says.

"First, about dogs in general. The experts say dogs smell and hear excellently, but their eyesight is terrible. So when a postman, toting his pouch, comes blurred and indistinct into the dog's vision, it's no wonder he's suspicious.

"Under the circumstances, the experts say, the best thing to do is to make friends with him, and here's the way it should be done:

1. 'Do not pet dogs, Many dogs resent such familiarity.'
2. 'Do not make quick, sudden movements. A dog may bite in nervousness or fear.'
3. 'Do not strike at a dog, since he then thinks it's okay to strike back.'
4. 'Do not run from dogs!'
5. 'If a dog stops you in your path by snarling at you, stand still and give him time to smell you. Talk to him and continue talking to him as you walk straight ahead toward your destination.'
6. 'Show respect for a dog, who is only doing his duty, and nine times out of ten he will, in turn, respect you.'

"But just when a postman might feel he's prepared for anything including lion taming, the letdown comes.

"'It is true,' Anderson concedes, 'that a few dogs are actually just plain 'ornery' and will not easily make friends with carriers.

"What happens to the poor postman who tried to walk and talk his way past this animal, Anderson doesn't say. But he might well have repeated his opening sentence.

"'The experience of postal carriers with dogs belonging to patrons on their routes,' he said, 'has not been a pleasant one.'

WYMAN MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Wyman Mothers' Association held its winter meeting on Tuesday evening, March 1, at the Wyman School auditorium. Mrs. Ralph Jope, president, opened the meeting and gave a warm welcome to the Wyman teachers and parents present. Mrs. Frederick F. Stockwell, vice president, introduced the speakers for the evening.

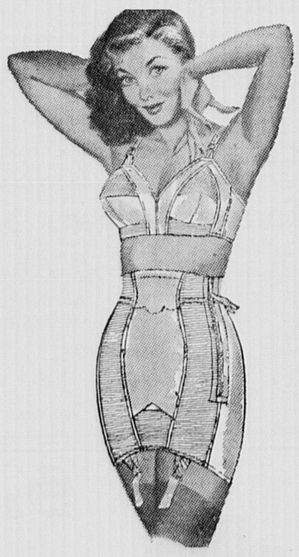

Sitting in for Dr. Robert H. Anderson, who could not be present because of the flying conditions out of New York, was Dean McKechnie, former resident of Winchester, and Dean of Boston University's Sargent College for Women. Mr. McKechnie was Moderator, and the other panel members were Mrs. George A. Marks and Mr. Henry Fitts.

Coming out of the subject for the evening "Living With Your Child" were many wonderful thoughts and opportunities that we can give to our children. Mr. McKechnie stated that the first and most important thing is to give the child a feeling of security starting in the home. Don't set a zig-zag course, but make the security of a home his starting place, and then as he branches out whether it be in the field of art or recreational and sports opportunities, these things become what they were meant to be. Mrs. George A. Marks gave a very interesting talk about the many opportunities available to children in the field of art. By providing him with good pictures; taking him to museums and art galleries in this area, you can stimulate his appreciation of art, and from this appreciation comes the power of observation—everything looks brighter. Mr. Henry Fitts told of the many and varied recreational and sports activities that are available in our town. He especially emphasized doing things together as a family, again coming back to the original thought, "Give your child security."

Delicious punch and cookies were served by Mrs. J. Kenneth Colony and her committee, during the social hour following the meeting.

FROM MR. EDMANDS

To Louise Kugler and Earle Littleton, I extend my sincere congratulations upon their re-election to the School Committee.

To friends who worked so hard in my behalf and to the voters who supported my candidacy, I offer my true thanks.

Naturally, I would like to have been successful in my first bid for election to public office. I would like to have been able to meet personally the host of wonderful people in Winchester but due to earlier pledges of support to various youth activities, the joy of the birth of a new daughter and the adverse fate attendant in two cases of measles and two attacks of virus in the family, there just wasn't enough time left between nomination and election to actively campaign.

However, now I readily offer my services to our town in any capacity in which I feel I can be of help.

Very truly yours,
Herbert S. Edmands
13 Winthrop street

THANKS—EVERYBODY

We wish to express our sincere thanks and deep appreciation for the many helpful expressions of sympathy and affectionate regard now that Francis, our son, has "passed away."

For nearly fifty years were were privileged to have him with us. It helps a lot to know that others loved him too.

THANKS TO VOTERS

I deeply appreciate the confidence in me expressed by the voters in reelecting me to the School Committee. I will try to merit their continued confidence.

CONGRATULATIONS

Best wishes to my opponents upon their victory.

I want to personally thank all who supported my candidacy.

TOWN VOTE LIGHT

The same was true in the contest for School Committee. Here the two new candidates were decisively defeated, Louise A. Kugler and Earle F. Littleton, candidates for re-election polling respectively 1,845, and 1,691 votes, to Herbert S. Edmands' 846 and Emidio DiLoreto's 625. Again had either of the defeated candidates gotten the other's votes, his total would not have been enough for election.

The three constables running for re-election were easily returned to office, Joseph T. Callahan, John T. Horn and Gleason W. Ryerson, handily winning over the newcomer, and former Somerville constable, Hector Palladino. Mr. Horn's 2,239 was high in this contest.

Vincent C. Ambrose, running unopposed for Library Trustee, polled the highest vote among the town officers, 2,465. Charles A. Farrar, candidate for re-election to the Board of Public Welfare, and Ralph W. Hatch, running for Cemetery Commissioner, tied for second with 2,449.

Where contests occurred for Town Meeting Member the following led their precincts; Precinct 1, William F. Branley, 283; Precinct 2, Francis P. Dolan, 322; Precinct 3, Royce Randlett, 512; Precinct 4, Charles W. Butler, 365; Precinct 5, F. Meredith Cooper, 364; and Precinct 6, J. Joseph Tansey, 271.

The vote ran very light early in the day, with 524 votes cast at 10 a. m. 1,262 at 2:30, 1,721 at 4:30 and 2,885 at closing time, 7 p. m.

Following is the summary:

WINCHESTER MAN VISITED LEYTE

DELLICKER IN CIVILIAN GROUP ON CARRIER

(Ed. Note: The following from the U.S.S. Leyte "News" for February 18, 1955, should prove interesting to readers of the Star.)

Under the guidance of Captain Philip Dooley, USMC, five civilians roamed about the USS Leyte during last week's storm tossed operation at sea. The gentlemen, Henry Dellicker of Winchester, Mass.; Fitzroy Kennedy of Cambridge, Sam H. Day, Garden City, New York; James H. Stryker of Lansdale, Pa.; and Hon. Arnold Veague, Mayor of Bangor, Maine; were paying guests of the Secretary of the Navy at no expense to their fellow taxpayers.

The purpose of the sponsorship by the secretary is to acquaint the American Public, through responsible and representative citizens, with the role of sea power in insuring national security. Moreover, SECNAV wants the people of America to realize that, in their Navy, they have tremendous capabilities of awful striking power, wide flexibility, advanced technical development, and the highest type of young American manhood.

The "Leyte" has entertained other non-military personnel on occasion but due to our operational schedule, few have seen so much (within the bounds of security); nor have many seen us at work. And, by the same token, never has the US Navy and the crew of the "Leyte" received such extravagant, yet genuine praise. The ability, team work, loyalty and spirit of the crew impressed our temporary shipmates, and were mentioned most often. Mr. Dellicker, Vice President of the Rockland Atlas National Bank, was moved to enthusiasm bordering on the incredulous, "It's hard to believe the efficiency with which the entire ship is run, the co-ordination and cooperation are amazing, as is the competence of everybody, that makes me feel very secure, but I had to see it to believe it."

BADMINTON

WINCHESTER OVER COHASSET

The Winchester Badminton Club made the long trip to Cohasset last Thursday night a successful one, tipping over their opponents by a score of 8 to 2 in matches played, thus continuing the string of team victories, exclusive of the first meeting of the season with Tedesco.

Both losses were suffered in the men's doubles, with Whit Gray and Ed Williams dropping their match with Dussossoit and Nussbaum 15-7, 9-15, 12-15, and Harry Bean and Al Longo losing to Henry and Howe 15-8, 15-17, 11-15.

The other results are as follows:

Men's Doubles

Parker Symmes and Harry Bean over Thaxter and Wheelwright 11-15, 15-10, 18-15

Brad Hersey and Ted VonRosenvinge over Shattuck and Habersterch 15-3, 15-2

Ladies' Doubles

Marjorie Moore and Jean Rowell over Jenks and Nussbaum 15-9, 15-2

Laura Winn and Florence Armstrong over Jenks and Wheelwright by default

Mixed Doubles

Ed Williams and Jean Rowell over Nussbaum and Jenks 15-8, 15-8

Parker Symmes and Jean Moore over Collins and Marshall 15-7, 15-6

Whit Gray and Doris Philbrook over Wheelwright and Wheelwright 15-7, 15-13

Brad Hersey and Lois Hersey over Henry and Nussbaum 15-12, 17-16

METHODIST COUPLES CLUB

Spring blew into the Couples' Club at the Methodist Church on Tuesday, March 1. The traditional "March Lambs" were the seven lovely girls who held the audience captivated for an hour as they modeled a stunning Spring collection—all from Winchester's House of Fashion. Its owner, Miss Ruth Pope, acted as the capable commentator throughout the show. At unexpected moments a "March Lion" would appear in the person of some male club member modeling a weird creation that would bring down the house. Mrs. Elmer Grinnell and Mrs. Charles Lewis provided gay piano accompaniment, and Mrs. John McIntyre headed the entire entertainment committee.

After a delicious chicken dinner and preceding the show, a short business meeting was conducted by Mr. E. Leonard Woods. He announced that April would bring a Smorgasbord supper and the annual spring formal dance at Bear Hill Country Club on Friday, April 22.

EDITORIALS

We met Harry Gilson, superintendent of schools, last Friday, the day of the snowstorm, and were interested to learn that he had at least one person talk to him about ringing "no school" whistles on such a day. We have often encountered old timers who scoff at the present "no school" policy, and so we are pleased to pass along the school authorities' thinking in this respect. According to Mr. Gilson, he and the School Committee do not think the youngsters will be harmed by braving a snowstorm, but they do feel that the traffic hazard to children walking in the street on their way to school is greatly increased by the poor visibility, both for motorists and pedestrians, caused by the driving snow. We do not plow sidewalks any more and everybody pretty much has to walk in the street during a heavy storm. The school authorities feel there is sufficient added hazard involved in so doing to make them unwilling to subject the kiddies to it!

Elsewhere in this issue appears the report of the Fluoridation Committee, appointed at the last March meeting to consider the advisability of fluoridating the town's supply of drinking water as a means of combatting the decay of children's teeth. The late appointment of the committee did not give its members sufficient time to get their report into the Town Report, and consequently they have sent copies of their findings to all town meeting members and to the Star. The Star is printing a part of the report for the benefit of those who are not town meeting members, yet may be vitally interested in the fluoridation problem. The committee recommends fluoridation, as most of those who have followed its deliberations thought that it would, and it makes out a strong case for its position. Its opinion and recommendation is not unanimous, and it is significant that the dissenter is the member of the Town Water Board who served upon the committee. On the other hand the committee member from the Board of Health, a practicing physician, went along with his favoring colleagues. The Star, while admitting the strong case made out for fluoridation by the majority of the committee, goes along with the thinking of the Water Board member, at least at this time. We heartily concur with the reported unanimous opinion of the Water Board that fluoridation should not be adopted by Winchester until the entire town has the opportunity to express it preference at the polls.

The Star received recently from one of its readers a clipping from a Boston paper telling of a study being conducted by the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross and the Boston Chamber of Commerce seeking ways of making possible a fair, just, united once-a-year campaign for charitable organizations in Greater Boston. Ray A. Ely, general manager of the 1955 Greater Boston Red Cross Campaign, is quoted as expressing pleasure at being able to say that the Metropolitan Chapter is truly interested in such a movement. There will be many more who are pleased, including all who thought that the Community Fund campaigns were going to make it possible for them to be solicited once a year for a contribution to charitable organizations and this yearly contribution would end appeals to them. Such has definitely not been the case. As a matter of fact one could wonder what the Community Fund does actually cover, so many and so diverse are the other appeals received. It is getting so there is almost a drive a week from September through May, and not only are many getting tired of the seemingly endless solicitation, but they are rapidly approaching a point where they can not contribute further. Not long ago we read an article by one who has been prominently identified with many fund-raising campaigns expressing concern over the ever-increasing appeals to people for money for this and that. He feared something like a contributors' strike, and voiced the hope that just such an arrangement can be made as that on which the Red Cross and Boston Chamber are working. In Winchester there are many who will share his hope.

So many have asked us about the Titilah plan for moving Winchester Station north of the center to land between the main line of the B. & M. and the Woburn loop tracks as a means of relieving the congestion of parking in the vicinity of the station's present location that we checked with the author of this plan this week. At the time when Mr. Titilah made his plan public through a letter in the Star he sent copies of his proposal to the State Department of Public Works and to the Boston & Maine Railroad. He also discussed his plan with both the Board of Selectmen and Planning Board. He has heard nothing official from either of the town authorities, nor from the railroad, but he has heard from the Department of Public Works, through Commissioner John Volpe. Mr. Volpe feels that the plan would cost well over a million dollars and for this reason and others, such as the nature of the soil, the danger of flooding, inaccessibility, potential traffic hazard and expense to the railroad, is opposed to it as the most costly solution of the parking problem yet evolved. Cost figures purporting to come from railroad engineers estimate the cost of the Titilah plan at some $400,000. There is of course quite a difference between this and the more than a million dollars estimated by Mr. Volpe, and there are other questions which come to mind. If the danger of flooding in the proposed area is so acute, what is going to happen to the diversionary highway that is going through the same area not too far from the proposed new station site, and supposedly at a lower level? Also if the area is unfit for the erection of a relatively light-weight building and parking lot, how does it stack up as the site for proposed business or industrial buildings. There will have to be ramps leading to and from the station wherever it is erected, and it is hard to see why any especial traffic hazard would result from placing the station there that will not apply doubly both at Main and Blind Bridge streets at one end of the diversionary highway and Washington and Mt. Vernon streets at the other. A lot of people have fancied the Titilah plan. They are sure to want to know about it when the parking problem comes up for discussion at coming town meeting sessions.

EFFICIENT SERVICE

Editor of the Star:

The writer would like to draw to the attention of the people of this area not only the fact that, in the difficult recruiting month of December, the US Army Rctg Station, 49 High street, Medford, was top Rctg station in the Boston area with SFC William Bonnell as Top Recruiter, but that in the equally difficult month of February the US Air Force Rctg Station, located at the same address was top Rctg Station with TSGT Ernest W. Dullea as Top Recruiter.

Inasmuch as the Medford Station covers this area and is the station with which the writer has the closest relations, the above information caused great satisfaction. However, the important thing for parents to know is how this top station standing was achieved. It is a great pleasure to report to you that the basic belief of the Station Commanders — M/Sgt Bradford Knox USA and TSGT Wesley Moore USAF—is that honesty is the best policy. They work in complete cooperation with the High School which is very important, they value most highly the expressions of thanks from parents. They welcome visits from parents to the Recruiting Station.

The writer believes, from daily contact with these men and from the scores of letters received from enlistees, your sons are being well handled and congratulates the Medford Recruiting Station on a job well done. They share with the writer the heavy responsibility one feels when dealing with the futures of our young men.

Cordially yours,
Mrs. K. B. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

NEW LOCATION

The Embassy Laundry and Dry Cleaning, formerly for many years the Embassy Laundry, moved last Saturday to its new and enlarged quarters at 5 Park street, next to the Esso Station.

Additional space and the installation of new machinery will enable the laundry to offer its patrons even better service than in the past, and the proprietor, Roy Horn, invites all patrons, old and new, to drop in soon and see his new business home.

The business was started in 1939 as the Embassy Hand Laundry by Mr. Horn's mother, Mrs. Ethel A. Horn, who conducted the business until illness forced her retirement in 1953.

Her son took over at that time and has added dry cleansing to the regular laundry work. Delivery service is available. Call the same old number, WInchester 6-2022.

Mr. Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, attended the annual Savings and Mortgage Conference of the American Bankers Association at the Hotel Statler in New York from March 7 to 9.

WASHINGTON DADS' CLUB

The George Washington School Dads' Club held their annual chowder party Friday night at the school auditorium. In spite of the bad weather and icy roads there was a turn out of over two hundred fathers and sons, this was the first year that the dinner was a father and son affair. From the enthusiasm displayed it appears as if a worthwhile precedent was established.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held, while the meeting was being conducted the children were shown movies. After the meeting and movies the U.S. Marine Judo Team from the Boston Recruiting Station gave a demonstration on Judo and Ju Jitsu. The team was under the direction of Captain Karl Moore, with S/Sgt Jack Childs and T/Sgt Robert Crothers giving the demonstration. Captain Moore explained the history of Judo as sport and of Ju-Jitsu as a means of combat. He told the audience of the various steps that a Judo wrestler goes through in order to be able to qualify to wear the various colored belts given as an award of proficiency. Before closing he answered questions from the audience pertaining to Judo and Marine training.

President George Hendricks introduced Edward Oles to the audience and thanked him for the wonderful job he did in preparing the dinner. Ed prepared the dinner and directed the serving of it. Assisting Ed was the Board of Directors of the Dads' Club and volunteer waiters from the Club.

HAWAIIAN EVENING

An event of much beauty and interest will be provided for Winchester on Friday, March 18, when a "Hawaiian Evening" will be presented at Masonic Hall by the Children's Own School. Motion pictures will bring glimpses of the Islands' lovely scenery and its activities.

The varied exhibits of pictures, handcrafts and curios will be of great interest. Among the exhibitors are Mrs. William Herron and Mrs. Frederic Withington of Winchester and Miss Florence McCaulder of Newtonville. Refreshments, too, will have the Hawaiian touch.

While legislation for Hawaii's statehood is pending, all things pertaining to the Islands and their gracious people are most timely. Come learn about our future 49th state!

INJURED IN NEW YORK ACCIDENT

Miss Sallie Birnie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Birnie of 9 Myopia road, was painfully injured last week-end when the automobile in which she was a passenger was in collision with another machine at Second avenue, and Ninth street, in Manhattan, N. Y.

It was at first reported that Miss Birnie had sustained a fractured skull and was in serious condition at a New York Hospital. Her parents went immediately to her bedside and found her injuries were not as bad as originally feared. She sustained a concussion and cuts and bruises about the face and head as well as a severe shaking up.

Mrs. Birnie brought her daughter from New York to the Winchester Hospital by plane on Tuesday. She was reported Wednesday night as getting along nicely and likely to be able to return home this week-end.

BLACK STARS AND SPACE GAS SEND RADIO WAVES TO EARTH

Astronomers listening to unseen stars can hear faint radio signals even from "empty" space.

They actually pick up, at one certain frequency on giant radio telescopes, a high-pitched hum from hydrogen atoms thinly scattered in the interstellar void. In that "single significant note," physicists now find a new measuring rod to map the universe.

Radio astronomy, barely two decades old, already is probing new regions in the heavans, the National Geographic Society says. It pierces dark clouds in the Milky Way and hears galaxies colliding. It records what optical telescopes can never see, through a radio-wave window in the earth's asmosphere.

Noice from Space

In December, 1931, a Bell Telephone Laboratories engineer, Karl G. Jansky, first discovered mysterious background hissing in his radio set while tracking down atmospheric static. He showed conclusively that the noise was coming from outer space.

Little attention was paid, for equipment was inadequate to show much about the signals. Then World War II accelerated development of radio and radar equipment. With big new dish-shaped antennae, astronomers began sweeping the skies. Not only did they find hissing from the heavens as a whole, but louder noises from certain spots.

These are the "radio stars." They broadcast energy, similar to light but at a longer wave length. Of the several hundred known today, few can be identified with visible objects in the heavens.

An expanding shell of dust and gas called the Crab Nebula, remnant of a giant star explosion seen by Chinese astronomers in 1054, seems to hold one strong radio source. Others lie in the constellations Cassiopeia, Sagittarius, and Cygnus—the Swan. Two have been identified as turbulent gas clouds in the Milky Way. Still another, according to Dr. Walter Baade and Dr. Rudolph Minkowski of Palomar Observatory, represents a vast collision between two entire galaxies.

150-Mile Mirror

Because radio waves have far greater length than light, radi telescopes must have far wider "mirrors." Even then they are less accurate than optical telescopes. To match the focusing power of a one-inch conventional telescope, a radio antenna 150 miles across would be required for some wave lengths.

At Jodrell Bank near Manchester, England, a mammoth metal-mesh saucer 250 feet in diameter nears completion. Unlike a 220-foot predecessor, this great antenna can be turned, tilted, and aimed at particular radio stars. Another like it is being built in Australia.

In the United States, Harvard, Cornell, and Ohio State Universities, the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C., and the National Bureau of Standards pioneer in radio astronomy. At Seneca, Maryland, an X-shaped antenna with fixed arms 2,040 feet long is operated by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

The Navy already has a radio sextant for navigation by invisible stars. Astronomers point to other uses. With added equipment, great saucers similar to the one at Jodrell Bank could bounce a radar echo off the moon that would return to earth not as a faint pip, but a roar. It might be possible to send a signal to Mars or Venus, or track a rocket as far away as the moon.

The SS United States, speed queen of the Atlantic, is fireproofed to an unprecedented degree. Wood is used only in her pianos and butchers' chopping blocks. More aluminum went into her construction than into any other single structure on land or sea, says the National Geographic Society.

Other animals engendering their kind too rapidly are mule deer around Estes Park on the outskirts of Rocky Mountain park, in Utah's Zion National Park and California's Sequoia National Park, and buffalo in Yellowstone.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Although the United States Trust Territory of Pacific Islands—from the western Carolines to the eastern Marshalls—is as wide as the entire United States, its 2,000 coral and lava atolls and outcrops contain only enough solid land to make half a Rhode Island, the National Geographic Society says.

The Principality of Liechtenstein, one of Europe's six smallest nations, has been a sovereign state since 1342. Poised in the Alps between Switzerland and Austria, Liechtenstein covers 61 square miles—about the size of the District of Columbia.

Production of coal in West Germany for the first six months of 1954 exceeded 62 million tons, up more than one million tons over the same period last year.

The fact that health and holiness result from spiritual understanding of God's nature will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance" will include the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (241:19-21,23-24): "The substance of all devotion is the reflection and demonstration of divine Love, healing sickness and destroying sin. . . . One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness."
The power of God is also stressed in selections from the King James Version of the Bible including the following (Hebrews 4:12): "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

Rev. C. Helgerson

How many religions are there? Only TWO! The assumptive and the revealed. The assumptive says, "Do the best you can," but the revealed says, "Unless a man be born from above he cannot see the kingdom of God." The former depends on human effort, the latter depends on a new birth. The natural man assumes that his merits will get him in, the Bible teaches that only a new nature can enter. The former presumes salvation can be earned while the Holy Bible insists that salvation be accepted by faith as God's free gift. Inasmuch as Christ paid the sinner's debt we are privileged to receive the gift of eternal life with thanks. Good works can never purchase what God gives. They will follow as evidence of God's gift in the soul.

Mr. Helgerson is Pastor of The Church of the Open Bible, Woburn

THE FORTNIGHTLY

LITERATURE COMMITTEE

On Monday afternoon, March 7, the members of the Literature Group and guests met at 2:30 in the Edgar J. Rich Room at the public library. After introductory remarks pertaining to items of interest by the chairman, Mrs. Barnard, a birds-eye view of American poetry was ably presented by Mrs. Frank. S. Evans.

Mrs. Evans traced the progress of verse-making from Ann Bradstreet to the present day. Poets and poetesses, beloved by all, whose names will endure because of the quality of their work, were noted, including comment on modern free verse and its place in the development of poetic effort. She read several examples from favorite poets. Miss Eva M. Sherman then contributed a list of books that she had read recently, appraising them as to their readability, merits, and demerits.

Musical Program

The Fortnightly will hold its regular meeting on Monday, March 14, at the First Baptist Church at two o'clock.

After the business meeting an excellent musical program will be presented by Mr. Loren Driscoll, tenor, who will be accompanied by Mr. Bliss Hebert. A tea will follow the program.

Fortnightly Trip to Providence

The trip to the Rhode Island School of Design will be next Thursday. Be sure the Art Committee of The Fortnightly has your name if you plan to go. We shall leave Winchester at 9:00 a. m. and expect to be back at about half past four.

GRANGE MET

Winchester Grange, 343, held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, March 1, in Masonic Hall with Worthy Matron Jane Cudmore presiding.

Worthy Deputy Joshua Henninger of the State Grange, a member of Saugus Grange, conducted an inspection of the Winchester Grange, and complimented the master, Jane Cudmore, on her ritualistic work. The first degree was conferred on applicant Irene Mullen by the regular Grange officers, a mixed team, headed by Past Master Windover Robinson, conferring the second degree.

A letter of thanks was received from Sister Hanlon, charter member, for the plant sent her on the occasion of the 41st anniversary of the Grange. It was the first anniversary she had missed.

Wilmington Grange extended an invitation to their 43rd anniversary, and it was also announced that Winchester will entertain Middlesex Essex Pomona at the First Baptist Church on Saturday, March 26. Sisters Mary Robinson and Gladys Mullen are supper co-chairmen.

It was voted to make a cash donation to Saugus Grange to aid them in replacing regalia and furnishings lost when their hall was destroyed by fire.

HARVARD CLUB TO MEET

The Fourth meeting of the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex will be held Tuesday evening, March 22, at the Bear Hill Country Club.

The speaker will be Dr. Z. K. Brzezinski, instructor in Government and Research Fellow in the Russian Research Center at Harvard University. He was born in Warsaw, Poland, and received his B.A. degree from McGill University in 1949 and the M.A. degree from the same institution in 1950.

He has been at Harvard since the fall of 1950, and during the academic years 1951-1953 was a Teaching Fellow in Government. After receipt of the Doctor's degree in 1953 at Harvard, he received his present appointments. His special field of study was Comparative Government and his thesis for the Ph.D. degree was written on the topic, "The Permanent Purge and Soviet Totalitarianism." He has also written on political controls in the Soviet Army and has followed East European political developments with care.

This year Dr. Brzezinski is assisting Professor Friedrich in the Seminar on Problems in Totalitarian Dictatorship, which is given in both the Department of Government and the Graduate School of Public Administration.

WINCHESTER LEGION AUXILIARY

Saturday, March 12, is the date set for the Legion Auxiliary's St. Patrick's Day Dance at the Legion Home on Vine street.

Contact your friends and come down for an enjoyable evening.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Library entertained substantial and interested audiences at its two recorded concerts on Wednesday, March 2nd. These were the first concerts using the Library's new hi-fidelity equipment. The guests, many of them following with librettos and scores, listened to a performance of Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," not only a first rate recording in itself but wonderfully reproduced with the new system. The separate hi-fidelity components were purchased and assembled for the Library by Messrs. Hill and Coakley of the Winchester Appliance Company, and they will be used for all subsequent recorded music programs.

The fine quality of reproduction as a result of the hi-fidelity installation should prove both interesting and stimulating to Winchester people. The Library once again extends an invitation to all adults of the town to come and enjoy the Wednesday afternoons and evenings of recorded music.

For those who are interested in books about World War II, the Library lists the following, added to its collection since January 1st:

The Death of Hitler's Germany, by Blond.
Combat Actions in Korea, by Gugeler.
Assignment: Churchill, by Thompson.
Admiral Kimmel's Story.
Flying is My Life, by Reitsch.
Flight From Dakar, by Hauge.
Fragebogen, by Salomon.
Duel of Wits, by Churchill.
The Captain Leaves His Ship, by Cwiklinski.
The Kelly, by Poolman.

AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

The unified sevice adopted by First Baptist Church last fall, 10:00 A. M. - 12:00 noon each Sunday, is working out for the benefit and happiness of entire families. From 10:00 - 10:50 there is a church study group to meet the need of each individual. At that hour next Sunday, March 13, the Men's Brotherhood Bible class will have as guest speaker, Fr. Benjamin F. Bowling, C.S.P., who will take for his subject: "Why I Am A Catholic."

Following an established custom, the Protestant Girl Scouts of Winchester will worship in a body at the morning sanctuary service at 11:00 o'clock. They will participate in the service with the reading of the Scripture by Gail Collins; responsive reading led by Christina Page; prayer by Jean March; and Judy Cairncross, Arlys Harrington, Betsy Bolster and Helen Bolster serving as ushers.

This service will include special Lenten music by the minister of music, the church choir and the church soloist. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey has chosen for his sermon title "Comfort or Adventure?"

First Baptist Church welcomes the Girl Scouts, their leaders, their parents and friends to this service.

VISITED STAR

Troop 29 of the Girl Scout Brownies visited the Star press room last Thursday and watched the paper being printed, folded and addressed for distribution. The girls were much interested in the various operations.

Among the Brownies were Karen Armstrong, Joanne Sousa, Betty Bixler, Nancy Main, Betsy Woodward, Margaret Harmon, Bonney Smith, Carol Palmer and Linda White.

With the girls were Mrs. Charles T. Main, II, leader, and Mrs. Daniel Sousa.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Noonan School Mothers' Association plan an exciting show, "Fashions in Song" on Wednesday, March 23rd at 3:15 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Smart clothing for the school set from Childland and Chitel's Shops of Winchester will be modeled by boys and girls from all the grades.

Nancy LaRose will direct the exhibition with Mrs. Olga Wright making the commentary.

All this and certificates entitling the holders of the lucky tickets to $5.00 in merchandise from both Childland and Chitel's for a modest admission fee. Pre-schoolers will be admitted free if parent attends.

Mrs. Eugene Lane of 760 Main street had a tea for Mr. Greer, fifth grade teacher at the Noonan School on the afternoon of Valentine's Day. In addition to fifth grade mothers Mr. Greer and his wife attended, as did Mrs. Lawrence Donlin, president of the Noonan School Mothers' Association.

Miss Leonor Rich, principal, discussed School problems.

Mrs. Philip Porter, Jr., gave a tea on February 8th, at her home at 166 Pond street in honor of Mrs. Mead, third grade teacher of the Noonan School.

Miss Rich, the principal, who attended with Miss Jurgenson spoke of the problems to be faced next year when the present third grades will have to be rearranged, with the possibility of combining two grades in one classroom. There was also a lively discussion on the pros and cons of teaching arithmetic tables in the third grade.

A delightful collation was enjoyed by all, as Mrs. Howard Nichols poured, aided by Mrs. Samuel Scherban, Mrs. Robert Paine, Mrs. Daniel Gaynor, and Mrs. Harry Lindmark.

W. H. S. DEBATE TEAM IN STATE TOURNAMENT

The Winchester High School Debate Team competed in the annual state tournament held at Emerson College on Saturday, February 27. Winchester was one of the 12 schools entered, and they debated the national high school topic: "Resolve: That the United States should institute a policy of free trade among friendly nations."

On the affirmative team for Winchester were Whitney Smith and David Moore, both sophomores; the negative team was composed of Richard Shaefer and Christina Page, member of the junior class. Winchester finished in a tie for fourth place, with a record of three wins and three losses. Considering the high caliber of the competition and the fact that the team had only about one week of real preparation, this is regarded as a real achievement.

The negative team won victories over Milton Academy and Wilbraham Academy, while losing to Lawrence Central. The affirmative team defeated Waltham and lost to Malden Catholic and Mission High School by close margins. The tournament was won by Mt. St. Joseph's Academy of Somerville, with Mission in second place. Miss Barbara Putnam, of Boston University, a student teacher in the speech department at the high school, proved to be a very competent coach for the Winchester debaters.

ROTARY NOTES

Edward Wild of the Gates Radio Manufacturing Company of New York was the speaker at yesterday's regular luncheon meeting of Winchester Rotary at Masonic Apartments. His subject was the radio short wave transmitter that Rotary is giving the high school, and his remarks were closely followed.

Jim Cullen of the local club was last week's speaker, talking about and demonstrating one of his favorite hobbies, thought analysis. There is no question that Jim has delved deeply into this subject and his exposition was unusual and most interesting.

The March 17 meeting of Winchester will be held in the evening, jointly with the Winchester Kiwanis and Lions. This will be the first of a series of joint gatherings by the three service groups and a large attendance is looked for.

MARYCLIFF ACADEMY ANNUAL SCIENCE FAIR

On Saturday, March 12 and Sunday, March 13, Marycliff Academy will hold its eighth Annual Science Fair in the school auditorium. Eighteen students from the junior and sophomore classes, and twenty-nine freshmen will display projects in the fields of Biology, Chemistry, General Science and Mathematics. The exhibits will be judged on Saturday afternoon. Mother Maguire, R.C.E. of Jeanne d'Arc Academy, Milton, Brother Harold, C.F.X., of St. John's Preparatory, Danvers, and Mr. Raymond Scott of Rindge Tech., Cambridge, will judge the sophomore and junior exhibits. The winners of the first three awards will participate in the Diocesan Science Fair held at Boston College on March 25 and 26.

The freshmen exhibits will be judged by Sister Leona Julie, S.N.D., of St. Charles High School, Woburn, Mr. Joseph O'Brien of Concord High School and Mr. Mason King of Harvard University. The first prize winner of the freshman exhibits will receive a certificate of excellence in Science from the Archdiocese.

Reverend Mother Cloonan, R.C.E., will award the prizes on Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p. m.

The fair is open to the public on both afternoons from 2:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUTS PLAN BIG RALLY

The public will have an opportunity to see Winchester's 250 Boy Scouts in action on Saturday evening, April 2nd, when the boys are planning to present a demonstration of Scouting skills in the Winchester town Hall.

Scout competitions will include fire-lighting, knot-tying, bugling, Morse signalling and tug-of-war. The Robinson Whitten Trophy, now held by Troop 3 of the First Congregational Church, will be awarded to the Troop with the highest rally score. In addition, the Kenneth Hall Trophy, now held by Troop 7 of the First Baptist Church, will be presented to the Troop with the best Scout advancement rating for the year. A new award, the James M. Joslin Trophy, will go to the town's outstanding Explorer Post of older Scouts.

The purpose of the rally is to give parents, relatives and interested townspeople a first-hand picture of Boy Scouting in Winchester. There is no admission charge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

HIGH SCHOOL THESPIANS ATTENDED DRAMA CONFERENCE

Winchester High School students attended the High School Drama Conference sponsored by the Massachusetts High School Drama Guild, the National Thespians, and Emerson College on Saturday, March 5. Student groups from high schools in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire, enjoyed the varied program that included a general meeting, a talent show, a rehearsal of a play by Emerson College students, and a series of workshop discussions.

Representing Winchester were the following: Chandra Carlson, Nancy Corey, Jeanne McKenzie, Susan Pond, Andrea Chapin, Elizabeth Hood, Barbara Eaton, Judith Fowler, Robert Becker, and Paul Donlon. Speech instructor Thomas Morse was assisted by three of his pupils in presenting a panel discussion of Thespian Activities. The pupils were Chandra Carlson, Nancy Corey, and Jeanne McKenzie.

COMMUNION SUPPER

In place of the regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, March 2, the members of St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club attended evening mass and received communion. Immediately after mass, they adjourned to St. Mary's Hall for a catered communion supper which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

After dinner the group joined in community singing under the direction of John Camuso, who later rendered a selection of solos, accompanied by his wife, Antonette.

The chairmen for the evening were Rita and Joseph Collins. Madeline and Arthur Sullivan were in charge of tickets, Lillian and Charles Newton arranged for the caterer and John and Antonette Camuso were chairmen of the entertainment.

Because the date of the April meeting would fall in Holy Week, the meeting will take place on the second Wednesday of the month, April 13.

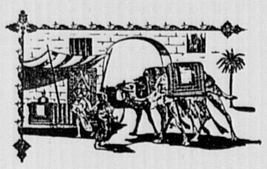

IRISH FROLIC FOR ST. MARY'S YOUTH

The new St. Mary's Hall will be the "Bit of Old Erin," for Irish and modern recorded music. Michael Grimes is Chairman and is ably assisted by John DeCourcey, Dennis McCormick, and a group of "colleens" who will provide the refreshments.

Father Joseph McCall invites the parents of the youngsters to come and enjoy these gatherings. One hundred and ninety boys and girls attended the February social.

"THE WILD WORLD"

The Men's Club of the First Congregational Church of Winchester will hold its monthly supper meeting on Tuesday, March 15th, at 6:30 p. m. in Chidley Hall. Mr. Henry Bugbee Kane will lecture on "The Wild World," illustrated with kodachrome slides.

Henry B. Kane, Director of the Alumni Fund at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology since 1940, is nationally known as a nature photographer, illustrator, and author of books on wild life.

As a boy Mr. Kane became greatly interested in nature, and while still in grade school he developed an unusual aptitude in photography. The effective combination of these two interests started a career which has won him recognition as one of the country's foremost nature photographers. Exhibitions of his work have been held in the American Museum of Natural History and in the principal cities throughout the country. His nature articles and illustrations have appeared in national magazines for years.

Although his nature writing and photography are still avocations, Mr. Kane has achieved spectacular results with the Edgerton method of high-speed photography. His photograph of a leaping trout, taken at a speed of 1/30,000th of a second was described as "the greatest sport picture of all time"; and his photographs of birds in flight have revealed important information on the subject.

Not to be outdone by the girls, the boys of the High School Chorus known as the "Keynotes" and trained by Miss Anifantis will present a program of religious and semi-classical music.

Supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. sharp.

ENTERTAINED BALLET

Mr. Russell D. Curry, director of the Curry School of Dancing, was host with his staff, Ron Greenwood, Harry Raymond and Walter Brown, at his Commonwealth avenue apartment in Boston Friday, February 25, at an after-theatre supper party for the company of the London Festival Ballet of London, England. The occasion for the party was a farewell to the company which ended its six-months tour of Canada and the United States in Boston Saturday evening and left last week for England.

Look high and low...

1. You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars or stripped economy models of higher-priced makes!

2. Only Pontiac gives you luxury-car size plus the sensational Strato-Streak V-8!

Biggest car at its price (122" and 124" wheelbases). Most powerful car at its price (180 horsepower). Only car at any price with distinctive Vogue Two-Tone Styling and the riding and driving ease of the torsion-free, Shock-proof Chassis.

The most enthusiastic Pontiac owners we have are those who have taken this advice. They've looked the field over from top to bottom—and returned to Pontiac with a new appreciation of the tremendous value that has been engineered and built into this smart car.

Pontiac is way up there with costly cars in wheelbase, roominess and riding ease. It's big, comfortable, yet handles with expensive sports car nimbleness.

The exciting dash and compelling drive of the Strato-Streak V-8 produce the richest thrills in motoring. And Pontiac is America's most distinctive car in styling as well as in action.

Come in today for the facts about this "all-time" value leader, and get our generous appraisal of your present automobile. Find out how little cash it actually takes to switch to a big, powerful, future-fashioned Pontiac.

and you'll go Pontiac!

"WINGS OF GOLD" TO ENSIGN JONES

WINS NAVAL AVIATOR'S WINGS

The "Wings of Gold" of a Naval aviator and his commission were awarded to Navy Ens. Marshall W. Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall W. Jones of 27 Ridgefield road, on February 2 at Pensacola, Fla.

He was graduated from Governor Dummer Academy and completed his course at Newton Junior College before entering the service in April, 1953. He served as an enlisted man before entering the Naval Aviation Cadet Program, training at Pensacola and Kingsville, Texas.

The presentation of his commission and wings was made to ensign Jones by Navy Capt. M. H. Tuttle, chief of staff to the chief of Naval Air Basic Training, during ceremonies at the U. S. Naval Air Station in Pensacola.

Along with other Navy and Marine Corps student pilots, Ensign Jones completed nearly twenty months of intensive flight training to earn his wings. He is now stationed at the Naval Air Station in Norfolk, Va., where he has been assigned to anti-submarine service.

HAVE YOUR MOWER READY

Middlesex Rentool, located nearby in Burlington on Route 3 suggests that thought be given now to the servicing of lawnmowers. All mowers should be sharpened and re-adjusted for cutting height at this time. Engines or motors on power mowers should be cleaned, checked and adjusted now, for that "first cutting" is actually only a matter of weeks away!

"Rentool," the first organization in this section to make fine tools available on a rental basis to the "Do-It-Yourself" homeowners of Winchester, has expanded its service facilities so that they can handle this work for you. Its service shop at Burlington has the latest, most modern equipment and the service men have all been factory trained. Rentool is an authorized service station for many mower manufacturers and most leading engine manufacturers and supplies of parts are maintained.

"Rentool" is represented in Winchester by genial Bill Richardson, proprietor of the Winchester Cycle Shop at 612 Main street, opposite the old First National store. Take your mower problems to Bill now and benefit from the low winter rates for service work. Your mower will be stored at no extra charge until you are ready for it. Either bring your mower in now or call WInchester 6-2885 for further information, but Do It Now and beat the spring rush and delay.

PARISH PLAYERS' TRY-OUTS

For all men and women interested in little theatre activity, try-outs for the Parish Players' spring offering, "Miranda," will be held Monday evening, March 14, at 7:45 o'clock in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church.

"Miranda" is the delightful story of a lovely mermaid who comes, unannounced, to visit the London apartment of a famous doctor and his wife, with many complications following. After all, mermaids do make awkward house guests!

There are five excellent roles for women, and three starring ones for men. Mr. Harlan F. Grant of the drama department, Boston Conservatory, and the Weston (Vt.) Playhouse, will direct.

The dates of the play will be April 28, 29 and 30.

DESSERT-BRIDGE AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

On Thursday evening, March 17, at 8:00, the ways and means committee of the George Washington School Mothers' Association will hold a dessert-bridge for the mothers and fathers in the school auditorium.

There will be tables of bridge, canasta, and scrabble, an assortment of door prizes, and a delicious dessert served by the ways and means committee headed by Mrs. David Choate and the social committee under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Preston.

It promises to be a delightful way to spend the evening of St. Patrick's Day.

It may be true that poverty is no disgrace, but never has it been used as a testimonial of ability.

AID IN NEW POWER SQUADRON

A new unit of the United States Power Squadrons, known as the Charles River Power Squadron, has just been chartered. Several local men have taken an active part in the formation of this new Squadron.

J. Wilson Armstrong of 2 Ravenscroft road is on the Executive Committee. He is a past Commander of the Middletown Power Squadron, Middletown, Conn. He has been active in Power Squadron work for twenty years. His sloop "Sea Horse V" is a familiar sight along the North Shore. Mr. Armstrong is also serving on the Rendezvous Cruise Committee.

Richard C. Ashenden of 99 Pond street and skipper of the thirty-four foot yawl "Holiday" is a Lieutenant in the new Squadron, Member at Large of the Executive Committee, and chairman of two important committees—Rendezvous and Cruise, and Auxiliary Race. He also handled the reservations for the Charter Party which was held at the Continental Hotel in Cambridge on Saturday, March 5.

Alfred A. Lawrence of 66 Grove street is a Senior Lieutenant, member of the Executive Committee and Public Relations Officer. His forty foot power boat, a sportfisherman, "Excuse Me II," is moored at Hyannis on Cape Cod.

James B. L. Lane of 8 Ardley road, owner of the cutter "Mit-Me," is on the Auxiliary Race Committee. This is his eighth year in USPS.

The United States Power Squadrons, now in its forty-second year, consists of 177 Squadron units with 27,000 members spread all over the United States and possessions. Although there is no military connection with the United States Government its Constitution states, "The objects of the United States Power Squadrons shall be to establish a high standard of skill in the handling and navigation of yachts, to encourage the study of the science of navigation, to cooperate with the agencies of the United States Government charged with the enforcement of the laws and regulations relating to navigation and to stimulate interest in activities which will tend to the upbuilding of our Navy, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine."

Free classes in navigation, small boat handling, and safety at sea are being offered to the public by the Charles River Power Squadron. Registration will be held Monday, March 14, at 7:00 p. m. in the Rindge Tech High School, 1700 Cambridge street, Cambridge, Mass. Those interested in taking the course should go to room 259, and use the School Committee entrance. They should contact Cushing W. Ellis, 46 Oakwood road, Auburndale 66, Mass. Home phone BI 4-0557, Office phone CO 6-5800.

The course consists of ten weekly lectures. Subjects covered include rules of the nautical road, equipment required by law, seamanship, the compass, and chartwork. Classes are open to men and women, regardless of whether or not they own a boat.

ABBOTT ELECTED NEWS EDITOR

Walter D. Abbott, Jr., of Lawson road, has been elected News Editor of "The Panel," the student newspaper at Belmont Hill School. Abbott's election was announced before a gathering of 70 fathers and sons honoring the editors of the paper, at a banquet last Tuesday night.

Abbott, who is also an honor student and manager of the Belmont Hill soccer team, has been in competition with six other boys for editorial positions on the staff.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Mrs. Murray Horwood of Cambridge will speak at the First Congregational Church when the Women's Association meets on Wednesday, March 16, at two o'clock in Chidley Hall. Her subject, on which she is eminently qualified to speak, is "A Woman's Impressions after Two Years in Burma." She comes, not as a missionary, but as the wife of a professor who in 1952 was asked by President Killian of M.I.T. to direct the rehabilitation program of the Engineering College at the University of Rangoon.

This was an educational project combining the efforts of M.I.T., the State Department, and the Government of the Union of Burma (the Point Four Program), and known as the U.S. Technical Cooperation Administration.

For two years Mrs. Horwood lived in Burma, adjusted to an entirely different way of living, keenly observed the country and its people, and was chosen to head the American Women's Group of Rangoon.

She has been president of the Technology Matrons at M.I.T., and is a past president of the Boston Women's City Club. The Women's Association is proud to present Mrs. Horwood as their guest, and they wish to invite members and friends to come to hear her.

The Home Church and Social Service Guild will be hostesses at the tea following the meeting.

TO SING AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Mystic Glee Club's fame is well known throughout Winchester and surrounding towns and once more the community has a real inspirational treat in store Wednesday evening, March 16, when the Club will furnish the music at the Union Lenten Service at the First Baptist Church. The following selections will be rendered:

"O, Holy Father" G. P. dePalestrina
"Heavenly Light" A. Kopylow
"Were You There" arr. H. T. Burleigh

An additional highlight of the service will be a message by Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, entitled "The Man Who Was Afraid." This will be the fourth of the Union Lenten Services and a sincere invitation is extended to all.

Planned expansion of electric utility facilities along the Ohio and Tennessee Rivers are expected to require 25,000,000 tons of coal a year by 1958, since all projected facilities will use only coal fuel.

THOMAS HOLTON HOARE

CONFERENCE CHAIRMAN

Thomas Holton Hoare of 101 Church street, Boston public relations counsel, will preside at the opening session of the biennial conference of the Association of New England Chests and Councils to be held in Providence, R. I., April 14 and 15, it was announced today by Mrs. James Howard Means of Boston, president of the organization which includes more than 100 Community Chests, United Funds and Community Councils in the six New England States.

"The operations of the New England Community Chests are 'big business'," Mrs. Means said. "Last year, New Englanders contributed more than 22 million dollars through 105 community funds toward the support of some 1400 social, health and welfare agencies which provided services to more than three million people."

More than 250 key volunteer workers will attend the Providence sessions. Among the speakers will be Louis B. Seltzer, dynamic editor of the Cleveland Press; Alfred Williams, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia; Dr. Chester S. Keefer, special assistant to the secretary of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare; Frederick Griffiths, manager of WJAR-TV, Providence; Francis W. Hatch, New England representative for Batton, Barton, Durstine & Osborne, who will be the 1955 chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund; and others representing the various New England organizations.

If you paddle your own canoe, there's no one to rock the boat.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

On Sunday morning, March 13, St. Mary's Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass, after which breakfast will be served at St. Mary's Hall preceding the regular monthly business meeting and speaker.

This month the Society is fortunate in having the Rev. John E. Murphy, S.J., Ph.D., as announced by President Herbert J. Cleary, whose son, Richard, is studying for the Jesuit Order and endorses the speaker very highly.

Fr. Murphy has chosen for his topic, "Ireland in the News," and is well qualified to speak on this subject since he spent four years in Ireland while he was obtaining his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the National University of Ireland. He travelled from one end of the country to the other and was able to obtain first-hand information about the people, their religion, particularly their religious outlook, their economic status and their literature and traditions.

Since his return to this country, Fr. Murphy has been professor of Irish literature in the Boston College Graduate School and has lectured widely on various phases of Ireland's past and present, her literature, her history and her contributions to the world.

With such an authority on the subject and with St. Patrick's Day coming along later in the week this subject should be most interesting and timely.

Sports Nite

Chairman Ted O'Rourke of the Holy Name Father-Son Sports Nite reports fine enthusiasm for this affair scheduled to take place on Sunday evening, March 20, at St. Mary's Hall. Besides the movies of the Notre Dame-Oklahoma football game, there will also be the Marciano-Charles fight movies unless something intervenes at the last moment. The committee is busy at present endeavoring to obtain interesting sports celebrities. More details at the regular meeting

Bowling Tournament

The special activities committee of the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name Societies announces that entries of the second annual bowling tournament be filed by March 20 at the latest. The tournament will take place on May 8 and members of winning teams and individual winners will be guests at a big banquet at which trophies will be awarded. It is expected that St. Mary's will enter a team after doing so well in the town league to date.

FLUORIDATION COMMITTEE REPORT

At the town meeting of March 22, 1954, it was voted that a committee be appointed to study the advisability of fluoridating the Town Water Supply. In accordance with this vote, a committee was appointed on October 13 including Dr. Benson from the Board of Health, Mr. Freeman from the Water and Sewer Board, Mr. Hall from the Finance Committee and four members appointed by the Moderator.

The Committee was appointed to "study the advisability of fluoridation of the town water supply and report to the town." This is the Committee's Report.

First, let us define "fluoridation." Whenever the word "fluoridation" is used in this report it is meant to stand for the addition of a fluoride, such as sodium fluoride, under the supervision of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health to the public water supply to bring the concentration of fluorides up to one part per million.

Your Committee has divided its study into three sections:

1. Is fluoridation effective and safe?
2. If fluoridation is effective and safe does Winchester require it?
3. Is fluoridation legal and ethical?

To answer the first two sections requires medical experience, knowledge and research which, obviously, most of your Committee does not have. Our recommendations must, therefore, be based on the consensus of recognized medical authorities. To this end we took the following steps:

a. Polled all Doctors and Dentists resident in Winchester asking their advice on fluoridating the town's water supply.
b. Conducted an open hearing which was publicized in the Winchester Star by a Notice and an Editorial and by Notices mailed to all Town Meeting Members.
c. Consulted Town and State Public Health Authorities.
d. Consulted Dr. Shaw of Harvard Medical School, the authority who has been appointed by the American Association for the Advancement of Science to compile all available facts on fluoridation for review by the country's leading scientists.
e. Compiled and studied a large volume of the available literature and reports of Medical Associations and Research Groups and Medical Universities on the subject of Fluoridation.

The following is a summary of the salient points bearing on the first two sections and your Committee's conclusions:

1. Is fluoridation effective and safe?

People in sections of the world where the water supply contains over 1 part per million of fluorides have less tooth decay than other people.

In answer to a question concerning the length of time the benefits from fluoridation last, Dr. Shaw, at the open hearing, stated that the protective influence of fluoridation goes on into adult life with 40% to 60% less tooth decay than in adults who grew up in fluoride deficient areas.

Controlled tests lasting for years have been made in the following combinations of cities where the water of one city was fluoridated up to 1 part per million, and the water of the other city stayed at a normal level of less than 1 part per million of fluorides:

1 p.p.m.	less than 1 p.p.m.
Grand Rapids, Mich.	Muskegon, Mich.
Southbury, Conn.	Mansfield, Conn.
Newburgh, N. Y.	Kingston, N. Y.
Brantford, Ontario	Sarnia, Ontario
Evanston, Ill.	Sheboygan, Wis.

In each test the rate of tooth decay among people who had fluoridated water while they were children was less than the rate among those whose water supply was not fluoridated.

A poll of all Medical and Dental Colleges and Universities in the United States and Canada was conducted by a committee appointed by the Canadian Government in 1954. 69 recommended fluoridation. 6 had no opinion. None opposed fluoridation.

In the poll of Winchester doctors and dentists 47 were in favor of immediate fluoridation; 6 recommended waiting; 2 were opposed, 39 did not reply to the questionnaire.

All doctors and dentists at the Committee's open hearing were in favor of immediate fluoridation.

In the Appendix is a list of the scientific and medical organizations that have gone on record as favoring fluoridation. The Committee could find no scientific organization that opposes fluoridation.

For these and other reasons the Committee concludes from the overwhelming weight of scientific evidence in its favor that fluoridation is both effective and safe.

2. If fluoridation is effective and safe, does Winchester require it?

The public water supply of Winchester contains one tenth p.p.m. of fluorides. There is no other way to supply fluorides to our water supply except to add it in the same way and with the same type of control now used in adding chlorine.

The dentists at the open hearing expressed the opinion that tooth decay was a serious problem for the children of this town.

The Committee could find no evidence of satisfactory substitution for fluoridation.

For those reasons and others the Committee concludes that Winchester requires fluoridation.

The third section of our inquiry has both legal and moral factors:

3. Is fluoridation legal and ethical?

Fluoridation is legal. The Supreme Court of the United States has ruled its enactment does not violate any right guaranteed to United States citizens by the Constitution.

The problem of whether or not to impose an unwanted type of action, because of religious, philosophical or any other reasons, on a minority group when the majority feels it to be for the public good has always confronted a democracy, in many of its actions. In a sense this problem had to be faced in the chlorination of public water supplies . . . in the pasteurization of milk . . .in the required innoculation against small pox . . . in the right of eminent domain that takes a man's house or property for the common good.

The preponderance of weight of scientific evidence that fluoridation is an act in the best interest of the commonweal is so great that the Committee concludes that fluoridation is both legal and ethical.

For the above reasons and others contained in the article in the Appendix the Committee recommends that Winchester fluoridate the Town Water Supply according to the requirements of the State Department of Public Health and that $8,500 be appropriated to purchase and install the necessary equipment under the direction of the Water and Sewer Board.

Respectfully submitted,
Edward G. Barker, Chairman
Harry L. Benson, M.D.
Kenneth S. Hall
Richard C. Cunningham
Robert W. Reynolds
Evelyn R. Russell

As the representative of the Water and Sewer Board on this Committee, I would like to indicate the unanimous opinion of our Board that fluoridation of the Winchester water supply should be adopted only after providing an opportunity at a town election for each citizen to register his or her opinion in regard to its desirability.

As an individual citizen on the Committee I respect the opinion and sincerity of the majority—but do not agree with several of the categorical statements in the report—do not agree with all its conclusions—and do not believe that the town meeting should approve fluoridation at this time. Consequently, I cannot sign the report.

To me, fluoridation is still in the experimental stage. Important experiments and check tests on fluoridation and its possible adverse effect on the adult population are still under way. Ultimately, after further experiment and medical study, the questions and sincere doubts of many people on this subject may be resolved. When this stage is reached and with more convincing evidence on this score, I could well endorse fluoridation enthusiastically.

As of now, however, I am not sufficiently convinced by the evidence to want fluoridation for my own family or myself—or to feel justified in forcing fluoridation upon those in town who are sincerely doubtful about its advisability.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowledge of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all new comers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3258 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

THE LAST TIME I SAW PARIS MAT 1-A

AT WINCHESTER THEATER
MARCH 9, 10, 11 AND 12

Elizabeth Taylor and Van Johnson are the young lovers of "The Last Time I Saw Paris," romantic drama of two young Americans who meet during the frenzied celebration of post-war Paris and whose marriage proves a stormy one. The new M-G-M picture, filmed in Technicolor, is based on a story by F. Scott Fitzgerald, with many of its scenes filmed in Paris, Cannes, Nice, Marseilles and Monte Carlo. Walter Pidgeon and Donna Reed are others in a stellar cast.

TELEPHONE BRIDGE

Bridge and canasta will be the order of the day March 24 when the Friends of the Winchester Hospital sponsor their annual telephone bridge.

Each Friend, including those from Reading, Stoneham, Wilmington, Lexington, and other surrounding towns, is invited to be a hostess for one or more tables of bridge or canasta at her home. Play commences at 2:00 P. M. and ceases promptly at 4:00 p. m.

Prizes will be awarded upon fulfillment of such requirements as 150 honors, slams, and highest score reported during the afternoon. The hostess will telephone committee headquarters when such scores have been obtained by one or more of her guests.

Mrs. Warren Jackson of 19 Town Way is in charge of reservations. Other members of the committee include Mrs. Frederick C. Rozelle, Jr., chairman of ways and means for the Friends; Mrs. James B. L. Lane, Mrs. Richard B. Small, Mrs. George L. Snow, and Mrs. Edward S. Rendall. Acting in an advisory capacity is Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, president of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

Among those who have already made reservations for the event are Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. Nicholas J. Grant, Mrs. Charles W. Blanchard, and Mrs. Nelson C. Fontneau.

LEGISLATIVE LUNCHEON

The increase in urban living and consequent lessening of social controls by the community is one of the prime reasons for the increase in juvenile delinquency, Mr. John D. Coughlin, director of the Youth Service Board, told guests at the legislative luncheon sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Winchester Friday, March 4, at the Crawford Methodist Church.

Mr. Coughlin explained that while the Youth Service Board is a correction system maintained for the protection of society the real object of its protection is the prevention of crime.

Mrs. Alan Morse, State League Board member, explained the League's position on legislation currently being considered by the General Court.

WINCHESTER HOMEFRONTERS

On Wednesday, February 23, the first executive board meeting for the current year was held at the home of Mrs. Harold H. Given, the new executive chairman. Members present were, in addition to Mrs. Given, Mrs. Robert Apsey, Mrs. Vincent F. Erhard, Mrs. William Frizzell, Mrs. Frank Hawkins, Mrs. Thornton Jesdale, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. Percival Smith, and Mrs. Carl Thomas.

After coffee was served, Mrs. Given presided, and reports were read by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Thomas, and Mrs. Smith. It was voted to have a food sale in the near future, with Mrs. Frank Hawkins as chairman. Proceeds will go toward sending of gifts and messages for birthdays and Christmas to our service men and women. Perhaps by reading some of the letters received from the boys in the service recently, such as the following, our townspeople can appreciate how welcome these remembrances are.

Cherry Point, N. C.
January 25, 1955

Dear Homefronters:

I want to thank you all very much for the birthday card you sent me. It was very much appreciated. I shall always remember the Homefronters and all they have done for me since I've been in the service.

Thank you once again and wishing all of you the best of everything in the New Year,
Sincerely yours,
Howard (Rennie) Goodrow

APO New York, N. Y.

To the Winchester Homefronters:

I am extremely sorry for delaying in thanking you for the gift parcel that you sent to me for Christmas. Even though I was stationed at Fort Devens at the time, I now realize what a morale booster a gift from home is. I have been in Europe only a few weeks and I firmly believe that there is no place like home, especially when it has people in it like those in Winchester. I have only lived in Winchester for two years, and it is one of the friendliest towns that I have ever lived in.

Gift packages and letters are one of the few contacts a G I has with the States, and they create a great deal of pleasure for those who receive them. More towns should follow this policy and keep up the soldier's morale. Many thanks again for the gift package, and my sincerest apologies for not having written earlier.

Pfc. William S. Day

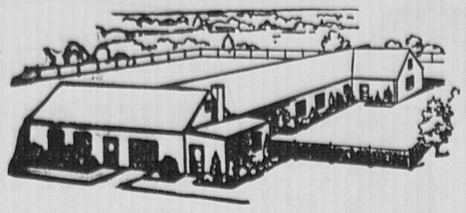

Letters have also been received from others that will be published in another issue. If there is a change of address for any of our service men or women we would appreciate having this information from the parents. The files are kept up to date at our public library by Mrs. William Cusack, and are kept confidential, with no one else having access to them.

Another most necessary subject is that of donations. Mr. Ralph Hatch at the Savings Bank is the treasurer, and will be happy to accept and acknowledge any donations, no matter how small or large.

You can get rid of your past by building a future out of it.

Winchester had a real snow storm last Friday, a driving wind making the wet snow hard to face and handle. Several inches fell during the day and as the glass fell rapidly during the afternoon the slush quickly turned to ice, making both driving and walking hazardous. The Highway Department did a good job on the streets and a damp mild Sunday took off most of the ice remaining. It snowed again early Wednesday morning, but little fell and rapidly rising temperatures quickly relieved the slippery conditions prevailing during the forenoon.

ZONING HEARING

It took two meetings, Tuesday and Wednesday evening, to conclude the Planning Board hearings on proposed changes in the town's zoning map. Harrison Lyman presided in the absence of Chairman Ralph Bonnell and about 75 were present Tuesday evening. Not more than 35 attended Wednesday's session, which ended at 11:44.

Opposition was still expressed to re-zoning Rangely for business to provide additional parking, but the Rangely group had no objection to the use of land now zoned for business adjacent to Rangely at the rear of stores on Church street, though there was definite opposition to the inclusion of an access driveway from Church street to this business-zoned land.

No opposition was voiced to the proposal to zone for business that town-owned land at the rear of the fire and police stations, extending from the land in that area now zoned for business to the new diversionary highway through the Skillings estate.

An attempt was made to effect a compromise with respect to the controversial land at the foot of Nathaniel and Tufts road. Residents of the area wish to zone all land between the westerly ends of those streets to the railroad tracks for general residence. The Planning Board wishes to leave a buffer of general residence land adjacent to the extremities of the roads in question, but to place three hundred feet of land from the tracks easterly in the industrial zone. Final decision in this matter is still to be made by the Planning Board.

Opposition was voiced to placing in a business zone all land not now occupied by business lying on Swanton street from the railroad tracks to the river.

TOWN MEETING MONDAY

Winchester will hold its first session of the limited town meeting on Monday at 7:45 p. m. at the town hall. A warrant of 67 articles awaits action by the precinct members and with many questions of an extremely controversial nature, those acquainted with town procedure feel that several sessions will be necessary to transact all the business.

MYSTIC SCHOOL ARITHMETIC DEMONSTRATION

On Wednesday, March 16, at 1:15 p. m. the Mystic School Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association held its fifth meeting of the year.

Mrs. Lynwood Bryant, president, conducted a short business meeting of the secretary's minutes and the treasurer's report, and the members of the chapter voted on the revised version of the by-laws.

Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, the chairman of Precinct 3 in the townwide drive for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, spoke on a new plan to raise money for the Foundation. The drive will begin April 10th and end April 17th. It will be preceded by mailed explanatory matter and a card to be filled out, and followed by a house to house canvass.

Mrs. Ganson Taggart was the next speaker and invited all people interested in the dramatic presentation of material—teachers, Sunday school teachers, Brownie and Scout troop leaders, and parents—to come to the Creative Dramatics Demonstration Monday, March 28th, in the school auditorium at the close of the afternoon session. This course is unique in Winchester.

Mrs. Bryant announced a vacation treat for the Mystic School children on Monday, April 18th at 2:30 p. m. when Mr. Gilbert Merrill of the Museum of Science will speak.

Mrs. Bryant then turned the meeting over to Mr. Joseph C. Forte, principal of Mystic School, for the Arithmetic Demonstration. Mr. Forte introduced six teachers: Mrs. Barbara J. Eason, Grade 1; Miss Eileen Cummings, Grade 2; Mrs. Mildred Parsons, Grade 3; Miss Lydia J. Whittemore, Grade 4; Miss Margaret A. Millican, Grade 5; and Miss Gladys L. Wood, Grade 6. Each teacher, with a representative group of children from her grade, showed the techniques and charts and manipulative devices used for a meaningful approach to the study of numbers with special emphasis on subtraction. This demonstration was similar in purpose to the Reading Demonstration that the Mystic School staff presented last year. It was designed to acquaint parents with the present methods used in teaching arithmetic in the elementary school and to bring parents greater understanding of the material their children are being taught.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry V. Gilson, members of the Winchester School Committee, Miss Marian Phipps the reading consultant of the Winchester school, and guests from other chapters of Winchester's elementary schools were invited.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by Mrs. Norman S. Stafford and her tea committee.

KAMMERLING — DICKMAN

Announcement has made by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond John Dickman of 19 Hancock street of the marriage of their daughter Betty Jeanne to Dr. Friedrich Karl Kammerling, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Kammerling of Berlin, Germany. The marriage took place Tuesday, March 8, in Karlsruhe, Germany.

After a wedding trip in the Tyrolean Alps, Dr. and Mrs. Kammerling will reside in Karlsruhe, Germany, until June, at which time they will return to the United States.

BARBERSHOP QUARTETS

Advance interest in the appearance of a number of the better Barbershop Quartets, including the Famous Pittsburghers, at the town hall Saturday evening, April 16, indicates that a capacity crowd will enjoy this attraction being brought to Winchester by Winchester Post, 97, A. L.

Many stores about town have tickets for this musical treat and those planning to attend shouldn't tarry too long for best selection.

SELECTMEN ORGANIZE

At a recent organization meeting of the Board of Selectmen, William C. Cusack and Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr., were chosen as successive chairmen, Mr. Cusack serving for six months until Labor Day and Mr. Wadsworth taking over then for the remainder of the year. They will cooperate in the handling of articles at the coming town meeting.

MICHAEL H. HINTLIAN

Michael H. Hintlian of 115 Church street, prominent confectioner, died Saturday, March 12, at the Deaconess Hospital in Boston, following a two-weeks illness, at the age of 62. He had been actively engaged in business up to the time he entered the hospital for a check-up.

Born in Harpoot, Armenia, Mr. Hintlian was the son of Hagop, and Mary (Shaghalian) Hintlian. He came to this country as a boy and settled in Boston, attending school in that city.

As a youth he went to work for his uncle, Sarkis G. Shaghalian, proprietor of a small confectionery business, and when Mr. Shaghalian died in 1914, Mr. Hintlian took over the business. Through his industry and management the business, Shaghalian, Inc., confectionery manufacturers, prospered and grew to a nationally-known concern.

In 1923 Mr. Hintlian formed the John W. Leavitt Co., peanut products firm, at 195-197 State street, of which he was treasurer. He was also treasurer of Shaghalian, Inc., and was really the controlling owner of both firms. He was a charter member of the Confectioners Association, a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society and a member and part owner of the Rockport Golf Club.

Mr. Hintlian married Margaret Terry of Somerville July 19, 1920, and the next year they came to Winchester, living first at 17 Chestnut street, and since 1932 at their Church street address.

Mrs. Hintlian survives, with a son, James T., and a daughter, Adeline, both of Winchester; two brothers, Coren and Harold Hintlian, both of Belmont; a sister, Mrs. George Aslanian of Arlington; and three grandchildren, Michael, Matthew and Mark Hintlian.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Joseph P. McCall was celebrant, Rev. Charles E. Anadore, deacon, and Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, subdeacon.

Seated in the sanctuary, with St. Mary's pastor, Rev. John M. Manion, were Rev. John J. Watson, St. Leo's, Dorchester; Rev. George W. Casey and Rev. Cornelius J. Hogan, St. Brigid's, Lexington; Rev. Christopher C. O'Neill, Lynn Catholic Charities Center; Rt. Rev. James H. Doyle, St. Patrick's, Roxbury; Rt. Rev. Robert B. Barry, L.L.D., St. Clement's, West Somerville; Very Rev. Phillip J. Kearney, Catholic Charitable Bureau, Boston; and Rev. John H. Flynn of Graniteville.

Bearers were William Cummings and Norman Aveney of Belmont, Frank Toomey of Melrose, William Joyce and William Doe of Cambridge, Arthur Dorr of Boston, Herbert Chesley of White Plains, N. Y., Edward Goodspeed of Brookline and Frank Burns of Winchester. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

UNUSUAL RUNS

The fire department had two unusual calls last Friday afternoon, the first to a Kenwin road home in response to the report that a five-year-old girl had caught her hand in a piano.

The firefighters found upon their arrival that the child had caught her hand in the key cover of the instrument, and that Dr. Charles Rooney, who was already on the scene, had freed the frightened youngster. She was not badly hurt.

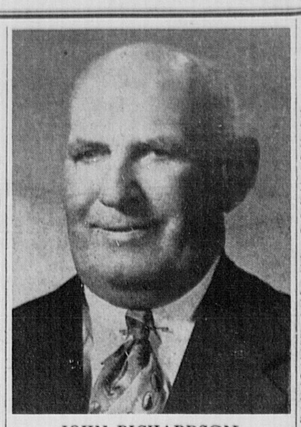

Less than an hour later the department was called to Lockeland road, where the men found a hut ablaze in the top of a pine tree. The high wind was creating a dangerous situation and the firefighters got a line on the hut to extinguish the blaze. Children smoking in the hut is blamed for the fire.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of contagious diseases was reported to the board of health for week ending Wednesday, March 16:

- 25 cases of Measles
- 2 cases of Scarlet Fever
- 3 cases of Dog Bite
- 1 case of Hepatitis

JOHN RICHARDSON

OLD TIMER RETIRES

RICHARDSON TOWN EMPLOYEE NEARLY 50 YEARS

On March 16, 1955, John Richardson of 58 Nelson street severed his connection with the town highway department to enjoy a well-merited retirement. Jack, as he is familiarly called by his legion of friends, has been a member of the highway crew for 47 years, which span of employment is considered something of a record by those who keep track of such records. In addition to his service on the highway job, Jack served as a call fireman for 28 years. A book could be written of his experiences in the past history of our local fire department.

Born March 16, 1890, on the second floor of the made-over structure which now houses the Winchester Drug Co. Store, Jack Richardson attended Winchester Schools and grew up into a fine, every-day kind of American small-town citizen.

At the age of 18 he joined the highway department, where he was soon promoted from laborer to driving one of the old-time tip carts. In 1924, he was assigned to a chauffeur's job on one of the town's big, new trucks.

He became well known to many of our West Side residents as a driver of the snow plow in their section. During ten of the years of this service he guided the old 5-ton tractor night and day, through the severe storms of those times.

He saw street superintendents come and go during the years, serving under Spates, Hinds, T. Parker Clarke, George Davidson (for a short period), Parker Holbrook, and Jim Wakefield.

In his reminiscences Jack likes best to regale his listeners with the exploits of the fire fighters as he served with them under Chiefs DeCourcey, Gorman and Callahan.

He was a member of the crew on the combination as it raced to the help of Woburn, the Winchester department doing valuable work at such fires as the Baptist Church conflagration, McGrath's big store, the tanneries and patent leather factories.

Jack has fond memories of old Mary Ann, our best-known piece of apparatus of the old horse-drawn days of fire fighting. He recalls the historic fire which burned out a large section of the city of Salem and the excitement as he and the other Winchester boys went tearing down to Salem on Combination A, following the old reliable Mary Ann, which was hitched to one of Kelley and Hawes' newly-motorized furniture trucks.

Those were important days in our town's development and Jack Richardson was a part of them. The Selectmen took proper notice of this fine service as the following letter testifies:

Office of the Selectmen
Town Hall
February 28, 1955

Mr. John Richardson
58 Nelson street
Winchester, Mass.

Dear John:

The Board of Selectmen wish to convey to you its sincere appreciation of your long and faithful service to the town.

Twenty-five years of service is a period usually identified as a lifetime of activity in one job. Forty-seven years allows us to conclude that the town has received some sort of a record benefit of loyalty and devotion to duty.

May you continue to prosper in health and vigor and live to enjoy the many years of pensioned life which lie ahead.

Very truly yours,
The Board of Selectmen
J. Joseph Tansey
Chairman

LINCOLN SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Fifth graders in Miss Beatrice Hutchinson's class at the Lincoln School combined their talents recently to present an interesting assembly in honor of February's many notable days.

In the opening the program, Announcer Douglas Wood spoke of the respect which we owe to February's greatest Americans, Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Then he invited the audience of pupils and parents to enjoy the play, "Her Royal Valentine."

Lucy Cushman ably played the part of the royal princess, while Robert Carroll and Sally Leighton were the royal parents. Frank Curtis was very convincing as the village child who showed his devotion by making the princess a valentine. Others in the cast were: Ronnie Lynch, the guard; Larry Dattilo, a herald; village children—Rose Marchesi, Nancy Carter, Bruce Govostes, Charles Carroll, Nancy Haley, and Ricky Pendergast. Janet Rich and Robert Flaherty were attendants for the royal household.

PRACTICE TEACHERS TRAIN IN WINCHESTER SCHOOLS

The Winchester School Department is sharing in the work of providing practice teaching experience for education students at nearby colleges and universities. During the present school year, 33 students from 7 teacher training institutions are receiving actual experience in classroom teaching in a Winchester elementary or secondary school.

The problem of how best to prepare young people for successful teaching careers has been the subject of considerable research during recent years. Authorities in the field believe that the best program is one that combines formal instruction with practical experience in the classroom. Boston colleges and universities, therefore, have sought the cooperation of selected schools in the metropolitan area.

For several years Winchester has assisted in this program by accepting a group of education students for practice teaching with experienced teachers in its schools. The student teacher is assigned to a class for a period ranging from a few weeks to an entire semester. At first, he spends his time observing the work of the class. Then, when he has become sufficiently familiar with the classroom aims and methods, he assumes the role of teacher, working always under the supervision of the regular instructor.

It is the sentiment of the School Department that Winchester can and should contribute to the program of teacher teaching. The experience of working with capable, high type teachers cannot help but increase the efficiency of the beginning teacher. The program also provides an opportunity of observing these young people in action and it is a valuable means of recruiting able new teachers.

Following is a list of practice teachers in the Winchester Schools for the school year, 1954-55, arranged by the colleges they are attending:

MISS MEAD HONORED

Miss Corinne Mead, Winchester's recently retired Chief Librarian, was the guest of honor at an informal coffee hour given by the Library Trustees last Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Langley C. Keyes.

This happy occasion gave the Trustees an opportunity to present to Miss Mead a beautifully illuminated scroll expressing in at least some measure the great appreciation which the townspeople have for her and for her years of work fr the Public Library.

In making the presentation Mr. John Willis, Library Trustee Chairman, said to Miss Mead, "At the time you left, the Staff and Trustees had no opportunity to make personal gifts as an expression of their admiration and affection but this is a somewhat more formal matter and speaks not only for the Trustees but all the town. The Trustees have affixed their signatures to the scroll but many many others have expressed a wish that their signatures might have been there too."

The scrolls reads: "Whereas Corinne Mead has served the Town of Winchester faithfully and with distinction as its Head Librarian from January 1, 1940 until her requested retirement on January 1, 1955, be it resolved: that the Trustees of the Winchester Public Library express their deep appreciation for the abundance of her gift to the Library—a gift of unlimited time, strength, and inspiration which has left its permanent effect on the whole community. That now we give to her our every good wish for full happy years of rich living." Signed:

Mabelle M. Long	Vincent C. Ambrose
Marianne C. Keyes	Neil H. Borden
John C. Willis	Leon F. Sargent

Miss Mead has graciously agreed that the scroll be placed on exhibition in the Library for the next two weeks. Watertown's Head Librarian, Miss Catharine M. Yerxa, with whom Miss Mead makes her home, Mrs. Dana Philbrook, appointed Chief Librarian here following Miss Mead's resignation, and Mr. Philbrook were present as well as Library Trustees, husbands and wives.

LEFT SON IN WINCHESTER

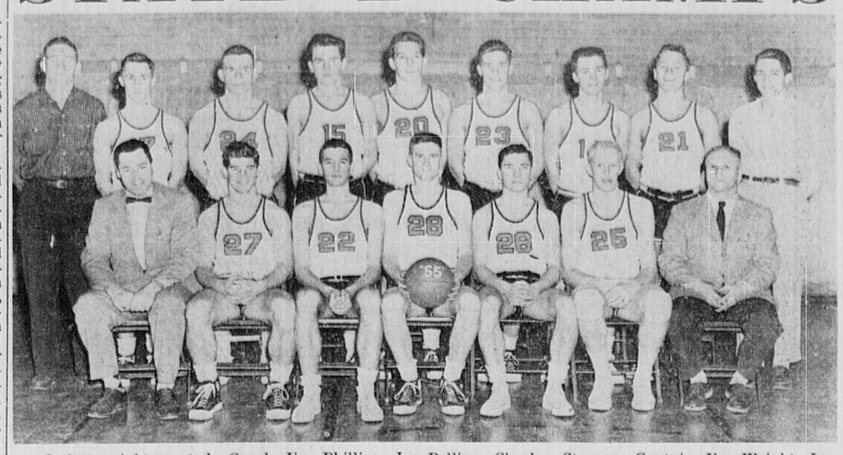

Charles B. Ladd of 21 High street, Everett, who died March 9, at the age of 88, was the father of Charles N. Ladd of 325 Highland avenue.

Born in Everett, Mr. Ladd was vice president of F. P. Bennett & Co., publishers of the Wool & Cotton Reporter and the United States Investor. He was a past president and director of the Everett Cooperative Bank, a director of the Everett Home for Aged People, a former clerk of the First Universalist Parish of Everett and a former member of the Universalist National Council.

Besides his son in Winchester he leaves his wife, Mrs. Lydia A. Ladd.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the late residence with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

STATE B CHAMPS

GARDEN PICKUPS

Ex-Mayor Nick Fitzgerald and Pat Allen, with whom your reporter and his front office went in to the Garden for Saturday's game, joined the mad scramble for transportation to the Arena, Nicholas waxing quite scornful over our refusal to join up.

We went in Friday night with our usual sidekicks, George and Dot Field, with George, the old Yale oarsman, still marvelling at the great number of opposing players that always seem to be between Winchester and the basket they are trying for. George really missed Wendell Mansfield and his marked scorecard, for he likes to follow the Mansfield hyroglyphics, even though he does not always understand them!

If you figured the Winchester rooting wasn't as stout as usual, don't forget that Wade Grindle, the old Bates, was laid up at home with a virus. There are few yellers, in or out of high school circles who can exceed the school top man's vocal contribution to a game when he really is moved!

The Big School Boss, Harry Gilson, sat a couple of seats from us Friday, and there were times when he looked as if he was suffering. The same haggard look was on the classic Hayward features as we glimpsed Raymie and "The Rabbit" further along the line.

Frank and Margaret Hawkins, still loyal fans despite son Doug's departure from high school to Amherst, got seats outside the protecting balcony Friday, and were literally buried with paper when the Somerville team came on the floor.

Wonder what Bart was thinking as the gang carried Jim Phillips around the floor. Probably he and Jim were thinking much the same thing, "Wonder if they are going to drop him (me)?" There was one time it looked like the popular Jim was really going to do a nose dive, but fortunately he kept his balance just long enough.

Winchester's band did a nice job under the new leader, Wendell Withington, their music being the best we happened to hear at the Garden.

If you want to know how to maintain a real sangfroid at sports events, just take a leaf from Ella Knowlton's book. You'd never guess how she may be suffering, and she really knows her basketball, too.

Every place you looked you saw some one from Winchester. Janet and Bouldin Burbank, "Dukes" Farrell and the new Mrs., Clarence and "Huckle" Dunbury, Dick and Matilda Cunningham, Pete Provinzano and Paulie Lentine greeting Bart between the halves, Larry Penta and "Dead Horse" Chefalo, "Buds" Flaherty, "Eddie" Cullen, "Lizzie" Livingstone and Dad Jim, "Doc" Bill Barone and daughter, Cynthia, Jack Chitel and "Shel" Alman, "Ted" (the Great) O'Rourke and the little woman, Officer Dick Beaton and his better half; Nancy O'Rourke, Herb and Ginny Nelson, Jim Haley and lots of others.

Captain Robert S. Hamilton, USAF, former high school basketball player, was at Saturday's game, taking his last peek at high school basketball before leaving the first of the week for duty in Iran.

Those who wanted to take in both games have Athletic Director Henry Knowlton and a very cooperative MTA official to thank for the special transportation from the Garden to the Arena. Hennie told the Transit boys how many wanted to go to the arena and the MTA did the rest.

They do say that crowd of royal rooters, hoarse and vainglorious from their Garden victory and backed by the student band made a whale of a difference over that last period at the Arena. The rafters really raised when that gang got their larynxes oiled up again!

So far as the Star could see the Winchester youngsters conducted themselves very well throughout the tourneys and were a credit to the town, their school and themselves. That's the way it should be. And weren't our kids the best looking bunch in the tourneys?

TO FETE CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS

With a testimonial dinner on April 9 at the Town Hall, the townspeople will fete the high school's double hockey-basketball championship squads. A sponsoring committee, with William C. Cusack, of the Board of Selectmen, as chairman, was formed Wednesday night.

Winchester High's tournament victories in both State Hockey and Basketball Championships last week are believed to be without precedent in National Interscholastic Sports. Closest to the Sachem's double title sweep was by a Minnesota high school which won its state hockey crown and reached the semi-final round of the basketball tourney before being eliminated.

Plans for a town-wide testimonial to the two Winchester teams will be completed over the weekend. The committee hopes to have on hand some of the outstanding professional hockey and basketball stars as head table guests.

Final plans for the April 9 dinner will be announced in next week's edition of the Star.

Serving on the committee with Chairman Cusack are Jim Coon, secretary; Alfred Elliott, Charles Koch, Dr. Eugene Pollard, Nicholas Fitzgerald, MacHenry Browne, Rep. Harrison Chadwick, Robert M. Johnson, Ernest J. Wright, Wayne Cowles, Sr., Eddie Cullen, James E. Farrell, Fred McCormack, and School Committeeman Dan Barnard.

WEYMOUTH MAN FORMER WINCHESTER PITCHER

Old Time baseball fans learned with regret of the death last Thursday, March 10, of Ray U. Somerville, 65, of 160 River street, Weymouth, formerly a fine pitcher for the old Winchester Town Team in the days when the late George LeDuc managed one of the best semi-pro nines in the State on old Manchester Field.

Mr. Somerville who died at the Veterans Hospital in Jamaica Plain, was well known in Boston Market circles for 40 years. At his death he was connected with the Iowa Beef Company of Boston. A finger missing on his throwing hand made him especially effective as a pitcher.

He leaves his wife, Edna; a son, Ray, Jr., of Quincy; and a daughter, Mrs. K. B. Krom of San Diego, Calif.

Serves were held Monday at the Russell Funeral Home in Wollaston, with burial in Forestdale Cemetery, Malden.

MRS. EMILY S. SMITH

Mrs. Emily S. Smith of 5 Wilson street, a resident of Winchester for about 60 years, died early Sunday morning, March 13.

Mrs. Smith leaves a daughter, Miss Daisy Smith, a grand-daughter, Miss Emily Allen, both of Winchester.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of The Fortnightly was held at two o'clock on Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hiram Moody. After the singing of a stanza of America and the Salute to the Flag, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor offered a very beautiful invocation which was in reality a prayer for peace.

The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Roy Wilson and Mrs. Walter P. Roberts gave the treasurer's statement. Following the president's words of greeting, several chairmen gave reports of the activities of their committees. Mrs. Howard spoke of the details concerning the art pilgrimage to Providence on March 17 and Mrs. Hall gave a few suggestions which made all anticipate an afternoon of special interest when the talented members of the club present their plays. Mrs. Leathers reported for Mrs. Knight of the courtesies committee, and Mrs. Cusack gave notice of the regional conference of the General Federation to be held on March 18 in Boston. Mrs. Rosander presented one name for membership. After thanking all for their generous cooperation in the food sale, Mrs. Priest reported a substantial sum which was realized from the sale.

The business session ended at 2:25 p.m. and Mrs. Moody introduced Mr. Loren Driscoll, a talented young singer who has been appearing in "Kismet" for over a year and who delighted his audience not only by his splendid voice but also by his charming informality and pleasing humor. Mr. Driscoll stated that he regarded his concert work as his relaxation, and by his choice of selections, varying from opera arias to folk songs, and by his evident joy in singing, he gave to his audience both pleasure and relaxation.

The accompanist, Mr. Lewis, a very talented pianist, teaches at the New England Conservatory and has been associated with many of the leaders in Boston musical circles. He substituted for Mr. Hebert, who is now in service, and added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

At the close of the program an informal reception to the new members was held which gave all an opportunity for a pleasant social hour made more delightful by the delicious tea served by Mrs. Bergquist and her committee. The table was decorated with harps, green candles and cookies with green icing, a fitting setting for March 17. Mrs. Raymond Merrill and Mrs. Carlyle D. Fiske were the pourers.

D. A. R. DANCE

The Committee of Safety Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is again planning a spring formal dance to be held at the town hall on Saturday evening, April 23. This colorful party promises to be another gala event with music by Karl Rohde and his orchestra. Tables will be reserved and many dinner parties are already planned to precede the dance. The Winchester Country Club has arranged a special buffet supper before the dance for those interested in dining out.

Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur is the capable general chairman of the dance committee and those assisting her are:

Mrs. Charles M. Vanner, regent

Mrs. Kingman P. Cass and Mrs. Paul F. Stoneman in charge of tables

Refreshments — Mrs. Thomas Downes, Mrs. Dana Sawyer, Mrs. Lawrence Pexton, and Mrs. Paul H. Comins

Flowers — Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes, Mrs. William P. Coady, Mrs. John W. Harrison and Mrs. William W. Goodhue

Ushers and Flower Girls — Mrs. Charles O. Nichols

All proceeds from the dance are for the benefit of the Hillside School for boys in Marlborough, Mass.

A MUSICAL EVENT

One of the most promising local musical events of the year is the performance of the Brahm's Requiem to be given on the evening of April 6th by Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham. The Choir is fortunate in its soloists who are so important in this work. Both Dolores Baldyga, soprano, and George Fortune, baritone, bring outstanding talent to their challenging assignments, and also of unusual ability are the contralto and tenor soloists, Helen McCloskey and John Morabito.

Mrs. McCloskey, who joined the Choir last fall, brought with her a reputation as one of the top contraltos in the Boston area.

John Morabito is in his second year as tenor soloist with the Choir, after winning an immediate following locally by his work at the spring musicale two years ago.

YOUTH LENTEN SERVICE

Rev. John W. Ellison will be the speaker at this week's Wednesday morning Lenten service, when the high school groups of the Protestant church of Winchester meet in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church at 7:15 a. m.

The brief worship service will be conducted by Mickie Coon, chaplain, and Donald Folkers of the Church of the Epiphany as assistant chaplain, with Carole Wallace at the organ.

REQUEST SERMON ON JUDAS

This coming Sunday morning, Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, will give a monologue on the life of Judas. Many will remember him as the controversial figure in history who betrayed Jesus.

The service begins at 10:45 a. m.

COULSON BONSPIEL STARTS

The John Coulson Bonspiel for Mixed Curling got off to a good start Sunday afternoon with five matches. The John Fulton rink (skipped by Fessenden as a substitute) won from the Sheeran rink 7 to 5. Van Vloten won from Righter 8-6, Ingersoll (skipped by Guild) 8 vs Butters 5, Adams 7 vs Saunders 5, and Roundy 10 vs Dolben 6. All matches were close and some of the shots made by the gals were really fine. The losers of the first match go into the consolation.

The bonspiel continues over this week end, with the finals next week end. After the finals next Sunday, the 27th, there will be cocktails and a buffet supper at the club. All curlers and behind-the-glass skips are invited to end up a most enjoyable mixed curling season. The Coulson medals will be awarded the bonspiel winners and also those winning the consolation.

This week will finish the matches of the third round robin and then the section winners will start the play-down. The Chairman's Competition will also start. The self-appointed skips in the latter must keep their eye on the bulletin board for the schedules and advise their rinks. Stan Neill is to arrange this, in Mike Hunt's absence.

Results in the third round of the round robin are Waghorne 11 vs Fessenden 5; Neiley 9 vs Davis 7; Carr 14 vs Eaton 3; Lane 12 vs Dyer 8; Bonnell 15 vs Sheeran 2; Neill 11 vs MacMinn 5; Symmes 12 vs Willing 4; Garrity 11 vs King 7; Morse 9 vs Dolben 4; Eteson 13 vs Siders 9; Stirling 13 vs K. Fulton 3. Fourth round: Siders 13 vs Stirling 5; Dolben 7 vs K. Fulton 6; Eteson 18 vs Morse 1; Symmes 13 vs King 8; Garrity 11 vs MacMinn 9; Neill 16 vs Willing 6; Lane 9 vs Bonnell 8; Neiley 8 vs Eaton 7; Fessenden 8 vs Carr 7; Davis 11 vs Waghorne 10.

Three rinks went to Montreal last week end for the Gordon International. Charley Waghorne skipped his District Medal winners Garrity, Siders and Davis. Frank Lane skipped Jenning, Shean and Ingersoll; while K. Fulton skipped Neill, W. Wilcox and J. Wilcox. The usual good time was had, though the U.S. rinks didn't win the international match as they did last year.

Hold your hats, fellows, while the big final curling banquet is being arranged. This must be the banquet to beat all banquets after such a glorious curling season in our new rink. It will be held sometime in April, they say, after we have had a chance to rest up.

It is said that four Winchester rinks were guests of the Country Club on Monday evening in the first of what promises to be a very interesting inter-club annual match. The Donald Angier Memorial Trophy has been presented by Dick Hallowell of the Country Club for Winchester vs Country Club competition. Winchester claims to have won it 53-34 this year, so the return match will be held here next year.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting of the Noonan School Mothers' Association took place in the Noonan School Auditorium on Wednesday evening, March 9, at 8:15 p.m.

A tentative date, Thursday afternoon, May 5, was set for the annual May Festival. Mrs. William Crowley, chairman of the ways and means committee, began compiling her list of volunteers for the various tables. There are still places where helpers are needed.

Donations of food, hand-mades, white elephants, Mother's Day gifts, etc., are most welcome.

The evening's serious business was over quickly and the ladies gave themselves to an evening of hilarity.

Monte Carlo whist abandons its players to the quirks of chance, as the rules call for a switch in trumps in the middle of a hand, a double score for losers, and so on.

Were you in on the fun? If not, you're missing something. Why not make a mental reservation to attend our next monthly get-together?

CIVIL DEFENSE

C. D. OFFICE HOURS
Mon., Wed., Fri.—9 to 12, 1 to 4
Tues. and Thurs.—9 to 1, 2 to 4
SAT. NOT OPEN
Tel. WInchester 6-3257

Do you want to live? Do you want to know what to do in the event of an enemy H-Bomb attack? Do you want to know how to help your family and friends survive?

Civil Defense can help you answer all these questions, can tell you how to survive, can tell you where to go and how to get there, in the event of an evacuation.

We at Civil Defense can train you, the citizen, only if you will come to us. It is the American way never to force a person to take an actoin that he does not wish. So it is with Civil Defense. We want volunteers only. A person that volunteers through a sense of duty will benefit not only himself but the town as a whole.

There are many areas in which you the citizen can work in Civil Defense. We have rescue teams which we are forming. A transportation corps is being formed to help evacuate the children and the aged, and eventually the entire town. There are the auxiliary fire and police departments, which not only help Civil Defense but also aid the town in time of emergency, such as hurricanes Carol and Edna. As a matter of fact Civil Defense acts as an entire unit in the event of any emergency. There are positions available in the communications department, and we are forming a radioactive monitoring team. There are many, many jobs open and just waiting for citizens such as you to fill them.

The Civil Defense office is ready and willing to accept and train any who are interested in preserving the lives of their loved ones and themselves. Cooperation between the town government and Civil Defense has helped us immensely. Now it is up to you, the citizen of Winchester, to cooperate with yourself and aid Civil Defense.

Next week in this column we will discuss the function of John T. Blanchard, deputy director of Civil Defense.

Tony Saraco	103.1
Moose Bellino	102.6
Jake Jacobellis	98.8
Pete Provinzano	97.0
Frank DiMambro	96.9
Tony Chefalo	96.9

The fatal blow was struck this evening as Tony Saraco toppled Moose Bellino from the top of the average column and climbed on top himself with a comfortable lead at this stage. The Moose must call on all his youthful strategy to overcome the straight shooting and sharp eyed Tony with only three weeks to go.

There is nothing more satisfying than a completely successful season. The superb behavior and the sportsmanship that exists among the bowlers has been a credit to our organization.

The outstanding individual work of Paul Lentine in the statistic department is something to be proud of. He has devoted many unheralded hours of tedious work to keep the records. A salute to him from us.

The unceasing work pertaining to the raffle conducted so ably and efficiently by our good member Carl Bertolucci also deserves our thanks.

Our salute to our friends the parakeets for their kind co-operation in our raffle and happy birthday to May Harrold.

The fortunate participant of this week's raffle was the boy with the grin Tony Penta.

AIDING SCHOLARSHIP FUND DRIVE

ARTISTS AID SCHOLARSHIPS

Artists in Winchester joined hands this week in support of the 1955 campaign to raise funds for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation.

One of the first to pledge her support was the newly elected member of the Winchester Scholarship Committee, Mrs. George Marks.

A portion of the profits from her recent sale of eight water colors will be donated to the drive which will be conducted during the week of April 11th to 17th.

Mrs. Marks is currently having a one man show in the Art Gallery of the home of Mrs. E. Phillips Walker of Glen Green. Pictures may be viewed on Wednesday afternoons from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Miss Pauline Goodrich, Director of Art at the High School, and Junior High Art Director Miss Edna Hatch, are conducting poster contests to help promote the Foundation drive throughout the town. Shortly after April first the cooperating students' work may be seen in the store windows downtown.

ROBERT J. SENNOTT

MSGR. SENNOTT BREAKFAST SPEAKER

The Knights of Columbus 58th annual communion breakfast will take place on Passion Sunday, March 27, preceded by a parade from the center to St. Mary's Church, where mass will be celebrated at 8 o'clock by Rev. Stephen Burke, Council chaplain. Following church services all will adjourn to St. Mary's Hall. A catered breakfast will be served afterward at St. Mary's Hall.

Guest speaker will be Right Rev. Monsignor Robert J. Sennott, who is chancellor of the archdiocese of Boston and has served at asst. chancellor and vice chancellor.

Another high post he has filled is that of procurator of the North American College in Rome, which brought him in close contact with the Pope and with affairs at the Vatican.

Monsignor Sennott is the brother of the late Rev. Thomas F. Sennott, who was stationed at St. Mary's following his return from the South Pacific, where he served as Naval chaplain. His subject, "Pope Pius XII," will cover the historical background and development of the Pontiff's life and career. His message will be timely and most interesting in view of present world conditions.

There is expected to be a large attendance which is not limited to Council members. Fathers are urged to bring their sons with them.

Trooper Gaffney Spoke

State Trooper Kevin Gaffney thrilled his listeners at the last regular meeting of the Council when he unfolded the hazards and work of the state trooper. Invited by Lecturer Ted O'Rourke to speak to the Council, Trooper Gaffney won many friends to the side of the state police with his straightforward explanation of the duties involved. The rigorous training and small percentage of candidates that emerge successful and become troopers surprised the K of C. Fifty out of a class of 1700 men is not a large percentage. Humorous and tragic incidents were related and the Knights of Columbus fully appreciate the fine work of the state police now that Trooper Gaffney covered the subject so thoroughly.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society will hold its next regular meeting on Thursday, March 24, at the Bear Hill Country Club, beginning at one o'clock instead of one-thirty, as printed in the year book. It is hoped that members will make an effort to be on time so that the program can proceed promptly. Following luncheon, there will be a short business meeting. The afternoon speaker will be Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood of Winchester, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health. His subject is "International Health."

On Sunday, April 17, the Auxiliary has arranged an open house from four to seven at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Leo J. Cass of Winchester for all the doctors and their wives in the District. This will be a benefit for the nursing scholarship fund.

M. Y. F.

This Sunday at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church is Visitation Sunday. The Senior M. Y. F. may be dropping in at your house about 3:00 to 4:00. The date is March 20.

At 4:00 the M. Y. F.'ers will come back and there will be a two-hour meeting of the coming fashion show.

At 6:30 there will be the regular service. We will be privileged to have with us this Sunday Chief Charles Harrold of the Winchester police.

See you there!

THE SENIOR FORUM

Something different is scheduled for the Forum Chapel Service this Sunday, March 20, at 9:30 a. m. Instead of the customary guest speaker, a film will be shown, entitled "Visit to Vellore." Although Forum members have each year worked hard on their Work Day for Christ project, they have never had the opportunity to really see their money in action. On Sunday, as they follow the Vellore Hospital Station Wagon through the villages in India, bringing desperately needed medicines and supplies, they will realize that one-fourth of their earnings last October has gone to further a wonderful cause.

The worship will be conducted by Douglas Barnard, Chaplain, and Brad Ross, Assistant Chaplain. The deacons will be John Burnham and Bob Donaghey, and ushering will be Bill Mason and Dick Schaefer.

RAINBOW GIRLS

On Monday evening, March 14, the Winchester Assembly No. 50, Order of Rainbow for Girls, presented the Mothers' Degree at Mizpah Lodge, A.F.&A.M., in Cambridge.

Lodge members and invited guests enjoyed a very fine exemplification of the degree, followed by refreshments and dancing to the music by Fisher's orchestra.

AT THE LIBRARY

In addition to books, the Library makes great use of pamphlets, periodicals, surveys, trade journals, and so forth. One reason for this wide use is to keep current. Books in various sciences and many kinds of business go out of date almost as soon as they are published, and it is from this point that these other lesser publications carry the subject at the current level. Another reason for the importance of these publications is that they add vital information to our book knowledge, and they carry important discussions and findings.

In the banking profession, a common method of communicating new ideas and trends is by way of letters or surveys. Winchester Public Library receives regularly several publications. It has just recently added four others. "New England Letter," received from the First National Bank of Boston, tells of the business activity of this area, both in a general, over-all picture of conditions and also in specific industries and trades.

From New York, we are now receiving monthly "The Guaranty Survey" and "National City Monthly Letter on Business and Economic Conditions" published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York and the National City Bank of New York respectively. Both cover business conditions generally, here and abroad; give price indices; discuss trade proposals, credit policies, budgets, etc.

The fourth publication is "Business in Brief," a quarterly from the Chase National Bank of New York. This survey of business paints the current picture generally, then moves on to specific fields like stock market trends, public and private debt and industrial productivity.

These newer additions are interesting; they are up-to-date; and they are available to the public.

PARKHURST MOTHERS' CLUB

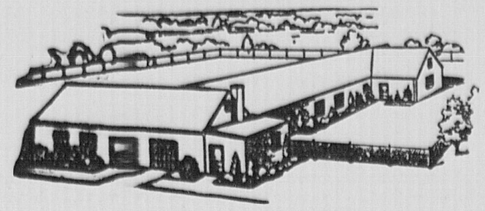

A regular meeting of the Parkhurst Mothers' Club was held Tuesday evening, March 8, at the Parkhurst Auditorium. After a short business discussion the president of the Association, Mrs. Lawrence Pexton, introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Volta Hall.

Dr. Hall gave an address entitled "Emotional Needs in Childhood." He stated that emotional drives were the same in children as in adults. However they should not be judged by adult standards. Undemanding love for children helps give them that inner security necessary for attaining emotional maturity.

Cake and coffee were served by members of the board under the chairmanship of Mrs. John A. Lutes.

REMINDER

W. D. N. A.

On Wednesday, March 9, an orientation meeting was held at the nurses' headquarters, 540 Main street, for new association members.

Mrs. Luitwieler opened the meeting and introduced the treasurer, Miss Monroe, who then explained the financial set-up of the organization. The working budget of $15,850 is made up in the middle of the year. This money is secured through nursing fees, interest on endowment and United Community Services.

Mrs. Wiklund gave an interesting story of the origin and history of W. D. N. A. Services rendered by the nurses and fees were explained. She mentioned the comfort fund and the availability of loan and rented sick-room equipment for patients' use. At the conclusion of the meeting the members were taken on a tour of the office and library.

The board members met on Friday, March 11, in the general committee room of the town hall.

Mrs. Keyes, chairman of the education committee, gave a report on the annual meeting of the Nursing Council of the United Community Services which she and Mrs. Wiklund attended. Mrs. Luitwieler, the president, and Mrs. Wright, chairman of the nursing committee, attended the annual meeting of the Belmont Association. Mrs. Wright reported on the speaker, Miss Abbie Dunks, head of the Boston Dispensary, who spoke on the "Rehabilitation Clinic."

Mrs. Luitwieler urged all board members to attend the Institute for Board Members being held at Boston University School of Social Work under the auspices of the Volunteer Service Bureau.

Mrs. Wiklund is planning to attend an institute on mother-child care to be given at the Boston Lying-In Hospital March 23-24. On March 23 at the Winchester Library the Women's Council is holding a panel discussion entitled, "Winchester Serves the Child with a Handicap." Mrs. Wiklund will be a member of the panel and Mrs. Gilson is the moderator.

On April 9 the W. D. N. A. will be hosts to the directors and presidents of nursing associations in surrounding towns. A luncheon will be served at the home of Mrs. Paul Forester, Jr. An informal exchange of experience and problem-solving will follow.

Before the meeting adjourned Mrs. Wiklund read to the board her term paper, "Tuberculosis in Children," and a short review of the mental hospital by Alfred H. Stanton, M.D., Morris S. Swartz, Ph.D.

GIRL SCOUT SUNDAY

Girl Scout Sunday was observed by some 250 Scouts in services at both the Baptist and St. Mary's Churches.

Girls under the capable leadership of Mrs. David Fortiere marched to service behind the color guard composed of Martha Brigham, Mary Kay Fortiere, Ann Hurley and Margaret Prue. Father McCall's sermon on "Womanhood" as based on the laws and ideals of Scouting for character development was truly inspirational. Mrs. John Ryan lead the 7th and 8th grade Scouts who formed the choir.

Girls participating in the Baptist Church service under the leadership of Mrs. Leonard Mortensen were Christina Page, Judy Cairncross, Gail Collins. Senior Scout Jean Elliott headed the procession of the colors assisted by four members of Troop 1 as Color Guard. Senior Scouts also served as ushers.

BRIDGE BY PHONE

Prizes galore will be the reward for highest scores in the annual telephone bridge, sponsored by the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, Thursday, March 24.

Scene of the competition will be the homes of the Friends, both in Winchester and surrounding towns, bridge and canasta, play beginning at 2 p. m.

Among those who have made reservations for the event are Mrs. Darrell A. Root, Mrs. Warren Price, Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, Mrs. J. W. Harrison, Mrs. T. Price Wilson, Mrs. G. R. Barrett, and Mrs. Gilman Wallace.

The Navy's first ship designed as an aircraft carrier was the USS Ranger.

MOVE SLOWLY ON FLUORIDATION

Editor of the Star:

I am greatly interested in the Fluoridation Committee Report printed in last weeks Star. This report is entirely in favor of fluoridation. After reading in other publications of tests made by various chemists, government health services, and experimental stations, it seems to me that there are many points against fluoridation also.

In answer to section one of its study, "Is fluoridation effective and safe?", the committee states, "People in sections of the world where the water supply contains over 1 part per million of fluorides have less tooth decay than other people."

This is no doubt true but in other literature which I have seen it is brought out that natives of these sections have mottled and ugly teeth and that when it was definitely established that fluorine in drinking water was the cause of mottled tooth enamel, many communities set about finding ways and means of removing the fluorine from their water supplies in order to protect the teeth of their children from mottling.

Mottled teeth are also said to be structurally weak and the defect is irreparable and permanent.

I have also read that there are more defective and false teeth among the adults in areas having naturally fluoridated drinking water than there is among adults living in sections where the water supply contains no fluorides. This is attributed to the fluorine making the teeth harder but also more brittle, thus destroying the quality of toughness, which causes the teeth to break off and wear out much more quickly.

If fluorine has this effect on the teeth, what might it do to the rest of the body? Does anyone know? It might be well if the committee would set forth, as a result of their general study of the problem, the arguments against fluoridation and their reasons for ruling them out.

Since the subject is extremely controversial, there being much literature both for and against water fluoridation, it appears to me that one should move slowly and cautiously in considering its use in any community until there is more definite knowledge of its effects.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. P. Roland Hanson

DO NOT REPRESENT YOU!

March 14, 1955

Editor of the Star:

In a town so richly endowed with legal help and much alert thinking (?), it is strange that Winchester has been content so long with the Limited Town Meeting idea now in force. This set-up took away the real vote of the ordinary townsman, from the very start. Were we promised Representative Voting we never got? If you are not an elected Town Meeting Member, you can not vote on most town policies or town expenditures. If you are liked, your neighbors, in your Precinct, may elect you to be a Town Meeting Member. On the other hand, you may never be elected and thus you may never be able to vote for any vital matter. Perhaps your dearest neighbors are members. Do you wish to gain at their expense? Some of us have had that problem.

Town Meeting Members do not represent you. That is the great wrong in this set-up. They vote as they wish. They can and do vote against the declared majority wish of their Precinct. Not a very democratic procedure! It is contrary to the original concept of the New England Town Meeting idea.

Some Precincts hold meetings prior to Town Meeting and you can attend and you can state your convictions on the items in the Warrant. You can not do anything else. You can not force your Precinct Member to vote your way, even if your vote helped to elect him to office. By the time he wants your vote again, it will be too late. Year after year we see the town run by a very small percentage of the total number of voters.

Our right to vote should not be based upon our popularity or upon the goodwill of our neighbors. Our remarks at Town Meeting should not be subject to the kind permission of the moderator. Every qualified voter should have his turn to serve and his turn to be heard. If a citizen is a moron, he should not be a registered voter on any basis.

Cannot some of our attorneys find a way to give back to us our full voting rights? If you who read are in agreement, leave your name with the Star or call the writer. WInchester 6-0827.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Last Sunday morning it was discovered that some one had thrown a 30 pound stone weight through a first floor window of one of the class rooms at Marycliff Academy, breaking the sash and four large panes of glass. The police were notified.

Headquarters was notified Wednesday that two boys were going through cars parked on Winthrop street and the Parkway from Washington street toward Highland avenue. Officers Hogan and Farrell caught one of the boys in a car, and picked up the other at Junior High School. Both admitted going through the cars and were severely lectured in turn by Chief Harrold and Superintendent of Schools Gilson.

PARKING METERS!

Editor of the Star:

After visits to some of the recent hearings I should like to write a few words in praise of that ugly, urban thing, the parking meter, an article for which is tucked into the warrant after a series of articles on proposed property takings for parking spaces.

The instinct of many of us who wish Winchester to remain as pretty and as uncommercial as is healthy taxwise is against the mechanical meter.

However I hope the town meeting members will take a real good look at this article this year, and wish they could do it ahead of all other articles dealing with the parking problem for the following reasons:

1. If I remember correctly the meters can be obtained and given a temporary try out from a concern which will do this at little or no cost to the town. A perfect time for this try-out would seem to be now when, a), the town is to be temporarily very unpretty due to operation overpass, and, b) the parking problem extra acute for reasons of same.

2. To do violence to property owning citizens in the name of parking problem alleviation is unhappy at best. To do it before the town has given a try to the meters and all other non-property-taking ideas in or out of the warrant could be called unfair. To do it at a time when the town is undergoing a violent change, the results of which are hoped and expected to create major changes in traffic flow, business growth, and parking concentration could be called unwise. Lo, I give you the beautiful, helpful, situation-saving parking meter! ing meter!

And, for long time real solution to the parking problem, may I add my voice to what seems to be a public clamor for a really serious consideration of the Titilah plan for building a nice handsome station up north of the center—a plan which, though expensive at less than the cost of what Mr. Volpe thinks it might cost, could eliminate a whole series of parking problem propositions which, though less expensive one by one as they descend upon us in the next 5, 10, 20 years, might easily add up to more in the long run.

It is a plan which might give us instead a real solution to parking, and which deserves to be looked hard at also from the standpoint of keeping commuting traffic out of the immediate center, and that of the hard to imagine relief of atmosphere in the center just having all the starting and stopping a little removed.

Yours for an always improving Winchester.

Most Sincerely,
Barbara A. Powers
20 Rangeley Ridge

SHOULD DEFER DECISION

Editor of the Star:

It continues to amaze some of the thinking people of Winchester that so few citizens, comparatively speaking, could be so disinterested in the zoning and parking problems, so important for a well run town. The third hearing on these many articles was held Tuesday, March 15 at the High School Auditorium.

Zoning is a matter of law, protecting property of a tax paying citizen, while Parking is a matter of space provided to assure better business. In Winchester, at the moment, these topics are interrelated, and are a serious consideration for us all. Their solution rests, not only in the hands of our Town Meeting Members, but their solution also determines the future welfare of Winchester.

It is the recommendation of the Planning Board to rezone certain residential and business areas for the purpose of more space for parking. Underlying this request is a thought for all Winchester citizens. Do we want Winchester to become a city or remain a town? The solving of these problems and the future of Winchester lie in the answer to that question.

Therefore would it not seem sensible, in view of the disruption which will take place these coming months in the center, to wait until business has resumed somewhat normal activity and to ask that the decisions on zoning and parking be deferred!

Rev. C. Helgerson

Mary, the Mother of our Lord Jesus, knew the tenderness of His loving heart and how He delights to bestow His favors. At the wedding in Cana, she directed the servants to Jesus, saying, "Do whatever He tells you." The servants heeded her counsel. The result: the best refreshments they had ever tasted: Our life will remain unsatisfied until we come directly to Christ. When we come to Him in faith and open our hearts to His word, His pardon, peace and blessing flood the soul. He says, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock, if anyone who hears my voice will open the door, I will come in to him . . ." Our response should be: "Come into my heart, Lord Jesus, cleanse me and fill me with the sense of Thy Presence."

WINCHESTER WON STATE HOCKEY CROWN

4-2 WIN OVER BELMONT FINAL TOURNEY UPSET

Winchester High School's never-say-die hockey team, country cousins in the recent State Interscholastic Hockey Tournament, found the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow last Saturday at the Arena when they fell heir to the coveted State Hockey Crown by virtue of their thrilling 4-2 defeat of hitherto unbeaten Belmont High, GBI title holder for the season just past.

The victory was the Indians fifth in a row in the tourney and marked the fifth time that the locals had been the underdogs, picked to lose; first to Waltham, then to Melrose, then to defending titlist, Needham, then to Hyde Park and finally, to Belmont, big, strong, fast skating, experienced Belmont, paragon of paragons among the Greater Boston schoolboy sextets.

The experts were pretty unanimous in picking Winchester to lose to Belmont, though here and there a wee small voice warned that it wasn't entirely safe to sell this up-and-coming Winchester team short.

So it proved, for Winchester really dominated its game with Belmont, and exhibited in its victory that attribute found in champions of all kinds, the ability to come from behind to win.

Not once, but twice did Winchester's embattled Indians knot the count against them last Saturday before going on to win.

Gerry Howell, Belmont center, got his team away in front at 5:56 of the first period when he took a pass-out from Bill Collins to beat Winchester's sophomore goaler, George Denton. Right winger Leo Callahan fired in the equalizer for the Indians at 9:38, banging in a Mike Murphy rebound. That was all for the first period, though Winchester was forcing all the time.

Howell and Collins again teamed up for Belmont's second goal just before the two minute mark of the second period, but somehow you figured this goal wouldn't be enough, and it wasn't.

Callahan, sophomore winger, was once again the opportunist who was in the right spot at 3:20 of the second stanza to belt a Cowles rebound past Belmont Co-Captain John Volpe, tying it all up again.

About the time the second period was ending the crowd of loyal rooters from the basketball game at the Garden arrived at the Arena and Winchester's vocal support increased a hundred fold.

The arena was in an uproar as the teams opened the final period, and at 1:57 the Winchester rooters went wild as Captain Wayne Cowles, leading schoolboy scorer in the State, took a pass from defenseman Tom Sawyer to put the Indians in the lead for the first time. Well in his own zone when he took Sawyer's clearing pass, Cowles zoomed up the middle, split the defense and went in alone, firing his shot from near the right post into the left corner of the net.

Belmont had been outplayed, but the GBI leaders still made a great attempt to tie it up, and it took a corking save by Denton on George Higginbotham's solo shot to preserve the Winchester lead.

Slightly over a minute after Denton's save, Callahan locked the door on Belmont's chances when he intercepted a pass and streaked down the right lane to beat Volpe with a whistling drive from 10 feet out.

As the game ended the deliriously happy Winchester rooters, hardly daring to believe their darlings had won and were State Champions at long last, swarmed onto the ice and literally mobbed Coach Frank Finigan and his tired but happy warriors, whooping it up at mid-ice and around the lobby of the Arena for long after the game was over. Several cars of overjoyed rooters left Boston for Belmont to let them know over there who had won the game, and there were open houses to replay the glorious victory all over Winchester!

Coach Finigan felt his boys played their best game of the season against Belmont and had high praise for all the members of the team. He singled out his captain, Wayne Coyles, for special praise, which was echoed by the star left winger's team-mates. Finigan felt that in concentrating on stopping Cowles Belmont made it possible for Callahan to tally his important early-game goals.

The Indians game against Belmont was a sort of zone defense, with the Winchester boys picking up opponents and playing them while they were in those zones. This may have been the technical scheme, but it was hustle and fight and a blazing will to win that carried the Indians to the top, make no mistake about it! They never quit or lost faith in themselves!

The summary:

Winchester High (4)—g, Denton; defense, Sawyer, Murphy; forwards, Callahan, Cowles, Johnson, Cussen, Urmson, Zirkel.

"BOY, AM I GLAD THAT'S OVER!"

WINCHESTER B CHAMPS AGAIN

BEATS MATIGNON AT END, 48-39

For the third time in four years of competition, Winchester High's talented Indians won the Massachusetts State Interscholastic Class B Basketball Crown last Saturday night at the Boston Garden, beating their capable final round opponent, Matignon Parochial High School of Cambridge, 48-39, in a game that left supporters of both teams limp with excitement.

The game started at 7:30 after an official announcement on Friday night had placed the time an hour earlier to enable Winchester partizans to see both the basketball and hockey championship games, the latter being played across town at the Arena.

Matignon refused to play at 6:30, giving as its reason the fact that some of its players were taking college board examinations on last Saturday. Winchester had five players taking the exams, but was willing to play at 6:30, and Matignon's refusal meant the basketball fans could see only the last part of the hockey thriller.

Winchester looked like a potentially better team than the Catholic high boys, but Matignon is tough defensively, and the Indians were just enough below their shooting par to keep their followers on tenterhooks until the very last few minutes of play.

Matignon played a tight man-to-man defense with a sag that virtually nullified Winchester's effective quick breakaway plays most of the time.

Winchester scored first on two free throws by Stevens, but it was several minutes afterward before Captain Jim Wright tossed in the first floor goal. The Indians were behind at the quarter, 9-10, but a nice jumper by Bellino, erased the deficit and put the locals ahead to stay until the final period.

Winchester had a seven point 22-15 edge at half time, and though at one time during the third period the Indians had an 11 point cushion, Matignon, with Allen and Fitzgerald hitting from outside, and a plethora of foul tries, whittled this advantage to six points at the three-quarter mark, Winchester leading then, 32-26.

Within a minute and a half the Cantabridgians had tied the score, foul shots by Canavan and Fitzgerald, followed by a layup by McCarthy evening the count and giving Matignon rooters the smell of victory.

For a tense minute or so the teams battled on even terms with the fans on the edges of their seats. Then Charlie Stevens sank two free throws for a 34-32 advantage and darlin' Joey Bellino hit on a jump-shot from 15 feet out to really get Winchester going.

Bellino again found the hoop with a one-hand jump shot for a 38-32 advantage and the Winchester sigh of relief was clearly audible. Fitzgerald hit from outside to keep Matignon in contention, but at this point the defensive sag backfired as Lou Farrell broke away for a pretty layup to make it 40-34.

Dave Allen, Matignon's star, drove in for a layup to cut the local lead to four, but Farrell passed beautifully to Lynch under the hoop after driving in, and Bellino fed long John immediately afterward on a similar play.

With the Indians ahead, 44-36, and only a short time remaining local rooters settled back, only to come bolt upright again as Allen sank two foul shots, narrowing the gap to six, 44-38.

The Winchester boys were really outplaying Matignon at this point, hanging onto the ball and making the opposition come to them. Fouls were the result and Stevens sank two to boost the Indians count, with Farrell adding another.

Canavan sank a free throw to make the score 47-39, after which Winchester effectively froze the ball for more than a minute. Just before the gun, Wright drove in and was fouled, making one of his fouls good for a 48-39 count, the final score.

As the gun barked a barrage of paper fell from the Winchester stands which immediately emptied as wildly excited local rooters mobbed their team at midcourt, the cheer-leaders and tumblers joining in, as drums thumped and horns tootled. Staid, substantial citizens like ex-mayor Fitzgerald gave out with loud huzzahs as the players and fans hoisted Coach Jim Phillips and Captain Wright to their shoulders for a victory parade.

Three Winchester boys, Captain Wright, Stevens and Lynch, reached double figures in scoring as the Indians made good on 16 out of 50 shots, well below their scoring average. Matignon sank 10 of 39 from the floor and 19 out of 32 free throws. Winchester got 16 of 21 foul tries.

Winchester's 12 wins in 13 games while making the Class B final for four straight years, set an all-time tournament record, including Class A. Despite the fact the Indians were out-rebounded, Lynch had 14 off the boards, and Farrell had five assists in the second half.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Star wishes to extend its heartiest congratulations to the coaches and members of both the high school hockey and basketball teams for their epic achievement in bringing two state championships to Winchester in one night. Nothing like this has happened to the school and town in the history of high school sports here. Through both tournaments the Winchester players conducted themselves like sportsmen, giving their best at all times and never saying die. We could all be proud of our representatives at the Garden and the Arena, players, coaches, cheerleaders, tumblers, band and rooters. Everyone did his or her part and shares in the glory. Well done, Winchester!

THEY ALSO HELPED

Our battered fedora is doffed to the parents and followers of our high school teams. Through the years they have supported the boys in fine fashion, and never more so than at the Garden and Arena this year. They were all there. The old faithfuls, their sons, graduated, urging on their friends and neighbors' sons. The dads and moms of the present-day players, dying a thousand deaths, and delighted beyond measure at the final victories. Not all the thrills were felt by the competitors on the floor and ice. The parents and rooters shared their joy, and perhaps even exceeded it, for there is nothing like getting a kick out of the other fellow's good fortune, especially if he happens to be your son!

WINCHESTER TOPPED HYDE PARK

3-2 TOURNEY WIN SENT INDIANS TO FINAL

Winchester's surprising Indians continued on the upset trail Thursday night by topping previously undefeated Boston District champion Hyde Park, a highly regarded and experience club, 3-2, in the semi-final round of the State Interscholastic Hockey Championships at the Boston Arena.

A near capacity crowd witnessed the thrilling struggle and in the other game saw Belmont, Winchester's final-round opponent, beat Walpole with a brilliant all around performance, 4-1.

Winchester continued its great early-game hockey by scoring three goals in the first two minutes of play and then hanging on to a bitter end that left local rooters limp with excitement and apprehension.

The Indians looked very tired at the end and with heavy Hyde Park pressure keeping the puck in front of the Winchester net until the very final minutes of play, there wasn't a long breath in the Winchester stands.

Hyde Park had some tough luck in the loss of their regular goaler, Henry Scott, who was detained by illness in his family and didn't get onto the ice until well along in the first period. He blanked the Indians over the remainder of the game, but whether he could have stopped the goals scored before his arrival can only be argued. The local boys were playing mostly defensive hockey after jumping to their early three-goal lead.

Little time elapsed after the opening faceoff before Wnchester had the puck in front of the Hyde Park net, and at the 21-second mark little Richie Johnson, busy center-ice man, took a pass from right winger, Leo Callahan, to slap home a back hander from less than ten feet out.

At 1:14 of the opener Captain Wayne Cowles and Leo Callahan teamed for a pretty goal, with Cowles coming down the left side to rifle a long pass across the ice to Callahan. Sophomore Leo returned the compliment and Cowles, leading schoolboy scorer of the State, quickly gave the returning puck a home in the Hyde Park net, beating substitute goaler Bellanti with a drive from outside the crease.

After the ensuing faceoff, nine seconds after to be exact, the Indians worked the puck inside again and the slick stick-handling Johnson gunned a pass from the left to Callahan, who had no trouble slapping it into a virtually unguarded net.

Hyde Park began to settle down and half way through the first period Dave Blasenak took a long pass from Paul Walsh to rifle a 15 footer past George Denton. Both teams blew scoring chances in the scoreless second period, with both goalers making good saves.

Hyde Park tried desperately in the final frame, but a stout Indian defense by hard-checking Mike Murphy and the outstanding "Tom" Sawyer, thwarted all efforts until 5:29, when Sawyer was in the penalty box. With the Indians short handed Blasenak dribbled through the local defense and fired a 20-foot bb shot from the left that went right in.

With the rafters ringing from the exhortations of both rooting camps, Hyde Park went really all out, even substituting a skater for its goaler in a suicide effort to score the equalizer.

The Indians threw up an equally desperate defense and the tying goal was never forthcoming. The summary:

Winchester High (3)—g, Denton; defense, Sawyer, M. Murphy; forwards, Johnson, Cowles, Callahan, Urmson, Zirkel, Cussen.

Hyde Park High (2)—g, Bellanti, Scott; defense, Carey, Hurley; forwards, P. Walsh, B. Walsh, Blasenak, Keeley, Bondarek, O'Brien.

First Period—Johnson (Callahan) 0:15; Cowles (Callahan) 1:17; Callahan (Johnson) 1:28; Blasenak (P. Walsh) 5:21. Penalty—Carey (leg check).

Second Period—No scoring. Penalties—Murphy (center zone check), Sawyer (trip) Hurley (trip).

Third Period—Blasenak (B. Walsh) 5:39. Penalties—P. Walsh (high stick) Sawyer (hooking), B. Walsh (center zone check).

Officials—Kelleher and Lax.

GARDEN PICKUPS

Weren't you proud of those tumblers of ours, and the exhibitions they gave between the halves of the Roslindale and Matignon games. No other school has anything like these girls and the crowd really gave them a well deserved hand. Their tumbling and formations are both high grade and the gals make such an attractive appearance they win their audience even before they commence their act. From their opening Indian march to the closing breath-taking double whirligig of the Johnson sisters, their exhibition is tops. Well done girls!

If any one had a better time at the Garden than Ella Stacy we didn't happen to see him. She was just bustin' with pride in her boys achievement, and especially liked clapping in time to the band.

Jim and Myra Coon, veterans of the basketball wars, took the games in stride but Jim had enough after the Matignon game Saturday and didn't try to make the hockey finale. Your reporter also felt it unwise to subject his ganglions to further strain and went home on the train.

We saw Mabelle Long come in Saturday, but she sat too far from us to get a real gander at the state of her fingernails. From our own feelings during the Matignon game we'll bet they were cropped close.

We spotted the "Three Musketeers" a bit in front of us Saturday night. "Polock" McCormack, Dick Hakanson and Charlie Koch make a great trio, and they really gave out during Wnchester's late game winning rally.

Ted Bartlett, former basketball coach, got a great welcome from local fans as he arrived at the Garden Friday night from Bethesda for the semi-final and final round games. Big signs, "Hi Bart," attached to the galleries in front of the Winchester stands, bespoke the kiddos' welcome.

COWLES MOST VALUABLE

Wayne Cowles, captain of Winchester's State Championship hockey team, was picked as the most valuable player on the All Tournament sextet, Cowles, who played left wing, scored eight goals and three assists in the tourney.

He and Richie Johnson, great little stick-handling center-ice man for Winchester, were chosen for the "all" team. Others were Don Williamson, Needham, goal; Tom McColgan, Walpole, and Dick McLaughlin, Belmont, defense; and Bob DeMichel, Walpole, forward.

TWO ON "B" TEAM

Captain Jim Wright, forward, and Joe Bellino, guard, were chosen on the "All Class B" Tech Tournament Basketball Team at the conclusion of the State Championship play last week.

Others chosen were John Fitzgerald and Dave Allen, Matignon; and Bill Carlezon, Roslindale. Dom Pasquontonio of Framingham, was chosen alternate.

GARDEN HIGHLIGHTS

WINCHESTER WON SEMI-FINAL

LAST PERIOD SURGE DOWNED ROSLINDALE, 64-44

Appearing not to be going all out in their semi-final game at the Boston Garden last Friday night, the Winchester hoop team handily beat Roslindale 64-44. Although the Sachems won by 20 points their play was far from flawless as they eased up a little in order to be ready for the tough Matignon quintet, who eliminated South Boston 49-43 by superior accuracy from the foul line.

John Lynch led the Sachems in scoring with 15 points scoring 5 for 11 from the floor. John also turned in a good performance off the boards as he had 28 rebounds. Playing his usual spark-plug game, Joe Bellino had 12 points and led in the playmaking department with 4 assists. Only other player to hit double figures was Sophomore Mike Callahan with 10 points as he came off the bench to play an instrumental role in this triumph.

Winchester led by 7 points at halftime 29-22 with a couple of pretty baskets by Callahan right before the buzzer providing the big cushion. The Indians jumped away to an 11 point lead early in the 3rd period, only to have their margin cut to 2 points shortly before the stanza ended with the Sachems ahead 43-37.

In the last quarter, however, the Red and Black began to make its break-away plays go and outscored the Rossies 21-7 to run away with the game.

Bill Carlezon played another strong game for Roslindale as he scored 17 points for a 2 tournament game total of 41 points.

HOLY NAME HEARD JESUIT

St. Mary's Holy Name Society received communion at the 8 o'clock mass last Sunday, the communion hymn, "Panis Angelicus," being sung as a duet by James F. Henry and Vincent F. Erhard. In his sermon Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, Society director, warned of the danger of relapsing into sin, and urged his audience to avoid the occasions of sin.

Following mass, a brief, inspiring reception ceremony was held conducted by Fr. Dolphin with President Herbert J. Cleary as sponsor. Approximately sixty members were enrolled, some regular members who had never been formally enrolled and other new members of the Society.

Breakfast, prepared by the marshaling committee consisting of Laurence Erhard, Robert Scholl, Jack Rogers and David Flaherty, was served in St. Mary's Hall, where President Cleary presided and reported on forthcoming activities of the Society.

He announced that Henry J. Barry would be chairman of the annual Holy Thursday Nocturnal Vigil in St. Mary's Church where groups of Holy Name men will keep hourly watch until dawn.

A solemn high mass will be celebrated on the Saturday following Easter for the members of the Holy Name who are in the service of our country, at which all parents, relatives and friends of the servicemen will be invited to attend.

Chairman of Sick and Vigil, Harry Bennett reported that member Ralph Smith was hospitalized at Winchester Hospital following an operation. The Holy Name was sorry to learn that another member, Michael Hintlian, had passed away and a contingent of the members planned to visit his bereaved home Sunday evening.

It was also announced that President Cleary and Albert Thorne, Jr., will be co-chairmen of the Easter Monday dance festival which the Holy Name is sponsoring for the entire parish, for the benefit of the Pastor, Rev. John M. Manion.

Chairman Ted O'Rourke of the sports night on March 20 reported and details are elsewhere in this paper.

Publicity Chairman Vincent Erhard reported on a recent letter received from last year's marshal, Anthony "Tony" Doyle, now stationed in Germany with the Army. Tony wrote that he is busily engaged in organizing a Holy Name Society among the servicemen under the guidance of the Army chaplain, which immensely pleased the Holy Name Men. Chairman of the youth committee, Albert McDougall, asked for assistance on next Sunday for the Archbishop's paper drive.

One sad note was that member Jack O'Leary had his new Stetson hat taken by mistake and another left in its place, which mishap will be straightened out presumably this week.

The invited speaker was Rev. John E. Murphy, S.J., Ph.D., professor of Irish literature at Boston College Graduate School. In his remarks he pointed out that Ireland is 96 % Catholic today and praised the religious fervor of its people, and noted that since Ireland obtained her freedom law and order has improved outstandingly with a cathedral being erected on the site of the jail in Galway, closed for lack of patronage.

In the international scene, Ireland has taken its place today since they have ambassadors in the U. S., England, France, Italy, the Vatican, but not in Russia. Irish charity went all out during World War II when its people sent much food to England, Belgium, Holland, Italy, etc.

Ireland goes on in its Christlike way, since her legacy is not one of power but rather she is an example of human courage, love of God and Christian charity.

This is the newest addition to the noted Marine models at the Museum of Science. The five-foot model was built by Peter Ness of East Boston (above). With Ness are (left to right) Harrison Lyman Moore and Frederick Wellington Lyman, grandchildren of Mrs. Harrison Lyman of Winchester, who gave the model to the Museum as a memorial to her brother, Alfred Easton Wellington. His East Boston home included the site of Donald McKay's shipyard, where the original "Flying Cloud" was built.

W. S. C. S.

The women of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church held their regular meeting on Thursday, March 10. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gerald Smithson, who was out of town, the vice president, Mrs. Arvid H. Monsen, presided. Mrs. John Snook, Jr., led the devotions.

After the business meeting Mrs. Paul M. White presented a fine program of colored slides with comment, showing the achievement of outstanding women of the world. Miss Mary Hodge reported her recent visit to United Nations headquarters in New York. Preceding the meeting a delicious dessert was served by members of the Main Street group, Mrs. William Thomas, chairman.

LEAVING FOR IRAN

Captain Robert Sheldon Hamilton, USAF, former well-known Winchester boy, and his wife, Alta, left Monday by plane from Westover Field, Chicopee, for Frankfort, Germany, on the first leg of his long trek to a new assignment in Iran. From Frankfort he will fly by the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines to Teheran, capital city of Iran.

Captain Hamilton has been serving as supply officer of the 1600th Operations Squadron at Westover Air Force Base since returning to this country from an 18-months tour of duty at Nouasseur, North Africa, where he served as commissary officer.

He has had over ten years active service in the Army, enlisting during World War II and receiving his commission in 1943 in the Army Quartermaster Corps. He served 30 months in the European Theatre of Operations, both on the Continent and in England, and was separated from the service in 1946.

At that time Captain Hamilton returned to the Star and the linotype job he left to enter the Army. He was recalled to duty in 1948 and has served continuously since that time.

From 1950 to 1952 he served at Headquarters, AMC, at Dayton, Ohio, going from there to North Africa. He grew up in town and graduated from Winchester High School, where he won letters in basketball and track. He is the son of Col. Robert M. Hamilton, retired Army officer.

SCOUTS PREPARE FOR LOCAL RALLY

Winchester's town hall will be alive with activity on Saturday evening, April 2nd, when the community's Boy Scouts present their annual Scouting rally. The event will be free to the public although children under eleven must be accompanied by adults. Cub Scouts are invited to attend, with their leaders, in Den or Pack units. Designed to give Winchesterites a close picture of the community's Scouting program, the rally will consist of six Scouting activities in which the town's various Troops will compete for the coveted "Robinson Whitten Trophy."

Typical of the Troops which will participate is Troop 7 of the First Baptist Church. The following Troop 7 Scouts, for example, are practicing for the fire-lighting events: Lauren Keene, Tommy Thompson, John Mitchell, Craig Edwards, Jon Smith, Steve Blair, Bob deRivera, Bill Greaves, Jon Hopkins, Bill Wood and Richard McLatchy.

Another exciting highlight of the Winchester Scout Rally will be the knot-tying race. Troop 7's knot-tying team consists of Dave Rich, Chucky England, Jon Handy, Roger Eriksen, Phil Mead, Robby Williams, Rodney Edwards and Timmy Eliassen. In addition, Scouts Danny Dennett and Peter Bryant will represent Troop 7 in Morse signallng and John Urmson will compete in the Bugling event.

Topping off the evening will be a rousing "tug-of-war" and the presentation of the Kenneth Hall Trophy to the troop with the best Scout advancement rating for the year.

HOLY NAME SPORTS NITE!

The Holy Name Society's "Sports Night" for fathers, sons and daughters will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 at St. Mary's Hall.

The championship Winchester High School hockey and basketball teams with their coaches have accepted invitations to the Sports Night extended in recognition of their great achievement.

Ted O'Rourke "Sports Night" chairman, reports that Buff Donelli, head coach of Boston University football; Dick Dempsey, head coach of Boston College hockey, will be guests, and movies of the Notre Dame-Oklahoma football and of the Marciano-Charles boxing match will be shown. There will also be entertainment and refreshments.

If plans materialize there will also be the added attraction of a Priests' Quartet who have made hit after hit wherever they have sung.

The "Sports Night" is not limited to members of the Holy Name Society and if the crowds of loyal rooters who stormed the Garden and the Arena on last Saturday night are any criterion then the Hall will be taxed to capacity in recognition of the successful hockey and basketball players.

Did you know that Chapter 90 work is another way of saying that unnumbered highways in cities and towns are constructed or reconstructed with State Aid?

"Watch Me," says five-year-old Janet as she learns to climb the training steps with the help of physical therapist Jane Seccombe at one of the Easter Seal centers of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped. Janet is one of hundreds of crippled children in Massachusetts whom Easter Seal services are helping to become independent. The Easter Seal campaign for $320,000 will continue through Easter Sunday.

PARTICIPATED IN AUSTRIAN MANEUVER

Sgt. Edward McDavitt, whose wife, Louise, lives at 33 Wedgemere avenue, recently participated in Exercise Roundup, an Army training maneuver in Austria.

Held under simulated combat conditions, the week-long exercise included attacks by an "Aggressor Force" of British soldiers. In anticipation of the attacks, U. S. troops evacuated the area in a test of mobility.

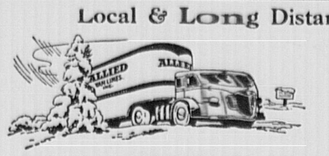

Sergeant McDavitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt of 33 Wedgemere avenue, is a supply man with the 66th Ordnance Company. He arrived overseas in November 1954.

A member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, the sergeant graduated from Boston University before entering the Army in April 1954. He completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

M. S. P. C. A.

An interesting meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John H. Clarke, 149 Highland avenue, on Thursday, March 10.

Our activities for the past few months were reviewed. The cloth that has been donated by many people has been taken by the animal ambulance to the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital in Boston six times.

The supply constantly has to be replenished. Some can be laundered but material used in contagious wards has to be destroyed.

What can the public contribute now? Call WInchester 6-2226-M and your gift will be called for at your convenience. Call this number also, Mrs. Noyes, if any one would like free leaflets on the care of dogs, cats, or small animals, or any problem concerning animals.

It was reported that schools in many towns in the State took part in the Poster Contest carried on by the American Humane Association, a part of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The posters contain a picture of an animal and a few words expressing kindness.

The Society received 5,000 this winter at the time of Be Kind to Animals week beginning May 8th. Many of the posters will be displayed.

It is very important to teach kindness to the children who are now in the schools, they will soon be going out all over the world casting their influence for mercy or evil.

We take an active interest in the work of the Dog Officer, and ask all our members and friends to remind their acquaintances to have their dogs have a license as a helpful form of identification.

Plans have been arranged to have Mr. John C. MacFarlance speak to our meeting this spring. Be sure to see him on your TV every Tuesday, WBZ-TV, 6:15-6:30. He is the Live Stock director of M.S.P.C.A. and carries on the important work of co-operating with the meat packing establishments to find a more humane way of killing our food animals. Anyone interested in learning more about this subject may do so by telephoning Mr. MacFarlane's office, LOngwood 6-6100, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston.

SAILING NEXT WEEK

Mrs. Bob Barlow (Babs) of 7 Winthrop street is sailing for Europe on March 25 with her four children, Shirley, Linda, Christopher and Heather, on a two month visit to her mother in Sussex, England.

Linda, Chris and Heather, aged 7, 4 and 2 years, will meet their grandmother for the first time.

ST. PATRICK'S BRIDGE

An annual event of established precedence will be the St. Patrick's Bridge sponsored by the Winchester Chapter of the Guild of the Infant Saviour. It will be held on Tuesday, March 22, in Masonic Hall at 1:00 p. m. The change of place from the original place was necessary due to conflict. Please note change.

Mrs. Talma Greenwood is the acting chairman with Mrs. James H. Carr as co-chairman.

This party has established itself as one of the gayest and most colorful of the Guild's calendar season. This is no blarney when the committee advises that the prizes are simply fabulous and many and that the lilt of Irish song and laughter will be much in evidence. Even the leprechauns have lent their support in assembling table appointments, tallies, and jolly little motifs of Old Erin to enhance the affair.

It will be a splendid chance to entertain a guest or two with dessert and cards, so be sure to mark it as a "must" on your calendar.

Those assisting Mrs. Geenwood and Mrs. Carr are:

Mrs. Frank Flaherty, Mrs. John Lennon, Mrs. John Piccolo, Mrs. Owen Logue, Mrs. Carl Thomas, Mrs. Robert Cavanagh, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Joseph Donaghey, Mrs. Kay Doyle, Mrs. Charles Flynn, Mrs. Herbert Graves, Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Fred McDuffie, Mrs. Francis Norton, Mrs. Joseph McGaragle, Mrs. James Esterhill, Mrs. William Rogers Hamel, Mrs. Joseph Cox, Mrs. Peter Murphy, Mrs. William Perkins, Mrs. Henry Ciarcia, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Emilio D'Errico, Mrs. Charles Knese, Mrs. George Winterson, Mrs. John Madden, Mrs. Vincent Murphy, Mrs. N. Cadillac

Acting on a 20-Year-Old Decision!

Let's suppose it was a couple of decades ago when a young lad, with his book strap over his shoulder and his lunch basket under his arm, started slowly down a dusty road that led to a country schoolhouse.

But his walk was short that day. For a big, handsome Cadillac—with its smiling driver traveling in the lad's direction—stopped and gave him a "lift."

And as he stood on the schoolhouse lawn and watched the car roll into the distance, he made a decision. He decided that, some day, he would own a Cadillac.

And here you see him, his dream come true, standing in the showroom of his Cadillac dealer—taking the keys to a new 1955 Cadillac!

As a Cadillac dealer, we've been privileged many times to see such a dream come true. And it never ceases to be a thrill.

But we do feel, in all sincerity, that many motorists—not realizing the Cadillac car is practical as well as wonderful—wait too long to make the move.

The lowest-priced Cadillac, for example, actually costs less than twelve different models of other makes. Its economy of operation is far beyond anything you could logically anticipate from a car of Cadillac's size and luxury. And at the time of resale, a Cadillac traditionally returns a greater share of its owner's investment than any other car in the land.

If, like the gentleman in the picture above, you have been looking forward to a Cadillac of your own—you should give careful consideration to these remarkable facts.

It is entirely possible that the time for your Cadillac has come—and, as we said, it is always a pleasure to help make such a dream come true.

Better come in and see us today.

VOL. LXXIV NO. 31 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1955 PRICE TEN CENTS

CHAMPIONS NIGHT

Tickets for the "W.H.S. Champions' Night," April 9 at the Town Hall, will go on sale today, it was announced by James H. Coon, of the sponsoring committee.

The affair, honoring the unprecedented feat of Winchester High's State hockey-basketball championship double, looms as the biggest of its kind ever held in the town. A turkey dinner will be served.

The sponsoring committee, of which Selectman William C. Cusack is chairman, has authorized the sale of 380 dinner tickets at a minimum of three dollars, each, and 280 balcony seats, at a dollar each.

The High School band, cheer leaders and tumblers will be dessert guests of the committee, on stage.

Townspeople unable to attend this warm-hearted testimonial to the two championship squads are urged to contribute toward the suitable trophies which will be presented to each individual player. Contributions may be made with J. Leslie Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, or at Chitel's, Winchester News, McCormack's Drugs, Purtle's Drugs, Aberjona Pharmacy or Sam's Spa.

An estimated $1,000 in contributions will be necessary to make this the memorable night the committee plans for Winchester's remarkable high school athletes.

Reservations for tickets may be made now with ticket chairman Jim Coon, 14 Norwood street, WInchester 6-4196-M.

Few communities have ever had occasion to fete more successful Winter sports teams—and none has had the opportunity to honor two teams at one festive board.

Winchester's basketball squad was undefeated in 23 straight games, nearly matching the 1952 team's record of 25, and won the Class B championship tourney at Boston Garden. Only one other school team in New England was undefeated over the past season.

The hockey squad, playing an independent schedule in its first year of official play, amazed veteran scholastic writers by winning the State championship with five successive upset victories. Its overall record of 20 wins, four losses, one tie was an astonishing achievement by a first-year team.

If all four famous sportsmen can arrange their plans for 6 o'clock on April 9, head table guests and speakers will be Coach Red Auerbach and Bob Cousy of the Celtics and Coach Milt Schmidt and Jim Henry of the Bruins.

DAWSON NAMED FELLOW

Mr. John W. Dawson of 16 Yale street has been named Fellow of the Institute of Radio Engineers. The Fellow grade is the highest offered and is bestowed only on those who have made outstanding contributions to the radio engineering or allied fields.

Mr. Dawson's citation reads, "For his contributions to the advancement of scientific and engineering knowledge."

Presentation will be made by the President of the I.R.E. during the banquet at the 1955 convention in New York this week.

Mr. Dawson is chief engineer of the Electronics Division of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., of Woburn. He received a B.S. in Electrical Engineering from Iowa State College in 1926 and his Master's Degree in the same Field from the University of Pittsburg in 1938.

He was with Westinghouse from 1926 to 1937, and with Raytheon from 1938 to 1949. During World War II he established and operated the Mechanical Engineering Department of the Radar Equipment Division of Raytheon.

Following this Mr. Dawson held the positions of chief engineer and later manager of the Industrial Electronics Department of the Equipment Engineering Division until 1949.

UNITED WORLD FEDERALISTS

The Winchester Chapter of the U. W. F. met at the home of Mrs. Cutler B. Downer, 39 Everett avenue on the evening of March 22, Dr. Edward S. Rendall, president, presiding.

Four subjects were discussed; U. W. F. organization in Washington, United Nations Charter Revision, successes of the United Nations in recent years, and origins of anti-U. W. F. and anti-U. N. forces.

The leaders in discussion were Mrs. Edward S. Rendall, Miss Alice A. Main, Mr. Robert B. Williams, Mrs. Ganson P. Taggart.

Miss Grace T. Wills spoke forcefully and Mrs. Bruce W. Brotherston read her finely wrought answer to an article in "The Nation" on Charter Rivision.

The evening was acclaimed with much enthusiasm a great success.

STUDENTS THANK HOCKEY BUS COMMITTEE

Students at the high school are grateful to the members of the impromptu hockey bus committee through whose efforts reduced rates were secured for the buses to the Providence game. They enabled many pupils to make the trip who might otherwise have been unable to go. Thanks are in order also for tickets to the Arena for the Band.

To Mr. Robert Johnson and to Mr. William McHenry Browne, who spearheaded the drive go the pupils' special thanks.

COWLES ON ALL-TEAM

Wayne Cowles, captain of the Winchester High School championship hockey team, was chosen one of the forwards on the "All-New England" Interscholastic team, selected at the conclusion of the New England tournament last week in Providence.

WILLIAM HENRY VAYO

William Henry Vayo, retired barber and former widely known resident of Winchester, died Sunday morning, March 20, at the Addison Gilbert Hospital in Gloucester, following a two weeks illness. He had been living at 13 Maple street in Woburn, since leaving Winchester five years ago.

Mr. Vayo was the son of Alphonse and Harriet Vayo. He was born in East Douglas, April 16, 1873, but grew up in Uxbridge where he learned the barber's trade. He came to Winchester at the age of 30, and for many years was manager of the Children's Barber Shop at Filene's Boston store.

Mr. Vayo left Filene's to open his own shop in Winchester, first locating in the White Block over Randall's. Later for several years he had a shop in the North End, retiring ten years ago. The family home was for many years at 13 Arthur street.

He was a long time member of Winchester Lodge of Elks, serving the lodge for several years as tiler, and also heading the committee arranging for the erection of an Elks memorial stone in Wildwood Cemetery.

Mr. Vayo's wife, the former Annie E. Kelley, died in 1930. He leaves a son, William M. Vayo of Stoneham; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Dolan of Rockport, Mrs. William Larson of Somerville and Mrs. Grace Kerrigan of Miami, Fla.; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Elks services were held at the Cassidy Funeral Home in Stoneham Tuesday evening, conducted by the officers of Winchester Lodge, headed by Exalted Ruler Francis Allen.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Charles Church in Woburn. A delegation from Winchester Lodge attended the mass and was present at the interment which took place in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip D. Cabot, of Wakefield are the parents of a second child, first daughter, Deborah Louise, born March 12 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Denton W. Randall of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lonergan, Jr., of Brighton, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Mark Edward, born March 7, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton. Grandparents are Mrs. George E. Lonergan, Sr., of 90 Fletcher street, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Sullivan of Cambridge.

FRANK J. REIL

Frank J. Reil of 791 Main street died Thursday, March 17, after an illness of two months at the age of 62.

Mr. Reil was born in Woburn, son of Frank and Annie Reil. He grew up in the South End of Woburn, learned the leather-worker's trade, and held important positions in several of the local leather manufacturing plants. He was well known in his native city, having spent most of his life there.

He leaves his wife, the former Nellie Bradley; eight daughters, Mrs. Helen Biggio of Stoneham, Mrs. Josephine Stryko and Mrs. Catherine Scire, both of Woburn, and Miss Annie, Miss Mary, Miss Adeline, Miss Jean and Miss Marjorie Reil, all of Winchester; four sons, Francis and Joseph, of Woburn; Frederick and George Reil, both of Winchester; four sisters, Miss Nellie, Miss Katherine and Miss Adeline Reil of Woburn, and Mrs. John Holland of Malden; three brothers, Sgt. Rex Reil and Police Officer George Reil of the Woburn Police Department and Benjamin Reil, also of Woburn. There are also surviving five grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the McLaughlin Funeral Home in Woburn with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

INJURED AS CAR RAMMED BUILDING

Ernest Nowell Johnson, a sailor attached to the USS Columbus, was painfully injured early last Friday morning when the automobile he was driving crashed into the northwest corner of the building at 751 Main street.

Sgt. Elliott, who responded with Officers Noonan, Nash and Tranchita, found Johnson jammed behind the wheel of his completely wrecked car. The police managed to pry open a door of the car and the sailor was removed to the Winchester Hospital in the Rescue Truck of the fire department.

Dr. Nelson Fontneau treated Johnson for bad cuts about the mouth and nose, a large gash on the left side of the neck and an injured right ankle. Sgt. Derro notified the Fargo Building and the sailor was transferred in the ambulance to a Boston Hospital. How the accident occurred is not known.

TO PREACH AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Rev. Richard Gibbs, director of the Department of Church Extension of the American Unitarian Association, will be the guest speaker at the Unitarian Church on Sunday morning, March 27. For the last ten years, Mr. Gibbs has been minister of the First Unitarian Church of Memphis, Tenn. Since 1949 his name has been familiar to Unitarians of the Southwest as their regional conference director. A native of Medford, Mass., and graduate of Tufts Divinity School, he was for five years minister in Brockton before moving to Memphis. Mr. Gibbs will use as his sermon topic, "The Future of a Tradition."

COULSON CURLING FINALS THIS WEEK END

The Curling season will come to a glorious end this Sunday with the finals for the Coulson Mixed Curling Bonspiel at 4 p. m. and a buffet supper at the Country Club immediately after the final matches—about 7 p. m. The finals of the Consolation will also be at 4 p. m. Sunday, so there will be plenty to watch and much to cheer for. Presentation of the John Coulson Medals will be made during cocktail hour before the buffet supper. All Curlers, their familes and behind-the-glass skips are wanted for the supper. Please be sure to advise the club that you will be there, so proper arrangements can be made for your pleasure.

Matches will be going on all day Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. The following rinks will play at 8:30 a. m.: Dyer vs. Shean and Eteson vs. J. Fulton. At 11 a. m. there will be Adams vs. Roundey and Neill vs. Lane. In the consolation at 1:30 there will be Sheeran vs. Righter (to be skipped by Farnsworth) and Symmes vs. Fessenden. Bonnell's rink (to be skipped by King) gets a bye at 11 a. m. Sunday. At 4 p. m. there are Butters vs. Saunders, Dolben vs. Carr and K. Fulton vs. Morse. Please remember that skips are responsible for getting any necessary substitutes.

Semi-finals for the main event will be at 8:30 a. m. Sunday (to give the two winners a chance to rest before the finals at 4 p. m. The consolation matches will be at 11 a. m. and both finals at 4 p. m. (Apparently these two rinks will get a chance to rest.

The finals of the Chairman's competition and the third Round-Robin will also be held Sunday, on the third sheet of ice—one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Skips who are finalists in these matches will have to watch the bulletin board for assigned time.

In the Chairman's Competition, the Wringers won from On The Rocks 11-10 and from the Goofs 8-7. The Hot Stones beat the Coolers 10-9 and the Jumbos 10-6. The Mug Hunters won from the Baldies 10-7. You can see from the scores that this is a real hot competition and the finals will probably be won by a "Wardwell."

Only one match has been played in the third Round-Robin at this writing. The Waghorne rink (skipped by John Fulton) won 9-5 from the Eteson rink (skipped by Jake VanVloten).

Sunday is the big finale of the Curling season. Everyone interested (by playing or watching) should be at the buffet supper Sunday.

TEACHING AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY

John L. Hoffman of Stone avenue has been appointed teaching fellow in anthropology at Harvard University.

Teaching fellows are graduate students, carrying on advanced study and research, who teach part time. Most are preparing for college or university teaching careers, and this gives them an opportunity to acquire teaching experience while continuing their studies. Their teaching is done under the guidance of senior members of the faculty.

Mr. Hoffman received the B.A. in 1943 from Harvard.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1935

The class of 1935, Winchester High School, is making plans for a reunion this spring and have been unable to locate the following members:

Geraldine Douglas Moulton
Richard Sully Leghorn
John Joseph Doherty
Beatrice Evelyn Kelly
H. Graham Peterson

It would be greatly appreciated if anyone having information as to the addresses of these people would contact Priscilla Danforth Pendergast at WInchester 6-3572.

TOWN MEETING OPENED

SIX OF 67 ARTICLES COMPLETED

A total of 188 out of 227 precinct members braved the snow storm to attend the opening session of the annual March Town Meeting Monday evening at the town hall. Moderator Philip P. Wadsworth presided and swore in those newly elected town officials not previously sworn by the town clerk.

William C. Cusack, who is serving as chairman of the Board of Selectmen, from now until Labor Day, spoke of the unprecedented achievement of the high school hockey and basketball teams in winning two State championships on the same evening, feeling it was in order for the town to take cognizance of the feat and express congratulations. Enthusiastic applause greeted his remarks.

The opening articles, providing for the payment of the town debt and giving the Town Treasurer permission with the consent of the Selectmen to borrow money in anticipation of revenue from taxes were summarily dispatched.

Considerable time was consumed under Article 5 by the Personnel Board's explanation, made by Mr. Crockett, of the Board's arrival at standard rates of pay for town employees of practically all classifications. Mr. Crockett said that generally the increases made were due to adding the 12 percent cost of living adjustment to the proposed base pay, (1), to end an expediency now that a period of more stability has been reached, (2), to put the town's base pay rates in more direct comparison with those of comparable towns and, (3), to pay overtime in Winchester on the same basis as that used in other towns.

Mr. Crockett reiterated his oft-repeated statement that his Board is attempting to evaluate jobs not individuals, and has tried to set up a schedule for all employees that will be fair both to those hired in the light of going rates elsewhere and to the town.

He made certain explanations to illustrate his Board's thinking, and the Moderator read the long schedule of proposed maximum and minimum pay for the various classifications. Mr. Crockett said that because certain new maxima had been set did not mean that the employees are presently getting this wage, and generally speaking few actual raises are being made at this time.

The meeting went along with the Board, rejecting an amendment offered by the Finance Committee, seeking to do away with minima for junior clerks and temporary hourly paid workers. The meeting also voted to continue the Personnel Board to further study the town's wage structure, appropriating $850 for its use to secure the advice of experts in the personnel and wage field.

This brought the meeting to the consideration of Article 6, the appropriations article, and before its consideration Mr. Saltmarsh, newly elected Selectman, but serving for the current meetings as chairman of the Finance Committee, warned that budgets should be scrutinized closely.

The Finance Committee had believed, after its own consideration of the departmental budgets, that a tax rate of $45 would be possible. In view however of the many special articles calling for special appropriations, which have been inserted in the warrant, this figure may be too low by several dollars if these special appropriations are voted, or appreciable amounts are added to the departmental figures accepted by the Finance Committee.

Mr. Russell vainly attempted to get a $250 raise for the town treasurer, on the basis of faithful service and no increase in stipend for several years. Mr. Crockett of the Personnel Board opposed, stating that the town has no control of elected officers, and that here again his Board's principle of evaluating the job rather than the man should apply.

The Finance Committee also opposed, and Mr. Russell's stated intention to ask for a $250 raise for the Town Collector did not materialize.

It was explained under the Police Department budget, where an increase over the figures printed in the warrant was voted, that this year the Board of Selectmen would complete the cycle of holidays for the police and also correct a pay inequity affecting the sergeants of the department.

The appropriation for School Traffic Control was upped to provide uniforms for the officers. The Fire Department appropriation was greater than the published figures and it was explained that three lieutenants are to be created to correct a lack of officers at the Station at some time. No new personnel is to be added to the department.

Under the Civil Defense article an addition of $3,700 was asked to buy a generator for use by both the Water and Sewer Board and by the Civil Defense to pump water in the event an emergency created a loss of regular power, such as was experienced during the hurricanes.

It was explained that if the Civil Defense bought the generator the Federal Government, in accordance with its Civil Defense policy, will return half the cost, and the meeting added the sum asked for, over the objection of the Finance Committee and the Selectmen.

The next debate took place under the Highways and Bridges account when Mr. Cusack asked a raise in the printed figures, to include a $10,000 increase for labor and $2,000 for other expenses.

Mr. Cusack explained that because of the exceedingly mild winter, with little snow, it was going to be possible to save a substantial amount on snow and ice removal, but since the highway crews work on snow and ice removal, this saving would necessitate adding a compensating amount to the Highway budget.

FITTS NAMED HEAD OF ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

At a meeting of the school committee this week, Mr. Henry K. Fitts was named head of the English department at the Winchester High School to succeed the late Robert M. Keeney. Mr. Fitts has been a member of the high school faculty since 1948, teaching English, serving as advisor to the Red and Black, and coaching the school's tennis team.

Well known to many Winchester people as "Bud" or "Henry," Mr. Fitts was raised in Winchester, attending the Wyman School, the Wadleigh and the Winchester High School, from which he was graduated in 1932. It is interesting to note that he was a student in Mr. Keeney's first English classes at Winchester.

Following his high school days, Mr. Fitts attended Harvard College, where he majored in English. He received his B.S. degree from Harvard in 1936. As as graduate student at Teachers' College, Columbia, he gained an M.A. in the teaching of English. More recently, he has studied at Boston University and Harvard University.

From 1936 to 1942 Mr. Fitts taught at the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind, where he was head of the English department. During the next six years he held a similar post on the faculty of the Morristown School. In 1948 he returned to Winchester High School as a teacher of English.

An outstanding local tennis player and winner of the town championship on several occasions, Mr. Fitts is also an enthusiastic writer. His short stories and articles for young people have appeared in "The Open Road for Boys," "Boys Today," "Classmate," "Scholastic," and "12-15." Further evidence of the breadth of his interests is seen by his articles on sailing, skiing, and household construction. These have been published by "Yachting Magazine," "The Rudder," "Popular Science," "Mechanix Illustrated," and the New England Home."

Mr. Fitts is married to the former Brenda Skene of Winchester, and they are the parents of two children, William and Becky.

MRS. MARY E. McGRATH

Mrs. Mary E. McGrath of Boston, widow of James Roy McGrath and a native of Winchester, died Friday, March 18, after a short illness, at the age of 81.

Her late husband was an expert machinist employed at the Watertown Arsenal. Their home was for many years on Elmwood avenue and the family was widely known.

ROTARY NOTES

Last week's meeting was the long-awaited tri-club gathering with members of Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions mingling at Masonic Apartments. Despite the fact that some of all clubs "snuck off" to attend the hockey game at Providence, there were still ninety men present, and a most worthwhile meeting was the result.

Robert Lewis was the speaker, taking as his topic the advantage of small industry to Winchester with the Calidyne Company the case in point.

Yesterday's luncheon meeting was a red-letter day as the club had as guests the members of the Winchester High School state championship hockey and basketball teams with their coaches. As the occasion was the club's annual meeting and election of officers, the new slate of officers was elected and will be announced next week.

At next week's meeting the club will have as guests the high school glee club, who will present a musical program for the members.

The big Rotary auction is rapidly approaching and "Al" Elliott is looking for stuff to sell. If you haven't, why don't you! That's what "Al" wants to know!

In spite of a wild, windy and rainy afternoon, the tea for Miss Mary McAuley, kindergarten teacher of the Noonan School, was well attended. Held at the home of Mrs. Francis McClellan, 47 Pond street, on March 22, it was an occasion for the discussion of aims in the education of kindergarten children. Miss Rich, who attended accompanied by Miss Jurgenson, spoke of the opportunities given the child to learn to become responsible, to get along with others, to develop a sense of order, and so on.

Mrs. J. Fenoglis poured, at a table replete with eye-catching and delicious snacks.

HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY PROGRAM TO BE EXPANDED

At a meeting of the school committee on Monday night, special attention was given to the future of high school hockey in Winchester. School authorities recognize that the rapid growth of hockey, climaxed by the team's splendid victory in the state tournament, has aroused great interest in the sport. Mr. Frank Finigan, coach of the high school varsity, and Mr. Harrison Chadwick, who has sponsored the Junior Blades, have made notable contributions to this development.

Although the official hockey program was restricted to a varsity team, the school department substantially increased the funds allotted to it from the athletic budget during the past season. Approximately $1800, or about $75 per player, was expended for coaching, transportation, and ice.

Recognizing the great amount of interest in hockey on the part of many high school pupils, the committe voted to authorize a ninth-year interscholastic program. The cost of this program for the remainder of the calendar year, 1955, is to be taken from unexpended balances or from an emergency appropriation of approximately $500.

After considering the advantages of membership in an interscholastic hockey league, the committee further authorized membership in a varsity and junior (freshman) league, if and when such invitations are received and approved by school authorities. It is hoped that Winchester may enter league competition with schools that it now meets in other sports.

Concerning the question of interscholastic hockey for the junior high school, the school department favors a program of intramural athletics for seventh and eighth-grade pupils in place of interscholastic competition.

The committee also voted an expression of gratitude to Mr. Harrison Chadwick for his efforts in promoting hockey as a sport for the youth of Winchester.

TRADE SURVEY BY LEAGUE

9.6% of the output of ten independent firms in the Winchester-Woburn area is exported. This represents approximately $1,200,000 worth of goods out of a total sales figure of approximately $12,300,000. In term of man-hours it requires 119 out of a total of 1,238 workers to produce these exported goods.

The trade survey in this area was conducted by the League of Women Voters of Winchester as part of the nation-wide survey sponsored by the League of Women Voters of U. S. Object of the survey is to determine the role of foreign trade in local industries and the specific effects of foreign trade on this area.

Except in three specific companies the percentage of raw material imported was found to be negligible. Competition from imports semed to affect only a small number of workers in this area.

Questions on general trade policies were included in the questionnaire, and the company officials interviewed were in agreement on these two points: that foreign trade should be expanded and that protection must be assured industries necessary to national security.

"SEE HOW THEY RUN!"

A veteran member of the production committee for the Winchester Unitarian Players' spring venture, hardened by years of experience at this sort of thing, walked into Metcalf Hall during the first rehearsal and found double bedlam. At one end of the hall the stage quivered from the impact of falling bodies; at the other, a handful of watchers taking it easy in their official capacities of not being on stage at the moment were giving way to immoderate explosions of laughter.

The veteran member of the production committee planted his fists on his hips and said in amazement, "Say, what kind of a play is this, anyway?"

Well, for the record this play is a three-act farce called "See How They Run," written by Philip King, copyright 1947 by Samuel French, Ltd., and produced by special arrangement with Samuel French. Its first American production was by the Actors' Theatre of Plainfield, N. J., in 1949. It has to do with some unexpected developments at a normally peaceful vicarage arising out of a combination of elements such as husbands and wives and visiting clergymen and visitors who are not clergymen and visitors who aren't really visitors and so forth, and the cast sailed into the opening rehearsals with what can only be described as furious enthusiasm.

Opening night is April 22. There will be another performance on April 23. Take your choice. Mrs. Theodore R. Godwin and Kay Miller are in charge of reservations.

YOUTH LENTEN SERVICES

The final Lenten devotional service of the Protestant youth groups of Winchester will be held this Wednesday morning at 7:15 in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Rev. Robert A. Storer will be the speaker, and conducting the worship service will be Bob Becker, chaplain, and Richard Clark of the Unitarian Church as assistant chaplain.

This series of early morning services has been very well attended by the high school group and the cooperation of the ministers of each church has been very much appreciated.

WELL, IT WAS A GOOD TRY, MATES!

INDIANS WON TOURNEY OPENER

WILBUR CROSS DEFEATED, 4-1, IN NEW ENGLANDS

Winchester won its opening game in the New England Interscholastic Hockey tournament at the Rhode Island Auditorium in Providence last Thursday evening, outclassing Wilbur Cross High at New Haven, 4-1, while Belmont High, runner-up to the Indians in the recent Massachusetts State tourney, lost to Hamden High of New Haven, in an overtime thriller, 4-3.

A big crowd of Winchester rooters including a large segment of the high school student body transported to Providence in buses secured through the activity of a group of local mothers, witnessed the games and had no doubt about the outcome of the Winchester-Wilbur Cross contest.

The Indians' Wayne Cowles, individual star of the locals State series win, caged the only goal of the first period at the 5:53 mark, scoring unassisted. Cowles it was, with big Mike Murphy, who set up Winger Leo Callahan at 1:03 of the second period for the goal that gave Winchester a 2-0 lead. Wayne really iced the game when he scored on a pass by Callahan at 1:38, but the Indians added another insurance tally when Callahan scored at 5:27 of the final frame.

Werle scored Wilbur Cross' only goal at 8:38 of the second period with Labinka setting up the tally.

An indication of Winchester's superiority may be secured from the fact that Co-Captain Jensen in the Wilbur Cross net had 26 saves to only seven by the Indians George Denton.

The win boosted Winchester's tournament record to six straight, and its victories against schoolboy teams to 16. The summary:

Winchester High (4)—g, Denton; defense, M. Murphy, Sawyer, Jim Urmson, Farrar; forwards, Cowles, Callahan, Johnson, Urmson, Zirkel, Cussen, Sullivan, Parker, Robinson, J. Murphy.

Wilbur Cross (1)— g, Jensen; defense, Morse, Augur, Hackett; forwards, Hess, Labinka, Werle, Biral, Rees, Armore, Anderson, Migliare, Morris.

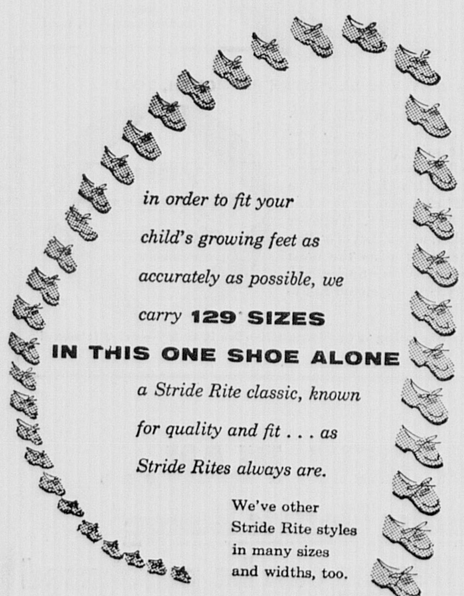

First Period: Cowles, 5:53. Penalties: Morse (trip), Murphy (illegal check), Johnson and Hess (slashing).

Second Period: Callahan (Cowles, Murphy), 1:03; Cowles (Callahan), 1:38; Werle, (Labinka), 8:58. Penalties: Murphy (leg check).

Third Period: Callahan, 5:27. Penalty: Morse (charging).

HAMDEN OUSTED WINCHESTER

INDIANS GO DOWN FIGHTING 6-2

It was "The End of the Trail" for Winchester's amazing hockey Indians at the Rhode Island Auditorium last Friday night as the local boys went down, 6-2, after a plucky fight against a superior and much fresher appearing Hamden High team in the semi-final round of the New England Interscholastic Championship Hockey Tournament.

Hamden's burly sextet, after a gruelling first round overtime battle with Belmont, came back with a vengeance against Winchester, took the lead in the first period and never let up, holding Winchester's crack first line to a single tally and never letting the local boys draw even, try as they would.

Barile drew first blood for Hamden when he sank a Doherty rebound at 7:23 of the opening period. Neither team was able to tally during the remainder of the frame.

Howie Ives, crack Hamden center ice man, really won the game for his team when he beat Denton at 47 seconds of the second period and repeated at 2:53. Down, 3-0, Cowles got Winchester back into the game when he scored what many thought was the prettiest goal that night.

Captain Wayne was behind the Hamden net, after a pass from Johnson, when he faked a passout and then jammed the puck past Gauthier for a neat bit of offensive strategy.

The Cowles tally, and the way it was scored, gave Winchester a shot in the arm, and the embattled Indians actually outplayed their burly opponents for the remainder of the period. Gauthier, however, who performed brilliantly in the Hamden net, refused to let another by, and Hamden actually added to its cushion on Barile's goal at 3:45, on an assist by Goldberg.

Behind 4-1 starting the final quarter, Winchester kept fighting and the big local delegation whooped it up when Charlie Urmson of the second line scored first at 3:01 after a nifty bit of teaming with Joe Cussen and Johnny Zirkel.

The Indians' joy was short lived, however, for Doherty banged home a pass from Ives at 4:34 and Barile added insult to injury by sinking Ives pass at 7:16.

Without taking a thing away from Handen's great team, and they had to be great to beat St. Dominick's of Lewiston, Me., in the final, it is too bad the Winchester boys could not have played them on more equal terms, physically.

The Indians rode down to Providence for their opening game Thursday night, then home after the game, and they were in school Friday before riding back to Providence to meet Hamden, a team that stayed in Providence and had a chance to rest and relax for the big battle.

Whether the Indians could have beaten Hamden is a question. They never had a chance Friday, and the principal difference was a crack, thoroughly experienced goaler in the Hamden nets, against a green sophomore, getting his first look at the big time. Denton did mighty well under the circumstances, saving 18 times to Gauthier's 20. In fairness to Denton it should be said that he didn't get the protection from his defensemen that he has enjoyed throughout most of the season, and he had to face several long high hoists from the husky Hamden boys, the like of which he had seen little if at all in previous games.

A huge crowd from Winchester went down for the Hamden game, by far the bigger part of the fans at the Auditorium being from this town. They rooted their hearts out for the Indians and had nothing but praise for Coach Finigan's gamesters in defeat.

The summary:

Hamden High (6)—g, Gauthier; defense, Goldberg, Kennedy; forwards, Barile, Ives, Doherty, Batson, Dietter, Ferrie.

Winchester High (2)— g, Denton; defense, Murphy, Sawyer; forwards, Johnson, Callahan, Cowles, Zirkel, Cussen, Urmson.

First Period: Barile (Ives, Doherty). No penalties.

Second Period: Ives (Barile) :47; Ives 2:53; Cowles (Johnson) 7:45; Doherty (Barile, Goldberg) 8:45. Penalty: Murphy (trip).

Third Period: Urmson (Cussen, Zirkel) 3:01; Doherty (Ives) 4:34; Barile (Ives) 7:16. Penalties: Murphy (center zone check), Murphy (charging).

Officials: Gus Rivers and Ed Panczak.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

It is the entire wish of the Sons of Italy to express our sincere gratitude to the players and coaches of the Winchester High School for the honor they have bestowed upon our town. May the forthcoming years be as successful in all sports as they were this year in hockey and basketball.

The tempo is sure picking up as we roll into the last two weeks of bowling. Tension is running high and the strain has been terrific for many of the bowlers. There are many things to write about so here is the picture as of now.

Team Standings:

St. Mary's	31-13
Georgetown	30-14
Holy Cross	27-17
California	25-19
Boston College	22-22
Harvard	22-22
Notre Dame	18-26

Top Seven Bowlers:
Moose Bellino	103.3
Tony Saraco	102.5
Jake Jacobellis	98.5
Tony Chefalo	97.
Pete Provinzano	96.8
Frank DiMambro	96.8
Jeff Gaudioso	96.7

Tony Saraco still maintains a commanding lead in the 300 circle with 17 and Moose the runner up with 15. Those who were fortunate to bowl 300 or more this week were: Moose Bellino, 357; Joe Ciarcia, 345; John Buttafucco, 321; Jeff Gaudioso, 308; Carl Bertolucci, 303; Johnny Mangano, 311; Tony Chefalo, 360; Henry Subrizio, 300.

Georgetown fell apart as their champion leader unfortunately had his worst night of this bowling season. Tony Saraco just couldn't get a break and the opposition taking advantage of this, rode him unmercifully which didn't help the situation. The leader of the opposition who almost single-handedly jockeyed St. Mary's off the ton was that lovable play boy "Father Time" Hokie Procopio. The climax of the evening which will always be remembered was that Ben Gillotti who played anchor man for Yale against Tony Saraco of St. Mary's who in his last box of the night came up with a spare and an 8 on the spare to assure his team of 3 points. Bedlam broke loose with the entire Yale team as they lifted Ben like a hero on their shoulders and paraded around the alleys with good clean laughter and noise ever witnessed in any season. What a hero!

In the meantime St. Mary's came up with 3 points to scamper to the top and Holy Cross rode roughshod over California by taking 4 points to climb into 3rd place. With but two weeks left to go it sure is going to be a bang up finish between these three teams.

I stated last week it would take a lot of youth, courage and heart to catch Tony Saraco in the average column once he got the lead but I sure was wrong. That never-say-die Bellino spirit true to tradition came to life and smashed a 357 pinfall to climb to a very substantial lead with only a couple of weeks left to go. Even with this short space of time left, don't sell Tony Saraco short.

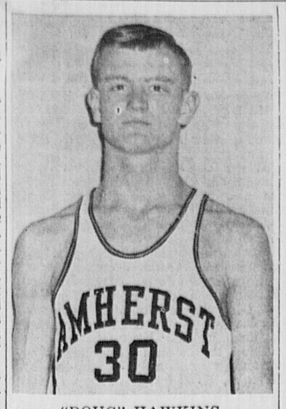

It is the wish of our government to live in peace with all peace loving people. The close relationship with the English people and our country is well known. The S.O.I. ambassadors of good will Dan Gattinieri and Nick Molea who though their youth makes them nervous in their new endeavor, we do hope they will conquer their fears. Seriously boys isn't that English parakeet keen and I know how hard it is to bowl in the next alley with such English beauty breathing down your necks.

Michael D. Saraco is studying law and is giving free advice to those who need it. He says he is going to specialize in divorces and property settlements. Who was the chick in red who held our boys in a spell for over an hour this evening? Who was she Mike S.?

There's one thing I am proud to announce that our bowlers have very understanding wives.

So we close the column again with a very successful raffle which was won by a parakeet who is full of pep, vim and vigor, Rose Picopolos.

Originally torpedo tubes on Navy destroyers were mounted in the bow. Now they are mounted in a battery which can be trained so that the whole ship need not be turned toward the target.

"DOUG" HAWKINS

LEADS AMHERST HOOP TEAM

News that Douglas W. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hawkins of 242 Highland avenue, had been elected captain of the 1956 Amherst College basketball team was enthusiastically received by the many Winchester admirers of the 6'5" center, who sparked the Winchester State and N. E. championship team of 1952 and led this year's Amherst team to an outstanding 16-6 record with his spirit and aggressive play.

Hawkins paced the team in almost every department as he scored 386 points for the season, an average of 17.5 per game. His 48 per cent shooting average and 14.4 rebounds per game also represented high marks for the Jeffs.

Amherst got off to a fast start this year as the Jeffs won their first five games and twelve out of their first thirteen. A slump at mid-year examination time hit the Purple, and they were upset by Wesleyan and lost overtime decisions to Springfield and Iona. The Jeffs' top game of the year occurred in their first meeting with arch rivals, Williams, and Amherst handed the NCAA tournament-bound Ephs their only defeat of the year.

Hawkins, who turned in steady performances all season was the most consistent 20-point scorer on the team. He reached his peak with 26 points in the Springfield game when he played against his tallest opponent of the year.

Doug also won his letter as a sophomore. In his freshman year, he was awarded class numerals in cross country and track as well as in basketball. A member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity, he was elected to Student Council and is a member of Sphinx, the junior honorary society.

HOLY NAME SPORTS NITE

HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPS HONORED

In the first public recognition of Winchester High's crack State Champs of Hockey and Basketball, St.Mary's Holy Name Society held a most pleasant and entertaining sports night Sunday evening at the new St. Mary's Hall.

Master of Ceremonies Ted O'Rourke read two telegrams, "with tongue in cheek" from Maurice Richard, fiery Montreal Hockey player, and the Range Rider regretting their inability to be present.

After welcoming the guests, Ted announced that fine trophies, suitably engraved, would be presented to the hockey and basketball players and team managers from St. Mary's Holy Name Society. Hockey Captain Wayne Cowles accepted his trophy as did Basketball Captain Jim Wright, the other trophies being still at the engravers.

Basketball Coach Jim Phillips expressed his thanks to the Holy Name for their recognition of his players and attributed the successful year to the parents, teachers and leaders throughout the past several years, pointing out that success has to be built up and doesn't come overnight. Coach Phillips modestly said he was glad to be a part of the organization past and present which has built Winchester's basketball success.

Coach Frank Finigan declared it a thrill to be present and termed his hockey stars as the finest collection of boys in hockey. He announced that Wayne Cowles had been chosen as wing on the All New England Team, a great honor. He praised the individual members by name and reiterated Coach Phillips remarks that the people of Winchester are the basis of the team.

Athletic Director and Football Coach Henry Knowlton had high praise for the entire coaching staff, pointing out that the football team only lost one game this past season, which added to the hockey and basketball successes, makes Winchester a very successful sports Mecca.

Coach Knowlton praised the families of players who insist on aiding in transporting players to and from games, giving special commendation to the Legionnaires who assist regularly in this. With justifiable pride, he noted that he was born in Winchester, went through the schools and now is coaching here and in closing, he expressed the regrets of Principal Wade Grindle who was unable to be present.

Guest speakers were Jackie Lee of Medford, regular lineman at Notre Dame, and "Buff" Donelli, head football coach at B. U. Lee praised the hockey and basketball teams, and quoted the motto in the Irish dressing room, "When the going gets tough, the tough gets going!" In a serious note he urged the young athletes in his audience to matriculate at colleges near at hand.

Donelli praised the training and coaching the Winchester teams had received and felt that boys, properly directed and coached, often learn more in athletics than they do in the classroom.

A surprise speaker was a gentleman introduced as Dr. Bruno Symonetti, director of athletics at Milan University, Italy. In precise English with a strong accent he told of his introduction to American athletics and it was not until the conclusion of his amusing anecdotes that he dropped out of character and turned out to be a police officer in a nearby community.

Excellent musical entertainment was provided by Bob and Pete Derba of Medford, Matignon High students, who played piano and sax and sang. Movies were shown of Notre Dame's conquest of Southern California, and refreshments were served.

McLAUGHLIN CO-CAPTAIN

Charlie McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin of Robinson Park, has been elected co-captain of the Norwich University hockey team for next season. A junior, he played wing on the first line and has been a mainstay of the team for the past two seasons.

Another Winchester boy also played on the team, Richard Moriarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Moriarty of Sheffield road, being a junior letterman on whom Coach Red Priestly is counting for next year's club. The cadets won 10 out of 15 this season.

Woodrow W. Pynn, chief machinist's mate, USN, of Clematis street, took part in the evacuation of the Tachen Islands recently while serving aboard the USS Princeton in the Far East.

WINCHESTER LOST CONSOLATION

Winchester lost an anti-climax consolation game to Notre Dame of Berlin, N. H., 7-3, last Saturday evening at the Rhode Island Auditorium, as a preliminary to the championship round victory of Hamden, Conn., over St. Dom's of Lewiston, Me., 3-2.

Another big crowd from Winchester was cheering on the Indians, and many thought the Winchester-Notre Dame game one of the best of the tourney.

The Indians were far from outclassed, though they never did succeed in pulling up even. Lacroix, Notre Dame goaler, slammed the door on Winchester's chances when with the score, 5-3, he saved brilliantly on a spectacular solo dash by Wayne Cowles in the second period. Had the Winchester captain gotten that one, it might have been a different game.

Notre Dame's last goal was scored while Winchester had a forward on the ice to replace its goaler in a vain attempt to make its offense click.

Wayne Cowles scored first for Winchester, his goal at 31 seconds of the second period pulling Winchester up to a mere 2-1 deficit. "Charlie" Urmson, second line forward, and "Richie" Johnson, busy center ice man, scored the others for Winchester.

Most of the Winchester fans returned to a huge open house at the home of the McHenry Browns on Oxford street. Disappointed, but by no means cast down, about described the local followers, who had every reason to be proud of the great record of their truly "Cinderella Team."

The summary:

Notre Dame—goal, LaCroix; defense, Fillion, LeClerc; forwards, Villeneuve, Valliere, Deyette, Roger Baillargeon, Bob Baillargeon, Frechette, Rivard.

Winchester—goal, Denton; defense, Murphy, Sawyer; forwards, Cowles, Johnson Callahan, Zirkel, Cussen, Urmson.

Winchester Police Athletic League

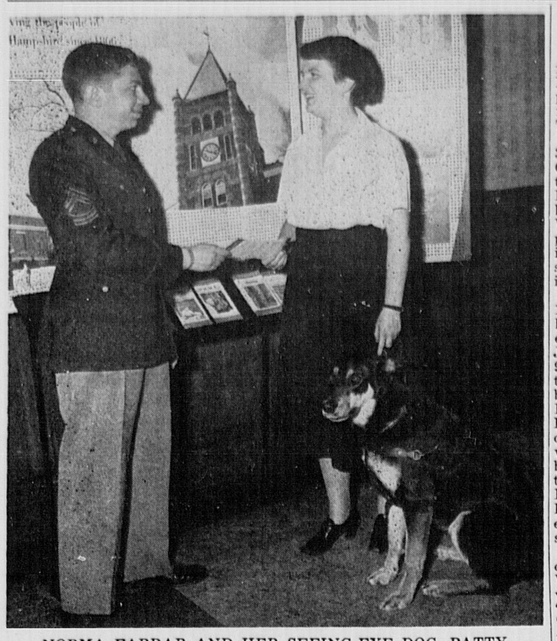

The six teams pictured above are the Capitols, Indians, Eagles, Blackhawks, Pistons and Celtics. They comprise the members of the newly formed basketball league for 14-15 year old Winchester boys.

These teams have completed two rounds of competition and are busily engaged in eliminations for a second round winner. The winner of the first round will play this team for the Championship.

The League is promoted by the Winchester Police Dept. and supported by various Fraternal, Civic and Social organizations of the Town as well as numerous public spirited citizens.

It is the earnest desire of the Directors of the League to expand the League next season and afford other teen age groups the same opportunity as the original group has enjoyed this season. The League is guided by Sgt. Jack Elliott, Officer Joseph Quigley and Officer Rich Beaton.

NORMA FARRAR AND HER SEEING-EYE DOG, PATTY, GET THE MAIL AT THE UNIVERSITY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

PRAISES SCHOLARSHIP HELP

When public relations were first discussed for the impending Winchester Scholarship Foundation drive, one of the first names for a picture to be mentioned was Norma Farrar and her seeing-eye dog, Patty. Norma was not thought of because of her handicap of being blind, only because despite her handicap she has overcome all odds and proved herself to be an extremely outstanding person—truly an example to all those who have no problems to surmount. Norma wasn't too happy about having her picture used at first, but we explained that, like Helen Keller, she has developed herself into such an exceptional person she will always be in the public eye.

The Winchester Scholarship Foundation is extremely proud and feels privileged to have had a small financial part in providing a reader of books (not published in Braille) for Norma while she was at the University of New Hampshire and thus takes pride with her in her great achievement and success.

Norma is now coordinator of religious activities and project director in the office of university development at U. of New Hampshire. She wrote, "I cannot say enough in sincere appreciation for the extended assistance which I received from the Scholarship Committee. I'm sure that the four years spent in undergraduate work would have presented real financial obstacles without their help, and I know it would have been absolutely impossible for me to undertake graduate studies without further generous assistance from your committee. Without the graduate work in guidance which led to my M. A., I hardly think I would have the position I now hold.

"I am truly grateful and am always glad to publicly assist the Winchester Scholarship Committee whenever and wherever possible. I'm sure that many other recipients of scholarship aid from the committee feel the same sense of appreciation which I'm trying to express, and I'm sure I speak my gratitude for them also."

Marcia Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham of 22 Jefferson road, is at home for the spring recess from Kents Hill School, Kents Hill, Maine. Marcia has been a member of the girls' basketball team during the winter term.

SCOUT RALLY APRIL 2nd

Interest and activity is reaching fever peak among the town's seven Boy Scout troops and two Explorer posts in preparation for the Scout rally to be held in the town hall at 7:15 p. m., Saturday, April 2nd.

Scoutmaster Ed Hinton of Troop 3 at the First Congregational Church says that his troop is out to retain the Robinson Whitten Rally Trophy which his unit now holds. At Troop 4, sponsored by Winchester Rotary, Bill McNeil's patrol is busily practicing signaling, while Carl Masi and Steve Wilson are among the Scouts preparing for the fire-lighting event.

Scoutmaster Ed Cullen of Troop 12, sponsored by St. Mary's, says his troop will compete in all events except bugling and tug-of-war. Jim Hancock, scoutmaster of Troop 9 at the Washington School, says that one of his strongest teams will be Morse signaling with Scouts Richard Crockford and Allan McDougall. Scoutmaster Bob Flaherty of Troop 6 at the Unitarian Church warns the other troops to watch out because his Scouts have been practicing hard. In addition, Advisors Dick Davenport of Post 3 and Bob Low of Post 7 promise that the older Explorer boys will put on a good show.

Under the chairmanship of Winchester Scout Commissioner Bill Wickwire, the rally will be supervised by Scouting's popular Robert "Doc" Millican. Admission is free. The public is cordially invited to attend, although children under 11 should be accompanied by adults.

DESSERT BRIDGE AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Shamrocks decorated the George Washington School auditorium Thursday evening, March 17th, when the Mothers' Association held its dessert bridge. An assortment of delicious desserts were served and then the mothers and fathers played bridge, scrabble, or canasta. In the middle of the evening numerous door prizes were given out.

Arrangements for the evening were made by the Ways and Means Committee which included Mrs. Charles Bund, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. William Wickwire, Mrs. Louis Bravacos, Mrs. Henry Clark, Mrs. Lester Gustin, Jr., Mrs. Robert Sheehan, Mrs. Lawrence England, Mrs. Richard Schroeder, Mrs. Richard Stiles, Mrs. Robert Elliott and Mrs. Arthur Cann under the direction of Mrs. David Choate; and the Social Committee headed by Mrs. Thomas Preston and including Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, Mrs. John Wile, Mrs. Dana Peterson, Mrs. William Varley, Mrs. John D. Peterson, Mrs. Paul Ward, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Norman Weeks, Mrs. Pasquale Tofuri, Mrs. Robert Tesar, Mrs. William Sullivan and Mrs. Eric Johnson.

FATHER-DAUGHTER GIRL SCOUT BANQUET

In spite of a drizzling rain, a record attendance was the reward for the efforts of Mrs. H. K. Archibald, chairman of the Girl Scout father-daughter banquet.

When the catered dinner was served, 360 Girl Scouts, Scout leaders and fathers completely filled Chidley Hall in the First Congregational Church Tuesday night, March 22.

With a background of flags of all nations and table decorations of international dolls, Mrs. Roswell Harding, president of the Winchester Girl Scout Council, welcomed the largest group ever to attend a father-daughter banquet.

The traditional opening flag ceremony was ably conducted by Mrs. W. B. Hersey's Troop 1, and grace was led by Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church.

Following dinner, Miss Ruth L. Bean, representing the Girl Scout Council of Somerville, led the girls and leaders in singing Girl Scout songs, punctuated here and there by bass notes from the fathers.

Mrs. Harding next named those at the head table, composed of women leaders and male Council advisors, climaxing the introductions by calling on Mrs. Eleanor Shinnick, executive director of the Winchester Girl Scout Council. The girls gave Mrs. Shinnick a rousing cheer as she proceeded to announce the winners of the poster contest. Winning Girl Scout book ends were Diane Fulgoni of 18 Chestnut street and Linda Chase of 18 Symmes road. Honorable mention went to Linda Carter and Barbara Stewart. The posters were displayed at the meeting hall for all to see, including ribbons of appropriate colors designating the winners.

For the next 20 minutes Reverend John Snook, Jr., minister of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, became a master of ceremonies and conducted an amusing quiz game between selected Girl Scout volunteers and "arbitrarily" selected fathers. The girls outscored the fathers by about 50-0, all the way from drinking milk out of a baby bottle complete with nipple to "how many 2-cent stamps are there in a dozen?"

Featured speaker of the evening was Mrs. James B. Willing, past president of Winchester Girl Scouts and now serving on the Mass. Girl Scout board. Mrs. Willing gave a real down-to-earth resume of the Girl Scout Promise and Laws, illustrating how these integral parts of a Girl Scout's creed could and should be applied in everyday life.

The closing ceremony and retirement of the colors were conducted by Mrs. S. B. Carincross' Troop 44. The singing of "Taps" put a fitting climax to an all-around excellent personification of companionship between Girl Scouts and their fathers on this long-to-be-remembered father-daughter banquet.

CUB PACK 3

The regular meeting was held Monday evening, March 14th, at the First Congregational Church hall with the usual opening ceremonies and the giving of awards as the special features.

Recipients of those awards were Peter Hamlin, Roland Kirkpatrick, Winthrop Knox, Ted Longworth, Peter Matson, Jerry Merriam, David Needham, Duncan Page, Reed Roop, Francis Scaraci and Todd Wadsworth.

Also Alan Withers, Robert Pride, John Worcester, Tommy Bateman, Ned Harrington, Geoffrey Heath, Roger Newton, Stephen Powers, Billy Herron, Jonathan Green, Dwight Bellows, Tommy Butler, John Cade, Fred Cardin, Robert Dickson, Carl and Peter Fontneau, James Gustin.

In conclusion most amusing moving pictures were shown.

All women of the church and their friends are cordially invited to attend and hear Rev. Almeda C. Vickery, minister of religious education at the church, speak on "The History of the Cross."

Mrs. Harold M. Jones will be in charge of the tea which will follow.

PLYMOUTH WINS

FOR 1955 STYLING OVER "OTHER 2" LOW-PRICE CARS BY VOTE OF ALMOST 4 TO 1

THOUSANDS PREFER PLYMOUTH'S STYLING IN NATION-WIDE SURVEY!

A well-known independent research organization asked thousands of people—in New York, Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta, Dallas, Los Angeles—to compare the appearance of '55 models of the three low-price cars. Opinions were received from men and women—from people of all ages—from owners of all the different makes of cars. The results are below.

Best buy new; better trade-in, too!

HERE'S WHAT OTHERS THOUGHT OF PLYMOUTH!

Compared with low-price car "A"		Compared with low-price car "B"
Plymouth is better looking	62%	Plymouth is better looking	66%
Car "A" is better looking	16%	Car "B" is better looking	17%
Almost 4 to 1 in Plymouth's favor!		Again, almost 4 to 1 for Plymouth!
(22% liked "both about the same")		(17% liked "both about the same")

HERE'S WHY YOU'LL PREFER PLYMOUTH, TOO!

Plymouth '55—with THE FORWARD LOOK—is the only low-price car to offer you honestly new styling, instead of a mere face-lifting. It's bigger than the "other 2" cars (longer than car "A" by 8.4 inches!). It's lower and sleeker, with a host of styling advances that wins the most applause in the lowest-price field. SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Do you know that the 1954 changes in the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance brought 10 million more people under the protection of the Social Security law as of January 1, 1955?

Here are some of the important changes brought about by the new law:

Bigger payments which began with the September check.

Higher benefits because the new law makes several changes in the way the amounts are figured.

If a person has been totally disabled for six months or more, or if he becomes totally disabled in the future, the period of disability will not be counted in averaging his earnings:

As of January 1, 1955, persons age 72 and older receiving social security payments may earn any amount from wages of self-employment, regardless of the nature of the work, and still keep their checks.

As of January 1, 1955, beneficiaries between the ages of 65 and 72 may work and earn as much as $1,200 in wages and from self-employment. This includes earnings from work performed on any type of job whether it is covered by the Social Security Act or not.

For further information about these important changes to the Social Security Act, please contact your nearest Social Security District Office. Residents of Winchester should contact the Social Security Office at 2 Trowbridge street, Cambridge, Tel. UN 4-3900.

EASTER CONCERT AT THE LIBRARY

A program of recorded music suited to both the spring and the Easter holiday season will be presented at the regular Wednesday concerts at 3:00 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. April 6.

Sounds of a soft spring breeze, a bird song and thunder and lightning; description of a sleeping goatherd and his faithful dog; dances and nymphs and shepherds will be heard in "Spring," part I of "The Four Seasons," by Antonio Vivaldi. This section, like the other three, is a self-contained violin concerto of three movements; Reinhold Barchet plays the solo passages with the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra conducted by Karl Munchinger.

The RCA Chorale with Orchestra will sing verses I and II of Bach's "Cantata No. 4" (Christ lag in Todesbanden"). This beautiful and dramatic work is based on a Lutheran hymn the words of which are by Martin Luther and is supposed to have been composed for Easter services in 1724.

Harry Danks will be viola d'amore soloist with the London Ensemble in the Vivaldi "Concerto in A major for Viola d'Amore," "Strings," and "Harpsichord." This performance, recorded in England in 1952 by the Haydn Society, Inc., is in the authentic style for which it was composed.

A choral work very often associated here with the Easter season is Brahms' "A German Requiem." From this beautiful and imposing composition, the Chorus of the Society of the Friends of Music in Vienna, accompanied by the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Herbert von Karajan, will sing the first chorus "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

The program will conclude with a group of Easter songs sung by the Robert Shaw Chorale. The selections are mostly traditional Easter carols but also include an early American hymn, a Negro spiritual and a chorus from Bach's "The Passion According to St. John."

Like the previous month's concerts, this one will be heard on the new hi-fidelity equipment, bringing the hearer closer to the music and a fuller enjoyment of it.

The highlight of the season was its win over its traditional rival, Exeter, at Exeter 56-36. The team broke even in a 14-game schedule with wins over all its prep school rivals on the schedule. The only losses were those suffered at the hands of strong college freshmen teams. This is Keyes' first year on the squad. He is a junior.

EDITORIALS

It is often true when credit is being given this or that person, or group of persons, we overlook others who miss the accolade because the thing they do is either less spectacular or to those giving credit, less important than the act that attracted the praise. This is often true with respect to our high school cheer leaders, a hard-working, enthusiastic group of girls who faithfully follow and cheer our high school teams in victory or defeat. Theirs is no one season. They perform during all seasons. From the first fall football game to the final baseball game or track meet of the spring, these girls in their scarlet, white and black uniforms are always on the job, yelling, parading, presenting their routines for just one thing, to help the boys along to victory. . . They get little public commendation. Most of us take them for granted. We imagine they do not go out for cheer leader and give the time necessary to this arduous activity for praise alone. There are however few people who do not like to be praised for a good job well done, and we imagine our cheer leaders are no exception. They have done an especially fine job this year, particularly during the hockey and basketball tournaments just past. Above and beyond their expert fulfilling of their cheerleading roles they have at all times been credits to the school and town. Well done, girls, we are proud of you!

2ND LT. JOST MICHELSEN

COMMISSIONED

Editor of the Star:

The writer is extremely proud of our newest young Lieutenant. There is a story behind his being commissioned and now that he has returned to Ft. Sill, and out of arm's reach, it can be told.

When Jost finished his basic training, his orders were cut for a non-combatant branch of the army. He wanted no part of this, so a call to Headquarters First Army returned him to the Infantry. He was determined to become an officer and made it going through OCS at Ft. Sill, Okla., which means Artillery. Most people know the famous Artillery song "When the caissons go rolling along." My dictionary shows the definition of a caisson as a "chest filled with explosive material" and those of us who remember seeing Jost explode on the football field think this is a good description of him.

He has been assigned back to Ft. Sill as instructor, a further proof that he has something on the ball. The writer knows he will make a splendid officer and that he will play his part in turning out the type of officer the U. S. Army can be justly proud of. We consider his determination and self-discipline the basis of his success and a good example to the young men coming into service age.

The best of luck to you Lt. Michelsen. When the writer gets his new address we will put it in the Star as there are several men overseas who are asking for it.

Cordially yours,
Mrs. K. B. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

IN DEFENSE OF DRIVES

Editor of the Star:

As a veteran of many Winchester Drives, I would like to express my sentiments on the subject. It is a happy fact that we Americans wish to take care of our less fortunate by voluntarily contributing to our charitable organizations. During the yearly drives we are reminded of the needs and accomplishments of these organizations and we are moved to want to share their activities. We are grateful that there are people who make it their life work to administer these funds and manage the thousands of charitable agencies.

I think that it is unwise to expect to consolidate these drives too much. People simply do not give as much at one time as they will if they are approached several times. The needs are so much greater now than the funds available, that consolidation would mean tragic curtailment of charitable activities. If the scope of activities of the Red Feather, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army were duplicating and overlapping, it would be obviously better to consolidate, but such is not the case and to me it seems wiser to have them separate in their drives and administration.

As for the drives to raise money for medical research, more money is contributed when people are told of the needs and are asked to help. The medical research labs are short of funds and their staffs are too small and are relatively poorly paid. Everyone benefits from medical research. I think that each must decide for himself how much he can afford to contribute and give it to the research which interests him most. The needs are great and the benefits are great and the money must come from somewhere.

This year we are also having a drive to raise money for our Winchester Scholarship Foundation. In former years, money has been raised in the schools by various and sundry projects. The need for ever larger sums of money has made the raising of sufficient funds increasingly difficult. Soliciting contributions has two distinct advantages. All money contributed goes directly towards scholarships, not even partially to any project. Also, all people in Winchester who desire to help our young people, will share in building up the funds of the Scholarship Foundation. It has been stated that one of our most flagrant wastes in America is mental ability. Free as we are, we let our children stop their education and earn their living doing work below their mental capabilities. It is a very great contribution to the future of our country to help our youth continue their education.

It is still our privilege as Americans to contribute as much as we want to the charities which are dearest to our hearts. The solicitors of our money should respect this inalienable right. We should all feel grateful to be able to give, rather than be in need of help. Actually we all benefit, directly and indirectly. I like to remember that the widow's mite was the gift most treasured by Jesus. In conclusion I feel that until we work out a society in which charity is unnecessary, or a simpler method which makes us give more generously, we must support our money-raising drives graciously, and as generously as we are able.

Yours sincerely,
Justine M. King
Pres. of the Central Board
Winchester Mothers' Association

MR. BARKER REPLIES

Editor of the Star:

The charge made in the letter to the Star of March 18, that the Fluoridation Committee had only presented the favorable aspects of fluoridation is understandable in view of the fact that the entire report of the committee was not published. Appendix I of the report was a long list of scientific societies in favor of fluoridation and also a list of schools of Public Health whose department heads were in favor.

Appendix II of the report was a long reprint of an article by Dr. James H. Shaw of Harvard School of Dental Medicine. Would the Star be willing to print this article if reprint rights can be obtained? Since Dr. Shaw's article answered all the main objections that have been brought against fluoridation (including those brought up in last week's letter) the committee felt there was no point in repeating that material.

To answer the questions brought up in last week's letter as briefly as possible! There would be no ugly mottled teeth due to a concentration of fluoride of one ppm. This fact has been determined by observation in areas fluoridated at 1 ppm. It would be silly to merely replace ugly cavities with ugly mottling. The American Dental and Medical Societies would not advocate fluoridation if that were so. Nor would they recommend fluoridation if it were dangerous. It is known to be safe since more than three million Americans have had more than 1 ppm, substantially more, all their lives in naturally fluoridated areas. Because of the existence of naturally fluoridated areas more is known about the safety and effectiveness of this Public Health measure than was known about any other Public Health measure at the time of its introduction.

Very truly yours,
Edward G. Barker
Chairman,
Winchester Fluoridation Com.

(Ed. Note: The Star did not have the space available to publish the two appendices of which Mr. Barker speaks. The Shaw report is especially lengthy, and at this time of year, particularly it is a question whether we could print it except as a paid article.)

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

Editor of the Star:

In response to the recent article appearing in your paper, "In Aid of Youth" by our Evander French of the Winchester Babe Ruth League Finance Committee, we are pleased to report that nearly three-quarters of our goal has been achieved and definite preparations can now be made for purchasing necessary equipment and supplies, including uniforms.

However, as no direct house to house solicitions are to be made, we are hopeful by another week that our merchants, clubs, organizations and individuals interested in our program, that has no other motive except to do something for teen age boys of Winchester, will come forward with financial help.

Contributions can be sent to the Winchester Babe Ruth League, c/o Evander French, 24 Westland avenue, or to our Treasurer, Roderick S. Thomson, 25 Fells road.

In the next issue of the Star information will be given about our League Sponsors and the Co-Sponsors of the four teams that have made all this possible, also complete information for the boys and their parents.

W. H. S. HOCKEY TOP MAN

"Richie" Johnson, star center on this year's championship hockey team, has been chosen captain of the 1955-56 team. He was chosen an all-state forward after the tournament at the Boston Garden.

Our tentative plan is to have application blanks ready April 2nd, with ground condition and weather permitting, tryouts April 15th or 16th, continuing through the Spring Vacation week, and the opening of the Babe Ruth League schedule with a double-header on May 15th.

We still would like to hear from former ball players, (professional, college or high school men) to join with us during the tryouts, and give consideration to being one of our managers, coaches or umpires. Just telephone me, WInchester 6-1808.

Carl A. Morton,
President

SUPPORTS MR. MOTT

Editor of the Star:

More on Mott's idea of returning to the original unlimited town meeting: This could be accomplished either by referendum or petition to the Legislature, and of the two, I think referendum would be better, and more fully exemplify the desires of the voters as to how they wish to govern and be governed.

Now as to the mechanics of conducting an unlimited town meeting: This could be accomplished by utilizing the several school halls throughout the town, connected by what's known as a closed circuit hook-up of radio and television facilities.

I would also like to go on record as agreeing wholeheartedly with Mr. Mott on our present non-representative form of town meeting. As a resident of the town, off and on since 1920, I have witnessed some peculiar capers, all of which cost money, and most of which benefited a few to the detriment of the rest, still tax payers, but with no real voice in how their taxes are to be spent.

Most of the Star readers know that the foregoing is not primarily a new idea, either with Mr. Mott or myself, but was voiced a few years back by Captain Rush and undoubtedly by other townspeople prior to that.

This is written with no ulterior motive, nor with any axe to grind, but simply as my contribution to what is now good government, but which could also be better government.

APPRECIATE COOPERATION!

Editor of the Star:

We would like to take the opportunity to thank the merchants and private citizens of Winchester for the support given to the appeal for funds to hire buses to transport the High School students to the N. E. Hockey tournament at Providence. We are especially grateful for the buses generously given by Filene's, the Texaco Oil Co., and another donor who prefers to remain anonymous.

The response to the solicitation was wonderful and we were able to have six buses Thursday and eight buses Friday.

We would like to recognize the cooperation given to this project by Mr. McIntyre of the McIntyre Bus Co., of Stoneham who furnished buses at very short notice to the extent of driving a bus himself so that every student who desired to go to Providence had the opportunity.

We would also like to thank the parents who volunteered to chaperon the buses on these nights.

The behavior of our students going to, at the game, and coming home made us proud to be citizens of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson
Mr. and Mrs. McHenry Browne
Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kimball

SINCERE APPRECIATION

Editor of the Star:

On behalf of the Officers and Directors of the Massachusetts Heart Association I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere appreciation for the very generous coverage which the Winchester Star gave to the 1955 Heart Fund Campaign.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be able to tell you that this was a record-breaking campaign. The support which you gave to Chairman Mrs. Sophie E. Bowman and the other members of her committee made possible this success. Incomplete returns indicate that the Heart Sunday total in Greater Boston will exceed $215,000.00.

Very truly yours,
Robert W. Wilkins, M.D. Pres.
Mass. Heart Association

Does your wife have your number? Your social security account may be worth thousands of dollars to her if you should die. She should have these papers to file a proper application with the Social Security Administration for survivors benefits.

TOWN MEETING OPENED

Mr. Morton expressed himself as confused over this fact, and a gallant attempt by Mr. Wakefield, town engineer, to enlighten him, left him still puzzled, though willing to trust the approving Selectmen and Finance Committee, whom he said "must understand it!"

Mr. Hewis stated that this jockeying of figures from one budget to another was one of the strongest reasons for what he has always advocated, a department of public works with all labor pooled to use wherever necessary.

Mr. Cullen didn't agree at all, and the meeting finally understood that if the Highway crews don't work on snow and ice they have to work on the streets, since it is the town policy to keep them busy all year. Either way they have to be paid and the tax payer has to provide the funds to do it.

A bit of a brush, though nothing of major proportions, occurred during the consideration of the nearly million dollar school budget. Mr. Littleton explained at some length some of the items that made the budget so large, and asked that the figure proposed by the Finance Committee be increased by $1,200 to raise the stage at the Washington School so that those attending functions there can see those appearing on the platform.

The Finance Committee didn't feel that raising the stage is necessary at this time, and Mr. Littleton admitted this. He did feel however that it would be better to do it now while the school budget is under the million dollar mark than to wait and have to do it after the budget goes above this figure.

Mr. Rotundi bespoke his complete agreement, stating he had gone recently to attend an entertainment at the school in which three of his children were participating, and was unable to see any one of them. The meeting voted the $1,200 increase requested on a voice vote.

Under the consideration of the Parks and Playgrounds budget the Finance Committee moved to amend the budget by taking out $6,000 included to continue the purchase of temporary bleacher seats for Manchester Field, replacing those condemned.

Mr. Saltmarsh explained that under a special article the School Committee is asking for an appropriation to put permanent steel seats on the easterly side of Manchester Field, and if this article is rejected, the Park Department budget will be reopened and the $6,000 for temporary bleachers discussed. His amendment was accepted.

The hottest debate of the night occurred over the Civil Defense amendment to the budget for town officers expenses outside the Commonwealth. Mr. Boecker explained that the Civil Defense asked the addition of $250 for its use if it became necessary to send representatives out of state to gain information vital to the Civil Defense effort here.

Both the Finance Committee and Selectmen opposed the amendment, stating that neither had heard of the proposal until it was introduced at town meeting and that the Civil Defense authorities should have included this amount in their own, or the budget under discussion, in the usual manner and not spring it on a town meeting.

Mr. Boecker defended the need of the money, but the amendment was beaten easily on a voice vote. Mr. Twombly doubted the vote and further discussion involved Mr. Twombly, who decried local apathy to the Civil Defense movement; Mrs. Woodward who told of the fine job being done for CD here and the necessity for the money asked in the amendment and Mr. Hewis, who spoke strongly in favor.

The Finance Committee repeated its opposition and the Selectmen, in voicing its continued opposition, felt if the money was granted it should only be used with the approval of the Board.

Mr. Schaeffer felt the amendment should be beaten because of the procedure used and Mr. Wadsworth felt the whole thing was some one's pipe dream. Mr. Boecker replied that the pipe dream was his and admitted the Civil Defense had erred in not getting the $250 into the warrant in the usual fashion. He agreed to spend the money only if the Selectmen approved, but still felt his group should have it. A standing vote found the meeting agreed, 101 in favor to 62 opposed.

The meeting then adjourned at 11:25 p. m.

W. H. S. HOCKEY SONG

(Tune: McNamara's Band)

Following are some verses evolved by a group of high school boys on the buses traveling to and from the New England Hockey Tournament.—Ed.

-1-
My name is Frankie Finigan
I'm the leader of the team.
Although we're small in number
We're the finest to be seen.
We play in Lynn and Boston
And we're really on the ball
And when we play in Providence
We play the best of all.

-2-
Sawyer and Murphy on defense
And Denton in the goal.
Callahan and Johnson
And our great Captain Cowles.
Urmson, Cussen, and Zirkel
Are really on the beam
A credit to old Winchester
Is Frankie Finigan's team.

-3-
We took our first from Waltham
Then we knocked off Melrose High
And in the game with Needham
We had to break a tie.
We then took one from Hyde Park
By a single precious goal.
And what we did to Belmont
Will be forever told.

-4-
We came to the New Englands
And defeated Wilbur Cross.
And in the game with Hamden
We had to take a loss.
And then we met a toughie
The boys from Norte Dame
And even though we didn't win
Our team deserves acclaim.

-5-
We're closing out the season
And we'd really like to say
Congratulations to our boys
Who've helped to make us gay.
We'll be back again to play next year
And we'll be out to win.
A credit to old Winchester
Is Frankie Finigan.

ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE

Does your dog have his 1955 license yet? The Animal Rescue League of Boston is warning dog owners of Massachusetts that their pet must be licensed before April 1 if he is three months of age or older.

Boston residents should obtain their 1955 dog licenses from the nearest police station and residents of all other cities and towns should apply to their city or town clerk. Dog license fees in the commonwealth are $2.00 for each male and spayed female and $5.00 for each unspayed female.

President Carlton E. Buttrick of the Animal Rescue League of Boston urges that the dog be licensed before the deadline and that he wear the license tag at all times. During each year the League receives and cares for many hundreds of stray dogs. In too many instances the dogs received carry no license tag, making it difficult for the League to insure their speedy return to the proper owner. The license in this case provides a means of identification and proof of ownership of the dog. If he is lost, your dog can't speak to tell his owner's name, but his license tag will talk for him.

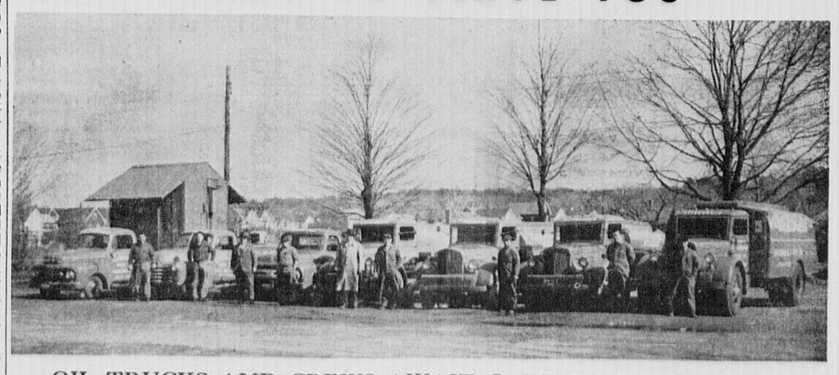

Checked your account lately? If you change jobs frequently you should check at least every three years to see that your earnings have been properly reported and credited on the records of the Social Security Administration. Future benefits to you and your family will be based on these records.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Canada's herds of caribou (native North American reindeer) are being cut down by wolves, hunters, disease and scarcity of forage faster than nature can replace the losses, says the National Geographic Society. To increase the stock, the Canadian government has imported reindeer from Siberia by way of Alaska and brought herdsmen from Lapland to teach nomadic Eskimos the art of the deer's domestic care.

South Bird Island, Texas, is the only white pelican nesting colony on the Gulf Coast of the United States. It is a sanctuary of the National Audubon Society.

"Old Ironsides," the famed and still preserved U.S.S. Constitution, had a sister ship that was launched in 1797 and was christened the U.S.S. United States. Notoriously slow and heavy, she was nicknamed "Old Wagon" and after many rebuildings was finally scrapped in 1866, says the National Geographic Society.

If all the natural ice on Earth were to melt, it would release enough water to raise sea level perhaps 100 feet, says the National Geographic Society.

At Eldorado, on Beaverlodge Lake in northern Saskatchewan, a main shaft descends 1,300 feet into one of Canada's largest uranium deposits, says the National Geographic Society.

A sign in the Everglades National Park in Florida warns would-be anglers that "fishing within one mile of Royal Palm Ranger Station is reserved for the birds." The sign illustrates the point by a picture of a bird holding a fish in its mouth.

In 1896 two Americans—George Harbo and Frank Samuelson—rowed across the Atlantic Ocean in an 18-foot open boat. They used only oars—no sails, no motor. Their 3,200-mile row took them 62 days.

Pronghorns, the only antelope native to North America and among the swiftest of four-legged animals, have declined in the United States until today their numbers are reckoned only in the thousands.

Only a decade hence, in 1965, St. Augustine, Florida, will celebrate its 400th birthday, the National Geographic Society says.

The richest of all the world's known uranium deposits, and perhaps the most closely guarded, is the Shinkolobwe mine in the southern Belgian Congo, says the National Geographic Society.

All the cars and trucks exported from New York harbor each year, placed end to end, would stretch from Manhattan to Indianapolis, Indiana, says the National Geographic Society.

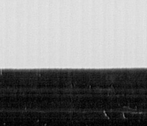

One out of every eight of the 4,000,000 persons gainfully employed in the New York Harbor area draws his livelihood directly or indirectly from port commerce.

The manager of a small company producing sandwich spread was worried because sales had fallen off due to the fact that his product turned rancid after a time on grocers' shelves. His competitor called on him to suggest how he could correct the processing. "Why do you want to help me?" he was asked. "Because more satisfied consumers of your brand will mean more purchases of sandwich spread in general," was the reply, "and that will be good for all of us." It makes sense. A kindly interest shown for another's spiritual welfare is bound to be good for all and will stimulate our own faith, too. In encouraging one another to "seek the Lord" the label is not too important. The product is! Our mutual aim: redeemed and radiant lives through Christ Jesus.

Wednesday testimonial meeting at 8:00 p. m.

The essentially spiritual nature of all that is real and eternal will be emphasized at Christian Science services on Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality."

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (335:27-29): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."

The following passage will be read from the Bible (Psalms 33:4,5): "For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (119:-12,18): "Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach me thy statutes. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law."

OPEN WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY EVENINGS 'TIL 9

COLLEGE CLUB ART GROUP

The final meeting of the College Club Art Group will occur on Friday, April 1, at 11 o'clock at the delightful deCordova Museum in Lincoln. A treat is in store when Mr. Walkey, the Director of the Museum, speaks on the subject, "Why Art in the Home." Many of those at this meeting will end the season pleasantly with luncheon at the Hartwell Farm or the 1775 House, both of which are relatively near the Museum.

On Friday, March 18, forty brave members of this group, with complete optimism, disregarded the dire prediction of twelve inches of snow and attended meetings at four different galleries. The subject at each one was "How to Frame a Picture."

One group visited the Kanegis Gallery at 134 Newbury street, Boston, where an interesting talk was given and beautiful hand-carved frames were shown. Mr. Boris Mirski at his Gallery at 166 Newbury street delighted his audience as he illustrated his unusual and philosophic approach to framing with some fascinating examples of his own creation. Mr. Vose of the Vose Gallery at 559 Bolyston street gave especial emphasis to the cleaning and restoration of old paintings and frames. This group had the great privilege of enjoying many rare museum pieces. At the fourth gallery, the Behn-Moore in Cambridge, at 40 Brattle street, Mr. Moore gave an interesting and informative talk and demonstration of framing of several varieties.

Mrs. John Lobingier is to be congratulated on arranging these visits, which were not only of great practical value but spiced with the personalities and charm of all the speakers.

TO SING BARITONE ROLE

George Fortune, who will handle the baritone soloist's role in the Brahms Requiem to be presented April 6th at 8:00 p. m. by the Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, began his career as a boy soprano in Lawrence. He studied at the New England Conservatory of Music and graduated from Boston University with the Class of 1954. At present he is continuing his studies under individual instruction.

Mr. Fortune is well known in the Boston area as the possessor of an unusually fine voice and is considered to have before him the prospect af a major musical career. He has appeared as soloist with a large number of oratorio groups, has done concert work in the summers, and has sung before the unmeasured audience reached by television. Among his more recent performances have been as soloist in the Brahms Requiem at Symphony Hall and in The Messiah at Christmastime in Sanders Theatre, Cambridge. He has also sung at the Gardner Museum in Boston and with community choral groups all over the New England area.

Elliott Speers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Speers, Jr., 2 Fernway, is at home for the spring recess from Kents Hill School, Kents Hill, Maine. Elliott has been a member of the hockey team during the winter term.

Among the earliest known uses of wood and iron rails on which to run wagons was in England before 1740, where they were adapted to coal mines and slate quarries.

The use of coal for electric power generation is increasing in Missouri. In 1953, the state's 24 steam-electric plants were 63% on coal, compared with 57% in 1952.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On March 16th, the Winchester Home and Garden Club held its meeting in the Art Room of the Public Library.

Mr. Nathaniel Simpkins of the well known Bartlett Tree Firm, gave an illustrated lecture on the "Care of Trees and Shrubs!" His pictures were most interesting and informative.

He spoke of the proper feeding of trees and shrubs and showed slides of stupendous work that was done by this concern throughout New England after hurricanes Carol and Edna.

After the lecture a lively question and answer period was held.

EXCELLENT LOCAL TALENT FEATURES PARISH SOCIAL

Close to two hundred from the local sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and many of their parents, present as guests, enjoyed the mid-Lent St. Patrick's program at St. Mary's Hall last Friday evening. The amateur hour proved that Winchester has its share of real talent. With the audience's applause deciding the winners, the priest director, Father McCall, called it a tie for first place between William Catania, who gave "'Twas Only an Irishman's Dream" and "Mr. Sandman" as his vocal selections, and Frances Nowell, who gave a lively rendition of "St. Louis Blues."

The ever-pleasing voice of Francis Moynahan delighted the crowd and Marie Enright sang with the sweetness of an Irish mother the popular "Irish Lullaby." Mary Morgan added a popular note with "The Man with the Banjo," and Lee Ellen Manzie imitated a popular TV star as she sang "My Baby Don't Love Me No More." Patricia Murphy put her song into dance rhythm and showed great skill; and a sextet reminded us that it was Irish Night at St. Mary's by giving us their idea of how "McNamara's Band" might have sounded if they only had time to tune up. Paul Mulloy, James Donahue, Richard Hawes, Allan McDougall and James Marchant made up the sextet. Since he didn't wish to spoil the program by an attempt to sing his original song about his parents' birthplace, County Cavan, Father McCall gave a tape-recorded playing of the Copley recording made by Connie Foley of "This Place Called County Cavan."

All who took part in the entertainment were given a remembrance in appreciation of their response and pleasing efforts. Green-frosted and shamrock-covered cakes in generous quantity and tonic were served all present.

The seventh grade of St. Mary's School can be proud of the gala evening they gave in honor of Ireland and St. Patrick. The beautiful decorations on the stage featured an original painting of Saint Patrick by Ann Marie Ryan of St. Mary's School. A word of thanks is due also to the mothers of the children whose artistic skill was shown in the fancy frostings on the cup cakes.

ROBERT S. STANSFIELD

TO SPEAK MARCH 29

All men are cordially invited to hear Robert S. Stanfield of Auburn, New York, speak on the subject, "Is Science in Conflict with Scripture?" at the monthly banquet of the Fishers-of-Men next Tuesday evening, March 29, at 7 p. m.

Mr. Stansfield served in peacetime as an Army artillery officer and during World War II as an Army chaplain with the 30th Infantry Division. He participated in campaigns in Northern France, the Rhineland, Belgian Bulge and Central Europe and is a holder of the Bronze Star Medal for heroic achievement in crossing the Rhine River. He also served in Normandy with the 37th Engineer Combat Battalion.

The Fishers-of-Men supper will be held promptly at 7 p. m. in The Church of the Open Bible, Woburn.

GARDEN LOVERS' CLUB

The March meeting of the Garden Lovers' Club of Greater Boston was held on Friday, the 18th, at the home of Mrs. Frank Knight of 55 Mystic Valley Parkway. A social half hour preceded the program with dessert and coffee served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Austin Bunker.

The program chairman, Mrs. Henry Johnston, presented the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Ernest S. Curtis of Gloucester. Mrs. Curtis is well known for her exquisite nature photography in color, and for her charm of presentation. Her lecture on "New England Wild Flowers" was beautifully illustrated with slides from her vast collection.

The Club president, Mrs. Harvey Macauley of Marblehead Neck, conducted a brief business session before adjournment.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly will hold its regular meeting on Monday, March 28, at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist Church.

After the business meeting the long-anticipated program of the dramatic committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, will be presented.

Two plays are to be given, one, "Miss Trump Scores," written by Mrs. James A. Newman. The other, which has two scenes, the first, "Entertainment at Tea in 1850," followed by "Morning Coffee in 1954," was written by Mrs. Henry K. Fitts.

Judging from previous performances and the unquestioned talents of the members of the large cast, an afternoon of unusual pleasure is promised. Tea will follow.

The Providence Trip

On Thursday, March 17, seven cars full of Fortnighty members left Winchester promptly at 9 a. m. for the scheduled visit to the Rhode Island School of Design.

We were cordially welcomed by Miss Sofia Vervena, director of the museum, who had aranged a tour of their quite amazing treasures. We all want to go again, there was so much we did not have time to see.

The museum tour was preceded by a most interesting discussion of the college itself, conducted by Mr. Carmichael, director of public relations, and beautifully illustrated by a color film. This film showed the many departments and activities of the college, generally conceded to be among the best in the country.

Luncheon for thirty was served exactly on time at the Laura Carr Restaurant, three blocks away. The pretty tables and delicious food made a gala occasion of the next hour.

In the afternoon we visited Carrington House, a beautiful old mansion on the brow of the hill overlooking the harbor. This was formerly the home of the Carringtons, who owned a fleet of clipper ships. The house is now a museum owned by the R. I. School of Design, and is full of treasures gathered from all over the world. A magnificent Chinese dinner set, a collection of quaint old toys in an upper play room, the beautiful stairway leading to the bridal chamber on the top floor are only a few of the choice treasures there.

Cars returned independently to Winchester, and all reached home by dinner time, grateful to the Fortnightly Art Committee for a very successful trip.

K of C ST. PATRICK'S DANCE

No St. Patrick's Day is complete without the Knights of Columbus Dance, which Winchester Council holds each year under the chairmanship of genial Bill Dailey. This year was no exception, for a capacity group gathered at Elks Hall on Thursday, March 17, to enjoy dancing to the music of Charlie McLaughlin's Orchestra.

The band favored with many Irish numbers, without which no St. Patrick's party would be complete, and showed their versatility in the many popular numbers played. No one, not even in Dublin, enjoyed a better time, and it was due to the fine cooperation afforded Chairman Dailey by his assisting committee. Included were Grand Knight James F. Mawn, and Past Grand Knights Charles Haggerty and "Chet" Thibeault.

Rev. Stephen A. Burke, Council chaplain, brought three talented entertainers to the party. Louis Lemone, whose accordion solos, "Lady of Spain," and "A Good Man is Hard to Find," had just won first prize in the Immaculate Conception C. Y. O. Talent Show earlier in the evening. Billy Catania, third place winner, sang "You'd Be Surprised," and "Way Down Yonder," to enthusiastic applause; while the third performer was Beverly Pento of East Woburn, pantomimist, whose selection, "Dancing Keys," was well done.

Also assisting to make the party a success were Mary Dailey, Nancy Lane, Florence Lane, Evelyn Thibeault, Mary Haggerty, Mrs. Sam Vangel, Mary and Katherine Kennedy, Ann Donellan, Mrs. John Serieka, Mrs. James F. Mawn and others, to whom the K of C are deeply appreciative. Special commendation goes to Sam Vangel, who assisted as official greeter, and to "Albie" McDonnell, who contributed real Irish corned beef to assist the refreshment committee. To the Elks for permitting their hall to be used, the Knights express their deep appreciation; and their sincere thanks also go to the Winchester Appliance for the loan of sound equipment.

Attractive decorations were provided by a committee of ladies, and others who aided were Phil Savage and Ed Dalton, Chet Thibeault, Grand Knight Mawn, Bert Stevens. By popular acclaim Sam Vangel was named the most Irish-appearing individual at the party, in his green hat and costume.

BASKETBALL DINNER

The annual father-son basketball dinner of the Winchester High School championship basketball team was held last Saturday evening, commencing with dinner at Durgin & Parks restaurant in the Boston market district.

After enjoying either a roast beef or steak dinner the boys and their dads and coaches went on to the Boston Garden to see the finals of the New England Interscholastic Basketball Tournament.

Headed by Captain Jim Wright the players included Charlie Stevens, John Lynch, Joe Bellino, Lou Farrell, Bob Smith, John Chapin, Renner Johnston, Mixe Callahan, Bert Kneeland, Niles Nelson, Billy Ross and Peter Gove. Managers Bill Coleman and Dick Spaulding were present, as were Coaches Jim Phillips and Henry Knowlton.

Dads included Ernest Wright, Harold Stevens, John Lynch, Herbert Nelson, Herbert Ross, Dr. Burton Gove, Thomas Kneeland, Henry Johnston and William Spaulding.

CORRECTION

In the article published in last week's Star telling of the recent honor paid the retired town librarian, Miss Corinne Mead, by the library trustees, an unfortunate typographical error gave the impression that nothing previous had been done for Miss Mead, especially at the time she actually left the library.

This is incorrect. At the time of Miss Mead's resignation there were three parties given for her before Christmas by the trustees and her staff members, at which she received several gifts. These parties were, however, of a personal nature, involving Miss Mead's library associates only.

The recent coffee hour and presentation of the illuminated scroll by the trustees bespoke the appreciation of the entire town. The unfortunate substitution of "no" for "an" in the article last week led many to believe nothing had been done for Miss Mead previous to Sunday, March 13. The Star regrets the error and offers its sincere apologies.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST SUNDAY

Plans are completed for the 58th annual Knights of Columbus communion breakfast at St. Mary's Hall following the 8 o'clock mass at St. Mary's Church Sunday, March 27. The Knights and their friends will meet outside the Council Rooms in Winchester Center and will march to the church. Members are requested to park their cars in the rear of the fire station or behind the town hall.

Chancellor Thomas Gramzow, Marine veteran of Guadalcanal, will be parade marshal and will be flanked by regular army veterans, Harry Boyle and John Del Grosso, who will bear the Aremican and Council flags. Bill Daliey and Bob Fiore will be drummers.

A contingent of police and firefighters, the Fourth Degree Assembly in full regalia, and the regular membership will complete the roster.

Edward J. McDevitt will lead the singing at the mass and during communion Edmond Boucher, baritone, will render appropriate hymns. He will sing at the breakfast.

Always a most impressive, a large attendance of Knights is expected, and the Board of Selectmen have accepted the Council's invitation to be breakfast guests.

The invited speaker is the Right Reverend Monsignor Robert J. Sennott, chancellor of the archdiocese of Boston, who will speak on "Pope Pius XII."

Albert H. Dunn, 3rd, of 1 Wedge Pond road was awarded the degree of Doctor of Commercial Science at the recent mid-year commencement at Harvard University. He received his A.B. from Amherst in 1943 and his M.B.A. from Harvard in 1947.

Most Powerful Car at its Price!

Come in and try the sensational performance of Pontiac's 200-HP Strato-Streak V-8!

If all the talk about horsepower has left you confused, let this one simple fact set you straight.

Model for model, the sensational all-new Pontiac Strato-Streak V-8 delivers more horsepower per dollar than any other car in its field.

And that holds good whether you specify the four-barrel carburetor—a low-cost option that puts 200 eager horsepower under Pontiac's handsome hood—or the regular 180-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8.

The Strato-Streak V-8 engine, part and parcel of every Pontiac at every price, produces performance as fresh and distinctive as Pontiac's years-ahead Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Tone beauty—and delivers it with traditional Pontiac dependability and the greatest economy in Pontiac history.

But Pontiac's extra value doesn't stop with power. Its Shock-Proof chassis, wide-stance rear springs, long 122" or 124" wheelbase, recirculating ball steering and bigger brakes provide comfort and handling you'd expect only in the costliest cars.

Come in soon and personally road-test Pontiac's spectacular Strato-Streak V-8 performance.

It won't take you long to see why Pontiac sales are at an all-time high!

You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped, economy models of higher-priced makes!

Look high and low... and you'll go Pontiac

"IT GIVES ME GREAT PLEASURE!"

Past Exalted Ruler Joseph B. Peel hands check to Maxwell McCreery, chairman of the Board of Public Welfare, in payment for wheel chair presented to the Board by the 1445 Club of Winchester Lodge of Elks.

GIVE WELFARE DEPARTMENT WHEEL CHAIR

In keeping with the spirit of the order, Winchester Lodge of Elks, through the assistance of its "1445 Club," a committee whose primary duty is to raise funds for charitable purposes, has presented to the Board of Public Welfare a wheel chair of modern design, sturdy construction, and collapsible so it can be carried in a car.

Welfare Agent William P. Supple and the Welfare Board are pleased with the chair, which fills a long-felt need, since there are often requests for the loan of a chair of this type.

The Elks are happy, indeed, to fill this need and hope that those people unfortunate enough to need one will take comfort in it.

Since the inception of this committee it has been able to send more children to camp and distribute more baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas to the unfortunates of the town. It has also presented an inhalator to the police department to become part of the equipment of the ambulance.

THE TEEN SCENE

Carol Ashenden

Most everyone has spent the week recovering from the past few weeks. Who ever thought that we'd be seeing the hockey team play at Providence? Mr. Finigan looks like a little boy on Christmas morning whenever anyone mentions his boys. Congratulations to both our State Championship Hockey Team and our wonderful basketball team, the Massachusetts Class B Champs. It seems that all of these boys have been eating pretty well lately.

Thanks to a lot of parents the hockey fans were able to ride to Providence via bus at a greatly reduced cost.

After the Roslindale game in the Garden, Jeanne Elliott had open-house (for freshmen only?)

Richie Johnson's open-house after our double victory was so mobbed that it took quite an effort to even get in the house .

Due to the food surplus from his party after the Wilbur Cross game, John Day had another open-house after the Hamden game the next night.

Saturday night everyone celebrated at Bunnie Browne's, even though we lost the game.

Our terrific cheerleaders and tumbling team were certainly a credit to WHS in the garden. Not to mention the band who came along with the cheerleaders to most of the hockey games.

The "Squaws" who held the teepee and sticks over the team as they skated onto the ice really added to the spirit of the tournaments. Why didn't anyone think of that long ago?

Rehearsals are well under way for the 23rd annual Vaudeville again under Mr. Raymond Hayward's wonderful supervsiion.

Plans for the Junior-Senior Prom are already being made by the committee. The theme "Mardi Gras" has been chosen for the big night.

Has everyone made up their minds as to what subjects to take next year? Here's hoping that we'll be in the new school by then!

The junior play "Good-bye To The Clown" tied for fourth place in the Drama Festival at Reading last Saturday. Liz Hood and Darla Hall made the all star cast.

If you happen to go into the High School office, be sure to take a look at the paintings illustrating the Atka's expedition to the Antarctic done by the art classes.

Don't miss the Student Council Record Hop, "The Tops In Pops" with Bob Clayton tomorrow night in the gym.

EPIPHANY LENTEN TEA

Is this the season of the year you like best? The excitement of spring is just around the corner. Will you soon be out taking the leaves off you garden to see what is growing underneath? Have you bulbs in the house ready to blossom for Easter? If not, be sure to buy a plant at the Lenten Tea next Friday, April 1, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany. There will be flowering plants galore to brighten your house for the Easter season.

In addition there will be homemade cakes, cookies, rolls, and pies for you to take home. And be sure to stock up on homemade candy, too.

You can do your buying and then have tea with your friends while your children are watching movies, which will be shown at 3:30 and again at 4:15. There will be punch for the children, too. Leave the very small ones in the nursery, where they will be well cared for while you shop in peace.

All the proceeds from this annual affair, which is sponsored by the church school, go to swell the children's mite box offering. So let us all be there and make the offering a truly large one.

The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Ronald F. Davis, chairman, Mrs. Charles Blanchard and Mrs. Robert Nyere, candy; Mrs. Charles Cunha, tea; Mrs. Herbert Fairfield, decorations; Mrs. Thomas Hutzenland, baked goods; Mrs. Charles Lamarche, movies; Mrs. Clarence A. Perkins, Jr., plants; and Mrs. Thomas Gouzoule, treasurer.

A Navy cruiser bake shop must produce about 4,000 servings per day for her crew.

JOHN T. BLANCHARD

BLANCHARD A "NATURAL"

"Serious thought, on the part of the citizen, is the prime objective of Civil Defense. We of Civil Defense are trying to make the citizen of Winchester as well informed as possible so that our plans for evacuation and protection of the citizen, in the event of an H-Bomb attack may be fully carried out." So says John T. Blanchard, Deputy Director of Civil Defense.

Mr. Blanchard, a native of Winchester, is what one might call a "natural" for his job of Deputy Director, of Civil Defense. He was educated in Winchester High School graduating in 1936, from 1937 to 1941 he managed a branch lumber yard for his father. In 1941 Mr. Blanchard enlisted as an aviation cadet in the United States Air Force upon receiving his commission as a pilot he was sent to Europe as a bomber pilot. After flying 42 missions over Europe he was shot down over Germany and spent eleven months as a prisoner of war.

Upon his release from the Air Force in 1946 he became associated with Browning Laboratories, Inc., as an on the job student. In the fall of 1946 he began night courses in Electronics at Northeastern University. He received his A.E.E. degree in the Spring of 1951 and was promoted to Chief of the Instrument Repair Department at Browning.

In the fall of 1953 he developed and turned out the first Print Wire Chassis for Browning, and in the winter of 1953-54 he was made Quality Control Engineer for the plant.

At present he is associated with Edgerton, Germeshausen, and Grier, Inc., Consulting Engineers, as a Quality Control Engineer.

While in the service he received the Air Medal with two Oak-leaf clusters, the Purple Heart, the American Theatre Medal, the European Theatre Medal with five battle stars, the Victory Medal, a Presidential Citation and the Good Conduct Medal. He now holds the rank of Captain in the 9230th Air Reserve Squadron in Cambridge.

Mr. Blanchard joined Civil Defense in the fall of 1951 under Mr. James Blackham, as Communications Director. Then when Mr. Boecker took command he was appointed Deputy Director.

Next week in this column we will discuss "The Function of the Communications Division of Civil Defense."

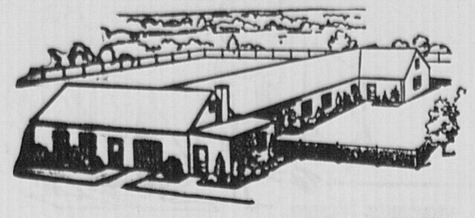

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowlege of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all new comers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at WInchester 6-3258 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

PATENT TO HANEY

Earl P. Haney of Winchester, Mass., was the recipient on March 15, 1955, of U.S. patent No. 2,704,258, entitled "Method Of Making A Dry And Wet Salad Dressing."

This invention pertains to a salad dressing which, because it contains no oils and practically no fat, may readily be used by people who are either on a reducing diet or wish to avoid rich foods. In particular, there is provided a dry powdered mixture which, by the addition of water and vinegar to it, may be converted into a wet salad dressing with the consistency of mayonnaise. It may also be employed in its dry form for cooking and seasoning both raw and cooked vegetables and fruits. It affords economies in transportation because, instead of glass jars, it may be shipped in air-tight, moisture-proof packages or containers, with the result that breakage is eliminated and savings in weight are afforded. Furthermore, as an additional advantageous feature, it may be stored under ordinary conditions without danger of decomposition or a change in its characteristics.

In its essentials, Mr. Haney's product comprises a dry powdered mixture of approximately one part dextrin and four parts powdered milk, skimmed or whole. Sugar, salt, spices and other seasonings are added to this mixture in an amount practically equal to the dextrin.

When it is desired to make up a salad dressing having the consistency of mayonnaise, it merely is necessary to accurately measure and mix together water and vinegar in the ratio of four to one, and then to gradually add Mr. Haney's powdered mixture while beating or whipping the water and vinegar. The resulting dressing is made ready for use by letting it stand in an open container for an hour or more; and it should be noted that its consistency may be controlled by varying the amounts of water and vinegar used in the process.

The application for this patent was filed on November 3, 1950.
